

Bride of Mr.Billion

Chapter 202

Bella's POV: The next morning, Klein came to take me out from the hospital. Klein's home was located in the main area of the city. It was the most expensive community in the city

The three-story villa was spacious. The modern living room was very comfortable. The master bedroom was very big and the secondary bedroom was not small. The other bedroom was the study.

One wall of the study was full of bookcases filled with books, which made people feel as if they had entered the library

"How is it? Are you satisfied?" Klein asked.

"The home of the famous lawyer is indeed very good. It's clean and tidy. These books and artwork look classy." I replied.

"Normally, the minute maid will come over to clean the place up. Most of those books and artwork were given to me by others." After saying this, Klein stuffed a cup of hot milk into my hands. I looked down at the hot milk in the cup and was very touched. He had thought of such a small detail.

Klein continued, "My maid is very thoughtful. Usually, she will prepare fresh milk and fruits at home."

In the blink of an eye, all kinds of fresh fruits were placed on the fruit tray on the coffee table. There were also delicate flowers in the vase. I knew that these were definitely not things that a minute maid could think of.

Klein hurriedly explained, "The smell of this flower is very light. I know that you have a sharper sense of smell than before. You might vomit easily." "Thank you. You're very thoughtful," I said sincerely, "Bella, you keep saying these words to me. I find it too annoying." Klein spread out his hands, a look of resignation on his face. The next second, he made another inviting gesture. "Go to your room." Under the guidance of Klein, I entered the master bedroom of this house. The style of the bed in the master bedroom was modern, practical and comfortable. The sheets, pillows, and quilts were all brand new. Even the tissues and cups at the bedside were all with cartoon patterns,

"When you see these cartoon images, you will definitely be in a good mood. Only when you are in a good mood will you be able to allow the baby to grow up healthily." Klein smiled,

Seeing that Klein had prepared all of this, I couldn't help but frown. "You are the master, and I am a guest. I shouldn't be sleeping here, I can sleep in another bedroom,"

I turned and was about to leave, but Klein stopped me! I raised my head to look at him. Klein immediately explained, "You have a baby now. You need to get a good sleep. The second bedroom is next to the study. I usually stay in the study until twelve o'clock before going back to my bedroom to sleep. I just don't want to disturb your rest. There's no other intention."

Hearing this, I frowned.

I was still a little hesitant. I would only stay here for a very short period of time

But Klein had given his room to me. This was not too good

Klein continued. The minute maid has already moved all of my belongings to the secondary bedroom. It'll be very troublesome for us to move back and forth, so why don't you stay in that room first?

Seeing how nervous Klein was, I had no choice but to nod "All right, then. I'll temporarily occupy your bedroom first. I'll return it to you

"Fine. I'll collect the rent if you don't return in time" Klein laughed loudly

Since it was decided, I chose to stay here in peace for the time being Klein spent most of his time working outside. He went out very early in the morning and came back very late at night.

In fact, this made me feel much more relaxed.

The minute maid, Jane, which Klein had hired, would come to clean up and ck every day when it was time. The food she cooked was very delicious. I was very grateful that Klein had helped me during my most difficult time

Gradually, I felt that my body had recovered a lot.

On this day, Jane was making lunch in the kitchen, and I began to clean the living room. After all, I had lived here for several days. I hoped I could do something to help out.

However, Jane immediately ran over nervously, grabbed the vacuum cleaner in my hand, and said anxiously, "Miss Stepanek, you don't have to do housework. You have to sit down and rest."

At the request of Jane, I could only sit on the sofa.

“Jane, I’m fine. I can actually exercise a little.” I felt that Jane was too nervous.

Jane held the vacuum and said nervously. “No, Boss has told me many times that I can’t let you do housework. You are pregnant now, and child matters the most.”

“He’s exaggerating.” I wanted to stand up.

But I was pulled back to the sofa by Jane. “Madam, Boss paid me a salary. I must listen to him. He entrusted you to me. I must keep an eye on you. I can’t let you do housework!”

I had no choice but to sit on the sofa and not move. “Okay. Okay, I’ll sit here.”

“That’s good.” Jane nodded with a smile, then ran into the kitchen, and then ran back with a pot of vegetables

Jane sat in front of me and picked vegetables while staring at me as if she was worried that I would continue to do housework.

“Miss Stepanek, you’re so lucky!” These words suddenly came out of Jane’s mouth. “Why is that so?” I smiled helplessly.

My parents got divorced when I was a child and my family was poor. When I grew up, I became enemies with my biological father.

Chapter 202

Herbert had always made me very sad. My first child died as soon as he was born.

I was about to become enemies with Betty, and she was about to become a single mother.

I didn’t have any other achievements in my career other than getting a CPA certificate.

However, Jane spoke of her opinion on the matter. “Mr. Wharton is too kind to you. He respects you for everything. He’s very nervous that you’re pregnant now. He personally changed your bed sheets and bedding. Every day, he wakes up early and goes to buy vegetables, meat, and fish. He said that the food and meat he bought earlier would be fresher!

Hearing this, I couldn’t help but be stunned. I thought all the fresh vegetables and fruits in the refrigerator were bought by the minute maid, but I didn’t expect that he bought them himself. "Miss Stepanek, I really envy you for being able to find such a good man," Jane said with praise.

Chapter 203

Bella's POV:

I didn't continue listening to Jane and went back to my room.

I didn't want to cause any trouble for Klein, but I had been causing him trouble. I hadn't expected that Klein would get up so early every day to buy me fresh meat and vegetables. He was always busy with work that he could hardly get enough sleep.

But I knew that even if I were to protest, Klein wouldn't change at all.

He would still comfort me with a smile and continue to take care of me.

I had to eat and sleep on time every day, and take good care of my body. By then, he would probably let me go

Why was it that the person I loved wasn't Klein?

If I had just happened to like him, everything might have been perfect.

But love was uncontrollable.

What a pity. The person I loved wasn't Klein.

In order not to make Klein worry, in the next few days, I ate and slept more. My condition was much better.

On the afternoon of the weekend, Klein came back in a casual outfit.

"Why are you back so early today?" I looked at the sweaty Klein, asking in surprise. Klein was very busy with his work, and he often couldn't rest on weekends. It was common for him to work overtime.

Laughing, Klein sat down on the couch. In a rather tired voice, he said, "I went to play golf with William. Alas, I haven't exercised for a long time. I'm really tired!"

William? Emma's current boyfriend?

I could still remember William's looks now. He was indeed handsome and rich. No wonder Emma cared about him a lot.

I turned and walked into the kitchen. I poured a cup of black tea, then carried it in front of Klein. I said with a smile, "Do you need some tea?"

Klein hurriedly took the cup of tea, then raised his head and gulped down all of the black tea in his cup. "So tasty!" Klein nodded. He seemed to be in a very good mood today.

And then, Klein reached out and patted the seat next to him.

I frowned and didn't know what he was going to do. I turned around and sat down on the sofa. Klein then said, "Today, William asked me to go play golf and chat with him. Guess what? Emma was there too."

Hearing that, I said, "That's not surprising. William is a rich and handsome man. Of course, Emma has to capture his heart. No matter where he goes, she would surely follow him."

"I planned to tell William about Emma's personality, as well as what she had done in the past. After all, he is a good friend of mine. I don't want him to end up with an extremely terrible woman. But there was no chance at all. Emma wouldn't even leave William for half a minute. Not to mention about women, even I, as a man, didn't have the chance to act!" Klein grumbled.

Chapter 203

Hearing the last sentence, I couldn't help laughing.

Then I continued to ask, "What did you intend to say to William? Tell him everything about Emma's past?"

Klein rubbed his nose, then replied, "That was what I thought. But when I saw how intimate he was with Emma, I suddenly changed my mind."

"Are you afraid that William won't believe you? Are you worried that William and you won't be able to continue being friends?" I frowned and guessed.

Klein shook his head. "No. I know William very well. Even if he doesn't believe me, he won't sever ties with me. And what I wanted to say is the truth. As long as he's still conscious and gets someone to investigate, he'll find out everything."

"Then what's the reason you didn't say it?" I asked in confusion.

Klein rose to his feet. As he paced back and forth in the living room, he said, "Ah, William is a proud person. I'm afraid that if he were to learn of some terrible things Emma did from me, he would lose his pride."

"So I really couldn't tell him about this. And William is in love. Let him enjoy love first. William has spent a lot of money on Emma, so I can't let William suffer too much. Also, I should teach Emma a lesson. I'll let her fall hard and make sure that she will be in great pain!"

"I didn't expect you to have such a dark side. It seems that I really can't offend you in the future. Otherwise, I will die miserably!" | said.

"Don't you think that Emma should be punished?" Klein said. I nodded. "No matter what the outcome is, she asked for it." "I will make those who hurt you suffer as well!" Klein's eyes were sharp. His words at the moment made me feel touched. I was lucky to have such a man to protect me. However, fate was funny. I couldn't control my heart. I treated Klein as a good friend and never regarded him as my beloved one. "What is it?" Klein asked nervously.

"Oh, nothing. Look at you, you're sweating a lot. Go and take a shower." I looked up and smiled.

"All right." Klein laughed, then took off his sweaty T-shirt and tossed it on the sofa. He then turned and entered the bathroom.

I watched TV on the sofa for a while, and suddenly the doorbell rang.

Ring... Ring...

I put down the remote control in my hand and got up to open the door.

Jane must have come here to ck. She usually had keys, so she must have forgotten to bring them today.

I reached out and opened the door. When I saw the person standing outside the door, I was stunned...

Bride of Mr.Billion

Chapter 204

Bella's POV:

I didn't expect that it would be Herbert.

I wanted to close the door immediately!

However, he pushed the door open and walked in.

“Herbert, what do you want to do?” I was very afraid of him. He actually came here.

Herbert looked around the room, then said coldly, “You actually hid in Klein’s house! You are a single woman living in a single man’s house. Do you think it’s appropriate?”

His doubts made me very angry, but I still kept calm on the surface.

I knew that I couldn’t drive him away, so I turned around and sat on the sofa. Then I said in a contemptuous tone, “It’s because we are both single that it makes more sense, isn’t it? It’s much better compared with some men, who obviously had a fiancée but looked for another woman elsewhere!”

“You...” Herbert couldn’t say a word, but his eyes had become very scary

“You are not welcome here. Please leave immediately!” My attitude was very tough, and I didn’t even look at him.

“You’re not the one who should ask me to leave. Are you the hostess here?” Herbert’s tone was full of sarcasm.

Herbert’s tough attitude made me even angrier. I said, “As long as I want, I can become the hostess here. Believe it or not!”

As soon as I saw Herbert, I lost all my strength and calmness.

My words turned into sharp blades and stabbed at his most sensitive part. This sentence obviously irritated the moody Herbert. He stepped forward, grabbed my arm, and lifted me up from the sofa.

“What do you want to do?” I still had a lot of fear in the face of Herbert.

I was a pregnant woman now. I was really worried that he would hurt my child.

“Come back with me, or... the consequences will be very serious,” Herbert warned me. “I have nothing to do with you now. I won’t go with you!” I knew his purpose. He probably didn’t care about me, but the baby in my belly.

“You’re pregnant with my child. You must come back with me.” Herbert dragged me out. I wrapped my arms around the couch, refusing to let go. And then, I shouted loudly, “Klein! Klein!”

The next moment, Herbert glanced at the shirt on the sofa and then looked in the direction of the bathroom.

His expression became even uglier. "You can do such a thing even though you are pregnant now. Aren't you afraid of the miscarriage of the baby in your belly?" Herbert suddenly accused me.

"What are you talking about?" I didn't understand what he meant.

Chapter 204

Herbert immediately shouted loudly, "Klein, come out!"

The person who was taking a shower inside must have heard the roars and shouts outside, and the sound of water stopped immediately.

Then, the bathroom door was opened, and a figure in a white bathrobe came out in a panic. His wet hair was still dripping with water. Klein was dressed in a bathrobe, and his collar was very loose, revealing his muscular chest. The next moment, Herbert stepped forward and grabbed Klein by the collar of his bathrobe. In a fierce voice, he said, "Klein, why are you coveting my woman?"

"Is Bella your woman? How about Caroline? As far as I know, you and Bella have divorced a long time ago!" Klein's words completely infuriated Herbert. Like a bull, he pushed him against the wall, then roared angrily, "She's pregnant with my child!" Klein laughed coldly. "Then can you marry her? Can you be responsible for the child in her belly?" As soon as Klein finished his question, my eyes fell on Herbert's face. In fact, I also wanted to know the answer.

I shouldn't have such an expectation, but my instinct still gave me some hope.

But this hope only lasted for a while.

Herbert didn't answer immediately. He was silent.

I already knew his answer.

He wouldn't marry me, nor would he be responsible for me!

The person he loved most was still lying in the hospital. How could he marry me? Wouldn't that make the person he loved die faster?

Last time, he could get married to me for the sake of the baby in my belly because Caroline had not come back at that time.

And this time, with Caroline around, he would definitely not want to hurt her.

If I used to have a little hope for Herbert, then at this moment, my heart had become completely cold. I completely lost hope for him. Herbert and I were not from the same world. We could never really be together.

I should have recognized the truth long ago... Herbert's POV:

When Klein questioned me, I really wanted to answer him.

But in the end, I remained silent.

Klein continued to mock me. "You can't take responsibility! Because the woman in your heart is still lying in the hospital right now!"

My heart seemed to have been pierced by a steel knife.

Lucas was still being treated now.

I didn't even know if my Lucas would continue to live tomorrow.

I had no way to marry Bella under such circumstances.

And I was waiting for Bella to give birth to the baby so that I could use the umbilical cord blood to save Lucas

I didn't dare to tell Bella about Lucas, because I was afraid that there would be an accident and Lucas might not be able to wake up.

Bella would definitely be more painful. The pain of losing a child again was even worse than what had happened at this moment.

Bella, I'm sorry!

At this moment, my only belief was to save Lucas, and everything else was secondary

Thus, my grip on Klein's bathrobe slowly loosened.

Klein stared firmly at me. He said, 'Since you can't do it, then don't bother me in the future!' "Are you saying that you can do it?" I stared at Klein

"I can immediately marry Bella, as long as she is willing. I will raise the child in her belly as my own child!" Klein's tone was very certain.

"You... are already together?" I turned to look at Bella...

Bride of Mr. Billion

Chapter 205

Bella's POV

When Herbert looked at me with doubt and disappointment, I still felt nervous.

I knew that I had to make a decision now. I couldn't let Herbert continue to pester me, or I would never have a peaceful life.

I stood up and walked up to Herbert step by step.

I looked up at him and replied, "My child does need a father and a normal family!"

The look on Herbert's face became very ugly, and he was completely crazy. He pulled Klein over and seemed to want to hit him, but in the end, he didn't do that.

He pushed Klein aside, and his fist slammed against the wall.

I turned my head away and didn't look at him.

Klein was somewhat stunned, his eyes staring at me

Then, he raised his head and laughed. "I wish you eternal happiness!"

"Thank you." I deliberately replied in a loud voice.

Herbert looked back at me and Klein, then turned and walked to the gate.

He stopped, turned his back to us, and said angrily, "But I remind you that when you make love, you'd better think about the baby in your belly"

With that, he strode away

I saw the blood on his fist, and my heart seemed to ache.

Although his words were like sharp knives and his attitude toward me was very bad I still felt heartbroken when I saw him injured.

I cursed myself for being stupid in my heart.

Why haven't I forgotten him? My rational mind was telling me not to have this feeling anymore. But my heart didn't listen to me at all. After Herbert left, the room became very quiet.

Only Klein and I remained in the room.

A few minutes later, Klein strode in front of me and said guiltily, 'I'm sorry, Bella. Did I say something I shouldn't have?'

I hurriedly shook my head. "No, I said something I shouldn't have said. I'm sorry, Klein. I just wanted to draw a clear line with him, so I let him misunderstand. Don't take it to heart!"

Klein stretched out his hand, scratching the back of his head. Laughing he said, 'It's fine. I won't mind. Actually, I hope what you said just now was true.'

I suddenly felt a little dizzy when I said the last sentence. I touched my head and was about to fall to the side.

Klein reached out to hug me, then called out frantically, 'Bella, what's wrong? Are you alright?'" Klein bent down and carried me into the master bedroom. Then, I heard him calling the doctor anxiously...

An hour later in the master bedroom, I was lying on the big bed. At the end of the bed, my face filled with sweat. A doctor in a white coat entered. I was also very nervous. Although it became clear, I was still very nervous.

Although Mom, I really blame in my heart. I don't think I could have been any better. My physical condition was not very good if something happened to the baby in my womb. I would really

After the doctor took all his medical equipment, Klein panicked frantically. "Doctor, how long will it take?"

I stared at the doctor and listened attentively to his diagnosis.

The doctor pushed his glasses and replied, "There are signs of miscarriage in the fetus."

Hearing this, I sat up in shock and begged, "Doctor, please save my child."

"Doctor, is there any other way to save him?" Klein frowned.

The doctor spoke with a serious face. The pregnant woman must maintain a calm mind, and the medicine to be bedridden for at least half a month. I'll try my best, but I can't guarantee that the child

"Alright, doctor," Klein hurriedly said,

After sending the doctor off, Klein hurried to the master bedroom.

Lying on the big bed, my eyes were full of fear and worry

Klein sat at the side of the bed, wanting to grab my hand. But then, he retracted his hand and advised, "Don't worry too much the doctor made it sound very serious. Just do as the doctor says. There won't be any problems."

Hearing this, I could only think so

"Don't worry I'll have someone make delicious food for you on time. You don't have to worry about anything. All you have to do is rest in bed." Klein gently consoled me

I nodded and said quietly, "I'm sorry for troubling you again, but I can't do anything about it now. I can only stay here and trouble you really don't have anywhere else to go..."

At this point, I couldn't help but shed tears.

I've never been so helpless in my life.

When I was a child, my family was very poor and my life was difficult. I also had the belief to persevere.

"When I grew up, no matter what kind of setbacks I suffered, I was beaten and scolded by my biological father, bullied, forced to go far away... I was almost raped by bad people, but I had never been so helpless and alone.

At this moment, the child in my belly was my life. I couldn't lose it this time!

But at this moment, it seemed as though, aside from Klein, there was no one else who could take care of me and take good care of me. The appearance of Klein saved me,

How could I make myself so embarrassed? Nothing had gone smoothly in the past few years,

I didn't care about my career or my kinship. I just wanted to pray to God, "Save the child in my belly. This is all my hope!"

Klein picked out two pieces of tissue and handed them to me. Then he patiently advised, "You can 15.43 continue to live here. Look, my place here is very big. I'm actually very lonely. I have to thank you for coming and making this room warm!" Hearing this, I couldn't help but smile. "You are so humorous. "Didn't you hear what the doctor said just now? You can't be agitated. You have to be calm. Alright, in the future, I'll have Jane stay by your side every day. You can't have any more accidents." Klein suddenly stood up.

Hearing these words, I didn't refuse. Rubbing my belly, I thought, 'Just accept all of Klein's arrangements. I really can't have any more accidents right now.'

Klein hesitated, but in the end, he didn't say anything. He only said a few words of blessings. "Good luck to both of you!"

"Well, I'm in a hurry to buy gifts for my parents! Let's talk next time." After that, William left with Emma in his arms.

"Bye!" Klein waved his hand, watching as they left.

Only after William and the Emma had gone far away did Klein say with a cold laugh, "This friend of mine has been fooled by Emma. I wonder where his intelligence has gone?"

"Maybe he thought he had found true love," I said,

Hearing these words, Klein said, "That can't be right. You and the Emma are enemies? Why are you so calm right now?"

I pursed my lips and smiled. "For my child, I must be calm. I won't care about anything that has nothing to do with me in the future."

"That's right!" Klein praised me.

Afterwards, Klein seemed to have thought of something. He said, "How did I forget about this? The doctor asked us to go get that pregnancy report."

"I forgot about it too." I said hastily.

"Wait here. I'll go in and get it!" Klein said.

"Okay." I nodded.

Klein hurriedly walked into the building.

At this time, I looked up and suddenly saw that Emma was back, Could it be that she had forgotten to take something? But William was not with her. I didn't realize that Emma wanted to show off in front of me until she came to me with complacency.

"Bella, you didn't expect that, did you? I was the one who married into a rich and powerful family, but you got nothing." Emma's tone was full of pride, and she looked at me with disdain.

I pursed my lips and sneered. "Emma, don't be proud too early. You haven't married into a rich and powerful family yet!"

I knew Emma too well. She probably sent William away on purpose and came to me to show off. She just wanted to laugh at me.

"Are you jealous of me? I'm already pregnant. I'll definitely marry William."

Bella's POV

"I'm not interested in your matters at all."

After that, I turned around and was about to leave. Now that I had a baby in my belly, I didn't want to get into trouble.

But Emma blocked my way and continued to sneer at me. "You're leaving shamefully because you couldn't beat me?"

"I'm not as boring as you," I said coldly.

"Hmph. When you were pregnant, Herbert married you, but he didn't even give you a wedding. When your child died, he immediately divorced you. But I quite admire your ability to seduce actually with Klein. What do you think? Will he marry you? Or will he just treat you as a plaything? Klein is very popular with women. Will he marry a woman who has been divorced?!" Emma was extremely smug.

ON

I was not angry with the sarcasm of Emma. On the contrary, I was very calm. "You are better at seducing people. Any man will be seduced by you. But you'd better be mentally prepared. The higher you climb, the more miserable you fall!" "You're cursing me?" Emma seemed to want to say something, but her cell phone suddenly rang.

When she saw the phone number, she quickly picked up the phone. Her face changed instantly, and her tone was particularly gentle. "William, I got the things. I'll be right back!"

After looking down on me, Emma turned around and walked away in her high heels.

I knew that Emma came back to humiliate me, but I was not particularly agitated.

Emma was rotten on the surface, and she did not have a deep scheme. Last time, they hired two bastards to insult me. I guessed it was Connie's idea. At this moment, Klein just happened to walk out of the hospital. Klein frowned. "That's Emma? Did she just come back?"

"Yes." I nodded.

"What did she say to you?" Klein asked. I smiled faintly. "What else could she say? She just wanted to show off that she's going to marry into a rich and powerful family and ridiculed me." Klein was furious. "Emma's good days are coming to an end soon." "She can't see the potential crisis at all." I shook my head with a smile. "Enough. Let's not talk about her. She's so annoying. Let's go." Klein put his arm around my shoulders, and then we went home. That night, after dinner, Jane informed that she had something to do at home. All of a sudden, only Klein and I remained in the large house.

At the dinner table, when Klein put down his tableware, I said, "Klein, there's something I want to discuss with you."

Chapter 207

"What is it? Speak." Klein raised his head and laughed.

I said cautiously. "The doctor said that I'm in good health now, and the baby's condition is stable, so I think I should leave. After all, I can't give birth to the baby here, right? I'm not afraid of being gossiped. I'm afraid that it will affect you looking for a girlfriend in the future, don't you think so?"

I was afraid that Klein wouldn't agree, so I intentionally used a teasing tone to finish.

The smile on Klein's face had completely disappeared.

"Your mother doesn't know about your pregnancy. Where else can you go?" Klein said in a worried voice.

"I want to go to Wharton. I'm familiar with the situation over there. It should be very peaceful to rent a small house for myself," I said in the most relaxed tone. I didn't want the atmosphere to be too serious.

Klein rose to his feet and walked back and forth in the dining room.

I had no chance to continue talking, and the atmosphere in the room instantly became very dull.

I looked at the serious look on Klein's face. My feelings were very complicated. Klein really was too kind to me, but I always felt that I owed him too much.

The feeling of being overly indebted made me panic. I didn't know how I would make it up to him if I continued to accept his kindness.

After walking back and forth a few times, Klein suddenly came to a halt. He turned and sat down opposite me, then hurriedly suggested, "Bella, I have a very good suggestion. I wonder if you would agree or not?"

"What suggestion?" I asked in confusion.

Klein then said, "My grandmother lives alone in the suburbs. The environment there is very good, and the air is very fresh. She lives there alone, and the house is very large. There's no problem for you to live there. Why don't you accompany her?"

I hesitated for a moment and chose to refuse. "That's not good. I will disturb the old lady's life." "You won't disturb her. You're helping me. My grandmother is no longer young. There's no one else but a servant at home. My mother passed away a long time ago."

"I'm usually busy with work, so I can't accompany her often. If you live there, you can help me take care of my grandma, chat with her, and watch TV series with her. She will definitely be happy." "Bella, this is what I need your help with. Are you willing to help me?" Klein was trying hard to persuade me.

"But..." I was in a dilemma.

I knew that it wasn't that grandma needed my company. It was that Klein hoped that I would be able to accept his help in peace.

Klein then said, "Although your situation is stable now, there will still be quite a few accidents when it comes to pregnancy. If you are alone in Wharton, what if something happens to you? Even if you don't care about your body, you still have to put the safety of the child in your belly first, right? The baby can't have any accidents." The last two sentences were exactly what I cared about the most. There was nowhere to go now, and I didn't have anyone to take care of me.

I lowered my head to look at my bulging lower abdomen. I hesitated for a moment, but in the end, I agreed

"Then I'll go and disturb grandma for a few months."

"Okay! I'll go make a call to my grandmother first." As Klein spoke, he walked out. It could be seen that he was very happy

Bella's POV:

Two days later, Klein drove me to his grandmother's place, "Judy's home."

After driving for about an hour, Klein parked the car in a very beautiful place. There was a green mountain here.

There was a small river, which was very clear. Small shrimps and small fish could be seen inside.

Autumn was the season of harvest. The apple tree, persimmon tree, and date tree were already full of fruits.

Behind these trees, there was a house with a red roof and white walls.

It was so beautiful, like a fairy tale world.

Standing here, I felt every breath of air was clear. No wonder Klein's grandmother liked to live here alone.

I felt a little happy at the thought of being able to live here for a few months.

"This place isn't bad, is it?" Klein said.

I nodded. "It's nice here. It's so beautiful."

Then, the wooden door of the small courtyard was opened from the inside, and a woman about 40 years old came out. She wore a gray dress, simple and clean.

"Nice to meet you!" Klein smiled as he greeted.

Bert was very enthusiastic. "Mr. Wharton, you're back? Is this Miss Stepanek? She's really a beautiful lady" "Nice to meet you." I greeted politely

Just now, on the way here, Klein had explained to her about the situation here. Bert was a servant who served Klein's grandmother. He was a warm and kind person Bert's home was nearby. It was said that he had served the old lady for ten years.

"Where's Grandma?" Klein asked.

"She is waiting for you in the room. Just now, I was asked to go to the door to see if you reached, Bert answered with a smile.

"Please carry the luggage into the house." After saying these words, Klein pulled me into the little courtyard.

Timmediately fell in love with this place.

The path was paved with pebbles, and the grape shelves on both sides of the road were full of green grapes

On the other side, there was a small vegetable garden with a lot of vegetables, such as tomatoes, carrots, and vegetables "These are all grandmother's vegetables" Klein explained as he led the way for me

"Grandma!" Klein called out as he walked through the guest room and into the bedroom

I followed behind Klein, somewhat courteous and cautious.

"Klein!" A white-haired old lady pulled Klein over. From the loving look in the old lady's eyes, one could tell that she truly doted on Klein.

"Grandma, how are you doing recently?" Seeing how excited his grandmother was, Klein walked forward and hugged her.

"Okay, I'm fine" Grandma nodded with a smile.

Only after a few words did Ms. Leina see me. She looked at me and said with a smile, "Is this Bella you're talking about?"

"Hello, Ms. Leina." I immediately greeted politely.

"Grandma, this is a very good friend of mine. Don't be too strict with her." Klein tugged at his grandmother's hand, laughing as he spoke.

Ms. Leina glanced at Klein, then said, "I can tell with a single glance that Bella is a good girl! She's much more obedient than you!" Klein rubbed his nose, revealing a smile on his face. He looked like a mischievous little boy, completely different from the image I had of the boss from a law firm. Sure enough, no matter how old a person was, he would still be like a child in front of the closest elders

Although Klein's grandmother was over seventy years old, she looked very healthy.

It could be seen from the old lady's face and eyebrows that she was a very beautiful woman.

Upon closer inspection, there were some features on Klein's face that were similar to Ms. Leina.

Ms. Leina's dress was very simple, but she had a very elegant temperament. Moreover, the jade bracelet on her hand was very delicate, and ordinary people could not afford it.

Klein's family was very rich, and his grandmother was naturally no ordinary person. This night, Klein stayed at Ms. Leina's house.

This house was very spacious. Even if there were a few more people, they wouldn't have to worry about having no place to live.

The next day, Klein left, leaving me alone. In the beginning, I was not used to it. After all, it was completely different. But gradually, I found that Ms. Leina was a very experienced old lady

She got up at six o'clock in the morning, exercised in the morning, and had breakfast. Then she went to bed to rest for an hour, read the newspaper in the morning, took a walk in the afternoon, and began to watch TV dramas in the evening

At other times, she would plant vegetables and flowers. If she was free, she would chat with me for a while.

In short, she wouldn't interfere with me, but she would also let Bert take good care of me.

Now, I knew why Klein had brought me to the supermarket to shop. Klein had brought me everything I needed. Because there wasn't even a supermarket nearby. Fortunately, I had almost all of the daily necessities. Every day. I would also start to sleep early and get up early. I would stand in the yard and accompany grandmother to do morning exercises. I would learn to plant flowers, vegetables, help her ck, clean the yard, and accompany her to watch TV dramas at night. : Days passed very quickly, and my heart was unusually peaceful. I found that I had never been as peaceful as I was now.

Here, there was no noise in the city, nor was there any complicated emotional entanglement.

No one came to quarrel with me. I learned how to deal with things calmly here. I was much calmer.

Two months later, my belly grew bigger and bigger, and the baby in my belly began to move. I began to interact with my baby.

One night, grandma and I were watching a love drama. The two people in the TV series were immersed in love.

“Bella, is there any blood relationship between the child in your belly and me?” Ms. Leina suddenly asked me.

What did she mean? How could the child in my belly be related to Klein’s grandmother?

Grandma smiled slyly. “Although I’m old, you can’t lie to me. I can tell that Klein likes you.”

Bellas POV

I understood Ms Leinas meaning

Klein would come here almost every weekend He would buy a lot of things, and most of the things he bought were things I liked

Bert said that in the past Klein would only come once a month

Thus in the next moment I hurriedly explained Ms Leina you ve misunderstood Klein and I are just ordinary trends Right now I am in trouble as well Klein is a very warm hearted person which is why he sent me to your place’

Hearing these words Ms Leina let out a sigh ‘Alas, what a pity! Its because Klein isn’t lucky

I hurriedly sad Klein is so outstanding in the future, he will definitely find a wife that matches him!

Ms Leina glanced at me an excelent woman only cares about herself and doesn’t care about what klein thinks it wont be good either Tane Kleinsergirltrend. Vivian for example She does have a lot to pursue, but she always gives up on him Fortunately, they broke up

I was silent not saying a word

She suddenly looked at my belly and asked, “Where’s your child’s father? Is it because he doesn’t want to take responsibility? Tell me who that person is. I can help you!

I didn't want to mention that person again

Therefore, I quickly said. "Ms Leima, the father of the baby in my belly is a very bad person. I don't like him anymore, so I won't marry him. The doctor said that if I don't keep the baby, it may be difficult for me to get pregnant in the future so I decided to give birth to the baby, even if I will become a single mother"

Ms Leina seemed very surprised

A few minutes later she shook her head and said. "Perhaps it's because I'm old and different from the past. I don't understand what young people like you are thinking. Why aren't you willing to get married? Klein and Vivian have been in love for many years, and in the end, they broke up. By the way, Klein has a cousin, and he's not married. It's said that he has a sick girlfriend. I really don't know what's going on in this world. Everyone seems to have no hope for marriage

I was stunned for a few seconds. Klein's cousin must be Herbert, and his sick girlfriend should be Caroline

Everyone knew that Herbert had never given up on his ill girlfriend, and even Klein's grandmother knew about it

Perhaps he really had a deep feeling for her. Although I was very calm now and didn't think too much about Herbert, if someone really mentioned his name, I would still be sad. That night, I was in a bad mood, so I went back to my room to sleep very early. The next morning, I heard Bert's shout "Ms Leina Mc Wharton is here!

It was Klein who had come. It was said that Klein's grandmother only had one daughter. Thus, she had almost no other family members,

Hearing the shout, I also walked out of the room and went to the door.

"Grandma, I'm here!" As Klein spoke, he generally handed over the items in his hands to Bert.

Ms. Leina glanced at me and said with a smile, "I've been here for many years. You don't come often."

I knew that Ms. Leina was hinting. It was because of me that Klein often came here.

Klein hugged his grandmother's shoulders and coaxed her. "Grandma, I'm not busy with my work recently. I'm really a little tired. In the future, I won't spend all my time on my work, so I'll come often to keep you company!" "Okay! Let's go to play golf with me.

There is an old man who always wants to compete with me. I must be better than him!" Ms. Leina changed the topic.

Klein immediately said, "Grandma, I'll go with you. I'll definitely make sure that old man doesn't come find trouble with you again."

"No, no, I just want to compete with him. I just want to win. I can continue to compete in the future." Ms. Leina emphasized.

"Fine! No problem." Klein repeated himself, then turned his head and winked at me.

I chuckled and went back to my room.

At noon, Bert made a sumptuous lunch. Grandmother was very happy today, so she ate a lot. After lunch, Klein went on a stroll with her and she went back to her room to take a nap.

I sat under the grape tree, glancing sideways at the little flowery cat sleeping beneath my feet. Then, poured myself a glass of water. Just after a few sips, Klein walked out of his grandmother's bedroom.

"Is Ms. Leina asleep?" I put down my cup and asked.

Nas

"Right." Klein nodded, then laughed. "Today, Grandma was very happy. She won against that old man."

Hearing this, I pursed my lips and smiled. I thought, "Old people's life are so easy. They can be so happy after winning a golf."

"I can see that you've been in a particularly good state recently. It seems you've been living quite well here. The air here is very good. I should stay here as well." Klein glanced at me, then laughed as he sat down on his rocking chair.

"Actually, your grandma is very good at choosing places. I didn't know that A City had such beautiful and natural scenery. The river at the door is very clear," I said sincerely,

"Of course. Do you know how many developers in this place want to build a high-class community here? My grandmother bought all the nearby mountains because she was afraid that those developers would come and destroy the scenery of this place!" Klein suddenly said.

Hearing this, I was very shocked, because Ms. Leina's life was very simple. She was not like an ordinary noble woman. She must have spent a lot of money to buy so many mountains nearby. "Right, there's a piece of news that I can tell you!" Afterwards, Klein suddenly sat up from his rocking chair with a mysterious smile on his face, 15.46 You've really become much calmer." Klein gave me a thumbs-up. "It's because the environment here is good, and your grandmother is also a very good person. It's easy to calm people down," I said with a smile.

"However, I still want to describe to you the tragic state of Emma." Klein laid back in his rocking chair, continuing Afterwards, Klein began to describe everything to me. "Emma spent a great deal of effort in order to hk up with William. Naturally, she couldn't just let it go. That's why she chased after William every two days. She used all sorts of tricks, such as crying, kneeling on the ground, hanging herself, cutting her wrist, and so on, causing William to be in such great pain!"

"I do believe that." I nodded. People like Emma could do all these things.

It was said that Connie had used Ryan before. Otherwise, her mother would not be her match.

"Later, William really couldn't take it anymore. He had no choice but to go to America for refuge. Emma couldn't find William, so she went to find William's mother. William's mother was a powerful person. After a few rounds, Emma didn't dare to go to William's mother's place again. Didn't this mean that things were over?" Klein spread out his hands.

Hearing that, I covered my mouth and laughed. Then I said, "Ah, William can't stay in America forever, can he?"

"I imagine that things will gradually be forgotten by others..." Klein said.

This night, Klein didn't go back. He stayed here.

It was another room.

There were several rooms in Ms. Leina's house.

The arrival of Klein had made the little courtyard even more lively. Tonight, Klein had prepared a barbecue. Grandma was very happy. She had eaten quite a bit, and so had I. Everyone was very happy.

Autumn gradually passed, and winter came. Time flew. Christmas was coming.

I couldn't help missing my home as I looked at the decorations of my home.

Mom also called me several times, urging me to go home. I lowered my head and looked at my belly. I couldn't go back at all. I was full of guilt for my mother, so I could only keep making up lies and said I was a manager. I had to stay for work. I was in a state of self-blame and guilt. Suddenly, the door to the courtyard opened, and Klein walked in, carrying something in his hands. He was still very happy, and the smile on his face was as bright as sunshine. If it weren't for Klein, my current life would have been terrible. I could still quietly wait for the baby to give birth here. I handed the items which Klein had brought over to Bert, then walked out of the door. I frowned, not knowing what he was going to do.

Bella's POV:

Klein brought over a lot of things, then headed straight for my bedroom.

I opened the door for him.

"Let's see what I've brought you." Klein excitedly placed everything on the sofa.

"What is it?" I stepped forward in confusion.

When I opened those packages, I was stunned.

Because there were milk bottles, diapers, and baby clothes inside.

I took out a milk bottle and looked at it carefully. I was very touched.

Originally, I planned to buy these things by myself for a period of time. But I didn't imagine that Klein would be so attentive. He had thought things through for me. I was really touched. He had done too much for me, and I couldn't repay him anything at all. Because I was too moved, tears began to flow uncontrollably.

"Bella, what's wrong?" Klein immediately asked.

I hurriedly turned and wiped away my tears. "Nothing. Thank you, Klein!"

Klein said, "You're welcome. I don't know if the child in your belly is a boy or a girl. Thus, I followed the salesgirl's suggestion to buy a yellow one. Either boy or girl can wear it." As he spoke, he showed me the infant clothes.

I glanced at him, a little choked with ss. "Klein, I really don't know what to say. You've thought everything through for me."

Speaking up to this point, I couldn't continue any further. Klein hurriedly said, "Bella, you don't have to say anything. Don't cry! If you cry, I won't know what to do."

I looked up at the ceiling and tried to control my emotions.

"Bella...I'll go take a look at grandma." Klein turned and left. This made me feel much more relaxed.

I sat alone by the bed, watching and playing with the clothes of the babies one by one... Although there weren't many people in the little courtyard, and with the addition of Klein, there were only four people, this Christmas was very fulfilling and grand. A beautiful Christmas tree, the gifts hidden in the socks by Klein's grandmother, as well as a roasted turkey made by Bert.

Klein had been talking about some interesting things, and Bert often made everyone happy.

This atmosphere was simply too good.

I could feel the warmth of home.

Time passed quickly, and soon it was spring in the second year. The weather gradually warmed up. After dinner, Klein's grandmother asked me to go to her room. "Do you have something to say to me?" I asked with a smile, holding my swollen belly.

Ms. Leina reached out to touch my belly and asked kindly, "How long before the estimated date of delivery?"

"One more month," I replied.

I looked down at my belly and smiled happily. Now the baby's fetal movement was very obvious. The baby always kicked me before I slept, and my belly would swell up into a hill. I had already felt her existence so clearly

Hearing this, Grandma nodded. Then she turned around and went to the wardrobe. She opened the closet and took out a bag

I watched in surprise as her grandmother placed the bag on the bed. She sat by the bed and slowly opened the bag

I was attracted by the flowers with cartoon patterns printed on them. They were really beautiful. They were all the cartoon patterns that children liked.

"*This is..." I slowly walked over.

Ms. Leina looked up and said with a smile, "I'm old. I made this little quilt and a few clothes. I didn't make them well compared to when I was young"

Hearing this, I was surprised and touched.

Mrs. Reina was very old. She had to wear her spectacles when she looked at things. She must have spent a lot of time on these things

This represented the blessing of an elder to the child.

"What? You don't like it? If you don't like it, then I'll keep it for Klein's children." Mrs. Reina said.

I quickly took it over. Laughing, I said, "I like it. I like it very much. This is mine. I'll have to trouble you to make another one of Klein's child in the future."

The wrinkles on Ms. Leina's face deepened when she laughed, but her tone was very happy. "As long as you like it."

She was silent for a moment, then said, "I'm almost eighty years old this year. Right now, Klein doesn't even have an official girlfriend. How long do I have to wait until he has a child? Who knows by then, I might no longer be here."

Hearing these sad words, I hurriedly tried to persuade her. "Ms. Leina, your body is very healthy. Perhaps Klein will soon have an official girlfriend!"

"I know very well. I'm sleepy. You can leave now." Ms. Leina waved at me

I carried the bundle in my arms and walked out of Grandma's room.

In the afternoon, the sun was warm. I couldn't fall asleep, so I went out of the courtyard alone and wanted to take a walk nearby

I took a walk along the river. I was thinking about what would happen a month later.

In order to ensure that my future life was not chaotic,

Right now, I had to make a good plan. I didn't want to cause any more trouble for Klein,

I was lost in my thoughts when I suddenly heard the sound of a car behind me. I couldn't help but look back and saw a black car suddenly surpassing me, which scared me!

Then there was a sudden brake, and the car suddenly stopped in front of me! I saw the car's plate number
