Chapter 386

Chapter 386 Inexperienced

Then Angela said, "Gloria, it's not that I don't trust you, but you are not good at dealing with such issues. If you are really a professional and very experienced in this area, I am certainly in favor of your proposal, and you should know how important this project is. Even if we reject the Brown Group's request, I can't put you in charge of this project. You guys can get back to work now."

Angela's voice sounded firm and helpless.

A look of pity flashed in Helen's eyes, but Angela had made the decision, so she couldn't say anything. Then, she could only look at Gloria.

"Miss White, let's go."

Gloria looked at Angela and laughed, "Angela, are you the one who can make the decision for the whole company?"

Helen froze but didn't say anything.

Angela did not respond directly and just looked at her. She seemed to be waiting for Gloria's response.

However, Gloria didn't say anything this time. She just smiled and said, "Since you don't agree with the proposal, forget it. I'll go on to negotiate other projects with other partners."

Angela's eyes flickered. She didn't think it was Gloria's intention, but she still had to put on an act. She looked relieved and said, "It sounds wonderful. You can go."

Gloria didn't say anything and then walked out of the office.

After Gloria walked away, Helen looked at Gloria and said, "Are you going to keep reporting to other superiors?"

Gloria curled her lip and said, "Miss Johnson, what do you think?"

Helen was very capable. And she didn't get promoted to this position by flattering her superiors.

She was the real cream of the crop in the company.

Gloria admired people like Helen from the bottom of her heart.

Helen pursed her lips. This time, she was a little hesitant to say something, but she didn't know if she should tell her.

Gloria smiled and said, "I know what you think. And no one can stop me from achieving my goal.

Since I can't achieve my goal through normal procedures, I'll figure something else out."

Helen looked at her in astonishment at once. The next moment, she smiled and nodded, "Miss White, you are really as capable as your father."

Gloria looked slightly stunned. The next moment, she smiled and said, "I'll go back to work."

Helen nodded her head. Her attitude towards Gloria was much better than before. "Alright."

Then, the two of them went back to their own seats.

Sheila looked at Gloria with curiosity and said, "Gloria, how was it?"

At this point, everyone in the office looked over at Gloria with a curious look, and there was a smile in Gloria's eyes. She said in a normal tone, "Angela refused my offer. She said it was too risky."

Everyone heard Angela reject Gloria's request.

Everyone in the office looked incredulous.

Some of the employees were puzzled and said, "This is a deal that will make a lot of money. It would be a great benefit to our company. Since Mr. Brown is willing to invest such a large sum of money, if it works out, our company will become more and more reputable. If someone thinks our company has a good proposal, they may be willing to invest in our company like Mr. Brown. Isn't that a good thing? Why would she reject you?"

Gloria turned her head and laughed, “Angela thinks I’m inexperienced. She was afraid that I would not be able to take charge of the project, because Mr. Brown said that I modified the proposal, so he wanted me to take charge.”

Everyone’s eyes flickered. Everyone knew that Gloria had modified the proposal. And Mr. Brown wouldn’t have made the decision on impulse.

Hasn’t Mr. Collins appointed Gloria to be in charge of his project before?

And now the proposal was quite good, but how could Angela think Gloria had no experience? Besides, Jonathan was going to be in charge of the project himself.

There must be no problem with the proposal since Jonathan wanted to invest in it. After all, he had to invest so much money.

Chapter 387 What Happened Between You Two?

What exactly is the reason for Miss White’s disapproval? Could it be...

Everyone in the office began to speculate about the reason for Angela’s disapproval.

Gloria didn’t do anything in a hurry. Instead, she continued to focus on her work.

Near the end of the day, Jonathan called Gloria again and asked her for dinner, but Gloria didn’t say yes, because Nydia was already waiting for her at her house.

Gloria went home after work.

Nydia had the key to her house. She looked like she had been waiting for a long time. When she looked at Gloria, she said helplessly, “You work so damn hard. How could you just get back home? Don’t you need a day off at home?”

Gloria put down the handbag in her hand and changed her shoes.

“Angela is doing everything she can to get me into trouble now. How can I feel relieved?”

Nydia frowned at once. "I don't know when you're not going to have to live like this. Do you have any plans?"

Gloria shrugged helplessly and said, "I can't be sure. After all, I'm going to be in charge of another project soon. I'll be away from the company for about four months. Maybe I won't be able to have the energy to deal with her during that time."

Nydia looked at her suspiciously and said, "What project?"

"A project that Jonathan wants me to work on. He wants me to be in charge of it as much as Jordy does."

"What?" said Nydia, amused. "Are the two of them competing? Is Jonathan asking this because you've worked on a project with Jordy and are so close to him? What if Jonathan asks you to attend a party in the future?"

Gloria froze.

Given the projects she would be in charge of in the future, she would definitely have some parties to attend. As the person in charge, she would have to attend those parties with Jonathan. If grandma knew about it...

Gloria frowned.

Nydia obviously saw what she was thinking and took her by the arm and said, "Come on. Stop thinking about it! Things will work out, and even if you care about Jordy's grandmother's feelings, you have to let her face the truth. You and Jordy are not going to get back together. I think his grandmother is very healthy. It's not even a problem for her to live a long life. Even if you are not in the mood to find a husband now, won't you be in the mood to find one later on? Even if you don't, can you guarantee that Jordy will never look for another woman? Don't forget that he has Angela by his side. And... Even if both of you have no such plans, are you going to keep acting in front of Jordy's grandmother?"

Gloria pursed her lips and said, "Although you're right, I always want to let grandmother know the truth gradually. What I did last time was too aggressive. And I didn't take into account grandma's feelings. I regretted it so much."

"It's not your fault. Even if there is something wrong with your grandma, Jordy is the only one to blame. If it weren't for that he didn't care about this family, how could he push you to that point? He is such a jerk! This has nothing to do with you!"

Gloria pursed her lips and said nothing else. Nydia had already bought the ingredients. Then the two of them went back into the kitchen to cook the dishes.

Soon, three delicious plates of dishes and a pot of soup were served on the table.

Nydia's mouth watered as she sat down immediately. At that moment, Gloria handed over her chopsticks and said, "Try it."

"Gosh! You're such a great cook!"

Nydia took the chopsticks and started to eat. When she had eaten half a bowl of rice, she looked at Gloria and noticed that she didn't have much of an appetite. "What's on your mind?"

Gloria narrowed her eyes. Seeing that Nydia was trying to hide her low mood, she spoke softly, "I'm thinking about what to do with my cousin."

"What's going on between you two?"

Chapter 388 You're Really Bad to Me!

Gloria told Nydia about what happened today.

Midia was immediately amused and said, "Gloria, you told me earlier. Although I have no decent ways to deal with her, people like her are best suited for you to deal with her through tricks. Do you want to hear my opinion? I promise to make Angela unable to fight back against you again. And I'll make you famous!"

Gloria's eyes lit up as she said, "Let me hear it."

Nydia was like expertise in coming up with tricks. Although she couldn't come up with a decent strategy, she could come up with a lot of tricks.

Nydia giggled and said, "Go ahead and make a scene! You tell Jonathan to communicate with the White Group. The only way to do that is for him to communicate with your company in person. After that, do you think the White Group will let this opportunity go? This project is too profitable. You just wait for the big money.”

Gloria laughed and said, “That’s a good idea, but I don’t want to ask Jonathan to do anything else. Otherwise, I’ll owe him again.”

Nydia put one hand on her cheek and said, “I see. Then I have other ways.”

Gloria couldn’t help but laugh, “Go ahead.”

“The first thing you need to do is to let everyone in your office know that Angela doesn’t agree. Since she’s playing innocent, you can put on an act too. Who wouldn’t do something like that?”

Gloria nodded and said, “I’ll do that.”

Nydia was happy and said, “That’s good. You’ll just wait for the news to spread. You’ll be aggravated and upset once in a while. You have to look helpless. Then your colleagues will sense that your cousin is not at all as warm–hearted and generous as they think she is. And it’s time for you to strike. You go to your superiors, but you can’t go to the two–faced ones. You have to find someone who is really capable and willing to listen to your opinions.”

Gloria narrowed her eyes and said, “I’ve thought about that. The company does have people like that. And there’s more than one. Given Angela’s personality, she’ll definitely find a way to do something to ruin my plans.”

“So you can’t meet someone like that in your company.”

Gloria’s eyes flickered as she thought of something while Nydia smiled and said, “Gloria, Ted from your company is my own uncle.”

“He’s the one I’m looking for.” When she said that, Gloria frowned and said, “But you’re at odds with your family. If you find your uncle…”

“My uncle is good to me. He’s not the same kind of person as my dad. I’ll give him a call. I’ll see if he’s free tonight. We’ll go over to him after dinner if that’s okay.”

Gloria nodded, “Okay.”

Nydia looked at Gloria with a worried look and said, “Actually, I know that even without my help, according to your ability, you can still let my uncle know about this. And you can even fight back against Angela in a more powerful way, but I wish you could just not take everything on your own like you did today, okay? We’re friends.”

Gloria smiled and said, “I know.”

“What do you know? You just don’t like to bother us. You just see that I’m not in a good mood, so you deliberately find something to distract me, right?”

Gloria was a little surprised and said, “When were you in a bad mood? I see you have such a good appetite. How can you be in a bad mood?”

In fact, Nydia was right. Gloria mentioned this because she saw that Nydia was in a bad mood.

Otherwise, given Gloria’s ability, it would have been very easy for her to spread the news.

Nydia suddenly beamed and said, “You are so bad to me! I’m in such a bad mood. Can’t you even see that?”

Chapter 389 He Has Passed Away

Gloria sighed, “What happened between you and father?”

“It’s quite annoying. He kept letting me go back and pestered me to stop hating her. He just kept explaining to me but I think it was all excuses. My mother died because of him. I will never forgive him for the rest of my life.”

Gloria’s eyes flickered, looking at Nydia’s stern face. Then Gloria said calmly, “You have to face it sooner or later. And you may have some misunderstandings about many things. If you don’t believe him, why don’t you find a way to look into what happened that year?”

Nydia gritted her teeth and said with anger, “I remembered back in those days, my mother jumped from a building to kill herself in front of me. And it was because he was having an affair with another woman. It was absolutely true. What’s there to explain?”

She looked up into Gloria’s eyes and continued, “This time, he imprisoned me home. I knew he wanted me to forgive him. But even more, he wanted me to marry so that he could have connections. Why should I listen to him? He is no longer a father to me. He has other children as well. He has a son and a daughter with that woman. I mean, why doesn't he let the other daughter marry for him?"

After saying this, Nydia seemed to restrain herself and said helplessly, "Just look at me. I lost my temper again. I just thought I could control my temper if I hadn't drunk."

Gloria looked at her and said seriously, "No matter what happens, you should take care of yourself. Because there are still many people who care about you."

Nydia smiled, "Alright, I will. Thank you for being here to listen to my complaints."

Seeing her bowl was still half full of food, she put down the bowl and dialed Ted.

Ted quickly answered the call, "Do you finally miss me, Nydia?"

"No, I miss you all the time. Uncle Ted, don't you doubt it." Nydia produced a totally different mood on the phone and spoke with composure.

Ted immediately laughed heartily, "My good girl, I know you well. I knew you must have something to tell me this time. Just go ahead and tell me, I can do everything for you."

Nydia smiled awkwardly and fawned, "Uncle Ted, are you free tonight? I want to visit you with a friend of mine."

"Yes, I am. Come tonight."

"Okay, we'll be there in about forty minutes."

"Okay. Don't rush. I will be home all the time."

"Love you, Ted! I know you are the best person in the world." Nydia said coquettishly.

"Oh come on. Alright, I'm hanging up. I'll wait for you."

"Thank you."

Before hanging up, Nydia heard her uncle's voice coming from the receiver, "Go prepare some cakes and fruit. My darling niece is coming."

Nydia suddenly felt the warmth in her heart. She subconsciously sniffed her nose and hung up the phone, deeply touched.

"Nydia." There was a complicated look in Gloria's eyes.

"Yeah..." Nydia smiled, "Sometimes I wonder why I'm not my uncle's daughter. Or otherwise I might have a very happy life."

Gloria looked at her with a serious face, "It all depends actually. Just look at me and you will think that you are the luckier one. You have an uncle who loves you, but my father, the only person who loves me has passed away."

Nydia suddenly felt awfully sorry, "Sorry, I didn't mean to..."

"I know. I only mean that sometimes this is fate. You have to find a way to make yourself happy. That's all. Just like what I did. Since I left Jordy, I think I could never feel happier."

Chapter 390 Praises Without Hesitation

Nydia saw the smile on Gloria's face, and she immediately felt a little bitter for Gloria. She sighed and said, "Let's not talk about this. Come on, let's go to my uncle's first, and you can take the plan with you."

"Okay."

Then the two of them packed up and set out together. They soon arrived at Ted's house at the agreed time.

Ted already asked someone to prepare some snacks and fruit. When he saw that the friend whom Nydia brought along was Gloria, Ted looked surprised, "Gloria?"

Gloria quickly nodded respectfully, "Good evening, Mr. Maguire."

In fact, when Gloria's father was the president of the board, she would come to the company to help her father with business affairs. So she had known many senior executives in the company.

It was not strange for the two of them to know each other.

Moreover, even if they hadn't known each other, Ted might have heard about Gloria since she was quite reputable then.

Ted stepped aside quickly, ushering them to come in. He looked at them and said with a smile,

"Come on in and have a seat."

Nydia giggled, "Uncle, did you miss me!"

"You!" Ted laughed and pretended to scold.

Then they sat on the sofa together, and Ted said directly, "Help yourself. These are the new fruits sent here. They taste very good. The cakes are made by our chef and they are delicious."

Nydia was totally unreserved. Sitting down, she began to pick up a round white cake, and put it into her mouth. Then she immediately said in surprise, "Oh my god, it is delicious!"

Ted smiled, and he looked at Gloria again, "Have some too, dear."

He quite sympathized with Gloria a little. Because he knew this child had had a hard time. If her father is still alive, she would not be in the situation she is in now.

Nydia handed Gloria a cake, "Try this!"

Gloria took it with a smile.

Ted looked at them with a smile, "So, tell me, what are you coming for today?"

Gloria's eyes flickered. She didn't hold it back. She took out the plan book directly from her bag, and handed it to Ted, "Mr. Maguire, please take a look at this first."

Ted took it with puzzlement. After reading a long paragraph, he obviously became quite shocked and looked more serious than just now. It didn't take long for him to finish all the contents.

Gloria and Nydia kept silent, trying not to disturb Ted.

Then he raised his head and looked at the two of them. He said solemnly, "Come, we will talk about this in my study."

With that, he rose from the sofa. Nydia's eyes sparkled with hope. She gave Gloria a look, expressing her happiness. Then she took Gloria's hand and followed Ted to the study.

Until Ted reached the study and closed the door, he said, "Please sit down..."

He went to the sofa and seated himself. With the plan in hand, he didn't express his opinions. Instead, he just looked at Gloria.

"Gloria, what are you trying to tell me by showing me this plan?"

The plan only recorded the potential process after cooperation with the Brown family. Every key point and possible future development was written clearly. But it didn't record the conditions of Jonathan or any others. So Ted did not know what Gloria was actually thinking about.

Gloria's eyes sparkled a little. But she didn't rush to respond to Ted's question. Instead, she asked Ted, "Mr. Maguire, how do you feel about this plan now?"

"It's very good." Ted praised her without hesitation.

Although Ted seemed like a very amiable person, he was quite hard to please in terms of work. He was especially picky about work. So it was very rare for him to praise someone by saying "very good".
