Chapter 351 Mother and Daughter

Under the Ruins Seeing Nina like this, Melissa felt upset. She knew Nina's mood at this moment but no matter what saving lives was the most important thing now. No matter who was below the ruins, they had to be rescued as soon as possible, Melissa pursed her lips, took a step forward, and patted Nina on the shoulder. "We will definitely find him." There was no time to say extra words. Seeing that the rescue team and the bodyguards began to move the bricks and tiles, Melissa also began to help them making herself dirty. Soon, the obstacles outside were cleared, and the child's furry hair and bunches were exposed. Seeing this, Melissa said with a hint of surprise in her tone, "It's a little girl. Hurry, save her!" Right now, other than finding Tom, she had to do her best to save as many people as possible. There would be a lot of casualties in such a big earthquake, so she would do her best to save people Everyone was in a hurry to rescue the injured, and they dug faster and faster. As more and more obstacles were cleared out the crying of the little girl became clearer and clearer "Mom, Mom..." What came was the helpless cry of the little girl. At this moment. Nina also restrained her sadness and joined the rescue "Mom? This girl's mom is also down there!" Melissa's expression turned serious as she commanded everyone to rescue them in an orderly manner. Ten minutes later, everyone worked together and finally managed to move a big wooden beam Seeing this scene, Melissa was touched. This great mother protected her child with her body "Mom, Mom Wake up. Mom_" When the little girl saw Melissa and the others, she was stunned for a moment and soon cried again. She pressed the woman's arms and pushed her hard. Chapter 351 Mother and Daughter Under the Ruins 1/3 Someone is coming. Mom, wake up." Melissa walked forward and comforted the little girl, "Sweetie don't cry." The rescue team quickly sent people to move the woman. They carefully lifted her from the ruins and placed her on a stretcher Nina frowned and looked at the woman worriedly. The little girl was brought to a relatively safe space by the rescue team. The team carefully applied medicine to her. The little girl's voice was hoarse from crying, but she still kept looking in the direction where the woman was. She knew that Melissa and Nina were here to save them, so she cried and looked at Melissa "Miss, please save ... save my mother..." – Nina had been taking care of the woman. Actually, instead of taking care of her, Nina was trying to awaken her. The woman's face was pale and she was in a coma. No matter how the doctors of the rescue team tried to save her, she didn't move. "I'll go and check on your mother. Don't worry, we will do our best to save her!" Melissa pursed her lips tightly. When they were saving her just now, the woman was obviously protecting her daughter. Melissa could not imagine what it was like when the beams and the stones fell and hit her back when the earthquake occurred. Melissa was afraid that the woman couldn't survive. After trying her best to appease the little girl, Melissa signaled the doctor to take care of her and walked to the other side where the stretcher was. Nina frowned and slowly stood up. Melissa came over and checked the woman's condition again. The blood on her arms and legs had dried up. No one knew how long she had been buried underneath. "How is she? Is her wound bandaged?" Nina sighed softly, turned her head over Melissa and glanced at the little girl not far away. Then she shook her head and said nothing. In the end, the doctor said, "The earthquake affected a large area. She and the little girl have been buried in the ruins for so long. It was already very difficult for them to hold on for so long. She has many wounds on her body. We have tried our best. We only brought limited things this time, and there is no way to undergo surgery. However, it will be too late when she is sent into the city. The doctor did not continue.

Chapter 352 Tom's Whereabouts

The woman's hand slowly slid down the little girl's face. Then she closed her eyes and stopped breathing. Perhaps it was such a big blow for the girl. They had just experienced an earthquake, and her dearest mother died because of protecting her. The little girl did not make a sound. She just stared at the woman on the stretcher. There were tears on her face, but she did not wail as she did just now, not even speaking. Melissa lowered her head, her heart full of mixed feelings. As a daughter, Melissa could understand the girl's feelings. It was goodbye forever. Melissa did not know where the little girl would live in the future. She might live in a welfare home or be adopted by others. But for the little girl, she had spent the most precious time of her life with her mother. Melissa held the girl's hand. "Ruth, can I sing for you?" Ruth finally cried out "I want Mommy! I want her back!" Melissa reached out to hug Ruth tightly. "Be good your mom will always be with you." Someone from the rescue team went to deal with the woman's body. Nina watched as the corpse was placed in a body bag. Then she turned her head to look at the little girl and wiped away her tears. Nina took some bread and a few bottles of water, walked to Ruth, handed her the water and said, "Are you hungry? Have some food." The little girl blinked her eyes and took the bread blankly. She took a bite of bread.

Melissa and Nina comforted the girl for a long time before she gradually recovered. Then she choked out "Thank you." Nina finally let out a sigh of relief. She looked at the little girl lovingly and touched her head. "It's fine. This is what we should do." Then she seemed to have thought of something. Nina took out the photo of Tom from her pocket and showed it to the little girl. "Dear, do you know this man in the photo?" "Yes." The moment Ruth saw the photo her eyes lit up. She nodded affirmatively and said in a tender voice, "He is Mr. Warren, our teacher in school. Mr. Warren is a good person. He taught us and often helped the villagers. He also gave me potato chips. Ruth said innocently, while Nina could no longer control the excitement in her heart. Her eyes instantly turned red, but she held back her emotions and controlled herself from crying out loud. Finally, she knew where Tom was. Melissa also revealed a smile. She said, "The earthquake happened at nine in the morning yesterday. It was class time. Tom should be in school. Let's go quickly!" Her words woke Nina up. She grabbed the little girl's arm and said excitedly, "Ruth tell me, where is the school in the village?" Ruth turned around and pointed in a direction to the west of the village. Nina and Melissa looked at each other and quickly called a few bodyguards to come to the school with them. The school was outside the village. The road was rugged and narrow. They could only line up and walk forward. Melissa was still holding Ruth, so they walked more carefully. After almost an hour, they finally arrived at the school gate. "We're here!" Nina's voice was trembling. Her eyes were flashing with anticipation and excitement. She wished Tom could hold on. The situation in the village was hard to say, and the school situation was worrying. After Melissa and the others entered the school, they saw many collapsed classrooms. The rescue team even went all the way to rescue people. Fortunately, the teachers protected the students and evacuated them in time so most of the people rescued were slightly injured. The number of deaths was much less than in the village. "Here, bread and water. Everyone, have some food. Don't rush...." Melissa did not expect the earthquake to be so violent. They came with a truck full of food. The rescue team also brought a lot of medical equipment and medicine. However, in just a few hours, half of the food reserves were gone. "Melissa, take care of them. I'll go to the front and see if any people have not been rescued. Maybe I can have some news about Tom." Another two students were found and sent out by the rescue team. Melissa and some of the doctors stayed to take care of the students and teachers who had been rescued. Nina followed the bodyguards to search around. She sent the two children to Melissa, said a few words in a hurry, and then ran forward. As more and more people were rescued, their current location was likely to be hit by aftershocks. Melissa had been nervous all the time. Gradually, she felt that her strength was running out. However, at this moment she had no time to rest. Melissa quickly organized the students rescued to support each other as they walked towards the playground. As for the severely injured students, they were carried over by the bodyguards and rescue team to be treated by the medical staff. After the evacuation was completed, Melissa let out a sigh of relief.

Chapter 352 Tom's Whereabouts 2/3

After the evacuation was completed, Melissa let out a sigh of relief. Then, she felt a sense of fatigue all over her body. Ever since she entered the village, Melissa had never stopped. She had just asked a rescued teacher and contacted the nearby rescue team, who were rushing over. Half an hour later, the rescue team from the mountainous area finally arrived at the school. The leader came over to exchange information with Melissa. A lot of reporters from other places also rushed over to get first-hand information. Melissa said to the leader. "Hello, these are the students and teachers we have rescued so far. There are still many people in the village, but I don't know when the aftershocks of the earthquake will come. Please take them out first and send them to a safe place." The captain of the rescue team nodded and looked at Melissa with admiration. "Of course. I have to thank you for coming here to help us rescue the victims. Leave the rest to us. Melissa nodded. The rescue team took away rescued students and went to a safe place. Ruth would also leave with them.

“Girl, can you go to a safer place with me?” The rescue team leader lowered his head and stroked Ruth’s head with pity in his eyes.

Ruth had been following Melissa ever since she was rescued. In Ruth’s eyes, Melissa was now like an angel that Ruth’s mother had told Ruth about. Not only had Melissa saved Ruth’s life but Melissa had also saved the people in the village and so many students in the school. This beautiful girl, Melissa was the best in the world. Therefore, when she heard the rescue team captain’s words, Ruth did not say anything. Ruth raised her head and looked at Melissa pitifully. Like a homeless little pet. Ruth was clutching the corner of Melissa’s clothes. Ruth was reluctant to part with this pretty girl. Ruth did not want to go to any “safer place”. She only wanted to be with this Melissa. Melissa smiled at the sight of Ruth’s pitiful look which told that Ruth was reluctant to part with her. Melissa also felt that Ruth was very cute, not to mention that Ruth had just lost her mother. It was normal for Ruth to be dependent on others after going through such a painful thing. Melissa slowly squatted down and reached out to touch the back of Ruth’s head. Melissa coaxed Ruth with a gentle look in her eyes, Ruth, be good. This man is not a bad person. He is here to save you. “Listen to me. This place is very dangerous now. There might be aftershocks at any time. You follow him to a safer place, okay? Take good care of yourself. Once I’m available. I’ll go to look for you.” “Will you come to me for real?” The little girl lowered her head and thought for a long time before asking timidly.

Melissa nodded heavily and answered sincerely. “Yes, I will! Melissa extended her pinky and smiled at Ruth “If you don’t believe me let’s pinky swear, okay? Ruth revealed a smile and stretched out her hand. Two fingers were hooked together. Melissa said in a very serious tone. “I promise I will go to visit you! Alright! You should leave with him now. It’s not safe here.” Melissa was only focused on comforting Ruth, so she didn’t notice a few reporters nearby were recording the two of them making a pinky promise. “Alright. I’ll take Ruth away to a safe hospital in town first,” the rescue captain said in a deep voice. Melissa stood up. Then I’ll have to trouble you guys. The person we’re looking for hasn’t been found yet, so we’ll take a look around to see if there’s anyone else.” At the same time, Nina was anxiously looking for Tom. “Tom! Tom! Where are you?” Nina looked around and shouted, but there was no response. Nina had helped the rescue team save six people, but she had not found the person she had been looking for. As it was getting dark, Nina was anxious. Chapter 353 He is in the Teaching Building 1/3 It would be more difficult to search for them at night. As time passed by the danger that Tom was in increased. Being a girl, Nina was exhausted after such a long time of searching. She held her knees and breathed heavily “Nina!” After sending Ruth away, Melissa saw Nina far away, so she quickly ran forward to hold Nina’s arm and asked worriedly. “Is Tom still missing? Nina shook her head while gasping for air. She said intermittently, “No... no. I have already searched for him in a large area. Tom was not among those who were rescued. Melissa, what should I do? I am worried about him now.” Nina’s voice sounded like she was about to cry, filled with concern. At the same time, the captain of the rescue team happened to bring over the teacher and students who had just been rescued. When he saw Melissa, he walked over and greeted her, “I will send them to the safe zone in town first. I also left some members to continue the rescue. It will be hard on you here.” Nina was on the verge of collapse, and every second seemed exceptionally long for her. Nina braced herself and heard the conversation between the rescue captain and Melissa. Nina suddenly rushed over and grabbed the sleeve of the captain. She cried hysterically and asked, “Have you seen Tom? Have you seen him? He is tall, thin with small eyes and black hair! Is he injured? The captain didn’t answer her, and then Nina rushed to those students, asking them one by one like crazy “Nina!” Melissa grabbed Nina’s shoulders with both hands and forcefully pulled her away. “Don’t be like this.” Looking at Nina acting like this, Melissa felt heartbroken. However, Tom was still nowhere to be found. Words couldn’t comfort Nina now. Nina grabbed Melissa’s arm in tears. “Melissa, where do you think Tom is? Is he in danger.” Melissa bit her lip. “Nina, calm down! Tom will be fine. Don’t worry. We will find him. Can you calm down first?”

Melissa quickly and clearly said to the team captain, “Please go to the teaching building to save people before it’s too late!” “Alright! The captain sent some people cover with rescue equipment It was not far from here, and the teaching building collapsed, leaving only avail Nina ran to the pile of ruins regardless of the dirt and pain, removing the stones with bare hands. In a few seconds, her hands were covered with blood. Melissa went over and pulled Nina up. You are getting in the way of the rescue team. Tam needs professional help from the rescue team.” “Tom — you must hang in there!” Nina put her hands together in front of her chest and kept praying. “Excuse me!” The rescuers rushed over with professional tools and equipment. Melissa hurriedly pulled Nina to the side, while those strong bodyguard were assisting the rescue “Hurry up. Please save him!” Nina’s heart tightened It was almost dark, and Tom was still not found. Nina did not dare to think further “Nina, we’ll do our best to find your boyfriend as soon as possible, Harley said, who had been silently following behind Nina With the shovels and equipment, the ruins were deaned up bit by bit. A bit of black hair was revealed under the ruins, very short. It was a man! “Tom That must be Tom!” Nina had been staring at the rescuers cleaning up the ruins andiously When she saw the short hair that belonged to a man, her emotions were close to collapsing and she screamed excitedly “saw him Continue!” As soon as the voice of the rescuer fell, the ground suddenly shook violently. It was an aftershock

Melissa held onto Nina tightly as the world was spinning to keep their balance. The aftershock was too violent and sudden. A few rescuers lost their balance and fell to the ground. The shovels in their hands were also thrown to the side. Then there came a violent collapsing sound. The only remaining half of the wall of the teaching building collapsed and buried those. The aftershock lasted for around two minutes before it stopped. However, the teaching building had completely collapsed. The newly collapsed half of the wall and tiles solidly piled up on top “Tom” Nina really broke down this time, and her tears rolled down her face as if she was crazy and wanted to rush toward Tom. It was not easy for her to find Tom, but he was buried in ruins again because of this aftershock. Nina thought, if Tom dies, what should I do? “Speed up. After the rescue team leader said this, a few men began to work again. At the sight of Nina, who was at a loss, Melissa quickly hugged Nina’s shoulder to comfort her in a soft voice. “Don’t be afraid. Tom will be fine..” “Lifting jack! Quick!” the captain shouted. Everyone worked together to prop up the stone wall. Several people squatted down and climbed in to save people. Melissa covered Nina’s eyes with both hands until the rescue team captain’s happy voice sounded, “He is still alive! Ambulances! Stretchers! Quick! A few men quickly carried out the man who had been buried under the ruins for a long time. Nina couldn’t care about anything else. She pushed Melissa away and looked down. Nina’s eyes fell on the man being carried out, and her body swayed. It was Tom! It was really Tom! However, the clothes on Tom were shattered. His face and arms were also covered with dust. His face was pale, and his lips were cracked. In particular, the skin on his right leg was glued to his jeans because of the blood as his skin was broken, which was shocking to watch. Tom’s eyes were tightly closed. He had entered a state of deep unconsciousness,

Do you have any medical tools? Melissa walked over to the doctor, fixing her eyes on the medicine box. Yes, Ms. Eugen’ the doctor was a little confused. However, the doctor still took out some medical tools from the medicine box and handed them to Melissa. Melissa carefully sterilized the tools and then walked to Nina, whispering, Tom is in a critical condition, but he can be treated. We can ask Dr. Hanson to treat Tom and Tom’s legs will be cured. But now, let me dress Tom’s wounds first. After hearing Melissa’s words, Nina widened her eyes in surprise. Nina thought I was too audacious to think of Dr. Hanson. Murray fell off the cliff to save Melissa and severely injured his legs before. But

Dr. Hanson cured Murray in the end At the same time Nina excitedly grabbed Melissa's arts and begged, "Melissa, please help cure Tom "Don't worry, I'll try my best Melissa nodded Nina withdrew her hands and stepped back. Meanwhile, Melissa walked to the stretcher and bent over The wounds on Tom's legs had already been bandaged, and the scratches and bruises had also been dressed. However, the intact skin around the calf has turned blue and purple, which looked shocking After a moment of pause, Melissa began to recall how Luca had taught her special treatment. And then, Melissa picked up one medical tool and skillfully dressed the wounds on Tom's legs. Nina was standing next to Melissa worriedly clenching her hands. As a result, Nina's thumb became reddish because of pressure Nina started to pray in her mind, thinking. Tom, you will get better! As the tool stimulated the circulation of blood, Tom unconsciously frowned out of pain. In the meantime, Tom murmured, Oh..." Tarn Nina noticed Tom's subtle movement. She became extremely excited and held Tom's hand tightly with a smile "Are you awake. Tom?

However, Tom was still in a coma Tom won't wake up in a short time, Nina Melissa frowned At the same time, Melissa was checking Tom's right leg with unremitting attention. After Melissa's treatment, Tom's black and blue right leg started to swell Nina became disappointed after hearing Melissa's words. Looking at Tom, who was on the verge of death, Nina wished that she could be Tom's substitute to suffer the pain "Ning, don't worry. You can believe in Meli's medical skills. And Tom will be OK" Harley walked to Nina and comforted her Chapter 355 Wont Go to Los Angeles Realizing that Nina was worried about Tom Harley fell jealous of Tom somehow How I wish Nina could care about me like that! Harley thought Twenty minutes later, Tom's night leg didn't look black and blue but became swollen Thus, the doctor and the nurses in the ambulance became started on the contrary, Melissa felt relieved "Tom is OK right now Melissa gave those medical tools back to the doctor with a faint smile "Let's take Tom to the hospital as soon as possible Nina came out of her trance and asked the driver, "How long will we get to the hospital?" "Around fifteen minutes the driver answered The mountain road to the hospital was rugged. In addition, the road was covered with broken stones and branches. Therefore, the driver was carefully and slowly driving the car. Finally, the driver arrived at the hospital in the nearby town after a long time The hospital was full of injured people because of the earthquake. And the crying and wailing from the injured filled the air Melissa felt a little grave, The doctor arranged a quiet ward for Tom and examined Tom carefully Nina was sitting on a bench, anxiously covering her forehead with her palms. After checking Tom's wound, the doctor said in a serious tone, Tom has been buried under the ruins for too long and luckily, he has survived. However, as Tom was pinned under the heavy objects, his muscle nerves were damaged to varying degrees. "For now. Tom will have to spend the rest of his life in a wheelchair. And our hospital is not that advanced So I may not cure him..." Melissa interrupted the doctor, "It's not so bad. Treat Tom with the best medicine And I'll deal with the other problems OK, Ms Eugen The doctor nodded After the doctor left, Nina became worried about Tom again, her eyes glistening with tears Harley pursed his lips and tried his best to comfort Nina "Calm down, Nina Tom's right leg is OK now after Meli's emergency treatment Dont you forget the doctors words? Tom will go untreated in the hospital with limited medical technology Dr Harson will come to us soon, and Tom will be Tii call Dr Hanson now' Melissa took out her cell phone from her pocket to phone Luca, "Hello, Dr. Hanson. "Hello, Melissa "Luca was started when he answered the call from Melissa "What's up?" Melissa said, "Dr. Hanson, please do me a favor. Nina's boyfriend is injured, and he's in critical condition. Will you treat him? After hearing Melissa's words, Luca frowned. Luca knew that Nina was Melissa's good friend, and he had Chapter 355! Worth Gamn Lou Angeles seen Nina before. In addition, Luca knew that Nina had spent a lot of effort waving Melissa in White Mountain before. Therefore, Luca nodded, "OK, tell me where you are now?" "Los Angeles" Melissa felt relieved that Luca agreed to help her. However, as soon as Luca heard Melissa's answer, he stopped smiling. At the same time, Luca replied, "Sorry I don't want to go to Los Angeles. And I can't help you." As the loudspeaker of Melissa's cellphone was on, everyone heard Luca's voice. Therefore, what had happened in the past few minutes was such a roller coaster for Nina. And she had been through ups and downs emotionally. One minute ago, Nina had taken a deep breath that Luca would save Tom. Nina wondered why did Luca change his mind when he heard Los Angeles? Moreover, there was some unhappiness in Luca's tone. Noticing Nina was aroused, Melissa instantly added "Can you go to Aldness, Dr. Hanson? And we can take Tom to Aldness right now. After a moment of pondering, Luca answered, "OK, let's meet in Aldness. And I'll get to Aldness as soon as possible. Nina finally felt relieved when she got Luca's answer. However, the next second, Nina was confused. "I'm so happy that Dr. Hanson will treat Tom. And Tom's legs will be OK! But I wonder why Dr. Hanson refused to go to Los Angeles. "I don't know, either." Melissa was also confused. Anyway, the good news is that Dr. Hanson agreed to save Tom. I can't figure out what's on Dr. Hanson's mind. Maybe Dr. Hanson doesn't want to go to Los Angeles for some personal reason. And I shouldn't be nosy about it. Most importantly, we should get Tom's leg cured right now." Tom was out of danger after emergency treatment. Melissa and Nina had been so tired over the past several days. Thus, they two leaned against the bed and fell asleep. The next day, when Melissa woke up and opened her eyes, she heard Harley say excitedly, "Wow, Meli, you're well-known in Los Angeles. "What?' Melissa was in a puzzle.

Harley handed the phone to Melissa and pointed at the news on the phone screen. Melissa looked at it suspiciously, only to see a photo of her and Ruth. "Beautiful and kind-hearted. Working hard to save the children affected by the disaster! It was because Melissa rescued people in the mountains, and also because her pinky promise with Ruth was captured by media reporters... All of a sudden, it was featured in all the big newspapers and online media and was played on loop on Aldness' local TV. Soon, the news and the photos got 10 thousand views on the Internet. The netizens had learned about Melissa's good deeds before through TV and the Internet, and most of the comments were praising her for being beautiful and good-hearted. Without a doubt, Melissa had become a local celebrity. Melissa smiled and said helplessly. "I don't know when the pictures were taken." "Melissa, you are beautiful and kindhearted. You are an angel that comes to save mankind." Harley said exaggeratedly. "Give me a break." Melissa glared at him. Immediately after, Melissa's phone rang. Melissa picked up the phone and looked at it. It was an unknown number. "Hello" Melissa answered the phone. The pleasant voice of a young woman came from the other end of the line. "Hello, is Ms. Eugen speaking?"

"Yes." Melissa nodded, feeling puzzled. This voice sounded very unfamiliar. Who was it? "We are a TV station. Yesterday, an old lady came to us and wanted us to help her get in touch with you. Her family was affected by this earthquake. She wants to meet you to express her gratitude. Do you have time this afternoon? It turned out to be a television station. "Sorry, I don't have time." Melissa refused by instinct. "Rachel, it's me!" Suddenly, an old lady's voice came from the phone. Rachel? Hearing this, Melissa was stunned. The name sounded familiar. Melissa suddenly remembered that when she found Luca on Jade Mountain, the first thing he said when they met was, "Are you Rachel? Who was Rachel?" "Rachel, I saw you on TV. I really want to see you." the old lady said anxiously from the other end of the line. "Where are you? I'll go to you." Melissa thought for a moment and said. Melissa suddenly wanted to know why both Luca and this old lady mistook her for Rachel. The old lady said the address, Melissa said goodbye to Nina and left. An hour later, Melissa arrived at the old lady's door. Melissa reached out to knock on the door. Soon the door was opened and a white-haired old lady appeared in Melissa's sight.

The moment she saw Melissa, she looked excited and also dazed and surprised. "Rachel, is it really you? Melissa smiled. "I'm sorry I don't know the Rachel you are talking about, but do I look like her? Who is she? Hearing Melissa's answer the old lady was stunned for a moment. Then she looked at Melissa carefully and said, "Of course. Rachel can't be as young as you." The old lady sighed and nodded at Melissa, saying "Well, you and Rachel. You look very similar. I can't see well now, so I made a mistake. I'm sorry young girl." Melissa smiled. "It doesn't matter, but... Can you tell me who this Rachel is? I'm curious." Her curiosity was mostly because of Luca. Both Luca and this old lady had mentioned the same name, so did they know each other? Why did she look like Rachel? Could it be that Rachel was her relative? Why had her grandpa never mentioned this Rachel before? "Come in and have a seat!" The old lady led Melissa into the house and poured Melissa a glass of water. Then she couldn't help but say. "What a resemblance!" Melissa was even more confused and asked, "Ma'am, who is Rachel?" The old lady lowered her eyes. After more than ten seconds she slowly spoke. "That was more than twenty years ago. I used to live in the mountains. I was born and raised there. Life was very difficult at that time. My man was a hunter. He went hunting every morning. And I processed the animal skins and sold them in the market. "It sounds incredible, doesn't it? The old lady smiled gently and looked a little dazed. "Life is easier for you young people now... Although life was hard at that time, it was not bad. "But one day, two friends of my man's hurriedly sent him back. There were two small holes in his legs, and blood kept flowing out "They said that my man was bitten by a poisonous snake when hunting and was instantly paralyzed. He couldn't even walk "I was frightened and quickly sent him to the hospital with a few relatives and friends. However, the doctor, told us that we were too late and had missed the best period of treatment. We could only go back and wait for his death." "What happened after that?" Melissa asked with a vague guess. "After that..." A smile appeared on the old lady's face and it was a smile one had after one had survived something, "On our way back, I met Rachel and a young man who was supposed to be her friend. "At that time, I was too sad to care about what they were doing. Rachel came to us to ask for directions. Then she asked me what had happened to us. "I was so upset and depressed at that time, so I thought it was not a bad idea to talk it out with strangers. However, after Rachel knew our thing, she tried to help us. She said that her friend was a doctor who could probably save my man from the snake venom." A doctor? Poison? Could this man be A name emerged in Melissa's mind. The old lady stopped and took another sip of water to moisten her throat. "I didn't trust them in the beginning. After all the hospital doctor had said that my man couldn't be cured by anyone. "But things couldn't be any worse for my man so I figured it wouldn't hurt to try. Just like that they gave us a ride and went to our place with us. And that young man was really something! He took out some thingy from his backpack and put it into my man's leg. Then deep purple blood with venom came out. And just like that, my man was cured! "Well.. My man and I were so happy and we didn't know how to thank them." "Wait," Melissa asked, even though she was certain of the answer. "What's the name of that young man who treated your husband?" "His name? The old lady hesitated and frowned unconsciously. "I don't know. They had stayed in my house for two days and I had only heard Rachel call him Luca."

Luca? Was he also named Luca? Melissa's heart beat faster. The Luca that was with Rachel should be the Luca she knew "Right! I also have a photo of them, the old lady suddenly thought of something and said, "Can I take a look?" Melissa asked immediately. "Of course." The old lady smiled, stood up, searched inside the drawer for a while, and took out an old photo. "Found it." The old lady held the photo in her hand carefully and handed it to Melissa. "This is the photo With a bit of excitement, Melissa took over the photo. In the photo, there were two young adults, a man and a woman. The man was wearing casual clothes, short hair, and a pair of black-rimmed glasses. It was indeed Luca. And the young girl standing next to Luca was in a small floral dress, with a ponytail. She was tall and pretty. This should be Rachel Rachel indeed looked like Melissa No wonder Luca and this old lady would mistake her for Rachel Melissa stared at the photo for a while and was even more confused Who was Rachel? Why did they look so similar?

Melissa had a hunch that Rachel was related to her by blood. Could Rachel be her sister or mother? Judging from this photo and the story that this old lady told Luca and Rachel should have been very close before. Were they lovers? Then why was Luca living alone in such a cold and remote place like White Mountain? Where was Rachel? It seemed that she could only get the answers to these questions after she met Luca Thank you, mnaam 'Melissa returned the photo to the old lady The old lady was very hospitable and insisted that Melissa stayed for dinner When Melissa left it was already dark Chapter 357 Murtays Sudden Anlat Melissa walked in the direction of the hospital and into a small alley It was creepy in the alley. There was not even a street lamp. For some reason, Melissa felt that someone was following her. Melissa turned around. As expected, a black figure was behind her. Melissa snarled, "Who is it? The black figure reached out and pulled her into his embrace. "It's me. His magnetic voice sounded Murray?

Melissa raised her head. Under the moonlight, Melissa could see the man in front of her clearly. He was in a black suit that seemed to blend in with the darkness of the night. He looked at her with his attractive eyes and a faint smile on his gorgeous face. – It was indeed Murray Shouldn't he be in Aldness? Why was he suddenly in Los Angeles? Melissa was stunned. "Why are you here?" "I miss you, so I came." Murray looked down at the woman in his arms, affectionately, Even though they had only been apart for a few days, it felt like a century to Murray. He thought about Melissa all the time. "Gross." Melissa pursed her lips. But she was happy inwardly In fact, she missed Murray, too. But.. Murray bent down slightly and whispered in Melissa's ear. There's something grosser His charming voice seemed to have a kind of magic that could bewitch people in the darkness. Melissa's heart skipped a beat. "What? Melissa looked up and saw Murray's handsome face enlarge in front of her. In the end, he kissed her on the lips

That long-lost feeling suddenly made Melissa's body tense up. She put her arms around Murray's neck Melissa's response made Murray's breath hitch And he deepened the kiss His desire for her was fully expressed in this long hard kiss. He stuck his tongue in, searched for hers, and sucked it domineeringly but gently. Melissa let out a moan and responded Just as the two were passionately kissing, a mother suddenly passed by with her child. "Mom, what are they doing?' The little girl curiously looked at Melissa and Murray and asked in a sweet voice. The girl's mother quickly covered her eyes. "Don't look..." Melissa's face heated up, and she quickly pushed Murray away. Heavens, there were passersby and they were seen! Even by a kid! It was so embarrassing. Melissa quickly grabbed Murray's arm and said, "Let's go!" Seeing her shyness, Murray chuckled, put an arm around Melissa's shoulder and kept up with her. Melissa changed the topic. "By the way you haven't told me why you came to Los Angeles? Aren't you supposed to be watching Ryleigh? Wouldn't Ryleigh find it suspicious that Murray suddenly came to Los Angeles? “Don’t worry. I’m here to help with disaster relief work. Murray glanced sideways at Melissa. She did not want to see him this much?”

Melissa was stunned. “Disaster relief?” “Yeah.” Murray smiled. “How can the Gibson Corporation be absent from the relief work?” “Alright..” Melissa was bemused. Murray was the CEO of the company. Did he have to come personally for this? Murray followed Melissa into the hospital and Melissa told him what had happened in the past few days in general terms. “I’ll go check on Nina and Tom first.” When they arrived at the hospital, Melissa thought of Tom’s condition and her heart felt heavier. “I’ll go with you.” Murray nodded and said in a low voice. The two pushed open the door to the ward and saw Nina sitting by Tom’s bed with a worried expression. Harley, on the other hand, sat beside Nina and tried to cheer her up. When Harley saw Murray, he quickly stood up, pleasantly surprised. “Murray, why are you here?” Murray held Melissa’s hand and said indifferently. “To meet my wife. Melissa rolled her eyes And she said, “I am not your wife!” With that Melissa left Murray’s side and walked to Nina. Melissa asked softly. “How is Tom?” Nina sighed, her eyes full of worry. “He won’t wake up.”

“Let me take a look” Melissa patted Nina’s shoulder and comforted her. “Don’t worry.” Melissa checked on Tom. He was still in serious condition Although Melissa had given Tom treatment to save his leg from being removed back then, they still needed Luca to cure Tom. Melissa didn’t want Nina to worry too much, so she smiled and said, “There is nothing serious. Let’s go back to Aldness tomorrow and wait for Luca there.” “Okay.” Nina nodded. “Melissa, Tom will be fine, right?” “Of course!” Melissa said firmly. Murray took a step forward. “Nina, don’t worry. Dr. Hanson is an excellent doctor. Don’t forget he has cured my leg.” Nina finally let out a sigh of relief and smiled. “Yeah. Tom will definitely be alright.

Chapter 358 The Consequences of Falling the Mission

Aldness, the hospital Ryleigh was lying on the hospital bed in irritation. She had not seen Murray for days Since that day when Adela showed up in the hospital and look Murray away, Murray had not come again. After that, there was news of Adela cutting her wrist for Murray to commit suicide Ryleigh called Murray many times but never got through Ryleigh thought for a while and called Alex Alex was in the middle of a meeting when he got Ryleigh’s call Thinking of Murray’s instructions, Alex picked up the phone. “Ms. Sofia.” Alex, where is Murray? Why can’t reach him? Is he in the company?” Ryleigh asked. “Boss has gone to Los Angeles to help with disaster relief.” Alex replied in a deep voice “What? He’s gone to Los Angeles? Ryleigh cried out. The first thing she thought of was that Melissa was also in Los Angeles. “Yes.” Alex nodded. “Ms.

Sofia there has been a big earthquake in Los Angeles. Our company cares about charity. Mr. Gibson goes there personally to help with the disaster relief in order to better the company's image. "Alright, I understand. Thank you. Alex Ryleigh hung up disappointedly. Ryleigh didn't expect Murray to go to Los Angeles. She felt empty.

What worried her more was she didn't know if Murray went to Los Angeles for disaster relief, or ...for Melissa Thinking of Melissa. Ryleigh couldn't help feeling a rush of jealousy. Just then, Ryleigh received a message Her face turned colder, Ryleigh changed out of her hospital gown, put on her dress picked up her bag, and walked out of the ward. "Ms. Sofia, why are you..." The nurse looked at Ryleigh with surprise. Ryleigh said with a smile. "It bores me out to lie in bed all the time. I'm going out for a walk." "I understand. But Ms. Sofia, you must be careful. Your body is still very weak at the moment. Don't tire yourself," the nurse said with concern. "I won't Ryleigh said curtly. AL—DER TL After she walked out of the hospital, a black car stopped right in front of Ryleigh The door opened and a bodyguard in black said to Ryleigh, "Please get in the car, Ms. Sofia." Ryleigh looked around and saw nothing unusual so she got in the car. The car drove all the way to the suburbs and stopped in front of a villa close to mountains and rivers "Here we are, Ms. Sofia." The driver opened the car door. Thank you!" Ryleigh got out of the car and walked into the villa.

In the living room of the villa, a tall man in an ash gray suit was sitting on the sofa and waiting for Ryleigh with a cold expression It was Sebastian, not surprisingly "Finally." Seeing Ryleigh. Sebastian raised his eyes. "Sebastian," Ryleigh said carefully "Has anyone seen you come here?" Sebastian asked coldly. "No, I was very careful." Ryleigh shook her head. "How much longer do you need to finish the task I gave you?" Sebastian suddenly stood up and looked down at Ryleigh coldly. Ryleigh was intimidated and could not help but tremble. "Sebastian, I will try my best." That's not enough! It must be done successfully!" Sebastian looked very scary at the moment. He picked up a thick rattan and approached Ryleigh step by step. "For so many years, I've spent so much effort to make you become Lily. I ask you to approach Murray, to gain his trust and to make him fall in love with you. But what have you done? It has been so long, but you are still where you were and have made no progress at all!" "No, there is progress! Looking at the rattan in Sebastian's hand, Ryleigh was so scared that her face turned pale. She said in a hurry. "I pretend to have terminal stage stomach cancer and this has softened Murray up. He and Melissa have broken up and the person Murray loves now is me. Sebastian, trust me! Our plan will soon succeed!" "Is that so? Then where is Murray now?" Sebastian mocked.

"He goes to Los Angeles for disaster relief. It has nothing to do with Melissa. Ryleigh retreated step by step. "It'd better be the case!" Sebastian coldly snorted his eyes flashing with a cold glint "Ryleigh, you know the consequences of failing the mission! Ryleigh dropped to her knees and said in a trembling voice. "Sebastian, give me more time. I will complete the task! "Alright, I will give you one last chance! If you disappoint me again, you'll end up like this teacup!" With that Sebastian raised the rattan in his hand and fiercely whipped the teacup on the table. With a bang the teacup fell to the ground, shattering into pieces Ryleigh gasped. This man was worse than a devil from hell! "Go back before they suspect you." Sebastian sat down on the sofa. "Yes, Sebastian. I'll go now." Once out of the gate of the villa, Ryleigh heaved a sigh of relief. The tall figure of Murray appeared in her mind. Ryleigh pursed her lips. She knew that she was only Sebastian's pawn. Her adoptive father adopted her only to turn her into Lily and make her approach Murray to get the Gibson Corporation's secrets. Sebastian was her adopted father's son and her brother in name. But Sebastian treated her badly and hit her whenever he felt like it Why did her life become like this? Why was her life controlled by others? Ryleigh's thoughts drifted away.

She still remembered when she first met Murray It was when she was ten Since Ryleigh could remember, she had lived in slums and poverty. And she was constantly starving Her father was a gambler. After he lost money and got drunk he would vent his anger on her and her mother. He would beat her until her body was covered in bruises. And her mother would be beaten badly for protecting her One day, when she woke up from her sleep. Ryleigh couldn't find her mother. The five-year-old Ryleigh cried, "Mom, I want mom..." It got her another good beating from her dad. "You will never see your mom again! Stop crying! You do nothing but cry! So fucking unlucky! No wonder I lose money every day!" Then Ryleigh got seriously ill. After she recovered, a woman with heavy makeup moved in with them. "This is your new mother. Hurry up and call her mom!" his father pointed at the woman and said "No, you are not my mother!" Ryleigh cried. As a consequence, Ryleigh was beaten up again. From then on, Ryleigh learned to read people's faces and did her best to please that woman When she was ten years old, her father told the family that he had gotten a big deal. Once it was done, he Get Baquis would make a fortune. "Dad, can we really have a big house and delicious food in the future?" Ryleigh was looking forward to it "Of course!" On that day, her stepmother was in a rare good mood and gave Ryleigh a piece of candy Two days later, her father took them to a small wooden house on the mountain, in which there were three fierce men Ryleigh vaguely heard them talking about kidnapping someone.

Do you understand what I mean? I will take them to you You keep an eye on them. Once we succeed, you will be paid! Ryleigh stood behind her father and saw a tall and big man patting her father's shoulder rudely And her father was nodding and bowing, holding a few bills in his hand, all smiles, Her stepmother stood next to him. The wrinkles at the corners of her eyes appeared as she smiled. She was no longer tart and mean “Understood Mark, don’t worry! I will do a good job!” Ryleigh tilted her head, her eyes fixed on her father’s hands. She wondered, can I live a good life if I have money? That night, her stepmother and father looked very happy. Her stepmother even made two more dishes and did not give Ryleigh the face during dinner. The next day at breakfast, her father kept urging them to eat quickly so that they could go out to get the work done. He even put on a new indigo coat. They went to the small wooden house on the mountain. In less than ten minutes, the man called Mark Parker, whom Ryleigh had seen yesterday, pushed the door open and walked in. The difference was that there were two children, including a boy and a girl, next to him. They looked about the same age as Ryleigh. The boy was a little taller than the girl. There was no expression on his face, and his eyes were obviously calmer. However, his and the little girl’s hands were tied with thick hemp ropes. They could not resist.

Ryleigh was attracted the moment she saw him. The little boy had a handsome face. He had fair skin, thick eyebrows and big eyes. The bridge of his nose was tall. His thin lips were tightly pursed, and his eyes were dark and bright as if they were stars. What a pretty boy! she wondered. That was how she felt when she first met Murray. “Here they are. Do not let them go! We brought them up the mountain early in the morning. We’re starving... Hurry up, get us some food!” Mark reached out and pushed forward Murray and the little girl next to him. Ryleigh’s father quickly pulled them over. Ryleigh’s stepmother nodded and turned to the kitchen to cook. Ryleigh’s eyes followed Murray. She had never seen such a good-looking boy. After the meal, Mark and his men did not leave. Instead, they drank and smoked in the spacious room. Murray and the little girl had been locked in a small room by Ryleigh’s father, Chapter 359. The Past Ryleigh’s stepmother nodded and bowed as she walked out of the big room. When she saw Ryleigh standing outside, she reached out and pushed her. “Go away! Play somewhere else! Don’t stand here!” Her stepmother snapped at Ryleigh she walked away and ignored Ryleigh. Ryleigh glanced in the direction where her stepmother had left. Just then voices came from the big room. She walked over and leaned her ears against the door to eavesdrop.

The door was not completely closed. It was ajar and there was a crack. Ryleigh peeked inside the room through the crack. “Mark why did we do this? It’s dangerous. Aren’t you afraid of being caught?” The one who spoke was a yellow-haired young punk beside Mark, and Ryleigh remembered him. Mark sat on the sofa with his back against the sofa. There were a few empty bottles under his feet. He spoke impatiently as if he had been experienced. “Tsk you got so much to learn. Wealth comes from danger, you know? What’s more, I learned that this kid lived downtown. His dad is ... doing business! In short, he is the only son. Heh.” Mark finished picking his teeth, and the toothpick was thrown to the ground. “That guy told me that as long as we kidnap him, we will be rich. Anyway, we are just helping him. Once we send away this kid and get the money, we can go abroad and enjoy our lives. Who can find us?” After saying that, Mark chuckled. Ryleigh frowned. It turned out that they were going to sell that boy for money! Before Ryleigh could react she saw another bald man sitting on the stool. He asked, "Mark you said that boy was the only son in his family. What about that little girl? Did we get tricked?" Mark waved his hand casually "We just caught her by accident. She almost ruined this. When we just brought that boy out of the park she saw us. If we let her go, we may get into trouble. So I brought her back She is beautiful We can sell her to make a fortune. "Alright, let's stop talking. Let's go take a look at them. Make sure that everything is a secret and they are fine. Mark said drunkenly and came down from the sofa. The wine bottle was kicked down and gave Mark said drunkenly and came down from the sofa. The wine bottle was kicked down and gave out noises. Ryleigh reacted quickly and immediately ran to the open space outside, pretending to know nothing After Mark and his men came out they casually glanced in the direction of Ryleigh and then went to the room where the children were locked. Ryleigh saw them away from the corner of her eyes. One of the men was holding a big black wolf-dog on a rope. The dog had a fierce look. Ryleigh did not know what they were going to do with the dog. She was worried about the boy, so she secretly followed them and hid outside the window to peek. In the small black room. The girl sat on the bed and curled up in the corner. Murray sat next to her and looked around with a frowe "Will... will we return home?" the girl took a swallow and asked in a low voice It was natural that a girl in her teens would be afraid when suddenly sent to a strange environment "Don't be afraid. Someone will come and save us!" Murray pursed his lips and said firmy "In your dreams. Do you still think someone will save you? A voice came from the door. It was Mark and his two men Verk looked at Vural with a ferocious facea mocking smile on his lips. They led the dog into the black room.

"Who are you? Let us go!" Although Murray's hand was tied, he had already clenched his fists. He subconsciously stood in front of the girl and looked at Mark fearlessly. However, when he saw the big dog, his eyes narrowed Mark sneered, and the dog opened its mouth. It stared at the two children excitedly, barking "Who am I? Kid, your family has offended someone. You stay here. When your family sends the money over, we will send you off."

"You kidnapped us. It is illegal Let us go Otherwise, my grandfather will bring the police to arrest you all! Murray unconsciously straightened his back and chest. At the same time, he was trying not to look at the dog Unexpectedly, when the men heard this, they laughed even more wildly. In their eyes, Murray was just a kid What he said was a joke for them. "Boy, do you know where you are? You are so young. Are you trying to threaten us? Let me tell you, no one can help you, not to mention your grandfather!

You'd better stay here and behave, The smile on Mark's face suddenly disappeared. He lowered his voice and threatened fiercely. Even the scar on his face was moving as he spoke. The girl hid behind Murray and revealed a small half of her face. Her hands were also tightly clutching Murray's clothes. She looked frightened. The big wolf-dog gasped and suddenly barked fiercely. Woof!" Murray's shoulders trembled unconsciously, but he still stuck up his neck as if he was not afraid. He was bitten by a dog when he was younger and from then on, he was afraid of dogs. The girl paused. She pursed her lips and slowly let go of his clothes. She realized that Murray may be afraid of dogs. Of course, Mark noticed that too. He found Murray's Achilles' heel. Mark deliberately touched the fur of the big wolf dog. This dog loves meat. You'd better behave yourselves. Otherwise, I am not sure if it will get hungry and bite you." The big wolf-dog seemed to have understood Mark's words. It let out extremely fierce barks. Mark revealed a sinister smile as if he was doing it on purpose. His hand slowly loosened the rope tied onto the big wolf dog. Murray closed his eyes nervously. The moment the big wolf dog rushed at them, Murray subconsciously closed his eyes tightly. The next second, he heard the girl's voice. "Don't bite him!" Murray opened his eyes and saw the girl extending her arms in front of him, fearlessly "confronting the big wolf dog. At first, Ryleigh was worried that the big wolf-dog would bite Murray. Seeing that the girl was protecting him, Ryleigh was relieved. "Now that you are afraid, remember my words and behave yourself? Mark snorted and beckoned the big wolf dog over After that they turned around and left. After Mark and the others left Ryleigh observed the small black room again Thank you." Murray breathed a sigh of relief. He looked at the girl gratefully and thanked her softly

"It's okay. You protected me just now. Don't worry, I won't let you be bitten by a dog." The girl looked at him as her tender voice sounded, and she revealed a sweet smile at Murray. Murray looked at her seriously and suddenly made up his mind. He sincerely said to the girl "You are so nice to me. If we can successfully go home. I will definitely marry you after I grow up. Trust me!" After that the two children even pinky swore. When Ryleigh saw this, she secretly clenched her fists and looked at the girl in front of Murray with jealousy. Ryleigh thought, why did he say he would marry her? No way! He will be mine! From then on, Ryleigh would come to the small wooden house almost every day to secretly deliver food to Murray and the girl. But she would stay with her stepmother most of the time. Yet, that woman simply did not care about what Ryleigh did, Ryleigh had been waiting for a chance to let Murray go. As long as she could let him go, he would remember her! Finally, one day, Mark and his men did not come to the small wooden house. After lunch her father was lying on the bed in the main house. He fell asleep after a while, and then her stepmother went somewhere. Ryleigh heard her father snoring. She sneaked into the main room and saw her father lying on the bed. And the key to the small black house was in his pocket. She could see part of the key. Ryleigh carefully approached her father and took out the key from his pocket. Seeing that her father was not awake, she quickly ran to the small black house. She turned the keyhole with the key and opened the door. When Murray heard the noise, he suddenly turned his head and looked at Ryleigh warily. "Who are you?" "I'm here to save you My father is sleeping in the house now. Those men didn't come today. You -. you should leave now!" As Ryleigh spoke, she picked up the empty bottle on the cabinet beside her and slammed it on the ground. The girl was shocked and looked at Ryleigh in confusion. Ryleigh just picked up a glass fragment and tried to cut the hemp rope on Murray's wrist. It took her so long to do it. And just as the hemp rope was finally about to be cut off, Ryleigh's father's furious voice suddenly came from the door. "Brat, what are you doing?" Ryleigh's father had just fallen asleep in the room when he suddenly heard the sound of the broken bottle. He suddenly woke up and subconsciously touched the pocket where he kept the key. It was empty Ryleigh was also started. She turned her head and panicked the moment she saw her father. She stuttered Dad, L. I just." Before she could finish speaking, her father had already angrily walked up to Ryleigh and slapped her.

You betrayer! I raised you! I didn't raise you to mess up with me!" Ryleigh fell to the ground with a red mark on her face and the place where she fell was just close to the broken pieces of the bottle. There was a sharp pain in her wrist and blood slowly oozed out. Ryleigh frowned in pain. She felt extremely sad and could not help but cry. And under her wrist, there was a sharp glass fragment stained with blood. "Go away. Go away! Don't cry here!" Her father, Talon, roared in disgust, completely ignoring the injury in Ryleigh's hand. Ryleigh only remembered that after that day, she was not allowed to meet Murray and the girl again. And her father and stepmother were warier of her. "Help Help! Those two little brats ran away! That night, Pleigh was sleeping soundly when she suddenly heard the exasperated voice of Mark Then there was a burst of noises, and she heard the curses of her father and stepmother "Look for them now! Look for them! Damn! We're missing the opportunity! Ryleigh jogged to the main room and happened to see the angry adults rushing out to find the two children Ryleigh wondered with concern, did he and that girl run away? three.
