Chapter 2574

Galia smiled: "Yes, I finally resigned. But my resignation is not decent at all, I am I was kicked out by the company."

Christopher: "Huh?"

"Because I have quarreled with my colleagues many times, no one in the company can look down on me, but whenever I quarrel with others, it is all my fault.

This is like a A vicious circle.

For example, I just had a quarrel with someone today, and tomorrow, I have another quarrel with someone.

You may ask me, why, you can't bear it, why are you arguing with someone for two days?

But Let me tell you Brother Christopher, when I quarreled with another person the next day, I actually endured it for a long time, do you believe it?"

Before Christopher could answer, Galia smiled: "You must not believe it, no People believe it."

"I believe it!" Christopher answered firmly.

"As the saying goes, the wall pushes people down. This is a famous saying through the ages, you want to work in that company, you want to earn a salary, and even as far as your vanity is concerned, you don't want to leave that place at all, since you think so. Keeping that job, of course you want to swallow it up.

If it wasn't for the unbearable situation, you wouldn't argue with people, right?"

Galia's tears flowed again instantly: "Brother Christopher, so far, I don't care whether whether it's my novels or my friends talking about my frequent quarrels with people in the company, all of them think it's my fault. They think it's because I'm in a bad mood.

Sensitive trigger-happy person.

Including my mother and all my relatives.

There are also boyfriends who were introduced to me.

All in all, they thought I was a moral, very bad person in every way. "

Christopher: "..."

In fact, when Galia said this, Christopher was thinking, what has this girl experienced?

The pain in his heart was as if his own sister suffered grievances. The same.

"I believe in you! He said it again emphatically.

"Are you comforting me?" Brother Christopher? Galia asked with tears in her eyes.

Christopher shook her head: "Galia, you probably didn't realize how kind-hearted you are. You told me this, and you didn't tell me in a very competent way from beginning to end. It's those people's fault, you're not wrong. You have told me so much about your past, and you are telling me about those old things in a very objective way.

You've told me many times, and that's not really their fault.

This shows that you are examining your own shortcomings all the time. You can clearly recognize your own shortcomings and feel guilty, which is already your advantage.

How many people in this world do not want and never want to recognize their own shortcomings until the moment of death?

Galia, all individuals in this world have shortcomings.

Your so-called vanity, your cowardice, your excitement, your inferiority and conceit are all your shortcomings, but you have these shortcomings and suffered so much exclusion because of these shortcomings, even you Mother, those relatives of yours are beating you in public.

When you suffered these encounters, you still have the most primitive kindness in your heart, and you can still sacrifice your life to save my life in a desperate situation.

What does this mean?

It shows that you are a kind and honest girl.

You are not God.

you are you.

Although you have a hundred flaws, you are still the cutest little angel in the eyes of God. " Uuuuu, Brother Christopher..." Galia cried and laughed again.

She smiled and said, "Brother Christopher, if at that time, in the company I was in, how much would you have been there?" it is good?

Chapter 2575

However, there is no if in this world.

This is the cruelty of reality.

At that time, I basically had a small quarrel for three days, and a big fight for five days. Sometimes, I would quarrel with several people in one day.

Christopher: "

Actually, they are all looking for your fault, right? Galia shook her head: "

To be honest, I still can't tell whether it's me who blamed them or they blamed me, and I can't tell the difference myself, maybe this is something?"

The Butterfly Effect?

Collateral effect?

For example, when I was in the office, I just had a dispute with a colleague next door because of work, and it didn't stop for an hour. The workshop director came to me again, and he looked for me in a very angry tone. "Galia, what's your situation? Without my permission, why did you go to the workshop to find my workers to arrange samples for them?"

You treat the company as your home!

You shouldn't use your authority to bully the workers in the workshop and let them do private work for you! '

Brother Christopher, what should I answer when you say that you are so angry?

I dare not argue with him.

I looked up at him very weak and useless, and said to him, 'Didn't you sign it yesterday and agreed to let your workers do the samples first? '

The workshop director paused for a moment, then remembered that he had indeed signed the agreement.

He hesitated immediately and said, 'Even if I signed it yesterday, I just agreed, I didn't say anything, I'll make a sample for you today, I don't have time today! I also told you! Next time you go to the workers to make samples for you behind my back, I will tell the boss directly that you violated the rules! '

I swallowed hard and said 'Okay, next time even if you sign, I'll let you know before making samples. '

The workshop director stopped paying attention to me.

As a matter of fact, this matter has passed. As a result, another colleague of mine, that is, the female colleague in the previous part of my work process, immediately stood up and looked for me' Galia, the sample I want has to be sent to the customer at noon today, you Take the time to urge the workers. '

When I heard this, there was originally anger in my heart that I didn't dare to express it, but now I'm even more angry, but I still dare not express it.

I can only still swallow and say, 'You heard it too, the workshop director doesn't make arrangements for me now, what do you want me to do? '

My female colleague immediately stood up and pointed at me excitedly' That's your character problem, why don't you think about it, obviously everyone has signed and agreed to make samples for you, and you do your own work. Not sure, are you going to ask me?

I don't care about you, I agreed to send it out this morning, you hurry up! '

Brother Christopher, what should you do in such a situation? "

Christopher: "..."

He was really speechless.

If he was present at the time, he might have kicked the two colleagues out at the same time. But he was not present at the time.

"Later, later Not only did I quarrel with the workshop director, but I also quarreled with my female colleague. After the quarrel, in fact, I was still the loser, and it was my fault. The whole office began to criticize me again.

What do you say, it's really yours, you can quarrel with three people in one day!

What are you talking about, there are still people like this, you are begging others to make samples for you, and your attitude is still so bad.

Say, since you promised Xiao Hu to send it to others at noon today, why didn't you make preparations earlier?

People like you who do fake degrees really have no ability to work at all. What are you doing in this office?

Wait to stink. "

Galia, I really don't blame you for this. If I were there, I would argue with them more fiercely than you. You are right to resign." Christopher comforted Galia and said.

Galia shook her head: "I resigned, not because of this, but because I have something more wronged. "
