

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 251

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 251

Chapter 251 He's Better Than Jordy

Harold's eyes were filled with shock, "Mr. Collins..."

Jordy didn't want to delete them. He wanted to see Gloria sad.

But... after he finished reading his grandpa's tweet, he was somewhat flustered!

He blurted out all those words!

He pursed his lips and didn't know what to say. Harold saw his complicated look and continued, "There's another thing. Mr. Brown sent Miss White to the law firm, but no one talked about it on Twitter."

Jordy's sharp eyes instantly rested on Harold.

Harold took a light breath and pushed the glasses on his face as if to relax himself.

After a moment, Jordy rubbed his eyebrows. He had calmed down, "Just leave those things behind."

Harold was speechless.

Although Jordy was moody, he had never seen him change his decision three times in a row.

Jordy looked determined and returned the mobile phone to Harold. Harold said okay and left.

Jordy was alone in the office, but he was not in any mood to continue working. He took out his mobile phone and logged in to Twitter.

He clicked into the trending topics and read Jonathan's tweet.

Jonathan didn't say anything exaggerated, but he could feel his sincerity.

Jordy looked more and more sullen. He had been against Jonathan for so many years.

He knew what kind of person Jonathan was better than anyone else.

Although Jonathan had a bad reputation, he had never been with any woman, let alone to be devoted to anyone. Even though he was a dandy in the public's eyes, he never brought any woman to parties!

When he first found that Jonathan brought a date and the date was Gloria, he was surprised and thought that Jonathan was deliberately provoking him.

At that time, Jordy already had a guess that Jonathan might be into Gloria.

Jordy took a light breath. The idea was dispelled immediately after it appeared. He thought it was impossible.

But now...

After all these things, he could feel that Jonathan was serious!

He was serious all the time!

Jordy held his phone more tightly, and the blue veins on the back of his hand twitched.

He clicked into the trending topic that he spent the whole night with Angela.

He read the comments.

– No Longer Believe in Love, (After Jordy and Gloria divorced, I don't believe in love anymore. All of it is just for interests. Don't trust these bigwigs anymore. All we see are just their personas. Before other things happen, they will definitely maintain their personas, and some silly people will prove that they are the same as their personas. Gloria is an example. I really hope that she can be with Mr. Brown. Even if they don't love each other, they can at least fight against the Collins Group together, right?)

-Gloria Is My Goddess, (You are totally right @No Longer Believe in Love! I also think so. Gloria did so much for the Collins family and gave up her career, but she was scolded like that. The Collins family is really unfeeling! Now the Collins family and the Brown family are against each other. Gloria might have a good life if she is with Jonathan! Then Mr. Brown might be good to Gloria for dealing with Jordy. He will be better than Jordy, that asshole, anyway!)

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 252

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 252

Chapter 252 Bad Premonitions

-Crazy Bee, [Each family has its own problems. Jordy has never stated his position. The announcement was posted by his grandpa, and many things cannot prove Jordy's attitude, right?)

– Norma's Fan, (Why? The whole thing is easy to understand. People of the Collins family were in the same camp, and they would try to protect their interests. Gloria is just an outsider. Who can really spare a thought for her? I think Gloria and Mr. Brown should be together. I wish them a happy marriage and a lovely child!)

-All Mobs, [Are you serious? Mr. Collins is such an excellent man. He was so nice to Gloria in the past few years. But she betrayed the Collins family. When the White Group closed down, Jordy didn't abandon Gloria but still took care of her. However, she was not satisfied. Was this Jordy's fault? And didn't you see what Old Joseph said? Gloria had been playing tricks! The Collins family was powerful and influential at that time. If Jordy really wanted to marry Gloria, he could talk to the White family about it and then marry her directly. Why did they get married after the rumor that they had slept with each other got around? I guess what Old Joseph said might be true!)

-Superhero, (I think so! Gloria is a tramp. Mr. Collins doesn't have to be sad for her. He should concentrate on taking care of Angela. They are a perfect match. Angela is elegant and generous, and has a good family background. She is worthy of Mr. Collins, and she is his lifesaver. Mr. Collins should repay her by marrying her... hah...)

Jordy couldn't stand it anymore. He felt that people who were scolding him, praising him and thought that he should take good care of Angela were all satirizing him!

Gloria, good for you! Good!

Jordy clenched his fists with a colder face.

The Brigham Hospital.

Angela had sat up, and she wasn't injured at all.

Looking at the smile on her mother's lips, Angela also smiled. She took Martha's hand and said intimately, "Mom, you are so smart. If it were me, I wouldn't know what to do yesterday.”

“The player can’t see most of the game.” Martha raised her hand and scraped her cheek lovingly, “The Collins family is more determined than before. Honey, just wait to marry into the Collins family!”

Angela frowned slightly, looking worried and hesitant.

Martha looked at her with a puzzled look, “What’s wrong?”

Angela said irritably, “Although Jordy was with me all day yesterday, he was no longer gentle to me like before. When I was a vegetable, he would tell me a lot of things every day. His melodious voice was mixed with tenderness, and I was really moved, but yesterday... he asked me to give him two months, but he didn’t say what he would do after two months.”

“Of course to marry you. Are you silly?” Martha looked at her daughter helplessly.

Angela shook her head in a panic, “But it might be that he would refuse to marry me after two months! Mom, I really have a hunch that he doesn’t want to marry me at all! He never liked me!”

Women’s hunch was usually right, especially a bad one!

“Yes, he never liked you!”

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 253

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 253

Chapter 253 Maintain Your Persona

Angela’s expression changed slightly, and she trembled uncontrollably after hearing her mother’s decisive words.

“Mom...”

Martha sighed helplessly, “You should know that well. He didn’t like you, so we made you his lifesaver and tried to undermine Gloria’s position in his heart.”

Angela grabbed the quilt on her in silence.

Martha saw this and knew that she felt terrible, so she whispered, “When you are at my age, you will know that sometimes love is not as important as you imagined. Status, power and money are the most important. A person can live well without love, but when he has no money and status, he will starve to death.”

“We can live no matter who leaves us. I’m helping you do this because I want you to marry Jordy and live a better life. Then you can control the Collins family. If you have a son, you will have a completely stable position in the Collins family, and you will have someone to rely on when you are old.”

Gloria looked paler and didn’t know what to say.

Her tears streamed down.

“Mom, I really want him to love me. I’ve already felt his tenderness. I don’t want him to be so cold to me. He keeps me at arm’s length. Even if he spent the whole night with me yesterday, he didn't talk to me much. I could feel his guilt, but there was nothing else except that..."

"A man's pity is already very important. Don't lose your mind for love! As long as you two get married, you can take your time to help him grow his feelings for you. Now you should stay rational and let him marry you! Do you understand?"

Martha said the last three words with emphasis to sober Angela up. Angela took a light breath and nodded, "Yes."

"You can see the attitude of the Collins family, which is enough. Since Jordy wanted you to give him two months, you should wait. In these two months, you can't pester him, and we can't do what we did before. Fortunately, Olivia admitted that it was her idea, and Jordy might change his opinion of you."

A trace of anger flashed across Angela's eyes. Last night, she wore a sexy sundress in front of him, but he only looked cold and even wanted to drive her away. If her mother hadn't given her the advice, she would have been completely rejected by Jordy!

"How long will I be hospitalized this time?"

Martha smiled, "One week is enough."

"One week? "Angela was a little shocked, "I spent several hours getting out of danger yesterday, but I can be discharged in a week?"

"Our White family's hospital has very developed medical skills. You could even wake up when you were a vegetable and recover so quickly before, and the Collins family never doubted that, right?"

Angela frowned slightly and thought it might be a bad idea. Martha smiled, "You'll be out of the hospital in a week, but I didn't say you would recover immediately. You can use a wheelchair and let your assistant wheel you around. You need to show that you are a dedicated person who can't leave work aside before recovering. No matter when you should maintain your persona."

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 254

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 254

Chapter 254 It Has Nothing to Do With You

Light in Angela's eyes flickered, and she immediately gave Martha a thumbs up, "Mom, you are truly my mom! You have become very wise in your age!"

Martha chuckled and said, "Alright, pretend to be a patient these days. You should know what to do when you face Jordy, right?"

Angela took a deep breath, nodded and said seriously, "Mom, don't worry, I'm not as confused as before. I'll act with deliberation and marry him in two months!"

"Good, I got to go for some things. I'll let your assistant take care of you."

"Okay."

Then Martha left, and the assistant waiting outside slowly came in. She looked at Angel, saying respectfully, "Miss White, is there anything I can do for you?"

Angela smiled, "No, have a rest. I'll call you if I need anything."

"OK"

In the past three days.

Jordy visited Angela every day after work. Angela grew more and more elated. This time, she acted with propriety. She neither deliberately got close to Jordy nor asked him to leave repeatedly. They got along naturally like friends. Jordy felt more relaxed and wasn't as irritated as before.

At this moment, Jordy sat in front of her bed and looked at her, "How do you feel today?"

Angela smiled, "Pretty good. I think I can be discharged in two or three days. This time only my leg was injured."

Jordy frowned slightly, "You are talking nonsense."

Angela chuckled and looked at Jordy's disapproving face. She directly lifted her quilt, and her bandaged leg instantly appeared in front of Jordy. The look in Jordy's eyes changed slightly, and guilt emerged in his heart again.

Angela smiled and said naturally, "Should I get out of bed and walk around?"

"Don't move."

Jordy immediately grabbed her arm and stopped her.

Angela shivered slightly. They had not had such contact for a long time.

She regained composure, saying with a carefree attitude, "My mother also disagreed, but I know my condition. Besides, there are developed medical skills, and I'll be okay, right?"

Saying that, she was about to get out of bed, but Jordy stopped her and said in a deep voice, "Stay in the bed."

Angela shook her head casually, "I'll take care of myself. I'm telling the truth. Besides, there are a lot of things in the company that need to be dealt with. I'm away, and my department might have become a mess."

"Don't worry. Someone will take care of those things for you." Jordy's voice was steady. Seeing Angela's pale face, he turned his head slightly, as if he didn't want to see her so weak. Otherwise, he would feel more guilty every time he saw her.

"I know, but it's my job and duty. I'm naturally responsible for it. I know you feel guilty for what happened, but it has nothing to do with you. It was my fault."

Angela sounded sincere and looked serious, as if she were apologizing. Jordy looked away, "No."

Light in Angela's eyes flickered. She looked at Jordy and whispered, "Jordy... What happened at grandma's party. I..."

She lowered her head, as if she didn't know how to explain, but for her, she had finished what she wanted to say.

The look in Jordy's eyes changed. He didn't want her to be in dismay, so he whispered, "I know."

On that day, Gloria absolutely induced Angela to make that mistake.

But he knew that she did that for grandma, so he let the matter drop.

Angela looked at Jordy with some shock, "You do?"

Jordy nodded slightly, "I'm sorry that you were wronged."

He rarely said such tender words. Angela's tears turned in her eyes, "It's okay as long as you believe me.”

Jordy sighed, “Don’t cry.”

Angela hurriedly looked up and gradually forced back her tears, “Well, I didn’t want to explain too much, because I was afraid that it would affect Gloria’s reputation, but I don’t want you to think I’m such a person. Jordy, I only care about your opinion of me, and I don’t mind how other people think of me. And don’t be angry with Gloria. She was just confused at that time.”

Jordy pursed his lips and said nothing.

Angela didn’t know that even if Jordy knew the truth, he wouldn’t blame Gloria.

At this moment, she was completely relieved.

Just when she felt that the atmosphere was extremely warm, an unexpected guest suddenly appeared at the door. Angela’s expression changed at the sight of her.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 255

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 255

Chapter 255 Plenty of Opportunities

“Wrong time?”

Jordy left the door unclosed. When Gloria arrived, she happened to see the affectionate couple inside the ward.

The smile on Angela’s face froze, but she soon said with a smile, “Gloria, you’re here. Come on in!”

With wariness in her eyes, she looked at Gloria and wondered how much the latter had overheard her speech. On the day of the party, she failed to make things clear. If Gloria challenged her now, the positive image she had just created would collapse for sure.

Jordy’s penetrating gaze darted over. Emotions mixed in his eyes.

Gloria curled her lips. Indeed, she had heard Angela’s explanation about the party. As for how Jordy thought of it, she didn’t care, and neither did she have the intention of mentioning it.

Following a glance at Jordy, she said with a smile, “Mr. Collins, I heard that you would work overtime tonight and thus came to visit Angela. I didn’t expect to see you here. I’m sorry for the interruption.”

Gloria put the basket of fruit on the table.

Angela was relieved that Gloria didn’t bring up that matter. She turned to look at Jordy, only to find him staring at Gloria.

She was delighted, believing that Jordy was dissatisfied with Gloria even more.

Holding onto Jordy’s arm, she picked up the conversation and said with concern, “My injury is not serious, Jordy. You don’t have to come often. I’ll feel guilty for interrupting your work.”

Gloria looked at the intimate couple and curled her lips. Jordy intended to pull his arm out but dismissed the thought since Gloria was there. Instead, he said in a gentle voice, "No work is as important as you are," Gloria was stunned. He got so mushy. Angela's eyes flicked with astonishment. Jordy had never talked like this before. He was so sweet! Angela shook her head and got sentimental. "Jordy..." Her eyes were misty. If Jordy continued to speak like that, she would be moved into tears. With a faint smile, Gloria said, "Cousin, you're easily touched. Mr. Collins has done so many things for you, and you will be forever grateful." Her sarcasm was expressed in a tactful way. Angela looked at Gloria and cringed. "Please... pardon me." She let go of Jordy's arm and restrained herself. She could play dumb just now and pretend that she was immersed in her mood till Gloria cut off her retreat. Any more act would look deliberate and might arouse Jordy's suspicion. Damn it, Gloria! Why are you going against me all the time?, What Angela didn't know was that if Gloria were not here, Jordy might not have behaved like that. Emotionless, Jordy stared at Gloria and remained silent. Gloria said in a light voice, "I should have come to visit you last time. I didn't because I heard that Mr. Collins was keeping your company, and he happens to be here today. Cousin, since you've got company, I will get out of your hair. When you're discharged from the hospital, I'll go and visit you." The expression in Angela's eyes changed, and she shook her head. Then as if something occurred to her, she said with a smile, "Cousin, I know you're busy. Don't worry about me. There are plenty of opportunities." She was implying that Gloria would not like to come and visit her. Oblivious to Jordy's aggressive gaze, Gloria curled her lips and laid her eyes on him.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 256

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 256

Chapter 256 Her Father Was Taboo

"Since Mr. Collins is here, why don't we put our cards on the table? You know what the old man did and what happened between us. I let it pass because I don't care, but if you cross the line, you'll face my wrath.”

Her voice was cool, indifferent, and devoid of her usual tenderness.

Angela tensed up and looked at Jordy. The sarcasm was distinct in his eyes. He snorted and said, “Whether Joseph lied or not, you know the answer. What your father and you did is disgraceful.”

Gloria’s face fell. “You can accuse me, but no one is allowed to accuse my father!” She flared up, stressing her tone.

Both Angela and Jordy were shocked. At that point, Gloria’s eyes were icy cold. “Jordy, if you care about the reputation of Collins Group and do not want to see me working with Jonathan, tell Joseph to conduct himself. For the sake of your grandmother and father, I will let you go this time. If it happens again, you will be sorry.”

“I dare you!”

He threatened her.

It was his response to her plan to work with Jonathan rather than to the last part of her speech.

Angela, who was in the dark, scoffed in her heart. Although Gloria was sort of capable, her ability was nothing in front of the colossal Collins Group. What made her think she could challenge them like that?

Angela said with feigned concern, “Gloria, what you’re talking about? Although you get divorced, you don’t have to be enemies. There may be some misunderstanding. We can talk it out.” Gloria smiled. “Unlike you, I can’t keep Mr. Collins around me forever, and neither am I qualified to clarify anything with him.”

Jordy’s face clouded over, and he sneered as if to express that Gloria knew her distance.

“So,” Gloria raised her voice, “I won’t go soft with you, Mr. Collins. If this kind of thing happens again, be aware that a small leak will sink a great ship. Besides, I am not a small leak, and you’re not a great ship to me.”

Angela was astonished.

Gloria is so bold. Has she lost her mind?

The veins were popping on Jordy’s forehead. Before he could taunt her, Gloria turned to Angela and said, “Cousin, I’ll leave you chatting with your future husband.”

Future husband. Angela was delighted to hear that but did not dare to reveal her emotions. Instead, she muttered with concern, “Gloria...”

Jordy turned livid upon hearing that.

They used to be a couple, but she sounded so indifferent.

He itched to skin Gloria.

With a faint smile, she said goodbye to Angela and left.

She went off without even looking at Jordy.

She seemed to have broken all ties with him.

Angela rejoiced in her heart. She used to think that Gloria had been playing hard to get till that matter happened yesterday. Probably, Gloria couldn't stand it anymore. Her father was taboo after all.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 257

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 257

Chapter 257 Pay Her a Visit

As Gloria went out of sight, Angela called out in an anxious voice, "Gloria, Gloria!" She intended to get off the bed, but Jordy stopped her and said, "Let her leave!" Angela turned pale and shook her head. "But she hasn't recovered yet. What happened yesterday was a heavy blow to her. I tried to comfort her, but she wouldn't come out of the shadows. I'm afraid she'd do something stupid!"

Jordy's pupils contracted.

Gloria was now homeless. There was no longer a family keeping her. If she chose to end her life...

But he snorted in the next second. "Gloria is a hypocrite of no scruples. How could she possibly do anything stupid?"

A flash of a smile crossed Angela's eyes, but on the surface, she shook her head and said with concern, "She is my cousin. My only cousin. Could you stop hurting her..." Seeing the kindness and anxiety on her face, he croaked, "You should lie down."

Angela wouldn't listen to him, but Jordy urged again, "If you don't lie down, I won't let her off the hook."

Angela had to comply. "Alright! Promise me that you won't hurt her."

Jordy gave no response. After covering her with the blanket, he said in a bland tone, "I still have unfinished business. Angela, I'll come and see you tomorrow."

Angela was reluctant to part with him but nodded her head at the thought of what Gloria had just said. "Sure, go ahead with your business. Jordy, you don't have to come and see me. I'll get well soon."

Jordy nodded and left without another word.

Outside the ward, he quickened his pace and saw that one of the elevators was halfway down. Losing no time, he took the other one.

His face was gloomy, and the entire elevator seemed to be enveloped in darkness. The coldness was emitted from his eyes.

He got out of the elevator and looked around, but Gloria was nowhere to be seen.

Jordy frowned before rushing toward the underground parking lot.

He moved fast while Gloria was slow in high heels. Before long, Jordy spotted her.

She had unlocked the car door. He hastened over and grabbed her wrist.

She had unlocked the car door. He hastened over and grabbed her wrist.

Gloria changed color, struggling while turning around. At the sight of Jordy's long face, she frowned and snapped, "What are you doing!"

Oblivious to her reaction, Jordy dragged her to his car and thrust her in from the passenger side. She was not as strong as him, and he evaded her every strike as if he was familiar with her moves. Gloria turned livid and barked, "What do you want from me!"

Jordy closed the car door and croaked, "Karen wants to see you!"

Gloria was surprised. Doubts were written in her eyes, Karen had given up imposing on her. Why did the former want to see her? And Karen let him find her in this way?

"I'm not available today. I'll give her a call."

Gloria tried to get off, but Jordy snorted, "Karen has been feeling unwell all day because of her heart problem. If you have a conscience, pay her a visit!"

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 258

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 258

Chapter 258 Trembling

Gloria's face changed. "How did that happen?"

She stopped struggling. Her eyes were filled with concern.

Jordy darted a cold look at her and went to the driver's side without another word.

Gloria gritted her teeth and felt helpless. She didn't know how to face Karen if she had to deal with Jordy.

Karen was so nice to her. Why did Jordy happen to be Karen's grandson?

After locking the car door, Jordy didn't rush to drive off. Gloria sensed that something was off and looked at Jordy with cold eyes. "Are you really looking for me because of Karen?"

Jordy sneered. "Gloria, what makes you think you can challenge me?"

Gloria collected herself. Unwilling to talk to this man, she closed her eyes and leaned on the seat.

Without warning, Jordy yanked her into his arms. Now they were so close that the scents of their bodies assailed each other's nostrils.

Gloria was taken aback. Her eyes opened in an instant. The scent was as familiar as ever.

Jordy found the fragrance from her body soothing. All the fatigue seemed to be relieved.

Alarmed, Gloria raised her hands to struggle. "What are you doing!"

"You were so enthusiastic when you called me Angela's husband, weren't you?" Jordy glared at her in such a way as if he was going to strangle her.

Gloria was dazed. Unable to break free, she gave up struggling and sneered. "Why? You will marry Angela sooner or later. Am I wrong? Besides, I was scrupulous enough to add the word 'future'."

Her words never failed to annoy him.

Without warning, Jordy clasped the back of her head and kissed her.

To his surprise, her cherry lips were so tempting. Gloria's eyes rounded, and the next second saw her vigorous resistance. She slapped the man on the body again and again. Unfortunately, the space inside the locked car was not big. She could neither get out nor break free. Their hearts raced at the same time. "Are you out of your mind!" Her face blanched, and her voice was intermittent. Taking the chance, Jordy continued to kiss her. Gloria was shocked. She struggled, but the man was more frantic than she was. Unscrupulous, he left her no room to resist. She even heard the shameful sound. Gloria blushed and trembled all over! Before marriage, they had a crazy night, but she was delirious. In the three years of their marriage, she was sober, but they had no physical contact. After they got divorced, he held her in his arms and rained down the kisses. Has Jordy lost his mind? Does he know what he is doing? The prolonged kiss reminded her that it was not a dream. Out of breath, Gloria pounded him till her strength was exhausted. Before long, she panted and felt too weak to resist him. Her entire body was numb and shaking.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 259

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 259

Chapter 259 Stifling Air

Her eyes were blazing with fury, and her shame was beyond words. Trembling with anger, she bit the man. Jordy grunted in pain, let go of her, and flung her away into the car door. "What's your problem!" He gnashed his teeth. His face was frosty. His scent and blood lingered in her mouth. Mortification was etched in her pale face as she looked at him. Jordy's heart convulsed. For some unknown reason, he kissed her. The taste was something he might not forget for the rest of his life. He had never thought kissing someone felt so great. But soon, he sneered. "Don't you like this kind of exciting game? You called me Angela's husband and then made out with me in my arms." Gloria shook even more vigorously. She could feign nonchalance in front of him till he did such a thing to her and said something so mean. Without warning, she raised her hand.

Slap!

Jordy's face whipped to the side and clouded over. Within a week, he had been smacked thrice.

Gloria didn't go soft with him. Her eyes blazing with anger, she cursed, "Asshole! Scum!" Jordy laughed. "Scum?"

The burning pain in his face annoyed him, but he held back when he saw such a vibrant side of Gloria.

His eyes dimmed the moment he saw her swollen lips.

Still shivering, Gloria gave a cold laugh. "I spent every second of the three years lamenting my marriage. I didn't regret it. I married you because I loved you. I paid a price for my love."

"I've woken up. I'm willing to quit and grant your wish, but what are you doing now? You're going to marry Angela and did such a thing to me. Are you trying to humiliate me in this way so that the netizens will call me a shameless bitch?"

Bitch.

Not a fancy word.

It came out of her mouth so easily. Jordy's face darkened.

Gloria closed her eyes and took a deep breath. "I don't want to make an enemy of you or have any form of connection with you. Let me off! I'm going to see Karen."

Lost for words, Jordy started the engine, and the car dashed forward. The inertia flung her backward, and she grabbed the handle in a hurry.

Jordy was driving at a life-threatening speed, but she was not scared. From the last experience, she learned about his driving skills. Even so, she fastened the seat belt for safety.

Neither of them talked, but the metallic taste of blood still lingered in their mouths.

Gloria took deep breaths to fight back the agitation. Jordy's kiss was so aggressive and violent that her lips were still burning.

She held fast to the seat belt and gritted her teeth. She was so unlucky to meet such a lunatic!

He was crazy!

It was a silent trip. The air in the car was stifling.

Remarriage Never And Go Away Chapter 260

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 260

Chapter 260 Luscious Lips

In the hospital, Angela was lying on the bed, a smile on her face.

Brenda came in with a nervous look. "Miss White" ok on her face, and had a bad feeling. "What's Angela glanced at her assistant, noticed the st wrong?"

Brenda took a breath and said in a helpless tone, "Following your instructions, I followed Gloria. She was going to get in her car when Mr. Collins dragged her into his. She couldn't break free..."

She paused, stole a glance at Angela, and saw Angela's face turning livid. Brenda's heart trembled. The outsiders might regard Angela as a fair lady, but she knew Angela's true color. The latter was a temperamental and unscrupulous woman who was often jealous of others.

"Go on!" Angela turned to look at her assistant, "Spill it!"

COM

Brenda trembled in trepidation. She didn't want to tell the story. In fact, she didn't even want to come and report the matter. At the same time, she was afraid that Angela would send over another person. If she didn't tell Angela what she had seen, the latter might learn it from others and suspect her.

Brenda took a deep breath and told her the truth, "They talked in the car and then..."

She shivered as she knew how ruthless Angela was. When Angela pretended to be a vegetable, Brenda was there looking after her.

"Then what? Can't you finish it in one breath?" Simmering with rage, Angela itched to eat her assistant alive.

"They kissed!"

Bang!

In a fit of anger, Angela knocked over the nightstand! The sudden thud startled Brenda.

She stared at Brenda with crimson eyes. "Gloria seduced Jordy, right?"

Not that bold to lie, Brenda shook her head. "It was Mr. Collins who took Gloria into his arms and kissed her. Gloria struggled till they both quieted down. Mr. Collins then drove away."

Angela stood up and shook all over.

How could this happen? How?

"Did you see it wrong?" She looked Brenda dead in the eye and asked.

The assistant panicked and shook her head. "No... I didn't..."

Angela was stupefied.

How could it be! Jordy doesn't like Gloria anymore! Just now, he mocked her in every way. How is it possible he kissed that bitch?

She had just regained her composure, ready to win over the man's heart. The news was a bolt from the blue, and her heart was flustered once again.

She took out her phone and dialed the number with a trembling hand.

Jordy and Gloria were still in the car. Neither of them talked, but the kiss could not be dispelled from their minds.

Gloria regretted not biting him earlier. In a panic back then, she forgot to do that.

Jordy's tongue was hurting, but he couldn't forget that feeling or her luscious lips.