Chapter 303 Because of You?

Frankie, who was begging Maximilian for mercy, heard the head of the police's words and froze.

Frankie assumed that Maximilian was behind all this, but how come a Mr. Eduard had popped up in the end? Frankie was confused by what the head of the police said.

Maximilian glanced at the head of the police with satisfaction. He had gestured for the guards of Dragon Sect to arrange the presence of the police force.

From wiping out Frankie's power in Geekoo, to the timing of the police's appearance, everything was well arranged by the guards of Dragon Sect.

Seeing Maximilian's satisfied look, the head of the police got excited immediately, feeling that he was not far away from getting a promotion and pay rise.

Frankie and his people were taken away by the police, while Maximilian was checking on Marcus and Laura with Victoria.

Eduard, who had been in a daze, came to his sense due to the pain brought by the gunshot wound. He wiped away the tears and said to the head of the police, "Thank you for saving me. Could you please send my mom and me to hospital first?"

The head of the police said with a smile, "No, you have to go back with us for the investigation. This is also a kind of protection to you."

Eduard turned pale at once. He pointed at his wound and said, "I was shot. I have a gunshot wound!"

"Officer, you must have my son's wound treated and send him to hospital first, or I'll complain about you!" Jennifer roared in anger.

Maximilian and Victoria helped Marcus and Laura up. Both of them were so scared that they felt weak in the legs and were unable to speak.

Connor helped Marcus up and said, "Get in my car. I will send you to hospital for a check-up."

Maximilian nodded and left the private chamber with his family.

Eduard was flustered. Somehow, he found something went wrong. He pointed at Maximilian's back and said, "How come they are allowed to leave?"

"Well, do you really think this is all because of you? Do you think you can do anything because you have money? The reason I said that was because it was what Mr. Lee required."

The head of the police said, waving his hand and left with his team.

Eduard's face flushed with anger, a burning sensation on his cheeks. The head of the police had just humiliated him on behalf of Maximilian by saying those words. But how could the police have taken sides with Maximilian? Wasn't that guy just a loser?

"Come back! You must send my son to hospital! You fucking bastards!" Jennifer cursed with rage.

"Mom, stop yelling. I swear to take our revenge on them!" Eduard growled.

"Of course, we will take our revenge on them. I will call 911 right now. Hold on. We will have your wound treated in the hospital first."

Showing no shrewdness any more,

Jennifer was thrown into a panic because of her son's wound.

After making an emergency call, Jennifer calmed down gradually. "What did that police officer mean by his remark? That they were all arranged by Maximilian?"

"It must be. A dumb dog is dangerous. Maximilian is a sinister one, and we have underestimated him this time!"

Eduard felt that he was too careless. It was because Maximilian was so insidious that they had been insulted today.

The penetrating sound of the ambulance siren came through. Soon, the doctor and nurses rushed inside. When Eduard was moved onto the stretcher, they got into the ambulance in haste and the vehicle dashed towards the hospital.

Both Marcus and Laura had gone through check-ups in the hospital. It turned out that they were only too frightened and that there was no other problem.

Connor left after he sent the Griffith family back. Sitting feebly on the sofa, Marcus and Laura stared at Maximilian in confusion.

They were astonished at what Maximilian had done. However, the police had said that they came for Eduard while rushing in, so Marcus and Laura were not that astonished.

"Maximilian, what's going on today? Was it you who offended that Frankie?" Marcus asked in a hoarse voice.

"Dad, it's because of what happened in Geekoo. Frankie wanted to get me for Leon, and Connor helped Maximilian stop them. This is how the feud started." Victoria answered on behalf of Maximilian.

Marcus frowned, sighing and said, "What a troublemaker! Are the problems with Geekoo over yet? Who else have you offended, loser?"

Victoria was stunned. She thought to herself, since Frankie and Leon had recently suffered a setback, problems should have been over already. However, Victoria was a little anxious. What if those guys were like roaches and made a comeback?

Victoria got more and more worried while thinking with her gaze fell upon Maximilian.

Maximilian smiled and said, "They are all settled. No more problems."

"Humph!" Marcus snorted, "It would be best if they are all settled. If not, tell us as soon as possible so I can swallow my pride and seek help from Samuel. Otherwise, you will leave me too little time to ask for help!"

"No, it won't happen again."

Maximilian said with certainty.

Frankie's power had been rooted out, while Leon had scurried off.

Presumably, those real estate circles in Geekoo were shocked at this moment, so how dared they stir up trouble again?

Just like what Maximilian assumed, the real estate families of Geekoo gathered together, trying to figure out a way to deal with the emergency situation.

Dejected, Zakariya and the others were sitting in the wheelchairs. The elders in the families had scolded them for a long time, and they had no more tears to shed after numerous rounds of scolding.

"You bastards! Are you blind? Can't you tell who you can offend or who you cannot? Both Wyatt from Geekoo and Connor from H City have intervened personally, and you still dared to offend Maximilian. Where did you get that courage?"

Corey was furious. He had been yelling at his stupid son for some time, and his voice got roughened.

"We had no idea about his power. According to the background investigation, he is just a live-in son-in-law and a loser supported by his wife. He has no power or background at all." Zakariya said aggrievedly.

Corey lit up a cigarette, took two deep puffs, calmed himself down and cast his glance at the masters of the other families.

"Frankie is totally screwed. He was caught in H City. It's said that he was provided with much information, including some inside scoop on us. Leon was caught on his way. He has more inside information on us. We must apologize to him with sincerity."

Masters from other families nodded hard, believing that Corey was right. If they didn't take the initiative to make an apology, they might be doomed soon.

"We need to find someone to act as the mediator, so we can make amends by inviting them to dinner. I think Wyatt is the right person, as well as Connor in H City."

"There's no problem finding a mediator. The point is how to make amends. I don't think an ordinary apology is enough. We need to find out what that Mr. Lee wants and cater to his pleasure."

Chapter 304 Something Wrong with the Cooperation!

Two days later.

Franklin was looking complacently at the documents in his hands in the meeting room, which were the cooperation documents sent by Eduard's subordinate after contacting Franklin.

After Eduard was released from the hospital, he had considered for long. If he wanted to regain his dignity, he had to start with the internal affairs of the Griffith family. He needed to have the whole Griffith family on his side, so Victoria would definitely choose to abandon Maximilian when she was utterly isolated by the rest of her family.

If Eduard wanted to have the whole Griffith family on his side, the most rapid and convenient way would naturally be establishing cooperation and mutual benefits. And that was why Franklin was being so complacent at this moment.

Andrew coughed, and his glance swept across the faces of Darian, Victoria and Iris, in order to underline his authority and position in the family.

"Business is not going well recently, especially when no more contracts are signed for new orders. The year-on-year sales did not go up, but went down. What's the matter with you, Victoria?" Andrew asked, pounding the desk.

"After a rapid developing period, our production rate is within our capacity. If we sign more contracts for new orders, we will fail to meet the delivery." Victoria explained helplessly.

It was more of a necessity rather than an option to refuse new orders. It was pointless to sign new contracts if their production rate was unable to meet the demands. Instead, they should take expansion into consideration, or start a new project.

However, it had been long since Victoria handed in her project report, but Andrew hadn't approved the plan, completely ignoring Victoria's opinion.

"This is not the excuse for your poor performance! You need to reflect on yourself. Don't you ever think you can hang around and do nothing all day just because you have made some achievements in the past!" Darian rebuked.

"Someone is so arrogant. She really thinks the prosperity of the Griffith family is based on her talent? When it comes to talent, she sure has some, in some way."

Iris laid stress on every "talent", leaving plenty of room for imagination.

"Victoria, don't take it as an insult. We hope you work harder." Andrew said in a pretentious way, then stared at Franklin and said, "Franklin has made great progress recently. He has made the most vital step for the development of the Griffith family. Franklin, tell us more about it."

After disparaging Victoria, Andrew started to tout his son.

Franklin was grinning from ear to ear. He pushed the documents happily to the center of the conference table.

"This is the letter of intent I signed with Eduard, the overseas businessman, and the president of the famous pharmaceutical company, Dunhill Group. It's mainly about the establishment of a new production line together, to produce the core medicines developed by Dunhill Group."

"Among them, there are two bestsellers. We have been authorized to use their manufacturing rights for free for three years. After that, we will negotiate the license fee according to the level of sales. I think the Griffith family can benefit a lot from it."

After a brief introduction, Franklin raised his head and stared at Victoria proudly, feeling that he could finally stand with his chin up and defeat Victoria in business.

The moment she heard the name Eduard, Victoria frowned a little, sensing that something was wrong.

Iris said in surprise, "Impressive. Dunhill is an internationally renowned company. Their bestsellers include not only medicines and health care products, but also relevant health care equipment. If we really are able to work with them, the Griffith family will prosper at any moment."

"Well done, Franklin. You should have built a relationship with the president of an internationally well-known company. You have done a great job. Victoria, you should learn from Franklin." Darian started to complement Franklin.

Franklin stared at Victoria with a grin, raised his eyebrows and said, "Victoria, say something! Do you think there is any omission in my work? If yes, just spit it out."

Seeing Victoria frowning awkwardly, Franklin grinned even brighter, his face looking like a blooming flower.

"I suggest cooperating with them with caution. Eduard..." Victoria muttered and said no more. If she went on, Maximilian would be involved. If the Griffith family knew about it, words would definitely get around again.

"Humph!" Franklin snorted and said with disappointment, "With caution? Why should we be cautious about a contract that is so advantageous to us? Are you so jealous of me that you want to ruin the agreement between us? You are daydreaming!"

"Well, someone just enjoys putting on airs. Franklin, make allowance for her. Victoria sleeps with men and sits on their laps outside home, but she doesn't allow us to build any connections with others. Am I right, Victoria?" Iris stared at Victoria in disdain.

Victoria puckered her lips in fury, leaning faintly against the chair.

"There's no need to care about Victoria's opinion. This is great for the Griffith family. Franklin, contact Mr. Eduard at once. Invite him to talk over the cooperation immediately." Andrew said urgently.

At the thought that they could collaborate with Dunhill Group, Andrew's blood was surging with exhilaration.

Franklin nodded, glanced scornfully at Victoria, who was unable to talk back, and took out his phone with his chin up high.

"Hello, Mr. Eduard, I'm Franklin Griffith from the Griffith family. Please call me Franklin." Franklin's face screwed into an obsequious smile.

Seeing that face, Victoria shut her eyes. She still held the opinion that Maximilian was better, because he never groveled to anyone.

Eduard heard Franklin's greasy voice and said coldly, "Did you read the cooperative agreement?"

"I did, I did. You are so generous, and the whole Griffith family feels extremely flattered. My father is wondering when you will start the negotiation."

A smile lifted Eduard's lips. He got that familiar feeling back, the feeling of being respected and groveled to.

"I will be there in a short while. Let's have a good talk over the cooperation, but I need two people present." Eduard had a wicked glint in his eye.

"Please tell me who are they?"

"Victoria and Maximilian."

Franklin's heart chilled instantly. He was afraid that things would change.

"Fine, I will make sure they are present. But I want to ask, why?"

"Well, that will make a good show. Just do what I said, and you will get your reward soon."

Franklin tumbled to what Eduard meant and glanced at Victoria gloatingly.

"I see."

Franklin hung up the phone and said with a smile, "Mr. Eduard will be here soon to discuss about the collaboration with us, but he asked Maximilian to be present."

"Victoria, tell that loser to come over." Andrew said in a cold voice.

Chapter 305 How Would You Apologize to Mr. Lee?

Victoria's heart sank because she had already figured out what Eduard was going to do. He intended to humiliate Maximilian in public in the name of negotiation.

"Maximilian doesn't feel well today. He has to rest at home." Victoria made an excuse.

"What the fuck? When has that loser become so delicate? And he has to rest at home? I don't even have the time to rest at home. How dare he?"

"That loser has to crawl here if necessary. Your family can't afford to delay our negotiation with Mr. Eduard!"

"Call him now. If you don't, we will call him. I'm sure that loser will run over here faster than a dog, if he learns that something happened to you."

The Griffith family taunted, leaving Victoria no pride.

Victoria knew she alone was unable to fight against them all. Even if she didn't call Maximilian, the others would look for an excuse to make him come over.

Helpless, Victoria took out her phone and dialed Maximilian's number. "Eduard is going to our company to discuss about a potential cooperation. He asked you to be here, though I don't think you have to."

Hearing Victoria, Andrew got so angry that he smashed the cup and roared, "Victoria! If you fail to have that loser come over today, we won't allow you to get away with it!"

Hearing Andrew roaring, Maximilian smiled and said to Victoria, "Hold on. I will be there in a minute."

"But..."

"There's no but. It's just Eduard.
There's nothing to be afraid of."
Maximilian hung up and gave a sneer.

After getting changed, Maximilian went out in a rush. On his way, he got a phone call from Connor.

"Mr. Lee, those real estate tycoons of Geekoo went to Wyatt and asked him to invite me to be the mediator. They want to make an apology to you."

"Make an apology? If they want to make an apology, they should come themselves." Maximilian said flatly.

Connor heaved a sigh and then said, "But they don't know what kind of apology suits you best. So, what's your opinion?"

"Do you remember Eduard?"

This man suddenly popped into Maximilian's head.

"I do. I have done a background check on him. He is the president of Dunhill Group. Is that guy plotting something against you?" Connor's conjecture was infinitely approaching the truth.

"He is going to discuss a cooperation with the Griffith family in a while. If those guys of Geekoo have some sense, they naturally know what to do."

Maximilian hung up. Connor thought for a while and got a rough idea about what Maximilian was thinking, so he picked up his phone and called Wyatt.

Meanwhile, Wyatt was with Corey and the others. When Wyatt's phone rang, Corey and the others got nervous immediately.

Wyatt answered the phone, talked for a while and hung up before saying, "The president of Dunhill Group doesn't like Mr. Lee that much. Now the president of Dunhill Group is about to start a cooperative project with the Griffith family. Connor assumed he wanted to take this opportunity to humiliate Mr. Lee, which is your chance to apologize."

Astonished, Corey and the others had never expected that there would be a president of an internationally well-known company showing up.

"Dunhill sells medicines and health care products, while the Griffith family is also in the medical industry. I guess a member of the Griffith family has contacted Dunhill and worked out a plan with him, and that has made Mr. Lee's wife suspicious. We have to help Mr. Lee win this round."

"We also have to look for some international pharmaceutical company and ask it to cooperate with the Griffith family. Such business requires a large sum of money. What do you think?"

"Mr. Lee is a shrewd man. He might be testing the sincerity of our apology this time. We have to get this done successfully, and we need to ask some international pharmaceutical magnate to work with the Griffith family."

The real estate developers of Geekoo discussed for a while and figured out a preliminary cooperative scheme.

Corey meditated in silence for a moment and stared at Wyatt. "Wyatt, I know you have great connections. I also know our children have offended you before. I'm so sorry. You have to help us pull through this time. Each of our companies will give you 10% stock right when we go through this."

If each company contributed 10% of their stock rights, that would be a large sum of money. Even if these real estate companies were merely local enterprises of Geekoo, each of them had assets of several billion dollars.

"I won't take your stock rights. As long as you could make a sincere apology to Mr. Lee, that would be enough. Mr. Lee would misunderstand me if I take your stock rights." Wyatt said, smiling.

Corey and the others were stunned. It didn't occur to them that Wyatt would refuse such generous stock rights for free.

Wyatt had already seen through everything. Since Maximilian was able to root out Frankie silently and swiftly, his power was something Wyatt looked up to.

Wyatt speculated that Maximilian's position and status was at the top level in the country at least.

"I have connections to international pharmaceutical magnates. But if you want them to work with the Griffith family, it will take you guys a lot. Tell me about your budget, so I can sort things out."

Corey and masters of other families discussed for a while. Finally they made up their mind and gave a number.

"We can offer 500 million dollars altogether, one billion dollars at most! Please contact him for us, Wyatt."

"Fine."

Wyatt took up his phone and made several phone calls before he said with a smile, "You guys are so lucky. The arrival of the president of Dunhill Group has drawn his rival's attention. I have already contacted his competitor, Fraser pharmaceutical Group. Their CEO is about to arrive at H City soon. Let's go over now to greet him, so we can talk it over on the way."

Corey and the others stood up at once. They asked people to arrange cars for them to get ready for greeting the CEO of Fraser pharmaceutical Group.

When passing by Zakariya, Corey kicked him on the shin. "What are you waiting for? Leave with us now. Kowtow and apologize to Mr. Lee."

"We have kowtowed and apologized, twice." Zakariya even wanted to cry. Words failed to describe how regretful he was now.

"Fuck! Haven't you seen what happened to Frankie at last? Twice is far from enough. If Mr. Lee doesn't get satisfied this time, just kneel down in front of him forever!"

Zakariya and the other rich second-generation didn't dare to talk. They got up in haste and followed their fathers.

Maximilian arrived at the meeting room of the company in a rush.

Franklin smiled complacently and said, "Well, aren't you fast? You indeed are a loser who grovels to Victoria every day. Are you afraid that something would happen to her? Hahaha."

"The president of Dunhill will arrive soon to discuss about the cooperation with us. Behave yourself, loser. Don't stir up trouble again!" Andrew scolded.

Maximilian ignored Andrew and Franklin, walked straight up to Victoria's side and sat down before he smiled and said, "Don't worry. Everything will be OK as long as I'm here."

"You are useless. All you know is to stir up trouble! Keep your loser on a tight leash, Victoria. If you ruin President Eduard's mood, your whole family can just wait for death!" Franklin rebuked angrily in a cold voice.

Chapter 306 Don't mislead yourself!

Eduard walked into the conference room of the Griffith Group with the help of his bodyguard, Andrew and others stood at the entrance of the conference room and greeted him with smiles.

"Thank you for coming, President Eduard, welcome!" Andrew said ingratiatingly.

Eduard directly ignored him to look for Victoria and Maximilian among the people of the Griffith family.

Seeing Victoria and Maximilian standing at the end of the line, he finally smiled.

"Let's get down to business inside." Eduard said in a cold voice.

Andrew welcomed Eduard into the conference room and said to Victoria,

"Victoria, hurry up to serve President Eduard tea." Andrew already got Eduard's idea and pulled Victoria out without hesitation.

Victoria didn't want to do it at all, but she had no other choice. She walked to the cabinet in the corner and took out the tea set to prepare tea.

Eduard and Andrew sat opposite each other. Then others of the Griffith Group and Eduard's men also took their seats. And Maximilian sat in the most distant place.

Victoria walked to Eduard with the tea and put the cup in front of him.

Eduard looked at Victoria sideways and said with a cold smile, "You didn't expect me to come, did you? Our game officially begins now."

Victoria turned away with a cold face and replied to Eduard with nothing.

Seeing Victoria turn away, Eduards' face went sour.

Andrew saw the situation and said to Victoria, "Victoria, come sit next to President Eduard so you can help us communicate."

Victoria slowly turned around, and said, "Uncle, do you need help with your communication? President Eduard had no problems understanding you."

"No. you must sit here. I'm not an expert in high-tech and you are in charge of the business department, so you must come to help with the communication with regard to professional aspects."

Andrew casually made up an excuse that Victoria could not refuse. Victoria remained silent for a moment after hearing what he said. Then she coldly walked to Eduard and sat down next to him. But before she sat down, she pulled the chair away from him.

Eduard said complacently as he watched Victoria walked backward, "Do you want to resist me? No way!"

Victoria said directly, "Please get down to business quickly, President Eduard."

"Good, then let's talk about our cooperation. I can strongly support the Griffith Group. I will help you transform and facilitate your entry into a more profitable market. This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for every one of you in the Griffith Group."

The eyes of Andrew and the others turned green, like when hungry wolves saw food.

"You are right, President Eduard. This is really a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for us. It will be beneficial if we can cooperate with you, President Eduard." Andrew said flatteringly.

Eduard glanced at Andrew and said with a smile, "I won't help you for nothing. I have one small request before our cooperation begins.

"Please tell us, President Eduard, we will try all means to fulfill any request you make."

"I want Maximilian to kneel down for me, so Victoria can see what a loser her worthless husband is." Eduard said sinisterly.

Andrew and his family members looked at each other and then they all looked to Maximillian.

"Loser, didn't you hear what President Eduard said? Hurry over and kneel down to President Eduard!" Franklin shouted at Maximilian.

"Maximilian, to help us with the cooperation. You just do what President Eduard ordered. You must make President Eduard satisfied."

Victoria glared at Eduard and said in a low voice, "You really go too far. How can you be so despicable?"

"I'm not despicable. I just want you to see what kind of man that loser is. Stop deceiving yourself, Victoria. Your husband is nothing but a loser."

Seeing that Maximilian didn't make a move, Iris stood up and said, "Damn loser, why are still sitting still? Do you want to die? If you don't hurry up and kneel to President Eduard, then we will force you to do this."

Maximilian smiled plainly. Then he shook his head and said, "He doesn't worth me kneeling. Perhaps, it is more suitable for him to kneel to me."

Andrew angrily slapped the table and yelled at Maximilian, glaring at him, "What the hell are you saying? How dare you be so disrespectful to President Eduard? We will not defend such a loser like you!"

"Victoria, get your loser husband to kneel down to Eduard, or you take all the blames in front of Grandpa Samuel if your husband destroys the best opportunity for the Griffith Group to grow!"

Andrew roared to blame Victoria in a seemingly proper way and looked at her with widened eyes.

Victoria shook her head firmly, "You can't insult my husband just because of business cooperation. Do you really feel it virtuous to help Eduard force us like this?"

"Asshole! What is virtuous?"

President Eduard only asks Maximilian to kneel down. When does he force Maximilian? Tell me, will you let Maximilian kneel down or not? If you don't let him keel, then you will be the sinner of the entire Griffith family!"

Eduard held his head high and said to Maximilian arrogantly and slowly, "The Griffith family really lacks family regulations. You can't even order a live-in son-in-law. I really suspect your ability to manage a company. Maybe I should cooperate with someone else."

"President Eduard, please wait a moment, I'll let Maximilian kneel to you." Andrew said anxiously.

After saying that, Andrew turned to look at Victoria: "Victoria, this is really a big opportunity for our group to develop. You tell Maximilian to hurry up and kneel down to President Eduard."

"No." Victoria said firmly.

"Victoria, are you crazy? How can you ignore the development of our family just for a loser? Do you still care about your family? If you don't ask Maximilian to kneel, then I will deal with you both." Franklin said while preparing to take action.

Darian frowned. He was really dissatisfied with Victoria's attitude.

"Victoria, Maximilian, whoever delays the development of our family for a while, we will ruin his or her whole life. I hope you two don't mislead yourselves. Maximilian only needs to kneel for a while and listen to President Eduard's instructions. Why do you resist it so much?"

Iris looked at Maximilian with disdain, "Such a loser like you dares to ask for dignity? It is your honor that President Eduard let you kneel down to him. How dare you not take the honor? Who do you think you are?"

Eduard heard the people of the Griffith family curse Maximillian with a smile. He was really pleased.

At this time, Andrew' secretary ran into the conference room in a panic.

"The CEO of Fraser Pharmaceutical Group is here. He said he came for cooperation."

Chapter 307 | Met Trouble Myself

The meeting room instantly quieted down, Eduard frowned. He did not expect that his old rival chased him here in order to cooperate with the Griffith Group.

He sensed something different the moment his old rival appeared, something serious might happen.

Andrew and others completely froze. As they were negotiating with Eduard, another international famous company came for cooperation? Was it destined that the Griffith Group was going to flourish?

Andrew was immersed in such a sweet dream that he smiled happily.

"Followed by many real estate developers from Geekoo. They said they want to apologize to Mr. Lee."

What the secretary said broke Andrew's sweet dream.

Hearing the words "apologize to Mr. Lee", Andrew suddenly recalled a bad memory.

Not long ago, the master of the Stone Family in the capital city came to apologize to Maximilian. He could still remember it clearly.

How could there be someone else who came to apologize to Maximilian again? Why was there always someone who came to apologize to that loser? It didn't make sense.

Andrew froze for a while, and the faces of Darian and some others turned sour. They all felt uneasy deep in their heart.

Maximilian curled up his lips and winked at Victoria, who immediately calmed down.

Eduard said with a cold face,
"Andrew, do you still want to cooperate with me? How dare you contact my rival!"

"No, I definitely did not contact people of Fraser. There must be a misunderstanding. Secretary, hurry up and drive the people of Fraser and those real estate companies out!"

At the time, Andrew was shouting at the door, the door to the conference was pushed open, "Who are you people? This is the conference of the Griffith Group. How can you just barge in like this? Get the hell out of here!" Andrew roared in anxiety.

Eduard stared at one of the tall and skinny foreigners with an angry expression.

"Kroopf, this is not the place for you to come, you should leave now." Eduard said coldly.

Kroopf was CEO of Fraser Pharmaceutical Group, and he shrugged his shoulders and shook his head to Eduard.

"Eduard, I came to see how you are doomed. I heard from a great prophet that there is a miraculous Mr. Lee in the East, so I came thousands of miles across the ocean to meet him and express my sincere respect to him."

After Kroopf said these respectfully, he turned to bow to Maximilian.

People of the Griffith family stared at him in disbelief. They found it impossible that Kroopf even bowed to Maximilian. He was the CEO of an internationally renowned pharmaceutical company!

When he came to the country, he would be welcomed by many bigwigs.

But he was bowing to that loser,
Maximilian.

Eduard's face was gloomy, and he felt that things were totally out of his control.

Wyatt, Corey and the other people coming with Kroopf were all surprised. They already had a deep discussion with Kroopf and wanted to pay the money for the cooperation between the Griffith family and Fraser, Kroopf never gave them a positive answer.

At first, Corey and the others wanted to apologize with money. But they never expected that Kroopf would bow to Maximilian before talking.

It was strange, really strange. Maximilian must be a distinguished man. They heard what Kroopf said clearly, it was a prophet that led him here.

Victoria looked at Maximilian in a daze. She really couldn't figure out what was the relationship between the prophet Kroopf talked about and Maximilian.

Maximilian nodded slightly as a reply to Kroopf.

Wyatt came back to his senses first. He came forward and said with a smile, "Mr. Lee, Corey and the others kept begging, so I had no choice but to bring them here to apologize to you. Please forgive me for our uninvited visit."

"We are sorry, we spoiled our sons and didn't educate them properly. And we even want to take revenge on you. It is all our fault. Please forgive us, Mr. Lee."

As Corey said this, he bowed to Maximilian with other real estate bosses.

Eduard was standing aside to watch what was going on. And the more he watched it, the angrier he became.

"Is this the way you treat your future business partners? We are doing business, can you be more serious?"

Andrew did not dare to show any hesitation. He turned to the group of people with Corey and said, "Gentlemen, please leave first and do not disturb our discussion with President Eduard. If you want to make amends with that loser Maximilian, wait until after our discussion."

Kroopf raised his eyebrows and smiled as he extended his hand to his assistant.

The assistant quickly took out a document from the file case and give it to Kroopf.

"Fantastic! Mr. Lee, since Eduard didn't respect you at all, I will teach him a lesson. The great prophet said that if we help you teach Eduard a lesson, the fortune will come to Fraser Pharmaceutical Group." Kroopf said with a slight bow.

Eduard's eyes instantly turned red. He failed to make Maximilian kneel to him yet. And now his rival came to help Maximilian. He really felt it intolerable.

"Kroopf! You son of bitch! Shame on your connection with such a loser like Maximilian. How dare an idiot like you come to provoke me? Fraser Pharmaceutical Group is bound to get nothing in the bidding next month."

Seeing Eduard was so angry and almost crazy, Kroopf said with a smile, "I think you might make a mistake! The one who is bound to get nothing is you. I have understood what the prophet's guidance meant, Mr. Lee is sure to help our group."

After saying that, Kroopf threw the document in his hand to Eduard "Open your damn eyes and look at it carefully. These are the test results of the health care products from your company. The carcinogenic exceeds the standard."

"No way!" Eduard roared as he picked up the document.

After reading it twice, Eduard's face instantly turned pale.

"You are slandering me. It must be you who is plotting against me. When I figure out the truth, I will make you pay for it!"

Eduard picked up the documents and was about to leave. He even had no time to care about the gun wound on his lap.

It was more important for him to deal with the emergency; otherwise, his companies were doomed.

His men hurriedly followed and left in a hurry.

Andrew and others of the Griffith Group froze as they saw this. How could a business negotiation turn into a fight?

"President Eduard, please wait, we haven't finished our negotiation yet!"

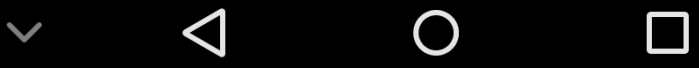

Franklin couldn't help but chased Eduard outside the door.

Eduard looked at Franklin, who came to chase him angrily and said while glaring at him "Bullshit! I am in trouble myself. I'll deal with that loser Maximilian when I'm done with it."

"Next time if you can't make that Maximilian kneel down to me, you will never be able to cooperate with me!"

Chapter 308 Are They All Crazy?

Franklin froze and watched Eduard leave.

At first, he thought he would help the Griffin Group get help from Eduard and let him become the most eye-catching figure in the Griffith family, but the reality told him that he failed.

After he came back to his senses, Franklin felt his heart tortured with anger to Maximilian. If it was not Maximilian, how could Eduard leave?

Franklin returned to the conference room. Then he looked at Maximilian and yelled, "Are you satisfied now? You brought these people here to ruin our cooperation, didn't you! You want to stop the Griffin Group from developing, right?"

Maximilian directly ignored

Maximilian with a plain smile. Then he asked Victoria to sit beside him with a gesture.

Although Victoria didn't know why, she still walked to Maximilian and sat down by his side.

Maximilian glanced at Wyatt, and Wyatt immediately got his meaning and said with a smile, "We and Mr. Kroopf are not here to ruin your cooperation. We came for cooperation sincerely."

"How do you want to cooperate with us? You know how generous the terms Eduard gave us!" Franklin was still angry.

Kroopf's assistant stepped forward, "Here is how the Fraser and the Griffith Group are going to cooperate, Fraser authorizes the Griffith Group to produce all the medicine and health products under Fraser without any authorization fee for five years. We will give you technical supports and help you build various production lines."

Franklin instantly froze, for the terms of cooperation offered by Fraser were even better than what Eduard offered.

The gloomy expression on Andrew's face instantly turned to be joyful. He immediately walked to Kroopf with big strides and shook hands with Kroopf hard, "Hello, hello, Mr. Kroopf. Sorry for our neglect of such distinguished guest like you. I am fully responsible for the cooperation negotiation of the Griffith family. Let's get down to business then."

Regardless of why Kroopf offered such conditions, Andrew only wanted to secure the cooperation in his name, so all the credits went to him.

Darian and others also gathered around and warmly invited Kroopf to sit down for further negotiation.

Kroopf gladly accepted the invitation and sat down on the seat left by Eduard.

Seeing that Maximilian was resting with his eyes closed, Wyatt and the others stood there without moving.

"Mr. Kroopf, you really offer good conditions to us and I wonder what we should do."

"Nothing much, as long as you can have someone to sign and fulfill the contract." Kroopf said casually.

Andrew and others of the Griffith family almost jumped up in excitement. What a windfall!

"I can sign the contract. If there are no other questions, we can do it now." Andrew said quickly.

This time, Andrew would make a quick decision to avoid any further change.

Kroopf looked at Andrew and slowly shook his head, "You are not qualified to sign it."

"Why? I am the firstborn of the Griffith family and everything is at my decision. If I am not qualified, then no one in the Griffith Group is qualified to sign it!" Andrew couldn't accept it, so he said immediately.

"This is a specific contract. I will only sign it with Miss Victoria. So, sorry, you are really not qualified." Kroopf said with a smile.

Andrew and the others of the Griffith family looked at Victoria. In their eyes, there were all kinds of emotions, envy, jealousy, puzzle, and doubts.

Victoria opened her mouth wide in surprise and finally, she turned to look at Maximilian.

Victoria asked softly in Maximilian's ear, "What is this all about?"

"I guess he was invited by the Geekoo real estate bosses. Maybe what happened to Frankie scared them, so they tried all means to make amends and please us."

Maximilian casually explained, with doubts in his heart. He vaguely remembered that Fraser Pharmaceutical Group was also an affiliated company of the Dragon Sect, but it should belong to the Dragon Queen.

Maximilian felt that something was wrong, seeing CEO of Fraser Pharmaceutical Group came to offer such great benefits.

Then he thought of the news brought by Wilfred. It was said that Dragon Queen was going to visit H City.

Maybe Kroopf was arranged by Dragon Queen to plot against them.

Maximilian thought for a moment and decided that he shouldn't act rashly to alert the enemies, and should wait to see whether Kroopf was going to do.

Victoria looked at the group of people led by Corey and they all turned to bow to smile at her obsequiously.

"So, are your guys ready to allow Miss Victoria to sign the contract with me?" Kroopf looked at Andrew and urged.

Words failed Andrew and he wished that he would curse Kroopf loudly. But Andrew didn't dare to. For the development of the Griffith Group, he could only suppress his anger and ask Victoria to sign it.

"Victoria, hurry over and sign the contract with Kroopf," Andrew said with an embarrassed smile.

Victoria hesitated for a moment and looked at Maximilian beside her.

Maximilian nodded slightly and said in a low voice, "Sign it, don't worry."

Victoria suddenly felt at ease. It was hard to say when Victoria began to trust Maximilian.

Kroopf and Victoria soon finished the signing and shook hands after that.

Kroopf smiled and said, "Since the signing is done, I still have other things to do, so I will leave now. Recently, I want to invite Miss Victoria to a dinner party when I have time. I hope Miss Victoria can come."

"Definitely." Victoria said politely.

"Then we'll take our leave." Kroopf left with his assistant, and Andrew and the others were at a loss.

Wyatt walked up to Maximilian and said, "Mr. Lee, Corey came to apologize sincerely and their sons are kneeling downstairs. At first, we contact Fraser in order to help us with the cooperation. But we didn't expect that Fraser had prepared such favorable conditions."

As a middleman, Wyatt suddenly felt unqualified. He was afraid that he would be looked down on by Maximilian.

Maximilian waved his hand. He was still thinking about the relationship between Kroopf and Dragon Queen.

Hearing Kroopf's invitation, he felt that something was not right.

"Mr. Lee, we know we were wrong. And we really came to apologize to you with sincerity. We prepared a five-hundred-acre industrial land as compensation. If you are not satisfied, we can compensate you with cash."

Corey said in a panic.

Andrew and the others were shocked to hear this. Although industrial lands were cheaper than commercial lands, a five-hundred-acre land was not small. It was worth at least one hundred million dollars.

Were these people crazy? They even came to compensate Maximilian with a piece of land worth more than one hundred million? From the master of the Stone Family in the capital city to these real estate developers in Geekoo, were they all crazy?

Chapter 309 Handle It Out

"An industrial land? That's quite suitable. You just transfer this land to my wife. Hurry up and bring your sons back to Geekoo. I don't want to see them anymore."

Seeing that Maximilian accepted their apology, Corey and others were relieved.

They let their employees finish the procedures and transfer the land to Victoria.

Iris got jealous with red eyes and said in a sharp voice, "You can't give it to Victoria, it should be considered as our family property anyway! Why should it go to Victoria personally?"

Franklin agreed, "Yes, it should be considered as our family's property. Victoria, you have to be prospective. It is useless under you."

Maximilian sneered and said, "Are you sure you can take it?"

Corey looked at the Griffiths with a cold face, "Do you still have us in your eyes. This is a gift we give to Mr. Lee personally. If you are really so shameless, we won't be polite to you anymore."

"You really go too far. If you dare to disrespect Mr. Lee and Miss Victoria again, you will be the enemies of the whole real estate circle."

Hearing THAT all the real estate developers took a stand, Iris and Franklin didn't dare to say anymore.

Andrew suppressed the anger in his heart and said with an awkward smile, "They are still young and naïve. You can send the land to whoever you want, as it has nothing to do with us."

After Victoria and Corey's men finished the procedure, she held the documents and walked to Maximilian in panic.

Then, Maximilian stood up and said, "Victoria, let's go."

Maximilian left with Victoria, followed by Wyatt and others from Geekoo. Only the Griffith family members were left in the conference room.

Andrew gloomily took out a cigarette, and sullenly lit it and smoked.

"Dad, should we just watch and see Victoria sign the contract? And such a big piece of land, they give it to her without a blink of eyes." Franklin said with jealousy red eyes.

"Shouting for what? We can't rush. Let's take it slowly. They will be ours someday." Andrew said slyly.

"But we should think of a way. The contract is signed by Victoria, nothing serious. Just let Franklin and Iris be in charge of it. But the land, we should think of a way to get back." Darian was also jealous with red eyes.

Andrew nodded slightly and thought silently.

He smoked several cigarettes and said, "There is no hurry now. Let's get it arranged sometime after. They will hand everything out obediently."

Maximilian and Victoria left the company and drove aimlessly on the road.

"Maximilian, why do I feel like I am dreaming. Those real estate developers suddenly give us a piece of land." Victoria said in a trance.

"Not so big. Just a 500-acre area, even not enough to build several buildings." Maximilian said casually.

"You seem like a real estate tycoon saying this. Just a 500-acre area? It is useless in our hands and my uncle must be coveted on it in his heart. Something bad may happen to us afterward."

Victoria was still worried that her family member might cause trouble. It was after all such a big land and she couldn't build a factory on it for she was not competent and was short of money.

"No hurry. Since someone gives it to us today, maybe someone else will send the plant and equipment later. Slowly, we will have them all."

After Maximilian finished this, he looked at the road and said with a smile, "Let's go and see Sissi, okay? We can ask the doctor about her situation. If her situation permits, we can take her to the amusement park."

Victoria nodded hard, "Okay, I miss Sissi too."

Victoria drove all the way to the hospital. After the car was parked, they went to find the physician in charge of Sissi's treatment.

The physician was very polite when he saw Maximilian and Victoria arrive. He knew that the two of them were introduced by the dean.

"Hello, you are here to see Sissi, right? Just sit down and have a cup of tea first."

"We are here to see Sissi. We want to know Sissi's recent condition to see if it is suitable for us to take her to the amusement park. After all, she has been in the hospital for quite a long time and she must feel bored." Victoria said with concerns.

"Sissi has finished the bone marrow transplant for a while and her recovery is good after the operation. She is now in the clinical observation period. You can take her to the amusement park, but she cannot take part in dangerous and exciting activities like a roller coaster, pirate ship, and so on."

The doctor introduced Sissi's condition to them carefully and asked them to pay attention to some details.

After that, the physician sent Victoria and Maximilian to the inpatient area.

Sissi was walking in the corridor of the inpatient area with a doll in her hand.

When she saw Victoria and Maximilian, she immediately ran over with a smile. "Mom and Dad, you're finally here. I thought you didn't want me anymore."

Sissi was a little aggrieved as she said this.

Victoria squatted down and hugged Sissi into her arms, "Good girl. Recently your dad and I are too busy to see you, I am really sorry, Sissi."

"It's nothing. I just miss you guys. I want daddy to scoot me."

Maximilian carried her in his arms and looked at his daughter with a smile. Then he said, "Sissi, mommy and I will take you to the amusement park today, do you want to go?"

Sissi's eyes lit up and she nodded her head, "Yes, I want to go to the amusement park so badly. Are we going now?"

"Yes, let's go now, let's go."
Maximilian walked outside with Sissi in his arms.

Sissi happily wrapped his arms around Maximilian's neck and gave him a kiss on the cheek, "Mua, Daddy is the best. I'm going to the amusement park, wow."

Seeing how happy Sissi was, Victoria couldn't help crying, and tears welled up in her eyes. She wiped the tears and quickly followed her husband and daughter.

They took Sissi into the car and left the hospital, and then the three of them went to the amusement, which was located on the outskirts of the city and was overcrowded on weekends.

It was a weekday today, so there were not many people in line at the ticket counter.

Sissi clung to Maximilian, and Victoria said with a smile, "You take Sissi to buy the tickets. I'll get some water and snacks."

Maximilian nodded and led Sissi towards the ticket office. Then the two of them stood at the end of the line to wait.

In front of Maximilian stood an old woman in her sixties, holding a chubby little boy.

When the chubby boy saw Sissi standing behind him, he reached out to grab Sissi.

Sissi hid behind Maximilian, "Daddy, he grabbed me."

The little boy disdainfully twitched his mouth and said in a loud voice, "Your father wears such ragged clothes. He must be a poor man. You just play with me and I will ask my father to arrange a job for him."

Maximilian was so angry that he even laughed upon hearing this. He said, "Auntie, take care of your grandson."

"My grandson is fine. He is absolutely right that you are a poor man. It's your blessing that my grandson wants to play with your daughter.

Chapter 310 Dad is Superman

The old lady only cared about her grandson, and when she talked to Maximilian, she was rude and sarcastic.

Maximilian shook his head. He didn't like such kind of old woman at all, as she really spoiled her grandson too much.

"Sissi, stay away from them."
Maximilian stepped back two steps with Sissi.

The fat boy with the old woman was angry. He was very dissatisfied, seeing Maximilian take Sissi backward, so he began to struggle.

"Grandma, let me go, I want to go and play with that little girl."

The old lady frowned and comforted his grandson, "What's fun playing with a girl from a poor family? We will have fun in the amusement park."

"No, no, I want to go and play with that little girl. If you don't let me go, I will beat you."

The spoiled fat boy yelled while waving his palm and slapping his grandma's thigh.

The old lady let go of her hand in pain. She had no choice but said, "Be careful, don't let that wild child from the poor family hurt you."

"I won't." The fat boy's eyes shone with excitement as he rushed toward Sissi.

Sissi cried out in fear and held Maximilian's hands tightly, "Daddy, I don't want to play with him."

Maximilian picked Sissi up and glared at the fat boy who rushed over.

The fat boy ignored Maximilian's gaze and looked up at Sissi, who was being held high by Maximilian.

"Put her down and let her play with me, or I'll have my dad get you killed." The fat boy said as he reached out and pointed at Maximilian.

Maximilian looked at the old lady with a cold face, "Auntie, if you don't discipline your grandson, I'll have to discipline him for you."

The old lady sneered and said, "Discipline my grandson? How dare you! Even I never discipline my grandson. If you dare to beat him, your whole family will be doomed."

"Yes, your whole family will be doomed, my father is Remy!"

The little boy said with his head held high and in a commanding manner.

Sissi cowered in Maximilian's arms and wrapped her arms around his neck tightly "Daddy, I don't want to play with him."

"Let's not stay here with him, let's go to mommy."

Maximilian went to Victoria with Sissi in his arms but the fat boy caught up to hold Maximilian's leg. Then he said viciously, "Let her play with me, or I'll beat you up."

Maximilian's gaze turned to be cold when he saw how vicious the fat boy was. He shook his ankle with a little force and got rid of the fat boy.

The fat boy rolled on the ground a few times to the front of his grandma.

"Oh, my good boy, are you okay? Does it hurt?"

The old lady panicked and squatted on the ground to pick up her grandson.

The fat boy was covered in dust and looked miserable. Seeing the old lady looking at him nervously, the fat boy began to cry and shout angrily.

"Oh, oh, oh, he beat me, my whole body hurts. It hurts like hell. I want my dad. I don't want you. You're a useless old thing, you can't do anything I want for me."

The fat boy cried, howling, and wiped his tears. The old lady felt heartbroken seeing her grandson like this and she went to vent her anger on Maximilian.

When she saw Maximilian carried Sissi to a store, the old lady stood up.

"Good boy, stand here, and I will revenge you! No one can bully my grandson."

The old lady was already overwhelmed by anger now. Also, she was a shrewish nature from childhood. Every time she got angry, she wouldn't care about anything else. So, at this time, she rushed to vent her anger on Maximilian.

She pulled Maximilian's arm and raise her hand to scratch Sissi's face, and cursed viciously, "You brat even dare to hurt my grandson. I want your daughter disfigured!"

Maximilian twisted his waist and dodged to avoid Sissi from being scratched.

With so much anger in his heart, he reached out his feet to kick the old lady's knee. Then the old lady directly kneeled in front of Maximilian.

"Have you had enough? Instead of discipline your grandson properly, you still choose to find trouble with us."

Maximilian said in a cold voice.

The old lady froze for a moment, then she felt that she was totally humiliated. Angry with her face in red, she directly fell on the ground to hold Maximilian's right leg to make a scene," He beat me. This shameless young man beat an old lady like me. He also beat my grandson. He is a really bad man. Someone came to help us?"

The old lady acted unreasonably and howled.

The crowd waited in line at the ticket office all turned to look at them but nobody came to surround them, neither did they come to help the old lady.

Just now, the old lady's grandson was a really bad one. Nearly everyone in the queue was harassed by him more or less.

Seeing no one coming over to watch, the old lady was angry. She did not expect that her little trick that never flailed even failed today.

"What kind of world is this? Does nobody come to help me? You just watch me being bullied like this? I'm not feeling well. You kicked me to injury."

The old lady changed her strategy from making a scene to finding trouble with Maximilian.

The fat boy ran over to hold Maximilian's left leg and said, "You bad man, put your daughter down and let me play with her. After that, I'll let my grandma get up, or my grandma will sue you until you go bankrupt and my dad will get your whole family killed."

Maximilian looked at the old lady and the fat boy with cold eyes. "Let go of my legs and get away from me, or you should bear the consequences caused by your own actions."

"How dare you, you little brat? If you don't let your daughter play with my grandson, you won't leave here today!" The old lady shouted in a stern voice.

Maximilian put force on his right leg and directly threw the old lady who was carrying his leg away.

Seeing his grandma flew away, the fat boy froze and he suddenly felt afraid in his heart.

Just when the fat boy was ready to let go, Maximilian's left leg already moved and the fat boy was also kicked out.

The fat boy rolled on the ground several times and finally stopped at his grandma's side.

After rolling so many times, he felt dizzy as if there were stars in front of his eyes. He was even seeing double.

Regardless of the pain on her own body, the old lady quickly went to carry her grandson in her arms and asked about his situation carefully.

As Victoria came out of the store, she saw the old lady and the fat boy not far away, so she asked with curiosity, "What's wrong with them?"

"Nothing, let's hurry up and buy the tickets."

Maximilian carried Sissi in his arms and the three of them went to buy tickets together.

Sissi wrapped her arms around Maximilian's neck and whispered in Maximilian's ear, "Daddy, you are so powerful, you looked like Superman just now."

"Ah ha, I am Superman and I will take you flying high later." Maximilian said cheerfully.

Chapter 311 Surround Him!

Seeing the three buying tickets and went into the amusement park, the old lady looked fierce, and the fat boy next to her cried loudly, as if he suffered a great grievance.

“Dear grandson, don’t cry. Grandma will call your father and ask your father to punish him.” The old lady coaxed the fat boy.

Fat boy immediately stopped cry, nodding and yelled, “Let my father beat him up and get my little sister back. I want to have fun with her.”

The old lady took out her cell phone and dialed her son Remy’s number.

“Your son and I were beaten!” the old lady roared at the phone.

Remy was stunned for a moment, and then said angrily, “Who dares to hit my son? Where are you?”

“We’re at the amusement park. Bring your men here quickly. Let’s smash that bastard’s car first, and then catch them and beat them up!” the old lady roared angrily.

“Wait. I’ll bring my men there in a minute.”

The old lady put away the phone and looked at her grandson with affection, “Your father will come here soon, and grandma will buy you ice cream now. When your father catches that bastard, you can put him on the trampoline and smash him to death.”

“I’m going to take that girl to jump together. When his father died, the girl will be mine. I’m going to take her home and play with her.”

The old lady snorted and said with dissatisfaction, “Why do you play with the child from a poor family? They are teases. It’s right to play with the girls who are richer than your father.”

The old lady stopped talking. She took her grandson to the store, bought a pile of snacks and waited on the bench at the gate of the amusement park.

Soon a Benz came with two business cars.

Remy, who was not tall, opened the car door and rushed out. Behind Remy were a group of men with sticks.

“Son, how are you? Are you hurt? Do you feel uncomfortable?” Remy hugged the fat boy and asked nervously.

The fat boy shrunk his mouth, pretended to be pitiful and said, “Dad, someone hit me. He beat me almost to death. I rolled on the ground many times and my head is still dizzy.”

The old lady stood up with her hands akimbo, “Your son and I were beaten badly. You smash their car first, and then go to the amusement park to find them out, and give them a good beating to vent my anger.

“Which car is theirs? What does the man who beat my son look like?” Remy asked.

The old lady and the fat boy described Maximilian and Sissi’s looks. Remy took out the phone and contacted the security department of the amusement park. He asked the security guard to find Maximilian’s location as well as his car.

Soon, the security department located them according to the description of their appearance and clothes.

“Remy, according to your description, we have locked a person. He is next to the whirligig. I will send you a picture to see if it is the person you are looking for.”

The head of the security department hung up the phone and sent the surveillance screenshot to Remy.

Remy let the old lady see, and the old lady immediately pointed to the picture and said, “It’s him! He must die today!”

“Bastard, how dare he hit my son? I never beat my son myself. How can this son of a bitch do it? I have to beat him in the face today!”

Remy asked the security department to continue tracking Maximilian, and asked his men to smash the car.

Victoria's car was soon destroyed by Remy's men. The car glass was broken, the roof was flattened, and both the hood and the trunk were all broken.

After smashing the car, Remy waved his hand and said, "Take my son and go with me to avenge"

A hand picked up the fat boy and followed Remy and the old lady to the gate of the amusement park.

The security guard at the gate stopped him, and Remy said, "What are you doing? You dare to block my way. You don't want to live, do you?"

The security guards quickly got out of the way. After Remy and others went in, they immediately reported to the head of the security department.

This day, Hendrix, who was in charge of the security in the amusement park, listened to the report and estimated that Remy would make trouble here, which would have a negative impact on the amusement park.

But Hendrix thought about Remy's identity and felt that he didn't have the power to stop Remy. After all, Remy wandered in the underworld and ran several small loan-lending companies. He had hundreds of debt-collectors. He was also a famous tyrant in H city.

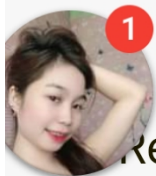

After pondering for a moment, Hendrix thought that he still has to follow him. At least he persuaded Remy to take Maximilian out of the amusement park.

Hendrix left the room with a team of security guards.

When Remy was walking with his head high, Hendrix appeared in front of Remy with guards.

"Remy, I'm here to help."

37  und Him!

Error

Remy glanced at Hendrix and said with disdain, "Will you help me? I would appreciate it if you don't stop me."

"As you know, the owners behind the amusement park are powerful. If you beat someone here, it will impact the visitors in the amusement park, I'll be in real trouble. Please catch him and take him out."

Remy turned his eyes and said with a smile, "It's not good for me to catch people here. You'd better take your people and throw that bastard out and let me catch him."

Hendrix hesitated for a moment, thinking that there should be no problem just to drive someone out.

"No problem, I'll take guards to get them out. Things outside the amusement park have nothing to do with us. You can do whatever you like."

“Then go and find the man first. He dares to beat my son and my mother. He’s really tired of living.”

Seeing that Remy was pissed off, Hendrix felt that the person who provoked Remy would inevitably have a tragic end.

Hendrix contacted the monitoring room to make sure that Maximilian was still there on the whirligig. So, in a hurry, he led the way, guards and Remy and others followed him.

Beside the whirligig, Maximilian and Victoria stood hand in hand, looking at Sissi who was on the whirligig laughing happily.

“Sissi has a good time here. She’s been on the whirligig for three times and still doesn’t want to come down.” Victoria said with a smile.

Maximilian pinched Victoria’s hand and said with a smile, “In the future, we should spend a lot of time with Sissi.”

Suddenly! “Here it is! Surround him!” Hendrix pointed to Maximilian and shouted.

Chapter 312 Stop

According to Hendrix's instructions, the security guards quickly surrounded Maximilian and Victoria.

Victoria nervously grabbed Maximilian's arm and looked at these men in doubt, "What are you doing?"

"Nothing, just ask your family to leave the amusement park." Hendrix said seriously.

Remy stood on one side and looked at Maximilian, then turned his eyes to Victoria, and his eyes became greedy instantly.

The old lady passed her grandson to Remy's man. She walked to Hendrix and spat at Maximilian.

"You, bastard, dare to beat me and my grandson. Your retribution has come now. You are so poor and arrogant. Now kneel down and kowtow to make amends for my grandson, or you will die quickly later!”

Victoria looked at the old lady in amazement, and then asked Maximilian in a low voice, “What’s the matter? Did you hit the old lady?”

Maximilian told Victoria what happened just now. Victoria immediately raised her eyebrows and thought Maximilian had done nothing wrong. He didn’t have to be polite to them.

The whirligig ran slowly now, and Sissi’s eyes were full of tears when she saw her parents surrounded by a group of people.

Seeing that the whirligig stopped, Sissi ran quickly in the direction of Maximilian.

“You get out of the way. Why do you surround my father? You can’t surround my father.” Sissi ran as she cried.

The fat boy, who was held by the old lady, saw Sissi’s figure and his eyes lit up immediately. He pointed to Sissi and said, “Grab her and bring her to me. I want her to be my toy.”

A security guard wanted to please Remy, turned and rushed to Sissi, stopped her and held her up.

Sissi struggled in the arms of the guard. She patted the shoulder, neck and face of the guard with her little hands. She accidentally scratched his cheek with her fingers.

The guard was furious. He was about to slap Sissi’s face with a wave of his hand. “You want to die, don’t you? How dare you scratch my face?”

“No, let go of my daughter!” Victoria saw the security guard was going to beat Sissi, and shouted at the top of her voice. She wanted to rush to save Sissi.

A group of guards stepped forward and blocked Victoria's way.

"You wanna die!" Maximilian's eyes were cold and he strode forward. He drove away a group of security guards blocking the road.

The guard's palm was about to fall on the girl's face, and Sissi shouted "Dad" with her eyes closed in horror.

When Sissi felt the strong wind of palm falling, Maximilian grasped the wrist of the guard. Then Maximilian squeezed hard and crushed the wrist bone of the guard.

The crowd heard a scream, and Maximilian had pulled Sissi out of the guard's arms and held her in his own arms.

“My hand is broken!” The guard covered his broken wrist and made a heartrending cry.

“You dare to touch my daughter. It’s my kindness not to kill you.” Maximilian said coldly, raising his foot and kicking it at the security guard’s waist. The guard flew out more than ten meters and fell to the ground motionless.

Hendrix was stunned. He wanted to drive Maximilian out, but he didn’t expect that he didn’t get rid of Maximilian; on the contrary, his subordinate was almost beaten to death. He was in trouble.

“You are killing people! Hurry to look after Liam. Surround this guy. We can’t let him run away. I warn you, you’re in big trouble this time!” Hendrix roared at Maximilian.

The security guards nervously surrounded Maximilian. Maximilian's violent attack just now made these guards feel that Maximilian was dangerous, and no one wanted to face Maximilian directly.

A security guard explored Liam's breath, and when he felt that there was still breath, he was relieved, "Liam is still alive, and now he is in a coma."

Remy went to Hendrix and said with a gloomy smile, "Let me do it, or you can't explain to your boss about it. Your men can't do it at all."

Hendrix nodded in shock. He knew his security guard would not be able to handle it, and they might cause more trouble. He might as well let Remy do it.

"Let me told my boss first, if they didn't mind, it would be left to you."

Remy nodded and asked Hendrix to make a phone call.

“Grandma, I want that little sister to be my toy. Let someone catch her and kill her father. Then she can be my toy forever.” the fat boy shouted, pointing at Sissi.

The old lady looked at her grandson fondly, “I’ll do it.”

“Remy, come here quickly and let your people kill the poor loser. Catch him and kill him!” The old lady roared at Remy.

Remy looked at his mother and son who were angry, and didn’t wait for the Hendrix’s reply. With a wave of his hand, his men replaced the guard and surrounded Maximilian and his family.

The men Remy brought with him had fierce faces and were carrying baseball bats, steel sticks and other lethal weapons. Sissi was afraid and began to cry.

Maximilian patted her on the back and coaxed her, “We’re not afraid of them. You’ll see dad beat these little monsters later.”

Hearing what Maximilian said, Sissi wiped her tears and said, “Dad, can you really beat little monsters? If you can, I won’t cry.”

“Sure, these little monsters will apologize to you later.”

Sissi laughed, put her hands around Maximilian’s neck and her head on Maximilian’s shoulder.

When the old lady saw Maximilian’s fearless manner, her lungs was about to explode because of anger, “All of you go to beat him, catch this poor man, and beat him to death!”

Remy said with a gloomy face, “Seize this man and beat him to death. Take this woman away. Don’t hurt the little girl. She's my son's toy."

From the moment he saw Victoria, Remy started thinking about her. At this moment, he wanted to let his men do it. Naturally, he could not hurt Victoria, because he wanted to take her back.

Remy's men picked up their sticks and approached Maximilian slowly.

"If you don't want to suffer, just kneel down. Otherwise, we'll hurt your wife and child by mistake."

"Don't resist at this time. There is nothing you can do except die if you resist. As long as you kneel down and apologize, and offer your wife and child to us, we will spare your life."

"Beauty, do you really want to be hurt by mistake? Come here with the child in your arms."

Hendrix called and saw the scene.

He said in a hurry, "Stop, stop."
