Chapter 381 We Are Together

Alter Nina finished speaking, she left the airport and grabbed a taxi.

Harley looked at Nina's back. The disappointment in his eyes flashed.

Nina was also very nervous in the car. When she finally returned home, she almost ran in. At the entrance, she shouted, "Mom, Mom, are you okay? Do you need to go to the hospital...".

As she spoke, she entered the living room. To her surprise, she saw Ariana and Kasen sitting on the sofa, both looking serious. Ariana even turned her face to the side when she saw Nina.

Nina was stunned. It took a long time for her to sort out her thoughts. "Dad, Mom ... you? Mom, aren't you sick?"

"If I don't tell you that your mother is sick, I'm afraid you're still in Aldness with that Warren boy!"

Nina opened her eyes wide. She suddenly understood everything.

After standing still for a long time, she said, "Mom..."

Ariana looked up at Nina who was standing at the door and found she had lost a lot of weight compared to when she was at home. She had become a lot more haggard.

As a mother, Ariana felt terrible seeing her daughter like this.

"Nina." Ariana beckoned Nina to sit beside her. "We didn't even know that you and Melissa went to the earthquake area to save Tom. What if something happened to you because of Tom again? You should understand your father and me."

"Nina, are you with Tom again? Do you know how anxious we were when we heard you went to save him?"

In comparison, Kasen didn't hide his anger. He had treated Nina like the apple of his eye.

He didn't take care of his daughter so well to let her suffer from Tom one day.

"That's right... Nina, you have to know that we didn't raise you to make you suffer from Tom. He has nothing right now and can't guarantee your life at all. You'll know in the future. Sometimes, two people can't get to the end just with love."

Ariana held Nina's hand and said earnestly.

Nina did not expect her parents to be like this. She was so anxious that her eyes turned red, but she did not have the desire to cry at all. She anxiously explained, "Mom, Dad, why are you doing this... I have already broken up with Tom..."

"Broken up?"

Kasen and Ariana looked at each other in disbelief.

To save Tom, Nina went to the earthquake area. Now she said she had broken up with him. That wasn't very convincing

"No," Kasen shook his head, "Nina, you won't do this before. This time, your mother and I called you back because we wanted you to stay at home for a while. Don't go anywhere,"

"No!"

Nina was very surprised to hear this. She subconsciously stood up. Her attitude was unprecedentedly intense.

At least it was much more intense than when she was with her parents before.

Chapter 381 We Are Together

"You..."

Kasen was just about to get angry when someone knocked on the door.

Ariana looked at them worriedly and went to open the door. The person standing outside was Harley.

When Harley saw Ariana, he nodded politely and said, "Hello, Mrs. Paul. I'm here for Nina... Is she home?"

When Nina heard the familiar voice, she subconsciously turned her head and saw Harley walking in.

She frowned. Just as she was about to speak, the man walked to her side. He held Nina's shoulder with one hand but quickly let go and revealed a polite and humble smile. He nodded to Kasen and said, "Hello, Mr. Paul."

Kasen and Ariana both knew that Harley was a well-known celebrity. Seeing him here and seeming to be so familiar with Nina, they were surprised and also suspicious.

Kasen paused for a moment, then asked doubtfully, "I know you. You are Harley Timothy. You know ... Nina?"

Harley glanced at Nina and smiled unconsciously. He nodded, and in the next second, he held Nina's hand. "Mr. Paul, Mrs. Paul I've been with Nina for a long time. She had agreed to be my girlfriend. Not long ago, she told me that Mrs. Paul was sick, so she needed to come back. I wanted to come back with her, but she refused, so I ... secretly followed her."

Harley smiled embarrassedly.

Nina was still in a daze. When she noticed Harley holding her hand, she subconsciously pulled back. When she heard his words, she was even more surprised.

However, she couldn't deny it in front of her parents. She looked at Harley with some anger and confusion. Then, she shook her hand again.

Ariana looked at Harley with satisfaction. She often saw this young man on TV. He was handsome and famous. His performance on the stage was also very outstanding. If he was Nina's boyfriend, Ariana would be so proud in front of the neighbors.

Kasen still had some doubts. His gaze wandered between the two of them and finally stopped on Nina.

"Nina, why haven't you mentioned that you were in a relationship with him? Are you guys acting?"

Nina did not want to get Harley involved. And she had rejected Harley.

She was about to deny it, but Harley leaned close to her ear and whispered, "Nina, I'm doing this for your good. If I pretend to be your boyfriend, then your parents won't lock you here. You want to go back to Aldness, don't you?"

His words were exactly what Nina was thinking about.

Nina turned around and looked at Harley in shock. When she met the man's firm gaze, she could only give up. Facing Kasen's questioning, she nodded.

"Yes, we have indeed just been together. I feel that this matter is too big... So I didn't tell you. After all, Harley is a celebrity. Dad, Mom, you won't blame me, right?"

After she said this, she sighed silently in her heart and unconsciously clenched the corner of her clothes.

She didn't want to be locked up at home. She wanted to see Tom. She missed him.

Kasen temporarily dispelled his suspicions. He nodded in relief.

"Since you are together, I am relieved. But Nina, you should tell us about such a big thing. Don't let us worry about you."

Ariana was completely relieved. She was very content to have Harley as her son-in-law.

Chapter 382 New Lover

Nina's family was now all happy. At the same time, the news had gone viral on the internet

A reporter who was waiting for another celebrity at the airport captured Harley's proposal.

the famous star Harley proposed to an unknown woman at the airport. That was big news, Soon, the news was released onto the social media platform. It also successfully made it into the top three trending topics within two hours.

“Harley and the unknown woman.” “Aldness Airport.” “Harley Proposed to a lady.”

There were three or four similar phrases related to Harley’s proposal in an instant, which occupied the top ten positions on the trending list. Even the photos of Harley proposing to Nina at the airport were posted everywhere on the internet. The news became sensational.

Harley’s female fans were wailing in the comments section. However, most of the fans congratulated him. After all, Harley was not only famous for his face. And there was a lot of dirty news about celebrities recently. Seeing Harley pursuing his love, people were quite supportive.

Harley’s agent had called him five or six times in a row, but he was currently eating at Nina’s house and was not in the mood to care about anything else.

In the hospital.

Tom was lying in the ward. Out of boredom, he opened Twitter. When he saw Harley’s name on the trending list, he had a bad feeling

He clicked in and then saw a photo of Harley proposing at the airport in Aldness. As for the person of his proposal

Nina.

face

His eyes widened, and his heart sank to the bottom.

It turned out that Nina had fallen in love with someone else, which was why she suddenly agreed to break up with him.

Tom stared at the photo on his phone. When he saw Harley holding the bouquet, he felt like a creep and a little itotic

His name then fell on his bandaged right leg Tor felt in chaos. He was extremely uncomfortable. However, in the end, he could only silently swallow what he wanted to say and let out a sigh.

Torri thought, forget it, I couldn’t drag her down like this.

“Continue to call Harley Also, inform the public relations department to suppress this matter. Before receiving Harley’s attitude, the most important thing is to let this new disappear!”

She knew that Harley liked Nina for long time, but Nina would be very uncomfortable if she saw her personal affairs czponto the publike

It had been six or seven days since lastian had called Ryleigh to tell her about the North

y proposal Ryleluh was anxious too, but every time Murray came back, he either locked himself in the home office or never talked about work When Ryleigh brought up this topic, Murray would change it.

On this day, when Ryleigh was at the end of her wits, Sebastian called again.

“How is it going?” Sebastian sounded indifferent and commanding, “It has been seven days. When can you give me the proposal?”

Ryleigh frowned. For so many years, she had always been afraid of Sebastian’s voice. She was inexplicably nervous whenever she heard his words.

“Sebastian, give me a little more time. I have been talking to Murray about this in the past few days, but he changes the topic every time, and I can’t go into the home office... More time, please.”

“I will say it again. That is your business.”

Sebastian’s voice sounded heavier, with irresistible deterrence.

“Ryleigh, you have the patience to spend time with Murray. I don’t have it. I will give you three more days. If I can’t – see the proposal, you know the consequences.”

Then there came a becping sound. Sebastian hung up the phone.

Ryleigh put down the phone in a panic. She frowned when she thought of Sebastian’s words. Sebastian had been calling her in the past few days. Sometimes, he had even called when Murray was still at home. If she had not been perfunctory, she would have been seen through.

Ryleigh thought, I must marry Murray quickly, at all cost.

When Murray came back at night, he saw Ryleigh in black lace pajamas preparing food in the kitchen. The well-cut fabric outlined her graceful curves.

He frowned imperceptibly. Any sensible person could tell what she was planning.

Murray thought for a moment, then went to the sofa, picked a thin coat, and put it on Ryleigh. "Why are you wearing so little? Be careful. Don't catch a cold."

"Ray." Seeing Murray, Ryleigh smiled happily. She held his hand and slowly placed it on her waist. "Why did you come back so late? I was a little uncomfortable just now, so I got up. You have been in the company these days. I miss you so much."

As she said this, she turned off the fire and put her hands around Murray's waist gently, her head leaning on his shoulder.

"I need to get changed first. Put on your coat. Don't catch a cold." Murray glanced at her and took a step back without leaving a trace

After saying that, he turned and went upstairs. Ryleigh looked at his back and was somewhat unconvinced.

At half past eleven in the evening.

Ryleigh finally fell asleep. Murray walked to the living room and quietly opened the bedroom door to check. Seeing that Ryleigh was still lying there, he breathed a sigh of relief.

He had been dealing with Ryleigh for the past few days and had not seen Melissa for a long time. He missed her a lot.

Melissa was sleeping. Suddenly, she was woken up by a rustling sound in the living room. She frowned and opened her eyes, quite alert, not daring to act rashly.

Melissa thought, it had passed midnight. Who is it? Thief?

Melissa frowned. She removed the quilt and quietly got out of bed. After the sound in the living room finally disappeared, she picked up the chair that was placed by the door and walked out.

When she saw the figure in the living room, she immediately raised her chair and said aggressively.

“How dare you come to my house?”

“It is me.”

The person suddenly spoke. Then, the lights in the living room were turned on. Murray was staring at Melissa with smiling eyes.

Melissa was surprised. She slowly put down the chair in her hand. “Murray? Why are you here?”

Seeing Melissa’s surprised look, Murray smiled. He found her very cute.

Murray held Melissa’s hand, took a step forward, and wrapped his arms around Melissa’s waist. “I missed you so much, so I squeezed time to come here.”

Murray’s words sounded aggrieved, but he only did this in front of Melissa.

Melissa laughed. She pulled her hand out of Murray’s and said softly, “Can’t you come over earlier? It’s already midnight. You should be in Moonlight Mansion now.”

Hearing Melissa’s words, Murray had a headache.

He was busy with company affairs and the North Bay Amusement Park, After going back from work, Murray had to deal with Ryleigh. Ryleigh made Murray exhausted.

Murray did this only to find out who was behind Ryleigh.

“Are you being jealous?”

Seeing Melissa's expression, Murray thought about something and laughed again. He whispered in Melissa's ear slowly in a husky voice.

"Don't mention Ryleigh at this time. I miss you every day and I only want to be with you ..."

Murray walked to Melissa and wrapped his arms around her waist. Murray rested his chin on Melissa's shoulder and kissed her ears, Melissa turned around in Murray's arms to face him. She cupped Murray's face with both hands and put on a gentle smile.

"Well, I know you miss me very much, and so do I... I'm glad you came today, but we have to take care of the most important thing first. Hold on a little bit."

Melissa blinked at Murray cutely and then tiptoed to kiss Murray on the forehead. "Be happier."

"By the way, it's been a while since Ryleigh moved to Moonlight Mansion. Is there anything wrong with her?"

Murray sighed. He and Melissa walked to the sofa and sat down. Murray thought about Ryleigh's movements and said to Melissa, "In the past few days, Ryleigh has been pestering me. Sometimes, she would come to my home office with snacks and soup... She even asked me this evening if there are any major projects since I've been so busy recently. I guess she will make a move."

If Ryleigh was Lily, she would never do such a thing

Ryleigh must have approached Murray for some reason.

pondered for a moment with her hand supporting her chin, and she thought of a good idea.

However, Murray had to suffer a little Melissa looked at Murray with hesitation. After a while, she said, "Since someone asked her to get close to you, we should take advantage of this opportunity. Why don't you reveal the plan of the amusement park to her and see what she will do then?"

Murray nodded subconsciously, but soon he realized that something was wrong. Did Melissa ask him to approach Ryleigh?

Murray pursed his lips and looked at Melissa. He joked, "You want me to stay with Ryleigh for a few more days. Aren't crossed.

Of course, Melissa felt a bit jealous. However, she was a rational person. She knew they had to solve Ryleigh's problem first.

So Melissa was willing to endure it.

But Murray did not think so.

Murray was not happy about Melissa's reaction. Although he joked about it, he was very unhappy.

"Do you want me to be with Ryleigh?"

Melissa was stunned,

She turned her head and looked at Murray in surprise. Before she could say anything with a smile, Murray gently pinched her cheek.

Murray got very close to Melissa.

He asked, "Did you spend much time with Jaylin when I was not around? Do you guys chat often?"

A man in love was always childish.

Only now did Melissa truly understand that the childish love stories on the Internet were not groundless.

Melissa looked at Murray and couldn't think of anything to say. She just sat a little further away from him. Melissa gently picked up the cup in front of her and took a sip.

The news was going viral on the Internet, but Harley's team was trying their best to suppress this affair.

Nina was not an entertainer. But in Melissa's company, the private life of a normal person and an entertainer were equally important.

Murray was busy with North Bay Amusement Park. The video of the press conference had been released online. Murray felt unhappy about Melissa's reaction, but he knew what he should do.

"Murray, you're back!"

Murray returned to Moonlight Mansion after work. Ryleigh went up to him as usual.

“Yes.”

Murray smiled slightly. He was quite a good actor. He only showed his true feelings in front of Melissa.

Murray stroked Ryleigh’s face gently. “Sorry I came back a little late today. Did the nurse take good care of you?”

“When you were not around, I took the medicine on time. The nurse also said that I recovered very quickly.”

Murray and Ryleigh chatted for a while. During the meal, Ryleigh did not eat much. Instead, she stared at Murray quietly.

Murray was a little puzzled. He asked, “What’s the matter?”

“Murray, you’ve lost weight recently... Are you busy with work? Maybe I can bring some tonics to your company tomorrow.”

This was Ryleigh’s real purpose.

He glanced for a moment with the moon in his hand, then he shook his head and pretended to be relaxed. “No, we have just bought the land in Nontlilay. We plan to build an amusement park there. Now, we are finalizing the details of the property and investigating the surrounding environment of the park.

“All things proposed are settled, I will leave more time to be with you. But in the next few days, I have to deal with the proposal first, so I will spend most of the time in my home office.”

Murray gave an apologetic smile.

Ryleigh remained silent.

She clenched her fists under the table as she chewed more slowly. As Murray finished speaking, Ryleigh nodded thoughtfully. She said very considerately, "Murray, go and do your own things. You don't have to worry about me."

After the meal, Murray got up and walked to the home office. Ryleigh stood behind him and watched his back.

Before Murray went into the home office, he stopped and turned to Ryleigh. "The project is about to start soon. Besides confirming the contents of the proposal again, there are many other trivial things for me to do. Sorry, you can have some fun on your own."

Murray said it very gently, in the way a husband would say to his wife. Ryleigh smiled and nodded. "It's fine. Murray, don't worry about me."

She walked back to the sofa and sat down. When Murray closed the door of his home office, Ryleigh glanced at it with a meaningful look.

Ryleigh picked up the phone with hesitation.

Ryleigh had just learned that the North Bay Project was going to start. It meant that she had a chance to finish the task that Sebastian had given her. And now, Murray completely believed in her.

Then, all Ryleigh needed to do was to tell Sebastian about this and steal the proposal while Murray was away...

However, in this way, Sebastian would control her more strictly in the future.

No!

Ryleigh's pupils contracted.

She must gain Murray's heart during this period of time. This was her best chance.

Ryleigh put her phone on the sofa and went to the kitchen.

Half an hour later, Ryleigh held a bowl of pumpkin soup and knocked on the home office door.

Murray replied, "Come in, please." Ryleigh pushed open the door and entered the home office. Murray was typing on his laptop.

"Murray," Ryleigh called Murray sweetly and walked to him with the bowl in her hand, "You've worked hard, but you didn't eat much at night. So I made a bowl of soup for you. Have a taste."

"Thank you."

Murray stopped what he was doing. When Ryleigh tried to look at his computer screen, he turned back to look at Ryleigh with a gentle smile.

"But I'm not hungry for the time being, Leave the soup here for now. I'll drink it later"

Ryleigh pursed her lips. Murray had been gentle and polite for the past few days. Ryleigh had missed several chances She had to succeed this time!

Ryleigh

paused for a moment and continued with a smile, "Please drink the soup now. It won't taste good when it's cold."

As Ryleigh spoke, she reached out her hands. Murray was about to refuse when Ryleigh accidentally spilled out the soup and splashed it on his clothes.

Murray frowned as he stood up and took a step back

Seeing this, Ryleigh pretended to be flustered. She quickly put the bowl aside and took a few pieces of tissue paper to clean up Murray's clothes.

"I'm sorry, I'm sorry, Murray... It was my mistake..."

"It's fine." Murray took a deep breath and shook his head. He comforted Ryleigh, "It's not your fault. I just need to get changed."

Ryleigh was helping Murray wipe the stains off. She looked worried. There was a stain left on Murray's shirt.

"Ah..." Ryleigh exclaimed softly and looked at the stain apologetically. "Murray, let me get you a clean set of pajamas."

Soon, Ryleigh came back from the cloakroom with a new set of pajamas. She reached out to help Murray unbutton his shirt, but Murray took a step back.

Ryleigh paused and looked up at him with a grievance, "Murray, why? I just want to help you change your shirt..."

"It's not what I mean."

Murray

fell silent, but when he thought of what Melissa had said, he knew he couldn't refuse Ryleigh now. In the end, Murray nodded and allowed Ryleigh to help him get changed.

As Ryleigh unbuttoned Murray's shirt, his chest was exposed. It looked strong because of his years of fitness.

Ryleigh looked down with some strange feelings. At first, she was helping Murray change his clothes. But later, she secretly touched Murray's muscles.

Ryleigh gently stroked Murray's chest as she looked up at Murray with a smile. Murray looked away without a trace.

"Murray, do you like me? Why are you avoiding me recently?"

"How could that be?"

Murray sorted out his thoughts and mood. He met Ryleigh's gaze and held her wrist.

Murray said affectionately, "I've been too busy recently. I don't want to be half-hearted when I'm with you.

"But I can't touch you now. I'd like to wait until the day we get married. You are so good to me, and how can I let you down?"

Ryleigh smiled happily and wrapped her arms around Murray's waist. She pressed her face against his chest and nodded seriously.

It seemed that Murray had completely fallen in love with her. Ryleigh believed he would marry her sooner or later.

In Houston.

In the blink of an eye, Harley had been at Nina's home for several days. Harley had the same idea as his agent. He would temporarily suppress the affair to protect Nina. When Harley returned to Aldness, he would respond to his fans and the media.

In the past few days, Harley had been with Nina day and night. He was very happy and hoped that this would last longer.

But Nina didn't think so.

During lunch, Nina thought for a moment and put down her fork. She casually mentioned to her parents, "Dad, Mom, Harley and I have been at home for too long. I still have work in Aldness. If you agree, I will go back to Aldness with him as soon as possible.”

With that, Nina kicked Harley under the table, indicating for him to support her.

Harley immediately put down his fork and showed a smile to Nina's parents. “Yes, I came here this time without telling the company. There must be a lot of work waiting for me.”

During these days, the more Kasen and Ariana got along with Harley, the more they liked him. In their eyes, Harley was a young man who was enthusiastic and flexible. Moreover, he would not let Nina suffer. Therefore, Kasen's attitude toward Harley eased a lot, and he even asked Harley to play chess with him.

Kasen and Ariana's hesitant attitude toward Nina also slowly relaxed, but they couldn't bear to part with her.

“What? You're leaving so soon?” Ariana asked with concern.

She hadn't stayed with Nina for long as Nina rarely came back home.

“I'm busy with work.”

Nina acted like a spoiled child to her mother.

Kasen put down his fork and comforted Ariana, “Nina has grown up and has to work. And Harley is a star and also has to deal with a lot of things.”

“That's right. Mrs. Paul, Nina and I will come back to visit you when we are free.”

Ariana

nodded and finally felt much more at ease. Kasen thought for a moment and then said to Nina, “Nina, Harley has been with us for so many days, but you haven't hung out. This is Harley's first time getting here. Since you are going to leave in one or two days, take Harley to the attractions in Houston after lunch. Otherwise, Harley may think that our hometown is boring.”

Harley hurriedly shook his head and kept saying sweet words,

“How could that be? Mr. Paul, I would like to play chess with you to gain more experience. Moreover, I am satisfied to be with Nina every day.”

Nina noticed her parents’ gazes and smiled, but in fact, she was absent-minded.

She just wanted to go back and visit Tom.

After lunch, Ariana urged Harley and Nina to go out and advised them to take a walk in the surrounding scenic area.

Houston was as prosperous as Aldness, and its scenery was much more pleasant.

After they left the Paul’s home, Nina had always been upset. On the contrary, Harley had been following her and enjoying the scenery. He said happily to Nina, “Nina, I haven’t enjoyed the scenery of Houston. It is much better than that of Aldness. I feel that the air here is much fresher...”

Soon, they arrived at the forest park on the outskirts. There were green trees everywhere, and some aged people were exercising.

Harley kept talking. Nina felt that he had never stopped for a single minute, which made her more upset.

“Enough.”

Nina interrupted Harley. She turned around and looked at him helplessly. There was no smile on her face.

“If you like to take a walk, you can walk around by yourself. Call me if you can’t find a way back. I’m upset now and want to be alone... Sorry.”

Nina lowered her head and walked forward silently. She sat on a stone and looked into the distance, haggard and helpless.

Hearing Nina’s words, Harley could not help but feel a sense of loss in his heart. But he could do nothing but stop talking. He saw the hill not far away and walked over.

Kasen and Ariana thought Harley was Nina’s boyfriend, but Harley and Nina knew clearly in their hearts that they were not in love at all.

Forget it. Just climb the hill, Harley thought.

He walked up bit by bit, tightly pursing his lips.

Harley finally arrived at the hillside, and his head was sweating a little. He was just about to straighten his back and take a break when he saw a person not far away.

He walked over hesitantly and found that it was an old woman who had fainted. Harley hurriedly squatted down and shook her arm.

“Ma’am? Ma’am? Wake up.”

But the woman was unconscious.

Few people came to climb the hill, and it was unknown how long the woman had been unconscious. Harley thought for a while and then turned around. He placed both of the woman’s arms on his shoulders and carried her on his back. He needed to maintain his balance at all times, so he walked down the hill much slower than usual.

The cell phone in his pocket kept vibrating. Harley gritted his teeth and held the woman’s wrists that were hanging down. He could not check his phone.

“What’s going on? Why didn’t he answer the phone?”

Nina put down her phone and murmured. She looked around and was worried.

After all, this was the first time Harley had come to Houston. Although the forest park was not big, he might lose his way as he was not familiar with it. He had not appeared for almost an hour. Was he unable to find his way?

Nina stood up from the stone. She remembered that Harley had walked in the direction of the hill in the west. So she went all the way there. From time to time, she would jog a few steps. She wanted to call Harley by his name, but she held it back.

Finally, Nina ran near the hill. She saw Harley slowly walking down the hill with difficulty. He was carrying a fainted old man on his back...

His footsteps were a little unsteady, which was a sign that he was about to be unable to move.

“Harley!”

After Nina confirmed that it was really Harley, she quickly ran over. She reached out to support Harley and helped him walk down. Hearing that the old woman fainted on the hill, Nina decided to send her to the hospital.

“Thank you for sending the patient to the hospital in time. Otherwise, I don’t know what will happen to her. We have tried to contact the patient’s family members, and they will arrive in a while. You can have a rest in the chair first.”

After the doctor finished speaking, he patted Harley on the shoulder and then entered the ward to check on the old woman.

Harley lowered his head and smiled, looking a little silly.

“It’s good. She is fine. It’s so good...”

Harley was usually careless. This time, he even ignored his work and secretly came to Houston. Nina didn’t expect him to be so kind and considerate...

There was a sudden noise in the corridor. A young man ran over in a hurry. The woman beside him was dressed decently and looked like his wife.

“Nurse, how’s my mom? Is she okay?”

The man was panting and sweating. When he saw the nurse, he grabbed her wrist and kept asking.

“She is fine now. She was put on a drip and rested in the ward,” the nurse said with a smile. She pointed at Harley and continued, “It was this gentleman who found your mother and sent her to the hospital in time. You have to be quiet. Don’t disturb the patients.”

The man breathed a sigh of relief. He turned around and held Harley’s hand. He put on a smile of relief and said with excitement, “I ... I know you! You are a superstar! Thank you so much. Thank you for sending my mother to the hospital. I ... I don’t know how to thank you...”

Chapter 386 Do You Consider Being With Him?

In a blink of an eye, it was time to film "The King Saying Farewell to His Oucen".

The actors and actresses had arrived early, including Vivian. Although she had gained some popularity, this was the first time she had partnered with Jaylin, a famous movie star. Moreover, she knew how important the film was to her company, so she did not dare to slack off.

As the president of Star Entertainment and screenwriter of the film, Melissa also went to the crew in person. When she saw Vivian, she walked over and greeted Vivian, "Vivian, are you prepared well?"

"Ah... Ms. Eugen!" Vivian was busy learning her lines. When she heard Melissa's voice, she quickly turned around and nodded. She said in embarrassment, "I've finished learning the lines, and I've practiced acting at home many times, but ... I'm still a little nervous."

Melissa patted her on the shoulder and comforted her, "Relax, Just perform normally. You have shot advertisements for many companies. I believe in your ability."

"OK!"

Vivian nodded firmly and smiled at Melissa.

She thought, I will never disappoint Ms. Eugen!

After all the staff members were in place, the log keeper shouted, "Action." And immediately, the movie was in full swing.

The first scene began. In it, the female lead played by Vivian ran backstage in the theater and questioned the male lead played by Jaylin. The scene was the foreshadowing of the climax of the film, which was a lot important.

As a pro movie star, Jaylin was familiar with all the techniques of filming. As for Vivian, although she was a bit inexperienced compared to Jaylin, she was able to put her feelings into the film. Thus, they cooperated in a tacit understanding

"Cut!"

The director sat behind the monitor and observed Jaylin's and Vivian's every move. When he saw the questioning scene, he shouted suddenly.

He stood up from his chair and said to Vivian earnestly, "Vivian, you can't let your tears flow down too early. Your mood is not proper enough. You have to be more determined. Let's shoot it again."

This was the third time the director had been dissatisfied.

Vivian could not help but be a little discouraged. When she obtained the role of the female lead in this film, she was under great psychological pressure. Now, she was called to stop by the director several times, she became more and more confused.

"Alright.."

Jaylin noticed Vivian's upset, so he said to the director with a smile, "Director, we've been filming for so long. Why don't we rest for a while and adjust our emotions?"

After the director agreed, they went to have a rest. Jaylin took the script and walked to Vivian.

"Were you in a bad mood just now?"

Vivian glanced at him, forced a smile, and shook her head.

Plantar 100 na vareneirler Dainn With Him?

Jaylin smiled and showed her the lines that he had underlined. "Actually, this part is not that difficult. The female lead was originally a calm and assertive rural girl. Even though she quarreled with the male lead, she would not be too emotional. Have you ever quarreled with your boyfriend or ex-boyfriend?"

Vivian was silent for a while and then nodded. "Yes..."

"Later, just treat me as your ex-boyfriend and imagine that I am arguing with you. You feel so wronged and angry, but you don't dare to cry. You just want to clarify the matter with me, Such a feeling should be right. Remember, you must endure the grievance. I will lead your emotions later. If you can't cry, we have eye drop. That is the last way."

As Jaylin spoke, he also gestured to Vivian to mobilize her enthusiasm.

When Vivian saw Jaylin acting like that, her bad mood was completely gone. She smiled and nodded.

"Thank you, Mr. Segar! Thank you so much."

“What are you talking about?”

Melissa walked over and sat beside Jaylin, turning her head to ask them with a smile.

Vivian said with a smile, “I had to trouble Mr. Segar to teach me about filming. I didn’t perform very well just now...”

Jaylin shook his head. “That’s not the case. Vivian is hardworking. It’s just a small hiccup. We are partners, and you don’t need to thank me.”

After that, he looked at Melissa and showed her the script. “Melissa, when I read the script, I have some new understandings about the male lead...”

Soon, Melissa and Jaylin were chatting enthusiastically and shared with each other their views on the script. They also had many similar views.

Vivian sat at the side and listened to them with interest. But soon, her eyes fixed on Jaylin.

She thought, Mr. Segar is handsome, gentle, and willing to help new actors...

I seem to like him a little.

But it is obvious that he likes Meli. They have so many common topics, will he notice me?

The thought suddenly appeared in Vivian’s mind. After Melissa appeared, Jaylin was only discussing the script and chatting with her. He did not notice Vivian at all.

A trace of disappointment flashed through Vivian’s eyes, and her smile slowly went away. After thinking for a while, she decided to leave there and go somewhere else to practice.

During the shooting in the afternoon, with Jaylin’s guidance, Vivian finished the former questioning scene smoothly. Next, she had to film a few scenes that were not that important. Jaylin was experienced and also finished his part quickly.

After works, Jaylin waited for Melissa at the door. As soon as they walked out of the sound stage, a lot of reporters surrounded them and kept taking photos, Melissa hurriedly shielded her eyes against the flashlight, while Jaylin tried to protect her and his assistant led the way.

Reporters raised their smartphones and asked.

“Ms Tegen, may I ask what expertation and views you have on the movie “The King Saving Farewell to His Queen produced by Star Entertainment?”

“Ms Eugen, I heard that Star Entertainment is planning to send this movie to the film festival. What advantages do you think it has?”

One question was followed by another, and all of them were cleverly rejected by Melissa with official answers. However, someone asked a harsh private question.

“Ms. Eugen, I heard that you have broken up with the president of the Gibson Group. What is your next plan? Mr. Segar is an entertainer in your company, and you often work together. It seems that you and Mr. Segar have a good relationship. Do you consider being with him?”

Melissa was originally calm and composed, but after hearing the question, she frowned and pursed her lips.

Melissa had never liked to talk about her private life in public.

“I’m sorry. Jaylin and I finished our work today, and I answered the questions about the movie. Now we are not going, to be interviewed. Please make way.”

Melissa said with a business–like attitude. Her tone was normal, but her eyes turned cold.

“Ms. Eugen, tell us something. Mr. Segar, please tellus...”

The reporters retreated, but they had no intention of giving up.

“Dispirited Ex of the President of the Gibson Corporation Is Enamored with the New Movie King.”

If a piece of news with such a headline was released, how much popularity it would gain!

So the reporters would not let go of this good opportunity.

“Mr. Segar, do you plan to pursue Ms. Eugen? Will you feel pressured because she is your boss?”

Jaylin stopped, and Melissa cast a puzzled glance at him.

She wondered, what is he going to say?

Shouldn't we leave as soon as possible at this time?

Jaylin cleared his throat and faced a microphone in front of him. He smiled at Melissa and then said seriously, “Although Ms. Eugen and I are now only superior and subordinate, as well as friends, I have always liked her and I am also pursuing her. As for the question you asked... it depends on when she accepts me.”

Jaylin's words were like a time bomb being thrown at a group of reporters. The reporter who received the answer fell silent, smiled, and felt quite satisfied.

The sound of cameras taking photos kept cracking.

Melissa was obviously surprised.

She couldn't help but be a little angry. She turned her head and frowned at Jaylin.

“Ms. Eugen, what is your attitude? Do you also like Mr. Segar?”

“Ms. Eugen, please answer our questions...”

Melissa pursed her lips tightly and lowered her head slightly. The polite smile on her face had disappeared. It was obvious that she was not willing to answer those questions,

Also, she could not understand why Jaylin would say those words in front of the reporters. She had seriously rejected

Chapter 387 Secret Romance?

Five days later, Julie was released from the police station.

She seemed to have changed into a different person. When she walked out of the police station, she was absent-minded. She saw her driver, but she quickly looked away after a glance. And she looked much more haggard,

As soon as Julie got home, she saw her father sitting on the sofa with a serious expression. She lowered her head to avoid looking at his face. Just as she was about to go upstairs, she was stopped by Philip.

“Stop!”

Philip’s voice was not loud, but it contained faint anger and dignity that could not be refused.

Julie stood in place for a long time before she turned around and slowly walked to Philip. She began sobbing with a grievance. “Father...”

- “Don’t call me father!”

Philip was trying to suppress his anger. He raised his head and glared at Julie. He stood up and walked in front of her. Then, he raised his hand and slapped his daughter, who had always been the apple of his eye.

He thought that Julie had been sensible all the time, but he did not expect that she would make such a big mistake.

Julie stood there in great shock. She knew that she had done something wrong, so she didn’t dare to cry out. She just covered her face, and her eyes turned red.

“Do you know how much trouble you’ve caused this time? It didn’t matter if you acted un- restrainedly at the usual time, but this time, you were sent to the police station! If I hadn’t found someone and spent so much effort to get you out, yo- u would have been in jail!”

Philip had been busy with the company’s business for the past few days. Because of Jul- ie, the stock price of his company plummeted, and the investors even withdrew their mo- ney from several projects. Thus, the company had gotten serious cash–flow problems.

When Philip scolded Julie, he was so furious that blue veins stood out on his neck. He l- ooked at his daughter, discontented with her letting him down. The anger in his heart wa- s vented, but it was useless.

Dad...” Julie’s lips trembled, and her heart was full of regret. She hated Adela, and Meli- ssa even more. If it weren’t for them, how could she have suffered so much?

“I know I was wrong, Dad, I won’t dare to do it again...”

Julie couldn’t stop crying, and her tears kept falling down her face. But Philip just snorted.

“Oo back to your room, Don’t yo out casually in the future, lest you cause trouble again!”

Julie retumed to her room and closed the door, the lay on the bed and cried sadly.

Her phone fang suddenly, she plcked it up with tears in her eyes, As soon as she turned it on, she saw the news with the headline “Star Entertainment’s President Melissa’s Underground Romance with Mr Setar”

Julie immediately became spirited,

She was contused in ter heart she thought, Melissa and Jaylin?

She frowned, her fingers sliding across the street of her phone and then she mished rea- ding the art lule that was exaggerated by the reporters.

Julie grilled hier teeth, her eyes full of anger.

She thought with hatred, Melissa, I must get rid of you! Jaylin can only be mine!

“The proposal for North Bay Amusement Park...”

in the conference room, Murray was discussing with other board members and higher u- ps how to launch the plan for North Bay Amusement Park and low to attract investment

All of a sudden, the phone vibrated in his pocket.

After another five minutes, it was time to stop discussing to organize thoughts. Murray took a sip of coffee, then took out his phone, and turned it on.

And he saw the news about Melissa and Jaylin.

Murray frowned slightly, and his fingers exerted a little more force. When he saw the words "Underground Romance", he could not sit still.

"I'll go out to make a call. Sorry."

Murray tidied his suit and briefly said to the people who attended the meeting. Then he quickly walked out of the meeting room with a serious expression.

He thought, Melissa! That woman!

"Melissa, what does it mean by the 'Underground Romance between you and Mr. Segar? Tell me what's going on!"

As soon as Melissa answered the phone, Murray could not wait to ask. Melissa could even hear the sound of him gritting his teeth.

Murray was once again jealous.

Melissa had a headache, The rumors and public opinion were widespread, and she had asked the public relations department to deal with them urgently, However, she had tormented Murray, who was prone to be jealous,

Melissa sighed helplessly. She placed the pen on the desk and explained to Murray seriously and patiently, "Those were all randomly written by reporters. I didn't say that. Don't be jealous, okay? I've already asked the public relations department to deal with this matter."

Murray had been with Melissa for a long time. So he knew what kind of person she was, but it was also human nature to be jealous. It was inevitable.

However, since Melissa had already explained it, Murray could only endure it no matter how unwilling he was.

He pursed his lips and said after a long while, "Alright.

"But," Murray narrowed his eyes and warned, "Melissa, you can only be mine for the rest of your life. Don't even think about other men! Don't even try to pay attention to another man, understand?"

Melissa was speechless.

Melissa was quite helpless about Murray's words. She couldn't help but consider Murray childish, but in the meantime, she also felt sweet.

"OK. I know. Aren't you busy with work? Just get down to your business."

After hanging up the phone, she looked at the overwhelming news reports on the screen. She felt helpless and angry. How could Jaylin say such words in front of the reporters!

"Julie, come down for dinner."

After Julie returned home, she locked herself in the room for the whole day until the maid called her to eat. Then she came downstairs.

As they were sitting face to face, Philip had a serious expression on his face. He seemed not willing to say a word to Julie at all.

Julie

silently picked up the steak with her fork and put it into her mouth. As she had no appetite at all, she was choosy when picking up the food.

"If you don't want to eat, go back to your room," Philip looked at Julie gloomily and said in a low voice. His anger had not subsided yet. How could he allow Julie to continue being willful?

"Right now, several investments to the White Group have been withdrawn. Isn't this all thanks to you? If you want to eat, just eat them obediently. Stop being high-handed! We almost go bankrupt because of you!"

Bankruptcy?

Although Julie was full of grievances, she also knew that she had indeed caused great trouble this time. So when Philip scolded her, she did not refute. But when she heard the word “go bankrupt”, her eyes suddenly widened.

How could this be? Was the White family ... on the verge of bankruptcy?

“What are you looking at? It’s because of you!”

Philip had been in a terrible fix because of the things in the White Group and Julie. If Julie hadn’t caused trouble, the White Group wouldn’t have gotten into such a mess.

The more he spoke, the more annoyed Philip became. He simply dropped his fork and stalked right on the spot.

“What are you going to do? Don’t get me into trouble anymore! We are already in a mess. Come back here!”

Seeing Julie going out, Philip shouted at Julie’s back in exasperation.

However, Julie went straight out the door,

She went to the Yale's house,

When Adela saw her, Adela was a little surprised, but soon Adela's expression returned to normal. Adela just sat on the sofa and Nipped a page of a magazine,

"Why are you here?"

Julie walked up to Adela and stared at her silently,

Although Julie hated Adela for not defending her when Julie was taken away by the police, she now had more important things to ask of Adela.

"Help me... Help my family."

Adela was a little scared when she saw Julie just now, but when she heard what Julie said, she relaxed.

Adela thought, help her? Piff.

Knowing that Julie had caused such big trouble, Adela was afraid that people would discover that what happened before was related to her if she still helped Julie.

"How?"

Julie swallowed saliva and slowly said after some deliberation, "Because I was taken away by the police, my family business has taken a nose dive. My father said that my family was almost bankrupt... Adela, I know. I know that the Yale Corporation has enough resources to help my family. Please let your brother invest in the White Group so that we can survive. You won't lose too much... Help me! Help me this time! I will say no more about what happened before. I won't..."

"You will say no more?" Adela narrowed her eyes and looked at Julie with amusement. "About what?"

Now that Julie's so-called commercial theft had nothing to do with Adela, and the police had no evidence, Adela found it hilarious that Julie was still threatening her with that.

How silly.

Julie was stunned. Her fingers tightened the grip on the cloth cover on the sofa. "Adela ... are you trying to deny it? Don't think I won't tell others the things about Ling and Star Entertainment!"

"Just say it."

Adela seemed not to care at all. Since Julie needed Adela's help for her family business, Julie would have to rely on Adela no matter what.

Adela was not worried in the slightest.

"The police have no evidence and can't arrest me. Besides, you have just been released. You don't want to go in again because of this, do you?"

Adela's casual words seemed to have cut off Julie's last hope.

"Moreover, the Yale family has been implicated by you. Why do you think I will help you? Julie, I have never seen such a stupid person like you."

Adela looked at Julie with disdain and snorted. Then the scornful smile on her face disappeared without a trace.

"People like you deserve to die.

"But that's fine if you want me to help your family." Looking at Julie's expression, Adela approached her and met her eyes. "This time, help me completely take down Melissa. Then I will consider helping your family. Otherwise, don't even think about it!"

Adela suddenly said in a serious tone. After saying this, she turned her head and began to focus on her own things, no longer looking at Julie.

Julie thought, I was in jail. The White family is on the verge of bankruptcy... And Jaylin ...

All of these are because of Melissa! She is such a slut as she used to be! She has stolen everything from me!

The seeds of anger and jealousy that were buried deep in Julie's mind took root and began to spread.

Her hatred for Melissa reached a peak.

“OK. I got it. Wait for my feedback.”

After saying that, Julie left the Yale’s house. Looking at the closed door, Adela did not take Julie’s words seriously but only sneered a few times.

After Julie returned home, she locked herself in her room again and ignored Philip’s reprimand.

She was completely blinded by hatred.

Julie kept looking for reports about Melissa on the Internet, as well as information about the movie “The King Saying Farewell to His Queen”.

Chapter 389 She Must Die

A title read, “Star Entertainment CEO Melissa personally writes the script! She is on set for eight hours a day!”

Now Melissa could be considered a new influential person. It was too easy to find something about her, not to mention that the scandal reports between her and Jaylin had almost covered the whole first page of the search engine

The title above was only seen on the first of the second page.

Julie frowned and stared at the news with full concentration, The photo of Melissa on the website was very clear. The smile on Melissa’s face made Julie feel very uncomfortable and even more jealous.

She thought, Melissa, how could you get everything that I want, especially Jaylin?

I must take you down!

“Alright, everyone has worked hard today. Let’s call it a day and have a good rest.”

Melissa had been observing the filming progress until she saw the director nod slightly. She double-checked the playback footage and only stood up after confirming that there were no problems.

The actors were also relieved, so they returned to the rest area to tidy up their things. Vivian came over to greet Melissa.

"Ms. Eugen, then... I'll be leaving first."

There was no scene of Jaylin this afternoon, so he did not appear on the set, which also made Melissa relieved.

Ever since Jaylin's words caused such a disturbance in public opinion on the Internet, Melissa could not help but feel a little embarrassed. She had not seriously communicated with Jaylin for several days. Other than on set, the number of times for them to talk to each other was very few.

Melissa recovered from her thought and smiled at Vivian, who had made visible progress recently on set. Melissa thought that, in time, Vivian would definitely become a big shot.

"Well, go get a rest. You have worked hard today."

The actors left one after another. Melissa also breathed a sigh of relief. She pinched her nose and stood up from the chair to stretch

It was time for her to go back and rest.

Early the next morning, Melissa had just washed up and was about to put on her coat before she headed to the set when the phone on the shoe cabinet rang.

"Hello?"

Melissa picked up her phone and pressed the answer button as she stepped into her shoes.

"Do you have time tonight? Shall we come out for a meal?"

It was Murray's voice

"Murray?" Melissa was a little confused. She looked at the watch on her wrist. It seemed that it was not yet time for work "Why did you call me at this time!"

"Is there a problem?" Murray's voice sounded pleasant,

Chántor 299 Chest Die

If they met privately, would Ryleigh find out?

“No, I am just surprised that you call me for dinner at this time. Wouldn't Ryleigh feel suspicious? What if she finds out that we met privately?”

“Ryleigh...”

Murray's voice was low with a bit of helplessness.

Funnily enough, they had to act like they were cheating on someone.

“It's fine. She trusts me very much now and won't pester me all the time. But she looked worried. It was probably because I told her about the proposal last time, and it reminded her of something.”

“If you're free tonight, let's go to The Wisteria for dinner. I've already booked a table. Now that she is not with us, it should be fine for us to get together.”

Seeing that Murray had arranged everything, Melissa thought that what he said was right, so she agreed immediately.

“OK. There's a scene in the evening today. I'll rush over after they finish filming. If you arrive early, just wait for a while.”

“OK.” Murray's voice carried a slight pleasure and was much gentler.

When Melissa arrived at the set, Jaylin was already rehearsing with the opponent actors with the lines. When the others saw Melissa, they would greet her.

When Jaylin heard someone call out Melissa's name, he also turned around. He looked at Melissa's face and smiled. He opened his mouth but did not say anything.

It was intentional for him to say that he wanted to pursue Melissa in front of the reporters. It was also the first time that he put the cards on the table and admitted that he wanted to strive for it.

This was also human nature.

But he found it hard to take the initiative to communicate with Melissa facing her recent attitude. In the end, he could only give her a smile.

“Everyone, thank you for your hard work. Come over for a cup of coffee when we’re done filming.”

Melissa was carrying two bags of coffee that she had specially bought.

When it was time for the break, Melissa took a cup of coffee and walked to Jaylin’s side, handing it to him, “Take this. It’s sugar-free. It won’t be a problem for maintaining your figure.”

Jaylin looked up, and as he saw that it was her, he smiled and took the coffee before he said, “Thank you.”

Melissa smiled, turned around, and was about to walk away when Jaylin stopped her.

“Anything wrong?”

“I’m sorry.” Jaylin hesitated for a moment, but he still said these words to Melissa, “When the reporters interviewed me, what I said in front of them... I was wrong, I should have considered your feelings. I’m sorry.”

Melissa was stunned. She was a little embarrassed, but she quickly ignored it and waved her hand,

“I am a little angry, but the public relations department has already gotten it suppressed. Just try not to say any misleading words in front of the media anymore. This will cause me a lot of trouble.”

Chapter 389 She Must Die

“I will.” Jaylin nodded his head as he slightly tightened his fists. After some thought, he still spat out the words that he found difficult to ask, “Then we are still good friends, right?”

“Yes.”

Hearing Melissa’s reply, Jaylin was finally at ease.

On the other side, Julie had also been thinking about how to get close to Melissa. She was now almost mad.

Could it be that only if Melissa died, the White family would be able to return to what they used to be? Would Jaylin care more about her by then?

Melissa must die!

Julie sat up from the bed. Now that Philip had gone to the company, she was the only one at home except for the servant. She went downstairs and saw the servant washing the dishes in the dining room. Then she entered the storage room on the corner of the first floor.

She remembered seeing Philip's short shotgun there before. Last month, Philip had told her that this gun was usable.

It was the best opportunity at the moment,

She found the gun in an iron box. The clip was still intact. Julie gently took it out and put it in her coat pocket. She said to the maid, "Jocelyn, I'm going out to relax. I just want to buy some food and will be back soon."

Hearing this, Jocelyn came out of the dining room and looked at her worriedly, Julie shook her head and smiled. "I'm fine. Don't worry. I won't cause any more trouble."

After coming out of the house, the smile on Julie's face disappeared in an instant. She took out her phone and found the news that she had marked. Melissa had been monitoring the set recently, right?

Then she would let Melissa know what it meant to regret for a lifetime!

"Let's go to this address. I have a friend filming there. I'm going to visit."

After getting in the taxi, Julie handed the address of the film crew to the driver. Half an hour later, she appeared on set.

"Cut! Mr. Segar did a great job this time. Helias fully shown the confusion and sadness of the male lead. The emotion in his eyes is also very good. He is really living up to his name of Best Actor!"

The director took a look at the monitor and nodded in satisfaction.

Jaylin smiled and said, "This owes to your amazing guidance. Actors and directors always complement each other."

"Just accept the praise. I have watched the struggling part with the director just now. Your acting is really good, but the next scene is the main scene where the male lead was taken away by the army. There are a few details that need to be noted..."

Melissa said with a smile. Jaylin had always been very serious about films. Melissa's words immediately attracted his attention. They sat down to the side and discussed the plot.

Many people were going in and out of the set every day, so the staff did not notice Julie's appearance.

She walked forward step by step and saw Melissa and Jaylin sitting in the corner. She could not hear what they were saying clearly.

But the moment she saw Melissa and Jaylin smiling happily at each other, she could not help but get angry.

Julie quickly walked to a place not far from them and stared at Melissa fiercely. "Melissa!"

Hearing the voice, Melissa turned her head and saw Julie's face. Melissa couldn't help but be stunned.

Jaylin was also very surprised. He asked doubtfully, "Julie? Why are you here?"

"Melissa, you slut!"

Julie said through her gritted teeth, with red eyes. Her voice was filled with hatred as well.

It seemed that she just wanted to kill Melissa as soon as possible.

"What did you say?" Before Melissa could speak, Jaylin reprimanded Julie first. He frowned at her, his eyes filled with confusion and anger.

Julie looked at Jaylin with red eyes. It was love and sadness. She was also a girl. She could tell how much Jaylin liked Melissa when he spoke to Melissa just now.

Just because Jaylin liked Melissa, Julie wanted to destroy her!

Jaylin glared at Julie and bluntly asked her to leave, "This is the filming location. Please leave now!"

There were tears in Julie's eyes. A decisive smile showed on her face reveal. She only glanced at Jaylin before turning back to face Melissa.

"You are very proud, aren't you? First, you hooked up with Murray. And now you are hooking up with Jaylin because you are dumped by Murray. You are making him your backup, right?"

"Melissa, I really can't imagine a gentle girl like you to be such a wanton woman. I really regret not tearing off your hypocritical face in front of those media reporters, I should have let them have a good look at you. The famous CEO of Slatkintertainment is such a girl with loose morals!"

Julie was now completely mad. She narrowed her eyes as she looked at Melissa. Her words were full of viciousness, and the hatred in her eyes went without saying.

Jaylin was also angry. He looked at Julie, his hands clenched into fists, and the veins on his forehead bulged. He was still suppressing his anger for Melissa.

"Julie, are you crazy?" Melissa frowned as she stared at Julie.

"Yes!" Julie shouted. At this time, many people looked over with puzzled expressions. Some people even wanted to pull Julie away, but she broke free.

"I can't figure out why a two-timing girl like you can make two men fall for you! Melissa, you're so cunning... Am I crazy? Yoali! I was kept in the police station for a few days. And my family is on the verge of bankruptcy! It is all because of you! You owe me these! Melissa, how can you still pretend to be gentle in front of outsiders? How can you?"

Julie's hair was unkempt, and her eyes were filled with hatred. Even her shouts were harsh as they echoed in the set.

She was crazy!

Melissa shook her head helplessly. She even began to feel that Julie was pathetic, but she didn't sympathize with her.

"Julie, I think you have to know one thing. You were the one who did wrong in the beginning. If you hadn't helped Adela with those things and even taken the initiative to hire a hacker to hack my company's Internet, you wouldn't have come to this point.

"As for your family going bankrupt, you can't blame me for this. It's because of you. If you didn't do those things, you wouldn't have to stay in the police station. I was just protecting myself legitimately with the law. Julie, now that things have come to this, don't you think you were wrong?"

When Melissa said this, her expression was calm, but she also knew that people like Julie were stubborn and radical. They would never admit that they were guilty.

Her words infuriated Julie even more.

Julie was so angry that she flushed and her hands were clenched into fists, trembling slightly. Caught off guard, she took out the short shotgun from her pocket and aimed it at Melissa. She closed her eyes and screamed, "Go to hell!"

Melissa's eyes widened. Had Julie really gone mad?

"Be careful, Melissa!" Jaylin reacted almost instinctively and rushed to hug Melissa.

The surrounding staff was also in a mess, and the security guards rushed over.

Bang!

Blood dyed Jaylin's clothes red. There were deep red marks on his back, and they were still spreading.

This sudden situation stunned Melissa

Jaylin actually took the bullet for her.

Melissa looked worriedly at Jaylin's pale face.

There was blood seeping out of the corner of Jaylin's mouth, but he was still concerned about Melissa's condition. "Melissa, are you alright..."

"I'm fine. I'm fine, Jaylin... hang in there! An ambulance is coming! Call an ambulance!"

Melissa's hand trembled slightly. Julie also looked at Jaylin in disbelief, she never thought that Jaylin would block a shot for Melissa Julie completely collapsed.

The security guards quickly ran over to hold Julie's arms and dragged her out. Just now, someone had made an emergency call to the hospital.

Fortunately, the set was not far from downtown. About ten minutes later, someone ran in and said, "The ambulance has arrived. It's parked at the door!"

As soon as he finished speaking, a few medical workers ran in. They quickly carried lavi in onto the stretcher, Atelissa also had a worried expression on her face as she followed them into the ambulance to the hospital.
