Chapter 2296

“It should be Avery Tate.” The mother-in-law said word by word, “You should have lived a life of fine clothes and food, but someone ruined it all by yourself.”

Siena tearfully shook her head, “Mother-in-law, Are you wrong? Auntie Tate seems to be a good person. If she is not a good person, how could the master let Auntie Tate take Lilly down the mountain?”

Mother-in-law: “Do you think mother-in-law will lie to you? Siena, if you can be like Other children live a normal life, how could your mother-in-law take you to hide? All your family members were killed by the bad guys.”

Siena cried with a ‘woo’.

“If it wasn’t for Miss who bought you, you would have died long ago. Siena, we must listen to the Miss’s words. Only then we can survive.” The mother-in-law took Siena into her arms and reached out to wipe the hot tears from her face.

Siena: “Who is Miss?”

Mother-in-law: “She is a very simple and stupid woman. Originally, she had nothing to do with all this, but for the man she liked, she had to come to Aryadelle to find out the clues of the murder...I think Avery made the killing... She is collecting evidence of Avery’s crime...”

The mother-in-law’s words were too complicated for Siena to understand.

But Siena could feel that this was very scary.

All she could do as a child was to listen to her mother-in-law and grew up obediently.

On the other side, Avery brought Lilly to the hospital.

Wesley and Shea saw Lilly.

Shea gave Lilly the meeting gift she prepared for Lilly. The gift was a little princess.

“Hello, Lilly! My name is Shea. This little princess has white hair just like you. I think you are super cool.” Shea gave Lilly a figure of a princess.

The princess had silver-white hair. When Shea saw the photo of Lilly yesterday, the image of this princess first appeared in her mind.

Lilly liked that gift very much, and immediately forgot the troubles her illness brought to her, but followed Shea's words and felt that she was cool.

Lilly: "Auntie Shea, thank you."

"No thanks. I'll accompany you for an examination today, okay?" Shea smiled and held her hand, "I like you very much."

Shea spoke more directly, poking people directly's heart.

Lilly agreed to Shea without thinking.

Wesley: "I called a dermatologist. But I chatted with a dermatologist last night, and he said that there is currently no effective treatment for albinism. You can only pay attention to sun protection at ordinary times, and take corresponding treatment if you have a disease."

Avery: "I'm online. I checked. I want to see how sick Lilly is."

"Well. Shea likes Lilly very much. Before going to bed last night, she told me that she wanted to adopt Lilly." Wesley said in a low voice, "Originally She didn't have this idea at first because I told her that Lilly was abandoned by her biological parents, and she felt that Lilly was too pitiful, so she wanted to take care of her."

Avery whispered, "Actually, Lilly had a good life in the mountains. There are good friends on the mountain, and the masters also take good care of these children. However, Lilly is more special, and it is better to have someone take care of it. The host also thinks so. So I said to bring Lilly down the mountain, she is very supportive. If you and Shea wants to adopt Lilly, then you can go up the mountain and talk to the host again. I think Lilly likes Shea, and Lilly should agree."

Chapter 2297

Wesley: "Well. When I was brushing my hair this morning, I told me that I wanted to dye my hair white... If we can really adopt Lilly, I think she will really dye her hair white."

Avery couldn't help laughing: "If she wants to dye you, let her dye it! Any color of hair that Shea dyes will look good."

"I will let Shea calm down first, and then decide in a few days." Wesley said, "Dyeing her hair After all, it's not very good for the skin and hair quality of the head."

“What you said actually has little effect. As long as you don’t dye your hair frequently, it should be fine. Or you can buy her a white wig.” Avery suggested, “she used to wear wigs a lot.”

Wesley: “I didn’t even think of this. I’ll discuss with her after I’ve checked Lilly.”

“Well. Layla and Robert saw Lilly last night and liked her very much.” Avery said this with a smile, and the smile on her face quickly disappeared, “I really hope Haze can also meet someone who treats her well.”

“It will definitely be. You are so kind, God will definitely Let Haze live well. Even if you can’t recognize her now, I believe you will recognize each other in the future.” Wesley gave her hope.

Avery felt better.

After doing a series of examinations to Lilly in the morning, the dermatologist held a meeting with several other experts.

In the afternoon, they gave detailed diagnostic results.

“Lilly’s condition is oculocutaneous albinism. This condition is a little more serious than simple ocular albinism, but her condition is not the worst. As long as she does daily protection, she can actually live like a normal person. However, this requires a lot of energy from parents. If she goes to school, you need to tell the school teacher about her nursing methods. At present, if the patient does not have the disease, there is no effective drug intervention. We will see if this problem can be solved in the future. An effective medicine for disease.”

After coming out of the hospital, Avery brought Lilly home.

On the way back, Avery asked Lilly, “Auntie Shea, who is with you today, do you like her?”

“Me.” When Lilly said this, the corners of her mouth rose, and her tone was very cheerful.

“Little Lilly, she wants to take care of you. Are you willing to live at her house? She has a daughter who is younger than you. If you go to her house, she will love you as her eldest daughter.” Avery asked tentatively.

“Auntie Tate, are you good friends with Auntie Shea?” Lilly asked.

“We are not only good friends, but also relatives.” Avery showed a bright smile to Lilly, “Whether you live in my house or hers, I will treat you the same.”

“Auntie Shea said that she was also seriously ill, and you cured her. Auntie Tate, you are amazing!” Lilly looked at Avery with admiration on her face.

“It’s a pity that I can’t cure you.” Avery sighed regretfully, “but I believe that there will be a doctor who can cure you in the future.”

Lilly: “Cool Auntie.”

Avery: “Of course, you are the coolest little girl.”

“Auntie Tate, when can I go up the mountain? If I go to live at Auntie Shea’s house, should I tell the masters? Tell my good friend. Can I invite her to my house in the future?”

“It’s a little late today. Shall we go to the mountains tomorrow? You can invite good friends anytime you want. We can greet them tomorrow. Your friends will come down the mountain to play with you.” Avery said.

“Auntie Tate, you are so kind to me. When I grow up, I will definitely repay you.” Lilly said. Her nose was slightly sour, and she was a little excited, “If my good friend Siena could meet a good person like Auntie Tate, too Enough.”

Chapter 2298

Avery moved in peace.

Before she could speak, the bodyguard said first: “Little Lilly, your Auntie Tate didn’t run an orphanage. She led you down the mountain because you had a special disease and needed to be taken care of. You can’t force your Auntie Tate to take you down. My good friend also picked up the mountain.”

Avery immediately glared at the bodyguard: “Don’t talk nonsense. If the temple can no longer take care of those children, I can accommodate them.”

Lilly’s cheeks were flushed, and she said shyly: “Uncle bodyguard, I-I just hope Siena can meet good people in the future. I didn’t ask Auntie Tate to adopt her. I know it’s not easy to raise a child.”

Lilly’s sensible words made the bodyguard a little embarrassed.

“Little Lilly, Uncle just reminded you just now, he didn’t mean to blame you! Don’t take it to heart!” The bodyguard explained to Lilly clumsily and carefully.

“Uncle bodyguard, if you see Siena, you will definitely like her.” Lilly couldn’t help praising her good friend, “Siena is smart and cute, she is the cutest child I have ever seen.”

“Can you be cute?” The bodyguard asked deliberately.

Lilly was the most lovely child he had ever seen. Although Lilly’s illness was different from other children, she was not in that kind of sick state.

Other than that, Lilly was bit precocious.

Might be due to illness, or it might be due to being abandoned.

The children on the mountain were destined to be more mature and sensible than the children down the mountain.

Lilly didn’t even think about it, and nodded immediately: “We are both good and cute.”

The bodyguard: “Hahaha! Is this what you said, or did the teachers on the mountain say that?”

Lilly: “Everyone said that. I’ll take you to see her tomorrow, so you know I didn’t lie to you.”

“Okay. Since you said she was so cute, I’ll buy a small gift later and give it to her on the mountain tomorrow.” The bodyguard chatted hotly with Lilly.

Avery was completely speechless next to him.

Seeing that everyone liked Lilly, she was sincerely happy.

The medical staff who examined Lilly at the hospital today all praised her when they saw her.

There was a bright smile on Lilly’s face almost all the time.

Avery could feel that Lilly was really happy.

“Little Lilly, tomorrow weekend, sister Layla and brother Robert will accompany you up the mountain to see your good friend, okay?” Avery thought that tomorrow was the weekend, so she wanted to take the two children up the mountain to see.

“Okay! Will Auntie Shea accompany us?” Lilly asked expectantly. Avery hesitated for a moment and said, “Auntie Shea has been seriously ill before, and her health is not so good. Climbing the mountain is more difficult for her. Would you like Uncle Wesley to accompany us?”

“Let Auntie Shea see Siena. In this way, I invite Siena to go down the mountain to play, and Auntie Shea will definitely agree.” Lilly expressed her thoughts.

“Hahaha, don’t worry! Even if Auntie Shea has never seen Siena, as long as she is your good friend, you can invite to play at home. You can go to Auntie Shea’s house to play, or to my house. We are sure You will be very welcome as a good friend.”

Lilly: “Auntie Tate, thank you. You are such a good person.”

“Little Lilly, I’m embarrassed for thanking me so earnestly. You don’t have to be so polite with Auntie in the future, okay?” Avery said, and touched her head.

Lilly: “Master said to be a polite child. If you don’t know how to be polite, no one will like it.”

“Little Lilly, we do need to be polite, but we are not polite to make others like it.” Avery said.

“Could it be that the master is wrong?” Lilly was a little confused.

Avery: “It’s not wrong for the master to teach you this way. They want you to be liked by everyone. But you’re definitely not just living to please others, right? You can also become a doctor, scientist, or artist in the future.”

Avery If so, let Lilly be fascinated.

Chapter 2299

“Auntie Tate, can I really be that good?” Lilly asked.

Avery: “Of course. What you wants to do in the future, we can work towards that goal now. You can tell Auntie Shea your secret in the future, or you can tell me. We are all your best friends.”

Lilly: “Well!”

The next morning, it was less than 7 o’clock. Layla and Robert got up one after another.

The weather was not very good that day, at that point, it was not yet bright outside.

Layla planned to put a box of hairpins in her schoolbag, and when she got to the mountain, she would give it to the little girls.

She had several drawers of hair clips, many of which had not been opened after receiving them.

Robert also felt itchy when he saw his sister preparing gifts.

“Sister, what gift should I give them?” Robert didn’t have anything like hairpins.

His toys were all big. There’s no way he could drag a bunch of toys up the mountain!

“You are so young, you don’t need to give them gifts!” Layla glanced at her brother.

Robert pursed his lips, as if he was not very happy.

After Layla chose the hairpin to bring up the mountain, she saw that her brother was still pouting, so she gave him an idea: “Don’t you have a lot of money? You can give them a red envelope.”

Robert: “Oh…”

Layla: “I’m going to look for the red envelope.”

Robert: “Sister, wait for me! I’ll look for it with you!”

The two children ran up and down the house, very lively.

At 8 o’clock, Avery and Elliot got up and went downstairs.

The three children had had breakfast and were playing with toys in the living room.

Robert’s toys were very young and childish to Layla. So Layla mainly took Little Lilly to play with Robert.

Mrs. Cooper brought the breakfast to the table, and then said to Elliot and Avery, “Robert gave each of the children on the mountain a red envelope. It should be alright to give those children a red envelope?”

Avery was very surprised: “He is so young. He mustn’t have thought of doing this?”

Mrs. Cooper: “It was Layla who gave him the idea. Layla planned to send hairpins to the children. Robert saw it and wanted to give gifts to the children on the mountain.”

“It should be no problem to send red envelopes. It’s good to talk to the masters at that time.”

“Well. Avery, can I go up the mountain with you? After all, Robert hasn’t climbed the mountain yet! And the temperature on the mountain is relatively cold.” Mrs. Cooper said.

Avery: "Okay! It might be a little tiring to climb the mountain."

"Robert is not afraid of being tired, and I'm fine." Mrs. Cooper said, "I'll go check what I will bring up the mountain later."

After Mrs. Cooper left, Elliot sighed.

"Don't sigh, you definitely can't climb the mountain." Avery glanced at him, "Shea also wants to go up the mountain, but brother Wesley won't let her go up the mountain. If the weather is warm, it's fine, but now it's cold, really out on the mountain Anything is troublesome."

"If I don't go up the mountain, I'll stay at home." Elliot looked away, "Be careful when you climb the mountain. Take some more bodyguards out today!"

"Yeah." Avery said to Elliot, "Don't be angry. I'll take you out when the weather clears."

Chapter 2300

Elliot couldn't help laughing: "Although I really want to go with you, but since you said I can't go out, then I won't go out. It's cold outside, so please keep warm."

"Well." Avery heard what he said, was particularly heartwarming, "Elliot, you're obeying me now, but I'm a little overwhelmed. I wanted to coax you, but now it seems that I'm thinking too much."

"Then you coax me." Elliot Required it.

"Haha, I'll coax you when I come back in the evening." Avery's cheeks were slightly red, she quickly finished her breakfast, and wiped her mouth with a tissue, "Elliot, this weekend, relax and stop working. If you feel bored, You can ask your friends to come play with you at home."

Elliot: "Well. Pay attention to safety on the road."

"Yes. I checked the weather forecast. Today is cloudy, with no wind or rain. It should be smooth." Avery said, facing the living room. go.

Elliot followed behind her and sent them out.

The three children each carried a small schoolbag and wanted to go out for a long time.

Avery put on a down jacket, put on her bag, and walked to the child's side: "Let's go! Your Uncle Wesley has already left."

After Avery spoke, the bodyguards and Mrs. Cooper immediately followed.

At 9:00 a.m.

The group came to G-Temple.

Wesley and the bodyguards were waiting outside the courtyard.

“Mr. Brooks, why don’t this place accept male pilgrims here?” The bodyguard asked sincerely.

Wesley: “Every place has its own rules. We just need to abide by the rules.”

“Okay! I think it may be for safety.” The bodyguard guessed, “Although I am also a man, I have to say that some men are very bad.”

Wesley: “Bad guys are gender-neutral. But I support your statement that men are generally more jerk than women. It’s understandable that male pilgrims aren’t welcome here.”

The bodyguard shrank his neck.

There was no wind down the mountain, but when they got to the mountain, the wind was breezy and the coolness was piercing.

Wesley: “If you’re cold, you can move.”

“This is so stupid! There should be more people coming here to offer incense later.” The bodyguard said here, talking about gossip, “Mr. Brooks, you and Shea should be together. You won’t have a second child, right?”

“The first child was an accident. After Shea became pregnant, I was sterilized, and we couldn’t have another child.” Wesley confided, “I am already very grateful to have a child. Taking care of Shea and Maria for the rest of my life, I will be satisfied.”

“It’s good for you to adopt Lilly. The main reason is that my boss already has three children, and there is another Haze, who can be found at any time. Then there will be four children. At that time, her own children will not be able to care, let alone Lilly. Let Lilly go to your house and have a company with your daughter Maria!”

The reason why the bodyguard said so, It was also considered from the standpoint of Lilly.

Wesley was a doctor, with a famously gentle and kind temperament, while Shea was also a very kind woman. Although she might not be as good at taking care of people as Avery, she was worse than having Mrs. Scarlet’s help.

It would be better to let Lilly follow them.

“You are loyal to Avery. Everything is thoughtful for Avery.” Wesley raised the corner of his mouth and laughed lightly.

The bodyguard: “I don’t think about it entirely for my boss. It’s mainly for Lilly. I like Lilly very much. She is very good.”

After chatting for a while, Avery immediately came out and let them in.

Avery: “The host allows you to go in and take a break.”

“I thought men were really not allowed to enter this place! It turns out that it is possible to open up the net.” The bodyguard said with a smile, and entered the monastery.

Avery walked side by side with Wesley, “It was Lilly who told the host that she was willing to be adopted by you. So the host wants to meet and talk with you.”
