

Harvey York's Rise to Power Chapter 3211

Chapter 3211 Xynthia Zimmer felt miserable after seeing her own mother desperately trying to frame Harvey York.

She knew full well that Lilian Yates's testimony was the most important out of the three.

Harvey's suspicion could only be cleared if Lilian would retract what she said earlier that morning.

Mandy Zimmer frowned. She also believed that Harvey would not do something like this.

But she also knew how her mother behaved. It would do no good to try and convince her at this moment.

IT

Judging from Lilian's attitude, Harvey would have no chance to clear his name if she were to go all out and become his "corrupt witness".

She would carry the memory of Harvey stabbing her in the stomach back in Hong Kong for the rest of her life...

Her desire to become the mother-in-law of a top-rated family also pushed her to do this.

Right as Mandy was trying to figure out a way to convince her mother, a few Rolls Royce Phantom's suddenly appeared before parking in front of the police station.

A handsome man in a white suit walked out.

A woman in golden-framed glasses and a beautiful gown was holding an umbrella for him as they walked toward the police station.

The man was no other than Joseph Bauer himself.

The woman, on the other hand, was Ruby Murray.

"Mandy! Are you alright?!"

"I got word that you just got out of jail after being falsely accused!

"It's all my fault. I wasn't able to treat you well because of my family matters. "I'm sorry for making you and your mother suffer for this!

"Don't you worry. I'll make sure to give you a fair statement.

"Someone will definitely take responsibility for this! Your mental anguish fees will also be paid for!"

Joseph walked over with a faint smile before showing an upset look, as if he was resentful for not being able to attend to Lilian and Mandy.

Lilian, who was boiling with anger, showed a warm smile after seeing Joseph's face before walking toward him.

"Oh! Young Master! What brings you here?"

"I understand that you've been busy!

"It's not a big deal! I'm sure you've been doing so much for us for the past few days!

"We didn't suffer too much because of you anyway!

"We'll certainly remember this!

"Some outsider thinks he can bail people out just because he's a little powerful!

"What a damn joke!"

Joseph froze. He did not expect that Lilian would even state something like that.

"You're such a broad-minded person, Auntie! I'm glad you understand," said Joseph while forcing out a smile.

He then shifted his gaze toward Xynthia.

"I also know what happened to you. Don't worry. I'll teach all those ignorant people a lesson !

"From now on, nobody will come for you when you go to Film City!"

Joseph then squinted while walking toward Mandy before letting out a sigh. "On top of that, I heard about your ex-husband. I know the whole story now..."

"This is all my fault!

"Jordan Bowie's one of my subordinates, but he still came after you... "And to make it up for you, Harvey made such a huge mistake... Sigh..."

Chapter 3212 "What are you saying, Young Master?!"

"That's none of your business."

Lilian Yates immediately interrupted Mandy Zimmer from talking.

"That b*stard, Harvey York, is just born violent! Only he can do something heinous like this!

"He totally deserves it!

"He's the one who killed all those people!

"He's the one who has to pay!"

"Enough, Mother! Shut up already!"

Mandy could not help but scold her mother before she raised her head to look at Joseph Bauer.

"This has nothing to do with you, Young Master.

"I also don't want to argue about who's in the wrong.

"Just please stop getting yourself involved!"

Joseph pulled out a long, thin cigar and held it in his mouth with a faint smile.

"What are you saying, Mandy? "Jordan Bowie's my subordinate no matter what! I should be taking some responsibility if something like this were to happen.

"I've been pondering the situation when I was coming here. I wanted to make due.

"The Bowie family's history now!

"But, the living ones need to continue with our lives!

"I know you have feelings for your ex-husband and feel guilty about this whole situation. You don't want him to be locked behind bars for the rest of his life!

"That's why. When I was coming here, I had already dealt with every single one of the witnesses.

"The inspectors included!

"Nobody will try to keep Harvey locked up anymore!

"That footage will also disappear without a trace!"

"As for the Bowie family, they were the ones who provoked the gangsters from outside the borders and got killed for it. I'll issue a search warrant for those gangsters soon enough.

"All that's left is for Auntie Lilian to give her testimony.

"If she says that she's just spouting nonsense out of a fit and that she was indeed chatting with Harvey, everything will be solved!

"That way, Harvey will have a concrete alibi to prove his innocence!

"Harvey won't have to stay behind bars anymore!

"Even if the people will hate him, the law won't be able to do anything to him!

Then, Joseph showed a tender expression the moment he looked at Mandy.

"You can give him a fair statement this way!

"You can part ways with him without any attachments ! You can even start over!"

"What?!"

Lilian and Xynthia were shocked after hearing Joseph's calm words. They could not believe what he had just said.

Lilian knew Joseph had been trying to get together with Mandy, but he decided to let his rival out of jail for her! Xynthia did not expect that Joseph would say something like this. After all, Harvey had constantly been disrespecting him.

Was he rendering good for evil?!

The thirteenth young master would never do something like this!

In Xynthia's eyes, either Joseph would use the opportunity to crush Harvey, or he would just sit on the sidelines while watching the show.

Who would think that a man like that would do everything to help his rival?

Were there other ulterior motives?

Or was he just repaying injustice with kindness?

Lilian stood frozen before she looked at Joseph.

"You are such an open-minded person, Young Master! What an exceptional man!"

Chapter 3213 "No wonder you're one of Flutwell's most influential men at such a young age!

"I'll be relieved if Mandy Zimmer gets to be with you!"

Lilian Yates did not fancy Joseph Bauer's fake attitude, but she was still filled with joy.

If Joseph were a man who liked guises, Lilian would be able to live her life full of luxuries if Mandy were to marry him!

Lilian looked at Mandy with a bitter look on her face without a second thought.

"Oh, Mandy!

"You need to cherish the man in front of you!

"You won't get another chance if you don't!"

Mandy frowned. She could not understand what Joseph was trying to do.

Joseph's words made no sense at all. It was as if she was just dreaming

Joseph showed a faint smile after hearing Lilian's compliment.

"You're too kind, Auntie Lilian!

"This is no trouble at all.

"As long as Mandy can be happy and leave her past behind, this will all be worth it for me..."

Afterward, Joseph stared at Mandy with longing eyes.

"If you say the word, your ex-husband will be released effective immediately!

"I'm willing to do this just for you!"

Xynthia Zimmer showed a confused look on her face.

Rachel Hardy was on high alert. "Just say yes, Mandy!" exclaimed Rachel with a bitter look.

"Harvey will die if you don't!"

"You need to break off with that man once he gets out!"

"Don't you let the thirteenth young master down!"

"If you ask me, a murderer like Harvey should just die already!"

"But since the thirteenth young master said so, for his sake, I won't stop you from saving that b*stard! "I'm willing to testify that Harvey did have a chat with me!"

"That b*stard sure is lucky!"

Lilian let out a sigh. She wanted to end Harvey's life so badly.

But Joseph's way of burying the hatchet once and for all was also quite the move.

If Mandy were to accept his help, there would be no way for her to decline his feelings after this.

Lilian could even see herself in a top-rated family at this very moment. Mandy pondered over the situation before she shook her head decisively.

"No need!"

"You should just speak the truth, Mother!"

"And Young Master, I don't need you to do anything for me!,

"I believe that Harvey's innocent! The law will bring him justice! I'm sure of it!"

"Thank you for your kindness!"

"But, I'll save my husband myself!"

Lilian froze after hearing Mandy's words. She could not understand why Mandy would trust Harvey this much.

Xynthia

and Rachel looked at each other. They did not know what was going through Joseph's mind, but for some reason, they felt relieved.

Joseph, who was showing a warm smile before, instantly stood frozen. A cold gaze flashed in his eyes as his expression turned stiff.

Ruby Murray, who was standing not too far away, was also showing a distant look on her face.

Chapter 3214 While it was utter chaos on the outside, Harvey York was taking a nap inside the interrogation room.

Nobody asked him a single word ever since he was brought inside. Flutwell Police Station seemed to be focused on crime scene evidence and witnesses after being guided by some experts. Because of this, Harvey was completely ignored by them.

It was unknown whether this was a psychological tactic or they were just trying to gather more evidence so that Harvey would have no chance to refute his crimes.

In any case, Harvey had been left alone for quite a while already.

Harvey could not be bothered anyway. He had been taking a nap before he started deducing the incident.

Clearly, someone was behind Ezra Bauer, Dylan Bowie, and Jordan Bowie's deaths.

The people who could control such events in Flutwell were relatively rare.

The only confusing thing was that it would be hard to use the opportunity to end Harvey's life even though he was the biggest suspect in the incident.

Judging from the law, Harvey would probably be released after forty-eight hours if there were no other leads of him being guilty of the crime. Undoubtedly, the enemy would have other plans for him after that.

"Joseph's probably buying off the entire police station just to plead me off right now... "Not only is he trying to offer Mandy a favor, but he's also trying to tarnish my reputation entirely... "He wants me to escape the law and be forced out of my position as the head of Law Enforcement... "What a delicate plan!"

After analyzing the situation, Harvey became much more interested in Joseph, who would most likely be doing such a thing

People in Flutwell usually use their fists to do business and speak reason...

But Joseph's schemes were unusual!

"Spit it out already!

"Tell us everything, Mr. York! "We have all the evidence we need! It's useless trying to deny it!"

The interrogation room door was pushed open before a male and a female inspector walked in before they sat in front of Harvey.

"You murdered an entire family at such a young age!

"You really are a lot more terrifying than the gangsters from abroad!

"Do you even have a guilty conscience?! What would your family think about you?!"

Before the questioning even started, the female inspector was already insulting Harvey with a bossy tone.

"Let me tell you something! I was Mandy's university mate, Vivian Hall! We were best friends too!"

"Also, I'm in charge of your case here!

"Mandy didn't even contact me after being framed herself!

"But she gave me a call today, telling me to take care of you and prevent anyone from hurting you!

"She actually believes that you're innocent!

"Look at you! She's the unluckiest woman in the world, marrying a scumbag live-in son-in-law like you!

"All you can do is cause trouble for everyone associated with you!

"Mandy's one of the most beautiful women there is, but she has to suffer this much because of you!

"Not only did you not give her happiness when the two of you were married. You're still clinging to her after your divorce?!

"Why do people like you even exist?!

"You better know what's best for you and fess up!"

Chapter 3215

Vivian Hall showed a righteous look when she fiercely exclaimed, "Tell us everything!

"Why did you kill them?!

"How did you kill them?!

"What sort of people did you kill?!

"Speak! I want all the details!

"The law will bring you justice!"

Harvey York curiously glanced at Vivian.

"You have no proof of me killing anyone now, do you?"

"Would you believe me if I said that I didn't kill anyone?"

The male inspector froze before he coldly chuckled.

"The footage clearly showed you at the crime scene! You also have a motive to do such a thing!"

"What's the point of denying it now?!"

Harvey shrugged.

"These are just preconceived notions.

"Let's not say that the person in the footage wasn't me.

"Even if it was, me being there doesn't prove anything.

"Perhaps I was just taking a stroll and enjoying the scenery.

"Besides, Jordan Bowie went against so many people in Flutwell. It's only normal for people to want him dead in the first place."

"Enough!"

"Stop trying to deny it!"

The male inspector slammed the table so hard that the ashtray bounced off from it.

"We know everything ! You were the one who killed all those people!"

"We're only asking questions because it's the procedure!"

"You did this!"

"I don't care if you believe me or not."

Harvey showed a calm demeanor.

"I didn't do it. I have nothing to be ashamed of."

"Heh heh! How dare you even say something like that?!"

"Many people saw you threaten Jordan right in front of the police station yesterday!"

"What's the point of denying everything now?! Vivian showed a cold gaze.

"You committed a heinous crime, Harvey! This also has an adverse effect on the city!"

"I'm really trying to help here, but you won't even tell me anything! Don't f*cking regret it!"
Naturally, Vivian would occasionally get in touch with Mandy Zimmer.

That was why she knew just how useless the live-in son-in-law was!

She believed that Harvey would actually kill people for the sake of proving himself.

'He said that someone's trying to frame him?

'He thinks Jordan's insane or something? 'He sacrificed his entire family just to carry out something like this?' Harvey could not be bothered to speak with Vivian any longer. "As a citizen of Country H, I at least have the right to call someone, right?" "Shut up! We're taking notes here! Enough with the civil rights bullsh*t! Vivian's face instantly darkened. "You think you can do whatever you want because I'm treating you a little too nicely?!"

"All I need to do is to say the truth. Your job is to verify it. Am I wrong?"

"I need to call someone right now.

"Before pleading me guilty, you have no right to take that away from me.

"You can listen in as well.

"I don't mind

"Of course, you can deny my right too! "I'll file a complaint if that were the case!"

"Really now?!"

Vivian let out a cold chuckle.

"I guess you do read the law!

"You should know that deliberately breaking the law will get you charged then!

"Let me tell you something! It doesn't matter who you call!

"I will never be your safety blanket!"

Chapter 3216 Harvey York calmly glanced at Vivian Hall.

"You have no right to be my security blanket.

"You don't have the power, nor do you have the status for it."

"Heh heh heh... Am I not good enough to be your security blanket?

"You talk like you outsiders are actually powerful in Flutwell!"

Vivian was chuckling out of rage before she gritted her teeth.

"Make the call then! I do want to see what kind of security you have!

A goddamn live-in son-in-law trying to show off in front of me like some hotshot! What a joke!

Harvey merely smiled and thought of someone before he dialed a number.

Beep beep beep...

The call got through, but no sound came from the other side. Harvey was not bothered at all. He lightly tapped the screen thrice and patiently waited.

An exhilarated yet nervous tone could be heard from the other side.

"CEO York, is that you?"

"It's been a while. I can't believe you still remember my signal even now, Ansel Torres."

"You're joking, CEO York!" exclaimed the person on the other side, respectfully. "I wouldn't forget it even if I forgot my own name!"

Vivian was showing an annoyed look on her face at that moment. "Cut the sh*t already!

"Do you think you're in a cafe or something?! This isn't the place or time for you to catch up! I'm giving you one more minute! You'll answer my questions after one minute!"

The man on the other side of the phone squinted.

"By any chance, are you here in Flutwell, CEO York?"

"Yes, I'm at the Flutwell Police Station. I need your help. I'm sort of in a bind right now," replied Harvey truthfully.

"The Flutwell Police Station?"

The man seemed a little enraged. "What happened?"

"They're claiming that I murdered the entire Bowie family," replied Harvey promptly. "I head over there right now! Please wait for me!"

After hanging up the phone, Vivian took her phone back and glanced at the phone number with a derisive look.

"Ansel? Who's that?"

"I'm sure he's a big deal!"

"You're asking for his help? And he's coming right now?"

"What's the point in all that?"

"You think you can scare me with that phone call?"

"What a joke! "If this isn't a call to one of your useless friends, I'll swallow the entire phone w hole!" The male inspector was showing a playful look on his face.

A man who isn't even acknowledged by his own mother in-law surely doesn't know anyone that impressive anyway!' Harvey calmly smiled.

"All of you should know about the Torres family, right?"

"His name is Ansel Torres.

"If I remember correctly, he's your superior, right?"

"Ansel Torres? Director Torres?"

Vivian froze before she coldly chuckled. "At least put some effort into pretending! "You think we don't know his phone number?"

"You think you can just call a random number and claim that it's him? We're not stupid!"

"What's the point of pretending at this point?!"

"I still don't understand why Mandy decided to marry you!

"She's even asking me to keep you safe!"

"What's so good about a scumbag show-off like you anyway?!"

"F*ck off already!"

Chapter 3217 "It's important to be truthful, kid," said the male inspector.

"At least do some homework before you try to fool people like us.

"You don't even know Director Torres' number, yet here you are pretending that you called him? "Do you even know who he is?"

"He's a living legend of the country's military force, the Chief Instructor's personal bodyguard while he was still in the Sword Camp!"

"The Chief Instructor himself trained him! 1

"Director Torres killed a God of War from the Island Nations on his own at the Euro-American battlefield!"

"Because of his accomplishments, he became the director of Flutwell Police Station at such a young age!"

"He's a genuine character in Flutwell's upper social circle!"

"Do you think you'd know the phone number of someone like that?! 2

"You think you can just order him around?!"

"Who do you think you are? The Chief Instructor himself?!"

Harvey showed a faint smile after hearing the barrage of insults.

"What if I told you that I am him?"

"Enough! Can you not try to ruin his reputation?!"

Vivian was showing a fierce look on her face.

"The Chief Instructor is the backbone of the country! I can throw you in jail just for you mocking him!"

"I'll say it first! "If you are the Chief Instructor, I'll be your humble servant for the rest of my life and bring you tea daily!"

After hearing those words, Harvey did not feel awkward at all. He only cracked a smile and replied, "You have a pretty bad temper. I don't like servants like this..." "Forget it! You're actually delusional!" Vivian's face immediately darkened.

"Enough of this sh*t!

"If you're not willing to admit to your crimes, I'll have a lot of time to spare with you after this!"

"After forty-eight hours, we'll get another round of interrogation! We'll see if we or if the live-in son-in-law gives up first!"

Vivian then stood up furiously and packed the things from the table before showing a playful look on her face.

"We'll get some food before we come to play with you again!

"Just wait!

"Or you can wait for Director Torres to save you!"

Vivian then signaled the male inspector to turn up the air conditioner and pour Harvey a rancid-smelling cup of coffee before him.

This was their way of dealing with stubborn suspects. Vivian believed that Harvey would spill the beans soon enough.

Harvey calmly smiled without saying a single word before he started taking a nap while leaning against the chair. "Heh! Still trying to pretend at this point?! There's no saving you after all! Do you still think you're some hotshot? You'll give up when there's no hope left for you! I'm sure of it!"

Vivian coldly chuckled, slammed the door shut, and then strutted away with her partner.

Right when they came to the front door, an Audi A6 could be seen parking outside. The license plate was quite exquisite. This was clearly a higher-up of the police station.

Vivian and her partner trembled when they saw the license plate. The person who owned the car was none other than the first-in-command of Flutwell Police Station.

Soon, a handsome man in his twenties walked out of the back seat.

The youngest director in the history of Flutwell Police Station, a man on par with a God of War, Ansel Torres, had just arrived.

Chapter 3218 Ansel Torres's expression worsened when he strutted forward.

Vivian Hall and her partner's hearts skipped a beat before they approached Ansel. "Director Torres!

"What brings you here?"

Vivian felt her heart racing.

"There's no way that this is happening, right?"

"Did you arrest a man named Harvey York?" exclaimed Ansel coldly, without wasting a single second.

"Where is he?"

"I need to see him right now!"

Cold sweats were dripping down Vivian and her partner's heads while their eyes were twitching.

'It's real!

'It's all real!

'Harvey did call Director Torres just now!

'He got all the way here in just ten minutes!.

'But...

"Why didn't you call me the moment you arrived here, CEO York?

"If the brothers from Sword
Camp know that you were locked up here, they'll raze my entire house to the ground."

Ansel showed up in the interrogation room five minutes after reading the case documents.

He respectfully stood beside Harvey while showing a bitter smile. He would not even dare sit down.

=

After taking a sip of Ansel's tea, Harvey smiled.

"I've been retired for three whole years now. There's no need to bring that up.

"I came here because of an accident anyway. That was why I didn't call you earlier.

"Of course, I wouldn't want to disturb your peace if I had no other choice."

"CEO York..." exclaimed Ansel with an exhilarated look.

"If you must, you can just call me by my name."

Harvey interrupted Ansel. He did not want to reveal his true identity at this point.

Ansel hesitated for a moment...

"It's my pleasure for you to be here, Sir York.

"But, the situation is indeed quite troublesome."

Harvey opened his eyes and looked at Ansel.

"Do you also think I was the one who killed the entire Bowie family?"

"Of course not," replied Ansel, shaking his head.

"I don't need any proof to know that people like Jordan Bowie have no right for you to take action.

"He's not worthy after all!

"That said, this case is a bit of a hassle.

"I read the files before I got in here. Everything is pointed toward you at this moment.

"The waters are a little deep right now..."

Harvey chuckled.

"I wouldn't be here if that weren't the case now, would it?

"There was no need to call you then.

"If I guess correctly, Joseph Bauer's probably involved in this matter.

"He must be pleading for me in person at this point, isn't he?"

Ansel stood frozen for a moment before he made a phone call.

"You're right! He showed up and bought off a few inspectors to forge fake evidence for you so that you won't be charged!

"If this goes through, you'll be released without a scratch.

"But, even though the law would deem you innocent, the people here wouldn't say the same! You'll be in big trouble if that happens!

"Flutwell's a lot different compared to other places. The entire place is an underworld on its own.

"There are other ways to deal with people if the law doesn't get the job done."

Chapter 3219 "Right. Even Joseph Bauer convinced your mother-in law to stand up for you," Ansel Torres continued speaking

"But your wife declined the offer." 1

"As expected."

Harvey York smiled and shrugged after hearing those words.

"Looks like the thirteenth young master really wants me dead!

"On one hand, he can make a good impression on Mandy Zimmer, making her think he's a good man.

"And on the other hand, he wants to prevent me from being punished by the law. That way, he'll be able to mobilize the people from the underworld to avenge Jordan Bowie!

"Other than that, even if he doesn't do that, he can use the falsified evidence as a bargaining chip to order me around.

"If I don't listen to his command, he'd expose everything to the public and force me to a corner!

"The Bauer family has control over the media...

"At the same time, they have support from most of Flutwell's underworld!

"Even the Gang of Six has deep connections with them, let alone Longmen and the Golden Palace."

Ansel showed a cold expression.

"If Joseph succeeds, he'll be at an advantage!

"Either he could make you submit, or he could just kill you off once and for all!

"What a scheming b*stard!

"No wonder he's still able to rise within the Bauer family when the eldest young master and the seventh young master are still fighting for the throne! "This guy looks gentle and polite, a top talent of the younger generation..."

"I would never expect he'd do something this heinous behind everyone's backs!"

Ansel took a deep breath. As a man from Flutwell's upper social circle, he had often been in touch with Joseph.

Thinking back, Ansel felt a looming fear inside his heart.

He warned himself to be on high alert the next time he would see Joseph. If not, he would probably play into his hands without knowing about it.

"Right. Joseph's kind gesture would not even help me one bit, but it would also crush me entirely.

Harvey seemed indifferent.

"And if not, he'd be able to use this as leverage against

1. me.

"He's quite the ambitious man..."

Ansel frowned.

"So, you mean..."

Harvey smiled.

"I didn't get you here so you can bail me out.

"I want you to enforce the law impartially! Do not let anyone destroy the evidence! Also, make sure that no testimony is changed!

"Do everything by the books!

"Don't do anything differently because of my identity!

"Everyone is equal in the eyes of the law!

"Don't get the good people into this. Don't let the bad ones off the hook either."

Harvey squinted.

'Mandy's pretty impressive after all.

'Even now, she knows it's better to trust the law.

'I'd be in big trouble if she were to be fooled as well...'

"Don't worry,
Sir York. I'll personally handle the case. No one will get a chance to mess with anything."

Ansel took a deep breath.

"That said, it's a terrible situation for you right now, judging from the evidence at hand.

"It'll be hard for you to escape the situation unscathed!"

Ansel knew that Harvey's identity alone would be able to triumph over everything and even get him out of jail. But, Harvey's name would be forever tarnished if they were to use such forceful tactics.

Chapter 3220

With Ansel Torres's understanding, he knew that Harvey York would not allow something like that to happen.

"It's hard to find evidence that would help me now," said Harvey calmly.

"But we should be able to find a loophole in that footage."

"The footage?"

Ansel squinted.

Harvey nodded.

"There aren't many people who know the Art of Disguise here, right?"

Ansel pondered over the situation...

"The Demon Monks from India!

"Throughout history, Flutwell had been in good relations with India. The Demon Monks would pass down their Dharma to the people of Flutwell many times. "And their Yoga would be able to change one's looks completely! "This is a loophole! I'll handle it!"

Right as Ansel was about to leave the room... :

Bam!

The interrogation room was suddenly kicked open.

About eight people were surrounding a man in a suit. An aura of an upperclassman could be felt exuding from that man.

He was at most in his thirties, but the aura on him felt extremely prominent. Clearly, he was a man with a bright future ahead of him.

Vivian Hall and the others were also standing behind him.

Harvey casually looked over and saw that the man seemed quite similar to Ansel but with a calmer temperament.

The entire room seemed a little colder because of his arrival.

The inspectors behind him were trembling in fear while they sealed their mouths shut.

Ansel froze slightly before he exclaimed, "Poe! Why are you here?!"

Then, he looked back at Harvey and explained the situation.

"This is my brother, Sir York! He's the government of Flutwell's second-in-command, Nelson Torres!"

Harvey squinted as he curiously sized up Nelson.

Nelson completely ignored Harvey when he showed Ansel a cold gaze.

"How can I not come when you're out here abusing your damn power?!"

"You served under the Chief Instructor himself!"

"You're the director of the Flutwell Police Station!"

"There are things that you should and shouldn't do!"

"You, of all people, should understand that!"

"You'll embarrass the entire damn family and me if you keep misbehaving like this!"

"Nelson, Sir York's actually..." replied Ansel instinctively.

"Shut up!

"I don't want to hear it!" yelled Nelson furiously.

He crossed his arms when he walked toward Harvey with an awful look.

"You're Harvey, right?

"I checked your identity before I came here.

"You're the live-in son-in-law of Mordu's Jean family...

"But, you'll have to do everything by the books now that you committed such a heinous crime here!

"I don't care how you met my brother, but you better deal with this mess yourself! "The Torres family will not do anything to corrupt our name!

"Don't try to drag my brother into this!

"You'll only hurt yourself even more!"

A live-in son-in-law was trying to drag Nelson's own brother under the bus in such a heinous crime...

Surely he would not be impressed by such a horrible person.

He would never allow such horrible influences even to graze the family!

That was why he came straight to the police station as soon as he got word.

"Mr. Torres, right?

"You're deeply mistaken."