

Werewolf's Heartsong by Dizzy izzy

Chapter 46

/ Werewolf's Heartsong by Dizzy izzy
Chapter 46

King Sabastian's POV

I get back to my body, and I roar with my anguish and anger. "I WILL HAVE MY VENGEANCE FOR EVERY SCAR MY DAUGHTER CARRIES ON HER SPRITE FORM!!!" I roar in pain at what was done to my daughter. "BETTINA I WILL RIP YOU TO PEICES FOR EVERY WRONG YOU'VE DONE HER!!!" tears poor from my eyes. Stephanie has her arms wrapped around me. Clutching me to her breasts. "Oh Bas, Goddess, what has that woman done to our girl?" she breaths out, feeling my pain through our bond. I couldn't help but let another long roar of pain sound at the horror my daughter has had to survive, and almost didn't "AAAHHHHHHHHH!!!" my throat raw by the time I stopped. 23

Alora's POV

My father had been beautiful and so handsom. At least six foot six. Broad shoulders with long white hair, tan skin and white eyes rimmed in red. I could not believe my true birth father was King of all the Vampires. And he had looked at me like he wanted me as his daughter, he didn't have any hate in his eyes for me. I got to hug him, and would see him in person Saturday. I was excited. Then there was meeting Selena, and feeling like a missing piece of the puzzle that was me was finally in place. The world had shifted and felt like it was right now. Accepting Selena had brought a whole new level of power, and an infinite amount of magical knowledge. 10

I had a new understanding of myself and my powers, more then I ever did before. I also seethed a bit in anger. She had taken everything from me. I would never forgive her for this. I wanted her to answer for her crimes. Not just for us, but for our father. Somehow I didn't think Bettina was going to get out of this. I couldn't call her mom anymore. She was never a mother to me, she was an incubator, one who despised having birthed me. The closest woman I had to a mother was Luna Ember. She genuinely cared about me, and now that she was no longer having to show restraint, had showered me in affection at dinner. She was what, Bettina, should have been to me.

Discovering Selena, and finding out the sacrifice she had made for our survival, had been emotional. I was now exhausted, more complete then ever before, but emotionally, mentally and physically drained. This day has been way to long. Looking at the clock I see that it's now five minutes till two. After our father had left, Xena, Selena and I had sat at the shore of our pond in our 'space' and talked. Looking at Selena I saw every bit of abuse I had suffered at the hands of those who were supposed to have loved me, cared for me. (3)

But they hadn't. Instead they have visited things upon me no child should have had to experience. The woman who birthed me, had abused me from birth. She had my wolf bound, she had my sprite bound, she had bound the life chain connecting me to my father. Then using the death of another child, had deceived my father into thinking the pup she bore him was a boy, and had died in a car accident. Her abuse had affected and tortured not just my human side, but my wolf and sprite as well.

I would never forgive her for this. I could no longer let her pass because she birthed me. I would have justice for Xena and Selena. Sarah, also had a lot to answer for. Some of the scars on Selena were from her, and they had gone deep. Sarah loved to stab me, to slice me up. She got some kind of sick pleasure out of it. Selena had answered a lot of our questions. Ones we've been wondering for years. Although she had been separated from us, she had still been able to communicate with all the shadows around us, and those shadows contained a vast amount of secrets. O

This novel will be daily updaed at

Selena was a Shadow Sprite, with powerful light magic, granted to her through our blessing from the Goddess. So she was not a normal Shadow Sprite, being a hybrid changed what she could do, and the magic she was able to wield. Adding in the Goddesses blessing from the wolf side, and you have what is basically a powerhouse. If I hadn't already been aware that I was a freak of nature, this knowledge made it glaringly apparent. Not like I don't really care. The song Queen of Freaks by AVIVA went through my head, the main chorus really, so I sing it quietly to myself a moment.

"I'm a freeeeek"

"And you know it"

"I'm a freeeeek"

"Don't I show it?"

"I'm a freeeeek"

"And I own it"

"Won't you come and play with meeee?"

It was a bit jaunty, slightly upbeat and always seemed to make me smile when I heard it. Selena could shift her form to look like Xena only the colors where swapped, and her fur looked like moving shadows with thousands of twinkling stars winking in and out her fur. The white looked like moving light. Her half form, a copy of mine and Xena's, was the same way. The colors swapped out, the white hair seemed to rise off her in waves of light vapor, it was a beautiful sight, she was mystical looking. She told us with her released, our forms would look different when she melded with us metaphysically.

This novel will be daily updaed at

She would be able to come forth while I was in my human form now. Together with her melding with me I'll go from five foot nine to six foot four, my skin will darken to look like dark chocolate, and my hair will be made of shadows and stars. The jewelry shining even brighter against the darkness. If she melds with Xena's wolf form her fur looks like moving vapors of white light. Selena melding with Xena and I in our half form will have us looking like we were made of light vapors and shadows, the coloring the same as it's been.²

Add in the stars in the fur and we'll look epic, unreal, a ghostly entity to others. This will be interesting when we go to train. It was another thing the Alpha wanted me to do. I was to keep training with Brock. This made me think of how Brock looked at me when we transformed after lunch, wonder what the look on his face will be when we show him the new transformations with Selena now. What Selena didn't know is how our power would be used while we were melded together. We would have to find out by training anyway. That would come soon enough.

A

I still had three written exams, all tomorrow. Looking at the clock I corrected myself, all today. Goddess I felt like I've had years worth of things happen to me today. Selena wasn't able to tell us all of everything tonight. We may be separate entities, but we're essentially the same person. You had to think of it like a split personality disorder almost or schizophrenia in humans, only without the nave to ind out by training anyway. Inat would come soon enough. This novel will be daily updaed at

I still had three written exams, all tomorrow. Looking at the clock I corrected myself, all today. Goddess I felt like I've had years worth of things happen to me today. Selena wasn't able to tell us all of everything tonight. We may be separate entities, but we're essentially the same person. You had to think of it like a split personality disorder almost or schizophrenia in humans, only without the mental insanity. Well for most Supernatural's, we did have a few who are far from sane. Supernatural's were not immune to mental deterioration. There were a few historical events that center destruction around a Supernatural who'd gone insane.

Selena told us that Bettina was far more evil than we thought. She was only able to tell us a few things that I was too tired to think about at the moment, I would later. Bettina needed to be brought to justice, and so did that Witch that had used Black Magic on us, she was a danger to the Pack. She needed to be hunted down and brought before the National Council of Supernatural's, she had committed atrocities that transcended the Pack. Her evil was effecting more than one species of Supernatural's. Sarah was created with the use of black magic, the soul tainted with the evil from the moment of it's creation. If she were to have gotten the Goddess blessing she would have brought untold horror and devastation to the world. B

The Goddess had known this, the daughter created through unnatural dark magical means was not acknowledged because she was not a true daughter of the Goddess. I was, I was a hybrid like the first Alpha. The Vampires had originally been humans, cursed by black magic to crave and need blood for survival, never to walk in the sunlight again. Their blood lust would drive them mad and make them kill everything around them. One Vampire, retained his sanity through sheer will. He was a hybrid, born of the rape of a Light Witch and a Vampire in a feeding frenzy. A This novel will be daily updaed at

The Light Witch had managed to escape with her life. Her son was born with the tan skin of a creature of light magic. He had white hair, his eyes instead of being all red were white, with a red rim. One day he came across a wolf, a female. He fell in love with this wolf. He knew they would never be able to be together. Not in front of her Pack. They were unable to stay away from each other. Under the light of a full moon they had come together, marking each other as mates, and creating a new life together.

Werewolf' s Heartsong by Dizzy izzy

Chapter 47

/ Werewolf' s Heartsong by Dizzy izzy
Chapter 47

Alora's POV con'd

'The Goddess seeing their love, and the strength the Vampire had used to fight his curse, decided to bless the couples mating. See, the wolf he had fallen in love with, was descended from her first wolves. The ones she created, after falling in love herself. With a wolf who had called the Volcano of Moon Mountain, home. The wolf, with black fur and strangely violet eyes, had loved the Goddess as she did him. Sadly, he was unable to act on it, as he was a wolf. (2

One night, with the moon at it's fullest, he asked the Goddess for a human form for his wolf. Even if only for the one night, as he was nearing the end of his life cycle, he wished to make love to the Goddess, at least once. His life, was so short compared to the Goddesses existence. Wanting to be with him, she granted him his request. Using the fire within the Volcano of Moon Mountain, and the song of longing from his heart, she gave him his human form. But not just for one night. No, the Goddess had gifted him the ability to change to this new human form at will.

His human form was tall, six foot eight. His skin tan from the power of fire and lightning from the Volcano, his eyes violet, his hair long and black. Using the power of the Volcano's fire had extended his life cycle significantly, he could live for Centuries. He had been Alpha, for all the wolves who lived in the surrounding forests, and lands on the Moon Mountain Volcano mountain range. With his new form, he was able to mate with the Moon Goddess, that night they created a life, their daughter. This novel will be daily updaed at

Not wanting her daughter to be lonely, she granted all the wolves living on the Moon Mountain, mountain range, the ability to shift to human. She created the new race of Supernaturals, using the power of the elements around the wolves. Fire, Earth, Water, Wind, Light, Shadows, Spirit, they had been the elements that made up the seven Clans original magic. Blackfires, the Fire element. Mountainmovers, the Earth element. Frosts, the Water Element. Northmountains, the Wind Element. Moonstars, the Light element. The Shadowtails, the Shadow element. The Heartsongs, the Spirit element. 2

The elements gifted the wolves with very long lives, and a magic unique to them alone. Until she gifted the Vampires freedom from their curse. She said the souls of the Vampires born were not tainted from birth, they became tainted by the curse. The Goddess had used those same elements to gift them that freedom, and magic. The elements had given the Vampires longevity as well. The Goddess freeing them to have fated mates. This novel will be daily updaed at

Their curse lifted, their Vampire self turned into Sprites, so they could walk in the light of day. The Sprites would either be of shadow or light, the ones with Light Sprites were called Day Walkers, the ones with Shadows, Night Walkers. A Day Walkers power strengthened in the light of day, a nightwalkers strengthened by the shadow of night. None of them were really weak, it's just when their magic would be strongest. O

The Goddess said to the couple, their daughter, to keep her safe among the Werewolves, would be acknowledged as her daughter, and would be marked as such. Her blessing from the Goddess would be visible. So the wolves would be able to accept a hybrid, and future hybrids. She also made the rule that no member of any species of Supernaturals were to interfere with fated mates. They would face long lasting retribution should they do so, and to reject your fated would bring pain and punishment..

That daughter was my ancestor, Luna Blood-Moon Heartsong. We call her the First Alpha, but it's really she was the first Alpha of Alphas. The true first Alpha being the Goddesses Consort. The first Werewolf, who continues to walk the stars by the side of his beloved mate, his mortality long since gone. His life force and essence bonded to the Goddess, he was no longer of this earth but of the stars. He was known to us as the Father of wolves, watching over us next to our Mother, the Moon Goddess.

The Frost and Northmountain Clans, have gone against the Goddesses rule repeatedly, because of a prophecy. A Black Magic using Witch, had told the overly ambitious and jealous Clan leaders that prophecy. The Witch prophesizing that there would be a pup born, coming from the tenth generation of Frost and Northmountains, from a generational pair of blond hair and blue eyed wolves. This pup would have the power to become Alpha of Alpha's, with the potential to make the Frost and Northmountains the ruling Clans of the Pack.

What the prophecy didn't specify, was that the pup had to be born to both parents, of the generational pair. I was the eleventh generation, I had the power they spoke of, but would no longer acknowledge them as my Clan. The Clan has repeatedly disregarded the Moon Goddesses rule. They have repeatedly aligned themselves with practitioners of the Black Arts. Going so far as to form blood bonds with them, binding a Black Magic using Witch to a wolf. This novel will be daily updaed at

The coven of Black Magic users, had long term plans. They wanted to rule all Supernaturals, and they had planned to use me, a daughter of the Moon Goddess, to do so. I would not allow that to happen. We would train with Brock, we would become strong enough to protect the Pack. Strong enough to prevent those, who would use my power for evil, from getting ahold of me.

That was one of the things that Selena had told us about. Brock's family is descended from the strongest soldier of the Goddesses Consorts original Pack. To make sure her daughter and any offspring she should have would be able to defend themselves and their Pack. She had granted the wolf with a second sight. She gave his bloodline the responsibility of training the Alpha's of the Pack, to make sure that generation after generation was trained to be the strongest fighters they could be.

That's why he could see the chains. It's what allowed him to bring out immense power in me, despite the chains binding me. I'm eternally grateful for his training. I hope he will be willing to train any pups I have in the future. While still sad over my rejection, I knew I would have pups one day. I'll wait awhile for another mate to make his appearance, but I would not wait so long that I'll leave this world pup-less. He will just have to show up or I'll go looking for him. If I can't find him after a decade or so, I'll settle with a male I could be content with.

The First Alpha of Alpha's was a Hybrid, now here I am. Descendent of Alpha Luna Heartsong, and the First of the Moon Goddesses Vampires. I was also a Vampire, Werewolf Hybrid myself. I had powers I haven't even begun to know. I know we'll be a force to be reckoned with, This novel will be daily updated at I was just now learning how to access and use that power. I felt myself starting to think in circles, it was time to sleep.

I get up off the floor and close the balcony doors. A wave of exhaustion slams into me. So much having happened draining me of the last of my energy. I crawl into the bed. It was like laying down on a cloud, the sheets and blankets so soft, the pillow fluffy. The feeling of safety being in the Alpha's territory gave me, wrapped around me, allowing me to relax. Later, after the exams, I could worry, for now I would sleep. I would concentrate on my exams tomorrow.

Before I could let sweet oblivion take me away, I think of the other things I'll need to do later too. I needed to tell the Alpha what I found out. We wouldn't need the blood test anymore, but I still wanted it. I wanted that proof as well, it was one more thing those people needed to answer for. Then there was the Clans. The ones aligned with Black Magic users needed to be brought to Justice and exiled before they could bring further harm to the Pack. Finally, I let the blackness suck me into the oblivion my body demanded. (3)

Kassandra's POV

I was in my room when I heard daddy's scream of pain and rage. "What happened?" I ask aloud. It had to be something bad. I'm worried now, it has to do with big sis. What could possibly have happened. I ran to their room, coming to a stop outside their door. My father's pain and anger radiating out of the room. He screamed a name shouting that he would rip this woman to pieces for every wrong done to a 'her', he had to mean big sis. Mom's words and questions confirming this. O

I listen at the door, horror coming to my expression, as my father tells my mother what he saw. Tears streaming down my face at all my sister has suffered, feeling guilty I've lived such a blessed life when hers was nothing but pain. Mom is crying, she's promising to help him get retribution, she's not the only one. I now know my sisters name is Alora, she's in the Moon Mountain Pack.

2

I'm not going to wait till Saturday to see her. My big sis has been hurt, and I won't let that happen anymore. Angry and determined I turn around. I should have known. There they were, having run here at Father's screams too. They all had angry tears in their eyes. I knew I wouldn't be leaving alone, we would all be going. "You'll not leave us behind." Asher's statement had the others nodding in affirmation.

"Ok, we'll go in three day's, we should get there Friday." I tell them. I had finals to finish or we would go tonight

Werewolf's Heartsong by Dizzy izzy

Chapter 48

/ Werewolf's Heartsong by Dizzy izzy
Chapter 48

Damien's POV 3

Xander and I are sitting in my room. It was a large rectangle, my king sized bed to one side of the door coming in. To the left a medium sized sitting area with a couch, with two wide stuffed chairs. The coffee table was a rectangle made of dark wood. A mock fireplace TV stand combo, with a 65 inch flat screen above, was on the wall in front of the seating. Opposite of the entry door are the other doors. One leads to a decent sized study, the middle door led to a large bathroom, the third door a decent sized walk in closet. It was basically an upper scale studio apartment. (3)

We were told that our requests, to take all the exams early, have been granted. Apparently the rest of the Seniors had put in their own requests. We all had things we needed to be home for. Four of the Alpha, Beta pairs, they were leaving next week weather we had finished or not. That would have only left two pairs. Until my father had told me about the visit our Pack was hosting this Saturday. The King of Vampires visit, would not be happening without me there.
»

Something told me that once back home I wouldn't return back to the school. Something was calling me home with a vengeance, and I had a feeling it had everything to do with Alora. Xander had his own reason to want to go back early, and I know he wouldn't be returning once we we're home, and I couldn't, and wouldn't, return without him. He was Beta to my Alpha, and there had never been anyone else I wanted to take up that position. We found out the truth behind Beatrice rejecting Xander.

"You're lucky you refused her rejection." I say out of the blue, but he already knows what I'm thinking. This novel will be daily updaed at

"I know, and I want to tear the bitch Sarah apart piece by piece. My wolf Darius is howling at me, he want revenge for our mate, she's still in pain," he growls. "And it's all that bitch's fault!" he shouts slamming his fist on the arm of the chair he was sitting in. 2

I had to ask it, because it was nagging me. "Do you think your brother will try for a second chance with Alora?" My wolf practically snarling at the Idea. 'Easy Zane, she's not ours' I tell him. I stare into the flames of the fake fire as I wait for his answer. (2)

He sighs, "No." he tells me, his tone serious. "He said he doesn't believe he was ever truly meant for Alora, he just hopes the Goddess will forgive him enough to grant him a second chance mate." his words had my wolf calming down, making me frown at that.

"I hope for his sake he does. Sarah has caused to much trouble for the Pack, she needs to see punishment, that and her parents." I tell him. 'What the hell is wrong with you Zane' I ask my wolf 'That pup doesn't deserve her.' he growls. 'Your acting to possessive, This novel will be daily updaed at she's not our mate' I remind him.

"I want these exams over, I'm going to claim her this time." said Xander "I'm not letting her get away this time, I'm not going without my mate anymore." He tells me.

"I'll support you in your bid." I tell him.

He gets up, "I'm going to go for a run, Darius needs it." he tells me before he leaves.

It was ok, I had my own feelings to deal with. "Alora" I say aloud.

'I want to see her and Xena' Zane tells me.

"Why are you acting like this?" I ask him, "I keep telling you she's not ours."

'Yes she is!' he snarls at me.

Going still, did he just say, I stop, I want it clarified before giving into the hope I felt building. "What do you mean by that Zane?"

'She's ours! Our mate! She was never meant for that idiot pup!' he's still snarling.
'She's hurting, I want to go home!' he's practically howling. 9

Fuck, now I know how my Beta was feeling. "Calm down Zane, we'll head home right after our last exam." I promise him.

'Fine' He growls out. 'I want to watch the videos again' he says. (9)

I did too, so I get out my phone, and connect it to the TV. I play all the videos my mother and brother had sent me. She's absolutely gorgeous now, she was always pretty, but now, she was in her full glory. Their fights had me aching, her strength intoxicating, an Alpha Female glowing with power. I watch her fight Darien in her half form. I can't help but shiver a little at her shape.

'Mate' Zane says. He was right, she had been meant for us all along. ?This novel will be daily updtaed at

"Yeah, she's our Mate." I sigh out the agreement. My eyes narrow in anger, "And we'll tolerate no more of her so call parents, and that bitch Sarah's involvement in her life anymore." I tell him.2

'I want to talk to her.' Zane demands.

"We'll get to talk to her in three days." I tell him.

'Not soon enough.' He growls.

"Your being really pushy about this." I tell him.

'I want to hear her voice, you can call her.' He says.

I sigh. "It's late, she's probably studying or asleep." I tell him..

He growls, not happy. 'When' he demanded.

"I'll call her tomorrow afternoon, after we have both finished our exams" I tell him.

He settles a little, only slightly pacified. This novel will be daily updtaed at 'Fine.' he growls out. 'I miss her voice' he whines.

Remembering when we would catch her in the forest singing, I say "I do too." the sigh I let out longing

Alora's POV

I wake to the alarm on my phone, and I'm disoriented at first. I lay there a moment and take in the room, letting the memories from yesterday and this morning come back to me. It's seven, and I've only been asleep for four hours, but as a Werewolf that's all I need. I remember the encounter I had last night in my 'space', were I met Selena, and my father. I sit up abruptly. "What if that was all just a dream?" I ask aloud into the quiet of my room.

Last night was not a dream' said Xena, listening to my rambling.

Excited I asked "Can Selena talk to us too?"

Yes, I can talk to both of you now, I've always been able to hear you Selena tells us.

"I'm so happy we have you with us" I tell her.

'I am as well' said Xena

I can feel her happiness to be able to connect to us I'm glad I'm able to be with you both now. She tells

1.

Getting up I go to the large walk in closet next to my luxury bathroom, the bathroom was amazing. It had a large standing shower with five shower heads. Next to it, connected behind the same glass wall, is a deep, wide and long rectangular shaped tub. The shower heads were temperature controlled. There was a nice shower seat. The floors were heated. (4

On the wall opposite the one with the shower and door, was a double sink with floor to ceiling cabinets on either side. There were cabinet doors under each sink. In between the sinks was a wide space, several drawers increasing in size as they went down, in the cabinet under that space. The toilet was in a closet like space behind double wicker doors next to the double sink across from the door. 2

It had a nifty shelf cabinet in it that held feminine products and extra toilet paper. The walk in closet was large and square, there was enough room to have a square bench, with shoe cubbies under it, in the middle, there was a floor to ceiling mirror about three feet wide in the wall opposite the door. I didn't take up almost any space in here. 10

I decided to wear one of my new pairs of blue skinny jeans, with deep side pockets down the side that zipped. A black cloth belt with silver loops all over it. A dark purple hip length tank with skulls on it, and my short black short sleeved cardigan. I put on my new black B52 wedge heeled half boots. I put my hair in twin french braids, they trailed down my front on either side of my face, their length, even in braids almost to my hips. (2)

I didn't need make up, so I brushed my teeth and put on chap stick. My lashes already long thick and black didn't get touched. Silver hoops in my ears, going from large to small as they climb my ears. Five in a row in the lower portion of my ears, two on the curve of my ears. That I can finally wear the larger hoops now instead of the tiny studs, makes me feel good.

I didn't need to take anything with me beside my wallet today. I get it out of my bag. It's a black square leather wallet with a chain and a clip. That'll be perfect while riding the new bike the Alpha gave me. I grab the thin waist length leather jacket Damien sent as a Christmas gift through Darien This novel will be daily updaed at gave me. I grab the thin waist length leather jacket Damien sent as a Christmas gift through Darien one year. I could wear it while on the bike, then lock it in the small compartment under the seat ?

It had taken me less then thirty minutes to dress and get ready. Phone in a side pocket, wallet in a back pocket the chain clipped to the belt loop closest to my belt buckle. Jacket and new keys in hand I left, locking my room behind me. Pausing outside my door I take a deep breath, to center myself before walking downstairs. There was a lot I needed to tell the Alpha, Luna, Darien and Serenity,

Werewolf' s Heartsong by Dizzy izzy

Chapter 49

/ Werewolf' s Heartsong by Dizzy izzy
Chapter 49

Alora's POV con'd

As I start my trek down stairs, my phone vibrates with a message. I stop, I'm halfway to the stairs, and pull out my phone to see who it's from. I know It's not my parents or Sarah. I blocked their numbers, all of them, so they couldn't harass me that way, at least not yet. I had to blink at the ID card of who the message was from. He hasn't messaged me since I sent him a thank you for the jacket that I haven't worn yet. Today will be my first day to wear it.

Hello Starlight, I wanted to wish you luck on your exams today. I'll call you this afternoon, was his message. He was going to call me later. It had been so long since I've heard his voice. It'll be nice to hear it again, even if it is over the phone. Thank you, good luck on your exams too. I look forward to your call. I send him back. He must have heard about some of what happened to me. He probably wants to make sure I'm alright. I faintly feel a thread wrap around my heart at that. 2

Continuing down the stairs I go to the kitchen. Both the Luna and the Alpha are sitting their talking with coffee in hand. Luna has a portable blood draw bag on the counter in front of her, they look up when they see me come in. They smile when they see me, like they were genuinely glad to have me there. It was such a drastic change from what I was used to at Bettina's. I loved it, it warmed me to be welcomed like this.

"Good morning dearie, how did you sleep?" asked Luna, her tone soft, with genuine curiosity. She actually cared how I slept.

"I slept great once I was able to fall asleep." I let her know.

She frowned slightly. "Something kept you up?" she asked with gentle concern. The Alpha also has a slight frown, he was just observing for now, letting us talk.

"Well...after the Alpha came to talk to me I decided to meditate. I'd had a lot to think about." She nods, then gestures for me to continue when I stay silent. "Remember I told you Xena had pulled me into her 'space' at lunch yesterday?" They nod, staying quiet, letting me explain in my own way. "Well, while I was in that 'space', I was able to see these chains that were around me." I paused. They both looked a cross between serious and worried. "Well they were already cracked and weakened by Matt rejecting me." 2

The Alpha and Luna looking at each other briefly, I continued on. "I managed to break them," I tell them "That's what allowed me access to the power those chains had been binding." I tell them. "I was able to gain access to all my magic, and the blessings that mark me as a Lunar Princess." Their look kept switching, angry, relieved, worried. "That's not all, not even the worst part." I said, they looked at each other, both having questioning looks on their faces. "Tell us." said the Alpha. I ignore the sound of the door behind me.

So I did, I told them about what Bettina had done. Everything she had done, I told them about Sarah. I told them about Allister, even about that night. I told them everything about Selena, what the Moon Goddess had said. I gave them all the information Selena had given me and Xena. I was grateful our first test wasn't till ten this morning. It had taken me an hour to tell them everything. The Luna had tears streaming down her face, and her face switched between grief and anger at all I'd been through. I felt like a weight has been lifted having truly talked. (2)

The Alpha had a furious look on his face and his fists clenched. "Those people will answer for their crime." he growled out. There was a growl behind me. I turn. Darian's eyes had shifted to wolf, he had one arm around Serenity, clutching her into his side. His other hand down by his thigh, clenched in a tight fist. His form shook a bit. Serenity had tears streaming down her face, the emotions on her face the same as the Luna's. (2)

"Who's telling Damien?" Darian growled out that question.

I frown confused. "Why would we tell Damien?" I ask.

"Because this is something we're not going to be able to keep from him." said the Alpha, his voice rough with a growl to it.

"That boy cares about you more than you know sweetheart." the Luna said, she'd wiped her face and had gained her control back.

"My brother needs to know, he's always suspected, hell, I did too." said Darian "It was obvious they were doing something to you, but you wouldn't say what." He runs his free hand through his hair. "All those times you smelled like fresh blood, especially when it was days in a row." he stops, swallows. "The smell of blood has appeared less and less in the last two years.” he pointed out. “Damien was told about all of it.” he tells me. Surprising me.

“Why would he be informed?” I ask.

“Because that was his stipulation for going to Collage. We were to watch over you, and help you escape your family however we could” said the Alpha. “The moment he found you on that river bed your life became his concern.” his tone wry. “That boy has always had an overly developed protective instinct.” he tells me. “But ‘you’ are special, always have been.” he said gently. 2

“I’m special to Damien?” I ask aloud, in shock. I mean, I new he cared, but was I really that special to him? 2

“Oh, my sweet darling Alora,” The Luna gets up and comes to stand in front of me. She raises her hands and puts them on my face, looking me in the eye with a kind, and sad smile. “We are not the only ones who love and care for you Alora.” She tells me in a soft but firm voice. This novel will be daily updaed at “You are indeed special to Damien.” she told me. “But not just to him, you have me, Andrew, Darien and now Serenity.” she reminds me.

My heart is filling, I feel the sting of tears in my eyes, her words touching me deep. ‘We’re special’ I say internally to Xena and Selena. Their crying as well, our emotions on the same wave length, there were people who cared about us, that felt so good. I’m glad I didn’t wear mascara, the tears spilled over, the sob came out. The Luna wrapped her arms around me and held me as I cried. 5

The Alpha came over and put an arm around Luna and a hand on my head. Here I am, a big bad Alpha, all my own....and I’m sobbing. Thinking about that helped me calm down and stop the tears. I lift up my head, the Luna lets me go, her and the Alpha still standing in front of me. I wipe my face with my hands, sniffing a little. Darien and Serenity come to stand over by the Luna and Alpha. Serenity hands

The Alpha came over and put an arm around Luna and a hand on my head. Here I am, a big bad Alpha, all my own....and I’m sobbing. Thinking about that helped me calm down and stop the tears. I lift up my head, the Luna lets me go, her and the Alpha still standing in front of me. I wipe my face with my hands, sniffing a little. Darien and Serenity come to stand over by the Luna and Alpha. Serenity hands me a tissue, nodding my thanks I blow my nose.

“Maybe later after you come back home you’ll introduce us to Selena.” stated the Luna, “I’d like to meet her, and see Xena again too.” She said.

They both wanted that as well so I smile and nodded saying “Ok.” then I thought about it for a bit, frowning, “When you meet Selena...you’ll need to brace yourselves.” I told them solemnly. They frown all looking at each other, confused. “A Vampires skin doesn’t scar.” I began, regaining their attention. “A Vampires skin doesn’t scar, but...the skin of their Sprite does.” my voice quiet, a little hesitant.

I was a big bad Alpha now, I couldn't let these things bother me anymore. I needed to be stronger, and hiding because of our scars was not being strong. They all look grim, waiting for me to finish. "When you see Selena, you'll see all the scars of ours, that she carries....and their are scars....everywhere." This novel will be daily updaed at I finish. The looks on their faces a mixture of horrified understanding, and angry pain, for me, their in distress.

It's the Luna who composes herself first. She wraps an arm around my shoulders "Come on, I have food in the warmers, you all will eat before going to school." she said firmly. My stomach growled. I had absolutely no intention of disobeying, food was involved. Hungry she wolves were not pleasant she wolves, food was essential for the continued happiness of all within range. 5

If I had a tail and wolf ears right now, my tail would be wagging, and my ears would be perked up in excitement. Xena chanting 'food, food, food' inside my head like an excited puppy didn't help this image in my head, it just added a tongue hanging out the side of my mouth. Selena no help because she was just as bad with her own chant of 'food, food, food'. This novel will be daily updaed at Ok, so obviously I was hungry and would need to eat before going to school. So without complaint I followed the Luna like....well like a hungry puppy. 'Damn it! I'm supposed to be a big bad Alpha!' I chide myself, does it work? Of course not.

Werewolf' s Heartsong by Dizzy izzy

Chapter 50

/ Werewolf' s Heartsong by Dizzy izzy
Chapter 50

Damien's POV

I couldn't help it this morning. I had to send her the message. For some stupid fucking reason, my dumbass, was now just as impatient as my wolf. "Fuuuuuuck!" I growl my frustration aloud. Running my hands through my hair. I have exams today, and depending on how fast we can get them done, we might be able to take the fight finals tomorrow.

We only had a few exams, most of us cramming as much as possible in the first three years. That was because that was the average for how long students lasted. The exams were, Pack Council Politics, Shifter Council Politics, Councils of the World Politics, and Pack Defense Strategies and Training. I could take all of these in my sleep.

Her text back had me on cloud nine. She said she was looking forward to my call. That made me all the more impatient for this day to be over, so I could talk to her. I force myself to focus, the faster I get my exams done the faster we can get home. I wanted to be able to smell her, touch her, and hold her. 'Soon' was starting to feel like an eternity away. I was starting to agree with Zane, 'soon' was not 'soon' enough. Taking a deep breath I walk out of my room, I meet up with my Beta in the hallway.

Xander also has a determined look on his face. This novel will be daily updaed at "The faster we get these over with, the faster we can get home." he says. His tone tense with his impatience.

I wasn't any better, and I could give him that assurance, it might make this better on him. "I'm just as impatient, last night, Zane was acting up." I tell him and he looks at me, a question in his eyes. "Zane told me Alora is our mate." I say.

He looks shocked for a moment, then frowns "You know....that actually makes sense to me." He finally says.

Startled by that "What do you mean?" I ask him.

He smirks and raises a brow. "Come on Damien, I'm not just your Beta, I'm your best friend." he says in a wry tone. "I've watched you care for Alora since you brought her back to the Pack House." his tone serious now. "That poor little pup covered in mud, blood and bruises, captured your attention like no other she wolf ever has," he tells me.

Was it really that obvious to everyone except me? "Come on, I want to get these tests over and done with, we need to get home, our mates are calling." I grab him by the shoulders, spin him around, and start pushing him towards the main campus building. He shrugs my hand off.

"I can walk too you know?" he complained

"Not fast enough, now move." I tell him, he growls but starts waking faster. (3)

Alora's POV The twins had joined us for breakfast. They like me were riding speed bikes. They had brought them last night, on a trailer attached to one of their Jeeps. They both had their own Jeeps and bikes, Kian's was blue, his bike black. Galen's was Green, his bike red. Serenity had a bike too, hers was blue. Which I thought funny, because Darien's bike was also blue, like his car, blue being his favorite color. OThis novel will be daily updaed at

We all decided to take our bikes, it was a great day for it. Slightly humid, a moderate overcast, with a cool wind to keep the temperatures in the upper 60's low 70's. The thin leather jacket was only needed for the ride. Serenity was on the back of Darien's bike riding next to me, Kian and Galen flanking us. We made the drive to the school in under thirty minutes. We had definitely been speeding. I had been having fun driving my own bike, and feeling the freedom it gave me, was addicting. 2

When we pull up I see we are some of the first students here. We all park our bikes, two to a space, next to each other. Once again, we are in the first row of the lot, up against the schools front lawn. I pause a moment, yesterdays drama going through my head. Sometimes a photographic memory, that retains everything, could be more of a curse than a gift. Today would be a lot different. I wouldn't allow them to abuse me anymore. 3

Not wanting to wait around for Sarah to show up I say "Lets go, and head on in." I say to them. We were early, by about twenty minutes, more students will start arriving at the school in the next ten minutes. Darien and I are both taking AP English, and AP History, all five of us, however, were taking the Pack Fight Training Exams together. The Alpha and Elite classes taking them together. 5

In the back corner seat next to the window, was Jaxon, already sitting there. He sees us and sits up straight, then he gestures to the seat in front of him. I take it. The Alpha was supposed to have had a meeting with him and the twins this morning at ten, but because of our exams, he had changed his plans. Seeing as the Twins had already been there this morning, he had went ahead and talked to them about being my Enforcers at breakfast. They had both agreed immediately.

I sit on my desk top, my feet in my chair facing him. Serenity is in the desk in front of mine, Darien's was in the seat to her right. Kian was to my right and Galen to Jaxon's. They basically had me surrounded and cut off from any attacks that could come from Sarah, and her friends. Serenity was standing next to her desk. Darien and Kian were sitting on their desk tops with their feet in their seats, like me. Galen, like Serenity, was standing leaning against his. We were all facing Jaxon. 0

He looks at us before saying. "So I have a meeting with the Alpha, would any of you know what it's about?" he asks us.

We all look at each other, each having a an expressions of amusement. We all new why he was going to talk to him. "We do." I say. ?

He looks at us, his eyes wide with curiosity and slight panic "Can you tell me," he asks. Smiling I look at him, he starts looking worried the longer I stay silent.

Finally I let him off the hook a little. "The Alpha, like me, wants to know if you'll accept the position of my Bata." I tell him, my tone an amused drawl.

He jumps up out of his seat, his hands on the desk, This novel will be daily updaed at ,his face astonished and excited at the same time. "I would be honored to be your Beta, if you will have me." He rushes out his tone excited.

I laugh, so do the others. I smile brightly "Then all you have to tell the Alpha, is that you accept the position. You'll still need to talk to him though." I tell him. "All four of us have duties we'll be caring out immediately." I tell him. "There is also a lot that you need to be filled in about me, as my Beta." I let him know. Then "But I warn you, most of what I have to tell you about me is not for the faint of heart." My tone grim. 5

The others around me tense with their own emotions. "I'll be able to take whatever it is you tell me," he says, then " What duties are we caring out immediately?" he asks me with curiosity.

“The King of all Vampires is coming to visit the Pack this Saturday.” I tell him. He sits back surprised at that. I nod at him. “As of yesterday, I have been registered to the Moon Mountain Pack as Clan Alpha of the Heartsongs, and have been given the Mansion and lands that go with it.” He looks shocked and impressed at the same time. “This means, I now have duties to the Pack, as a Clan Alpha.” I begin my explanation to him. “I’m now required to be there to meet Important Dignitaries.”

Darien chimes in “And I would say the King of all Vampires is an important Dignitary.” in a dry tone.

I continue amidst chuckles of derision. “Me being a Clan Alpha, I have to have a Beta, and two Enforcers ‘minimum’ with me while we greet the King.” I tell him. “The Principal suggested you to the Alpha, who suggested you to me.” He looks surprised, but pleased. This novel will be daily updated at “The Luna suggested Kian and Galen as my Enforcers, the Alpha agreed.” He looks at the Twins and smiles, they smile back at him, welcomingly.

He looks back at me as I continue. “I agreed to all three of you for those positions.” His smile is delighted, happy that I had approved. “This also means all four of us, will be training together with Master Brock, starting the day after tomorrow.” I tell them. “Then, the Luna will be helping us learn the etiquette, of acting in our new positions.” I say, my tone wry. O

All three looked at me in shock. Jaxon, Galen and Kian didn’t know, I have been training with Master Brock, for the last four years. Jaxon had only gotten a taste of training with the Master Trainer, the Twins never had. They did however know of him, and his Family’s generations of Master Trainers. “Huh?...who knew Brock would have fans?” I thought derisively.