Chapter 531 Engagement Ceremony (1)

“It is really so troublesome for a celebrity.” Vivian rubbed her neck and asked, “By the way, was the clerk just now your friend?”

“What?” Arno was puzzled.

“When we were running, she even greeted you.” Vivian blinked.

Arno wanted to laugh and weep all at once. He couldn't help but reach out and pinch Vivian's cheek

“What are you doing?” Vivian, whose cheeks were being pulled, spoke rather vaguely.

“Just now, you directly dragged me out. The clothes and my card are left in the store. Even your clothes have not been paid for.”

As he spoke, Arno pointed at Vivian's clothes that still had tags.

Vivian lowered her head and looked at the tags, extremely embarrassed.

“Then, what should we do? Should we go back and get them?” Vivian asked, her face awkward.

Arno said helplessly, “I'll contact the workers in the mall and ask them to send our things to the parking lot.”

Vivian looked up at Arno, and then both of them laughed at the same time.

Suddenly, Vivian felt that such an experience was pretty good.

Ever since Ryleigh returned to Aldness, she had never gone out because it was inconvenient for her to show up. But Sebastian was helping her investigate Melissa.

Therefore, Melissa had encountered a lot of trouble recently. Such as, a flower pot was suddenly thrown down from a high altitude on her way... Melissa always encountered such dangers.

Melissa took the first two accidents as coincidences. But as time went by, Melissa couldn't help but become suspicious. All of these things seemed to be coincidences, but it seemed like someone was deliberately targeting her. Who could it be?

Melissa was worried about her safety. Therefore, she asked Anthony to investigate these matters. However, she did not expect that Anthony would tell her a surprising piece of news two days later. "Meli, Ryleigh seems to be the mastermind. I found her today. She is hiding in Sebastian's villa now."

"What?" Melissa frowned unconsciously, but she was still calm. Had Ryleigh returned to Aldness? Ryleigh had just escaped from prison. Why did she come back?

Listening to Andrew repeat it over the phone, Melissa was silent for a while before saying, "I see. Please keep an eye on Ryleigh for me."

"Okay. By the way, Ryleigh came back and colluded with Sebastian again. Maybe she wants to take revenge on you and Mr. Gibson. You have to be careful."

Anson reminded Melissa kindly.

Melissa said in a gentle voice, "Got it. Thank you."

After hanging up the phone, the more Melissa thought about it, the more uneasy she felt. Moreover, Melissa thought she must tell Murray that Ryleigh had come back. Thinking of this, she called Murray to inform him about this matter.

Murray couldn't help but become serious. He said, "Well. Our engagement ceremony will be held tomorrow. If Ryleigh appears, I will ask people to pay more attention to her. Don't worry about it. Just prepare to be my bride."

Melissa nodded, hoping that nothing would happen.

At nine o'clock in the morning the next day, at the venue of the ceremony that Murray had reserved, many people were busy arranging flowers and balloons, as well as the little dolls that represented the bridegroom and the bride. Everything was proceeding in an orderly manner.

However, there were also many new faces on the scene. They were specially arranged by Alex in case Ryleigh would suddenly appear on the scene and cause trouble.

Murray felt that Ryleigh was not in a good mental state.

Although Murray was a little worried, he was not afraid of Ryleigh. He just didn't want anything to happen to ruin his engagement ceremony. He looked down at the watch on his watch and smiled quietly.

“Mr. Gibson, everything is ready.” Alex came over and reported to Murray.

Murray gave the venue a quick look and nodded. He seemed to have remembered something, and he went to do it.

“It’s the first time I’ve seen such a grand engagement ceremony.” The two waitresses were arranging the tables while whispering.

“Why don’t you take a look at who is engaged? It is Murray.”

“I’m so envious. When can I find such a handsome and rich fiancé?”

“You? Maybe you can have one in your dream...”

The two waitresses were chatting and laughing. Just as they were about to carry the trays away, a person came out of nowhere and bumped into their shoulders.

“I’m sorry. Are you alright?” The waitresses were startled. One of them hurriedly bowed and apologized. But when she looked up, she saw a face wrapped tightly. The waitress was stunned.

However, the person followed her collar and ignored the waiter. She lowered her head and continued walking forward.

“She is so strange.” The waiter looked at the person’s back and whispered.

Just at that moment, Alex and Murray walked over and called the two waitresses away.

As for the other protagonist of the engagement, Melissa was preparing in the dressing room.

Melissa sat quietly on the chair and looked at the mirror in front of her. She couldn’t help but show a gentle smile.

“Ms. Eugen, you are so beautiful today.” The make-up girl, Fiona Leavitt, stood next to Melissa. Her eyes fixed on Melissa’s cheeks as she carefully put on makeup for Melissa.

“Did I not look beautiful before?” Melissa teased Fiona gently, causing Fiona to be at a loss.

“I didn’t say it. Don’t frame me.”

Hearing Fiona's words, Melissa smiled. Fiona was young, and Melissa liked to tease her.

Fiona pouted her lips and looked at Melissa like a spoiled child, which made Melissa laugh more happily

Fiona ignored Melissa's teasing. After checking Melissa's makeup, she carried the dress over for Melissa

"Ms. Eugen, it's time to get changed."

Fiona's eyes were bright. This dress was custom-made. It was very beautiful and exquisite. Fiona couldn't wait to see Melissa put it on.

Melissa nodded slightly and took the dress. Her fingertips gently stroked the dress, her eyes full of gentleness.

"Ms. Eugen, don't just stand there. Go and change it."

Fiona couldn't help but reach out to push Melissa. Melissa shook her head helplessly and followed Fiona into the changing room.

Outside the dressing room, Fiona took out her phone and was about to take a few photos when Melissa came out. However, the door of the dressing room was pushed open. Fiona turned around and saw that it was Murray.

"Mr. Gibson..." Fiona was a little surprised. Murray signaled Fiona to keep quiet. Fiona immediately covered her mouth and pointed to the changing room behind her.

Murray nodded. Seeing this, Fiona sensibly walked out of the dressing room.

"Miss Leavitt, please help me plait my hair..."

Not long after, Melissa pushed open the door of the changing room, only to see Murray in front of her and pressed it in disbelief. However, nothing happened.

“That’s impossible!” Ryleigh screamed crazily.

“You are so noisy.”

Melissa snorted coldly. She raised her hand and slapped Ryleigh on the face again. She used all her strength and made Ryleigh stagger.

Seeing this, Murray held Melissa’s hand and looked at her palm. Then, he reached out and rubbed her red fingertips.

“She’s so hard. It hurts so much.” Melissa pouted and acted like a spoiled child. Murray immediately pulled her into his arms.

“You don’t need to slap her in person.” Murray gently said as he pinched Melissa’s fingertips and kissed her gently.

Ryleigh, who was on the ground, was holding her cheek, looking at the remote control in disbelief and constantly muttering, “Impossible.”

All of a sudden, Ryleigh raised her head and saw Melissa looking down at her with a smile.

“How is this possible? How is this possible?” Ryleigh trembled slightly, her face full of disbelief.

Why?

Sebastian gave her the most advanced bombs. How could there be no reaction at all?

“Otherwise, how could you sneak in and even find my dressing room?” Melissa’s words gave Ryleigh a heavy blow.

Melissa and Murray had long noticed Ryleigh’s action. Murray wanted to deal with Ryleigh once Ryleigh appeared, but Melissa stopped him.

Melissa would completely make Ryleigh disillusioned.

“You tricked me! You tricked me!” Ryleigh’s eyes widened, and her ferocious expression was extremely terrifying.

However, Melissa made an innocent expression. She spread out her hands and said, “I didn’t trick you. I just wanted you to be sober.”

What Melissa said completely provoked Ryleigh. Ryleigh screamed and got up from the ground, wanting to attack Melissa. The bodyguard waiting at the side directly grabbed her.

“Take her away.” Murray tilted his head and really did not want to see Ryleigh anymore.

“Melissa! You bitch! I curse you! You will die a horrible death! You will die a horrible death!”

Ryleigh, who had been dragged away, was still unwilling and cursed Melissa loudly. A bodyguard quickly blocked her mouth.

Melissa heaved a sigh of relief and thought, finally, I got rid of this troublemaker.

She glanced at Murray and smiled.

Fiona, who was at the side, was scared by what happened just now, and only recovered after a long time.

Fiona glanced at Melissa and stepped forward. “Ms. Eugen, your hair...”

Looking at the long hair hanging loosely on her chest, Melissa shook her head at Fiona. “Leave it at that. It looks pretty good.”

What happened just now did not cause much of an effect. The engagement ceremony went smoothly.

At eight o'clock in the morning, the engagement ceremony began on time.

The melodious music sounded, and all the guests in the banquet hall stared at Melissa and Murray.

Melissa held Murray's arm and came on stage.

At the ceremony, everyone gave their blessings. Seeing the envious eyes of the surrounding people, Melissa smiled sweetly.

“That's great.” Marc, who was sitting at the side, showed a gratified smile.

“After all, Melissa is my granddaughter!” Enoch nodded, his face full of pride. “She is smart and beautiful.”

“Murray indeed has good taste.” Marc couldn’t help but tease Enoch.

Looking at Murray and Melissa, Enoch couldn’t help but say, “Humph! He is really lucky.”

“Don’t say that Murray is useless.” Marc glanced at Enoch. Then, they started to argue about this matter.

Melissa and Murray walked over.

“Grandpa.”

Melissa threw herself into Enoch’s arms and acted like a spoiled child.

“You know to come to see me? I even thought that you had forgotten me.” Enoch lovingly stroked Melissa’s head, his face full of love.

“Grandpa, how can you say that? I am going to be angry.” Melissa snorted.

“Well Grandpa won’t say it anymore.” Enoch touched Melissa’s forehead and smiled. He then turned to look at Murray.

Murray nodded politely at Enoch.

Enoch coughed lightly and said, “Murray, if you dare to bully my granddaughter, I will not let you off. Do you hear me?”

“That’s right. If you dare to bully Melissa, I will teach you a lesson.” Mare, who was standing at the side, chimed in. He was on a united front with Enoch.

Melissa laughed and cast a sly look at Murray,

Murray looked at Melissa and said seriously, “I will cherish her for the rest of my life.”

Melissa pursed her lips, smiling happily.

Marc and Enoch nodded in satisfaction.

However, when they were in a happy and harmonious atmosphere, some people were scheming

Sarah was in the corner. She stared at Melissa and let out a cold snort. She was thinking about how to deal with Melissa in her mind.

Claire put on an unhappy expression. She turned to look at Adela, who was sitting on the sofa, twisted her skirt, and walked over.

“It’s just an engagement. What is Melissa so proud of?”

What Claire said provoked Adela. The knuckles of Adela’s fingers that were holding the glass turned faintly pale.

Adela bit her lower lip, her poisonous gaze falling on Melissa, wishing she could immediately rush over and tear Melissa apart.

Adela thought, sooner or later, I will snatch Murray back!

Melissa was not familiar with some of the people who came to give their blessings. She didn’t want to stay with Murray and forced a smile, so she found a place to relax.

Just as she was hesitating about whether she should eat a small piece of cake, a familiar voice came from behind her.

“Melissa...”

As soon as she turned around, Melissa saw Jaylin standing behind her with a faint smile.

“Congratulations.”

Although Jaylin congratulated Melissa, his hand hanging by his side tightened. No one knew how much courage he had used to congratulate Melissa with a smile.

“Thank you. Didn’t you say you had a job today? I thought you wouldn’t be able to come.” Melissa nodded to Jaylin.

Melissa blinked. She seemed to see something and broadened her smile.

Jaylin looked at Melissa's smiling face in a daze. But the next second, Murray appeared and wrapped one arm around Melissa's waist. The two of them leaned together intimately.

Jaylin could not bear to see this scene and his fingers holding the wine glass trembled slightly.

Murray seemed to have just noticed Jaylin at the side. His gaze swept indifferently across Jaylin's face and left, holding Melissa's hand.

Melissa nodded at Jaylin. Jaylin watched her leave and finally lowered his eyes. A bitter smile appeared on his face.

Jaylin wanted to leave, but he just couldn't take another step.

His heart was filled with bitter feelings.

He had loved Melissa for three years.

But today, Melissa was engaged to another man.

Jaylin was going to lose her completely...

Jaylin drank down his alcohol in one gulp.

Murray held Melissa's hand and brought her to the dance floor. With the soothing music, Melissa put her hand on Murray's shoulder and they started to dance.

"Mr. Gibson, you haven't invited me to dance yet," Melissa tilted her head and winked playfully

Murray replied with a gentle pinch on Melissa's waist, making her smile.

When she looked up, Melissa saw the engagement rings on their hands and felt like dreaming

Melissa remembered when she first knew about the engagement.

And she recalled vividly when they first met.

They hated each other at that time.

Since then, she and Murray had been through a lot of things and fallen in love. Now, they were finally engaged.

She looked up at Murray and happiness filled her heart.

Being in love with the person who loves you back was really good.

Melissa and Murray danced in step. They were made for each other.

Suddenly, there was a sound. Melissa turned around and saw brilliant fireworks blooming in the sky.

“What is this?” Melissa was startled.

“You said that you would like to have flowers blooming in our engagement ceremony.” Murray raised his eyebrows. All his tenderness was saved for Melissa.

“Thank you.” Melissa looked at Murray in surprise. She had not expected that Murray would prepare these for her.

She did not even expect that Murray would remember such small things she said.

Thinking of this, Melissa pulled Murray out.

The fireworks lit up the night sky and Melissa’s face. She was beaming with a smile.

“Murray, look, it’s so beautiful!”

Melissa pointed at the sky and turned to look at Murray. The cracking of fireworks was so loud that Melissa leaned closer to Murray.

Murray forgot himself and pulled Melissa into his arms. “Melissa, I love you.”

“I love you too.”

Under the brilliant fireworks, they hugged and kissed.

Looking at them, Adela’s hands clenched into fists.

Melissa!

This shameless slut! How could she be with Murray?

Fortunately, they are just engaged, not married. I still have a chance!

Adela was seething with anger. One day, she would snatch Murray away!

She must get this outstanding man in the end!

The engagement ceremony drew to a perfect close. Murray and Melissa returned to their villa.

As soon as he entered, Murray impatiently kissed Melissa, as if he wanted to rub her into his body.

Before Melissa could react, Murray pressed her against the door.

Melissa melted in the kiss.

Her arms, like water plants, wrapped around Murray's neck. Melissa started to kiss Murray back.

Encouraged by Melissa's response, Murray kissed her even more fiercely.

They were so close that Melissa was immersed in the masculine scent of Murray. Melissa's mind was blank and her heart beat faster. Her body temperature was rising.

After an unknown period of time, Murray finally ended this all-consuming kiss.

"Murray..."

Melissa could not catch her breath. She pressed her hands against Murray's chest and softly murmured his name.

Murray gently pinched Melissa's jaw. The tips of their noses touched and their hot breath blended together. His hand slowly climbed up Melissa's spine, gently and intimately

"Shall we?" Murray's dark eyes were filled with desire.

Although Murray was burning with thirst, he still stopped himself in time and asked Melissa for her opinion.

Melissa buried her head in Murray's neck.

Originally, she had wanted to save their first time until the wedding night.

But now they were engaged.

Melissa did not want Murray to suffer. When they slept together, Murray had to take a cold shower every night.

Being both nervous and expecting, Melissa nodded with a red face and softly replied, "Okay."

Murray immediately carried Melissa to the bed.

He had waited too long for this moment.

Murray carefully placed Melissa on the large silver bed. He leaned forward and placed his hands beside Melissa's body. His deep gaze fell on her face.

"What are you looking at?" Thinking about what was about to happen, Melissa's heart was pounding.

Murray lowered his head and his low and hoarse voice sounded in Melissa's ears, "You are so beautiful today, my wife."

Wife...

Melissa's face turned even redder.

Well, she actually loved Murray to call her wife.

Melissa subconsciously licked her lips.

Murray could no longer resist the temptation.

He instantly sealed Melissa's lips.

She was as sweet as ever, and Murray felt like an addict.

Gradually, Murray was no longer satisfied with her lips. His hands reached into Melissa's clothes and wandered around her body...

Melissa trembled under his fingers.

Murray's sexy lips left her lips and moved to her chin, her neck, her shoulders ... all the way down...

A wonderful, indescribable feeling filled Melissa's entire body.

She bit her lips and tried to push Murray away. "No... Stop..."

Murray held her down and said in a low and hoarse voice, "Be a good girl, don't resist."

Both of them forgot themselves.

The night breeze was gentle, and moonlight filled the room. The lovers twisted on the bed and the sounds they made could make anyone blush.

The next morning.

Melissa opened her eyes, but she did not see Murray at first sight.

When she tried to get up, she felt soreness all over her body.

At this time, Murray came out from a bath and only wrapped a bath towel around his body. Melissa blushed at the sight of love bites on Murray's body.

"Good morning." Murray stepped forward and kissed Melissa's hair.

"Why don't you put on your clothes?" Melissa buried her face in the quilt.

Seeing Melissa like this, Murray chuckled, "Why so shy? You saw every part of my body last night."

Now that Murray mentioned last night, Melissa became even more bashful and smashed a fist toward Murray.

Murray grabbed Melissa's fist and kissed her. "I made breakfast. Would you like to try some?"

Hearing this, Melissa did not immediately get up. Instead, she buried her face in the quilt and smiled slyly at Murray.

“Murray.”

Melissa said with a drawl.

Murray looked at Melissa, wanting to see what her trick was this time.

Melissa lazily stretched out her arm and looked up at Murray with a smile. “Carry me over. I am too tired to walk.”

Melissa looked like a naughty fox.

Get Scous

Seeing that Murray stood still, Melissa sat up and revealed her fair and tender skin under the quilt.

“Are you trying to seduce me?” Murray pushed Melissa onto the bed.

With her head leaning against the bed, Melissa stretched out her arms and wrapped them around Murray, pulling him closer to her. She deliberately leaned close to his ear and whispered, “If I say...”

However, before Melissa could finish speaking, Murray held her head and kissed her. His lips were soft, but his kiss was wild. Murray gently bit Melissa’s lower lip as a punishment.

– Melissa was going to drown in his eyes.

“Don’t you know the consequence?” Murray knew that Melissa was deliberately seducing him. He whispered in a hoarse voice.

“I am not afraid.”

Melissa pressed her finger against Murray’s lips and made a silent gesture. Then, her fingertips traced his cheek to his eyes and eyebrows.

Murray narrowed his eyes and allowed Melissa to do everything she wanted. He enjoyed it when Melissa showed intimacy.

Murray raised his head slightly and looked at Melissa obediently. He seemed to be looking forward to what she was going to do.

In front of Melissa, Murray could always show his softest spot.

But Melissa moved slowly as if she wanted to get on Murray's nerves. With the move of her fingertips, Murray's breathing became heavier.

Just as Murray reached out to stop Melissa, Melissa nimbly slipped out of his arms and winked at him. "I'm hungry. Let's go have some breakfast!"

Her soft hair brushed past his fingers. Murray felt the lingering feeling and looked at her gently.

The breakfast was simple but delicious. Melissa was energetic again after breakfast.

While Melissa was eating, Murray had already dressed up and walked down neatly. When he saw Melissa huddling in a chair with bare feet, he frowned.

He didn't notice that Melissa ran over barefooted.

Noticing Murray's gaze, Melissa swayed her legs and propped her face up as she looked at him. "The floor is covered with a carpet."

Murray saw Melissa's straight and slender legs. He walked over and carried her to the sofa.

Melissa exclaimed, clinging to Murray.

"If you dare to do this again, I promise we will spend the next month at home." Murray threatened, reminding Melissa of the soreness of her body.

Although teasing Murray was fun, Melissa suddenly realized that she could not bear the consequences. She changed the topic.

"Okay, okay. I am wrong. Where are we going?"

Although they were just engaged, Melissa still asked Murray to take her out, like enjoying a honeymoon.

"An island on the Aegean Sea," Murray replied.

Melissa's eyes lit up. She had long wanted to go on a vacation on an island, but she had never had a chance.

At the thought of this, Melissa was already impatient and rushed back to the room to pack the luggage.

“I’ll go pack my luggage right away. We’ll leave in a minute.”

Back in the room, Melissa looked at her phone and found that there were many congratulatory messages about her engagement. After making a few simple replies, Melissa could not help but put on a happy smile.

The Aegean Sea was a famous tourist attraction. The island they were going to visit was a private asset of the Gibson Corporation.

After all, Murray did not want anyone else to disturb them, but Melissa felt that it would be too boring, so they chose another island in the end.

Murray had already arranged their itinerary in advance. After Melissa packed her luggage, they headed to the airport.

There was still some time before boarding, and Murray was dealing with a sudden emergency at the company. Melissa felt a little bored, so she took a stroll.

Just as she left the departure hall, someone grabbed her clothes.

“Mommy, where did you go?”

A tender voice came from behind. Melissa turned her head and saw a boy standing behind her.

When he realized that he had stopped the wrong person, his serious little face became even stiffer.

“Boy, did you get lost?” Melissa squatted down and looked at the delicate boy, her heart softened.

However, the boy shook his head and said very seriously, “No, my mommy got lost.”

Melissa couldn’t help but laugh. She reached out to pinch the child’s face and said with a smile, “Follow me to the reception to look for your mother, okay?”

The boy thought for a moment and was about to nod when Murray walked over. He hugged Melissa and then turned to the boy.

“What’s the matter?”

“This child can’t find his mother. I wanted to take him to the reception.”

As Melissa explained, the little boy turned around and waved his hand in that direction.

Melissa looked up and saw a young woman running over. Then, the woman picked the boy up.

“Why are you running around? I told you to wait for me in the sixth break room?” The woman was beautiful. It was hard to imagine that she was already a mother.

The color of her clothes was similar to Melissa’s, so the boy mistook Melissa for her.

“Mommy, our break room is three, not six. You went to the wrong room again.” The boy said calmly as if he had long been used to this.

The woman blinked her eyes in surprise and she couldn’t believe that she went to the wrong room. She was confused, while her child was calm.

Melissa looked at them and was speechless. This was the first time she had seen such an unreliable mother.

Sensing Melissa’s gaze, Eliana looked at Melissa and Murray.

“I’m sorry, I hope my son didn’t cause you any trouble.” Eliana smiled apologetically.

“Mommy, you have inconvenienced me.” The boy added indifferently.

Melissa smiled when she heard this.

“You should take care of your child. He is too young.” Melissa smiled softly.

When Eliana heard this, she smiled embarrassedly. The boy in her arms pursed his lips and poked the back of Eliana’s hand.

“Mommy, we are going to miss our plane.” |

“What!” Eliana was stunned for a moment. She looked at her watch and exclaimed. Then she was about to leave.

“Goodbye.” Before leaving, the boy waved at Melissa.

Melissa looked at the back of Eliana and the boy and said softly, “The boy is cute.”

Hearing this, Murray leaned closer to Melissa and whispered in her ear, “If you like children, we can have several.”

Melissa blushed and patted Murray on the chest.

“You love boys or girls, or both?” Murray continued to ask.

“Murray! Stop.” Melissa blinked and looked at Murray coquettishly.

Looking at Melissa, Murray was in a good mood and chuckled.

However, no one knew what would happen after Melissa met Eliana.

The flight to Lover’s Island was not too long, but Melissa and Murray had to take a cruise ship to get there after getting off the plane.

Melissa was not as enthusiastic as she was when she got on the plane. Now she was on a cruise, and she felt uncomfortable. She laid in Murray’s arms, half sleepy.

“When will we arrive?” Melissa said listlessly.

“Don’t you want to take a cruise?” Although Murray said this, he touched Melissa’s hair in distress.

“I usually work in the company and I’m tired. We managed to have time to travel together, so I want to try more new things.” Melissa felt uncomfortable and said unreasonably, “Why did you bring me so far away?”

Murray gently bit Melissa’s lips and she let out a cry of pain. Then Murray said in a low voice, “If you’re tired, you can sleep.”

“Stay with me.” Melissa slid into bed and said softly.

Murray nodded. Then he laid down beside Melissa and held her.

Melissa was already asleep. Murray looked at her gently.

“Murray..”

When Melissa woke up, the room was dark.

She murmured but didn't see Murray,

Melissa was confused. She got up but still did not see Murray.

Melissa pursed her lips. Just as she was about to leave, Murray returned.

Murray frowned slightly and wondered if he woke Melissa up. "Are you awake? Did I wake you up?"

"Where did you go?" Melissa hugged Murray's waist and asked softly.

"I was just dealing with the business." Murray pinched his eyebrows. He and Melissa had been on vacation for half a month, so he has to solve some things now.

"You're so busy." Melissa joked. She was hungry and then they went to the restaurant.

When Melissa woke up, she felt much better and ate a lot of food.

"It is delicious." Melissa took a bite of the cake in her hand and smiled with narrowed eyes.

Murray held his cheek and looked at Melissa. He silently remembered what Melissa thought was delicious.

"Do you want to try it? It is not too sweet. Let me get you a cake." Melissa was shy when Murray looked at her. She was about to leave, but Murray held her wrist.

Murray leaned forward slightly. He stared at Melissa and opened his mouth slightly.

Melissa looked at Murray in doubt and didn't understand what he meant. Then Murray looked down at the cake Melissa had just eaten.

Melissa looked at the hand that Murray held and smiled. Then she cut a piece of cake and fed it to Murray.

"It's sweet," Murray murmured and still stared at Melissa.

Murray's eyes were deep and hot, and Melissa was shy. She rejoiced that they were in the restaurant now. if we were in the room...

Melissa dared not continue to imagine and found an excuse to go to the bathroom.

Shaking off the water droplets on her hands, Melissa came out of the bathroom. At this time, she heard someone talking around the corner.

“What are you going to do? Stay away from me...” A woman said. Some men were laughing

“You ask me what I want to do? You weren’t like this just now!”

“You dare to hit me!”

When Melissa heard this, she frowned. She was thinking about whether she should help the woman when someone stumbled toward her.

The woman dressed sexily. When she saw Melissa, she was excited and grabbed Melissa’s wrist.

“Please help me!” The woman was close to Melissa, and Melissa smelled a pungent smell of perfume.

Melissa just wanted to break free of her hand when someone came. Before she turned to look, she was pushed out by the women.

Melissa staggered and bumped into someone.

“She is my sister! You can take her away. Just let me go...” The woman said tremblingly

Melissa didn’t know what was going on, but she frowned. She was just about to take a few steps back when a man grabbed her wrist.

The man pinched Melissa’s chin roughly and Melissa was forced to look up at him. The man was middle-aged.

He drank a lot of wine and his face was red. When he saw Melissa, he was surprised. “Well? Can I take her away?”

“Yes! She’s prettier than me.” The woman nodded and did not care about Melissa’s reaction at all.

“You have a temper.” The man gave a disgusting smile and showed his interest in Melissa.

“Get out of my way,” Melissa said coldly. She was about to leave, but someone blocked her way.

“Take them away!” The man snorted. The woman felt a sense of relief. But when she heard this, she was shocked.

“She’s prettier than me! Just take her away!” The woman shouted and Melissa felt disgusted.

Melissa wore a long face. Just as she was about to beat them up, she felt she was stabbed by something, and then she lost her strength.

Melissa knew something was wrong, but she had no strength to struggle.

“She is indeed beautiful.”

The man looked at Melissa and touched her lower jaw in satisfaction. When he was about to pinch Melissa’s cheek, someone kicked him.

Murray wore a cold face. He looked at Melissa, who was lying on the ground, and clenched his fist.

“Who!” The man was kicked hard by Murray and he was about to vomit. He knelt on the ground and pointed at Murray.

“You dared to kick me! Beat him!”

Hearing this, several strong men besides the man recovered and shouted to attack

Murray

These men were no match for Murray, Murray was furious and hit them hard.

The woman in the corner trembled as she saw this.

He.

“Send people over immediately.”

Murray kicked away those who stopped him and carried Melissa.

Get Bonus o Melissa’s body temperature was high and the drug kicked in. She lay in Murray’s arms in a daze.

Murray looked terrible. He was about to leave, but someone suddenly hugged his leg.

The woman looked up at Murray with tears. She looked pitiful. “Please take me.”

Wendy pinched her fingers. He must be a big shot. If I can make him like me, I will become rich!

Thinking of this, Wendy pretended to be poor with tears. “Please! As long as you take me, I will do anything.”

If other men saw this, they would take Wendy without hesitation. But when Murray saw this, he thought Wendy was disgusting.

“Get out of my way.”

Murray kicked Wendy away and left.

Wendy bit her lip and was unwilling to miss the chance to become rich. Just as she was about to follow Murray, many people in black suits rushed over.

Wendy was scared. She saw a man saying something respectfully to Murray, and then took the man on the ground away.

I must make him like me.

“”How is she?”

Murray looked at Melissa, who was on the bed and still wore a cold face.

“Ms. Eugen was just drugged. Don’t worry.” The female doctor stood up straight and said seriously.

“Then why hasn’t she woken up yet?” Murray frowned.

“Ms. Eugen is just too tired...” The female doctor suddenly paused for a moment. “Mr. Gibson, you should control yourself for a few days and let Ms. Eugen have a good rest.”

Murray looked terrible and the female doctor did not have any reaction. She wrote something in her notebook. “We found out that man’s background was not simple.”

“Continue investigating,” Murray said indifferently.

“How about the woman?” The female doctor asked by the way. When she thought of the woman, she was filled with contempt.

Murray snorted and didn't reply. The female doctor understood his attitude at once and then left.

Looking at Melissa, Murray touched her cheek. “Are you awake? How do you feel?”

Melissa felt a terrible headache and she only remembered that someone grabbed her arm.

“I have a headache...” Melissa's voice was hoarse. When she thought of what happened today, she was afraid.

“It's all right.” Murray held Melissa and comforted her.

Melissa slowly got up and lay in Murray's arms.

What happened today scared me.

Melissa touched Murray's cheek and said seriously, “If you don't come to save me in time, I...”

Before Melissa could finish, Murray kissed her.

Murray held Melissa's waist and looked at her flushed cheeks. Then he gently said, “I will always be with you.”

Melissa was touched and buried her face in Murray's arms.

Melissa and Murray arrived at Lover's Island. As soon as they checked in, Melissa went to the beach.

Melissa stepped on the soft beach and looked at the place where the sea and the sea met,

The orange sunset was reflected on the sea,

"Murray, look. It's so beautiful here." Melissa waved at Murray, who was behind her and smiled happily,

Murray looked at Melissa, Seeing her so happy, he was glad.

Melissa took Murray for a walk along the beach. The sea breeze messed up her hair.

"I haven't felt so relaxed for a long time," Melissa said lazily.

"If you like it here, we can live here."

"No. I enjoy the scenery here, but not the food and fun." Melissa grinned.

Murray fixed Melissa's hair. "I enjoy anywhere as long as you are there."

Melissa blinked and put her arms around Murray's neck. "I'm so glad to meet you."

Then Melissa and Murray kissed in the sunset, and their shadows also overlapped.

In the evening, Melissa lay in Murray's arms and watched the movie. It was the movie she chose, but she began to criticize it.

"Why doesn't the heroine explain? The movie is so campy. Will anyone still like such a movie?"

Melissa wanted to know what type of movies were currently popular and to make one. But she didn't expect that the movie would be so dreadful.

Murray was unresponsive. He had never been interested in movies.

Then Melissa muttered, "But the hero is handsome. Which company is he from?"

Murray saw that Melissa was using her phone to look for information about the hero. Suddenly, Murray wore a long face.

Melissa did not notice Murray's reaction and continued, "He has a good figure..."

Just as Melissa clicked to open the hero's other photos, Murray took her phone. Melissa was puzzled. Murray pinched her lower jaw and made her look at him.

Murray looked at Melissa meaningfully. "He is handsome and has a good figure?"

Melissa said bravely and pressed Murray's chest. "He is not as handsome as you, and his figure is not as good as you."

Murray raised his eyebrows and pressed the button on his chest. He looked at Melissa. "Are you sure?"

Chapter 538 I Feel Really Sad

On the film set.

Vivian and Jaylin got a scene to shoot. However, they had to stop because Jaylin did not look well.

"Jay, what's wrong with you these days? You look terrible." Jay's agent patted Jaylin on the shoulder, looking a little worried.

"I'm sorry. Maybe I haven't had a good rest these days. I want to go back to the hotel now," Jay said with a wry smile. Then he left.

Vivian noticed that and decided to follow Jaylin.

Vivian followed Jaylin to a bar.

Vivian hesitated and then followed him in.

The music in the bar was deafening. Vivian frowned and looked around. She then found Jaylin sitting in a corner.

Jaylin seemed to be in pain and drank in silence.

Vivian bit her lips and decided not to bother Jaylin. She sat down in a place where she could see Jaylin. She was attracted to Jaylin. Thus, she didn't notice the paparazzo was following her.

Jaylin took this photo of Melissa a long time ago. And he kept it until now.

Looking at the photo, Jaylin thought of what happened at Melissa's engagement party. Melissa smiled all the time during the party. She seemed to be extremely happy that day.

Jaylin could tell that Melissa was delighted to marry Murray.

Jaylin's eyes were filled with sadness. He grabbed his glass and felt distressed by the truth that Melissa was engaged to Murray.

Jaylin drank like a fish. Then he choked and blushed all of a sudden.

"Jaylin, stop!"

A voice rang out. Jaylin raised his head and saw Vivian standing in front of him. Vivian took the wine away.

"Why are you here?" Jaylin frowned.

"I'm here to drink as you do." Vivian sat down beside Jaylin.

She pursed her lips to stop speaking about anything else. Next, she poured a glass of wine for Jaylin.

"If you want to drink, enjoy it. Why do you seem so exhausted?"

Jaylin glanced at Vivian but said nothing. His lips curled in a wry smile. Then he drank the wine down.

"So, what's wrong with you these days? Why are you in such a bad mood?" Vivian asked as if she didn't know the answer.

"She is engaged," Jaylin said in a daze.

Even though Vivian knew the reason, she still felt distressed when she heard his answer.

She wanted to tease Jaylin with a smile but failed.

"Well, it hurts a lot. Right? I know such a feeling. After all, I've been rejected by you," Vivian said with a hollow laugh.

Hearing this, Jaylin raised his head and looked straight at Vivian.

Vivian felt a little uncomfortable about that. She turned her head and drank a glass of wine, "Come on, Jaylin. Everything will be fine."

Jaylin did not say anything more and just drank silently.

People in the bar enjoyed the music and wine well. It seemed to be a blast. However, it didn't infect Jaylin and Vivian. The two of them drank in silence.

Vivian's phone rang. It was Arno. Vivian hesitated for a moment and decided to pick it up. But Jaylin grabbed her wrists all of a sudden.

Vivian was startled and turned to look at Jaylin.

Gebou

"Why?" Jaylin stared at Vivian and asked.

"Jaylin?" Vivian noticed there seemed to be something wrong with Jaylin. She stretched out her hand and waved it in front of Jaylin, "Are you drunk?"

"Why? Why didn't you choose me? Melissa..." Jaylin lowered his eyes and looked like an abandoned dog.

Vivian bit her lower lips tightly. She reached out to pull Jaylin up. "You drank too much. I'll send you back."

However, Jaylin did not move at all. He even pulled Vivian and almost made her fall on the sofa.

Jaylin looked at Vivian with a serious look, making Vivian suspect that he was not drunk.

Jaylin then murmured, "Melissa, I love you a lot."

Vivian's heart was torn by that. She took a deep breath and reached out to touch Jaylin's cheek. "Jaylin, I am not Melissa. I am Vivian! You drank too much! Wake up!"

Jaylin grabbed Vivian's hand hard and pressed it against his cheek. "I feel sad watching you get engaged to Murray."

"Then you know how sad I am when I know you like Melissa." Vivian bit her lips and couldn't help but touch Jaylin's cheek gently.

"Melissa..." Jaylin's eyes were full of gentleness as he held Vivian's cheeks and approached her to kiss her.

Vivian's hand tightened. She knew she should push Jaylin away, but she could do nothing.

She looked at Jaylin and finally closed her eyes.

She said to herself, "Just this once. It is the last time."

Vivian came back to the hotel. Vivian was in a mess because of the kiss. She tossed and turned in bed and couldn't forget that.

She touched her lips and blushed.

Because of that, Vivian ignored her phone had rung several times. So her phone lit up when she got up the next day. Moreover, many news alerts were popping up on her phone.

Vivian stared blankly at her phone and froze.

The news was about Jaylin, Arno, and her. And there were several photos, too.

Someone took pictures when he met Vivian and Arno dating in a shopping mall. And there were also some pictures the paparazzo took of Vivian and Jaylin. These pictures were about what happened in the bar. The paparazzo snapped photos when Vivian and Jaylin kissed.

The news spread quickly on the Internet. And most people post their comments on the Internet about this matter. They all thought Vivian was a little flighty, juggling two men.

Vivian panicked. She never meant for any of this to happen.

Her agent called at this time. Vivian hesitated for a moment before answering it.

"My dear! What have you done? Are you crazy?"

"I..." Vivian murmured but did not know what to say.

"Vivian! My dear! Thanks a lot! For the sake of the news, I have many things to do now." Renita seemed to be angry, making Vivian even more uncomfortable.

"Sorry."

Apart from apologizing, Vivian didn't explain anything.

"It's useless to say that now. Don't give any interviews for that. Our company will handle it." Her agent must be in a noisy place. Vivian noticed that over the phone. Renita said a few more words before hanging up the phone.

After finishing the phone, Vivian hugged herself and stared at her phone helplessly. Arno sent many messages to her.

Vivian finally decided to reply to him.

When Arno arrived at the hotel to visit Vivian, Vivian was still staring at her phone to scan people's reviews about this matter.

"You're here." Vivian turned her head with a forced smile.

"You like Jaylin, don't you?" Arno's voice was hoarse.

Arno noticed that after being with Vivian.

Vivian was a perfect actress on the screen. But she was not a good actress in real life.

S

"If you like him, I can quit." Arno clenched his fists tightly when he said these words.

Vivian felt exhausted. And she gave up lying to him.

"Yes, I like Jaylin. But he likes Melissa."

"And then you dated me to provoke Jaylin?"

Hearing this, Vivian lowered her head, not daring to look at Arno.

"Perhaps that was the case at the beginning. However, I don't mean to do it as time goes by. I want to forget Jaylin and be with you."

Arno looked straight at Vivian. And then he half knelt by the bed, "Vivian, I love you."

Vivian looked at him in shock. Then she burst into tears.

Arno gently wiped the tears off and smiled at her.

"I will try my best to make you fall in love with me, Vivian."
