Chapter 551

Chapter 551 Put It in Crisis

Gloria got startled, shower gel foam all over her body.

Holding the phone with excitement, Nydia was about to get straight to the point, but she stopped when seeing Gloria's alluring body.

As a woman, she couldn't help but swallow and verbally flirt with Gloria, "Gloria, you seem to turn me into a lesbian."

Gloria was speechless.

She snapped, "off you go, I'll be done soon." Nydia looked her up and down and finally spoke, "Be quick.

I got some big news!" Gloria was lost for words.

She could tell Nydia did have some big news from her excited look, or she wouldn't have barged into the bathroom.

Only the two were in the house, so Gloria didn't lock the bathroom door.

This rash girl...

After a while, Nydia's anxious voice came from outside.

"Gloria, are you done? Can you be quicker?" When Gloria dried her hair with the towel, she heard Nydia's anxious crying.

She could only open the door, "What made you so excited?"

Nydia rushed to her and exclaimed, "An official news from the Collins family!" Gloria froze for a moment and curved her lips into a smile slowly, "Break off the engagement?" "Yep! You're right! The Collins family apologized for making a misunderstanding and bringing inconvenience to the public.

They also canceled the cooperation with the White family and made some compensation.

Though they declared that they still had a good relationship with the White family, actually, all they did was cut ties with the White family!"

Gloria was a bit surprised, "The cooperation was canceled?" Nydia nodded in confusion, "Yep, I got a start when I read it.

After all, White Group is a leading one in this industry.

Collins Group will suffer a great loss from the cancellation, right?"

"It won't."

"Huh?" Nydia was bewildered, and asked Gloria who was composed, "Why not?"

When Collins Group got engaged in this business field, it publicized its partnership with White Group and gained a large share of profits from it!" Gloria answered calmly, "The Collins are sensible.

They must have found another partner and they won't suffer a loss even if they have to pay White Group a penalty.

Also..." Nydia blinked as she thought it made sense and waited for Gloria to speak more.

But Gloria stopped talking further about it and asked instead, "How's it going with White Group?"

"It makes no response.

So weird.

What did you want to say just now?" Gloria turned down the corner of her lips, "The Whites try all means to stop Collins Group from canceling the cooperation.

Though humiliated by the Collins Group, they have to continue to work with it by all means for the sake of profits.

To my surprise, the Whites didn't do anything but the Collins family announced the news.

What do you think of it?" "Well, you're right! The Collins proposed it because they found a better choice!"

"Or they may have started up a company." Gloria sneered, "Their cooperation has been as further as it could, allowing enough time for the Collins to start their own company.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 552

Chapter 552 What If she Takes the Phone!

Gloria looked composed and said calmly, "It's not bad. If I takeover White Group, I will cut Collins Group loose.

Now they get it over with and save me a lot of trouble."

Nvdia parted her lips and withheld hier words.

Since she felt Gloria's words reasonable, she nodded approvingly.

"I really expect the White family's reaction!" Gloria smiled, "If I weren't injured, I would visit her in the hospital and give her some words of consolation."

"Hah...

Couldn't agree more.

I'll go with you.

Maybe we'll be the death of her! Then we don't have to think about how to deal with her!"

Gloria squinted.

She didn't want Angela to die easily.

To avenge herself, she would never let them die so easily.

She would give them stiff punishments and make them suffer for the rest of their lives.

In the hospital.

Claude and Martha were staying by Angela's side.

Claude's phone rang.

He glanced at the other two and huffed, "It's a call from the company.

I gotta answer it." Then, he got up and walked out.

Neither Martha nor Angela replied to him.

Seeing Angela leaning against the bed in frustration, Martha persuaded, "Angela, based on your current condition, I'm afraid you have to stay here for more than one month.

You should get back on your feet so that you can be discharged as soon as possible." Angela squeezed in a line, her eyelashes trembling, "He hasn't called me until now." Martha was distressed for her daughter.

She has to call the Collins family and carry out her plan as soon as possible.

But...

She was yanked out of her head when the door was suddenly pushed open.

The two looked over and saw Claude's gloomier face.

Claude said to Martha in an undertone, "Come out with me and have your assistant do something for me."

Martha looked at him in puzzlement, "My assistant? What do you want to do?" While speaking, she rose to her feet, stared at Angela, and said gently, "Excuse me for a while.

I'll come back soon." In low spirits, Angela didn't reply.

Martha could only sigh and walk out.

As soon as the door was closed, Claude grabbed Martha by the hand and said lowly, "Be quiet.

Come with me." Noticing his sullener expression, Martha felt something went wrong,

Very soon, they got into an empty room.

Then Claude passed his phone to Martha, "Have a good look!"

Martha changed color when seeing the news title.

"Damn it! How could they do that! Are they crazy?" "The point is what should we do now! What if Angela reads the news!"

"Oh my!" Martha exclaimed.

She rushed out, worried that Angela would read it, instead of thinking out a solution.

Claude caught up with her.

Martha huffed, "Why don't you take away Angela's phone just now? She's alone now! What if she takes the phone and reads it!"

Claude's face changed slightly, "I didn't think that much into it.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 553

Chapter 553 The Envy of the World

"What's the point of deleting it when it's known to all? Let's put it aside.

Go to see Angela first!" With that, she walked faster.

But...

As soon as the ward door was pushed open, they found Angela looking at the phone with blanched cheeks.

Martha and Claude changed color.

As tears streamed down Angela's cheeks, she turned to look at her parents with a wry smile, "So, all that is my illusion.

I am not wrong about it." Martha felt distressed for Angela, strode over, and said anxiously, "Angela, don't overthink it.

It was that old Joseph Collins went back on his word.

I don't allow the Collins to break off the engagement between you and Jordy! I won't allow it to happen!" Angela sneered, "It's not up to you.

They've prepared a penalty.

There's no room for discussion..." She was very peaceful now, without feeling exasperated or panicked, like a fragile porcelain doll that would be shattered anytime.

"Angela, cheer up!" Worried about his daughter, Claude walked over.

Teardrops rolled down as she said miserably, "Cheering up or not makes no difference.

Why should I force myself? Dad, Mom, no need to comfort me.

I know I'm gonna lose him forever." An excellent man like Jordy should have gotten engaged to her...

But now, they ended up being strangers to each other.

Also, she became the laughing stock of the world and received severe criticism.

She should be the envy of the world, but now she was abandoned by Jordy.

She had a breakdown all of a sudden.

"Ah -"

Her screaming scared Claude and Martha.

Martha rushed to her and grabbed her hand that covered her cheeks.

"Angela, calm down! I got a way!" Angela froze for a moment, then buried her head in her arms that were around her knees.

"Save your words.

I won't believe it anymore.

You said the same thing to me so many times, but you never made it.

Now I end up like this.

I've accepted the reality.

That's it." Angela's voice and breaths were weak She was complaining about her mom after being disappointed thoroughly.

Martha was guilty and helpless.

She wished her daughter could marry Jordy.

She had planned a lot to achieve it, but she failed in the blink of an eye.

Martha gnashed her teeth, "Since they don't consider our feelings when making such a decision, we don't have to show any respect to them.

I'm going to see Olivia now!" Angela seemed in a trance, in no mood to utter anything else.

She was pained.

She felt her heart hurt.

She felt her universe fall apart.

She had gone to great lengths to get Jordy over these years.

She got hospitalized for two years for his sake.

But now...

She wrapped up losing everything.

She was put back where she started, all her efforts were in vain and all her hopes were shattered.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 554

Chapter 554 Complaints

They made her daughter so miserable, so she would not let any of them off the hooks.

Then, she walked out rapidly.

Claude grabbed her arm, "Didn't you say you had a way! And that day you told me..."

"It could work out if they hadn't announced the news.

Stay here to watch over our daughter.

I'll go to them for an explanation!" Claude pulled a wry face.

He didn't intend to stop Martha as the Collins pushed them too far this time and made them swallow a lot of bitter fruit.

He couldn't stand it anymore.

Meanwhile, he received so many calls that he turned off the phone in agitation.

Martha fixed her gaze on Gloria, her eyes filled with worry, "Angela, I gotta go there.

Wait for my good news here!" Angela didn't bother to glance at Martha or talk to her but sat there dazedly.

She stayed silent, weeping.

Martha trembled with distress.

She will never let it slide.

She will let the Collins family pay a heavy price, definitely!

At the same time.

The news made by the Collins shocked the whole country, as Collins Group was a big business that, the object of public attention.

It stirred up a heated discussion on Twitter and many people posted their remarks on it.

The computer programmers of Twitter had to spend more time on the maintenance of servers in case Twitter's servers crashed.

They complained about it and wished the heat could be off as soon as possible.

Martha arrived at the gate of the Collins'.

She didn't call to inform them in advance but came here directly.

Then she rang the doorbell.

Noticing it was Martha, the housekeeper reported it immediately.

Looking at Joseph's and Olivia's awful looks, Karen scowled, "Why not let her in? You two wanted a business marriage with the Whites and gave them hope, but now you avoid them like crazy.

It's understandable that they bear a grudge.

Let her in.

We should have a good talk with her." Olivia scowled, "They lied to us.

We've shown enough mercy to them and paid a large sum of penalty.

But they don't let it slide and keep troubling us." Karen said with a serene look, "Just let them in.

It's hard for them to accept reality for the time being.

We need to talk sense into them." Olivia sighed without a word.

Joseph said lightly, "Let her in." The housekeeper allowed her in.

Then a sullen face came into their sight.

Joseph smiled at Martha and gestured to her to get in, "Please come in."

Martha didn't say anything but strode inside.

Seeing the three sat on the sofa in the living room staring up at her, Martha flew into a rage.

She took a deep breath to repress her anger, staring at them and saying coldly, "Don't you feel ashamed of breaking your promise?" Olivia knitted her brows.

Martha appeared very nice and treated her kindly as if they were a family.

But now, her questioning tone was so unpleasant.

The next second, she said deeply, "Your family and my family have leaked something about it before.

Couldn't we announce the news to confirm it? We've made an apology for it very humbly.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 555

Chapter 555 Don't Underestimate Me

Martha laughed angrily. She bellowed, "What on earth do I want? Aren't you clear about what you've done? You went back on your word and made the White family become a laughing stock!" Martha cried so loudly that her breaths become uneven and her blushing face showed that she was very agitated.

Karen looked at her, "Go on." Martha couldn't refrain from sneering, then said sarcastically.

"You offered to break off the engagement to make everyone misunderstand something went wrong with the White family.

You got away with the criticism and even benefited from it as you might have found a better partner or started up your own company.

You just kicked us out with this excuse!" Olivia's face turned sullen.

She opened her mouth to retort but was stopped by Karen's eye signal.

Then, Martha's angry voice rang again.

"Those who hold a grudge against the White family should laugh at us because of what you did! Even ordinary people believe that the White family made a mistake that caused the Collins family to break off the engagement.

Are you justified in your actions against us? Aren't you afraid of being punished in the end!"

Olivia could no longer hold back her anger.

She sneered, "Why didn't know you were so eloquent to reverse right and wrong? You lied to us first.

We didn't expose your lies to the public but solved it in this way.

We did nothing wrong, okay?" As a senior Joseph kept silent with a long face.

Karen sighed, saying, "It cannot be undone.

To not bring any shame on both families, we've done as much as we could.

And you should better leave." Her voice was gentle and one could sense her concern for Martha.

However...

Martha just felt Karen was sarcastic with her, so she shouted, "I know you fancy Gloria! But you know what? That slutty woman is flirting with a lot of guys while my daughter loves Jordy with her soul and heart.

But all you did was hurt my daughter!" Martha snapped at them but said nothing about her lies.

Karen's calm look changed into a cold one.

Even her eyes turned gloomy.

"Mind your words.

I tried to comfort you just now because I know you're sad.

But if you get Gloria involved, I suppose you should think whether you can stand the racket!"

It was evidently a warning.

But Martha didn't take it seriously and only said coldly, "I hope you can redecide it, or I wouldn't mind dragging you in with us!"

"Dragging us in?" Old Joseph Collins suddenly spoke in a deep voice, "What are you planning to do? Have you ever considered what consequences the White family has to bear once you do offend us?" Martha gnashed her teeth, "The White family is rather rich and powerful, so it can't be left to your devices! Besides, in a law-based society, everyone is obliged to act in obedience to the law.

You can't do whatever you want.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 556

Remarriage Never And Go Away chapter 556

Chapter 556 Dead or Alive She said the last few words very loudly.

She seemed to have made up her mind.

Joseph laughed helplessly in anger again.

"Martha, we don't have to do it, but don't push US.

Think twice if you really want to fight US.

If you say yes, don't blame US for being ruthless!" "You..."

Martha was shaking with anger.

"Do you have any conscience? Before, my daughter was not very healthy, but you still broke the engagement shamelessly.

My daughter almost didn't wake up! She was badly irritated, and she has mental problems now.

You made my daughter like this! She even tried to kill herself! if my daughter dies, I won't let you go!"

Martha voiced all her anger out loud as if threatening them.

However, the Collins family didn't believe it.

The White family was always lying, so now no one would believe their "cry wolf".

It was all their fault!

Olivia sneered.

"Get out of here now.

You're not welcome!" "Very good!" Knowing that they wouldn't change their mind, she took a deep breath while gritting her teeth.

"Wait and see!" After speaking, Martha left angrily! On the way, she texted Claude

Martha, (How is my daughter?)

Claude,(She sits on the bed, eating nothing and ignoring me) Martha, I will definitely take revenge on the Collins family! All of them!] Claude, (Are you crazy! Do you know how powerful the Collins family is? I After sending the message, he didn't want to keep typing and called Martha.

Martha told him what had just happened.

Claude, who had calmed down a little, was angry again and gritted his teeth.

"Did they really say that?" "Of course! Do you know why I went to the Collins family? Do you really think I'm crazy?" "Don't you care about Angela?" "Yes, I do! But I won't be so stupid that I'll try to fight such a strong family.

After the Collins family did this, the White family became a laughing stock.

If we don't refute this time, everyone will regard the White family as a pushover and try to bully us!"

Claude didn't speak with a gloomy expression on his face.

He knew Martha was right.

Everyone might look down on the White family, which would affect their cooperation and cause huge losses to the White family.

"So what are you going to do?" "Since the Collins family is ungrateful, I'll make everyone know it! They need to know that the White family is also powerful.

Even the Collins family can't do anything to us!" "You mean..." "I'll tell everyone Angela is a vegetable!" Claude frowned.

"But the hospital is ours.

At that time..."

Martha snorted.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 557

Remarriage Never And Go Away chapter 557

Chapter 557 Crashed Again Claude was silent for a while, feeling that something was wrong, but other than that, they couldn't seem to do anything When he thought of this, his phone rang again.

He was very irritable.

"When will you come back?" "Twenty minutes later." "Be quick I'm asking someone to stay with Angela.

The phone calls are killing me, but I'm going to a company meeting" "Okay.

You need to show up after it happened.

I'll be there soon.

Let them be careful." "Okay." After speaking, Claude hung up the phone.

An hour later.

In the White Group meeting room.

The executives sat in their chairs with gloomy expressions.

Claude rubbed his forehead with his hand but said nothing

Ted looked at everyone and said flatly.

"Now that it happened, we can't blame anyone.

Now, what do you guys think? You can say it, and then we'll discuss it together."

Yvonne frowned.

"Collins Group is clearly well prepared.

Even suing for peace may not be useful, so we have to find the next collaborators soon as possible to resume operations." Howard was displeased.

"But based on the current situation, only the Collins family can best benefit US.

The Brown Group is not in this area.

The Roberts family, the newcomer, doesn't focus on this, so we can't work with them.

Also, their main operation isn't here, so we might need to do it by ourselves." "By ourselves?" Claude disagreed.

"It will cost a lot of money.

We don't have enough helpers, so it's difficult to promote.

Also, Collins Group is well prepared, so their partners will definitely not give up on it.

However, if we look for new partners, we wouldn't be able to run the company properly for half a year.

This is likely to result in a drop in share price and bankruptcy.”

For a moment, everyone was silent again.

Ted turned to be thinking if Gloria were here, what would she do?

And what if Gloria’s father were here?

After thinking about it for a while, Ted tried to understand something if Gloria’s father was here, he would definitely need a partner to sell, which wouldn’t take him long a year.

His ability is unparalleled. After Claude took over the company.

He just wanted to make money comfortably and never thought about how to solve a certain problem.

This led to a deal for the White Group after being betrayed by the Collins Group.

Everyone was so united in discussing how to solve these problems because no one knew why the cooperation was canceled.

If they knew, they wouldn’t be so united.

Everyone was still discussing, but they didn’t have a good plan.

Claude didn’t dare to make a decision this time and kept hesitating.

However, just as they were discussing, there was another storm on social media.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 558

Remarriage Never And Go Away chapter 558

Chapter 558 Disowned Nydia turned on her phone after doing the dishes and found the big news!

"Gloria! Come here! Shocking news from your aunt! I want to see how they end!" She shouted excitedly with indescribable anticipation in her eyes.

Gloria picked up her phone and opened Twitter.

The top feeds were all about Martha.

She clicked on one of the posts.

Then, Gloria saw Martha's righteous words.

[Hello everyone.

I am Martha, wife of the chairman of the White Group and mother of the victim Angela.

I will tell you the real story.

A few years ago, my daughter went into a vegetative state to save the president of the Collins Group.

Knowing about it, the Collins family was overwhelmed with gratitude and claimed that they would definitely repay the debt.

Later, Jordy planned to repay US by marrying my daughter after breaking up with my niece Gloria.

At the time, my daughter thought it would hurt her sister, so she rejected him many times, even though she loved Jordy much.

But Jordy and my niece had broken up and wouldn't get back together.

The Collins family persuaded her many times, and finally, my daughter agreed.

However, right before the engagement, the Collins family broke off the engagement and said we were liars.

You can deny the fact, but the White family has become a laughing stock so that everyone thinks it's the White family's fault.

Both of us are big families.

What Collins Group did have caused US a great loss, so we will not forget about it.] After reading, Nydia continued to look at the image below and gloated, "Look Martha also uploaded some pictures of Angela being seriously ill.

These are proof." Gloria raised her eyebrows with a calm expression.

"Martha may be in a fit of rage this time, but she won't be so stupid.

She may have other plans." Nydia was surprised and couldn't help asking Gloria.

"She said this out of anger, didn't she? After all, the White family can't match the Collins family.

If they fight each other, the White family will definitely lose.

It wouldn't benefit the White family if she did so.

Ard, Your uncle has been running the company over the years, but the company's operations have been regressing."

When saying this, Nydia even felt a little pity.

Gloria smiled.

"Not that simple."

"Wat" Nydla was suddenly curious.

"What will they do next? what is their purpose? Do you already know? Tell me

Nydla was an impatient girl and is interested in a lot of gossips, Gloria started the topic, so Nydia would have a hard time if she failed to figure it out.

Gloria just smiled.

"Martha did this so that she could continue to work with the Collins family to force Jordy to marry Angela..... But they're at odds now.

Even if Jordy and the Collins family agree, Angela won't be welcome in the Collins family." Nydia had a confused and disapproving look.

She didn't know why the White family would do this.

Besides, the White family lied, so it made sense for the Collins family to do so.

There was irony in Gloria's eyes.

"In their eyes, power and money are the most important things.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 559

Remarriage Never And Go Away chapter 559

Chapter 559 Gloria, I Miss You Nydia suddenly looked at Gloria with distress, and her expression changed slightly. Gloria smiled. "Don't worry about me.

I know what to do.

I'll avenge my father, but I've come to terms with it, so I won't be what I used to be because of this."

Looking at Gloria, Nydia knew she really wouldn't.

She nodded, not worried.

"Okay.

We'll always stand behind you!" The "we" included Bryson and Jennifer

Gloria smiled and grabbed her hand.

"I know.

You've always been my best friend." "Next, do we just have to watch them fight? It's been done, so the Collins family won't work with the White family anymore.

Are you really not going to do something

"No.

But about this collaboration..."

Gloria blinked.

It seemed like she really couldn't work with Jonathan after something like this happened all of a sudden

What the Collins family had done was just the beginning "What's wrong?" Nydia was worried.

Gloria smiled and shook her head.

"Nothing Lately, we just have to watch it.

By the way.

I'm almost healed, so let's go to Bryson." "But you..."

"I can even take a shower recently, so don't worry."

"I'm afraid the White family will still..." "Now they can't even protect themselves, so they don't have time for me.

Let's go." She was indeed much better than before, and her recovery ability was superior to that of others.

After a moment of hesitation, Nydia nodded, "Okay, But don't be there too long.

We need to get back soon.

Just tell him we just got back from a business trip and are tired."

Gloria smiled.

"No problem." During this time, she had been messaging Bryson and occasionally video chatting with him, but after chatting for a while, she always try to find some excuses to stop.

If chatting for too long, Bryson would definitely think too much, which would affect his recovery.

Then, the two went to the hospital together.

At this moment, Jennifer was with Bryson.

Seeing Gloria and Nydia, she was shocked and then surprised the next moment.

"Finally, you are here!"

Bryson was also shocked.

After Jennifer's words brought him back to his senses, he looked at Gloria tenderly with an unconscious smile.

"I didn't expect you to come today.

Why didn't you notify me in advance?" "Surprise!" Nydia said happily, "Are you excited?" "Of course!" Jennifer was worried.

Bryson had been getting more and more sensitive lately.

She was afraid that Bryson would know something Bryson didn't ask Jennifer too much, and she couldn't explain anything for no reason.

It would only make him more suspicious.

They were here now, which made her finally breathe a sigh of relief.

Bryson reached out.

Gloria was taken aback but eventually walked over and took his hand.

"Gloria, I miss you." Even with Jennifer and Nydia there, Bryson couldn't help but say it softly.

Gloria smiled with her eyelashes quivering.

"Me too."

Bryson was still smiling.

Jennifer knew that today was the happiest day for him.

She lowered her head slightly to hide her unease.

Remarriage Never And Go Away

Chapter 560

Remarriage Never And Go Away chapter 560

Chapter 560 Greatly changed Expression "Gloria is your girlfriend, but I'm your childhood sweetheart, right? We grew up together! Why do you only care about her? After Gloria became your girlfriend, you started ignoring me? Before, you could pretend to care about me, but now you don't even do it! Do you think you're doing it right?" Jennifer laughed immediately, as did Gloria.

Bryson coughed lightly and smiled helplessly.

"You always surprise me." "Looks like you don't miss me! Did you know that we worked overtime last night and stayed up all night? Did you know that we came to you immediately after we got off the plane? Well, let's break up!" Jennifer blinked, surprised at Nydia's words! If she said so, they could leave here soon after.

Bryson got her meaning and looked at them in surprise.

"How long have you been working?" Gloria smiled and shook her head.

But before she could say anything, Nydia said disappointedly, "We've been so busy lately that we couldn't eat or sleep well! However, you only care about Gloria.

So ruthless!"

Bryson said quickly, "Okay.

It's my fault.

I'll treat you when I'm healed." "I know you're not short of money, so think twice about how to treat US.

Otherwise, I'll be angry! You can't treat US differently just because Gloria is your girlfriend!" Anticipating that Gloria would be embarrassed and knowing they weren't really lovers, Nydia said that.

Otherwise,

others would think too much.

Bryson was a man, so he wouldn't think too much about it.

After all, he wouldn't be so jealous in front of everyone.

Bryson looked at Gloria and Nydia.

"Just go back and rest.

Now that you are back, we can see each other often in the future."

Gloria smiled.

"We slept for a while on the plane, so we can't sleep now and will rest at night.

How are you feeling now?" With that, Gloria sat down beside Bryson and took her hand back, feigning inadvertent.

Bryson smiled.

"I'm almost healed and will be out of the hospital soon.

This place is suffocating me and Jennifer."

Jeunder smiled.

"It's fine with me." Nydia froze, sat next to Gloria, and couldn't help saying to Bryson, "You're a noble man now! None of us dare to mess with you.

Even if you give me a few punches now, I wouldn't dare to fight back"

Bryson burst out laughing, "I don't believe it."

They were sitting happily, but Bryson kept staring at Gloria, which made Jennifer and Nydia a little embarrassed. Theresa went for Gloria as I was thinking of volunthwy, Jennifer asked Gloria, "Recently, there's been news about the Collins family and the White tamndy everywhere, so what are you going to do?" Bryson also regained his senses and said unmediately.

"If this goes on like this, the White family will make the company continue to decline" Gloria smiled.

"It won't be like that.

They're well prepared, but finally, they will suffer." She had already guessed what these people were thinking.

"Then what are you going to do?" Bryson stared at her.

Gloria shook her head, "Do nothing but watch it for now."

"I also love watching people fight and want to see the Collins family's counter-attack!" "Me too." Jennifer picked up her phone.

Bryson was also watching this because it involved the White Group, which Gloria was going to retake in the future.

So, he also took out his cell phone.
