Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 341

Chapter 341 No Wasting Words

Brenda Reed hurriedly said, "I noticed that. I've already told you about it, but at that time, I really didn't expect that Mr. Collins and George would help Gloria White and that they would meet by chance..."

Angela White looked at Brenda. "Brenda, if you ignore things again, be careful of your family!"

She gritted her teeth at the last few words.

But Brenda let out a sigh of relief. She knew that she got away this time.

In fact, she had already told Angela and Jordy and George were both there.

However, Angela didn't think there would be any conflict at that time. Brenda didn't care about this matter, but Angela did.

Angela had even wanted Jordy to see that Gloria and Hunter Waydell had a relationship.

In the final analysis, she grasped the thoughts of Angela, who was an onlooker.

He could only hope that Gloria would be able to bring down Angela as soon as possible.

Gloria and Jordy did not talk much on the plane. She wore her blindfold and went to sleep.

After all...

It was already night.

His expression was slightly cold. He felt that her breath was gradually calming down. He turned his head and looked at her palm-sized cheek.

At that instant, because she was covering her eyes, it was as if all defenses were taken off. He was instantly attracted by her face.

They had been married for three years, but he had never looked at her carefully.

He had never taken a plane with her.

It seemed that she slept uncomfortably and frowned slightly. He quickly retracted his gaze.

But after a while, she was still in deep sleep. He turned his eyes and looked at her again.

He actually called out her name Gloria silently in his heart.

It was not until the plane was about to land and the captain started talking that Gloria gradually woke up.

She took off her blindfold and subconsciously looked out of the window.

When she found that the plane was descending rapidly, her eyes moved slightly. Did I sleep so well?

In the past, she basically couldn't sleep when she went out.

She didn't expect that when she sat next to him, she could sleep so well.

Not long after, the plane stopped and they disembarked together. She followed him without saying a word. He was considered being calm, but was now extremely cold. He was so powerful that many people did not dare to approach him. She felt that she was quite bold. As soon as they went out, the receptionist came up and bowed slightly to him with a respectful look.

“Mr. Collins, you’re here.”

He faintly nodded his head and did not say anything. She stood obediently behind him.

“Please get in the car. I’ve already ordered a hotel for you two. I’ll take you there.”

They remained silent as she followed him into the car. They remained seated at the back. She maintained a distance from him. It was late at night, and they were resting there. Everything had to wait until dawn. But...

She did not expect that the receptionist would only order one presidential suite. And that one did not look at her from beginning to end. Instead, he respectfully said to Jordy, “Mr. Collins, are you satisfied with this? If not, I’ll get someone to change it immediately.”

“Sure.” He didn’t waste his words...

She furrowed his brows and subconsciously wanted to ask where her room was. But...

Before she could talk, the man spoke first.

Chapter 342 Oh damn!

“Then you could go to bed early. I’ll go out first.”

He didn’t say anything, but she frowned and said, “Wait.”

The man turned to look at her in confusion. Confusion flitted across his eyes, but he still asked, “Madam, do you have any instructions for me?”

She hesitated for a moment before saying, “It’s all right now. Go ahead.”

The man glanced at her in confusion, but when he saw that Jordy did not say anything, he nodded and left without saying anything else. Only they were in the room.

She calmly said, “I’m going out to get a room.”

Just now she wanted to ask that man about a room, but she guessed that he did not know about her relationship with Jordy, so she did not do that. She would go out to get a room by herself.

He immediately frowned and said with disdain, “Stay here. I don’t have time to mess with you at night. I’m leaving early tomorrow morning.”

Finishing that he entered the master bedroom.
She furrowed her brows but considered that he was also disdainful of her and hesitated for a moment before heading to the guest room.
After she took a shower and slept for a few more hours, it was early in the morning. She got up early. After washing up, she walked out and found that Jordy was already sitting on the sofa in the living room. She paused for a moment, and someone had already knocked on the door.
She immediately walked over and opened the door. It was the same person who had received them yesterday. He was holding two breakfasts in his hand. When he saw them sitting on the sofa, he immediately smiled and said, "I brought breakfast for you. After breakfast, we can set off."
He was one of the heads of Jordy's branches, named David Smith.
He was about 40 years old and looked like a man in his early 30s. He was neither too handsome nor ugly, and his figure was also average.
She took it over, "Thank you."
That man smiled and closed the door without saying anything.
She passed one of the breakfasts to Jordy and ate her breakfast.
They still said nothing.
He didn't even plan to look at the breakfast in front of him.
She did not care about him. It was not until she had finished eating that he stood up and walked out.
She tidied himself up and immediately followed.
David had been waiting downstairs. When he saw them, he walked up to them with a smile. "Mr. Collins, we can go now."
He gave David an indifferent look, "I'm going to hide my identity this time, so you don't have to go."
David was surprised but didn't dare to disobey. He nodded immediately and said, "All right, I'll ask the driver to send you..."
"Give me the key."
She glanced at Jordy in surprise. Did he intend to drive a car himself?
She didn't say anything. As he was a boss, he could do whatever he wanted.
But...
Just as she was thinking this, he suddenly threw the key to her and said indifferently, "Drive the car."
She was speechless.
Oh damn!
She took a deep breath. She planned to live a peaceful life, and it was just driving a car. She would endure it.
She took the key and walked out.
David glanced at them and felt that the atmosphere between them was slightly strange. He cleared his throat and followed Jordy's lead.
After finding the car, she sat directly in the driver's seat and he sat in the passenger seat without hesitation.

However, after waiting for a long time, he did not say anything. She turned to look at him and asked, "Mr. Collins, where are you planning to go?"

Chapter 343 How Much Hope Do They Have?

Jordy looked at her coldly. "Don't you know where you are going?"

Gloria was speechless.

She glanced at him speechlessly and couldn't help but blurt out, "How did Harold Ross feel with you for so many years?"

His gaze instantly sharpened, but she did not want to talk to him and started the engine directly.

She had been here before, so she was familiar.

She thought for a moment and decided on a place. Without discussing it with him, she drove the car over directly.

As usual, neither of them said a word. It was so quiet in the car that there was no music at all.

This kind of interaction was very comfortable for them.

She would definitely not want to waste a single word with this man.

About an hour later, they arrived.

She stopped the car in the parking space and looked at him.

"This wedding dress shop is quite famous with many kinds of specialties and could select the best type."

He got out of the car without saying a word.

"Wait."

Seeing him turning to look at her, she took out her mask and sunglasses and handed them over to Jordy.

He furrowed his brows.

Her expression was indifferent as she said, "Didn't you intend to hide your identity? Who doesn't know that you are Jordy Collins?"

Finally, he obediently put on his mask and sunglasses without saying a word.

She was already used to his expression, armed herself and followed him.

They walked in together.

The wedding celebration plan designed by Gloria had to be included from start to finish.

The wedding gown was one of the plans. In order to complete this project, all materials had to be selected.

The specialty of this shop's brand was pretty good, so she decided to take a look.

Their disguises were pretty good, no one could recognize who they were.

However, when shop assistants saw how elegant they were dressed, they immediately welcomed them enthusiastically.

“Hello, I’m Cassie, the sales attendant of our store. It’s my pleasure to introduce you. I wonder if you like any wedding dresses or suits.”

The two looked at each other and Gloria smiled at her, “Not yet, I’ll take a look first.”

She politely smiled. “Sure.”

Gloria looked back and forth and went up to the fifth floor, but the disappointment in her eyes was getting stronger.

Even Jordy frowned. He coldly looked at her, “So this is the place you chose?”

Cassie’s smile instantly froze. Even an idiot could tell that he was unhappy with their store.

But looking around, their store was the best in this city. How high were their standards?

Gloria pursed her lips, “Let’s go.”

Cassie immediately said in confusion, “In this city, we’re the best. If you don’t like it, you might have to move to another city.”

Gloria glanced at the sales attendant and nodded politely. She did not say anything else and walked out.

Somehow, the lobby manager got the news from somewhere and knew that they were here for an investigation. When she hurried over, she saw them coming in his direction.

She stepped forward with a smile and said politely, “Please wait for a moment. I know you are not here to buy a wedding dress. I don’t know if you have time. Let’s... have a talk?”

Chapter 344

Chapter 344 There’s No Need to Cooperate

Jordy stopped, and so did Gloria. She turned to look at the lobby manager and asked doubtfully.

“Who gave you the news?”

His sharp eyes swept over the lobby manager in an instant. Although he didn’t say a word, the lobby manager had begun to panic. It was sure indeed that immortals couldn’t be treated as mortals.

His glare almost killed her.

The lobby manager took a deep breath and said what she had prepared earlier.

“Our company has been looking for someone to work with, and we also know about the cooperation between the Collins Group and the White Group. I heard that they are going to conduct an investigation over there, so I guessed that it should be recent days.

Moreover, you have different temperaments. I have also seen you on screen, so I can recognize you at once. I come here to work every day, and it’s my honor to see you.”

Upon hearing the lobby manager’s words, Cassie’s face turned pale at that moment.

So they were important figures! She was actually still saying such pompous words...

She was afraid of losing her job because the lobby manager had just looked at her with... extremely bad eyes.

At this moment, she began to pray for herself.

She didn't know what to say, but given the current situation... she didn't have a chance to interrupt.

Gloria took a look at silent Jordy and asked lightly, "What are you trying to say?"

"...why don't you come with me to the office to talk?" The lobby manager maintained a polite and respectful smile. Gloria thought that this was indeed a rather unique place and there could be something else.

After thinking for a while, she directly turned to look at Jordy and asked, "Can we talk?"

It was up to him to make a decision in the detail. Otherwise, if she agreed, it would be useless for her if he did not agree.

He ignored her and indifferently looked at the lobby manager. He said in a deep voice, "Lead the way."

The lobby manager seemed to breathe a sigh of relief. "Okay, please follow me."

In this way, they soon arrived at the office.

The lobby manager hurriedly said, "Please have a seat. What... would you like to drink?"

"Let's get down to business. Gloria looked at her with a calm expression, "I want to know the reason even more."

The lobby manager wasn't surprised by her words, but she helplessly sighed, "recent wedding gowns are indeed not satisfactory, but there will be a large number of wedding gowns today. And the design of the gown is here. Why don't you take a look at it?"

Gloria nodded her head, "Okay."

The lobby manager hurriedly opened the design picture of the computer and stepped aside, saying, "Mr. Collins, Miss White, would you like to have a look?"

They walked over together, but Jordy only sat on the chair on the side, and Gloria walked to the computer table and sat across from him.

She put her hand on the mouse and carefully looked at each design plan of the wedding dress.

However... after reading through more than thirty designs in a row, her frown grew deeper.

She looked up directly at the lobby manager and asked, "Did you reach an agreement with the previous group of designers?"

The lobby manager's expression froze. The next moment, she smiled awkwardly.

"Previous group of designers, they..."

Before she could finish his sentence, Jordy stood up and said, "There's no need to cooperate."

Chapter 345 Unrestrained Anger

The lobby manager's expression changed slightly. She immediately blocked their way and said in an anxious voice, "Mr. Collins, Miss White, have you finished reading? Our designers are also very excellent. They are not as bad as you think. Otherwise, we, such a big brand, wouldn't be strengthened."

Gloria did not get up and only looked at her, "Then show me those that you think are outstanding. I'm afraid our time is limited to look through one by one."

The lobby manager hurried over and unfolded a batch of wedding dresses that she had picked out.

Gloria took a look and the disappointment in her eyes became more intense.

The lobby manager only felt that her sweat was about to drip down. She quickly said again, "There's a new style today. Please take a look!"

The Collins Group and the White Group are big clients. If I miss them, I don't know how the higher-ups will punish me!

She hurriedly added, "if you think something is not good, we can continue to change it until you are satisfied."

The lobby manager's attitude was humble and there was a hint of panic in her eyes.

Gloria furrowed her brows slightly and finally talked in a deep voice, "It's a problem with color, style, fashion, etc. The pattern is unconventional and can be neutralized.

However, this plan has to be eliminated. I advise you to find the original batch of designers. Otherwise, if this continues, your reputation will be completely ruined."

Jordy glanced at her in surprise. Her words were concise, but encompassed all questions.

How much did she know?

How much did she hide from him?

He was so angry that he didn't even want to say a word.

The lobby manager's face changed again, and she seemed to be at a loss. "Miss White..."

She could only give her a friendly smile, "We can continue our cooperation if we have the chance in the future."

After speaking, they walked out together.

They returned to the car. She frowned slightly, "We might as well find the designers and work with them directly."

Hesneered. So you are one of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs."

She furrowed her brows slightly and subconsciously looked at him, "Do you mean that I should go?"

He glanced at her indifferently and said in a sarcastic voice, "Do you think I took you out for free?"

She was speechless.

She wanted to give him a slap.

She said calmly, "That's not what I should be doing. If Mr. Collins you don't want to hire your staff, there's nothing I can do."

He immediately looked at her coldly. "You can choose not to go."

She felt his threat and sneered. "Normally, I am only in charge of negotiations. The exact details of cooperation have nothing to do with me. You can choose to terminate the contract. That means that the agreement cannot be reached due to the ineptitude of two companies, and it has less to do with me."

His face darkened even more!

However, she was too lazy to bother with him and started the engine, "Where shall I send you next?"

She was going to wait in the hotel and then wait for him to contact designers before making a final decision.

But...

He didn't intend to spare her at all. It seemed that he intended to know more of her secrets. He said, "You can choose not to go, but are you sure you can continue to stay in the White Group?"

"You!!!" She was furious!

Chapter 346 Son of a bi*ch!

She didn't expect this man to be so detestable!

If he wanted to exclude her from the White Group, it would be very easy for him to do so.

But she couldn't always let this man get hold of her weakness!

He looked at her with sarcasm in his eyes and said, "You've attacked me several times. For grandma's sake, I've given you enough respect. If you still don't know what's good for you, don't blame me for taking action!"

She was speechless.

She gritted her teeth. "All right, I'll go! But you need to contact others."

He did not say anything.

However, she already knew that he had tacitly agreed, so she did not say anything and drove the car back to the hotel.

Now the most important thing was to find the designers.

If possible, she would not need to cooperate with other wedding dress shops.

But...

He seemed to be deliberately fooling around with her. She had just parked the car under the hotel when he had given her the phone numbers of the designers.

“Go and find them yourself.”

After that, he got out of the car and entered the hotel.

She was speechless.

She gritted her teeth and was no longer in the mood to scold him.

Sooner or later, she had to get hold of his weakness, so that he would not dare to threaten her like this again. Otherwise, she could not afford to be threatened by him in the future.

This time, she would resign himself to fate.

She slowly took out her mobile phone and contacted them.

The afternoon passed just like that.

She had finally found these people after expending a lot of effort.

But she didn't try to persuade them to go to the company. She just wanted to complete the cooperation first. As for the specific welfare, the director would talk to them.

She drank much water before feeling that her mouth was no longer dry. She called Jordy again.

He picked up quickly.

She explained the whole situation.

He looked calm and she asked, "Where are you?"

"In the hotel."

As soon as she came back, she found that he was not there.

"Harold Ross will come to pick you up."

She furrowed her brows, "What are you doing?"

"He will tell you."

After that, he hung up.

She also felt that her communication with Harold was much better than his. Just as he was about to put down her phone, she received a call from Harold.

She picked it up.

"Miss White."

"Okay, Harold, where are you going to pick me up?"

"I'm going to take you to do some makeup. Mr. Collins has chosen a dress for you."

"A dress? Makeup? What is he going to do?"

He coughed softly and said, "There is a dinner party..."

She furrowed his brows, "Should I be his female companion?"

"Mm..."

"Is he crazy? Doesn't he know that it's not appropriate for us to attend the banquet together?"

Does he still think it's the past?!

Is he crazy?

She wanted to curse this man!

Harold coughed lightly again and said, "This time... Mr. Collins wants to take his grandma out because he wants her to get better as soon as possible. If you attend this party together, she will because he wants her to get better as soon as possible. If you attend this party together, she will believe that Mr. Collins' attitude toward you will change a lot."

Her face was cold as she replied, "Does he take Grandma for a fool? Tell him that if he has filial piety, he needs to think of a way himself. Don't implicate others. I'm not going."

Harold was speechless.

He had said all that needed to be said, but if she did not go, he could only...

He sighed helplessly and said, "Miss White, if you don't go, Mr. Collins will..."

At this point, he suddenly stopped talking.

Her face instantly darkened!

Son of a bi*ch!

Chapter 347

Chapter 347 My Limits

She would settle this debt with this man sooner or later!

However, she had not figured out what his weakness was yet.

She could not hurt his family because she cared about part of his family.

But in other aspects, she didn't see any other weakness in this man!

This made her very annoyed!

She took a deep breath. What was she doing with him right now?!

After pausing for a moment, she said, "Wait for me. I'll give him a call."

Harold felt a headache coming on. Why did Mr. Collins insist on letting him deal with this matter? Did he have to pass on the message between the couple, oh no, between the ex-husband and ex-wife?

“Miss White, you don’t have to wait. His attitude is firm. He’s very busy now, and he said that he wouldn’t answer anyone’s call.”

She was speechless.

He just didn’t want to answer her call!

She couldn’t help but take a deep breath, while Harold said again, “Miss White, you must attend tonight’s dinner party. Besides, there are cooperation activities to discuss, and you need to come forward.”

She was speechless.

Since Harold had referred to cooperation, it had to have something to do with the project between the Collins Group and White Group.

She closed her eyes and finally said in a deep voice, “When will you arrive?”

“I’m already downstairs.”

“I see.”

After that, she hung up and tidied herself up before walking out.

After meeting Harold, he brought her along to do some makeup and change into a luxurious gown.

Harold, sitting in the driver’s seat, looked back at her behind him and coughed awkwardly. “Miss White, I’ll take you to Mr. Collins now.”

“Well.”

“Well.”

Her voice was gloomy and unhappy.

He stopped being mean and drove out.

About half an hour later, they arrived at Jordy's place. He stopped the car and called Jordy. Not long after, he came out.

He had obviously changed into a suit, walked over, and opened the door at the back. When Gloria saw his cold face, she wanted to kick him to death.

He was the one who had chosen her gown.

He had euphemistically said that he did not want to see her ugly appearance.

She was wearing a red dress, which made her skin look even fairer, her exquisite figure was so curvy that countless men couldn't wait to hold her in their arms. Her already delicate face was now covered with a layer of light makeup. Today's banquet would probably be amazed by her again.

His face suddenly darkened.

At this moment, he regretted it.

She turned her head and did not want to see him.

His face darkened. He got in the car and sat next to her.

When they arrived at their destination, Harold did not enter the banquet.

After Jordy got out of the car, he was not in a hurry to leave. Instead, he looked at her and said indifferently, "Get down from my side."

She was speechless.

At this time, she did not intend to do anything against him. She obediently got out of the car, saw he curl his arms as usual, and frowned again.

"What sort of trick are you trying to pull?"

His cold gaze swept over her without saying a word, but the threat in his eyes was obvious.

However, she coldly stared at him this time. "Jordy Collins, even a rabbit will bite when cornered. I've already reached my limits by doing this."

After speaking, she ignored the fact that his face had turned cold and took a step forward.

However, before she could take a step, he suddenly grabbed her arm. Before she could react. her arm was firmly placed on his...

Moreover, it was impossible to tell that something was wrong.

Everyone thought that they were still as before, and it seemed that was complete because he had bent his arm and she moved forward!

She wanted to withdraw her hand, but he held it so tightly that she had no chance to struggle.

She turned to look at the man with a smile on her lips. However, he heard her very soft and gritting voice, "Jordy, what are you trying to do!"

His lips curled into a sardonic smile.

But... it seemed that he was in a good mood.

He turned towards her and gave a rare patient reply, "To attend the banquet."

She was speechless.

va:

Son of a bi*ch!

She took a deep breath and tried to control her emotions.

But at this stage, it was meaningless for her to withdraw it. Moreover, this man was on guard against her all the time!

Harold was in the driver's seat, and he didn't get out of the car at all.

Just like picking up Jordy, he did not get out of the car to open the door for him.

There were two reasons.

First, although their relationship was that of a superior and subordinate, they had long since become brothers. Harold did not need to have so many scruples at all times like others, and Jordy did not like it either.

Second, Harold wasn't sure if Jordy wanted to sit in the front or the back at that time, so he didn't move and let him drive by himself.

There was only one reason why he didn't get out of the car when they arrived.

They are together. What's the point of him getting out of the car and opening the door for them?

In this way, they walked in together.

They looked calm and got along well with each other, just like they had been together for three

They looked calm and got along well with each other, just like they had been together for three years. Every time they attended a banquet, they were particularly comfortable.

However, the more it was like this, the more satire appeared in her eyes.

She had not expected that there would be so many ties after divorce, and it just so happened that this man had something on her.

If she wanted to take back the White Group, she couldn't make a single mistake. If Jordy made a move against her, it would make her more difficult!

She took a deep breath to control her emotions.

The moment they walked through the door of the banquet, everyone present looked in their direction!

Even the smile on the face of the young lady of the Tamah Group, who had just talked and laughed with the crowd, faded away.

Gloria's formal attire was as beautiful as fire, stunning the entire people.

Just a moment ago, many people were looking at her, but now...

All of them began to shift their gazes, their eyes clearly filled with endless... assessment and covetousness.

His face instantly darkened.

He regretted it the moment he got in the car.

Now he regretted it even more.

Someone found that it was Jordy Collins and came over with a goblet.

The man had been in the business industry for more than two decades and could be said to be successful, but he was still inferior to someone like Jordy Collins. At the same time, their company had some projects to work on recently and planned to get through with the Collins Group.

He's in his early forties this year. His mature charm had caused countless women to be infatuated with him.

He walked up to Jordy with a smile.

"Mr. Collins, I'm so pleased to meet you here!" After saying that, he turned his gaze to Gloria and politely said, "Hello, Miss Norma."

Chapter 349

Chapter 349 Why Didn't He Refuse Guests?!

In the past, he might have called Gloria or Mrs. Collins, but now...

How could he dare? They were divorced, and he couldn't control himself.

However, she was also one he wanted to curry favor with, so he directly said the word, Norma.

Jordy furrowed his brows.

It made him bored and angry, and even more annoyed.

She smiled and nodded at the man, "Hello, Mr. John."

Mr. John's face was a little stiff. He had called it wrong... Her surname was a better choice.

But...

For a moment, he only remembered that she was called Norma. What was her surname? He really did not remember it.

Seeing Mr. Collins' expression, he was a little flustered, but the next moment, he hurriedly looked at him and said with a smile, "Mr. Collins, why did you come to this party today? It's rare for you to come to San Diego, so if I don't entertain you, won't it be too much? I wonder if Mr. Collins will be free tomorrow? I'll treat you."

"I have cooperation to talk about. Next time."

He didn't want to chat with such a person after saying that, so he left directly.

She could only smile and nod at Mr. John before Jordy forcefully dragged her away.

She took a deep breath. She had to endure!

Sooner or later, she would trample this bastard underfoot and apologize to him!

She looked in front of him as if there was no such man!

It was strange.

Before they divorced, although every banquet had to be dressed up, she... she was particularly looking forward to the arrival of the banquet. It was not for the sake of dressing up, but... she finally looked forward to the scene where she would attend with this man.

She could finally get close to this man and hold his arm...

At every banquet, he was extremely gentle to her. Even though she knew that it was a trap, she still couldn't help but feel happy and excited.

But now...

He still stood by her side, just like before, and his powerful aura surrounded her, but now she just wanted to leave, just wanted to kick this man away!

Did this mean that she could let him go completely?

Was she no longer as sad as before?

She tossed and turned at night, lost her appetite in the daytime, and was mentally and physically exhausted. She had enough of that kind of life and was afraid...

He glanced at her from the corner of his eyes and saw a sincere smile on her lips.

His expression stiffened.

She... What was she thinking about?

Or was she willing to stand by him?

He curled his lips sarcastically and led her into the crowd.

Because of his special status, many people couldn't help coming to say hello.

But Today he was strange.

She once felt that there was something wrong with him!

Why didn't he refuse anyone!?

She remembered that once, even if he was talking to someone, it depended on the person. He didn't want to talk to them, so he wouldn't give them a chance to talk at all.

But today, what was he doing?!

It was as if they were willing to wait for everyone!

No matter what they said, he would talk with confidence.

Fuck!

Is he ill?

She looked at him as if he were ill. his face immediately darkened.

While no one was around, she looked at him speechlessly and said, "Mr. Collins, you are in good health. But I am wearing a pair of high heels! Can you let me rest for a while?"

Chapter 350 Unpleasant Words

She had had enough!

But...

He looked at her with a sarcastic look and said, "We haven't discussed the cooperation yet. What right do you have to rest?"

"You talk to every single one of you. What fuck can we talk about!" She gritted her teeth.

"Gloria White! Who allowed you to say such dirty word!" His face darkened even more!

She was speechless.

She suddenly understood how pleasant words were.

She was obviously trying to say, hurry up, talk about cooperation, and retreat as soon as you're done!

But what about him?

Was he questioning her for swearing?

She scolded him more than once that he was really ill!

She took a deep breath and closed her eyes. She must restrain herself!

At this moment, he seemed to be arguing with her and continued to talk with others.

Today, he seemed to have finished what he wanted to say for a year.

While there were people in front of her, she suddenly felt that the opportunity had arrived.

She looked at them with a smile. "Excuse me, you can chat."

Seeing his eyes darken, she looked at him with a smile and said softly, "Jordy, I'll go to the bathroom first and come to you later."

Jordy was stunned. He had not seen or heard her address him in such a gentle way for a long time.

The man across from him nodded with a smile. "All right, you go ahead."

He had no choice but to let go of her and nod slightly at her.

She was released from his duties and suddenly wanted to sing the song "Rise from the ashes".

She hurried to the bathroom. In fact, she didn't want to go to the bathroom at all. She just wanted to wash her hands.

She had been holding his arm just now. She felt dirty!

After washing her hands, she came out. She just glanced at the crowd and found that he was talking to Harold. She was a little surprised, but she didn't intend to go over to listen. She walked to a sofa in the corner and slowly sat down.

She felt like he was about to ascend to the heavens!

Finally, she didn't have to focus all her weight on her feet. The numbness in the soles of his feet was also stronger than just now.

At this moment, she had already taken out her mobile phone.

An hour ago, Nydia sent her a message on her WhatsApp but she didn't even notice it.

She clicked on it.

–Nydia, (Baby! Please congratulate me! I won a lawsuit! Do you want to treat me to a meal to celebrate? I'm buying groceries. Just make it for me!)

She smiled slowly.

Gloria, (I'm on a business trip to another city. When I get back, I'll reward you with a meal and think ahead of time about what you'd like to eat.)

– Nydia, (Did you go on a business trip? Where did you go? When will you be back?)

–Gloria, (I just arrived today, it will be about a week in San Diego.)

In just a moment, her cell phone rang.

She did not see any problems and since it was in a corner, she picked it up.

Before she could say anything, its complaint could be heard. "Gloria, it's been a long time since I've had food cooked personally by you! I'm so sad! You actually went to San Diego for a business trip. Remember to miss me, understand?"

She couldn't help but burst into laughter, "You make it sound like I'm going to walk for a few years, just to cook for you?"

"Of course not... Alas, my damn father came to find me again. I'm so annoyed."

She frowned slightly, "What's going on?"

Nydia sighed as if she was hesitating whether she should say it or not.

A figure suddenly appeared in front of Gloria. She lowered her head and saw a woman wearing a pair of white crystal high heels standing.
