Chapter 2847

Chapter 2847

Although Josh's assistant was a female, she was related to him. Hence, she was bolder with him and spoke in an abrasive manner. " I'm telling the truth. Even though Chester saved your mom, it's a fact that Chester hurt Eliza and forced himself on her. We can't forget the hurtful things Chester did just because he saved Eliza."

Josh refuted with dissatisfaction, "That's right. Chester forced himself on Eliza, but he lost a leg for her sake."

"But have you heard what Eliza said in the recording? Chester has never talked to her as a human. Eliza truly hates him too. But to men like you, she's someone who has slept with a few men."

His assistant's mouth twitched, and she was a little angry. "Since you're not a woman, you don't understand the feeling of being forced upon and helpless. Chester was in a relationship with Cindy at that time. He could even destroy Eliza at any time for Cindy's sake."

In the face of his cousin's self-righteous manner, Josh instantly became diffident.

His assistant added, "If Eliza weren't powerful and clever enough, Chester might've driven her into a corner."

Josh mumbled in distress, "But if it hadn't been for Chester, she would've been dead."

“So? Should Eliza pretend that the past incidents never took place? Should she throw herself at Chester gratefully and stay by his side forever to form a beautiful relationship with him?”

His assistant asked, “What’s more, what Eliza said is true. She didn’t beg Chester to save her. That’s between the two of them. Why are you meddling in it?”

“Who are you assisting now?” Josh glowered at her with gritted teeth. “You’re pushing your luck.”

“I’m your cousin.” His assistant said, “As your cousin, I advise you not to judge a person until you’ve walked a mile in his boots. Don’t you understand this principle?”

Josh fell quiet.

The next day, when he went for the shoot, he did behave more obediently.

Charity was worried that he would be ill-behaved, so she deliberately came early to hold the fort. However, she did not expect Josh to be quite cooperative.

After that, he looked handsome in all the photos or videos of him skateboarding.

Charity could imagine that once the visuals of that advertisement were released, it would attract many young people to their brand.

“Thank you for your hard work today.”

Charity personally handed the drinks to the employees.

When Josh was offered a drink, he glanced at charity coolly without taking it. “I don’t drink this.”

"This is sugar-free." charity flashed him a friendly smile. "I know your training has high requirements, and you can't take sugary drinks."

Josh was stunned, but he took the drink and turned around to sip on it.

The cool drink was able to quench his thirst.

"Miss Robbins, you really are considerate." Josh's assistant quickly praised charity, "Even I forgot to mention it to you guys."

"Thankyou for the last two days." charity seemed to have forgotten what happened yesterday.

That embarrassed the assistant a little. "President Robbins, Neeson Corporation hasn't been doing well these few years, and the public has lost confidence in the brand. Although you hired Josh as the ambassador, the sales might not improve. As far as I know, several sports brands have intended to acquire Neeson Corporation. Why don't you sell it off? At least you can earn some money."

"Neeson Corporation is a company my best friend used to manage, but she went to jail after being wronged and passed away. I want to do my best to help her with something, so it doesn't matter if the company fails in the future. At least, I have no regrets."

Charity answered her question with a smile.

Josh, who was at the side, could not help but take a glimpse of that woman. She was really beautiful. Although she was not the sort with pronounced features, it was hard for men to forget her face.

It was no wonder she could become an A-list celebrity in the entertainment industry in spite of her young age. 1

Chapter 2848

Josh recalled talking about female celebrities in the entertainment industry when he went overseas for a competition with some athletes.

At that time, most male athletes expressed their liking for Eliza.

Besides the fact that she was naturally beautiful, she exuded an indescribable sense of elegance. Her eyes conveyed maturity, calmness, and confidence as though she was born to be a rich young lady.

Josh's assistant laughed and said, "I never thought people like you still exist, Miss Robbins. You're rare to find in today's society."

Charity smiled and glanced at the time. "It's getting quite late. Would you like to have dinner together? It'll be on me."

Josh's assistant did not answer. All she did was shoot a look at Josh.

She was under the impression that Josh would decline the offer, but surprisingly, he raised his brows. "Sure."

This time, it was Charity's turn to be astonished. She was just being polite and thought Josh would decline, considering he hated her so much.

In the end, charity chose a Japanese cuisine restaurant. Those who went for the dinner included her secretary and the director of the shoot, Director Jackman.

Aside from Josh, who looked cool and quiet, other people were quite chatty and sociable.

When they almost finished eating, Charity glanced at the fish on the table. After some thought, she asked the server to bring a box over.

"I didn't know you'd be so frugal, President Robbins." Josh smiled discreetly while flossing his teeth with a toothpick. "But a word of warning, it's not good to consume overnight food."

"I have a cat at home," charity explained with a smile.

Josh raised his brows, and a hint of thoughtfulness flashed in his eyes.

After the meal, everyone said goodbye to one another.

Josh did not leave with his assistant. Instead, he drove his car and headed to the place where he caught charity feeding the cat yesterday. As with yesterday, he saw charity feeding the cat while holding the box today.

Rumble!

At that moment, thunder lit up the sky. It seemed like it was going to rain heavily.

Charity looked up and said softly to the skinny cat, "oh well, do you want to... come home with me? My house is quite spacious."

The cat meowed before it looked down and ate the fish seriously.

Charity thought the cat agreed, so she stretched out her hand to hug it. However, the wild cat ended up extending its sharp claws and scratching the back of her hand, leaving a scar on her hand.

"Tsk, tsk. Are you having a brain fart moment? This wild cat is highly vigilant. Did you think it was similar to a domestic cat?"

The man's mocking voice sounded above her.

Charity turned her head around, only to see Josh standing behind her in a set of Neeson Corporation's sports attire. With his hands stuck in his pockets, he exuded a youthful aura.

She blinked and was dazed for a moment as she did not expect him to be here.

Her dazed look made Josh's jaw drop.

"What are you looking at? I came to buy a bottle of iced water."

Josh bent over and directly held the cat by its neck.

The cat was so frightened that it widened its eyes and dared not move around.

"Hey. You might hurt it this way." charity had never had a cat, but she could tell that the cat was rather uncomfortable.

"This is how cats should be held." Josh averted his gaze and happened to catch sight of an abandoned paper box beside the store.

He tossed the cat into the box before glancing at the back of Charity's hand. "Let me handle the cat tonight. You should go and get vaccinated. I'll send it over to you tomorrow."

Charity was astonished. "You hate me, don't you? when are you suddenly so kind-hearted?"

"As much as I hate you, I'm not that heartless, seeing how much you love animals." Josh snorted, "Hurry up and get lost."

Charity found it amusing.

He was rather arrogant.

“Fine, I’m leaving now. Remember to hand it to me tomorrow.”
