Chapter 1623 Overly Excited

Mr. Anderson was completely immersed in cooking, so he did not hear that shocking good news just now.

Kai walked in with a smile. "Yo, Mr. Anderson! You made this steak sound like it's the best thing ever!"

"Less talking and start serving!"

Mr. Anderson gave an order, so everyone got to work.

The young masters and young ladies, who were used to being served, were unpretentious when they did chores.

They were also brought up by Mr. Anderson since they were young. The butler took care of the four children, so sometimes when he could not manage them, they also helped with the chores.

When Aida was about to help out, she was stopped by Grant and Nicole at the same time.

"Don't move. Just leave it!"

Aida was helpless. "You guys shouldn't make such a big fuss about it!"

Grant said, "Still... No." (This Novel daily new chapters provide it www.)

When Grant saw that frivolous Kai standing in the doorway, he said, "Come over here..."

Kai was speechless and thought that he should not have come for dinner today.

This good news made Nicole extremely happy and excited. She was going to be an aunt. Soon, a little cutie will be calling her Auntie!

As she walked out with a smile on her face, she saw Clayton supporting Floyd as they walked over from the living room.

The two looked like they were having a good conversation. Floyd had a satisfied look in his eyes.

"Dad, do you want to have a drink?"

Nicole suggested.

Floyd waved his hand. "No, no. Clayton's still not well. How will it look if we drink by ourselves? Next time!"

Nicole smiled. "I'll accompany you to drink..."

Clayton was surprised and looked at her. Nicole looked like she was really happy about something. He wanted to ask and opened his mouth, but he did not ask in front of everyone.

Floyd raised his eyebrows and asked her with interest, "You want to drink?"

"Grant also wants to drink!"

Grant froze and helplessly rubbed his temples. "Let's drink.

It's rare that she's so happy."

Floyd slapped his thighs and instantly agreed. "Okay, fill it up!"

Kai saw this and immediately went to find a glass with great enthusiasm. He took the best wine and poured everyone a glass.

When Kai handed it to Aida, she froze. Nicole took it and put it on the side. "Aida can't drink."

Kai snorted. "What are you talking about? Aida's can drink better than you can! Aida, chug one and show her!"

As soon as he said that, Kai felt Grant's cold gaze drifting to his body.

Kai suddenly felt a chill run through his body. Somehow, there was killing intent in Grant's eyes.

Aida lowered his head and smiled. She spoke in a warm voice.

"Kai, I won't drink today. Grant will drink on my behalf."

Kai shivered and dared not object. "No problem.. Then let's drink next time. This time, Grant will drink on your behalf..."

He smiled and handed the glass to Grant. (This Novel daily new chapters provide it www.)

Grant did not take it and tapped his fingers on the table, not wanting to pay attention to Kai.

Kai smiled and put the glass in front of Grant. "My beloved big brother, please have a drink..."

Kai was so humble. He did not even know what he had done wrong, but he subconsciously begged for forgiveness anyway.

It was simply pure servility.

Aida, who was next to Grant, tugged on his sleeve, so Grant reluctantly took a sip and looked at Kai in a warning.

"Be careful what you say in the future. If you dare to behave in an insolent manner again, I'll smack you."

The corners of Kai's lips twitched. He immediately nodded his head.

Floyd completely ignored it. He always approved of his eldest son teaching his youngest son a lesson.

On the other hand, Clayton saw it but did not know what to say, so he pretended not to see anything.

The butler came out with the last dish and smiled as he said, "Here, this last dish is blanched tiger prawns. Everyone, please enjoy."

Floyd took a look and nodded. He pointed to the seat opposite him.

"There are no outsiders, so you should eat with us too..."

Nicole hurriedly pulled out the chair for Mr. Anderson. "Mr. Anderson, take a seat..."

Mr. Anderson originally did not want to eat together. After all, this was Clayton's first formal meeting with the family for dinner.

However, since Floyd said so and with Nicole's enthusiasm, everyone did not mind, so it would be bad if Mr. Anderson refused.

Mr. Anderson simply responded and added a set of tableware for himself before he sat down.

During the meal, everyone gradually relaxed, joked, laughed, ate, and drank. (This Novel daily new chapters provide it www.)

Even Clayton's initial nervousness disappeared.

The Stanton family had a very strange and interesting trait, which was that they did not keep secrets from each other. Any embarrassing things could be freely taken out and joked about.

If they were angry or happy, they would show it frankly. There was no cautiousness, schemes, or infighting.

This kind of atmosphere was hard not to like.

Even the butler took a wine glass and drank two glasses with Floyd. As they drank, they began to reminisce about the past.

Nicole also drank a lot. She clinked glasses with Grant a few times, and he did not refuse.

After Grant drank, he turned to look at Aida. His eyes were so gentle and bright. There was an indescribable warmth and affection that was never to be seen on a normal day.

Clayton sat here and suddenly felt that he aspired to this life. He felt as if he had become a part of their family.

Kai drank the most. His words were unfiltered as he babbled about everything, so much so that everyone wanted to beat him up to relieve their anger.

However, it was really satisfying.

Kai came over with a glass of wine and put his arm around Clayton's shoulders.

"Brother-in-law, from now on, we're family! Remember to take care of... Burp..."

Kai burped, and Clayton immediately responded.

"I'll take good care of Nicole."

Kai frowned at him. "She'll take care of herself. You just need to take care of yourself. My sister is really powerful. Don't just look at her gentle surface... Ouch!"

His ears were tingling from the pain. Kai twisted his head in shock and saw Floyd standing there. Floyd's hands were constantly exerting more force.

"What are you talking about? Do you believe that I'll throw you out the window?" (This Novel daily new chapters provide it www.)

Kai said, "No, no, no! You're breaking the law! I'm going to report you for domestic violence against your own son!"

"Go to hell!"

Kai was driven away by Floyd.

Nicole was laughing with one hand supporting her face. She looked a little drunk.

Clayton could not help but pour her a glass of water and carefully held it to her mouth. He coaxed her.

"Come, open your mouth and take a small sip..."

Nicole obediently bowed her head and took a small sip. She did not drink much at all.

Clayton was helpless when he saw her giggling happily. He wondered what she was so happy about.

She was not even so cheerful after escaping death.

"Are you that happy tonight?"

He whispered and patted her back, fearing that she would be uncomfortable.

Nicole's eyes glimmered as she nodded. "Very happy!"

Clayton frowned slightly. "Why are you so happy all of a sudden?"

He took a tissue to wipe her mouth.

Nicole hooked her finger.

Clayton's face was slightly red. He looked around and saw that everyone was doing their own thing, and no one noticed them before quietly putting his ear next to Nicole's lips.

"What is it?"

Nicole spoke in a small voice.

"I'm going to be an aunt! My sister-in-law is having a baby!"

It was only less than three months, so it was not good to announce it to everyone.

However, Nicole could not help keeping this kind of information and excitement to herself. She must find someone to share it with. She felt even happier than earning millions of dollars.

Clayton faintly froze, then looked up at the couple.

Across the table, Grant was gently cutting steak for Aida. He cut a small piece and put it to her mouth, dotingly asking her if she wanted to eat it.

Chapter 1625 Angie's Released

At this moment, the two people across the table saw Clayton looking at them.

Clayton smiled, raised the wine glass in front of him, and said, "Congratulations."

Grant and Aida instantly understood. They smiled and nodded, while Grant gestured with his glass and downed the wine inside.

The dining table was lively until almost midnight. Floyd was almost asleep before Kai reluctantly announced the end.

Clayton saw that they were all drunk. Even Mr. Anderson started to snore, so it would be impossible for them to contact their driver

Thus, Clayton could only call his own driver over to send Floyd and Mr. Anderson back to the Stanton Mansion.

On the other hand, Aida and Grant went upstairs to Clayton's apartment to rest.

Kai simply made do for the night on the living room sofa.

Nicole was satisfied with this arrangement.

Since Floyd and Mr. Anderson were old, their beds were customized according to their physique. If they made do for the night elsewhere, their bodies would ache the next day, and they would not be able to get up.

But where would Clayton sleep?

Clayton was a bit distressed.

Since Grant and Aida were in his house, it would be inconvenient for him to go back to sleep, but if he stayed with Nicole, he was worried that the Stanton family would be upset when they found out.

During his hesitation, Nicole pulled him back to the bedroom.

“Sleep first. You can’t stay up so late.”

Seeing her indifferent face, Clayton sighed and thought about it. He stood up and said, “I’ll go to the guest room...”

Nicole blinked. “Are you sure?”

Clayton nodded solemnly. “Yes, I must.”

Even if Nicole did not care, Clayton had to give her enough respect in front of her family.

Nicole did not insist.

She waved her hand. “Okay, then go to bed early.”

Nicole was already dizzy from drinking, so she was not polite at that moment and went to bed after washing up.

Clayton slept in the guest room while Kai slept in the living room. There was another guest room, but Nicole did not clean it up yet. Since Kai was not aware, Nicole did not mention it either.

At midnight, Clayton heard the sound of the door opening in a daze. Then, the other side of the bed sank.

The next day. The sky was bright.

Nicole’s phone buzzed and vibrated. It was Yvette’s call.

Nicole picked it up in a daze. “Ms. Quimbey, you’re really not absent every morning!”

“Lil N, did you know? Angie’s released...”

Nicole’s sleepiness disappeared all of a sudden. Her eyes shot open.

“What did you say?”

“It just so happens that Lance’s friend works there. She’s released early this morning. They said that since Caleb is dead, the local government and international anti-terrorism forces have decided to suppress this matter. Although Angie is part of Caleb’s group, she wasn’t deeply involved in his trafficking business. Her only value is to draw out Caleb, and they don't need her anymore. So... They intend to extradite her to Southeast Asia."

Nicole sat up and felt a buzzing pain in her head.

"They're letting her go back to her territory?"

Yvette said, "Southeast Asia is now Snakehead's territory. Even if Angie goes back, she won't be able to do anything. On the contrary, she'll be watched by Snakehead's people. That's why they decided to release her."

Nicole took a deep breath. Even if her heart was in a knot, this has been decided by the authorities, and they certainly would not consult her about it.

"If Angie sees the changes in Southeast Asia, she probably won't let it be, right?"

Yvette said, "Of course not! Everything was fine when Angie came to Mediana but changed when she went back. Who do you think she hates the most?"

Nicole did not even need to think about it. A name that she was repulsed by surfaced in her mind.

Yvette laughed. "Anyway, I'm just reminding you so that you can get more people to protect yourself. Don't get abducted again because you gotta attend my wedding!"

Nicole felt relieved and laughed.

"Don't worry, Ms. Quimbey! I promise not to miss it!"

The two talked about a few other things before hanging up.

It was only 8:15 am. Nicole did not feel sleepy anymore.

Recently, there was no regularity to her biological clock. Nicole would sleep until she woke up naturally

Perhaps it was because she drank alcohol last night that her head hurt a little this morning.

Nicole washed up and went out, thinking of making hangover tea.

However, the living room was quiet and peaceful.

Kai, who was supposed to be sleeping on the sofa, was also gone. All that could be seen were traces of someone having slept there.

Nicole froze for a moment. Could it be that Kai had left early in the morning?

She thought that Kai was pretty tactful.

Nicole looked at the door of the guest room. It was very quiet.

It looked like Clayton had yet to wake up.

The ingredients for the hangover tea were pre-packed, so Nicole just needed to brew it.

Clayton's room was still quiet.

Nicole could not resist knocking on the door, but there was no reply.

She was stunned for a moment. Then, she simply opened the door.

Looking at the scene inside, Nicole instantly froze.

Two big men were sleeping on the bed.

Clayton and Kai were lying on their sides. The two of them were sleeping so soundly. The early morning sunlight spilled into the room and lit up their clean and handsome faces.

Nicole leaned against the door as she watched this scene and slowly started to laugh.

They were truly eye candies. No wonder all the netizens were vigorously talking about Kai's dating rumors.

If not for the relationship these two men have with her, one being her boyfriend and the other being her brother, Nicole would have imagined some unseemly scenes.

Nicole's laughter was a little high-pitched, which woke up the two sleeping men.

Kai irritably touched his head. "What the hell are you doing so early in the morning?"

Hearing his voice, Clayton, who was next to Kai, also woke up instantly from his drowsy state.

"Nicole, Kai... Uh... Why are you here?!"

Clayton's words gave Kai goosebumps.

"Why are you here?!"

Nicole looked at their shocked faces and burst into laughter.

"Don't worry, you two are still fully clothed!"

She covered her mouth and left. She even thoughtfully closed the door behind her.

Kai and Clayton looked at each other for a moment. They immediately pulled apart and jumped out of bed, each tidying up their clothes.

Kai could not help but mutter, "This is the first time I shared a bed with another man. If this gets out, the consequences will be even more serious than if I had a one-night stand with a lady. You'd better take this to your grave!"

Clayton's face was glum. His voice was dull and slightly disgusted. "Don't worry. I don't want anyone to know about this any more than you do!"

The two men walked out of the room one after the other.

Kai still did not understand how he managed to sleep on the same bed with Clayton.

"Why did you sleep here?"

Clayton glanced at Kai. "Only this guest room was cleaned up. You were originally sleeping on the sofa."

Who knew that Kai would unconsciously run over in the middle of the night?

Kai wrinkled his eyebrows. "I mean, why didn't you sleep with Nicole?"

Clayton's face changed slightly. He was just about to speak when Kai nodded knowingly.

NOV

“Oh, sorry, I forgot. You’re still not recovered...”

After saying that, Kai shot him a sorry look, patted Clayton’s shoulder, and walked around outside.

Clayton’s face was glum.

Kai watched as Nicole made some hangover tea and brought it to the table.

Kai made himself at home. He sat down and drank half a cup in one gulp.

After that, Kai felt mentally and physically comfortable.

Nicole looked at Kai with a seeming smile. “Kai, drinking too much can lead to serious trouble!”

Kai rolled his eyes at her.
