Chapter 401 He Knows Everything

The phone rang a few times. Sebastian looked at the few photos that popped up on the screen. He opened them one by one and confirmed that it was North Bay's proposal. Only then did he nod in satisfaction,

He looked at Ryleigh, and she was instinctively shocked again. She looked at Sebastian in horror, not knowing what he was going to do.

However, Sebastian just smiled and patted her cheek. "Why didn't you just give it to me earlier? Next time, learn to be good and don't think about using your tricks to fool me.

"Alright, get out. Remember, don't let Murray find out. Otherwise ... I don't have to remind you again, do I?"

Ryleigh was extremely nervous right now. Just now, her heart beat so fast. She quickly nodded, took a few deep breaths, and got out of the car. She watched the car leave, but her hands and feet were still cold. Her back was almost drenched in a cold sweat.

Sebastian had been staring at the photo on his phone while he was in the car. A determined smile appeared on his face.

Murray, haven't you always been very confident?

I want to see how you will compete with me this time!

Sebastian closed the page of the photo and dialed the number he saw just now. After the call was connected, he put it beside his ear and said, "Hello, are you Mr. Blevins? I am Sebastian from the BPL Group."

"Oh, Mr. Lawford, hello, nice to..." A flattering voice came from the other side of the line.

Sebastian raised his eyebrows and inadvertently turned to look at the street view outside the window. "I heard that Mr. Blevins is the material supplier for North Bay Amusement Park of the Gibson Corporation, right? I wonder if you have time today. Let's meet each other? I also have a business deal to talk to you about."

Ryleigh was absent-minded all the way back to the apartment, and she was afraid. Even when she arrived at the gate, she had the urge to escape.

She would always think of the scene when Murray saw her in the study that day.

What if ... Sebastian did something to Murray? What if Murray knew that she stole the proposal?

Ryleigh didn't even know how she entered the room. Her palms were covered in a cold sweat.

Murray was not in the living room.

Ryleigh let out a sigh of relief for no reason. She quietly walked into the living room and found that the door of the study was half open. Murray was sitting at the table, holding the outline of the proposal she had found that day.

Ryleigh froze on the spot, her heart beating fast, she forced herself to calm down and raised her hand to knock on the door.

"Murray."

"Lily." Murray looked up and saw that it was her. He smiled and gently beckoned Ryleigh over. "Have you tried the ring? How do you feel?"

Ryleigh saw that Murray's expression did not change at all, and she could not help but feel relieved. She snuggled up to Murray and said obediently, "The ring is very beautiful, and the size is suitable for me... Can you come with me next time, Murray?"

"Alright." Murray rubbed Ryleigh's shoulder a few times. "There is a new project in the company. When the work is finished, I will definitely spend a few days with you."

"Okay."

Ryleigh smiled, and the tension in her heart was dispelled. She looked up at Murray and asked tentatively, "Murray.... Since we're about to get engaged, when are you going to take me back to the old house to see Mr. Marc? When we get married, we need to have the blessings of our elders... Moreover, they could pick a good date for us. It shows we respect their opinions.”

Ryleigh’s voice grew louder and louder, but she still couldn’t help glancing at Murray.

She tried another way to let his guard down.

The head of the Gibson family was Marc. If he didn’t agree, then she wouldn’t be able to truly enter the Gibson family. Ryleigh knew this very well.

She did not mind trying to please an old man.

Murray paused for a moment and patted her shoulder comfortingly. “Grandpa is old and has just been discharged. He is now recuperating in the old house and does not want anyone to disturb him. We’d better not go. Moreover, I have already decided on the date of the engagement ceremony. It will be on the 18th of this month. There are still a few days left. You can take your time to arrange anything you like.”

“18th?” Ryleigh was not worried about whether she could see Marc. Her eyes lit up.

Seeing Murray nod, she smiled brightly. She affectionately held Murray’s arm. “Then I must make a good plan. This is our most important day!”

“As you wish.” Murray smiled indulgently. “Alright, I still have some things to do. You go watch TV now. When I’m done, I will come to you.”

At a restaurant.

“Mr. Blevins, it’s a deal. I’ll wait for your good news.”

As a private room door opened, Sebastian walked out. Behind him was a middle-aged man who looked very shrewd. He was in his thirties and was smiling, Sage Blevins was the one that Sebastian had just contacted in the car. He was the supplier for the Gibson Corporation’s amusement park to provide construction materials.

When Sage heard this, he gave a significant smile. “Don’t worry, Mr. Lawford. As long as the BPL Group is sincere enough, I will definitely handle things for you.”

Sebastian politely shook hands with Sage. When the man left, his face revealed a confident and cunning smile.

If North Bay Amusement Park was built with some fake materials that could not reach the standard of buildings, then there would be an accident...

The Gibson Group and Murray would never be able to stay in Aldness.

At that time, everything that the BPL Group wanted would be easy to get.

In the afternoon, Murray arrived at the company on time to deal with documents and attend the video conference

After the meeting, he closed his eyes, pinched the bridge of his nose, and leaned against the back of the office chair to rest. He heard a knock on the door and replied briefly, "Come in."

Alex walked in. He walked to the desk and said to Murray, "Mr. Gibson, it's just as you thought. Mr. Blevins has already told me about the matter. Sebastian has taken action."

Murray smiled. His eyes were as sharp as a hawk's. He knew that Ryleigh had stolen the information. It was to let Sebastian take the bait.

"Alright, keep an eye on Sebastian. Tell me everything he does." Murray revealed a sneer on his face as if he was about to succeed.

After Alex left, Murray turned his head and looked at the clouds outside the window. He muttered, "The show is about to start..."

Chapter 402 Coming for You

"Jay, how do you feel today?"

As soon as Melissa entered the ward, she saw that Jaylin had woken up. He was holding a book in his hand. It was a prose book

"The doctor said that I might have to stay under observation for a while, but I think I'm already better..."

When Jaylin saw Melissa, he unconsciously put the book to the side and said sincerely.

He was now lying in bed all day, feeling like a mushroom, unable to go anywhere or move at will. He troubled Melissa to come to the hospital to see him.

More importantly, he wanted to leave the hospital soon and formally ask Melissa what her answer was.

“Melissa, how’s the progress on the set now? I remember that I still have several important scenes that I haven’t filmed yet. I’m worried that if this goes on, it will slow down the progress of the movie. If it can’t make it to the film Festival after the release, it will be terrible.”

Jaylin frowned at the thought of the movie and his tone was anxious.

Melissa had already told the director that while Jaylin was in the hospital, they should try their best to finish filming the parts that did not have the male lead’s scenes. However, just these scenes alone would take almost half a month to complete.

The most important thing now was Jaylin’s health.

“I’ve already made arrangements on the set. You don’t have to worry. They will finish filming the scenes without you first. It will be time enough for you to recuperate in the hospital. Moreover, when you go back, most of the scenes you shoot are not related to fighting. It doesn’t matter.”

Melissa comforted him softly. Just as the nurse came in to check the room, she asked a few more questions about Jaylin’s injury.

“But I still want to go out for filming,” Jaylin said truthfully. He was an artist and had his professional ethics. “This was an accident. If I keep making everyone wait for me, I’ll feel bad.”

“It doesn’t matter. Now that everyone knows your situation, you don’t have to worry. Just rest and get well.”

Melissa had been running back and forth between the hospital and the company for the past two days. Jaylin also knew how busy she was. Although he wanted to return to the set, he could not let her worry, so he could only nod.

At the Aldness airport.

A tall and slim woman pulled her suitcase out of the airport. The moment she reached the bottom of the stairs, she took a deep breath and removed the sunglasses on her face, revealing a smile.

Anaya was now Lillian.

“Melissa, I am back.”

She knew that Jaylin was currently staying in the hospital. On the way back, the radio station program played in the taxi was talking about Jaylin.

As soon as she thought of Jaylin, Lillian could not help but smile. She went to the hospital and asked which ward Jaylin was staying in

As a result, as soon as she walked to the door of the ward, she found that the door was half-open and there was

Lillian secretly looked over and saw that Melissa was sitting next to the bed peeling fruits for Jaylin and Jaylin was also looking at her with a smile.

It seemed that Jaylin’s feelings for Melissa had not changed at all since she left...

However, the more she noticed this, the more furious Lillian became. Her gaze slowly cooled down. When she saw that the woman was about to leave, she instinctively hid to the side. After Melissa left, Lillian looked at her back and clenched her fists.

Melissa came out of the hospital and wanted to drive back to the company to take a look

As a result, after driving for a few minutes, a slender woman came out of nowhere. She held a phone in her hand and looked very anxious. By the time she noticed the car honking, it was already too late,

“Ah!”

Melissa widened her eyes and hurriedly stepped on the brakes.

Fortunately, it stopped.

Just now, she had watched helplessly as the woman was hit. Though she had stepped on the brake in time and should not have caused any serious injuries, it was inevitable for them to bump.

Melissa hurriedly opened the door and got out of the car. As a result, she saw the woman that had fallen in front of the car and she had a scratch below her right knee.

“Hiss...” The woman frowned and looked very pained. She unconsciously gasped and wanted to reach out to touch the wound, but she froze and could not move.

"I'm sorry. I'm sorry. I didn't do it on purpose. Come. Let me help you up." Melissa quickly apologized to the woman and carefully helped her up.

Because of the injury on her leg, the woman was limping when she walked, but she only smiled and did not seem to mind.

"It's okay. I was just on the phone quarreling with someone else... I didn't notice that there was a car coming over. I was also wrong."

Melissa heaved a sigh of relief. This woman spoke gently, and she did not look like a person who would pester her.

"I know a nearby hospital. I'll send you there to bandage it. After all, I hit you."

"Then ... thank you very much." The woman smiled at her. Her voice was also very soft. "But it shouldn't be a big deal. I think it will be fine after bandaging it. You don't have to worry."

Melissa smiled. She didn't know why, but she felt that this woman's eyes were familiar, but she couldn't remember where she had seen them before.

They soon arrived at the hospital. Melissa was supporting the woman all the way. When the nurse bandaged the wound on the woman's leg, they sat on the bench in the corridor.

"Are you okay? Do you want to check for injuries on your body again?"

"No, there is no need." The woman was stunned for a moment. She suddenly looked at the wound on her leg and quickly shook her head. She smiled and looked at Melissa. "You are really kind. You are beautiful and gentle. There must be many people who like you, right?"

Chapter 403 Mysterious Identity

in the blink of an eye, half a month had passed.

Jaylin was slowly getting better, and he had started to memorize the lines again. Melissa still went between her company and the hospital every day.

Nina and Tom had not seen each other since last time. Although Nina would still go to the hospital to visit him, there was a great sense of alienation between them. They were even polite toward each other when chatting.

When Tom was cooperating with the treatment, he would take some time out of bed to walk and exercise every day. It was said that this was more beneficial to the recovery of his nerves.

On this day, Luca pulled out the silver needles on Tom's right leg and kept them in his bag. He said to Tom, "Well, the injury on your leg has basically healed. You paid too little attention to your health back then. So, this is the best I can do. Come here and walk to the ground. Just have a try and see whether you're comfortable with it."

Tom had also been thinking about the problem between him and Nina for the past few days. He began to wonder if he had been too extreme and stubborn before, causing the two of them to reach this point today?

Perhaps the result would be different if he had chosen a different path back then?

Luca's words made Tom come back to his senses. He looked at the middle-aged man in front of him and smiled gently. "Thank you very much for what you've done for me recently, Dr. Hanson. Thanks for your efforts to treat my leg. I know it can't return to normal and I understand everything you said."

Luca shook his head and slowly said, "You shouldn't thank me. You should thank your girlfriend and Melissa. If it wasn't for the two of them coming to beg me, I might not have come to Aldness to save you."

When hearing Luca mention Nina, Tom's eyes could not help but darken for a moment before he regained his spirit.

"Yes, she is very good to me, but that is in the past..."

Just as Luca was about to say something, Melissa and Nina pushed the door open and walked in. When Melissa saw Tom sit up from the bed, she put the new bouquet on the bed and asked, "Tom, how do you feel today?"

Tom heard the voice and turned around. When he saw Nina, he was stunned for a moment. In the end, he smiled.

His feet slowly touched the ground. He managed to support himself, and tried to move forward.

Right now, Tom's right leg had almost fully recovered. However, when he walked forward, he was still a little limp. But as long as his walking speed was not fast, no one would be able to see that.

Nina was surprised and happy. Her eyes could not help but turn red. She had always been looking forward to the day Tom would get better.

She covered her mouth. If this had been in the past, she would definitely have gone forward and hugged Tom. But now, she could only stand beside Melissa. Her gaze never left Tom. She sincerely smiled and said, "Tom, you have finally recovered..."

I'm so happy

Nina did not say this. When Tom walked up to her, he also stopped. His throat moved, but he did not say anything.

Seeing this, Melissa turned to look at Luca, who was packing his things. "Luca, what are you doing?"

"Melissa." Luca stood up and walked to her "Now that his leg is almost healed, I have tried my best. It is impossible to completely recover, but at least it won't affect his normal life. After helping you all, I have to go back to Jade Mountain."

Mountain."

"Are you leaving so soon?" Melissa was a little surprised. Nina also noticed them and walked over to Luca. "Dr. Hanson, why do you go back in such a hurry? You cured Tom's leg. I haven't thanked you properly yet."

"There's no need. I've booked a flight for tomorrow afternoon. I'll head back now."

Nina still wanted to say something but was stopped by Melissa's signaling with her eyes, so she could only give up.

The next afternoon, when Melissa and Nina went to the airport to see Luca off, Melissa still seemed worried. In the end, she still couldn't hold back and asked Luca, "Luca, can you tell me who Rachel is?"

She had wanted to ask Luca this question for a long time, but due to his emotions, she had not asked it.

If she didn't ask today, she was afraid she wouldn't have a chance.

When Luca heard Melissa ask about Rachel again, he pursed his lips and said to Melissa after a long silence, "In fact, it's no big deal and I can tell you anyway. Rachel is your youngest aunt, an old friend of mine."

Aunt?

Melissa frowned; this was the first time she had heard this word from Luca.

Moreover, hadn't her parents died? How could she have other relatives? And she had never heard Luca mention this before.

It seemed that Rachel really had something to do with her. As for whether or not Rachel was her aunt, Melissa was not sure.

But this news was enough for her to be surprised.

Melissa instinctively grabbed Luca's arm and asked anxiously, "Aunt? Luca, you said that Rachel is my aunt? Why haven't you told me about it before?"

Luca was silent. Melissa quickly thought about it. Rachel had a good relationship with Luca. If Rachel was her aunt, then Luca might have known her parents.

Just as this thought came to her mind, Melissa asked, "If ... if that's the case, then do you know my parents, Luca? How did they die? Could you tell me?"

Melissa was a little emotional. After so many years, the only news about her parents could make Melissa like this.

She really wanted to know what had happened that year and what had happened to her lost memories.

Melissa's voice became louder and louder. There were already some passers-by looking over. Nina was afraid that someone would recognize her and let Melissa fall into public opinion again, so she held Melissa's hand tightly and comforted her with a frown, "Melissa, calm down a little... We're at the airport. If you have anything to say to Dr. Hanson, say it quietly..."

Luca frowned and looked at Melissa. After a long while, he sighed and lowered his eyes slightly, only using the shortest sentence to brush it off.

"Sorry, I really don't know much about your parents."

“But...”

Melissa obviously did not believe Luca's words. Just as she was about to continue asking, the airport's broadcast suddenly sounded, indicating that there was half an hour before the flight to White Mountain would take off and

After coming out of the airport, Melissa had been depressed. When he drove back to the hospital, she still seemed worried.

Nina sat next to Melissa and had been paying attention to her expression. Nina frowned slightly and comforted Melissa, “Maybe Dr. Hanson has a reason to do this too. Don't worry. One day, you will know about your parents. Don't be in a hurry.”

“But...” Melissa frowned, her tone was a little anxious, and there was also an unconcealable sense of loss.

She had always been curious about her parents, but Luca had never told her anything about them. Now, she finally had some clues, but it was cut off.

She suddenly stopped. In the end, she just sighed. Luca was already on his way back to Jade Mountain. If she continued to interrogate him like this, the result might go against her wish.

It was better to forget it.

The two returned to the hospital. Nina pushed open the door and walked in. She saw that Tom had already put on his coat and was sitting by the bed. The bedding on the bed was also neat.

Nina was a little puzzled and unconsciously asked, “Tom, where are you going?”

Tom heard the sound of the door opening and turned around. He looked at the two women who came in and nodded with a smile, "You are back."

Facing Nina's question, he paused for a moment. Although he was still not used to talking to Nina now, he should slowly get used to it.

He crossed his hands and thought for a moment. "Now that Dr. Hanson has left, my leg is almost healed... Thank you for the efforts you spent on me recently. However, I think that if I stay in the hospital any longer, I really won't be able to walk"

When he said this, Tom smiled shyly. It could be seen that he really wanted to make a joke to brighten the atmosphere

"Are you going to leave the hospital?" Melissa also smiled. In fact, Tom's meaning was already very obvious, but Nina ... obviously did not want to stop the relationship.

Tom nodded.

Sure enough, Nina became anxious. Although she promised to break up completely after Tom recovered, she was still a little reluctant at this moment.

"What are your plans for the future?"

Rationality was always greater than sensibility. In the end, Nina restrained her impulse and looked at Tom worriedly.

Tom pondered for a moment and said, "I've thought about it. I still want to go back to the mountainous region to en there had a hard time receiving proper education. They should study well. Moreover, I have developed feelings for the children there. I haven't seen them for such a long time, and I still miss them."

The light in Nina's eyes extinguished. She was still a little reluctant in her heart, yet she still nodded. However, there was a hint of disappointment in her tone.

"If that's the case... Then watch out along the way. You must take care of the injury to your leg."

Get Borut

Tom hesitated for a moment and nodded, "Alright, you ... I wish you and Harley a happy life."

He still couldn't forget the news about Harley proposing to Nina when he cooperated with the treatment. Although he couldn't say that he was still brooding over it, it was still impossible for him to completely put it down.

Nina was stunned. The smile on her face slowly disappeared and she nodded.

"OK... I'll go out and get some fresh air."

She turned around and slowly walked towards the door. However, after a few steps, she felt dizzy and fainted.

"Nina, Nina!"

Tom shouted anxiously. He did not care whether he could walk normally and hurried to Nina's side. He picked her up and shouted a few times. Seeing that Nina did not respond, he carried her to the bed and rang the bell at the bedside.

Melissa also did not know why Nina suddenly fainted. She could only gently push Nina's arm and shout, "Nina, Nina, quickly wake up!"

Not long after, the doctor rushed in. Melissa and Tom quickly moved aside and asked the doctor to check Nina.

When Nina woke up, Melissa and Tom were nervously standing by the bed, worried about Nina's condition. The doctor moved the stethoscope away and turned to Tom with a smile.

"Congratulations, congratulations. I just checked her. There is nothing wrong with her body. But she seems to be pregnant. Congratulations, young man. When she is slightly better, you can go to the gynecology department and have a specific check."

The doctor naturally recognized Tom and Nina as a pair. As for Nina, she widened her eyes, completely not knowing what to say.

She ... she was pregnant?

Her hand slowly covered her lower abdomen. She looked down in disbelief. Melissa was also stunned. She seemed to not dare to believe her ears at all. She looked at Nina for a long time before saying a word.

"Nina, you, you are pregnant?"

Harley had to know this.

But in the next second, Melissa looked at Tom. She still remembered Tom's reaction just now. She could see that he still had feelings for Nina. When he heard this news...

After the doctor left, Tom did not say anything. He just looked at Nina in a daze, but his eyes were almost empty. After the tension faded, he was overshadowed.

“Tom...”

Nina was still in the shock that this news brought her. She glanced out of the corner of her eye and saw that Tom was about to leave. She almost immediately reached out and grabbed his wrist.

She wanted to explain, but nothing came out.

“I... I have been here for so long. It is time to go back. I have already bought a flight ticket. Since you are pregnant, take a good rest first. I will go out for some fresh air.”

Tom stopped and only turned around after a long time. He forced a comforting smile. Then he gently pushed Nina’s hand away and left the ward.

Chapter 405 Keep the Baby or Not

“What? What did you say?”

Harley shouted in surprise. He had been upset these days, but it was only because Nina had been avoiding him. But now, Tom was telling him that Nina was pregnant.

Harley clearly remembered that it was Nina’s first time in the hotel that night, so...

A thought slowly formed in his heart. Harley couldn’t help but widen his eyes, and the expression on his face soon turned into joy.

Tom frowned. He didn’t know what Harley meant. Was it possible that Harley didn’t want to be responsible for Nina?

Thinking of this, Tom was even more serious.

Tom said in a harsh tone, "Yes, Nina is pregnant. You guys are together, right? Since she's pregnant with your baby now, I hope you will be responsible for her. Don't hurt her."

With that, Tom hung up the phone. The corridor was empty, and he slightly raised his head and exhaled.

It was time to put an end to it.

Nina grabbed Melissa's wrist with some worry. Nina could believe that she was pregnant. She did it once with Harley when they were in the hotel. How could...

How could she become the heroine of a drama?

"Melissa, what should I do..." Nina covered her stomach with her hand and looked at Melissa helplessly. Besides, she was more worried about Tom's feelings.

"If Tom knows about this, will he..."

When Melissa heard this, she quickly patted the back of Nina's hand and comforted Nina, "Alright, alright. Don't be afraid. Take care of yourself first. I'll go out and take a look."

After saying that, Melissa put Nina's extended right hand back into the quilt, went to the corridor, and turned to Tom.

"Have you really decided to go back to the village to teach? Nina doesn't want to see you go."

"Well... Things are settled now."

Tom shook his head and gave her a helpless smile.

Things couldn't go back after a choice was made. What was more, he did a lot of thinking these past few days, and he had made up his mind. Perhaps he and Nina were just from two different worlds.

Even if they did get together in the future, they may still fall apart.

He turned to look at Nina in the room through the window and said to Melissa, "My mind is made up. I'll go back to the village. And I have just called Harley. Since the two of them are together, Harley should be responsible for Nina and her baby. Help me take good care of her."

Melissa was silent for a long time, but she still nodded. She knew that once Tom said this, she didn't need to say anything more.

After the call ended, Tom's voice kept ringing in Harley's mind. Nina was pregnant!

Harley was dizzy. He was still in great shock. However, what followed after the shock was joy and relief, because his dream was about to come true.

After he came to his senses, he hurriedly put on his coat and drove to the hospital. He almost ran into the ward and did not even have time to greet Melissa who was outside the door.

"Nina ... Nina, are you pregnant?"

Harley, who rushed in, startled Nina. Harley's eyes flashed with joy, and there was a big smile on his face.

He spoke so loudly that he adjusted his voice so as not to frighten Nina.

Nina was stunned and looked at Harley in disbelief. Her fingers slowly grasped the quilt. "Why are you here?"

Harley went to her side and sat down. He tried to hold Nina's hand that was outside the quilt and said sincerely, "Tom called me... He told me you were pregnant, so I rushed over. Why didn't you call me about it?"

Nina could not hide the disappointment in her eyes. In the end, she only lowered her eyes, turned her head slightly, and slowly pulled her hand out of Harley's hand.

"So, it was him who told you... I only just found out about this now. I... To be honest, I'm not ready for this. I don't know how to be a mother..."

Harley paused for a moment and retracted his hand, but he quickly adjusted his mood.

Since Nina had his baby, he must be responsible for her.

"I didn't expect that I would become a father so quickly as well. But don't worry. Now that you are pregnant, I will be responsible for you and our baby. I will marry you."

Nina's whole body shook, and her eyes avoided him even more. Although she thought of Harley differently now, she couldn't forget about Tom easily.

"No..."

She still shook her head. "I'm not ready. Besides, you and I have no emotional foundation at all. I... I don't want the baby."

Nina took a deep breath and mustered up her courage to tell Harley her decision. Unexpectedly, Harley was stunned for a second and then shook his head firmly. "No! You can't have an abortion. I am his father, and I also have the right to decide. Also, the operation will harm your body. Give birth to the baby, and I'll raise it."

Harley's voice was extremely firm. He said those words passionately. Meanwhile, Melissa came in. When she heard the conversation between the two, she could not help but frown.

After thinking for a while, Melissa stepped forward to persuade Harley, "Harley, it's a big deal. I'm sure Nina is very afraid now. What happened between you two was just an accident... But I understand. You should come back later. Don't talk so much to her now."

Harley turned to look at Melissa, clearly wanting to say something but hesitating.

He wanted Nina to keep the baby, but he also knew that Melissa was Nina's best friend. Now, besides letting Melissa persuade Nina, there was nothing more to do..

After a moment of silence, Harley nodded. "Then . Meli, help me persuade Nina. I'll leave now."

After Harley left, Melissa looked at the absent-minded Nina lying on the bed and could not help but sigh. Melissa sat beside Nina and said honestly

"Nina, what you said just now was too impulsive"

"Let me think about it."

Nina was silent for a long time. She did not agree with what Melissa said, nor did she object. She didn't want to face it now she was in a mess right now and needed some time.

Melissa understood. She briefly instructed a few things about Nina's health before leaving

In the blink of an eye, it was the 12th). It was only six days away from the engagement date Murray had set.

Ryleigh had been in a good mood recently. After she gave the picture of the proposal to Sebastian, he didn't call her anymore.

At first, Ryleigh was uneasy. She was always afraid that Murray would find something wrong, or that Sebastian deliberately would tell others about her purpose of being with Murray. But over time, she put down her vigilance and concentrated on the engagement.

Now, almost everything was arranged for by Ryleigh.

She was beaming, just waiting for the day when she could be Mrs. Gibson. However, although she was happy to marry into a rich family, Ryleigh was very confused and even a little depressed about something.

It was Murray's attitude.

Murray had always been very kind and gentle to Ryleigh, but that was all. Every time Ryleigh wanted to have sex with him, Murray would always avoid her for various reasons. He even seldom touched her.

Over time, Ryleigh was getting suspicious.

She did not believe that she couldn't turn Murray on.

That night, Ryleigh deliberately took a set of sexy silk lingerie and went to Murray's bedroom, taking a bath in his bathroom.

With the sound of water splashing, Ryleigh casually took a shower, thinking about what expression Murray would have when he saw her.

She heard the sound of the door opening and closing. Someone walked in.

When Murray returned to the apartment, he found that Ryleigh was not in the living room, and there was a faint sound in the bedroom,

When he entered the bedroom, he heard a clear sound of water and even the sound of a woman singing,

Murray frowned, but he still tentatively called out, "Lily?"

ME

After a while, the sound of water stopped. The door to the bathroom was pushed open and Ryleigh came out wrapped in a big white bath towel, wiping her wet hair with the towel in her hand. Water dripped down her hair.

"Murray, you're back..."

When Ryleigh saw Murray, she smiled shyly.

Murray only glanced at her and quickly looked away, but only for a moment, and then he looked at Ryleigh's face.

"Lily, why are you here?"

Ryleigh smiled and slowly walked towards him. Her face flushed with the mist. "I am waiting for you."

"Alright, put on your clothes. Don't catch a cold."

To Ryleigh's surprise, Murray was not tempted at all. He wanted to get the robe on the bed and put it on Ryleigh, but Ryleigh grabbed his wrist.

"Murray, I bought a new perfume today. I wanted you to smell it when you came back, so I took a bath here..."

Ryleigh looked at her. She tiptoed and whispered in Murray's ear, "You won't blame me, will you?"

"Of course not."

Murray held Ryleigh's hand. Just when Ryleigh was glad and thought that Murray was finally going to have sex with her, he moved her hand away from his clothes.

"I was just worried that you would catch a cold. What's more, you have never entered my bedroom before. It was just a little strange, but I don't blame you."

"Murray..." Ryleigh looked at Murray and frowned as if she had been wronged. She looked down and leaned on Murray.

Her slender arms wrapped around his neck Ryleigh used almost all her seduction skills. The fragrance greeted Murray's nose. She had specially bought the perfume for today.

However, Murray just looked away, as if he hadn't seen her graceful body and slightly revealed breast. He tried to move Ryleigh's hands away.

Ryleigh hurriedly said, "Murray... You have rejected me many times, but we are going to be engaged now. I am willing."

The hint in this sentence could not be more obvious, but since Murray already knew her purpose and had the plan with Melissa, he would not let Ryleigh succeed.

"Come on, Lily."

Murray took a step back and raised his hands slightly to avoid touching Ryleigh's body.

Finally, he held Ryleigh's shoulder with both hands and completely kept her off his body. The two of them were a few steps apart.

Ryleigh looked at him in confusion. Murray smiled gently and raised his hand to stroke Ryleigh's cheek. He helped her tidy her hair and said softly to her.

"Lily, I know what you mean. But you are not in good health right now, and just like you said, we are going to be engaged soon. At that time, we will be a legitimate couple and I will give you whatever you want."

Murray spoke reasonably, but Ryleigh didn't believe it at all. She couldn't wait to become the legitimate Mrs. Gibson. Only if she had sex with Murray would her wish come true.

"It's late now. You should go back and rest."

To Ryleigh, this was the order to leave. The smile on her face faded and the light in her eyes dimmed. She was so disappointed, but she took her clothes and turned to leave.

In the hospital.

Jaylin's injuries were almost healed. while Melissa took care of him, the doctor had come to check on him many times.

Chapter 407 Is It a Coincidence or Not?

Melissa avoided the reporters' many questions. Fortunately, there were not as many reporters as last time. After a short while, they got into the nanny van and rushed back to the filming site.

Jaylin heaved a sigh of relief after getting into the car. "I was caught unprepared when I saw them."

Melissa smiled. "Fortunately, the filming set was not open to the public, and the security management there was strengthened. Everyone will be very happy to see you go back."

"Let's go back to the company first. You have just recovered. You still have to take good care of yourself. You can go back to the film site in a few days."

"Don't worry. Let's go to the set directly. I miss them very much. Also, I can't delay it for too long,"

"It doesn't matter..."

"Melissa, I am an actor. After all, filming is my job. Working overtime is not a big deal."

Seeing that Jaylin was so insistent, Melissa could not persuade him anymore.

They chatted along the way. Everyone knew that Jaylin was coming back. Several staff members had gone to pick him up at the entrance. Jaylin walked into the filming site, raised his hand, and greeted the staff and other actors.

"Hello, everyone. I'm back."

"Jay, welcome back."

"Jaylin, do you feel better now? Don't you need more rest?"

"Mr. Segar, you are finally back. Without you on set these past few days, we seem to have lost something. How is it now? Are you okay?"

In the face of everyone's greetings, Jaylin smiled as he patiently answered them one by one. Melissa stood beside him and said to everyone, "Jay is better now, but he just left the hospital today. Why don't we let him go back to the hotel to rest for a day and start shooting tomorrow?"

Everyone nodded at Melissa's suggestion, but Jaylin refused.

"No need." He shook his head and said to Melissa with a smile, "I have been lying in the hospital for a few days, and the doctor said that I can also start working normally. How about starting now?"

"But you..."

Melissa was still a little worried and Jaylin even gave a comforting look.

"It's okay. The shooting process has fallen behind a lot. We'd better hurry up, so we can finish before the film festival."

Vivian, in the crowd, looked at Jaylin with a smile. She liked Jaylin.

Although she was disappointed when she saw Jaylin and Melissa together, she knew that she was not as good as Melissa. There was no doubt that people always liked the outstanding one.

"Okay, let's get to work!"

The director called out to everyone, and they started filming.

Get Boys –

Though Jaylin had his solo scenes, he still had more scenes with Vivian. When Jaylin was not around, Vivian also had a great improvement in her acting skills working with other people.

What's more, she and Jaylin were acting as a couple who were not together by accident. Love was of course the most important.

Jaylin relied on his acting skills, while Vivian was more realistic.

Almost every emotional scene required eye contact, or the female lead needed to look at the male lead. Vivian was acting, but she was showing true feelings.

Therefore, they cooperated very well.

After two hours, Jaylin found it unbelievable. After they finished one scene, he smiled at Vivian and praised her sincerely.

"Vivian, I didn't expect your acting skills to improve so quickly. You have impressed me so much."

Vivian was a little flattered. Soon she lowered her head and smiled, saying modestly, "Recently, I have been acting with other people in the group. They have also taught me a lot so it seems that my efforts have not been in vain."

Jaylin laughed. During the shooting just now, Melissa had been sitting behind the camera with the director, studying every actor's movements and gaze, as well as their lines.

Vivian's improvement was obvious, and the way she looked at Jaylin might not be acting at all.

When she saw Jaylin and Vivian chatting, Melissa walked over and said with a smile, "Vivian, you have made great progress. You cooperated so well with Jay. You will be the best actress one day."

"Thank you, Melissa. I will work hard!"

Vivian was overjoyed and even bowed to Melissa. Seeing this, Melissa smiled and hurriedly waved her hand,

"We're friends now, and you're serious about acting. There's no need to be so polite."

"Ah..."

Melissa suddenly thought of something. Turning around, she faced all the staff who were either busy or resting. She clapped her hands and said loudly.

"In order to celebrate Jay's recovery, tonight, I will invite everyone to eat at The Wisteria!"

"Nice!"

Everyone cheered in unison. The atmosphere of the set was extremely cheerful..

In the evening, the staff and actors who were still there went to the Wisteria in groups of two or three. Melissa had made a reservation. After all, it had been a long time since the shooting started, and they had never dined together.

But no one noticed that there was a woman near the set.

It was Lillian.

Ever since she ran into Melissa last time, she had been paying attention to her. As for the set of "The King Saying Farewell to His Queen", she had found out where it was, and about the huge event tonight.

Chapter 408 Something wrong with This Woman

Melissa looked at the woman and quickly responded with a smile.

“What a coincidence, Lillian. Why are you here?”

Lillian turned to look outside and said, “I asked someone to eat here. I didn’t expect you to be here too. Did you come with a friend?”

Melissa shook her head and said, “As the boss, I treated everyone to dinner.”

“Great.” Lillian laughed. She looked at Melissa and then took out a delicate lipstick from her bag and handed it to

Melissa

“Here you are. You don’t mind, do you?”

Melissa looked at the lipstick and couldn’t help but be a little puzzled.

“I like to use this lipstick abroad. It is plum. Your skin is white and it should suit you well. Please take it as a gift. Thank you for sending me to the hospital last time. I originally wanted to give it to you whenever I saw you. I didn’t expect it to be so coincidental.”

After saying that, Lillian even winked playfully.

“Ah, this is just...”

Melissa looked at the lipstick and still felt that it was not appropriate to accept such a gift for no reason. Just as she was about to refuse, she was pushed back by Lillian.

“Please take it. I told you that I would treat you as a friend. Alright, I’ll be going out first. My friend is still waiting for me.”

Lillian smiled and turned to leave.

Melissa looked at her back and frowned slightly. She didn't know why, but she felt that Lillian was a little too enthusiastic. Although she came back from abroad, she didn't have to be so generous to a woman she just met.

For some reason, she opened the packaging of the lipstick and opened the lid.

The red plaster spun out, and there was a strange smell. It was different from the perfume or the normal scent of lipsticks.

Melissa was stunned. She smelled it again and couldn't help but frown. She thought of something and scraped off a bit of the plaster with her nails, rubbing it on the silver necklace around her neck.

And she washed off the stain on her hands.

"Melissa, what took you so long? The director and the others have played two rounds."

When Melissa returned to her seat in the dining hall and sat down, the colleague beside her started talking to her happily. Unexpectedly, after more than half an hour, the colleague could not help but call out when she saw Melissa's necklace.

"Melissa, did you rub something on your necklace? Why did it turn black?"

Melissa looked down and saw that the silver necklace had turned black. Her heart sank.

It seemed that there was a problem with the lipstick.

Melissa laughed and replied, "Maybe it was dirty just now. It's fine. I'll go back and clean it up. Sorry, I'll send a

When no one was paying attention, Melissa took out her phone and sent a message to Annie, "I recently met a woman called Lillian. She just came back from South Korea. Help me to have an investigation of her."

The other side quickly replied, "Got it."

This meal did not end until nine o'clock in the evening. Although the doctor had repeatedly warned Jaylin that he should not drink too much, he was still drunk. Half of his body was pressed against Melissa.

"You guys go first. I'll drive him back."

After saying goodbye to her colleagues, Melissa finally stuffed Jaylin into the passenger seat and drove him back to the villa. She took out the key from the pocket of Jaylin's coat and opened the door, half dragging him into the bedroom.

"Melissa..." Jaylin's face was flushed red from the alcohol. He unconsciously opened his mouth and muttered. The strong smell of alcohol hit Melissa's face, she paused for a moment and moved him to the bed.

She suddenly felt relieved. She just wanted to go to the refrigerator to see if there was any yogurt. She did not expect that the man would grab her wrist when she turned around.

"Melissa..."

When Jaylin saw that the woman beside him was Melissa, he grabbed her hand and placed her hand on his chest.

"Melissa, I like you ... Don't go. Don't leave me, okay? I like you; can you be with me? Murray, he, he is not worthy of you..."

It was probably because of the wine that Jaylin spoke chaotically, but Melissa could hear it.

She frowned and wanted to break away from Jaylin's hand, but she did not expect Jaylin to grasp her tighter and tighter, and his words became more and more presumptuous.

Melissa gritted her teeth and struggled to free her hand. She directly pulled aside the quilt and covered Jaylin with it.

"You drank too much. Have a good rest."

After she said this, Jaylin muttered a few more words, but Melissa did not care about it at this time. After the mess just now, she was very embarrassed. She felt that Jaylin's feelings for her were a very troublesome matter.

Melissa had just let out a sigh of relief when she glanced at Jaylin with worry. Jaylin soon fell silent and he was probably asleep.

She felt relieved. Just as she walked out of the bedroom, she heard the phone ring in her pocket.

Melissa took out her phone and saw that it was from Murray,

"Murray, what's wrong?"

"Where are you? Why aren't you at home?" Murray asked in a serious tone.

"Well..." Melissa deliberately lowered her voice.

"Today, Jay left the hospital. I took him to the filming site. In order to celebrate, we dined together at the Wisteria tonight. Are you at home?"

"Yes."

Murray frowned as he looked at the news broadcast on the TV. It was reported that Jaylin left the hospital together

Chapter 409 It Was Her

"She does not know."

Murray said coldly. He could smell the strong scent of wine on Melissa and could not help but frown.

"Did you drink?"

He was very unhappy right now. It was only because Melissa had come into contact with Jaylin. In the hospital, Jaylin had made Murray very dissatisfied. Moreover, Melissa had spoken so softly just now, and it seemed that she hadn't just come out of the hotel.

Melissa was stunned for a moment. She didn't know why, but she suddenly felt a little guilty and nodded. "Yes ... everyone was too happy, so we drank some."

She walked over to Murray and was just about to say something when the man pulled her wrist and sat beside her.

Murray was close to Melissa. As long as he slightly leaned over, he could kiss Melissa.

However, he did not.

Murray just leaned closer to Melissa's left shoulder and quickly looked up. "It's not the perfume you usually use... Where did you go?"

When Melissa saw this, she knew that the man was jealous.

She could only tell the truth. "Jay was drunk. I sent him back to his house... But when you called me, I was about to go out and come back."

It was Jaylin again!

This was not the first time Murray had heard this name from Melissa. He could not help but become angry. His dark brown pupils flashed with a bit of ruthlessness. He directly pulled the woman into his arms, pinched her chin, and kissed her fiercely.

Melissa had experienced this kind of scene many times, but every time it came to be unexpected.

However, she quickly accepted all of this and took the initiative to wrap her arms around Murray's shoulder in an attempt to kiss him. They soon fell on the sofa. Murray kissed down along Melissa's cheek. He even left a faint kiss mark on her neck and collarbone.

The woman's graceful body trembled under the touch of Murray's palm. What sounded in Murray's ear was Melissa's murmur.

"Murray, Murray... be gentle..."

There was an atmosphere of ambiguity. Melissa's broken words were more like adding fire to the wood. Her clothes hung half over her body. Murray gently sucked and kissed her earlobe. His hand also went around Melissa's back to undo the buckle of her underwear.

"Don't..."

It was unknown whether it was because of drinking or desire, Melissa's face was so red, but she still wanted to stop Murray in a low voice.

Murray knew what she meant. He hooked his index finger and slowly stopped. They chatted for a while before Murray got up and hugged Melissa.

Murray gently bit her earlobe. "Meli, I don't like you to get too close to Jaylin. I am your boyfriend. I hope you can consider my feelings..."

"Alright, I know what I'm doing. Don't worry."

When you like someone, you would feel insecure. Melissa held Murray's finger and lowered her head slightly, speaking in a soft voice.

She thought of something and turned her head to Murray, "I recently met a woman called Lillian. When I went to the hospital to visit Jaylin, I almost bumped into her while driving..."

"What?" Murray was a little surprised, and then he began to ask Melissa about the matter.

Melissa couldn't help but laugh. She shook her head and comforted, "I'm fine. At that time, I sent her to the hospital. She said that she came back from abroad and didn't have any friends. Tonight, when we were eating at The Wisteria, I met her. She gave me lipstick and said that it was a gift."

The smile on Melissa's face slowly disappeared, and she untied the necklace on her neck for Murray to see.

"But there is poison on that lipstick. I think this woman might want to harm me."

"Harm you?" Murray frowned, and his expression changed. When he saw the black marks on the silver necklace, his frown deepened.

"Are you OK? Do you need me to send someone tomorrow to protect you?"

Melissa patted the back of Murray's hand comfortingly, "Don't worry, I'm fine, and I figured it out early. Moreover, I've sent people to investigate who Lillian is."

Murray breathed a sigh of relief and nodded, but he was still a little uneasy.

It was at this time that Melissa's phone rang.

It was a call from Anthony.

"Ada, I found out that Lillian is Anaya Knowles."

Melissa immediately frowned. She couldn't believe it. Anaya? Didn't she fall off the cliff? Murray had been paying attention to Melissa. When he saw Melissa frown, he felt something was wrong. He gestured with his lips, "What's the matter?"

Melissa looked up and saw Murray's expression. She deliberately controlled her emotions and said, "Alright, I got it. Let's talk about it later. I still have something to do here."

After hanging up the phone, Melissa looked at Murray with a serious expression, and there was a hint of helplessness in her tone, "Lillian is Anaya."

“What?” Murray was also surprised. He could not believe that Anaya was still alive. “Didn’t she fall off the cliff back then? How ... How is she still alive?”

Melissa chuckled. At this time, she suddenly sighed. She did not expect that after such a long time, Anaya would come back. Perhaps this was bad karma.

“I don’t know. Maybe she was lucky. When she fell from such a high cliff, she was able to save her life. However, when I saw her, she looked completely different.”

Murray pondered for a long time and couldn’t help but ask worriedly, “What do you plan to do next?”

Chapter 410 Abortion?

“Alright, I got in.”

Melissa could not help but laugh. She repeatedly promised Murray and even turned around to kiss him on the forehead. “This way, you will be relieved, right?”

During these days, Nina had been staying at home. She did not want to stay in the hospital, even if she knew that she was pregnant, she could not accept this fact for a while. Sometimes, she even had insomnia.

It was the third day that she had been depressed.

She had not been pregnant for too long, and her lower abdomen had not yet straightened out, but every time she put her hand on it, she would think of a baby in her belly.

A baby that appeared unexpectedly.

Moreover, Kasen and Ariana did not know about this matter. If they knew about it, they would be furious again.

Nina covered her head, and she felt that she was a little crushed.

Helpless, she called Melissa,

Melissa hurried to the hotel and saw Nina sitting by the window with a haggard face. She frowned and walked over worriedly, asking, "What's wrong? Nina, are you feeling unwell?"

Nina shook her head and held Melissa's hand as she sat to the side. After pondering for a long time, she lowered her head and looked like she wanted to say something. Under Melissa's repeated questioning, she slowly said.

"Melissa... I think I should abort this child. It was just an accident. The birth of this baby may be a burden for Harley and me. There shouldn't be any child who wants to be in a single-parent family after birth. I have thought it through. After the operation, I will go back to Wyvernholt."

"Are you going back to Wyvernholt?" Melissa couldn't help but be a little surprised, but she was more worried. She knew that Nina was very tangled up with this child recently, and her mental state was not very good, but she hoped that Nina would seriously consider it.

"Nina..."

Melissa was somewhat hesitant. She knew that she should not interfere in others' choices, but she also did not want to see Nina continue like this.

"Why don't you think about it again? After all, surgery is very harmful to the body... And Harley is the father of this child. He should have the right to know. I think Harley is good. Although he is younger than you and sometimes has a temper, he is still very responsible. Last time in the hospital... You can see it."

These words were said after careful deliberation. After Harley had talked to her many times, she could see the sincerity and determination of this man. She also did not want Nina to miss someone good to her after experiencing a failed relationship

"But I still like Tom..."

Nina knew what Melissa meant. She also knew that Harley was indeed very good to her, but she just couldn't get over this hurdle in her heart. Tom had left for a few days, but she would still think of him sometimes.

Looking at Melissa's eyes, Nina shook her head and sighed. "I haven't thought it through yet. I can't let go of Tom, and this child..."

Get Boys – Melissa took a deep breath. She knew what Nina was worried about, and this was indeed human nature. She patted the back of Nina's hand and said softly.

“Alright, I know what you are thinking, but you have to think about this matter. Look at the dark circles around your eyes. You must have not had a good rest for a long time. Lie down, and I will accompany you here.”

“Yes.”

Nina nodded and lay down on the bed. Melissa carefully covered her with the quilt and sat by the bed. After the woman on the bed let out a steady breathing sound, she was sure that Nina was asleep.

Melissa quietly hid in the bathroom and made a call to Harley. She lowered her voice and said, “Harley, I’m Melissa. I’m with Nina now. She wants to abort the child and go back to Wyvernholt.”

Harley was filming and had just finished a scene when he received the call from Melissa.

When he heard Melissa’s words, he instantly became nervous, “Abortion? Meli, where are you? I’ll be right there!”

“I’ll send you the address of the hotel. If you have time, come over quickly. Nina was just coaxed to sleep by me. Hurry up.”

After hanging up the phone, Harley quickly received a message from Melissa. He tightened his grip on his phone and ran over to the director. He said earnestly, “Director, I have some urgent matters and need to leave. I’ll be back soon after I’m done!”

When the director saw Harley’s appearance, he thought that it was not good to reject him, so he nodded and said, “OK, remember to come back soon.”

The moment Harley saw the director nod, he could not wait to run to the parking lot. He just waved his hand and promised from afar.

Harley drove the car very fast all the way and soon he arrived at the hotel where Nina was staying. He pushed the door and rushed in.

“Nina!”

Nina had woken up at this time. Her sleep was very light, and it was very difficult for her to sleep for more than half an hour.

While she was talking to Melissa, she saw Harley running in. His forehead was covered with sweat. As soon as Nina saw him, her eyes became hesitant and even a little cold.

“Why are you here?”

Harley slowed down and rushed to Nina’s side. He half-knelt on the ground, grabbed Nina’s hand, and pleaded, “Nina, could you think about the child again? It doesn’t matter if you can’t accept me. I can wait, but the child is innocent. Moreover, it is not good for your health if you go for surgery.”

Nina frowned. Melissa had walked out of the door at this time. Nina’s eyes were somewhat evasive. In fact, she was also hesitating.

Should I keep this child?

However, in the end, Nina broke free from Harley’s hand. She said to Harley, “Harley, you know about us... It was an accident, including this child. And I don’t like you. Even if you told me that you would be responsible for me and this child, the baby would not be happy if he saw that he was born into such a family in the future! I have thought it through. I will go to the hospital tomorrow to make an appointment.”

“Nina!” Harley was a little anxious and could not help but shout.
