

Emilio was relatively unfamiliar with Sasha Johnstone, but he saw a name that made his eyes shine from the information they exchanged – Hazel.

Hazel is the daughter of Elliot and Avery.

The two of them went to Yonroeville to find Hazel before, so they were designed by Norah and almost died tragically in the suburbs of a foreign country!

After Emilio read the information of Norah and Sasha several times, he probably guessed Sasha's identity.

He was ecstatic when he got a treasure.

The first thought that popped into his mind was that if he told his father about it, he would be very happy.

After the idea came to him, he felt sad!

He clearly hated his father, and wanted to kill his father himself, so that no one would call him incompetent, and no one would use the Jones family property to force him to be obedient.

But why did he think of pleasing his father for the first time after he got such an important clue?

He can tell Avery this clue. If he wants benefits, Avery will definitely give him benefits very generously.

“Young master Jones, is there any important information on the phone?” The bodyguard saw that he was nervous, so he asked, “Should we go back to Aryadelle immediately, or continue to find Norah?”

Another bodyguard said: “Young master Jones, let’s go back. If we keep looking for it like this, when will it stop? You just hand over Norah’s mobile phone to your father, so you can do business?”

“Yes! You are the only heir of the old man, even if the old man thinks that you are not good enough, I will definitely not blame you. Why do you continue to suffer outside.”

The words of the two bodyguards made Emilio’s swaying heart settle a little bit.

If he wants to inherit Travis’s property, he must stand in the same boat with Travis.

Even if he helps Avery, Avery will at most give him a certain benefit, but how can this benefit be compared with the Jones family’s fortune?

Thinking of this, he took his bodyguards down the mountain.

“Where will Norah go? Did someone find her here before us and take her away?” When they descended the mountain, they chatted, “I think the old man wants to see Norah’s body more than Norah’s cell phone. “

“But Norah has disappeared on this mountain now, and we have no way to find her! Think about it, Elliot has been looking for his daughter for all these years, but hasn’t he found it? The living are easy to find, the dead. ....It’s difficult!”

“Well.” The bodyguard responded to his colleague, then looked at Emilio, “Young master Jones, are we going back to Aryadelle today, or tomorrow? If we go back today...”

“Tomorrow Come on! It’s getting dark when I get to the hotel later.” Emilio was running around all day, and he was very tired at the moment. In addition, he wanted to calm down and think about what to do next.

At 7:00 in the evening, Emilio returned to the hotel.

After having dinner at the restaurant on the third floor, he and the bodyguard went back to their rooms.

WHEN HIS EYES OPENED

Chapter 2241

And he has a cleanliness addiction, and has been clamoring to wash his hair.

Avery could only find a way to wash him.

The phone rang just now, and she didn't hear a sound in the bathroom. Robert brought it with her phone.

If Robert hadn't handed the phone to her, she wouldn't have heard the ringtone at all, and she wouldn't have wanted to answer the phone.

"I'm going back to Aryadelle tomorrow." After Emilio said this, he waited for Avery to understand what he meant.

Avery turned on the hands-free phone and put it aside, and continued to wash Elliot's hair: "Have you found Norah?"

"No." Emilio said in a relaxed tone, "Are you free tomorrow? Treat me to a meal. Let's eat! Aryadelle is your territory."

Avery saw that Elliot's back muscles were suddenly tense, so she refused without thinking: "I don't have time tomorrow. Elliot has just been discharged from the hospital, and I want to accompany him. I can go to Bridgedale in the future. "

A disappointment rose from Emilio's heart. He just wanted to have a meal with her. Even if she wanted to take care of Elliot, wouldn't she even be able to spare two hours?

After all, Avery didn't consider Emilio a friend at all.

Back then in Bridgedale, when Avery needed to inquire about news from him, her attitude was not so indifferent.

"Okay! I know that I'm useless to you, and I won't bother you again in the future." Emilio laughed at himself.

"Emilio, why do you say such things? If you just want me to invite you to dinner, I can invite you later. Now that Elliot has just been discharged from the hospital, I really can't go away."

"Right? This kind of clumsy lie can deceive children, so why use it to prevaricate me? Forget it, I have nothing to tell you, goodbye." After Emilio finished speaking, he waited for two seconds, wondering if she would explain.

But she didn't.

She just said goodbye.

The world in front of Emilio's eyes suddenly became clear.

He no longer hesitated, he knew what to do next.

After hanging up the phone, Elliot's hair was almost washed.

"Emilio invited you to dinner, why don't you go? I won't be so stingy that I won't let you go out to dinner with friends." Elliot knew that Emilio had helped Avery, so he didn't hate Emilio that much.

"I don't know why he suddenly invited me to dinner. I made it clear to him in the message two days ago. Your problem has been solved, and I don't need to contact him anymore."
