Chapter 461 Jonathan's Grudges

Gloria thought it was the hospital calling and immediately picked up the phone. But when she saw it was Jordy, she frowned and hung up without hesitation.

Jordy was ready to speak, but he didn't expect a mechanical female voice to come into his ear. 'Sony, the number you have dialed is busy_ Jordy's face darkened a few notches. He immediately called her again. But... She hung up on him again. He called again but found his phone number was blocked. "Gloria!" Jordy yelled through his gritted back teeth. He immediately called Harold. "Come here with your phone."

Confused though Harold looked, he went to Jordy's office immediately. Just after opening the door, Harold could feel Jordy's freezing aura all over the office. Feeling surprised and puzzled, Harold handed his phone to Jordy. Jordy took the phone to call Gloria again, but then he glanced at Harold and ordered in a deep voice, 'You need to leave.' Harold nodded and turned away, still confused. After Harold closed the door, Jordy dialed Gloria's number.

As expected, Gloria answered the phone. Jordy grew black as a thundercloud! Standing outside the door, Harold could feel the cold that seemed to emanate not from outside but from inside the office. 'Harold.' Gloria's voice sounded cold and clear. Jordy suddenly snorted. "Gloria, where did you get the tells to hang up on me over and over again?"

Gloria was a little shocked, not expecting it to be Jordy. She frowned and spoke in a deep voice. "What do you want from me?" "I warned you not to be with Jonathan and you listened_ but now you've got Bryson." There came a beeping sound. Jordy just finished his words and heard such an annoying sound. He blew up. Gloria hung up on him again! Suddenly there was a loud bang. The table was almost smashed into pieces by Jordy. Outside the door.

Harold was even more confused. The office was soundproof, so Harold didn't hear what Jordy had said on the phone but a loud crashing sound. What happened there? Gloria put down her phone and then blocked Harold's phone number. She considered Jordy a bit annoying, but Gloria didn't expect the phone to ring again. She was about to hang up when she realized it was Jonathan. She frowned slightly and hesitated for a moment to pick it up.

"What's up?" Jonathan's low voice came to her ears. "What are you doing?" Gloria dosed her eyes, pinched her brow, and said, 'I'm taking a rest.' 'Well you must be very tired. How about I bring you lunch at noon?' Gloria frowned slightly. "No, thanks. I had a late breakfast. I'm not hungry: "You can't skip lunch."

Jonathan's gentle voice was laced with firmness. Gloria didn't want him to come over at all so she said seriously. "Mr. Brown, I just want to rest" I feel bad because you're tired from taking care of another man' Gloria paused for a moment. He knew about this too. Jonathan sounded worried, but Gloria sensed a little bit of resentment in his tone. She didn't want to look deep into it but spoke calmly. "Mr. Brown. I need to rest I am too tired to entertain you."

Jonathan said calmly, 'I'll come to you at noon. By the way. give me akey to your house. and I'll add my fingerprint to the lock: Gloria didn't want to talk to him anymore. Without hesitation, she hung up the phone. She needed to rest! Before noon, there wasa knock on the door. Gloria was completely awake now. Anger clouded her face when she heard someone knock on the door! It was not Jonathan, but Jordy! Is he out of his mind? Gloria lay in bed and didn't want to get up. But Jordy knocked harder on the door! Gloria pulled back the covers and got up in a fury. She couldn't stand the earsplitting banging sound anymore. She gritted her teeth and opened the door, afraid that her neighbors would come and complain about her. The moment she saw Jordy she kicked hard at his crotch furiously! Jordy's face changed and he immediately dodged. Gloria looked at him coldly. If you dare to come to me again, believe it or not turn your company upside down!" Jordy's face was as gloomy as a thunderstorm. He walked in quickly despite Gloria's efforts to stop him, dosed the door behind him, and clasped her wrist with one hand his eyes ablaze with anger. "Gloria." Jordy said through gritted teeth *do I indulge you too much?" Gloria immediately retorted, 'You indulge me? Mat are youril Her voice was laden with heavy sarcasm. She sounded like she did not take him seriously. Stung by the harshness of her words. Jordy felt his heart stinging and breath ragged. Gloria wasn't like this before. She had been careful and gentle when talking to him. But when did she become so strong, mean, and aggressive? Jordy walked to the sofa and sat down, vying to contain himself. He didn't even change his shoes. Gloria looked at him and gritted her teeth. Forget it. I'll just mop the floor later. Jordy seemed to have calmed down right now. He kept his emotions tightly reined in with others around, but he easily lost his cool in front of Gloria. He couldn't figure out why. -I'm here for your project" Gloria said with a faint sneer. "Mr. Collins. you must be kidding." Is he here to talk to me? I am not the president of the company. I don't have the final say. Either Claude or Angela will be the first to go against me. Jordy raised his eyes to her face. His taut face gradually softened, and his cold, fathomless eyes stared into hers. Gloria stood in the living room looking at him coldly. I will not work with you. I was forced to do it in the first place. Now this plan requires a longer period of cooperation. Mr. Collins. are you sure you're gonna work with me for a few months and spend hundreds of billions of dollars on it?" Gloria said the last words with heavy irony, and her eyes flashed malevolently. Jordy's face instantly hardened. Gloria continued with sarcasm, 'Our relationship is awkward. Angela is your fiancée while I'm her cousin and your ex-wife: A faint sneer came across Gloria's face. "Mr. Collins. do you still want to repay the favor? Aren't you afraid that she will be disappointed?"

Chapter 463 His Breath Hitched

Jordy's fierce sharp gaze fell on her face and Gloria's cold eyes met his. Jordy pressed his lips together not wanting to get into a fight with Gloria. He closed his eyes and said to Gloria in a deep voice, You have to learn about the project's background. You work for the White Group. Which one you choose to work with will benefit your company the most the Collins Group or the Brown Group?' Gloria remained silent. Jordy added. In the eyes of businessmen, its all about making money. They don't care about anything else: Jordy seemed very patient. He implied that Gloria should think out of the box. To be a true businessperson she should put aside personal feelings and instead put her interests first_ Gloria's brow was knitted. The Collins Group or the Brown Group? It did make a difference whether she chose to work with the Collins Group or the Brown Group. She would make corresponding adjustments to the proposals for the two companies. If she put interests first, she would choose to work with the Collins Group because the deal would bring more benefits to the White Group. But on second thought. she turned to Jordy and said. "You shouldn't talk to me about this. Claude hasn't decided yet and he never wants me to be in charge. Mr. Collins. you're talking to the wrong person." Jordy frowned. Does she become estranged from the White family? With that Gloria covered her mouth and yawned. She looked tired. "Mr. Collins. I need some rest. Please leave now: Jordy kept banging on the door moments ago. Gloria decided to move out after Bryson woke up. Her tired face reminded Jordy of the man she had taken care of the night before. Jordy looked as if he was going to tear her apart and eat her alive with his fierce eyes. The next moment Gloria's phone rang. It was Angela's assistant Brenda. Gloria hung up with a frown and sent her a message on WhatsApp. The message read, "What did you find? I can't talk right now. Text me back on WhatsApp." Brenda texted her back "Miss White. I've found all the evidence that Angela faked a car accident that day. I'll send it to you now: Gloria texted her. "Thanks." Jordy looked at Gloria coldly. Who are you texting for It was like he caught his girlfriend cheating. As soon as he finished, Gloria's phone began buzzing. It was clear that someone was sending her messages. Gloria chuckled and looked up at Jordy. "Mr. Collins, let me tell you a secret. Hope you may not be surprised: Gloria saw Jordy scowl with a puzzled look on his face and thought of something. "You may not believe it even if there is compelling evidence. After all, you never look with your heart." "Gloria. what are you talking about?" Irritation glinted in Jordy's eyes. Gloria felt nothing and smiled at him. "Anyway. I'm gonna show you something." Gloria went to get her laptop in the master bedroom. After loading all the files into it. she went straight to Jordy and sat down beside him. Her scent suddenly reached Jordy's nostrils, and in that instant Jordy felt his breath hitch!

Fool Jordy stiffened and drew a deep breath. Apparently unaware of this, Gloria slid her slender finger over the trackpad to open an audio file.

"Angela? Why are you calling me at this hour? Jordy's not tack yet?" Jordy frowned slightly. It's Martha's voice. 'Mom...' Angela's voice broke. Martha asked worriedly, "What's going on?" Angela said in a sobbing voice. -.Portly is back." Martha smiled. "Its just a matter of time. my dear. It happened before marriage, but don't worry. Jordy will be responsible for you. This is good for you, silly girl. Why are you crying? What's he doing now? Are you talking to me in the bathroom?" At this point. Gloria could see Jordy's face turn even colder. She smiled faintly, 'Don't get mad. Let's go ahead.' Jordy pressed his lips together and didn't say a word. Later. Angela's frantic voice rang out again. 'No... that's not true: "If it's what you thought why should I be afraid? He came back but when he saw me. he just went away! Mom, he doesn't want to marry me at all!' Claude snapped. -What happened?' Angela said. "He told me to leave! He doesn't like me at all. He is not going to marry me! But he made his promise. What on earth is going on? Haven't he got over Gloria?" "Nonsense. He never liked her." Martha sighed helplessly, 'Angela. you got well too soon.' Hearing this Gloria raised her eyebrows. She turned her eyes to look at Jordy carefully. Jordy's frown deepened. Claude asked. "What do you mean?" Martha said. "Angela recovered too quickly, and I wasn't sure whether it was good for her. She was able to get up within a month_. Even if modern medicine was developing quickly. it still sounded unbelievable. You should have let him see how miserable you were when you were confined to bed.' The room seemed colder than an abyss filled with tons of ice. Gloria felt a chill run up her spine. There was too much information to process. What would happen if Jordy believed it? Gloria began to look forward to it Gloria said nothing with a half-smile on her lips. Claude asked, 'So what do we do now?' Martha said 'Angela. I'm gonna send a group of people over there. When they get there, you go out and pretend to look sad. By the way. call his mother five minutes before you go out. Say nothing but cry on the phone. okay?' Angela asked. "Mom. you meari_." "You're gonna have a relapse." Jordy's face was horribly pale with fury. while Gloria's smile broadened. "Mr. Collins, do you think this recording is fake or not?' Jordy looked at her coldly and didn't say a word. Gloria went on, "She pretended to have a relapse. You were like putty in her hands. Her whole family played you for a fool.' Gloria chuckled, "I find it feels sorry for you."

Chapter 465

Chapter 465 He's Like a fool Angela asked.

'Does it work? In that case. I'll see him less. What if he gets back together with Gloria...r 'We must do it in this way. He no longer feels guilty about what happened to you. The most important thing is to make him guilty. After all that's how you got him to divorce Gloria in the first place. Claude asked. 'What's your plan? How are you going to make her relapse!' Martha said. "I'm gonna send some punks over there. They'll make trouble. and some brave people will stand out like heroes. Angela, do you get it?' Angela took a deep breath. "Yeah, go get ready: "Call Olivia 20 minutes later and then get dressed and leave after another 5 minutes." Angela said. 'Okay. I got it" That was the end of the recording. Gloria was shocked. not expecting Brenda to find this. Gloria thought Angela had pulled a stunt but she didn't know what Jordy was thinking. She looked at him and saw his eyes turn colder and lips pressed together. He looked like he didn't want to say a word. Gloria smiled and thought it didn't matter. She had other evidence anyway. Then she clicked on a photo. and a high-definition image began to appear on the screen. A proud smile crept across her face. 'Look at these photos: Soon photos were flashed up on the screen one after another. and Jordy saw each one clearly. There were Angela's assistant Brenda and a few punks in the photos. One showed Brenda giving a punk a bank card. Brenda looked cold while the punk smiled ingratiatingly. Gloria said with a smile. "I'm not going to give you all the evidence. You can check to see if any of these punks were involved in an attack on Angela that day." Jordy's fists were clenched, and Gloria could hear his bones scraping each other. Gloria sneered. If he hadn't believed it. he wouldn't have been so mad. Surprisingly. it was such a coincidence today. She originally wanted Jordy to look into the case himself because she thought this would make Jordy even angrier when he found out the truth. But now, she did not think so. After all. he was like a fool. 'We've seen the photos. There is a video. Mr. Collins. take your time." Right after that Gloria clicked on a video. The video showed a man sitting in the corner of the cafe checking his phone with his head down. Not long after, a woman came up to him and sat down. Without saying anything, the woman handed him a bulging envelope. Gloria guessed that it must be filled with bills. Gloria couldn't hear what the woman said but saw the handsome man open the envelope and look inside.

Then he put the envelope in his bag. Their voices were not audible, but Gloria thought they had made a deal. The woman in the video was Martha's assistant And the man was the one who took Angela to the hospital that day. When the video finished, Gloria turned to Jordy and said with a half-smile. 'Would you like me to send all the evidence to Harold?'

Chapter 466 The Truth

After the divorce, Gloria deleted all Jordy's contact information but kept Harold's for future use. She was a fair person after all."

After Jordy checked the evidence, his face hardened, and his eyes were colder than ever.

Gloria, however, felt at ease and said smilingly, "Mr. Collins, are you happy that I let you know the truth?"

Without saying a word, Jordy got up and left.

Gloria looked at his red face and raised her eyebrows. She hadn't seen his cold gaze during three years of marriage.

She was a little surprised.

She was glad to see that Angela would have no good days ahead.

This was just the beginning.

Gloria would let Jordy know how Angela faked her vegetative state, and he would know he misplaced his trust in such an evil woman.

Gloria closed the laptop and replied to Brenda on WhatsApp.

Gloria said, "You did great."

Brenda replied, "Any orders? I'm just doing my job."

Brenda was itching to be free of Angela's control. She would go crazy if she suffered more at the hands of Angela!

Gloria said, "Continue your work. Send me anything unfavorable to her, and I'll check it over. Be careful."

Brenda replied, "Okay."

Jordy received a call from Harold not long after he got into the car.

Jordy answered the phone with a sullen face.

“Mr. Collins, Miss White just sent me something. I think you should see it.”

“I’ve already seen it. I need you to confirm the authenticity of the video.” Jordy’s voice was cold.

Harold paused for a moment and then said, “Yes, sir.”

Jordy’s eyes grew icy as he hung up the phone.

How could Gloria let anyone know where the video came from?

She kept it to herself.

Gloria had erased all information, so Jordy would never know how Brenda found the evidence.

All Jordy knew was the truth Gloria showed him.

Jordy started the engine, and the car sped off.

In the bedroom, Gloria was not the least bit sleepy.

She thought about it and decided to go to the hospital.

Otherwise, Jonathan would come to her at noon and disturb her.

Gloria got changed and headed out.

She texted Jonathan on WhatsApp before driving.

The message read, “Mr. Brown, don’t come at noon. I won’t be home.”

Then she drove away.

Soon she arrived and bought lunch for her friends.

It was time for them to get lunch, but they might not be in the mood to eat.

Nydia and Jennifer were a little surprised at the sight of Gloria.

Jennifer frowned slightly, “You were supposed to rest. Why are you here?”

“I couldn’t sleep. I might as well come and join you,” Gloria said, handing them the food.

“Have some. We’ve gotta keep our strength up to take care of him.”

Nydia took the food and sighed, “Okay, now we’re all in the hospital. Mr. Lloyd didn’t tell Mrs. Lloyd anything yet so she won’t worry. All we can do is take care of Bryson in case of another accident.”

“Alright,” Jennifer replied and took the food. Then they went to the next room to eat together.”

They tried to eat, but everything tasted like sawdust to them.

Jennifer began to cry while chewing the food. Nydia looked up and saw her tears dripping into her lunch box.

“Jennifer...”

Jennifer’s eyes flashed and she immediately turned her head away.

Gloria sighed. A wave of guilt swept through her.

Nydia said, "Jennifer, don't cry. We are not facing the worst situation. Bryson is in a coma, but I believe he will wake up. He is our lucky star. He makes all the problems go away every time."

When one was worried, he was afraid to hear words of comfort...

Jennifer put down her cutlery and cried into her hands.

"I'm so scared... Bryson is so young and has a promising future..."

Gloria cast her eyes down sadly, and for a moment, she didn't know what to say.

Nydia put down her cutlery, tears welling up in her eyes. "He's a lucky man. He'll be fine!"

Jennifer took out a tissue and wiped her eyes.

"I knew I was thinking too much..."

Jennifer's eyes rested upon Gloria. "Gloria, he likes you so much. Please try to wake him up at night. Just tell him you'll marry him when he wakes up, okay? Gloria, please..."

Gloria's heart lurched. How could she say anything cruel to make him give up on her at this point?

Bryson would only feel more depressed than ever.

Therefore, Gloria decided to lie to Bryson, but Jennifer...

Gloria's eyes flickered to Jennifer's. "Jennifer, you like him, don't you?"

Jennifer froze for a moment, pressed her lips together, and said nothing.

Her denial meant nothing now.

Jennifer acted like she didn't care about him before, but now she couldn't do it anymore because

Bryson was in a coma.

Gloria's eyes flashed and she looked back at Jennifer.

She sensed yesterday that Bryson wasn't just a friend to Jennifer.

Gloria sighed, "When he wakes up, tell him your true feelings. Otherwise, he'll never know. You've kept it to yourself for too long."

Jennifer smiled wryly, "He likes you and would like to do anything for you. What's the point of telling him my true feelings? I'll only embarrass myself..."

Jennifer looked down and felt too upset to talk. When she realized she had said something wrong, she quickly looked up at Gloria. "Gloria, I didn't mean to blame you. I was talking about Bryson and me. He likes you and he just can't help it, just like the way I like him."

Gloria nodded and looked at her earnestly. "I know. It's just... I'm a divorced woman. I have no hope of entering a new relationship, and I'll never be with Bryson. You get it?"

Jennifer was stunned and looked up at Gloria. "Bryson never cares about your past. If you're with him, he may think he's the luckiest man in the world. Are you sure you won't give him a chance?"

Gloria shook her head, I won't be with him."

Jonathan is messing with me, and Jordy ruffles my feathers a bit too often.">"

Dating him can only get him into trouble.

"He's like a brother to me, Gloria added in a slow voice. She said something similar to Bryson that day and that broke his heart.

Nydia parted her lips and felt like speaking but stopped since she wasn't in a position to remark.

Both Gloria and Jennifer were her besties. Both of them had some kind of entanglement with Bryson... It was difficult for her to get in the middle of something so complicated, and she didn't know who she should encourage

Jennifer drew a deep breath, "If he can pass the crisis and pull through, I'll confess my love to him, though he'll definitely dismiss me."

Nydia pursed her lips and kept silent. Facing her two besties, she felt Bryson and Gloria were the perfect match from her inner heart. Maybe preconceived ideas kept a stronghold.

Gloria nodded, "Okay."

Silence fell again. Jennifer wiped her tears without any intention to say more.

Gloria's phone vibrated suddenly and she picked it up.

Jonathan, "Blow me off?"

Gloria, "Did you go to my house?"

Jonathan, "I'm downstairs in the hospital."

Gloria was speechless.

Jonathan is keeping showing his face to me.

Her phone rang and Gloria hung up the phone hurriedly.

She sent a message.

Gloria, "I'm not available now, Mr. Brown, and I don't get much spare time these days.

Could we talk about business later?

Jonathan, "Gloria, are you sure you won't come down? I'll go up in a minute."

Gloria was at a loss.

She took a deep breath, looked at Jennifer and Nydia, and said in resignation, "Excuse me for a minute. I'll come back soon."

Jennifer and Nydia nodded without any objections.

Then Gloria headed out of the door.

Only they were left in the room.

Nydia gazed at Jennifer confusedly, "Jennifer, when did you fall for Bryson?"

Jennifer's expression froze, and the next moment she smiled awkwardly, "That might be a funny joke to you. I've liked him for ten years."

Nydia's eyes widened immediately and she couldn't refrain from exclaiming, "Ten years!"

Jennifer forced a smile and said with self-deprecating humor, "I'm rather good at hiding, aren't I?"

Nydia opened her mouth but no sound came out. Pausing for moments, she shook her head and drew a deep breath, "You keep it so well that I did not tell it at all."

Jennifer turned down the corners of her mouth and didn't speak.

Nydia sighed and said, "Gloria is right. Since you like him, you should confess your feelings to him. Anyway, you should strive for your own happiness. Gloria has no feelings for Bryson, so they can't be together happily even though you're willing to give up Bryson."

Nydia had worked this out, so she wouldn't try to persuade Gloria or Bryson anymore.

Jennifer's eyelashes trembled and she didn't say anything.

Silence fell again.

Gloria went downstairs and saw the tall man standing at the hospital entrance.

He seemed to sense Gloria's gaze, turned his head, and looked at her peaceful face with his lips curving into a smile.

"Gloria." His gentle voice was like a breeze that blew.

Chapter 469

Chapter 469 You and Jonathan

Gloria watched him, "What..."

She wanted to ask him why he came here.

But words failed her."

She knew very well he was wooing her.

He was trying all means to pursue her. No need to ask since she already knew the answer.

Jonathan curled his lips, "I'm worried you'll get tired from looking after him, so I'm here to keep you company."

"No, thanks!" Gloria refused him without a second thought.

Bryson could not stand being provoked and she was afraid that Jonathan's presence would make Bryson feel worse.

Gloria stared at Jonathan and spoke, "I'll stay in the hospital for days to come, and I hope you can keep a distance from me in this period."

Jonathan narrowed his eyes, "You care a lot about him?"

“He’s my family.”

Gloria emphasized these words to let Jonathan understand how important Bryson was to her.

Jonathan let out a chuckle when he heard her words.

“You take him as a family, not a lover?”

Gloria frowned and looked at Jonathan with displeasure.

Jonathan was in a noticeably better mood. Then he said, smiling, “I’m here to give you something, and I won’t bother you over the next couple of days. But if you can’t take good care of yourself, I won’t show mercy for the man you care about. After all...”

With that, he leaned forward and Gloria’s face changed. Before she could step back, Jonathan’s crisp and slow voice came to her ears.

“You’re the only person I care about.”

Gloria’s eyelashes quivered as she took a step back. Watching the file bag that Jonathan shoved into her hand, she held it and said with a peaceful expression, “I see. Mr. Brown, please leave.”

Jonathan glanced thoughtfully at the file bag in her hand and smiled, “OK”

Without thinking much, Gloria shot a glance at Jonathan, didn’t say another word, and turned around to walk inside.

She got into the elevator, wondering what documents he handed to her. After all, the project hadn’t launched yet. Had he perfected it? The file bag was quite heavy and thick.

With this thought, Gloria made her way back to the room where they had meals before.

Jennifer and Nydia said nothing when seeing Gloria enter the room.

Nydia, who was talkative in normal times, was in no mood to chatter and slumped in the seat despondingly.

They took heed of the file bag in Gloria’s hand but neither of them asked about it.

Gloria opened the file bag slowly and got startled to find that inside were no documents. Inside was an exquisite envelope that girls fancied.

But she was a divorced woman, and she had lost romantic feelings for a long time.

Jonathan knew it well. Why give her such stuff?

Gloria lost interest in opening the envelope. She closed the file bag, sat in the chair, and took out the phone.

Despite her lack of interest, Nydia felt a really bad vibe and made a conversation. She watched Gloria and asked, “Gloria, what were you looking at? It looked like an envelope.”

Gloria’s eyes flickered, “No idea.”

Evidently, she didn’t want to talk about it.

Jennifer looked up at Gloria with a bitter smile on her lips, “Mr. Brown is really nice to you.”

Gloria stared up at Jennifer and a hint of confusion flashed across her eyes.

Nydia said quietly, “We stood by the window for a while just now and happened to see you and Jonathan standing together.”

Chapter 470 A Perfect Match

Gloria nodded, "He gets near me with a motive to use me."

Nydia was suspicious, "I don't think so."

He has such a high status and things are easy as long as he doesn't turn against you. Does he have any reason to try so hard to please you?"

Jennifer nodded, "I agree. He's a top predator. How could he have been so nice to you if he hadn't fallen for you?"

Gloria turned down the corners of her mouth, stared at them, and said helplessly, "I'm a divorced woman and the ex-wife of his nemesis. With a high ranking, he won't love me in any case."

He would lose to Jordy in a way if he took the woman that Jordy discarded.

Gloria never believed that Jonathan had feelings for her.

He got near her since she had some use for him.

"Come on, look what he has for you."

Knowing that they wanted to distract themselves from frustration and enliven the atmosphere, Gloria took out the envelope.

"It's so exquisite and seems to bulge. What's in there?" Nydia was curious, "But, it's really large."

The envelope was way larger than A4 paper. It was also thick and heavy.

"Open it." Jennifer pretended to be curious at that moment.

Gloria knew that they were forcing themselves to look calm.

She paused and finally opened it.

Stuff inside the envelope came into view.

The three of them were stunned slightly.

Nydia was surprised, "Is it a photo album?"

Its cover was light blue, perhaps because Jonathan knew Gloria preferred that color.

The cover was a very beautiful scenery picture, which displayed the back of a woman in a light blue dress.

Nydia was astonished, "So beautiful! Gloria, that's you, right?"

Gloria set her lips in a grim line.

"Open it," Jennifer urged.

Gloria had to open it.

In the first photo, Gloria was sitting on the sofa and looking stunning and peerless.

She was pure and elegant in the dress. People could not take their eyes from her once they saw her.

The second one showed the same scene.

But the background was the party she and Jonathan attended. The photo was obviously processed.

A lot of people were around them.

"Jonathan seriously treats you with his true heart... Gloria, why not consider marrying him?" Nydia looked like having a crush.

"No."

She continued to flip through the album.

Gloria frowned when she saw a photo in which Jonathan tilted his head and looked at her with affections.

Nydia watched closely the photo and said, "Gloria, you two look like a perfect match when standing together."

Jennifer echoed, "A handsome man and a pretty woman are always an ideal couple. You also thought Gloria and Jordy were a perfect match before."

Gloria's eyes flashed and she lost interest in looking at the photos.

Nydia actively turned the photos.

One after another beautiful photos of Gloria were shown and some photos were about Jonathan.

Gloria knitted her browstightly. When did Jonathan have those photos taken?

Nydia was a little surprised when she turned to the last photo, "Hey, he wrote a few words for you."
