

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2314

Chapter 2314

The Mother-in-law shed tears when she saw it, and couldn't bear it.

"Then you eat first. After dinner, I will take you to walk around the neighborhood. Siena, this place is a hundred times better than the mountain. You will definitely like the city life." The mother-in-law said, "Little Lilly's life is good! She was led down the mountain by Avery, and she will definitely not worry about food and clothing in the future."

Siena: "Mother-in-law, didn't you say that Auntie Tate was a bad person? Since Auntie Tate is a bad person, why do you say that Lilly's life is good?"

Mother-in-law: "Bad person's not bad for everyone. Avery may be good to Lilly."

Siena: "Then how do you know she will be good to Lilly? What if she bullies Lilly? Unless she is not as bad as you say."

Siena had been thinking about this question since she went down the mountain.

Avery Tate she saw was obviously so gentle, not like a bad person at all. A person's eyes, tone, give the impression that people couldn't be deceived.

Of course, now that Siena was relatively small, there was no way to express her inner feelings in words.

"Even if she bullies Lilly, that's not something we can manage. Siena, just take care of yourself." The mother-in-law said, sighed, and gave her a chopstick of vegetables.

"Mother-in-law, I want to call Lilly. I know I can't control other people's affairs, but Lilly is my best friend. I want to know if she is doing well after she goes down the mountain." Siena looked at her mother-in-law with a begging face, "I know Auntie Tate's number. Mother-in-law, can you call Auntie Tate and ask Lilly?"

"Siena, you ignore everything mother-in-law said to you, right?" Mother-in-law didn't want to talk to Avery because of any relationship, she didn't want to call Avery.

"Mother-in-law, I didn't want to listen to you. I just want to know how Lilly is doing. If she is doing well, then I will never call Auntie Tate again..." Speaking of which, Siena's tears fell.

"Well, don't cry, don't cry. There's nothing to cry about. I'll find a way to call Avery later... Give me her phone number." The mother-in-law reached out to Siena.

Siena immediately got down from the dining chair, ran to the room, found her schoolbag, and took out a note with Avery's number from the middle of the schoolbag.

Foster family.

Avery was resting at home but she was not idle.

During lunch, she followed Shea video call to see what the children were doing.

Seeing that they got along very well, Avery felt relieved.

She probably slept earlier last night, and during her lunch break today, she couldn't fall asleep.

She left the bedroom, went to the study, opened the notebook, and looked up information on albinism on the Internet.

Soon, she was fascinated by it.

After some time, the study door was pushed open.

Elliot took her mobile phone and walked in front of her.

"Avery, your phone is ringing. It's an unfamiliar number." Elliot slept soundly, but was awakened by the ringing of her phone.

When Avery left the bedroom, she forgot to take out her phone.

"Did it wake you up?" Avery said sternly, took the phone from Elliot, and glanced at the missed call.

The number was a landline number from a neighboring city.

"I did wake up. But what's even scarier is to wake up and see that you are not around." Elliot broke out in a cold sweat just now.

Fortunately, Elliot quickly found her.

"I can't sleep, so I came to check for albinism. Most of this call is a harassing call." Avery put the mobile phone on the table, got up from the chair and walked to Elliot, "Go back to sleep! It's still early. I'll take you back to your room."

"I can't sleep. But I don't know what to do. Imagine a retired life feels a bit scary." During the time when Elliot was forced to rest, he had actually tried to cultivate a lot of interests.

Unfortunately, apart from work, Elliot is not particularly interested in other things.

"Why don't you try fishing?" Avery gave Elliot some advice, "I saw a news this morning that a man went out over the wall in the middle of the night in order to fish... It seems that his wife didn't like him fishing, so he sneaked out to fish."

"Are you sure he climbed over the wall in the middle of the night to go fishing, not for anything else?" Elliot questioned the news, "What kind of fish is he fishing in the middle of the night? He can't see the floats, is he blind fishing?"

Avery: "..."

Elliot looked confident: "Most of this is going out for an affair."

Avery: "But I saw the pictures on the news, and he brought fishing tools! If it was going out for an affair, why does he need to bring tools?"

Elliot couldn't understand the expressions of this world.

"You'd better go and lie down! You can search for fishing-related videos. I'm fascinated by other people's fishing." Avery said here, the mobile phone on the table rang.

She let go of Elliot, walked to the desk, and saw that the landline number just now was calling.

If it was a harassing call, it would not be called again without answering, and would be called again.

"Is it the same number just now?" Elliot stood there, looking at her and asked.

"Well. I'll take it." Avery said and answered the phone.

Elliot stood at the door of the study, did not listen closely, but did not intend to leave.

"Is it Miss Tate?" There was an old voice over the phone.

This should not be a harassing call.

Avery responded immediately: "I'm Avery, may I ask you who is?"

"I just wanted to ask Lilly, is she okay? Can she easily answer the phone?" After all, her mother-in-law was distressed by Siena, so she brought Siena with her. She came outside, borrowed someone else's landline, and called Avery.

The mother-in-law actually has a mobile phone, but the mother-in-law does not want to reveal any information about herself.

After Avery heard 'Little Lilly', she immediately thought of G-Temple, and quickly guessed the identity of the other party.

"Are you Siena's mother-in-law?" Avery had a smile on her face and a smile in her voice, "I've been waiting for you to call me. Lilly went up the mountain yesterday and didn't see Siena, so she cried so sadly. But Lilly is not at my house now. She was adopted, and the other party is my close relative...Where are you and Siena now? Let's meet and talk! I can bring Lilly to meet you. Or I will send someone to pick you up to my house."

Avery showed the greatest sincerity.

Unexpectedly, the mother-in-law listened to her words and did not agree to meet.

"Who did you adopt Lilly? Is the other party reliable? Miss Tate, Lilly is sick, how could you just give her to someone else?" The mother-in-law was very dissatisfied.

"Mother-in-law, don't worry. The husband and wife who adopted Lilly are a doctor and the wife is my husband's sister. They are all very good people. Lilly will definitely be well taken care of by following them."

"Oh, doctor! That's all right." After the mother-in-law finished speaking, she was about to hang up. "I'm calling you just to ask, nothing else. Siena is fine now, please let Lilly not worry about her. In the future, they will see by fate!"

"Are you planning to take Siena far away?" Avery felt a little regretful.

"Yes. Don't look for us." After the mother-in-law finished, she hung up the phone.
