Chapter 561 He is still in a Coma

“What did you say?”

Melissa was confused. Looking at Vivian's expression, she couldn't help but ask

Vivian hung her head low, with decadent sentiments, her eyes were red and her voice was hoarse,

“Does he have a headache like this? It really hurts, Melissa, why do I feel so painful?”

Vivian seemed to want to reach out and hug Melissa, but in the end, she shook off Melissa's wrist and sat back on the sofa.

Melissa's eyes clicked. She seemed to understand what Vivian meant, Melissa turned to look at Jaylin and Vivian's manager at the door. Just as Melissa was about to say something, Jaylin already understood her meaning and turned to say something to the manager.

The manager looked at Vivian. He could only sigh and then left with Jaylin,

“I'll wait for you downstairs,” Jaylin said to Melissa,

Melissa nodded and turned to look at Vivian again.

Vivian stared at the closed door and smiled bitterly.

“So gentle,”

Melissa sat beside Vivian and looked at the time on her phone. “Is it Arno?”

Vivian did not answer. She looked at the bottle on the table and remained silent

“Have you gone to see Arno? How is he now?”

Although Melissa saw Arno have an accident on the news, she did not pay too much attention to it. She just made guesses according to Vivian's condition.

"I went to see him. He is still in a coma." Vivian stammered.

Vivian's expression made Melissa suspicious. "So? What do you want to do? You are drunk and absent."

Melissa sat upright with her arms crossed and her scrutinizing gaze fell on Vivian's face.

Melissa paused for a moment and continued with some displeasure. "Don't tell me that you're going to experience his pain."

Vivian's body stiffened as if Melissa was right.

Seeing this, Melissa's expression instantly became strange, "Vivian, are you crazy? Here..."

However, before Melissa could finish speaking, Vivian suddenly threw herself into her arms and held Melissa's waist.

"Melissa, I am a bastard. Why am I such a bad person? If I hadn't broken up with Arno, he wouldn't have had an accident."

Vivian blubbered. Perhaps she cried too much these days. Vivian only felt that her eyes were too sore, with no tears.

"What do you mean?" Melissa suddenly felt that the information in Vivian's words was too much. Thus she did not react immediately.

She patted Vivian on the back and comforted her, "What happened between you and Arno?"

Suddenly, Melissa felt something was about to emerge.

"I lied to him."

Vivian sniffed, with a painful look.

*I don't like him."

*Then why did you agree to be his girlfriend? You have been together for a long time, right? Vivian, you better explain it to me clearly."

Melissa looked at Vivian in disbelief. She had always thought that Vivian and Arno were in love. Therefore, she didn't expect that Vivian would say this.

"I don't know. Why did I agree to be his girlfriend?"

Vivian covered her face. Her thin shoulders were trembling, looking fragile and helpless.

"Melissa, I like Jaylin. I liked him a long time ago."

Melissa was surprised, but at the same time, she finally found something strange,

Melissa knew Vivian well. Now she understood why Vivian looked kind of strange when facing Arno's confession.

Melissa sighed and looked at Vivian with a somewhat displeased expression. "So you choose to be Arno's girlfriend just to provoke Jaylin."

Vivian nodded softly.

"Does Jaylin know that you like him?" Although Melissa did not know when Vivian fell in love with Jaylin, she asked.

"He knows." Thinking back to that confession, Vivian was no longer angry and sad. She didn't notice that she was relieved.

"Jaylin said he only treated me as his sister. He..."

Vivian carefully moved her gaze away from Melissa's face and said calmly.

"There is already someone in his heart."

"Vivian, I didn't expect that you would do this. What about the thing that

Chapter 561 He is still in a Como happened at the bar?" Vivian didn't know how to answer, with her hands unconsciously clenched.

"It's all my fault. I hurt Arno," said Vivian.

The phone rang. Melissa looked down at it and slowly said, "Since you don't like Arno, what are you doing now? I heard that he was in a car accident because he wanted to avoid another car. What does it have to do with you?"

"I've been ignoring his message. He came to find me." Vivian turned her head and stared at the ground.

“Vivian, look at me.”

Suddenly, Melissa spoke seriously, bringing Vivian’s attention back.

“You have already broken up with Arno. You have also gone to see him. It seems that you have nothing to do with him now.”

Melissa said word by word.

“If that’s the case, what are you sad about?”

“I just feel guilty. If he didn’t look at his phone, maybe he could have avoided it...” Vivian said, but her tone became weaker and weaker. In the end, she completely lost her confidence.

“Are you really feeling guilty?” Melissa leaned back against the sofa, “Why can’t see a hint of guilt in your expression?”

As if a spell was cast on her, Vivian froze in place

Seeing her reaction, Melissa continued, “You asked me just now why you feel so painful. Are you in pain because of your hangover, or because”

As Melissa spoke, she pointed at Vivian’s heart,

“It’s the pain here?”

Vivian opened her mouth, but could not say anything.

“Ask your heart what you really care about.” Melissa let out a sigh. Generally, those closely involved could not see as clearly as the outsiders.

Vivian moved her palm to her chest bit by bit and felt the weak heartbeat under her skin.

When thinking of Arno, her heart gradually became intense and ached.

ense

“If you really don’t like Arno, then just visit him as a friend. There is no need to be like this.”

As Melissa spoke, she stood up and said.

“Have you thought it through? If so, pack up and go to work. I spent so much manpower and resources to support you. I don’t want you to take the day off every day” Melissa said with a bit of disappointment.

Chapter 562 He Loves You Very Much

"L..." Vivian shook her head and looked at Melissa at a loss,

For a moment, tears welled up in her eyes,

Melissa frowned. She didn't know why Vivian cried again.

"But his mother told me to stay away from him..." Vivian muttered.

The scene in the hospital was vivid in Vivian's mind. Thus she suddenly became timid again.

"Did Arno personally tell you this?" Melissa was kind of tired. She didn't know that love could be this complicated in the past.

"If he said it himself and wanted to cut off all ties with you, then you don't have to contact him, but if not..."

Melissa pressed Vivian's shoulder and said seriously.

"I've only met Arno once, but I can see that he loves you very much."

"He loves you very much."

This sentence touched Vivian. For a moment, all the memories about Arno emerged in her mind.

"Vivian, I love you."

"As long as it has something to do with you, I will care."

"I will wait for the day that you truly fall in love with me."

Vivian grinned. She finally knew that she was stupid not to accept Arno's passionate love but to chase someone out of reach.

Vivian figured out that her love for Arno did not come from guilt. She had already gotten used to Arno in her life bit by bit. She just didn't dare to think about it.

Vivian stood up, her hands hanging by her side tightly clenched.

"Thank you, Melissa."

Turning to look at Melissa, Vivian bit her lower lip. She decided to ask Arno, no matter what his answer might be.

Hearing this, a smile appeared on Melissa's face. However, after hearing what Vivian said, she also felt a little strange in her heart.

The love matter was really strange.

"I'm going to find Arno." Vivian made up her mind.

Melissa nodded. Just as she was about to say something, Vivian, who was standing in front of her, suddenly ran to the bathroom and started to vomit.

Vivian had already drunk a lot of wine, and her mood was rising and falling. Thus she felt uncomfortable and vomited.

Melissa's gaze fell on the wine bottles on the ground, with displeasure on her face.

Vivian walked out with a pale face. When she saw Melissa's expression, she awkwardly touched her hair.

"You plan to see Arno like this?" Melissa glanced at Vivian. Vivian felt even more awkward.

"I will pack it up," Vivian said softly.

"Just pay attention to yourself." Melissa shook her head. "I'll give you a few days off. Talk with Arno."

Hearing this, Vivian was surprised, but the next second, she felt a little apologetic.

Chapter 562

Love You Very Much

"I'm sorry, Melissa,"

"If you know that you are sorry, then work hard for me, Vivian, this is the last time. If you dare to be absent from work again, the company will no longer waste resources on you. Do you remember?"

Melissa, who was still doing emotional consultations a second ago, turned into the serious Ms. Eugen in the next second.

Vivian nodded repeatedly and even made a gesture of swearing. "I promise that I will work hard in the future. I won't fail to live up to the cultivation of the company leaders."

"That's fine. What do you want to say to Arno? Think about it carefully." Melissa pointed at Vivian's forehead and said in a deep voice.

"I don't expect him to forgive me. I want to apologize to him for my childishness." Vivian smiled.

"Tell me after you're done with this matter. The discussions about you online are too intense now. The company has limited influence. In the end, you might have to personally make a statement."

Melissa had already made this decision. She just didn't expect that things would be this complicated at that time. Fortunately, it was not out of control. She believed that Vivian could handle the matter well.

"Sorry, I made the company in trouble. I will make a statement." Vivian blinked.

Melissa didn't say anything more and turned to leave.

Downstairs, Jaylin and Vivian's manager were still waiting. When they saw Melissa come out, the manager hurriedly came over.

"How is it? What happened?"

"It's fine now." Melissa shook her head. She paused for a moment before continuing. "There has been too much public opinion on the Internet recently. It has somewhat affected her."

Melissa's company was not willing to interfere with the private problems of their stars, so Melissa did not say it completely.

Hearing this, the manager also thought of Vivian's recent abnormality and then nodded.

"Let her rest for a few days to adjust her mentality. I will communicate with the director."

As Melissa spoke, her gaze turned to Jaylin who was at the side.

"The crew will have to trouble you. They might shoot your part in advance."

Jaylin nodded and his gaze fell on Melissa's face.

Recalling what Vivian said, Melissa raised her eyes and met Jaylin's gaze.

It seemed that Jaylin didn't expect this and he was slightly stunned.

But in the next second, Melissa had already moved her gaze away.

"I'll send you off." Jaylin hurriedly opened the car door and said.

"No, thank you. I'll go back with Vivian's manager. You can go to the set." Melissa shook her head without hesitation.

Then she left with Vivian's manager.

Looking at the car leaving, Jaylin let out a bitter sigh. When he turned around and wanted to get in the car, he saw Vivian coming down from upstairs.

The two saw each other in an instant. It was Vivian who reacted first and nodded at Jaylin.

"How do you feel?" Jaylin asked as he recalled the condition of Vivian when she was at home.

Chapter 562 He loves You Very Much

"Much better." Vivian touched her throat. Her voice was still a little hoarse

"Sorry for my absence. I caused you a lot of trouble." Vivian pursed her lips and said

"I'm the one who should be sorry. I brought you trouble."

As Jaylin spoke, the atmosphere between the two became silent again

Just as Jaylin was wondering if he should ask where Vivian was going, Vivian, who was in front of him, suddenly spoke up.

 Thank you, Jaylin." Vivian smiled softly.

Thank you for allowing me to understand many things. Vivian thought.

However, Vivian did not wait for Jaylin to react. She had already waved her hand and was about to leave.

“Goodbye.”

Only Jaylin was left in the same place, stunned. He did not figure out why Vivian thanked him

Chapter 563 Not Dare to Follow My Heart

Vivian went to the hospital in a hurry. She nervously stood in front of Arno's ward and clenched her fists.

She then took a deep breath, opened the door, and entered the ward.

Nancy was sitting beside the bed in the ward, peeling an apple. Arno was awake and sitting on the bed. He was shocked as the door suddenly opened.

And he was also shocked to see Vivian.

Vivian failed to remain calm. Looking at the bed-ridden Arno, Vivian was on the verge of crying

He sat on the bed quietly with a pale face. The sad expression in his eyes touched Vivian.

Seeing Vivian, Nancy gave the peeled apple to Arno, turned to look at Vivian, and blocked her view.

“Ms. Swanson, are you coming to visit Arno?” Nancy asked slowly.

“I...” Suddenly, Vivian was captured by a trace of fear. She hesitated and finally lowered her head.

“I'm sorry...”

She spoke it out with a different feeling.

“Haven’t you apologized? And I also told you that the accident had nothing to do with you.”

Nancy compressed her lips. She was confused about Vivian’s attitude.

Did she plan to apologize every day?

Arno turned his head and lowered his eyes to hide his sad expression. Chapter 563 Not Dare to Follow My Heart “Nancy, I came to apologize to you,” Vivian shook her head and said. She was so nervous that her palms got sweaty.

“To me? What have you done?” Nancy asked patiently.

Vivian bit her lip and said seriously, “I failed to keep the promise that I made to you before.”

Nancy glanced at Arno and then laughed. “What are you talking about?”

“I come to realize that I like Arno,” Vivian said without hesitation.

Hearing that, Arno tightened his hands on the quilt. But he didn’t turn around to look at Vivian.

Nancy was surprised. “If you hope that he will forgive you after hearing what you say, please give up and leave now.”

“No!” Seeing this, Vivian blurted out anxiously.

“I don’t think so. I know that it sounds ridiculous. I once thought that it was a sense of guilt and uneasiness. But the fact is that I like him. I just didn’t dare to follow my heart...”

Vivian was incoherent. Her hoarse voice became lower and lower.

“I know that it might be too late to say that. But I have to tell him. Sorry, maybe I’m too selfish...”

Vivian covered her arms and took a deep breath. Though, she found what she said ridiculous.

She denied that she came for Arno’s forgiveness. But was it her real thought?

Indeed, she hoped that Arno would understand her and be with her again.

Thinking of that, Vivian wanted to slap herself hard.

“I hope that he can tell me in person. It’s alright if he rejects me.” Vivian wanted to force a smile, but she failed, and her eyes turned red.

She wanted to hear Arno’s voice and meet him again.

Nancy was a bit annoyed. “Ms. Swanson, don’t you think that it’s quite selfish of you? You’re nobody to us.”

Nancy would have suspected that Vivian had ulterior motives if she hadn’t investigated Vivian’s background in advance.

Vivian didn’t say anything. She just stood there silently.

“So won’t you keep your promise?” Nancy asked.

The ward fell into silence. Nancy turned around and looked at Arno. She then sighed helplessly.

“Have you got your wish?”

Vivian thought that Nancy was talking to her. So she looked up with a puzzled look. But she saw Arno looking at her.

She felt her heartbeat quicken when they locked eyes.

She immediately blushed.

Feeling them gazing at each other affectionately, Nancy walked toward Vivian with flickered eyes.

“Mom...” Arno said subconsciously.

Nancy gritted her teeth. She looked at Arno again with dissatisfaction. She never thought that Arno would yield so quickly. And he was even sticking up for Vivian

In fact, Nancy understood their relationship when she met Vivian for the first time. But she didn’t point it out.

Nancy was also waiting for Vivian to look into her heart.

Thinking of that, she glanced at her poor son and said, "What? I'm going for a walk."

Arno was stunned and tried to explain. But Nancy went out of the ward before he could say anything Standing still, Vivian was overwhelmed.

Arno was also at a loss. He just looked at the bandage on his hand.

It was embarrassing for them. Looking into the room, Nancy shook her head and made a call.

"Dear, Arno is indeed your son. Just as rigid as you."

Nancy was told something and then sighed softly.

"He said he would let it go. But he failed once he met Vivian."

"By the way, I think there is something strange about the accident. What have you found out about it?"

Nancy left while speaking.

In the ward, Vivian was clutching her coat and staring at her shoes.

"You..."

"Arno..."

They spoke at the same time, which rendered them even more embarrassed.

Vivian compressed her lips and stared at Arno's face. Suddenly, she burst out crying

It surprised Arno. He wanted to get out of bed. But his wound hurt.

"Are you OK? Do you need a doctor?" Vivian asked while running to him.

Arno compressed his lips and didn't reply. He just looked away.

Chapter 563 Not Dare to Follow My Heart

Vivian squatted down beside the bed and looked up at him. "I'm sorry. That's all because I was too stupid. Now I understand... I shouldn't be so willful to you. I shouldn't talk about breaking up..."

Arno didn't say anything.

Vivian asked with great concern, "Does your head hurt? What did the doctor say? Is there any sequela?"

Vivian wanted to ask more questions, but she was stopped. Looking at Arno's face right in front of her, she blinked in shock.

Vivian's heart was beating wildly. Realizing it, she subconsciously pushed Arno away

"You..."

She covered her lips. Her ears turned red because of her shyness.

However, Vivian's action made Arno feel that she was still rejecting him. He thought what she said was probably a lie. Suddenly, he felt lonely again,

"You gave me a fright."

Vivian looked down at the edge of the bed. She wanted to reach out to tuck Arno in, but she heard a voice coming from above.

"You can go."

Arno took a deep breath, trying to keep his voice steady,

Vivian had thought about how Arno would react, but she didn't expect that he would say those words to her.

She wondered if she had done too many wrong things that Arno was unwilling to forgive her.

She thought, what did that kiss mean?

Vivian could not help but purse her lips. However, Arno had already turned his head away and did not notice Vivian's expression,

Both of them were immersed in their self-inflicted sadness, which made the truth inexplicably funny and humorous,

"Since you don't like me, why..."

After a long while, Arno spoke in a low voice, but before he could finish speaking, he was interrupted by Vivian.

"Arno, who said that I don't like you? Do you think what I said just now was a lie?"

Vivian suddenly felt a burst of anger in her chest. She thought that Arno did not listen to her words even though she had confessed from the bottom of her heart and wept bitterly.

Arno blinked his eyes in shock. He looked at Vivian and puffed his cheeks. "Then why did you push me away just now?"

He wondered, wasn't that a rejection?

"You..."

Vivian blinked. "You still have wounds on your head and body. We can kiss anytime you want. But why do you have to do it now..."

The more she spoke, the less confident she became. Vivian tilted her head and muttered.

However, Arno heard everything clearly. There was a hint of joy in his eyes, but he still seemed sulky.

"But you really seemed reluctant before. Vivian, I won't force you."

Biting her lower lip, Vivian glared at Arno. Then she mustered up the courage. "You have to make me say that I was shy. Right?" she asked.

After saying all this, Vivian saw a bigger smile on Arno's face. Suddenly, she realized that what Arno said was a trick.

"Alright." Arno reached out, but because of the wound on his arm, he could barely touch Vivian's hand.

When Vivian saw this, she quickly walked over. She leaned over, her long hair sliding down her shoulder to her chest.

"Arno..."

Chapter 564 Who Says I Dont Like You?

Her voice was very soft, like a feather falling on the tip of his heart,

"Are you ... really willing?" Arno seemed a little nervous, and his voice was a little hoarse.

"What?" Vivian tilted her head.

"Are you really willing to be with me? Or you just feel guilty?"

Arno said nervously, but Vivian had already reached out her hand and pressed his lips.

"Arno, it's nothing else. It's just because I love you and want to be with you.

"In the past, I was so stupid. I have always been avoiding your feelings. Now and in the future, I will try my best to respond to you," Vivian said with an unusually serious face.

As she spoke, Vivian gently kissed the gauze on Arno's forehead, looking a bit cautious.

Seeing this, Arno pointed at his face.

"What's wrong?" Vivian thought that Arno's wound was hurting, so she went forward to check it out.

"It hurts." It was rare for Arno to soften his voice, and he seemed to be acting like a spoiled child.

"I'll call the doctor right away." She turned around and was about to leave, but Arno immediately pulled Vivian into his embrace.

Vivian gasped but did not dare to move.

Arno intimately pressed his lower jaw against Vivian's shoulder and said,

“There’s no need to find a doctor. It won’t hurt if you kiss me.”

“Arno!”

Vivian glared at Arno. However, Arno had already closed his eyes and raised his head, waiting for Vivian’s kiss.

After looking around and making sure that there was no one outside, Vivian leaned over to Arno and kissed him on the cheek.

“Is it better now?” Vivian suddenly felt like she was talking to a child.

“What should I do? My other cheek hurts. My neck hurts. Even my chest hurts...”

Arno was getting more and more cheeky that Vivian had to stop him by threatening to call the doctor.

Vivian spent the entire vacation that the company gave her taking care of Arno. Their love for each other grew day by day, and Arno recovered very well. The doctor said that he could be discharged in a short time.

But Vivian did not forget Melissa’s instructions when she was having a happy time. She immediately logged into Twitter and posted a clarification.

She explained in the post that she and Jaylin were only good friends, and her relationship with Arno was very stable and she didn’t two-time.

As soon as the Twitter post was released, Star Entertainment and Jaylin’s studio forwarded it one after another. They even tagged a few media accounts.

But the netizens still had some doubts about her late explanation, so Jaylin directly sent a picture of Vivian when she was taking care of Arno. The netizens instantly stopped saying she was a cheater.

Previously, there were many discussions online. People said that Vivian had not been to the company for the past few days. There were also no reporters who went to her place. They thought that she had been fired because of this matter.

They didn’t expect her to take care of her boyfriend.

On the day Vivian returned to work, Arno did not get discharged. Although Arno was a little unhappy, Vivian knew that she had wasted too much time and hurriedly returned to the crew.

It was a good thing that Melissa had filmed Jaylin's scenes earlier so that the filming progress did not get delayed a lot.

After apologizing sincerely to the staff, Vivian returned to work.

"Cut! Pass!

The director shouted. Vivian finally breathed a sigh of relief and moved her sore shoulders.

Today, after shooting for the whole day, there was not much time to rest, which made Vivian, who had been idle for several days, exhausted.

"That's all. Let's call it a day."

With the director's order, everyone who had been busy for a day finally felt relieved. Vivian also did not want to delay for a moment. She was eager to see Arno.

She lowered her head and reported to her manager as she walked toward the dressing room. However, just as Vivian was about to push the door open and enter, she heard voices coming from inside.

"Why is Star Entertainment treating Vivian like a princess?"

"Don't you know who her boyfriend is? He is from the Dewar family."

"How powerful can a rich man be? Maybe she knows some big shots in Star Entertainment."

Chapter 565 Well-Prepared Competitor

The words "big shots" were emphasized. Then the people in the dressing room laughed scornfully.

Vivian recognized they were the two supporting actresses who, obviously, were clout chasing by speaking to Jaylin from time to time as if they were close friends.

“Is it possible that some big shots are actually attracted by her? She has small breasts, and she’s so skinny that it shouldn’t be comfortable to hold her in arms.”

Vivian looked down at her body and felt angry.

Although she didn’t have big breasts, she wasn’t skinny.

Vivian was in a temper, so she opened the door and entered.

“Natural small breasts are still better than artificial big ones.”

Vivian chuckled and looked at the two actresses contemptuously.

The actresses were surprised by Vivian, and their expressions changed. One of them forced a smile and tried to talk themselves out of it.

“Vivian, what a coincidence. Are you going to remove your makeup?”

Vivian leaned against the door frame with a mocking smile on her face. “Go ahead, I want to know more about your comments about me.”

“We...”

The actress in red couldn’t maintain the smile on her face. She forced herself to say something. But before she could do that, the girl next to her stood in front of Vivian.

“What we’ve said is all true, and you know it! Stop pretending to be innocent. Do you really think you can make it with the help of those big shots you Chapter 565 Well Prepared Corripetitor know?”

“Emma...” The actress in red looked anxious.

Emma sized up Vivian and said, “I wonder how capable you are to win the support of the big shots and become famous.”

“I don’t know about that. But let me remind you that walls have ears. Remember to lock the door when you speak ill of others.”

As she spoke, Vivian took out her phone which had been recording their conversation the whole time.

She stopped recording and appreciated the look on the faces of the two actresses.

“You’ve recorded it?” Emma screamed.

Vivian raised her eyebrows, took a few steps, walked out of the room, and stood in front of the corridor surveillance. “What if I let the big shots I know hear it?”

“Oh, you have misunderstood us,” the actress in red tried to talk themselves out of it again. She tugged at Emma’s clothes.

Emma bit her lips and gave up her plan to grab Vivian’s phone. “Vivian, don’t go too far.”

“Too far? Really?” With a scornful sneer, Vivian swung her phone back into her pocket.

“To succeed in the entertainment industry, big breasts are optional but good brains are a must.”

Speaking up to this point, it seemed that Vivian had suddenly thought of something. Her gaze swept across Emma’s face. Vivian covered her mouth and giggled.

“Oh, I might be wrong. I remember our deputy director likes big breasts. Am I right, Emma?”

Without waiting for their reactions, Vivian turned around and left.

“Vivian, we’ll see.” Emma clenched her teeth and glared at Vivian.

“The shooting went smoothly. It’s almost finished.”

The producer looked at Melissa and said.

Melissa nodded, looking at Vivian and Jaylin who were in the middle of filming. After so many things, the shooting was finally proceeding smoothly.

Vivian was surprised when she noticed the change in the look in Jaylin’s eyes. She took the opportunity to turn around and found Melissa.

No wonder...

Vivian sighed in her heart, admiring Jaylin’s persistence.

In the break of the filming, Jaylin wanted to talk to Melissa but only to find that she had left. His good mood was ruined.

Melissa did not know that. Although she had made it to visit today, she couldn't stay long because she had a meeting with people from another company in the afternoon.

They should have signed the contract for cooperation tomorrow morning, but strangely, that company insisted on doing it this afternoon in advance.

Melissa was available this afternoon, so she agreed, but she was also a little curious about the reason for the change.

"Ms. Eugen, it's Devan."

In the car, the assistant handed Melissa the phone.

Devan was the boss of the company, who she would be seeing in the afternoon.

"Mr. Kelsey, I'll be there soon." They would be meeting at a technology park where Melissa was planning to invest in a film and television base.

However, Devan said apologetically, "Ms. Eugen, I'm really sorry but can we change the place we meet?"

"I'm sorry, what?" Melissa frowned slightly.

Devan hesitated for a moment and said slowly, "I cherish the opportunity of collaborating with you, so I think that we should, uh, talk it through before visiting the technology park."

Melissa saw no logic in Devan's words, so she said calmly, "If you don't want to cooperate with us, the Star Entertainment, just say it. Don't equivocate with me."

"No, no, no, Ms. Eugen, I didn't mean that."

Hearing this, Devan hurriedly explained, "I've heard that another company wants that technology park as well and believes that it will get it."

Hearing this, Melissa got excited. She didn't expect a competitor.

Melissa wanted to know which company it was. After all, in the industry, no company could rival Star Entertainment. How could they say they would get it?

"Mr. Kelsey, I wonder which company it is."

“Uh... It’s called the Vast Entertainment Group.” Devan carefully looked at the smiling face in front of him, which made him sweat a little.

“Vast Entertainment Group?” This unfamiliar name made Melissa frown. She gestured for the assistant to check it out.

However, to Melissa’s surprise, it was a new company that had only been registered for less than a week.

How could a new company have such confidence to rival Star Entertainment?

Furthermore, Vast versus Star, the name of the company, showed that they were well prepared

“Mr Kelsey, if I have guessed it correctly, the CEO of Vast Entertainment Company should be with you now.”

Melissa couldn’t help but smile.

As expected, there were some noises and the sound of chairs moving from the other side of the line Melissa waited patiently.

After a while, Melissa heard a soft voice from the receiver

“We haven’t seen each other for a while, my smart cookie.”

Melissa tensed because she had recognized it.

The one at the other end gave a little laugh as if he had seen Melissa’s reaction

“Let me introduce myself. I’mn Ouentin Tacke.”
