Chapter 370 Who Do You Think You Are?

Luca nodded. When he saw Tom's right leg, his expression turned serious. Nina held Tom and looked at Luca nervously. When she saw Melissa's gaze, she slowly helped Tom sit on a chair at the side. Luca removed the old gauze on Tom's leg and saw that Tom's wound had worsened. Luca pursed his lips and carefully examined Tom's wound. Luca then used his finger to touch the skin around Tom's wound, Tom trembled and even broke out in a cold sweat. However, Tom still clenched his teeth and did not say a word. Luca straightened up. Nina's hands were tightly clenched together as she hurriedly asked, "Luca, how is Tom's condition... How bad is it can list: still let? Luca shook his head. His expression was very serious, "His right leg was badly hurt. Moreover, it has been for so long. He didn't properly rest. The wound has now worsened and his tendons have been affected. I'm afraid that no matter how hard you try, his wound won't be able to recover completely. In other words, even if his leg is cured, he'll still probably be physically challenged." Nina was stunned. "What?" Nina thought how could it be? Tom seemed to know this already. He had no obvious mood swings. Instead, he lowered his eyes and did not speak. He just snorted. When Nina heard Luca's words, she immediately burst into tears. She had cried many times in the past few days and such a diagnosis broke her heart. She looked at Tom with tears. Nina thought Tom. He must be very sad. No matter what I won't sit on my hands! Nina made up her mind. She clenched her right fist and looked at Luca sincerely. "Luca, no matter what, please do your best to cure Tom. You can't give up on him... Otherwise, he might be amputated. He will be so upset." As she spoke, her tears fell and she subconsciously looked at Tom. But Tom acted as if he did not hear her. He was motionless. Melissa looked at Nina, and she felt sorry for Nina. Melissa then also looked at Luca. "Luca, help Tom. In Melissa's eyes, with Luca's medical skills, Tom's leg could have been cured. But Tom didn't take himself seriously, and he made it worse. Even with Luca's help. Tom would be physically challenged anyway. I was such a pity Luca thought for a while and finally nodded. "OK. I will try my best to treat his leg for your sake. I'll go and make some preparation first." Unexpectedly, Tom, who kept silent suddenly stood like a madman when Luca stood up. "No need! I don't need you to treat my leg! Doctors? Experts! You're all charlatans! I am nothing but trash! Don't waste your time! Fuck off!" As he spoke, he glared at everyone who wanted to get close to him, especially Nina. Chapter 370 Who Do You Think You Are Gut bonus "Tom, that's enough!" Melissa couldn't stand it anymore. Her heart was filled with anger, and she couldn't help but shout. She quickly stepped forward and directly hit the back of Tom's neck. Tom blacked out. "Tom, what's wrong with you? Tom... Nina was very worried and wanted to go forward to check on Tom. Melissa pulled Nina, pursed her lips, and shook her head to comfort Nina. "He's fine. I hit the back of his neck so that he could be quiet for a while. In such a way. Luca can treat him more easily. Then, Melissa turned her head to look at Luca, who was walking toward them with medical equipment in his hand. Melissa nodded. "Luca, thank you." It was already evening when Tom woke up again. Nina was sitting beside him with a bowl of soup in her hand, Tom lowered his eyes slightly and saw that his right leg had already been bandaged anew. Tom, finally. You're awake. I'm so glad. Luca has already treated you and bandaged your wound again. When Nina saw that Tom was awake, she smiled, and she put a spoonful of soup next to his mouth. "You have already slept for a few hours. Have some soup first. Dr. Hanson said that you can only eat light food now." "Why did you save me?" Tom ignored the bowl of soup and turned his head to the side, not looking at Nina. After a long while, he said dryly. Nina was stunned for a moment, and then she pretended that nothing had happened and said with a smile. "You are my boyfriend.. "I am not your boyfriend!" Tom interrupted her. He quickly turned his head and glared at Nina. Perhaps because he was angry, even his eyes turned red. Tom thought, Nina, why can't you understand? I'm poor, and now I've become a cripple. Being together with me will do you no good. Nina, you silly girl. Why did you come to me? Tom suppressed his heartache and the urge to hug Nina. He gritted his teeth and said to the astonished Nina opposite him, "Didn't I say that we broke up already? Why did you come to me?"

Nina, why didn't realize that you were so stubborn before? "You are a spoiled rich girl and I am just a poor boy. I was only with you for your family's money. Who do you think you are? Do you really think you're the love of my life? You think too highly of yourself." Tom was practically shouting and his eyes were fierce as if he hated Nina to his guts. Nina was stunned. The expression on her face changed from joy, and astonishment to disappointment in the end, she lowered her eyes and placed the bowl in her hand on the bedside table, "Tom, you are upset now... It's OK. I will go now and leave the soup here. Remember to eat it." Nina walked out of the hotel in a daze her eyes were red and she looked up slightly and held back her tears, For the next few days, she went to the hotel room to take care of Tom. However, he always looked cold and indifferent He never said anything good to Nina Chapter 370 Who Do You Think You Are? At the bar Nina sat at the bar counter, ignoring that the waiter was accosting her. She held a glass of light yellow whiskey in her hand, raised her head, and took another big sip. She had had around five drinks in a row. Nina was drunk and her face was flushed. She rested her head on her arm, staring at the glass in front of her while muttering. Tom, Tom..." Harley was also in this bar with a few friends. After he left the booth, he saw Nina at the bar counter He stopped at once and looked at Nina's back. A trace of sorrow flashed through his eyes, "I'll be there." Harley waved his hand in the direction of his friends and then walked in the direction of Nina Harley walked to Nina's side. When he saw the drunk Nina, he subconsciously looked up at the waiter at the bar counter. In the end, Harley only sighed and gently placed his hand on Nina's shoulder "Nina, you are drunk".

Chapter 371 A Mistake Made After Getting Drunk

“What? No! I’m not drunk... Nina vaguely heard a voice and subconsciously turned around. She then saw Harley’s face. “Hey, Harley-Why are you here too? Why don’t you join me for a drink?” Harley smiled and blushed. She reached out to tug at Harley’s sleeve. Nina’s tone was very firm. Harley had no choice but to sit beside her. “Cheers!” Nina poured wine into another glass and then handed it to Harley. Harley did not reach out to take it. Instead, he looked at Nina worriedly. She seemed to have pined away a lot these days. When Nina was about to pour more wine into her mouth, Harley subconsciously grabbed her wrist. “Nina, don’t drink anymore. You had enough.” “Let go of me. Let go of me!” Nina frowned and shouted at him impatiently. She shook off Harley’s hand. “If ... if you still treat me as a friend, drink with me. Otherwise ... just ignore me.” As she spoke, she took another big gulp. Harley sat beside Nina, frowning and pursing his lips. The sorrow in his eyes was very obvious. He thought how did she end up like this for Tom... Harley turned his head and looked at the glass of wine on the counter. He suddenly had an impulse. He picked up the glass and drank the wine without any hesitation “Till join you!” Nina smiled, and her eyes lit up. She clinked glasses with him. There you go. Let’s drink?” On the second day, in the hotel room. The curtains were not fully drawn. Sunlight shone into the room through the cracks. The ground was a mess. A man and a woman in disheveled clothes lay on the bed. It was Nina and Harley. Perhaps it was because of the strong light Nina subconsciously frowned. She slowly opened her eyes and felt that her headache was killing her. “Hiss.. Feeling pain all over her body, Nina gasped and slowly sat up, sizing up the surroundings. The room was so strange to her. Nina was in a hotel Why was she here? Then a familiar voice came from beside her. Nina’s heart skipped a beat She suddenly turned around and saw Harley lying, beside her Nina was stunned. She thought, why am I in bed with Harley? What happened last night? Chapter 371 A Mistake Made After Getting Drunk 1/3 Nina was vigilant, she closed her eyes. The scenes last night kept emerging in her mind, Yesterday, she was drinking all the bar and saw Harley. Both of them were drunk Later, they stumbled out of the bar. Harley said that he would send her home. But then they came to the hotel, and then Nina was shocked She had sex with Harley last night! Nina’s mind went blank How could this happen?

What if Tom knew about this? Meanwhile, Harley slowly woke up. The moment he saw Nina he was also stunned. Recalling the memories from last night Harley looked at Nina a little awkwardly. “Nina – Harley was confused at the moment. What happened last night was so sudden and he did not know what to say at all In the end, he could only say. “Nina, I’m sorry. Don’t worry. I’ll make it right.” Nina closed her eyes sadly. She had mixed feelings, and all she could think of was Tom. She loved Tom very much and could not accept this at all. Harley looked at Nina earnestly. After a long while, Nina took a deep breath, lifted the quilt, got out of bed, and began to put on her clothes. “I don’t remember what happened last night. You should forget about it as well.” Nina put on her clothes, picked up her bag, and went out, she was in a mess right now and didn’t want to see Harley. Nina was still absent-minded when she went to the hospital to take care of Tom. She often sat alone in a daze. Though Tom had been impatient with Nina ever since he came to the hospital from the hotel she still cared about her. Something was wrong with Nina today. What happened to her? Tom secretly looked at Nina's face several times. He was worried, but he was also hesitant "If you don't want to be here and take care of me, go back now. Let me have some rest. Tom acted tough, forcing Nina to come back to her senses.

Tom... You don't have to be like this all the time. If you want to break up with me, fine. I agree." Nina pursed her lips Nina thought it through. She had sex with Harley, and she couldn't face Tom. She might as well end things with Tom. Tom's heart skipped a beat. He desperately controlled his urge to ask Nina and calmly said "You've finally thought it through. This is for the best Nina looked at Tom and said seriously. However you have to cooperate with Dr. Hanson here for your treatment. As long as your leg is healed, I won't see you again. Let's... forget about each other. You're free now." Nina was utterly sad when she said this, and she felt bitter. She resisted the urge to cry Tom did not say anything, as if he had acquiesced. In the White's place. "Ms. White, Ms. Yale is here," when the housekeeper heard the doorbell and saw the person standing outside the door, he turned to Julie, who was reading a magazine on the sofa, and said. Chapter 371 A Mistake Made After Getting Drunk 2/3 Get Bored Julie pondered for a moment and snorted in her heart. When she heard the sound of high heels, she looked up and smiled, "Adela, what brings you here today? Adela sat down on the sofa, and she was still as arrogant as before. It seemed like she did not take Julie seriously at all. "Cut the crap. I came here today because I have something to talk to you about."

"What is it?" Julie looked curious as she stared at Adela In fact, Julie knew that Melissa was the only reason that could make Adela come to her personally, Adela looked at Julie sideways, and a trace of malice flashed through Adela's eyes. Even Adela's hands that were on her thighs slowly clenched Adela's voice was not loud, but she sounded bitter. Adela said, "Julie, I want you to think of a way to help me completely ruin Melissa, that bitch! don't want to see her around Murray anymore." Sure enough Julie laughed in her heart. Adela was indeed stupid. In the end, Adela still had to come to her for her assistance Julie lowered her head slightly, and she sneered coldly and imperceptibly. "What are you thinking about? Don't tell me that you can't think of a way!" When Adela noticed that Julie had been silent for a long time. Adela could not help but frown and say impatiently. "It's not like that." Julie quickly looked up shook her head, and said. Then she carefully approached Adela and thought for a moment. Then Julie said, "How about this? Star Entertainment is going to hold the opening ceremony of 'The King Saying Farewell to His Queen' in a few days. It would be a perfect opportunity."

Chapter 372 Pursue Nina

“Are you sure?” Adela looked at Julie suspiciously. Seeing Julie nod seriously, Adela also nodded with satisfaction. After all, Julie had been Adela’s adviser for so long. “OK. Then I will wait to hear from you.” In the evening, Melissa came to the hospital to visit Tom. Nina was about to leave. When Nina saw Melissa come in, Nina was obviously stunned. “Nina.” Melissa greeted Nina and lowered her head to look at Tom in bed. Melissa asked, “Tom, how’s your leg? Are you feeling better?” However, Tom did not seem to hear her at all. He just turned his head and looked out of the window. Even Nina stood by the window and kept her eyes down. Nina was silent as well. Melissa keenly sensed that something was wrong. She looked at Nina and asked, “What happened? Is there anything wrong?” When Nina heard this, she raised her head, forced a smile at Melissa and pulled Melissa’s sleeve. “Everything is fine... Let’s go outside. Tom needs his rest.” Melissa could tell that Nina’s smile was reluctant. But Melissa didn’t say anything. She just followed Nina out of the hospital. Seeing that Nina was still in a daze, Melissa couldn’t help but catch up to Nina and stop her. “Nina, you and Tom didn’t seem right when we were in the ward. What’s going on? What happened?” “I’ve decided to break up with Tom. He’s free now.” Looking at Melissa’s concerned expression, Nina finally could not hold on anymore. She said in a broken voice.

“Why?” Melissa was very surprised. Anyone could tell that Nina had feelings for Tom. Otherwise, Nina would not have insisted on looking for Tom during the earthquake. Why did Nina suddenly agree to break up with him? “I thought you wanted to be with him. Why did you suddenly...” Nina shook her head and sniffed. She tried her best to control her emotions. Nina raised her head and looked at Melissa’s face. Then, Nina told Melissa what happened between Harley and her the night at the bar and the next day. “What? You and Harley...” Melissa was shocked after listening to the whole thing. Melissa never thought that this kind of drama would happen to Nina. “I don’t know how this happened either.” Nina shook her head, her eyes red. Seeing Nina like this, Melissa asked worriedly, “What do you think? Actually, it was just an accident...” “No.” Nina shook her head, she was a very traditional girl. She did not know how to tell Tom about this. Nina didn’t think Tom would accept her after what had happened. “Melissa, I love Tom very much. He is the only one I love. But I have sex with Harley. Some things just can’t be undone. I don’t even know how to tell Tom about this. I’m sure he won’t be OK with this. Get Bonus.” “What’s done is done. I will respect his choice and break up with him. As long as his leg is healed, I will not see him again. When the time comes, I will go back to Wyvernholt and start anew. As for everything here.”

Nina lowered her head and gave a self-deprecating smile. “I will treat them as a dream. I will forget them all.” Melissa had mixed feelings. She knew that Nina must be upset at the moment. She patted Nina’s shoulder and said firmly. “Nina, no matter what happens, and no matter what decision you make, I'm on your side." Nina nodded and forced a smile. Thanks. I feel better already with your words. Alright, I'm going back now. You should go home as well." Melissa frowned and watched Nina turn around and leave with studied casualness. Melissa wanted to say something, but in the end, she remained silent. Nina must have been so sad. Harley frowned as he looked at his phone. He couldn't reach Nina. It had been an entire day and night, and Nina hadn't answered his calls. Either the calls didn't get through, or she didn't pick up at all. Nina also avoided Harley when he went to the hotel to look for her. The more Harley thought about it the more upset he felt. He wanted to talk to Nina, but there was nothing he could do. After thinking about it Harley decided to ask for Melissa's help. He thought Melissa and Nina are good friends. Melissa should know where Nina is. Ten minutes later, Harley knocked on Melissa's door. "Who is it?" Melissa's voice came from inside the door. When she opened the door and saw Harley standing outside the smile on her face disappeared in an instant. She turned around and said lightly. Why are you here?" "Melissa, do you know where Nina is? She hasn't answered my calls. I wanted to talk to her, but couldn't reach her..." Harley squeezed into the room and looked at Melissa earnestly. Melissa frowned and scolded. Talk? How do you want to talk to her? Harley you are a grown man. And you're an entertainer no less. How come you don't know anything about boundaries? Nina was indeed drunk that day. But how could you let her be? And you even drank with her in the bar? And you even..." Halfway through her words, Melissa felt that it was difficult for her to continue. After a pause, she said, "You know that the person Nina loves the most is Tom. How could you do such a thing? Now Nina feels sorry for Tom. She is such a mess right now. She's not in the mood to see you! I suggest that you stay away from her for now!" Harley stood in situ, startled. He stuttered, "Melissa, you ... you knew?" Melissa gradually calmed down at this time. She frowned. "What do you think? It's huge! Nina is very upset now. Don't disturb her." "Melissa." Harley lowered his eyes. Then he raised his head again, plucked up his courage, and said to Melissa, "Actually, I have had feelings for Nina for a long time. I really want her to be my girlfriend. That day ... that day at the bar, I ran into her she was so upset back then, so I joined her for a few drinks. And then things got out of control. We were both drunk, and we did something we shouldn't have done." The more Harley spoke the more regretful he felt. He felt deeply sorry for Nina. He did not expect that things would come to this, but it was too late to say anything. The person he wanted to see the most now was Nina, and now only Melissa could help him. "Melissa, I know that it was my fault. I shouldn't have acted on impulse. But I have already thought about it. I wanted to be the man here. I want to pursue Nina. I want her to be my girlfriend. Please help me!" Harley said sincerely. "Are you serious? Melissa pursed her lips and asked.

Chapter 373 Stop Seducing My Man

"Of course, I am serious. I'm very serious." Harley immediately blurted out his answer and hurriedly nodded. He was surer about his decision than ever that Nina was the one he had been determined to protect for the rest of his life. What's more, they had done the thing together that they shouldn't have. Even if they did it to fulfill their impulsive needs, Harley thought he should take the duty to take care of Nina as a man Melissa was still slightly hesitant. Although Harley was so earnest, Melissa knew who Nina loved.

So she was in a dilemma.. Seeing that Melissa was going to change her attitude, Harley couldn't help but take a step forward and look into her eyes with great sincerity. "Meli, I swear that I like Nina. I want to protect her for the rest of my life. Help me, please." Melissa kept silent for a while, and then she said, "Alright she felt that Harley didn't seem to be lying by seeing Harley's look in the end, Melissa agreed.

However, she knew Nina's character. She might not know what would happen in years, but she did know that Nina didn't want to see Harley these days. Melissa knew that they couldn't force Nina to do anything Melissa pondered for a moment and said to Harley.

Here is my suggestion Go back to your home first. You need to wait. And don't go find Nina these days. She needs time to calm down." By hearing this, Harley's smile immediately appeared on his face. But after thinking about it again, he understood what Melissa's words meant and nodded repeatedly.

"Well, I see. So I'll go back first. Meli, please help me persuade her." Harley left happily. Melissa looked at Harley's back with a hint of worry in her eyes. In the end, she shook her head, turned around, and went into the home office to handle her business. At the hospital Ryleigh lay on the hospital bed and turned to look at the door. She had not seen Murray for a long time.

After Murray came back from Los Angeles, Murray had not come to see her. Ryleigh wondered if Murray fell in love with Melissa again. She wanted Murray to be hers, The more Ryleigh thought about it the more nervous she became. She lifted the quilt and sat up from the bed, she took up the phone on the bedside table and dialed Murray's number "Hello, Ray..." Ryleigh sounded a little weak "Ryleigh, what's wrong?" Murray closed the document in his hands Murray sounded very gentle Ryleigh could not help but smile she only reacted after Murray spoke again she said softly, "Ray, are you busy will work these days? I haven't seen you for a long time "I just came back from Los Angeles. There are a lot of things waiting for me to deal with in the company. I can't free myself to go to the hospital and stay with you." Hearing Murray's words made Ryleigh relieved Ryleigh felt it was good that Murray didn't recover his relationship with Melissa But if that was the case.

Ryleigh pursed her lips and said, "Ray, according to the doctors and nurses, my condition is improving Ryleigh smiled and listened carefully to the man on the phone.

And then she asked with a certain purpose. "But I got bored in the hospital Ray, I want to leave the hospital and live in your house. Murray didn't expect the request He frowned imperceptibly. Murray didn't expect Ryleigh to make such a request, but after thinking about it... Murray thought it was good timing Although Murray thought about Melissa and his plan, he still responded with a hum. And then he said to Ryleigh, "Okay.

Have a good rest tonight. I will pick you up tomorrow to go through the discharge formalities." At nine o'clock the next morning Murray went to the ward as promised and picked up Ryleigh from the hospital Ryleigh had already cleaned herself up and changed into the same clothes as before she was admitted to the hospital. When Ryleigh saw Murray coming, she smiled happily.

"Ray you finally came to pick me up." "Yes." Murray smiled gently at her. "I have already finished the discharge formalities. I am here to take you home." Home? Upon hearing this word, Ryleigh smiled and felt a little shy. Since Murray had said so, it proved that he still had Ryleigh in his heart As for Melissa, she might have been abandoned.

Ryleigh restrained her smile and looked up at Murray's eyes. She nodded seriously. At this rate, her plan would soon succeed and she would be able to replace Melissa and marry into the Gibson family Ryleigh regarded Melissa as just a mistress whom everyone disregarded. The car was on its way to Moonlight Mansion Ryleigh held Murray's arm and snuggled up to him. She looked cute. "Ray, if I move to your house... Will Ms. Eugen be angry? Ryleigh looked at Murray as she spoke and she intended to know how Murray would respond. She deliberately mentioned Melissa to see Murray's opinion of Melissa Murray was looking at his phone and seemed to text someone. When he heard Ryleigh's question, his face darkened. "Why is she angry? I have nothing to do with her now. You can live there in peace. If the company is not busy, I will come back often."

Ryleigh nodded as if she suddenly realized something. She obediently sat to the side and no longer asked, but the corners of her mouth had already curled up, revealing a pleasant smile. It seemed that Murray didn't care about Mellissa anymore. The car soon arrived at the entrance of Moonlight Mansion Ryleigh followed Murray through the door and looked at the furnishings in the room with curiosity and surprise.

Murray placed Ryleigh's luggage beside the cabinet and said, "Alright, you can stay here from now on. The bedroom on the left is for you. I will get someone to move your things here."

"Sorry to trouble you, Ray." Ryleigh showed a shy smile and thanked Murray softly Right at that moment, Melissa appeared at the door unexpectedly. "I'm back to get.. Melissa saw Murray and Ryleigh standing in the living room, and Murray's hand was still on Ryleigh's head. She couldn't finish her words. "Melissa? Why are you here?" Ryleigh asked in surprise when she turned around to see Melissa Melissa froze for a moment with furrowed brows. And there was a hint of anger in her eyes. Melissa quickly walked in. When she heard Ryleigh's words, she could not help but snort coldly. Her eyes were full of disdain.

"Why can't I come?" I am Murray's wife recognized by grandpa And I am much better than a woman like you who uses unfair means to seduce my man. "What's more, my things are still here. I still have the key to Moonlight Mansion Why can't come and get my things? Do I need your permission? Can't you see your position here? Mind your own business. Melissa scoffed and looked Ryleigh up and down with contempt Melissa had just received a text message from Murray, which was why she appeared here. This was also part of the plan, Murray pursed his lips and looked at Melissa with a hostile expression. And he said nothing. When Ryleigh heard Melissa's words, her eyes turned red and she held Murray's hand tightly. When she spoke to Melissa even her voice trembled. "Melissa, I did nothing wrong to you. Why did you say that to me? Why did you come to break me up with Ray? You know that the person Ray likes is me.

And he promised to marry me... "You're the mistress. Why are you accusing me again? Ryleigh was on the verge of tears and looked at Murray with a grievance. She seemed to ask Murray for help Melissa crossed her arms in front of her chest. Her gaze wavered between the two. She felt both angry and amused. "You think that Murray likes you and you are the future daughter-in-law of the Gibson family, don't you? What you think isn't the fact I am the only daughter-in-law that grandpa has taken a fancy to. It can only be me.

And you are just a bitch who came out of nowhere." Melissa glared at Ryleigh with an angry expression that was completely different from her usual calm and elegant appearance. It was rare for Melissa to be so aggressive to a woman. "You..." Ryleigh widened her eyes and glared at Melissa. However, she only said this one word before her footsteps became unsteady. She looked as if she had been angered. One of her hands was supporting the corner of her forehead. And her face was pale. And Ryleigh grabbed onto Murray's sleeve with the other hand. She was about to fall into Murray's arms. "Ryleigh."

Murray's face was livid, and he quickly supported Ryleigh to the couch to rest. He turned his head and glared at Melissa darkly. He walked to Melissa and said, "Melissa, are you done? Ryleigh has just been discharged from the hospital. Can you not come here and pester her? Be reasonable. Ryleigh looked at Murray with surprise. She didn't expect Murray to defend her, so she felt a little happy Murray quarreled with Melissa for her.

It seemed to Ryleigh that Melissa would soon be chased out of the Gibson family. Melissa widened her eyes and looked at Murray in disbelief. She fiercely retorted, "Murray, are you saying that I am unreasonable? It seems that you value her so much. Don't forget, grandpa wants me to be your wife. If I am still alive, she... "She will never be married to the Gibson family." Melissa pointed at Ryleigh.

Murray slapped away Melissa's hand, and the anger that had been restrained could be heard in his words. "You have to be more respectful to Ryleigh, and don't come here to cause trouble. As for you... You and I are no longer in a relationship. I will tell grandpa about my relationship with Ryleigh later." "You..." When Melissa heard this, she glared at Murray in disbelief. She narrowed her eyes and walked past Murray to look at Ryleigh sitting on the couch. In the end, she gritted her teeth and said, "Alright Mummy."

"I've heard what you said. As long as grandpa still lets me to be the daughter in law of the Gibson family, I will be your wife. You and that bitch will never be together as you want Murray answered in a low voice. "It's none of your business. After that, Melissa glared at Ryleigh and turned to leave in anger.

"Ray. "Melissa... Is she alright?" Ryleigh asked weakly as she looked at Murray worriedly. "Don't worry about her," Murray said in a deep voice. He was a little impatient but when he looked at Ryleigh he deliberately restrained his emotions. "You just need to stay here and rest."

Melissa left Moonlight Mansion and could not help but reveal a smile. Just now, she acted like a shrew in there. She wanted Ryleigh to let down her guard completely and believe that she had nothing to do with Murray. In this way, she could pull out the mastermind behind Ryleigh. "Julie, the opening ceremony for The King Saying Farewell to His Queen' will be held tomorrow. You'd better do something when it's held. I want everyone to see that Melissa makes a fool of herself. And I want her to be defeated forever." Adela and Julie were drinking coffee on the terrace in the garden of the White's house.

Adela put down her coffee cup and noticed Julie in a serious tone. Yes, it could be called a notice because of Adela's tone "Adela, don't worry about this. Everything has been set up." Julie nodded and smiled with a pleading expression. "Really?" Adela raised her eyebrows and raised her voice while looking at Julie in disbelief. "Yes." Julie said very confidently. "I contacted Ling. He is a very famous hacker.

I have already asked him to hack into the internal network of Star Entertainment. When the opening ceremony is held, they will play videos. But our hacker will make sure that the videos aren't what they intend to play." Adela nodded in realization with a satisfied smile on her face. Then I'll leave it to you. In short, must see Melissa make a fool of herself.

After Adela left Julie called Ling. "Are you clear about what I told you?" "Rest assured, please." There was a completely unfamiliar voice on the other side of the receiver, and it could be heard that it had been processed with a voice changer. Tve already processed "Good." Julie said immediately, and the corners of her lips curved up. "If you make it, you'll have your reward. However, there is another thing."

In the apartment The opening ceremony was soon to be held. Melissa typed on the keyboard and intended to enter the company's intranet to check the videos that she would use tomorrow. But just as slie typed in and opened the website she wanted to use a string of code appeared on the screen, and it was flashing and increasing Melissa was stunned. The preview video that was originally prepared was hacked. She took a deep breath and frowned slightly.

The code used by the hacker was very high-end, but to her, it was just a piece of cake. However, she didn't intend to crack this series of hacking codes now. Melissa knew that many people had conflicts with her. But there were only a few who wanted her to make a fool of herself at tomorrow's opening ceremony.

Melissa thought that the hacker must have been paid to hack her videos. Melissa leaned against the chair and rubbed her nose. She casually closed the video page and dialed Anthony's number. "Ada, why are you looking for me at this time?"

"Our company's intranet has been hacked. The video we are going to play tomorrow during the opening ceremony has now become a complete mess of codes." "How could this be? Upon hearing this news, Anthony was a little surprised.

"But with your ability, isn't it easy to crack the codes? Or is there something I need to do?" "I can crack the codes, but not now..." Melissa laughed.

"I need you to help me find out who did this behind my back. It's best if you tell me the answer before midnight so I can prepare for it." "Alright, I understand." Anthony agreed immediately.

Chapter 375 It's Against the Law

After hanging up the phone, Anthony began to get busy. His slender fingers tapped on the keyboard. When he saw a large number of codes and red warning signs on Star Entertainment's intranet page, he frowned and casually clicked open a few videos and information pages. All he saw were blank screens, and there were even mischievous faces. It was very provocative.

Anthony used certain tools to find out the source code of the virus. It might take a while to decipher it for an ordinary hacker, but unfortunately, Anthony was good. Although the other party was a very smart hacker, Anthony still figured it out soon. About twenty minutes later, Anthony called Melissa "Ada, I found out that the person who invaded your company's intranet is a hacker called Ling.

This guy is quite good. I checked his information. Three years ago, there was an international competition. He was the champion." "Alright, I knew. Thank you for your hard work. Have an early rest." While talking on the phone, Melissa stared at the codes on the screen with a smile.

An international hacking champion? Melissa decided to teach a lesson to the famous hacker, Ling. After hanging up the phone, Melissa moved her wrist and began to quickly tap the buttons on the keyboard.

Her fingers flew nimbly on the keyboard, and it didn't take long for her to completely crack the virus codes in the system. Looking at the restored page and video data, Melissa revealed a satisfied smile. But she didn't stop there. Instead, she entered another set of specific codes intending to hack the other party's computer.

It had to be said that Ling's computer defense system was very good, but it was still not as good as Melissa's. Twenty minutes later, Melissa let out a sign of relief. She had just completely hacked Ling's computer system, and now Ling might even have problems using it normally.

Melissa called Anthony again and told him a string of numbers, 'Anthony, I just found Ling's phone number and address. Go find him now. It's best to bring him to me. I hope to cooperate with him once. Melissa looked at the clock on the wall. It was now 8:30 p.m. and it was still a long time. About 90 minutes later, Anthony appeared at Melissa's house. There was also a teenager beside Anthony. The teenager looked at Melissa and seemed to be in disbelief, but there was still excitement in his eyes.

He wondered if it was this woman who hacked the program code he had planned and his computer... Melissa walked over gracefully and extended her hand. She nodded politely. "Hello, I'm very sorry for causing your computer system to collapse just now." The teenager stretched out his hand without any intention of resisting at all. His face was full of worship. "I am Ling.

Your friend has already told me your idea. I agree to cooperate with you But I am still very curious about one thing. My program design is perfect. How did you crack it so quickly and hack my computer?" Melissa smiled, "I will tell you when this matter is over."

The teenager paused, and then he shrugged in understanding He called Julie and tightened his grip on the miniature voice changer on his collar. "Tello? I've already finished what you told me their company's internal network is too weak. Remember to transfer the rest of the money to my account

Melissa and Anthony looked at each other and smiled in tacit understanding At nine o'clock the next morning the opening ceremony of "The King Saying Farewell to His Queen" was going to be held. The surroundings of the venue were filled with media reporters and entertainment editors from various large platforms. Before the main creators officially entered the stage, the sound of the cameras was already continuously heard. Without a doubt. Adela and Julie were also present Adela stood in the middle of the crowd while looking proudly at the host who was preparing in the middle of the venue. Her eyes fell on the big projector with a smile of victory. She was determined to ruin Melissa's career.

"Adela, just watch. Ling told me yesterday that he had prepared everything. I can guarantee you that Melissa will make a fool of herself on the spot later." Julie stood next to Adela and said with a flattering face. The opening ceremony soon officially began. From the start of the host's opening speech, the main staff came on stage one after another.

Melissa and Jaylin delivered their speeches. Until the last moment when the opening ceremony was announced to be over there was no abnormality on the projector that was responsible for broadcasting the video and other information, and there was no sign of anything detrimental to Melissa The smile on Adela's face slowly disappeared. She looked coldly at Melissa, who was being interviewed on the stage. Adela unconsciously tightened her grip on her handbag Julie frowned. Ling told her that everything was done.

Adela clenched her teeth Her originally beautiful face now became gloomy. She couldn't help but turn around and reprimand Julie in a low voice. "What's going on? Didn't you say that the person you found had done everything? The opening ceremony was over, but I didn't see anything that I wanted to see.

How did you do your job? Useless." Julie was also confused. She hurriedly explained. "Adela. I don't know what's going on either. Ling told me last night that everything was done and lie even said that Star Entertainment's internal network couldn't withstand a single blow_" "What are the two of you discussing? Behind Adela came Melissa's voice.

Adela turned her head in surprise. Julie became silent instantly. There were two policemen following Melissa. Ling was also beside Melissa.

When Ling saw Julie, he tilted his head and smiled. "Melissa?" Adela frowned and asked with a bored face, but when she saw the police behind Melissa, her face changed instantly. "What are you doing?" "Shouldn't I be the one asking you this?" Melissa still had a polite and alienated smile, but the smile on her face disappeared as soon as she finished speaking, Melissa turned to the policemen behind her and said, "Dear officers, this is the guy Melissa's hand moved past Adela and pointed at Julie.

Trying to sneak into the internal network of our Star Entertainment and steal important information from the company. According to the law, this can be considered a crime of business. As for the person she hired. Melissa turned to look at Ling. The person she hired is here. And the person is the witness." Julie looked at Ling surprisingly.

Adela's heart skipped a beat but after seeing that the person Melissa was referring to was Julie, she secretly heaved a sigh of relief. Julie, on the other hand, was stunned and quickly retorted, L. What evidence do you have to prove that I want to steal your company's information? Melissa, don't slander me. I am going to sue you for slander." Ling snorted.

He took a step forward and took out his phone to play a voice recording. It was the voice of Julie looking for him yesterday and asking him to sneak into the internal network of Star Entertainment. "You said she was slandering you, but the recording in my hand isn't fake. Sorry. People can't break the law." After the police heard the recording, they walked over to Julie with serious expressions and handcuffed her wrists. "Excuse us, but you'd better come with us."

"No, I didn't. I am innocent."

Julie stepped backward with a panicked expression. However, the police officers didn't listen to her, Julie kept explaining when she was taken away.

The moment she passed by Adela, Adela looked away. Melissa saw it all.

The reporters who had arrived at the ceremony had not completely left yet, and many of them had witnessed this scene. For a time, the sound of pressing the shutters sounded loud.

Julie

tried to steal the secrets of the entertainment company and was taken to the police station. What big gossip!

It could be a good report that would attract a lot of attention.

The next morning, several trending topics about Julie being brought back to the police station appeared on social media. Moreover, there were a few hashtags related to Star Entertainment and were among the top trending topics.

“Julie is suspected of stealing the secrets of Star Entertainment!”, “Star Entertainment and ‘The King Saying Farewell to His Queen’”, “Julie has been brought to the police station.”

After such a mess, Star Entertainment and its film received a high level of attention, and the company even enjoyed popularity on the stock market.

On the contrary, the White family wasn't as good as before. And Julie's gossip made the situation plummet for the family whose business was also stagnant. Many companies who cooperated with the family called to cancel contracts.

At the police station.

Julie sat in the interrogation room, staring blankly at the table. She didn't know how to cope with the situation. An officer who sat opposite her began to question her seriously.

“Why did you steal the internal secrets of Star Entertainment? Do you know that this is illegal?”

Julie kept shaking her head and repeatedly retorted, “I didn't. I am innocent. It wasn't me. It was Adela of the Yale Family. Adela threatened me to do this!”

Julie never thought that things would end up like this. She didn't expect to be brought back to the police station. If she didn't report Adela to the police, she was afraid that she would go to jail. Being in jail would be a stain on her life.”

There was instantly a hint of fierceness in Julie's eyes.

People would take care of their benefits at any cost. So did she.

Adela?

The officer was stunned to hear the name for a moment, and then he motioned the recorder beside him to record all these words. It could mean that Julie had accomplices,

“You said she asked you to do it. Do you have any evidence

“The evidence. Julie panicked for a moment, and then she shook her head helplessly. “The evidence. I don’t have any of it, but I can guarantee that every word I say is the truth. It was because Adela was jealous she asked me to find someone to sneak into the internal network of staintertainment and wanted to teach Melissa a lesson I was just helping her.”

The officer nodded and put down the pen in his hand,

Chapter 376 Your Chances Run Out

“Alright, we have recorded what you said. We will investigate it thoroughly. But before the matter is clear, you can’t leave the police station. Alright, you can have a rest first.”

Julie was taken out of the interrogation room.

Adela had been absent-minded ever since she returned from the opening ceremony of the film. Her mind was filled with the way Julie looked at her and the smile on Melissa’s face when Julie was taken away.

She hoped that Julie wouldn’t report her to the police.

Adela pursed her lips tightly and frowned. She had been immersed in her panic and didn’t even hear Declan call her.

“Adela? Can you hear me?”

“Ah?” When Adela heard the voice beside her ear, she immediately came back to her senses. But it was obvious that she was distracted and almost knocked off the cup in Declan’s hand.

“What happened to you?” Declan looked worriedly at his sister.

Adela adjusted her emotions slightly and forced a smile. She said while shaking her head, “I’m fine. Maybe I’ve been too tired recently.”

As they were talking, there was a sudden knock on the door. Declan walked over to open the door. A few policemen stood at the door. Declan was stunned. “Officers, may I help you?”

A hint of panic flashed in Adela’s eyes, and she quickly looked away.

The leader of the police officers walked past Declan and glanced at Adela. The officer quickly retracted his gaze and said to Declan in an official tone, "Excuse us, we are here to investigate the case of stealing secrets from Star Entertainment. It is said that Miss Yale is related to this case. We want to ask her to come back with us to assist in the investigation."

"Adela?" Declan asked in disbelief. And then he turned to look at his sister. Adela's face turned pale and she instantly denied it.

"I did not do it. Although I was at the scene that day, I did not know anything. Declan..."

Declan knew that Adela had a stubborn temper, but Adela was his sister after all. Moreover, he didn't believe that Adela would do something like that. Declan tried to explain hurriedly.

"Officer, you must be mistaken. My sister just went out to relax. As for stealing secrets, she won't do it at all. She is still recuperating now. She can't take a lot of stimulation. If there is no evidence, you can't take her away casually."

Declan managed to persuade the officers away with great difficulty. Adela wasn't taken away. Declan thought that this matter would pass just like that, but a paparazzo who was stationed near the Yale family came to know the matter.

The matter of the police visiting the Yale family was immediately exposed, and the price of the Yale family's company in the stock market plummeted.

Adela was so angry that she decided to go to Melissa's house on that day.

Melissa was checking the stock market. She had heard about the decline of the stock price of the Yale family's company. But she didn't smile until she saw the trend map on the screen going down all the way.

Melissa hoped that Adela could learn a lesson this time and behave herself in the future,

Right at that time, there was a knock on the door, Adela came in with anger.

"Melissa, why do you have to plot against my family and my brother you aren't a woman who deserves to be with Murray, are you? Does Murray know that you are such a bitch?"

At first sight of Melissa, Adela became even more unsettled, she quickly stepped forward, pointed at Melissa's nose, and began to reprimand Melissa,

It was as if she didn't do anything to plot against Melissa at all.

Melissa only looked at Adela calmly. In the end, she only smiled lightly, as if she didn't care about Adela at all.

Adela was furious. The moment Adela raised her hand to stop Melissa, her hand was quickly grabbed by the latter.

Melissa stared into Adela's eyes, and the smile on her face will replaceably in expression of coldness and strong enmity.

"Adela, I haven't blamed you for what you did to me. But I won't allow anyone to bully me anymore. Julie has always been a flattering follower by your side without your insinuations, will she be in touch with my company's internal network?"

Adela's face turned pale,

Melissa shook off Adela's hand and warned in a cold voice, "If you try to harm me again, you won't get away from it as simply as this time."

Chapter 378 What a Loss!

Ryleigh was a good-looking woman. Many guys had a crush on her when she was a singer in the bar. And now, her fragile look made her even more delicate.

She didn't believe that Murray could resist her now that she was so flirting,

Murray pursed his lips and looked at Ryleigh for a moment, silent. But in the end, he calmed down and nodded.

"Alright, don't worry. I won't leave."

Ryleigh nodded. There were still traces of tears on her delicate face, and she seemed to be a little distracted. She slowly lay down, holding Murray's hand and looking at his face all this time.

Murray thought of Melissa's words and their plan. Even if he didn't want to deal with her, he had to sit next to Ryleigh patiently, chatting with her.

Ryleigh closed her eyes, breathing steadily. She seemed to be asleep.

Murray breathed a sigh of relief and left.

Heliad already asked Alex to make preparations for North Bay. Sebastian spent 50 million on a piece of wasteland for no reason. Although he said that he did not care, he must be anxious to get rid of it.

It had been several days, and if there were no problems, Alex should have already settled this matter.

Sebastian, it looks like your wishful thinking is going to fail this time... Murray said to himself.

The next morning, Murray arrived at the office. Before he even opened the documents on the computer, Alex knocked on the door and walked in with an iPad,

"Mr Gibson."

"What's the matter?" Murray minimized the web page and raised his head to look at Alex,

Alex walked forward and handed the iPad to Murray. It was the blueprint of the projects that they planned to develop in North Bay

"I have already finished what you asked me to do. After the BPL Group found out about the chemical district, it was really eager to get rid of the land in North Bay. I have already found a familiar middle company to contact the person in charge of the North Bay project and buy it back at 10 million dollars. The project can be launched at any time you wish."

Murray looked at the blueprint and smiled with satisfaction.

"You did a good job. Sebastian did not suspect anything, right?"

Alex revealed a smile and shook his head, "No, the company in the middle did not say that we were going to buy it. Moreover, Sebastian couldn't wait to get rid of North Bay right now. He wouldn't care."

Murray nodded and carefully looked at the blueprint. They had already decided to build a large amusement park in North Bay as a result. The land was very empty and the terrain was favorable. They would build an amusement park and focus on publicity. It would definitely attract many people,

In this round, the final winners were all them

Murray landed the iPad back to Alex and said, "You did well in this matter, Next, start preparing for the construction of the amusement park"

Alex nodded. Just as he was about to leave, he stopped. He turned around and asked in confusion, "Mr. Gibson, but the Government is still going to build the chemical district..."

Murray shook his head, "Don't worry. I've already asked someone to do it. You just need to focus on the amusement park."

Alex left the office. Murray sat on the leather chair, smiling

The chemical district was no trouble for him. Aldness was so big, so it was easy to build it somewhere else as long as Murray proposed it to the government.

At the BPL Group.

Sebastian was standing in front of the window with a goblet in his hand. The red wine swayed slightly in the goblet and dyed it with a faint red.

He was not smiling. From her centered left cheek, he was gritting his teeth.

To go against the Gibson Corporation, he spent 50 million dollars taking the land of North Bay from Murray, planning to change it into a residential area and make a fortune. Yet the government suddenly announced a chemical district would be built around it.

In this way, he lost 50 million dollars. What a joke!

He was so unlucky!

Although he only got 10 million dollars back, thanks to the greedy middle company. Yet less was better than none. He felt slightly relieved thinking that the land was eventually sold.

More importantly, Murray could not get it either.

Sebastian thought that he had lost this round, but Murray didn't win either.

Sebastian drank a mouthful of red wine, and the window faintly reflected his shadow.

Another three or four days had passed.

"Mr. Gibson, bad news!" His assistant rushed in anxiously. Sebastian frowned and raised his eyes.

"Why are you in such a panic? Calm down and speak."

The assistant slowed down, then hurriedly said to Sebastian, "Haven't you seen today's news? The government announced that considering that the North Bay area is relatively prosperous, they decided to change the location of the chemical district."

Sebastian frowned and looked at him in disbelief.

When he saw the look in his assistant's eyes, he suddenly panicked. He opened the web page. As expected, he saw the news on the first page.

Sebastian felt frustrated. He held the mouse slowly and tightened it as if he wanted to crush it.

He had just sold North Bay. What a loss!

Telud lostalo

Sebastian suddenly thought of Murray. Then he found a video,

"North Bay Amusement Parkly investment of the Gibson Corporation!"

When he saw the words, Sebastian's pupils contracted suddenly had a bad feeling. He clicked on the video and saw

Murray standing on the stage of the press conference. There were several big words written on the promotional curtain behind him, "Project of North Bay Amusement Park."

Sebastian couldn't believe what he saw. How could that be? Isn't it sold to a middle company, saying that a small company bought it to build a factory, but they don't have enough budget, so...

Everything twisted in Sebastian's mind.

Murray!

He suddenly understood everything. The so-called "small company" did not exist at all. Even the middle company was with the Gibson Corporation. They just wanted to buy North Bay back.

As for the government, I believe it is not difficult for Murray to handle it.

Realizing what happened, Sebastian looked at Murray's confident smile on the screen. The more he thought about it, the more resentful he became. He clenched his right fist tightly, and a ruthless look appeared in his eyes.

Murray, let's wait and see!

Chapter 379 Steal the Proposal

Sebastian couldn't swallow this anger. He had always regarded Murray as an enemy. And the BPL Group never gave up any chance to go against the Gibson Corporation.

Sebastian and Murray were incompatible.

Sebastian closed the web in frustration. He did not want to see any more reports about North Bay Amusement Park.

The more he thought about it, the more uncomfortable he felt.

North Bay could have belonged to him, yet because of Murray, he suffered a great loss.

"Alright, go back to your work."

Sebastian looked up at his assistant with a gloomy look and waved his hand impatiently. His unhappiness was out there to be seen.

The assistant had been carefully observing his face. The moment Sebastian waved his hand, he breathed a sigh of relief and quickly turned and left.

Sebastian supported his forehead with his right hand, looking gloomy yet didn't show much emotion.

He thought, North Bay Amusement Park? Nice!

Murray, I won't let you make it this time.

I will make the Gibson Corporation's wishful thinking come to nothing, no matter at what cost.

Ryleigh...

Sebastian suddenly thought of this woman. She had told him last time that Murray was now very obedient to her, so it was better to start with her.

Thinking of this, Sebastian called Ryleigh.

The nurse Murray hired had just finished measuring Ryleigh's blood pressure and heart rate. Ryleigh nodded and smiled politely. "Thank you. Please, take a rest. I'm fine."

She thought, I am not sick at all. If this nurse kept watching me, sooner or later, she'll find out that I am pretending.

No, I need a better way to make Murray mine.

As Ryleigh was thinking, her phone rang.

It was Sebastian.

When Ryleigh saw the name, her heart skipped a beat. She controlled her emotions before pressing the answer button.

"Sebastian, what's the matter?"

Her voice was very low in case the nurse heard her.

"What are you doing?"

"I'm resting." Ryleigh's fingers tightened. Unconsciously, she felt a little nervous.

"Alright, let's get down to business."

Sebastian loosened the tie and asked, "How is the thing between you and Murray now?"

When Ryleigh heard this, her heart sank. She subconsciously looked in the direction of the nurse's room and lowered her voice. "I've already moved into Moonlight Mansion, he rarely has the time to come back, but he treats me very well. Moreover, I and Melissa had a big fight on the day I moved in. They should not have any contact. Sebastian, don't worry."

"Very good," Sebastian said.

Ryleigh breathed a sigh of relief. Then she heard Sebastian say, "When Murray goes back these days, be nicer to him, ask him about North Bay Amusement Park."

"North Bay Amusement Park?"

Ryleigh was a little confused. Murray hadn't mentioned anything about the North Bay project in front of her for a long time. Where did North Bay Amusement Park come from?

There was a long silence on the other side of the line. Sebastian's eyes darkened.

"You don't know about it, do you? I know that Murray is very cautious. He won't tell you so easily."

"No!"

Ryleigh quickly denied it. She was afraid that Sebastian would think that she was useless. If the Lawford family abandoned her, she would lose everything and live in poverty again.

She didn't want this to happen.

Cold sweat broke out on Ryleigh's forehead. She managed to adjust her breathing and then whispered, "Murray is really good to me now. And he looked reluctant to mention Melissa when I talked about her. Sebastian, give me some time..."

"Alright."

Sebastian impatiently stopped Ryleigh. He did not call just to reminisce with her.

"I'm calling this time to ask you to steal the Gibson Corporation's proposal for the amusement park.

"Murray should have a taste of what it feels like to be stepped on by someone..."

Hearing this request, Ryleigh subconsciously frowned. Murray always closed the door of the home office while working. And he couldn't possibly leave such an important proposal at home.

"But I might not have the chance to see this proposal, and he might not put it here..."

Ryleigh sounded a little hesitant, but Sebastian was not moved at all.

"This is your business. If you fail, you know what will happen! You must make it, understand?"

Ryleigh felt helpless. Yet thinking of the thing Sebastian could do, she agreed absent-mindedly. After the phone was hung up, she secretly clenched her fists.

She was done with Sebastian. She thought that she had to marry Murray as soon as possible so as to escape from the grips of the Lawford family,

After marrying, Murray and becoming Mrs. Gibson, Sebastian wouldn't be able to do anything to her Nina stroked her hair and invited Melissa in.

Nina hadn't returned to the apartment these days. She had been living in a hotel. Her mind was messy, she needed some peace.

Walking into the room, Melissa casually sat on the bed. She looked at Nina with a worried expression. "You have been living here for the past few days? When are you going back?"

She knew Nina couldn't accept the fact that she had sex with Harley after drinking. But staying in the hotel was not a long-term plan.

Nina shook her head silently. What had happened these past few days had made her look a lot more haggard.

She sat next to Melissa and looked down at her fingertips. After a long time, she said, "How has Tom been recently?"

This was the first time that Nina had mentioned Tom in front of Melissa during this period of time.

Melissa did not want to bring up anything that could upset Nina. Hearing her ask about Tom, Melissa patted the back of Nina's hand. "Oh right, I haven't told you yet. During this period of time, Luca has been treating him. Tom is no longer against the treatment as much as the beginning. Instead, he is very cooperative. Sometimes, he even talks to Luca. Anyway, he looks much better than before."

"Really?" Nina smiled faintly, looking different from before too.

"What a relief! Thank you, Melissa,"

When Melissa saw Nina's appearance, her heart was also filled with mixed feelings. She patted Nina's shoulder, trying to cheer her up.

Melissa said with a smile, "Don't mention it. We are good friends. I should help you take care of him. By the way, his right leg is much better now. He can even walk a little. Luca said that it would be helpful."

Hearing this, Nina was finally relieved. She nodded with a smile,

However, at the same time, the bitterness that had been suppressed in her heart also surged up. Her nose was sour and her eyes were hot. However, she did not want to let Melissa find out about her change. She silently turned her head to the side, secretly wiping off her tears.

Nina said to herself, no matter what, Tom's right leg would be fine. That's good news.

It would be worth it even if we broke up.

Nina was sad, yet she knew that there was nothing she could do. Holding back her tears, Nina held Melissa's hand and pleaded, "Melissa, I want to see him... Please, take me there."

Hearing this, Melissa heaved a sigh of relief.

It had been a hard time for Nina. As a good friend, Melissa was worried about Nina. Seeing that Nina would like to go out, Melissa felt relieved.

"Alright, I'll take you there." Melissa nodded, released her hand, and walked to the door to wait for Nina.

Nina walked out of the hotel with Melissa. She still felt uneasy. She brushed her hair that was blown to the front of her eyes and asked worriedly, "Melissa, what if Tom refuses to see me?"

Melissa furrowed. She remembered that Tom sometimes stared out the window in a daze these days.

Although he did not mention anything, Melissa could guess that he might be missing Nina.

Melissa thought about it and decided not to say it. She shook her head and said, "It won't happen. You guys have had a conversation. He won't treat you like before. Let's go."

Nina was relieved. Melissa drove the car to the hospital. Nina was very nervous all the way, thinking about Tom.

She was thinking about what to say after seeing Tom.

Just as she was thinking, her phone in the bag rang.

Nina took out her phone. Seeing that it was her father's call, she adjusted her mood and connected it. She said calmly. "Mom, what's the matter?"

Nina's mother's weak voice came from the other side of the receiver, "Nina..... I'm sick. Can you hurry back? I miss you very much

When Nina heard this, she frowned and shouted to the receiver, "Mom, Mom, what's wrong? Don't worry, I'll buy tickets and rush back!"

Melissa noticed Nina's movements and quickly stepped on the brake, asiding in confusion, "What is it?"

Nina did not have time to pay attention to her question. She comforted her mom on the phone for a while and then hung up in a hurry She spoke quickly, "Melissa, my mother is sick, I can't go to see her right now. Can you send me to the airport quickly? I need to go home!"

"Your mom is sick? What happened?"

Chapter 380 Propose at the Airport

When Melissa heard Nina's words, she couldn't help but feel anxious. She had seen Nina's parents and liked them very much.

As she asked, she turned around and drove to the airport. Nina's eyes were full of anxiety. "I don't know either. What is going on."

Under the pressure of multiple things, Nina cried out, her hand on her forehead. She was exhausted.

She had thought that she would not be sad anymore.

Melissa was also burning with anxiety. She was driving, at the same time comforting Nina. She couldn't stand seeing Nina in such a terrible state. "It's fine. Your mom is a good person, she'll be alright."

Along the way, they surpassed cars one by one and finally arrived at the airport within twenty minutes.

As soon as the car stopped, Nina opened the door and ran out. Melissa quickly took her bag and chased after her. "Nina, your bag!"

Seeing Nina turn around and run back into the airport lobby like a spiral, Melissa couldn't help but sigh, her eyes filled with worry.

Melissa took out her phone and dialed a number. "Hello, where are you..."

She called Harley.

Not long after Nina entered the airport, Harley's car stopped outside the airport. When she got out of the car, she happened to meet Melissa. Seeing her eyes, Harley nodded firmly and ran in.

There were a lot of people at the airport. Harley had been looking for Nina and finally saw her on the bench outside the hall.

He clenched the bouquet in his hand and walked through the crowd to Nina's side. Suddenly, he knelt on one knee and handed the bouquet of roses to Nina.

"Nina!"

Nina was thinking about her mother's condition. Harley's sudden appearance caught her off guard.

"Harley, why are you here?"

"I followed you to the airport..." Harley touched the back of his head and muttered. Then, as if he remembered something, he solemnly extended the bouquet again and said to Nina.

"Nina, I am here to propose to you. I know that you have been in a mess these days and have been avoiding me. But I want to tell you that I am sincere. You are the girl I want to marry. Marry me and let me take good care of you, okay?"

The people around them were attracted by the couple. They looked at them curiously or in surprise, some even started to applaud.

Nina had never experienced such a scene, or perhaps, she had imagined it, but the person who proposed to her was Tom.

She pursed her lips. Looking at Harley's burning gaze, she touched her arm and shook her head in embarrassment

"I'm sorry, Harley I don't want to talk about these things right now. Besides, it was an accident between us. I ...! don't have feelings for you."

Harley had expected this answer, but when he heard it from Nina, he was still a little disappointed

Seeing this, the crowd also dispersed in disappointment.

Nina was not in the mood to deal with Harley at all, and she had no time to care about his emotions. After saying that, she turned her face to the side and looked at the sign at the airport.

Three hours later, the plane landed at Houston's airport.

Nina walked out of the airport in the flow of people. Yet when she left the hall to take a taxi, she saw Harley at another exit.

Nina looked at him helplessly. "Why are you..."

Harley said seriously, "Nina, I know you won't accept me now, but I wish to be there for you."

"Harley, I said I don't like you. The thing between us was just an accident." After Nina finished speaking, she walked forward. Out of the corner of her eye, she caught a glimpse of the figure behind her. She turned her head and said seriously, "Don't follow me."
