Chapter 431

Chapter 431

Bella's POV:

Ryan immediately stopped being arrogant.

He walked toward me and said with a smile, "My daughter, I haven't been able to find your mother and sister these days. I heard that you have an accounting firm here, so I came to see you."

As he spoke, Ryan's eyes turned red. I really admired his acting skills. Did he have such a deep relationship with me?

"Who told you that I'm running a company here?" I questioned him.

In fact, I already knew it in my heart. Maybe it was Connie or Emma who told him about it. After all, Emma's company was just opposite mine. But didn't he hate the mother and daughter? How could he still be in contact with them?

Ryan was stunned for a moment and then said, "My former neighbor told me. They all said that you're capable now. They said that I'll have a good life in the future as you run your own company."

Hearing this, I was furious. I directly turned around and sat on a chair, saying, "It's my own business whether I open the company or not. It seems that it has nothing to do with you, right?"

"How can you say that? No matter what, I'm your father!" Ryan looked aggrieved.

"Don't say that in the future. I have already cut off all ties with you. I have nothing to do with you!" My tone was as cold as ice.

Ryan, who had been trying hard to show his grievance just now, began to scold me directly. "Bella, I'm your father!" "Now that you are living a good life, why don't you recognize me? Humph, who would do business with a terrible person like you?"

Ryan stood at the door while cursing, and his voice was very loud. He deliberately wanted to let the people who were doing business outside and people nearby hear him, in order to force me to compromise. After all, I was running a company now. If there was any public opinion, it would be very harmful to me.

I knew his evil intentions, but I was not affected by him.

Once he thought he could control me, I would never be able to get rid of him for the rest of my life.

“You said Bella is your daughter, but you’re ruining her reputation like this here? Shouting and yelling here will only spoil your own image. Do you think anyone will believe what you’ve said?” Joey said loudly.

“Believe it or not, I am her father. This is the truth! Even if I divorced her mother before, I have raised her for several years! It’s okay that she doesn’t appreciate me, but she doesn’t want to care about me! It’s absolutely impossible!” Ryan stamped his feet and scolded. Hearing this, my lungs exploded with anger!

I pointed to Joey and Amy and said, “Let him say whatever he wants. I don’t care. Anyway, in my heart, my father has already died! If he makes trouble, call the security guards.”

As soon as I finished my last sentence, my eyes turned red.

I couldn’t forget the hardships I suffered when I was a child. My sister, mother, and I had lived a sad Chapter 431 life for more than ten years. I felt sad just thinking about it now,

“You, I will sit at the door and scold you every day. Don’t think that your business will run well here.” Ryan sat directly on the floor at the door.

Seeing Ryan making a scene at the door, I hold my head in annoyance and felt my head hurt. I took a look at Joey and Amy to show my apology

I really didn’t know how to deal with Ryan for the time being

“Bella, what should we do?” Joey walked up to me and asked in a low voice,

I could only pretend that I didn’t care and said, “What else can we do? Let him be. He likes to make trouble so much, at most, we can just close down.”

“How can that be?” Joey frowned,

“What is going on? Making trouble in front of someone’s company? Connor, immediately call the police!” At this time, a familiar male voice suddenly sounded from outside the door.

I looked up and saw that it was Herbert, followed by Connor,

“Yes” Connor immediately took out his phone and was about to call the police,

Ryan, who was sitting at the door, looked up and saw that it was Herbert and his assistant. He continued to play a rogue. “It’s useless for the police to come. It’s a family affair. I haven’t seen a policeman stopping a father coming to find his daughter!”

Hearing this, Herbert sneered. Then he squatted down and looked at Ryan, saying, “You have affected other people by staying here. Although you won’t be in prison for a long time, at most half a month, I think you’re not young anymore and you won’t have an easy life for the next half a month. I can arrange a fierce criminal to deal with you in the prison!”

These words frightened Ryan. Herbert was rich and powerful, and he was definitely not saying these just to scare him. So in the next moment, Ryan’s attitude was much more restrained.

“You Didn’t you break up with Bella? Why are you here again?” Ryan’s heart was beating fast, and he started talking incoherently.

“I’ve never parted ways with Bella, and we’re about to get married soon” Herbert said with a smile.

On the other side, I was a little anxious. I wanted to avoid Ryan now. Now that Herbert told him that we were about to get married again, Ryan would definitely cling on to me in the future.

Hearing this, Ryan immediately smiled, “So you’re already married. My daughter is so lucky to find a good man like you.”

Herbert then stood up straight and lowered his head to warn Ryan, who was still sitting on the ground, “It’s good that you know. Don’t pester her in the future, or I won’t let you go!”

Ryan immediately looked pity and begged Herbert, “Herbert, I had no choice but to come to find my daughter I’m not young anymore, and I have high blood pressure I don’t even have a place to live non Look at my clothes, I haven’t changed them for many days I can only sleep under the bridge non it fl be winter in a few days Am going to be frozen to death? I also care about my pride, other inge, I wouldn’t come here.”

At this point, an actually burst into tears

Herbert stated at Ryan, then he made a gesture to Connor

Connor took out a stack of cash from his bag and handed it to Ryan

"This is ten thousand dollars. You should find a place to settle down first," Herbert said to Ryan. "Herbert, you're such a kind person!" Ryan held the money in his hand, his face full of excitement.

Chapter 432

Bella's POV:

I wanted to take back the money, but it was not easy for Ryan to spit out the money that he had already received. With a flick of his wrist, he put the pile of money into his arms.

"Don't give him money!" I was a little anxious.

Ryan proudly said to me, "This is what Herbert gave me! You can treat me bad, but it doesn't prevent your husband from treating me well."

"Is that so, Herbert?" Ryan's attitude towards Herbert could be described as pleasing.

The look on Herbert's face was very solemn. "In the future, you are not allowed to bother Bella again. If there's anything you need, come find me at the Wharton Group in the future."

"Okay, okay, I will definitely go to your big company." Ryan's face was full of smiles when he heard this.

Seeing this, I turned around angrily and put my arms in front of my chest.

"You can go now." Herbert was a little impatient with Ryan.

"Goodbye, Herbert." Ryan took the money and left happily.

After Ryan left, I wanted to lose my temper, but when I saw so many people in front of me, I endured it. I was still very angry, so I turned around and walked quickly into my office.

I sat down on the sofa in anger. Herbert followed me in and closed the door of the office.

I asked him, "Why did you give him money? Do you know that he is a rogue?" Herbert sat on the sofa and patiently persuaded, "Anyway, he is your biological father and you are doing your business now. This scandal will not only affect your image but also the future development of your company." How could I listen to him now? I said agitatedly, "Do you know how hard it was for me and my sister to live when we were children? I remember that there was once when I couldn't pay the tuition fees, so I could only ask him for money. But what did he do? He was eating a big meal with Connie's child outside. I asked him for 15 dollars, but he refused to give it to me. He also slapped me and said that he was not my father... From then on, I told myself in my heart that my father died and I would never treat him as my father!"

Herbert didn't say anything. He just handed me a tissue.

After a while, he said, "I'm not asking you to recognize him now. I'm just helping him with some money. It's for the sake that you won't have any trouble in the future."

"I would rather not do this business than give him a penny Besides, you don't know Ryan. He is a greedy person. If you give him 1,500 dollars today, he will ask you for 3,000 dollars tomorrow, and he will ask for 7,500 dollars the day after tomorrow!" I said angrily

Herbert held my shoulder. "In the future, leave Ryan to me. I won't let him trouble you!"

Hearing this, I was touched and then lay on Herbert's shoulder

Herbert's POV

Bella sobbed on my shoulder

11:07D) "How could my life be like this? Other people have a happy family and parents who love their children, but how could I have such a father? He didn't care about us since we were children, but now he always makes trouble for us and embarrass us."

Seeing the sad look on her face, I frowned, and my heart was in a dilemma.

I stroked her back, pursed my lips, and said with a smile, "You always give me a strong impression. It's rare to see such a fragile and complaining look." Hearing this, Bella grabbed the tissue from my hand, wiped her tears, and said, "Everyone will have a fragile moment, and I'm no exception. Don't think that I'm strong in the future. In fact, I also need someone to comfort and take care of me."

Hearing this, I knew that she was in a better mood. I pinched her nose and said, "I thought you were just a weed on the roadside. You are not afraid of the wind, the rain, and the dust. You can live very well."

At this time, Bella glared at me with her red eyes. "I've never heard of someone who doesn't like a beautiful flower but choose to like the weeds on the roadside."

I raised an eyebrow and teased Bella deliberately. "Maybe that person has seen and smelled all kinds of flowers and think they're not good enough. The weeds on the roadside are more interesting."

The next second, Bella reached out angrily and grabbed the tie around my neck. She pulled it forward hard and asked aggressively, "What did you say? You've seen and smelled everything? What kind of flower did you smell? Tell me the truth."

"I've already smelled it. What's the use of telling you now? Anyway, you are already my wife." || deliberately spread out my hands to show my helplessness.

Bella pushed me angrily. "Why are you in such a hurry to collect the marriage certificate with me? It turns out that you lied to me!"

After that, Bella stood up and punched me in the chest.

I immediately reached out and hugged Bella's waist. Bella's body immediately lost its balance. She tilted and sat on my lap! I smiled and hugged her, not letting her get up. She saw me holding her waist and not letting go. She immediately said seriously, "Let go of me!" "I won't let you go!" I looked at her with a smile, but I wouldn't let her go.

"Let me go. They're all outside!" Bella didn't want to have any romantic incidents in the office with me.

What's more, if someone suddenly came in, she would feel a little embarrassed.

"They know that we have something important to talk about, so they won't come in." I stopped smiling and said seriously. "What time is it now? Shouldn't you go to work?" Bella asked.

"It doesn't matter. I'm the president. I'll give myself an hour off today," I said indifferently

At this moment, I turned over and pressed Bella down on the sofa!

She cried out in a low voice, and then her mouth was sealed by mine.

Oh god, we were doing such a thing here. This was Bella's office!

She continued to push my shoulder, but I didn't want to let her go at all. On the contrary, I became even more excited. In the end, she didn't dare to move, because the noise was a bit loud, fearing that the people outside would hear us

Bride of Mr.Billion Chapter 433

Chapter 433

Chapter 433

The third person perspective:

Joey, Amy, and Connor, who were standing outside the office, heard a scream coming from Bella's office, and then there was no more sound,

They haven't been out of the office for a long time. We were a little embarrassed. We could tell what they were doing without thinking.

In order to ease the awkward atmosphere, Joey hurriedly said, "Connor, I'm going to make you a cup of coffee!"

After that, she turned around and slipped away.

"Well, I still have a file I haven't finished. Excuse me." Amy also turned around and ran away.

Only Connor was left behind. Connor turned around and sat down on a chair.

A few minutes later, Joey came over with a cup of hot coffee. "Connor, have a cup of coffee." Joey handed over the coffee in her hand.

Connor hurriedly got up and reached out his hand to receive the coffee.

However, it was unknown whether it was due to the fact that Connor's hand didn't catch the cup, or if Joey's hand first loosened its grip. The coffee cup immediately tumbled onto the ground! In that instant, not only did the porcelain cup shatter, the brown liquid also flowed to the ground, splashing onto Connor's pants. When Joey saw the stains on Connor's pants, she couldn't help but say, "I'm sorry, Connor. I..."

Joey was very annoyed. Why hadn't she done a good job?

When Connor lowered his head and saw the brown liquid on his pants, he felt a bit nauseous. However, he still politely said, "I'm fine."

"I'll get a wet towel for you." After that, Joey rushed to the pantry.

Bella's POV:

I heard the sound of something breaking outside, so I took the opportunity to push Herbert away,

"What is it? Something seems to have been broken," I said, got up and was about to leave.

However, Herbert reached out and grabbed my wrist.

I was a little anxious, "Don't make trouble. I'll go and see what's going on outside, okay? If you want to mnave trouble... you have to wait until we get home."

I lowered my head,

Herbert let go of me

Immediately got up and tidied up my clothes. When I was about to open the door Herbert grabbed

I looked back at him "What's the mallery

Herbert's eyes were burning with desire. Don't forget what you promised me just now

"What did I promise you?" frowned and asked

11070) I didn't remember what I promised him. He lowered his head, touched my fingernails, and said slowly, "Didn't you say that I can do whatever I want when I go home?"

Hearing that, I pushed him. "That depends on my mood."

With that, I quickly opened the door and walked out.

As soon as I walked out of the office, I saw Connor standing in the center of the office. Joey was squatting in front of him with a wet towel in her hand, helping him wipe the stain on his pants. Beside him, Amy was cleaning the broken coffee cup with a broom.

"What's wrong?" I asked in confusion.

"It was me who accidentally smashed the coffee cup. The coffee in the cup stained Connor's pants."

Joey raised her head and blamed herself.

At this time, Connor said, "It's not her fault. It's all because I didn't catch the cup."

Seeing that the two of them were taking responsibility, I said, "It's just a cup. It's nothing. It's just that your pants have to be sent to the laundry store."

"I'm sorry." Joey blamed herself.

Connor's pants looked quite expensive.

Connor said, "It's nothing. Joey, there's no need to wipe it. I'll just go back and change another one."

"How are you going to go out like this? Why don't I wipe it for you again?" Joey held a towel in her hand, wanting to wipe away the stain on Connor's pants.

Connor instead took a step back, refusing, "There's no need, thank you."

Joey did not insist. Instead, she stood up.

At this time, Herbert came out of my office.

Connor hurriedly stepped forward, waiting for his orders. Herbert swept his eyes over Connor's trousers, but didn't say anything. He only said, "Let's go back." "Yes." Connor hurriedly picked up the briefcase he had just placed on the table.

"I'll send you off." I followed Herbert.

When Herbert walked to the door, he suddenly stopped, turned around and took out a mobile phone from his suit pocket. He handed it to me and said, "I was busy with something else just now and forgot about it. You left your phone on the back seat of the car, and I came to send it to you." Hearing this, my face turned red!

What did he mean by he was busy with something else just now? Wasn't he telling others that they were intimate in the office?

I looked up and quickly glanced at Connor, Amy, and Joey, who were standing not far away. They all lowered their heads, pretending that they didn't hear anything,

At this time, I glared at Herbert and then reached out to take my cell phone.

It turned out that he came here suddenly because he was here to send my mobile phone to me, so he met Ryan, who was here to play a rogue

At this time, when I was about to receive the phone, Herbert even took the opportunity to touch my hand.

11:07 He said with a smile, "I'm leaving. I'll pick you up at night!" Without waiting for me to speak, Herbert turned and left, followed by Connor. After they left, I looked down at the mobile phone in my hand and curled my lips.

Then I turned around and saw Joey in a daze with a wet towel in her hand. I stepped forward and nudged Joey. "Hey, what are you thinking about?" "No... nothing." Joey said and went to the tea room with a towel. I felt something was wrong with Joey, so I chased after her.

Bella's POV:

I walked to Joey, who was washing a towel in front of the sink. She looked at me from head to toe and said, "Wait a minute. Why are you blushing?"

"Nonsense, how can I be blushing?" Hearing this, Joey immediately threw away the towel in her hand and explained eagerly.

Seeing this, I crossed my arms in front of my chest, tilted my head, and said, "Something's wrong with you today. Oh, I got it. Do you have a good impression of Connor?"

I remembered now. Just now, Joey only came into contact with Connor. Could it be...

At this time, Joey flew into a rage. "Hey, what did you and Herbert... do in the office just now?"

Hearing this, I put down my arm and didn't dare to look directly into Joey's eyes. "I... What could we do? We were talking."

Joey continued, "We heard a scream coming from inside, and then there was no sound. Even a fool knows what you are doing in the room. Although this is an open society, you'd better consider the feelings of us outsiders. And you are still in the office."

Joey said with a smile, in a joking tone. "Hey, I'm talking about your matter. Why did you frame me?" I came to my senses and immediately asked.

"I... I remember. I haven't called a client yet. I'm not going to talk to you anymore." Joey said as she hurried away

This was Joey's random excuse.

But I didn't continue to ask. After all, I couldn't get the answer even if I went to ask her now.

Joey's POV:

I reached out and touched my cheek. It was so hot there. I didn't know what was going on with me today either. Logically speaking, this wasn't the first time had seen Connor, but why was there such a strange feeling in my heart today? When I squatted in front of him and wiped the stain on his pants, my heart really beat fast. Soon, it seemed that for so many years, my heart had never beat so fast for any man. Connor was very handsome. He could be considered a senior staff in Wharton Group...there was a huge difference between his status and mine.

I couldn't like him. Those who pursue Connor might have already lined up from here to the train station

I was just an ordinary 30-year-old woman.

How could he like me?

I kept telling myself in my heart that I probably wanted to fall in love recently, so I had some hallucinations when I met a man.

No, if there was a suitable man, I must try to fall in love.

If I continued to be alone, there would definitely be psychological problems, Chapter 134

On the weekend, I was going to the sanatorium in the suburbs to visit my mom and Betty.

In the clean ward, Betty was wearing a hospital gown, sitting on the balcony and basking in the sun. I looked at her carefully. Her eyes were empty and dull. She kept looking at the distant scenery as if she didn't see me.

Seeing her like this, my heart ached.

"Mom, how's Betty doing recently?" I asked in a low voice.

Although Betty used to be hostile to me and never regarded me as her elder sister, I was still very sad to see her like this today.

“She’s been much better recently, although she misses Anne. She sits there alone every day holding Anne’s photos in her arms. Her temper has improved a lot. The doctor said that she could be discharged from the hospital next month and asked her to go home to recuperate,” mother replied.

“That’s good.” I nodded. I hoped Betty would be able to pick herself up again in the future after a short period of depression. Then, mother suddenly asked, “In the past few days, Ryan has not been able to find us. Did he find trouble with you?”

Hearing that, I lowered my head and said nothing.

Mother frowned and said, “I knew he would definitely bother you if he wasn’t be able to find us..”

“Mom, it doesn’t matter to me. It’s just that after you and Betty go home, he will definitely come to find you. What should we do then? I’m afraid that it will affect Betty’s illness,” I said worriedly.

Mother lowered her head and thought for a moment, then said, “Don’t worry. I’ve made up my mind this time. I won’t have anything to do with him anymore, and I won’t allow him to get close to Betty. Betty’s current state is partly due to him. If he dares to harass us, I’ll call the police directly, or I’ll fight him to the death!”

Seeing the determination and cruelty on mother’s face, I knew that mother had made up her mind this time, so I was no longer worried. In fact, Ryan was bullying the weak, but in the face of strong enemies, he did not dare to continue to be arrogant.

After sitting for a while, I got up and said, “Mom, I bought you and Betty some of your favorite things. It’s getting cold. I brought you your clothes and bought you two thick clothes and pants. Call me if you need anything.” “Got it. I’ll send you out.” Mother also got up and said. Before I left, I looked back at Betty, who was sitting on the balcony, and then took mother’s hand and left the ward.

Before leaving, I grabbed my mother’s hand and said, “Mom, I’m going to hold a wedding ceremony with Herbert next month. By the way, we’ve got our marriage certificate.”

Hearing this, mother smiled happily and said, “That’s great. You already have two children, and it’s time for you to settle down. You are the mother of the two children, and you can’t be capricious in the future. Herbert is also a good person. You should cherish him. Moreover, his family is much better than yours. If there is anything wrong with him, you should try to tolerate him

I disagreed with my mother's words, so I said with a naughty smile, "Mom, I'm not bad either Everyone has two eyes and one nose, right? There is no such thing as who is more noble™

11:08 I went on to say, "Mom, don't worry. I'll take care of myself. Don't worry."

"Okay." Mother sighed and said, "I hope your sister can get better soon."

Chapter 435

Bella,s POV:

That night, after I coaxed Lucas and Lucky to sleep, I carried my tired body onto the bed.

At this time, Herbert put a stack of posters in front of me in his sleeping robe.

"What is this?" I picked up the posters and asked.

When I looked down, I saw some islands and tourist magazines. The scenery was really beautiful, which made people want to fly over and enjoy the beautiful scenery at first glance.

After Herbert went to bed, he took me into his arms. "After our wedding next month, we'll go on a honeymoon. Which of these places do you like?"

Hearing this, I felt warm in my heart. Then I put my face on his chest and said, "What about Lucas and Lucky if we go on a honeymoon?"

"I've already made up my mind. When the time comes, Gary and Miranda will take care of them." Herbert said as he stroked my shoulder.

Hearing this, I frowned. "We'll go on our honeymoon and leave the children here?"

Herbert suddenly lowered his head and kissed me on the forehead. "We'll be back in a week. I want you to completely belong to me for a week!"

After that, he held me tightly in his arms.

Lying on his shoulder, I still had a lot of concerns. "And my business. I just made some achievements. I'll leave for a week, and I have to prepare for the wedding in advance for a few days..." At this point, Herbert suddenly stepped forward and sealed my mouth!

After the kiss, he let go of me, who was also panting. He lowered his head, looked at my body under him, and said, "We are married, okay? Can't you put me in the first position? Your brain is thinking about either your business or your children every day. Where am I in your heart?"

Seeing Herbert's dissatisfaction, I reached out to stroke his face and said with a smile, "Children, business, and you are all ranked first!"

Herbert fixed my two wrists on my head and said in an overbearing manner, "I can't stand side by side. I must be number one!"

Looking at the overbearing man in front of me who looked like a child, I couldn't help but blame him. "At most, you and the children are in first place. How can there be a father competing with the children?"

*They will have their own lovers and families in the future. You are the only one I have, so they can't compete with me!" Herbert said stubbornly.

I smiled and said, "Well, then you can wait until they have their own lover, and then you can be the

"That won't do I have to be the first for now and then!" After that, he lowered his head and kissed me on the neck

"What are you doing? It's itchy let me go "I felt so itchy that I kept shrinking my neck and laughing

11.09

"If you admit that I'm number one in your heart, I'll let you go." Herbert shouted in my ear.

"You and the children are tied for first place." I never gave in.

"No, I must be number one."

Herbert was still thinking about this problem.

In order to stop him from being entangled, I said, "Well, you are number one in my heart!"

I thought that once he got the answer, he would let me go. Who knew that he would continue to ask, "Who am I?"

"You are the chairman of the Wharton Group, Herbert!" I shouted.

However, he was not satisfied. "Who am I to you?"

"You are my children's father!" I replied.

"What else?" Herbert's fingers were playing with my hair.

"You're my husband!" I replied.

At this time, a satisfied smile appeared on Herbert's face.

Herbert was simply too adorable.

I put my arms around his neck and kissed him on my own initiative.

Then, there would be a big battle...

The next morning.

My head almost fell into the bowl when I was having breakfast.

Lucas, who was on the opposite side, frowned and asked, "Mommy, didn't you sleep well last night?" Hearing this, I quickly sat up straight and replied, "Mommy had insomnia last night."

"Insomnia? Why did Mommy have insomnia?" Lucas frowned and asked.

At this time, I heard a low laugh at the dining table. I turned my head and saw that there was a smile on the corner of Herbert's mouth and a hint of evil in his eyes.

What happened last night?

In the beginning, I took the initiative. Later, I was pressed on the bed by him until the latter half of the night.

I really didn't understand how this man's physical strength could be so good.

"Last night, Mommy found a toad in my bedroom. The toad bullied Mommy, so Mommy wanted to catch it. But the toad was very cunning and always escaped, so Mommy went to bed late!"

Hearing this, Lucas's eyes immediately widened. "Mommy, did you catch that toad in the end?"

Iglariced at Herbert and said, 'No.'

"Morniy, I'll come back to help you catch the toad after school tonight Lucas immediately said

"Okay I nodded

Unempectedly, Herbert slammed the table very seriously and scolded Lucas Lucas the load is a beneficial final You can't catch it at will Do you understand?"

But the toad scored mommy so much that she couldnt sleep at ease lucas argued logically

*The load likes your momitly, thats why it's playing with youi mominy You dont understand! Herber! said with a serious loce

11.09 Before Lucas could say anything, I said, "The toad is annoying. Who would like it? The toad only knows how to bully Mommy. Lucas, when you see the toad next time, you must smash it, understand?"

"Understood!" Lucas replied in a loud voice. At this time, I raised my chin and proudly looked at Herbert.

A serious look appeared on Herbert's face.

I had a bad feeling...

Bella's POV: "Miranda, Lucas should go to school!"

"Yes, sir." Miranda immediately replied.

Then he dragged me to the second floor.

I immediately shook off Herbert's hand. "Why did you bring me here? I'm going to be late!"

The corner of Herbert's mouth was pursed. "Miss Stepanek, you need to explain to me who is the toad?"

I couldn't help but burst into laughter. I turned my head and said, "The toad is just an animal."

"Oh? Is that so?" Herbert's expression was solemn.

He continued, "Miss Stepanek said last night that someone was number one in her heart, but after a night, someone became a toad."

"A certain someone is very angry right now!" Herbert crossed his arms over his chest. I walked up to him and asked, "Are you angry, Mr. Toad?" Herbert didn't respond to me.

I said, "All right, I was wrong. I shouldn't have called you a toad. You are obviously a handsome gentleman. I'll go to work first. Bye..." Before I could finish my words, Herbert grabbed my hand and pulled me into his arms.

I heard him say, "Mr. Toad is very angry now. Are you not going to coax me?"

"How can I coax you? Ah..."

In the next moment, his lips covered my mouth and he pushed me to the bed.

An hour later, the bright sunshine outside shone into the room through the window veil, and a group of birds chased each other outside the window.

In the room, Herbert stood by the bed, with his head lowered while buttoning his shirt. He seemed to be in a good mood. With my body naked, I threw the pillows, clothes, and soft pillows on Herbert's body one by one!

Bostard, bastard, b*stard, you only know how to bully me!" I said,

However, Herbert was in a good mood. He was not angry at all. After buttoning his shirt, he turned around and sat by the bed. He whispered in my ear, "I'm not a load this time."

I cast a quick glance at him and said, "A load is a pest!" Whatever bug you say it is, it's what it is!" Herbert laughed.

"You're so annoying!" I pushed his face aside in anger,

Herbert reached out and held me in his arms. In a low voice, he said, "Are you sully angry?"

'I'm going to be late for work!' I complained

Herbert raised his eyebrows and said, "Then don't go today"

Chapter 36

11:09 D "That won't do. I have an appointment with a client today," I said. "Then I'll send you to work, okay?" Herbert said with a smile. I pouted and nodded. "Okay, give me a ride." Then, I quickly got out of bed, put on my clothes, and tidied my hair. When I got dressed and went out with Herbert, it was already 10 o'clock. When I went out, I suddenly looked at Herbert carefully. Seeing this, Herbert was a little scared. He looked down at himself and asked, "What are you looking at?"

I smirked and said, "I think you should find a doctor." "I'm healthy. What's wrong with me?" Herbert was amused. "I feel there's something wrong with you," I said and stepped out of the villa. At this time, Connor was already waiting in front of the villa. When he saw us come out, Connor stepped forward and opened the car's rear door. I got in the car first followed by Herbert. While Connor was turning the car around, Herbert whispered in my ear, "I'm not abnormal. It's just that your physical strength is not good. When you meet someone you like, not only will your brain go out of control, even your desires will sometimes go out of control."

Bella's POV:

"Where on earth are we going for our honeymoon? Have you made your choice yet?" Herbert's fingers touched my fingernails, and we were very intimate.

Every time he was so gentle, I didn't feel angry at all.

Then, I returned to my usual tone. "I want to go to New York."

Hearing this, Herbert frowned and said with a smile, "New York is a good place, but very few people go there to have a honeymoon. Generally, people like to go on a vacation to Maldives, Puji Island, Paris, or Greece."

"I just want to go to New York. How about that?" I looked up and smiled at him.

Hearing this, Herbert patted the back of my hand and immediately said, "Well, since you want to go, then we'll go to New York!"

Seeing that he had agreed, I pursed my lips and smiled. Then I leaned my head on his shoulder.

At this time, Herbert looked at me gently and said, "The wedding dress will be delivered by air from Italy next week. Next week, we will take time to take our wedding photos."

"Then we'll live happily together and never be separated again." Herbert laughed.

"Okay!" I smiled and held his hand. At this moment, I felt so happy. As soon as I stepped into the office, Joey came up to me. "You're finally here. I called you but you didn't answer. I thought something happened to you. I was about to call Herbert."

I took out my cell phone and looked at it. I didn't know when it was muted. It must have been muted by Herbert in order not to delay our time together?

This man had gone too far.

I didn't know why, but I was not particularly angry. On the contrary, when I recalled what happened between me and Herbert, a burst of sweetness was spreading. The corner of my mouth couldn't help but smile. "Oh, I overslept. My phone was muted," I replied.

Joey did not pursue the matter any further. She grabbed my arm and her expression returned to normal. "The real estate agent of the building came to collect the house just now. It's said that Emra still hasn't paid the water and electrical bills!"

Hearing this, I frowned and said, "It seems that she really doesn't want to do business anymore."

"Do you think it's possible for a rich man like Daniel Morgan to fall from power like this? It's too fast."

Joey said in confusion. I said, "Daniel Morgan has lost half of his net worth to William. The company still belongs to Daniel Morgan. William has taken KG. Software Company and a lot of money from him, and he's having a hard time. If the investment fails again, it's very likely that the capital chain will be broken. That's not impossible."

"Ah, Connie looks like a band Daniel Morgan was originally a rich man. It hasn't been long since she married him, and the company is about to close down now," Joey said gloatingly. "Well, we'd better do our own things," I said. "Come with me to meet the clients later." "Yes," Joey said in a long voice. In the afternoon, I received a call from Herbert when I was busy. "Why are you calling me at this time?" I wrote something on the notebook and answered the phone between my shoulders and face. "I miss you." The middle-aged man said three words in a deep voice. Hearing this, I pursed my lips and smiled. Then I put down the pen in my hand and focused on talking to him on the phone. "We've only been separated for five hours, okay?" Although I said so, I really missed him very much in my heart. "Five hours is three hundred minutes, eighteen thousand seconds. It's been a long time." Herbert's voice was low and magnetic. I pursed my lips into a smile. "I realized that you're getting better and better at coaxing girls. Your mouth is as sweet as honey." But my heart was full of joy. I thought he wouldn't say such love words. It turned out that his words were better than anyone else's. It was just that he was willing or not. The next moment, Herbert laughed and said, "What girl? You are married now. You must always remember your identity as a married woman!" "You're so annoying. You're saying that married women are worthless, aren't you?" I retorted. "It doesn't matter if they're worthless. Anyway, I won't sell you." At the end of the phone came the hearty laughter of Herbert. "Herbert, is there anything important? If there's not, I'll hang up!" I knew he was trying to numb me with sweet words. When I forgot everything, he would dig a hole for me to jump into. It was always like this. "Yes. Yes." Hearing that I was going to hang up the phone, the other end of the line hurriedly said, "Just tell me what's on your mind," I said grumpily. Then, he said, "There's a party tomorrow night. Come with me." "What party?" I really didn't want to attend that kind of event. "It's a once-in-a-lifetime party held by the municipal government of A City for business celebrities. The annual top 10 elites of the business circle will be selected," replied Herbert

Bella's POV:

A business celebrity party?

I felt bored as soon as I heard that.

I frowned and said, "I don't want to participate in such a dull event."

"So you want me to invite another woman to accompany me?" Herbert threatened.

Of course, I didn't want him to take another woman with him. When I thought there was another woman standing beside him, and holding his arm.

"You can go by yourself," I suggested.

"It's a courtesy to bring a female companion on this kind of event. What's more, you're about to become the wife of the president of the Wharton Group. The invitation will be sent out in the next two days. Many people want to meet my wife. Don't let them down!" Herbert said softly.

Hearing this, I reluctantly said, "Okay."

When he heard that I agreed, he said happily, "Remember to dress up beautifully!"

"I have to spend money to dress up." I raised my chin and said.

"Isn't my supplementary card with you? There's a 3 million dollar quota. Feel free to swipe it. Don't save it for me." After that, he hung up the phone.

At this time, Joey pushed the door open and came in. She put a document in front of me.

"What's wrong? Why are you frowning?" Joey looked at me and asked. "He wants me to accompany him to a party tomorrow. I hate this kind of party the most. I have to smile at everyone. No matter whether I know him or not, I have to wear high heels. After a party, my feet hurt so much," I replied with a frown. "If it's an important party, of course you'll have to attend," Joey said.

I said, "It's said that it's a cocktail party organized by the government in A City every year, and there will be a selection of the top ten business elites. It's said that all the celebrities in A City's business circle will attend."

Hearing these words, Joey immediately cheered up. "Of course you have to attend this kind of banquet with Herbert!"

"He said we're about to get married. Many people want to know me." I shook my head and smiled

You must go, and you must dress up very beautifully! Do you know how many women want to be allached to Herbert? You have to declare your sovereignty and let those women see how much you love each other so that they don't covet him again in the future! Joey said,

Hearing this, I smiled "I'm not as serious as you said, is it?"

"Yes, it is" Joey nodded

I lowered my head and thought, "Since I've decided to go, I can't lose face for Herbert. I guess there are really many people who want to see me"

"Then you can accompany me to buy some suitable clothes after work, I "Good idea, but you have to treat me to a meal once you've bought it," Joey said with a smile as she leaned over the table.

"No problem. Herbert's supplementary card is here." I waved the wallet in my hand. The third one person's perspective:

At half past six the next night, Herbert, dressed in a black suit, walked back and forth in the living room. He looked down at the watch on his wrist and could not help frowning.

"Are you done yet? We're going to be late!" Herbert shouted as he stood at the top of the stairs.

"Wait another two minutes. I'll be done soon." I shouted.

At this time, Lucas, who was drawing on the tea table in the living room raised his head and said, "Women are troublesome!"

Hearing this, Herbert looked back and curled his lips. "What do you know, kid?"

However, Lucas stretched his neck and said, "Why don't I understand? Women need to put on make up and blow their hair before they go out. They have to pick nice clothes too. In short, it's so troublesome!"

"Kid, when you have a woman in the future, you will be as obedient as Dad." A smile appeared on Herbert's lips.

"When I grow up, I want to find a woman who doesn't need any makeup!" Lucas suddenly said. Hearing this, Herbert frowned.

After that, Lucas said, "I hate women who put on make-up the most. An ugly person can become a fairy. I don't even recognize her after removing her make-up. It's better to be natural!"

After that, Lucas lowered his head and continued to draw.

Herbert shook his head in amusement.

At this time, he heard the sound of high heels touching the ground.

Herbert turned around and saw a woman coming down from upstairs, which made people's eyes light up.

She was wearing a long black dress with a pearl. It had a collar, a pair of sleeves, and a narrow waist design. It was a quite well-behaved design and did not expose herself at all, which made Herbert very satisfied.

Her long hair was combed in a low bun, and she had a light makeup on her face. She held a silver handbag in her hand and a pair of black high heels on her feet, which perfectly highlighted her curves

Bella's POV "How's it going?" I stepped in my high heels and walked up to Herbert

Because I was wearing very high heels today, my height was also a little higher I just happened to reach the tip of his nose

Herbert's eyes darkened. He stared at me and said, "Not bad, but there seems to be something missing

Hearing this, I lowered my head and looked at myself frowning, I asked, "What else is missing?"

At this time, Herbert grinned, and then reached out to take out a blue velvet box from his pocket

"What's this?" I asked in confusion when I saw the box in his hand Instead of answering me, Herbert opened the small box in his hand and raised it in front of me

I looked down and saw a pair of sapphire earrings lying in the small box. They were very beautiful under the light

These two sapphires were very big and were also decorated with diamonds. They matched well with the ring in my hand. It could be seen that he had chosen them carefully "For me?" I took the small box from him with a smile

"I just want to lend it to you once." I knew that he was joking, so I cooperated with him and said, "Then I'll borrow it once I'll give it back to you when I come back!"

Herbert smiled, reached out to squeeze out an earring from the velvet box, and then stepped forward to put it on my left ear,

I stood there with a smile on my face and asked him to put the other earring on my right ear

I felt that his movements were very gentle, especially the pair of big hands. It was really hard for him to put the earrings into my small ears.

After he put it on, I looked at Herbert and smiled "Do I look good?"

Herbert took a step back, propped his chin with one hand, and stared at me for a moment. Then he noded and said, "The earrings are beautiful."

Hearing this, I stepped forward and hit him angrily. "Am I not good looking?"

* You look good too' Herbert held my hand and added with a smile "That's more like it'I chuckled I turned around and was about to leave After taking two steps, Herbert shouted from behind, "Stop

Bella's POV:

I stopped immediately and turned around to look Herbert's cloudy face. I asked while frowning, "What's wrong?"

"What are you wearing today?" Herbert stared at the long dress on my body with disdain.

I looked down at my clothes and was very confused. "Didn't you just say that it was very good? Joey and I bought it after work yesterday. I bought a limited edition this time. It's said that there's only two in A City."

"I knew it must be that crazy woman, Joey who asked you to buy this dress. Go back and change it!" Herbert said with disgust.

"What does this have to do with Joey? I bought it myself. What's wrong with it?" I looked in the mirror in front of the entrance and said to myself.

At this time, I noticed that Herbert in the mirror was looking at my back.

I suddenly understood the reason.

More than half of my back was exposed behind the dress, but this was also the most beautiful part of the dress. It perfectly outlined the lines on my back, which made my skin look very good. It was just half of my back. I could still accept it. But I didn't expect that Herbert would be so stingy as to get angry about this dress.

"Hurry up and get changed. Do you hear me?" said Herbert.

As for this petty man, I could only take his arm and coax him. "This dress is very conservative. Many evening dresses are exposed here. Isn't it a decent evening dress?"

As I spoke, my hand moved to my chest.

"You can't go out in that kind of clothes! I can't accept it," said Herbert.

"That's why I didn't dare to buy it." I chuckled.

At this moment, Connor, who had been waiting outside, walked in.

"Mr. Wharton, if we don't leave now, we'll definitely be late." Connor lowered his head and reminded.

Herbert hesitated for a moment. I hurriedly raised my head and said to Connor, "Let's go We'll leave right away"

"Then I'll want outside." Connor naturally saw that the expression on Herbert's face wasn't right, and as such, he promptly left.

Watching Connor leave, I quickly grabbed Herbert's arm and looked at him "Look, it's already too late if we don't leave now I'll go upstairs and change clothes, it'll definitely take half an hour. Didn't you say that there are many celebrities in the business world? Although you have a very high status in the business world of A City, there are still elders who have higher status than you if you are late, people will definitely say that you are arrogant, right? Besides, I don't have suitable clothes I'll wear this one."

After talking for a long time, he didn't respond, so I had to shake his arm.

At this time, Herbert pursed his lips and finally said something. "I found out that you've improved a lot in your coquettish skills recently!"

After that, Herbert stepped out of the entrance,

I quickly followed him, "Really? I think so too." As soon as I finished speaking, Herbert stopped. I quickly stopped as well. Otherwise, I would have bumped into his back.

The next moment, he turned to look at me and warned, "Don't be too proud. I won't compromise every time you act like a spoiled child to me. I am a man of principle!"

"I... Of course I understand." I nodded with a smile. He was really a man of principle. He had compromised in less than two minutes.

"Let's go." Herbert was in a better mood. He turned around and walked out of the villa with me.

I, who was following behind him, curled my lips at the back of Herbert. After these days of observation, I found that sometimes I couldn't be too tough when dealing with Herbert.

When I was tough, he would only be stronger than me.

So sometimes I had to use a gentle method.

So sometimes I also learnt to be a good girl. When he was in a bad temper, I would act like a spoiled child and talk softly. Every time, it worked. The trick of being coquettish gradually became my trump card. It was very useful. Soon, the car stopped in front of the gate of the reception party in A City. The uniformed waiter stepped forward and opened the back door of the car. Herbert and I got out of the car one after another, and then Connor drove the car away. I took Herbert's arm and walked into the lobby of the Hilton Hotel. "Do you still remember this place?" As soon as Herbert stepped into the hall, he looked at the huge crystal chandelier in front of him. Hearing this, I was stunned, I turned around and saw that his eyes were shining under the light, and there was a playful smile in his eyes. At this time, I immediately remembered that Hilton Hotel was the hotel where we stayed that night after we first met.

Bella's POV:

I knew he was hinting at what happened between the two of us for the first time.

Then he took the opportunity to tease me.

I wouldn't let him succeed.

I smiled and said, "I've never been to such a high-end hotel."

"Of course you won't come by yourself. It's me who brought you here." A hint of a smile appeared on the corner of Herbert's mouth.

"Have you brought me here? Why don't I remember? You didn't bring another woman, did you?" I looked up at him with a smile.

However, Herbert didn't even look at me. He walked to the elevator and said, "I only brought a woman who called me here and stayed for a night. In the end, she gave me 20 dollars as a reward. It costs more than 150 dollars to book a high-end guest room here. How much would I lose if I did this business every day?"

Hearing this, I pursed my lips and smiled. Then I looked up and said, "You can sleep with a woman at will. Why aren't you willing to pay some price?"

At this time, the door of the elevator opened. Herbert and I walked into the elevator.

He looked down at me and said with a smile, "Of course I won't make a losing deal. You've become my children's mother, my wife."

At this time, he reached out and touched my face with love in his eyes.

I felt the warmth of his palm and my heart was filled with happiness.

Ding!

At this time, when we arrived at the reception floor, the elevator rang.

I quickly pulled his hand away from my face and said seriously, "We're here!" When the elevator door opened, Herbert was already serious, and there was no expression on his face. I took his arm and walked out of the elevator,

At this moment, the opposite elevator door opened. I saw two people coming out of the opposite elevator.

When I saw the man and the woman, I felt a buzz in my brain!

I really didn't expect to meet him suddenly, but it was normal to think about it. Although today was a cocktail party in the business world of A City, the business world couldn't be separated from political and legal circle. He was a famous lawyer in A City, so it was reasonable for him to attend this wine party

Obviously, when the two opposite saw us, they also paused. They probably didn't expect to meet us. Dozens of meters away, my gaze and Klein's met in mid-air.

I didn't dare to look directly into his eyes, and so I lowered my head. After all, the person by my side was my current husband. In the face of Klein, my feelings were very complicated.

I could clearly sense that Klein was staring at me,

Chapter 140

11.11

I felt a little uneasy, so Herbert reached out and held my arm.

I looked up and met Herbert's eyes.

Seeing his gentle eyes, I pursed my lips and smiled. I knew that he understood me. Such a comforting look instantly made me feel much better and calmer.

Then, Herbert and I stepped forward, and Klein and Ella also walked out of the elevator and came up to meet us.

“Cousin!” Klein was the first to greet him.

“Klein, you’ve come as well?” Herbert greeted him very generously, as though there weren’t any grudges between the two of them in the past.

“Long time no see.” Ella spoke to me first.

Seeing my ex-boss, I smiled and said, “It’s indeed been a long time since we last saw each other.”

Ella was dressed up beautifully today, and her entire body emanated the aura of a mature and successful woman. She was a perfect match for Klein.

However, at this moment, Ella’s hand was tightly wrapped around Klein’s arm, and her body was leaning against him. I didn’t know if it was because the two of them were very close, or if Ella did it on purpose.

Either way, it had nothing to do with me. All I wanted was for Klein to find his own happiness as soon as possible.

At this time, Ella looked at Herbert and said with a smile, “I heard that you are going to get married. Mr. Wharton, I congratulate you!”

“Thank you.” I thanked him, and then my gaze suddenly met the gaze of Klein.

There was a hint of pain and helplessness in his eyes, which made me feel very uncomfortable. His eyes were too inappropriate. Then I lowered my head, afraid that Herbert would be unhappy.

Naturally, Klein’s gaze had long since been drawn into Herbert’s eyes. Staring at Ella, he laughed. “Don’t even just congratulate us. How is your relationship with Klein? When will you be engaged?”

Hearing these words, I looked up at Herbert. I thought to myself, “Although he has little contact with Klein now, as his cousin, I’m sure he knows all about the recent situation of Klein. Could it be that Klein is really with Ella?”

Hearing this, Ella tightened her grip on Klein’s arm. Her face was filled with shyness as she looked at Klein. “Klein has the final say in the engagement.” Ella smiled as she waited for Klein’s reply. But Klein didn’t say anything for a long time. Ella immediately looked very disappointed.

At this time, I quickly tried to smooth things over. “Your marriage is naturally up to the two of you.”

I could tell from the looks of it that it was very difficult for Klein and Ella to be together. It was all because Ella was taking the initiative.

At this time, Herbert patted the back of my hand and said, “We’re late Let’s go in

“Oray” I nodded at Ella and then went into the banquet hall with Herbert
