

Chapter 233 Have No Right?

Gibson snorted, "What you said sounds like you being reluctant to do so. Laura, as your sisters and brothers, we all hope you and Victoria live well. But you shouldn't give us a perfunctory answer."

Gibson felt Laura was fooling him with a perfunctory answer.

Sylvie smiled and said, "Laura treat Maximilian very well. I intended to introduce a nice guy to Victoria but she immediately got angry with me. In the end, it's Laura who managed to fix the relationship between Victoria and me. Frankly, Laura just doesn't want to force Victoria and Maximilian to divorce."

Sylvie picked Laura up on what she did and then looked at Laura, who was cross now, with satisfaction. Sylvie felt great for her revenge on Laura

Laura clenched her fists and her body trembled intensely. She turned to Maximilian, roaring, "You are such a loser. You insisted on coming to the party while I told you not to. Look how you irritate everyone! Are you a normal human being? You are more useless than a pig. If we feed a pig, we will get pork to feed the family. But we get nothing from keeping you. Our family loses faces because of you. Now look! Who, among all our relatives, is happy for your present? Everyone says you are a loser. How long do you want to be a burden to Victoria?" Laura raged against Maximilian, angrily punching Maximilian with her fists.

Maximilian stood straight and looked at Laura silently, allowing her to beat him on the chest with her fists.

Marcus's eyelids throbbed and instantly stopped Laura, "There is no need to be angry with him, let him be dead or alive."

Laura wept, "I just regretted I didn't force them to break up. If I had done so, Victoria wouldn't have become so miserable, and we wouldn't have been looking down upon by everyone."

Laura threw herself into Marcus' arms to cry. Carson and others all thought the present situation is awful. After all today was Hugo's birthday.

"Laura, don't cry. We said that with well-meant attempt. Marcus, ask her not to cry anymore. We will bring Hugo to the banquet hall first."

Carson held Hugo's arm and lead the Wright family members to the banquet hall.

Marcus comforted Laura with a few words. Laura wiped away tears in her eyes and glared at Maximilian, “We all lose faces because of you. I will get even with you when we get home.

Victoria, now you know that we shouldn’t bring him to such occasion with us.”

Victoria said nothing; she only held Maximilian’s hand softly.

Maximilian looked at Victoria with a faint smile. It seemed that they said what they wanted to each other only through a smile.

Marcus shouted, “Let’s go to the banquet hall. Maximilian, remember to keep silent. If anything happens because of you, you will to be embarrassed.” Then Marcus held Laura’s arms and left the room with her.

Hugo and Carson and the rest of the Wright family went to the banquet hall.

As today's birthday man, Hugo was naturally the last to enter the banquet hall, which showed his importance.

Laura and Marcus followed them to the banquet hall. When Maximilian and Victorian wanted to come inside, they were stopped by Alfie.

"You loser want to get inside? That's impossible!" Alfie raised his head and said to them.

Victoria snorted and asked, "Alfie, what do you mean?"

They have encountered mockery all the way along, which already made Victoria feel aggrieved. Now they wouldn't let them go inside the banquet hall, which made Victoria even more upset. If it was not for the sake of Maximilian, she would have cried over this.

"What I mean is that we can't let Maximilian go inside since grandpa was already upset by Maximilian to such an extent. What's more, your seats weren't arranged in the banquet hall but on the outdoor hall. You two might as well go sit there."

Hugo's birthday party was held at home. But the banquet hall couldn't accommodate so many guests, so they arranged the table in two places. The Wright family members and important guests would sit in the banquet hall whereas the less important guests would sit on the outdoor tables. The two tables were for two completely different groups of people. According to Victoria's identity, she should sit on the banquet hall. But because of Maximilian, she was forced to sit on an outdoor table.

Tommy mocked Victoria, "Victoria, if you kick the loser out, then you might get a seat in the banquet hall. But you won't. So you have to sit at the outdoor table. Otherwise, the Wright family's reputation will be tainted if people know that the loser is the grandson-in-law of the Wright family. It is known that the Wright family is a-century-old noble family. We are a family of intellectuals, who will never have a loser as our family member."

Alfie and Tommy's mockery made Victoria's eyes reddish. She pulled Maximilian away with her, not wanting to see her snobbish cousins.

Maggie stamped her feet and looked at Alfie and Tommy with disapproval, "You guys are impossible. I will go sit on the outdoor table with Victoria since she has to do so."

"Maggie, don't mess with them. What are you going with them for? It is a huge humiliation to sit with that loser!”

But Maggie ignored Tommy completely and went after Victoria.

Victoria and Maximilian went sit at the outdoor table. Maximilian looked at Victoria who was apparently unhappy and her eyes were reddish. He knew she was rather aggrieved.

“Victoria, don’t be angry with them. They don’t understand you. There is no need to be angered by them.”

Maximilian held Victoria’s hand and said in a low voice.

Victoria squeezed out a smile from her face and said in a gentle voice, “I am okay as long as you don’t overthinking it. What they had said was just horrible.”

Maggie came to Victoria and said, “Here you are! I would like to sit with you two.” She pulled out a chair to sit on.

Maximilian looked at Maggie astonishingly. It surprised him that she defended them and even came to sit with them.

“Maggie, why are you here? Grandpa likes you so much, and you’d better go back to the banquet hall. We are fine with the seat arrangement.”

Maggie shook her head and pouted, “I think they are impossible. I am on your side, so I show my support for you with my action.”

Victoria can’t help but smile. She knew she couldn’t persuade Maggie to do that. So she changed the subject and started to have a chat with Maggie.

“I have heard that you got two MA degrees from college and that you have gotten an offer for Ph. D from a prestigious university oversea.”

Maggie nodded heavily and said happily, "That's true. I am about to go to study in Columbia University. I have heard that there are many straight-A students there. I was a bit afraid that I might not be able to adapt myself to the study environment there."

Chapter 234 He did Nothing Wrong

Victoria felt better from the small talk she had with Maggie.

Maximilian looked around. He noticed everyone around wore plain clothes. Some of them came from suburban area. They must be friends in the neighborhood nearby.

Tommy and Alfie walked toward them. They were looking for Maggie and tried to bring her back to the banquet hall. What's more, they wanted to humiliate Maximilian and Victoria again.

Tommy arrived first. He squinted at Maximilian and slapped him on the shoulder.

“Loser, what are you looking at? Look at you! You are like a countryman. You make us lose face. Why would grandpa have you, a loser, as his grandson-in-law? Victoria, how senseless you are to marry a man like him!”

Alfie then arrived, too. He said rudely, “It is lucky for you to be able to sit on the table, isn’t it? But I believe sitting inside the hog lot to eat leftover suits you the most.”

Maggie frowned and said, “You two just go too far. You have been rude enough to Maximilian. Are you trying to humiliate him to death?”

Alfie looked at Maggie disdainfully, “Are you insane after reading so many books? Why would you defend a loser? A loser like him was born to be taunted.”

“Your conclusion is very precise. A loser’s existence is of no value except for being sneered at. His meaning of living is to be mocked by us for fun. Am I right, Sister Victoria? I believe you keep him for the same reason, aren't you? Ah ha ha!" said Tommy while slapping Maximilian heavily on the shoulder. Maximilian clenched his teeth without saying a word, bearing the pain in silence.

Victoria was so angry that she clenched her teeth and asked furiously, "What do you want? To what extent do you intend to bully him?"

"Bully? Don't you feel ashamed for saying that? Victoria, you used to pretend to be a decent girl and we were fine with it. But now that you have married a loser, what the heck are you pretending for? I have heard that you have slept with other men for contracts."

"You are talking nonsense." Victoria's eyes filled with tears. Maggie held Victoria's arm and glared at Alfie.

Maximilian's eyes became reddish. He was okay for being insulted in whatever way. But he absolutely can't watch Victoria being taunted and did nothing.

Furious, Maximilian ran to Alfie and slapped him on the face.

The clear and loud slapping sound silences the outdoor hall instantly. Everyone was looking at Maximilian and Alfie with surprise.

Few people in the hall knew Maximilian, but most of them knew Alfie. Seeing Alfie be slapped, everyone gasped.

"Who is he? How dare he hit the second son of Hugo's first son? He is bold though."

"Is he the enemy of the Wright family who came for revenge? It has never been heard that the Wright family has enemies. There must be a scene to see in Hugo's birthday party."

"Hugo's second grandson was hit before the party had started. It was the face that his grandson was hit on. It was almost the same as Hugo's face was hit on."

After a while, the clamour in the outdoor hall grew louder. Spectators became more and more excited in discussing what was happening.

Alfie was astounded for a second, then he felt that his slapped face hurt extremely. Humiliation and anger suddenly burst out inside him.

"How dare a loser like you hit me?" Alfie scowled at Maximilian and pointed at him with great strength.

"You ask for it. You have insulted Victoria. If you dare do it again, I dare slap you again." Maximilian said with icy tone.”

“Fuck! I swear I will beat you to death today. Otherwise I am not a member of the Wright family”

Alfie’s was only thinking about revenge now. He looked around for anything to hit Maximilian.

Tommy saw what happened and immediately stopped Alfie, “Alfie, let’s go back first. We should let elder uncle deal with this.

Alfie didn’t find the things he wanted; what’s more, he thought what Tommy said made sense; so he pointed at Maximilian with great strength, “Waite for me here! I will teach you a lesson later. You are a dead man today.”

Alfie turned around and left. Tommy scowled at Maximilian and said after Alfie, “You loser! If you sneak away, then you are a coward. Stay here and wait for me to settle a score with you...”

“I am waiting for you.” Maximilian laughed scornfully and went back to his seat and sat down.

Both Victoria and Maggie sighed after they realized what had happened.

“Maximilian. You are impetuous. There is no need to tangle with them. I afraid this might cause...”

Victoria rubbed her forehead and can't finish her words.

They might confront consequences, such as being scolded, insulted, forced to apologize or even being expelled. These were all possible.

Maximilian said seriously, “Don't be afraid. I will deal with it myself.”

Maggie looked at Maximilian speechlessly. She didn't know why Maximilian suddenly became so bold.

He hit Hugo's second grandson at his 70th birthday party. What Maximilian did just went beyond Maggie's imagination.

"Maximilian, don't try to be a hero. I knew you did it for Victoria's sake. But the way you did this is just too violent, which is not a right way. You will push Victoria into a much more difficult situation."

Maggie can't help blaming Maximilian. She knew he did this with well-meant attempt, but she just felt it was not right.

"If you want Victoria to encounter less trouble, ran to apologize to Alfie. Otherwise, Victoria will be in a dilemma when things get worse. After all, Alfie was the second grandson in the Wright family."

Maximilian chuckled mildly and said nothing. To apologize to Alfie would be impossible.

Seeing Maximilian ignored her, Maggie pouted unhappily and held Victoria's arm and said, "Victoria, you don't want to get into more trouble later, do you? The best solution is to make him apologize. You'd better convince him."

"You can't just act for his benefit instead of yours. If elder uncle gets angry, there will be serious consequences. He loves to make a big deal out of unimportant things."

Maggie persuaded Victoria earnestly. She didn't want to see their conflict worsened.

If it did get worse, the party today may be ruined.

Victoria shook her head and answered, "Maggie. Thank you for your suggestion. But Maximilian didn't do anything wrong. How can I make him apologize? If we did something wrong, we would admit it. But we didn't, so why to say sorry? The only wrong thing he did is being too impetuous.”

Victoria didn't think Maximilian was wrong. If anyone else had been humiliated by Alfie like that, he would have already hit Alfie.

Chapter 235 The Villain Accuses the Victim

People in the banquet hall looked happy. Many leading figures from local area were chatting with Hugo.

“Hugo. You look vigorous and your face looks rosy. You looks like a 60-year-old man. You are wearing well.”

“I suppose you will live over your 100th birthday. Lots of good days are waiting for you.”

Many distinguished guests said all sorts of auspicious words, making Hugo grin from ear to ear.

Carson and Gibson and the rest of the people participate in the conversation enthusiastically, trying to establish friendship with those distinguished guests.

In this moment, Alfie, with a side of his face covered by his hand, rushed into the banquet hall with grief and anger.

Following after Alfie, Tommy shouted loudly when he entered the banquet hall, "Grandpa, elder uncle. Brother Alfie was hit by Maximilian, the loser.

The happy atmosphere of banquet hall turned into silence instantly after Tommy's loud shout. Everybody gazed at Alfie.

Alfie clenched his teeth and his eyes were filled with tear. He put his hand away and showed the audience his swollen cheek, which made them surprised.

Although the guests didn't know Maximilian, they sensed a trace of abnormality.

Either Maximilian was someone of high social status and who does not fear the Wright family's bully grandson at all, or someone who was fear of nothing for he had nothing and who was ready to risk his life to fight with the Wright family.

No matter who this man was, the guests were not interested in joining in their fight. They all kept silent and ready to be sheer spectators of this fight.

The veins on Hugo's forehead bulged and twitched violently. He was so angry that he almost had a heart attack.

"Grandpa and dad, you must help me teach him a lesson. I went there to bring Maggie back to the banquet hall, but we bumped into Maximilian, that loser. So we quarreled with him, and then he attacked me like a mad man, slapping me on the face violently. I didn't know why he did this suddenly and Victorian had no intention to stop him at all. She just sat there, watching. I suspected that they had been planning for this. They are attempting to ruin grandpa's birthday party."

Alfie accused Maximilian of what he did, aiming at Maximilian paying a price for it.

"How dare he? Bastard! How dare the loser do this? Does he think we the Wright family are powerless." Hugo slapped the table angrily.

Carson's face darkened. That his second son got slapped on the face was equal to that he was hit on the face.

The fire of wrath burned inside Carson. He roared with anger, "Maximilian intended to shame us all.

He clearly knew today is Hugo's birthday. How dare he do this?"

Gibson chuckled secretly and glanced at Carson who was angry. Thinking that his nephew made his whole family lose face, Gibson thought this may be a great chance for him to rise to power in the Wright family.

Gibson said, "Brother, the lesson you taught him must be unbearable to him, so he bore a grudge. That's why he acted like a madman. We should be more tolerant as a human being for the penniless is fearless when they are driven crazy "

Hugo scowled at Gibson and said angrily, "It is not the right time to say this. It is time to teach the loser a lesson. Laura! He is your son-in-law. How do you want to deal with the matter?"

Laura was already flustered, and she cursed Maximilian for a thousand times. She had never expected this to happen.

"Dad, brother Carson. It was all Maximilian's fault. I will say nothing whatever you do to him; not even you hit him to death."

Laura hated Maximilian gravely. She even wanted Maximilian to die now. If he did, then she would not have so much trouble.

Sylvie spat out melon seed shells and proposed with a smile, "Let Alfie hit Maximilian the exact same way for what Maximilian did to Alfie."

Laura lowered her head and felt she was humiliated so deeply that she dare not speak up.

Hugo said ironically, "See what your good son-in-law did. It is such a great humiliation to me. “How should I face my friends and neighbors in the future? I shouldn’t have invited your whole family. I was so disappointed.” Hugo was angered so much that his body trembled. He took his dragon walking stick, stood up tottering and walked outside.

Carson and Gibson rushed to their father and held him around his arms. They said, “Where are you going?”

Hugo answered, “To seek revenge for my grandson, I am going to beat that loser to death. How dare he make such a mess at my birthday party? I am going to hit him to death even if I shall disgrace myself and mess up my birthday party.”

Hugo walked outside angrily. Even Carson and Gibson dare not stop him. What’s more, they all wanted to teach Maximilian a lesson. Therefore, they helped Hugo walk outside.

Alfie wiped his tears off his eyes, following behind his grandpa, and said, "Grandpa, it is all my fault. I make you lose face."

"Grandson, you did a good job. You didn't make me lose face. We are family of intellectuals. We have manners. But we don't do manners when we deal with a mad man like Maximilian because he is a beast. A beast doesn't deserve politeness."

Hugo's anger reached its greatest extent. He saw Maximilian as a beast instead of a human being now. Only man instead of beast deserved manners.

Alfie wiped his tears and nodded, "I understand now. Next time I deal with the same despicable beast like Maximilian, I wouldn't do manners again."

Tommy curled his lip in disgust, thinking what a drama queen his brother was as Tommy believed his brother applied manners just because he was defeated by Maximilian.

Seeing Hugo's figure far away, Laura wiped her tears continuously and felt bitter. She has so many words to say, but she just didn't know where to start.

"Laura. Let's go out and watch. After all, it is your son-in-law who will be taught a good lesson. You should watch and learn. How to make your son-in-law behave himself is a knack. Mother-in-law like you is just incompetent."

Sylvie pulled Laura to the outdoor hall before Laura could answer her. Sylvie also said to Marcus, "Marcus, let's go! For such a big deal, you should be present, too.

Marcus's face darkened. He thought he totally lost his face this time. He was afraid that he may be embarrassed in the future visit to the Wright family.

Seeing the Wright family members went to the outdoor area, guests followed them. In a few minutes, the whole banquet hall became almost empty.

Hugo arrived at the outdoor hall angrily. Alfie led his grandpa to the front of Maximilian and said, "Maximilian, grandpa is going for you."

Chapter 236 Let Him Apologize

Seeing Hugo came in anger, the noisy outdoor hall instantly quieted down. All the people were looking at Maximilian with gloating eyes, then they began to whisper to each other.

"His retribution came so soon. He had just beaten the second grandson of the Wright family to his heart's extent, now he will be one to be taught a lesson."

"Today is the 70th birthday of Hugo. Look at his black face, I'm afraid he would be sick out of anger."

"This is going to be interesting. Maybe people of the Wright family will beat that kid together. Look, the whole Wright family is out, there are also many distinguished guests following them, which are people of power."

All the onlookers were waiting for the interesting show coming up soon. Maggie and Victoria both stood up in a panic when they saw Hugo came.

"Grandpa, why are you here? Hurry up and sit down. Don't be angry." Maggie said to her grandfather uneasily.

"Maggie, come here. What are doing with that ungrateful man who is brutal and cold-blooded? Don't you see how angry your grandfather is?" Gibson shouted at Maggie angrily and dragged her to his side.

"Grandpa, listen to me. Things are not like that..." Victoria wanted to defend Maximilian but her grandfather just refused to listen to her. He stared at Maximilian with angry eyes and raised the dragon-headed walking stick to hit Maximilian.

BANG!

With the heavy sound, the dragon-headed walking stick fell on Maximilian's shoulders.

Maximilian trembled. Then he gritted his teeth without letting a single sound of moaning.

"You are really a bastard. How dare you hit my grandson? I will pay you back ten times or a hundred times what you did to my grandson. "

"You screw up my birthday banquet! Do you still have the slightest respect for me? Do you still have the slightest respect for the law? Do you even dare to bear a grudge to me? Do you want to kill me to relieve your anger?"

"You are really good for nothing! Apart from being a deadbeat, you only know to cause troubles. Why is there such a loser like you in the Wright family? You don't deserve to remain in our family at all!"

Hugo roared angrily. With every roar, he would hit Maximilian hard with his dragon-headed walking stick.

BANG! BANG! BANG!

A series of blows came, and Maximilian gritted his teeth to endure all the pain. At this time, he couldn't defend himself or rebel, because the one who hit him was Victoria's grandfather.

If he defended himself, Victoria would be embarrassed. Maximilian was willing to shoulder everything for Victoria.

The onlookers were enjoying the show with great pleasure. To be able to see such an explosive scene on the birthday banquet of Hugo, they found it more exciting than watching a Hollywood movie.

"Hugo is really angry. But this man is also tough enough. He even never let out a moan."

"Dogs that bite never bark. I think this man might not be someone to be trifled with. Maybe he will bear the grudge in his heart and double his revenge someday."

"He seems to be the grandson-in-law of the elder master of the Wright. Domestic shame is made public. But Hugo has gone too far bullying his grandson-in-law like this."

Seeing that Maximilian was beaten, Alfie smiled smugly. He really wished that he could take his grandfather's place and hit Maximilian by himself with the dragon-headed walking stick.

Laura and Marcus were standing at the last with their heads lowered. They felt that every time the elder master of the Wright hit Maximilian, the blow also fell on their faces. They were really ashamed this time.

"Look how angry my father is because of you, you should behave yourselves. It is not a big deal to have a good-for-nothing son-in-law. But that loser should know who he can't mess up with." Sylvie said meanly.

Hugo hit him several times and got tired. He said breathlessly, "You son of bitch, kneel down to my grandson and apologize to him. I will teach you politeness, decorum, integrity, and the sense of shame as a man. Kneel down now!"

Maximilian looked at the elder master of the Wright with a calm face, but he didn't intend to kneel down at all.

It was fine for him to be beaten and scolded. But, as the next Dragon Lord, there was no way for him to kneel to Alfie.

Seeing that Maximilian didn't move at all, the elder mater of the Wright raised the dragon-headed walking stick again.

"You didn't understand what I said, did you? Do you want me to blow your damn head off?"

Victoria couldn't take it anymore. She stood in front of Maximilian and stopped her grandpa," Grandpa, you misunderstood Maximilian. When Alfie humiliated him, Maximilian didn't retort or fight back. It was all because Alfie cursed me that Maximilian hit him. It is my fault but Alfie should be blamed too. You can't be biased like this. We can apologize, but does he have to kneel down too?"

"You! You even defend that loser!"

Hugo was still quite angry. He roared fiercely, "You are not my granddaughter anymore. Get out of my way. I will beat this bastard to death today."

"Grandpa, you can't do this ..."

Victoria was anxious.

Alfie stepped forward and pushed Victoria away. He said disdainfully, "Victoria, you are helping this loser to anger grandpa, aren't you! Do you want Grandpa to be ill because of this?"

"Alfie, stand by my side to watch how I teach this loser a lesson! I will definitely revenge you today."

Hugo looked at Maximilian angrily and pointed to the ground in front of Alfie. Then he said, "Kneel down and apologize to Alfie!"

Maximilian remained silent.

When Laura saw that Maximilian was still resisting, her face turned to be red with anger. She rushed directly to Maximilian and shouted, while pulling the collar of his clothes, "Maximilian, you still do not kneel down. Are you deaf or brainless? Quickly kneel down to apologize!"

Maximilian still remained silent. He just listened to Laura's roaring with his head low.

Carson said in a cold voice, "This loser is really stubborn. How could Victoria choose such a husband? Does he want to enrage the whole Wright family?"

"More than anger us. Look at his eyes, he seems to want to kill us all! Victoria, how could you marry such an ungrateful bastard? You brought trouble home!" Gibson glared at Victoria fiercely.

Alfie rubbed his red and swollen cheek. Then he said in a hateful voice, "It is Victoria's fault. Why did she marry this loser? I don't know how he is in the Griffith family. Is he also this rude and unreasonable?"

"I used to think Victoria could marry into a family with a good background so that she could help the development of our family. But I didn't expect her to marry such a loser, which is of no use to our family but even cause trouble to us."

Tommy and others followed. Their aim gradually shifted to Victoria and they blame everything on her.

The more Hugo listened, the paler his face got. He fiercely stomped on his dragon-headed walking stick and shouted, "Victoria, make this loser apologize now!"

Chapter 237 Be Long Prepared

There were tears shining in Victoria's eyes. She had long felt aggrieved in her heart after being accused by the Wright family for such a long time.

Hearing her grandpa's words, Victoria wiped tears from the corners of her eyes and stubbornly pursed her lips without speaking.

At this time, she really couldn't bear to ask Maximilian to apologize.

Seeing that Victoria did not say anything, Hugo was on fire. He raised his dragon-headed walking stick and roared at Victoria, "You still want to protect this loser!"

"Victoria, are you going to anger your grandfather for this loser? You are well-educated. How can you act like this loser and be so unreasonable?" Carson followed to accuse her.

Seeing that the Wright family members began to target Victoria, Maximilian felt his heart ached. He stepped forward in silence and stood in front of Alfie.

"Sorry, it was my fault. I shouldn't have beaten you. Please forgive me."

Alfie looked at Maximilian with cold eyes. He wanted to let Maximilian kneel down to apologize but he was also afraid that his grandpa would fall ill out of anger.

"You come to apologize now, loser? Were you brave just now? You even dared to beat me. How about now?"

While saying this, Alfie reached out to pat Maximilian's face. His eyes were filled with arrogance and disdain.

"No." Maximilian said with his teeth gritted.

"Ah ha. You are really a loser. It is Grandpa's birthday today. I won't bother with you. Next time if you come across me, I will break your legs."

Maximilian didn't say anything with his head lowered, and he just let Alfie pat his face.

After that, Alfie smiled gloomily and slapped Maximilian hard on the face, "Remember this slap, this is for you. Behave yourself when you meet me next time."

Hugo had already calmed down a lot.

When he found there were a lot of on-lookers around, he was really embarrassed.

"Hmph! So annoying! Let's go back! He really makes me disgusted."

"Bah!" Carson spat at the foot of Maximilian. Then he supported the elder master of the Wright to walk back to the hall.

All the Wright family members followed Hugo back to the hall. Marcus also supported Laura to follow them. Laura was so angry that she became weak and heartbroken.

Seeing that they left, Victoria could suppress the sadness anymore. She rushed to the bathroom nearby with her hands covering her face. Maximilian was worried when he saw Victoria rush out while crying. He followed her.

When he stood at the bathroom door, he heard Victoria's depressed crying. He felt his heart broke.

He pushed the bathroom door open and strode towards Victoria.

Seeing that it was Maximilian,

Victoria wiped the tears on her face in panic, as she didn't want Maximilian to see her cry.

"Why are you here?" Victoria asked with a choke.

Maximilian lowered his head and said like a child who had just made a mistake, "I'm worried about you. It's all my fault."

"No, no." Victoria shook her head. She reached out her hands and held Maximilian's, "It's their faults. Let's go, okay? No more grievance, let's go home."

Victoria's heart was filled with grievance, but mainly for Maximilian.

Maximilian didn't do anything or say anything, but members in the Wright family repeatedly humiliated and despised him.

Besides, Maximilian did that to defend her. But the Wright family asked Maximilian to apologize without asking for the cause. Victoria really found them unreasonable.

Maximilian saw the worry and care in Victoria's eyes. He knew she did this for him.

When their eyes meet, they both knew what each other was thinking about. They were just worried about each other and cared for each other.

They no longer felt depressed. Maximilian and Victoria looked into each other's eyes, shining with love.

Sparks burst out from the loving and intimate eye contacts. Both felt they were totally turned on.

Their heartbeats became quick and their body temperatures rose. The level of hormone in the restroom became higher.

Maximilian put his right hand around Victoria's slender waist and put his head against Victoria's forehead as he lowered his head.

They were so close to each other that their visions blurred. They could even hear the rapid breath of each other. The hot breath from their noses fell on the other party's cheek.

Victoria's light red lips squirmed gently. It was like a signal to launch a final attack, Maximilian immediately lowered his head to kiss Victoria's red lips heavily. At the same time, he still held Victoria's trembling body tightly.

The repressed emotions were transformed into hormones, which were released in a frenzy.

Creak. The bathroom door was pushed open, and Maggie came in and saw Victoria and Maximilian holding each other kissing. Her eyes were immediately filled with surprise, "You guys!"

Victoria gently pushed Maximilian and quickly separated from him. She lowered her head and blushed. She was so embarrassed.

Maximilian looked at Maggie awkwardly and said embarrassedly, "What are you doing here..."

"I come to find you. The birthday banquet will begin soon. I come to ask you back to the table. But now, it seems that you... If you can't suppress the desire for each other, hurry back and don't make out here. It is not good if others see you like this."

Maggie wasn't happy about seeing their kissing just now. She didn't know why the two of them were still in the mood of kissing.

"Highly educated women are really unromantic." Maximilian whispered.

"What did you say?" When hearing what Maximilian said, Maggie was angry and she stomped on her heel, "You just behave yourselves."

Victoria held Maximilian's hand and looked at him worried, "We'd better go back."

"Why? We are already here, why don't we go back after sending Grandpa Birthday blessings?" Maximilian said with a smile.

"But, but we didn't prepare anything. Even if we prepared one, they would still pick flaws, and we will be in trouble."

Victoria really felt worried in her heart. She knew that she and Maximilian had already become an eyesore to the people of the Wright family. When they went to give blessings, there were sure to be a lot of obstacles created for them.

But Maximilian was not worried at all. He walked out, holding Victoria's hand, "Don't worry. Things will work out."

Victoria smiled bitterly and had to follow Maximilian out.

When they were back to their seats in the outdoor hall, they looked at the banquet hall.

The guests had already left the back hall and came to sit in the banquet hall one by one.

Immediately after Carson, Hugo, the elder master of the Wright entered the banquet hall with the support of Gibson. Sylvie, Laura and others followed.

As Hugo, who was the main character of the day entered the banquet hall along with the other members of the Wright family, the birthday banquet officially began.

"The birthday banquet has started, and the birthday gifts will be delivered later, but we haven't prepared anything."

Victoria said in a low voice.

"Don't worry, I have prepared the gift." Maximilian said with a gentle smile.
