

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2326

Chapter 2326

In fact, they both knew in their hearts that this time there was little hope. The two of them have three children, all of whom look more or less like the two of them.

It was impossible for their Haze to be completely different from them.

So the child named 'Siena' was probably not their daughter.

Bridgedale.

After Travis's body was buried, Emilio began to take full control of MH Medicine.

In front of him, first of all, the new project that his father cooperated with Leland Sirois before his death.

On the day of Travis's funeral, Leland tried to chat with Emilio about the next development, but Emilio was too busy that day, so the two didn't talk. So, the two made an appointment to meet tonight.

Emilio hosted a banquet in the hotel to entertain Leland.

After Leland arrived, he screened the people in the private room.

"Emilio, we two are not secretive. You are clear about my cooperation with your father. If this project can be successful, it will be equivalent to a cash cow, and it will continue to create wealth for us." Leland started brainwashing Emilio, "Do you know why I have to cooperate with you? Because the relationship between your father and Margaret is well known in Bridgedale. Margaret's previous laboratory was invested by your father, and everyone agrees on this matter. Everyone knows it well. So working with you will make it easier to make up stories for the public."

"Which one of the top companies is not telling a story! And the more outrageous the story is, the better. Now the most important thing is the rich people who have no brains. I have already managed the network, and our products will be once Launch, to ensure that follow-up promotion and sales are no problem."

Leland's words are still a little attractive to Emilio. After all, he also wanted to make money.

Only by earning money could he prove his strength?

"Mr. Sirois, if I continue to cooperate with you, Avery will come forward to expose this scam." Emilio expressed his concerns.

“Aren’t you classmates with her? Go and have a good talk with her. We can give her dividends.” Leland gave Emilio a suggestion.

Emilio couldn’t help laughing and said, “Do you think Avery is short of money?”

“Who would dislike having too much money? As long as we give her enough benefits, I believe she will be moved.” Leland was afraid that Emilio might not be able to deal with Avery, so he said, “Why don’t you tell me her number? I’ll talk to her about this matter.”

Emilio really wanted to watch the play, so he told Leland Avery’s number.

After Leland got Avery’s number, he boasted to Emilio with a confident expression: “I’ll take care of Avery’s side. The big deal is that we will give her the big head. Even if she doesn’t join us, as long as she doesn’t demolish our platform, it’s fine.”

Emilio heaved a sigh of relief: “Yes. Then see if you can handle her. If you can handle her, I will continue to cooperate with you. If you can’t handle her, then there is no need for us to continue. After all, the loss-making business, Who will do it.”

Leland: “Emilio, can’t you persuade her at all?”

“Mr. Sirois, my relationship with her is that I like her and she doesn’t like me. It’s not that she likes me, but I don’t like her. If it’s the latter, I’ll definitely be able to persuade her. But she and I are the former.” Emilio was not afraid of losing face, so he opened the facts to Leland.

“Hahaha! Your eyes are not low! It’s no wonder that you are single until now, so you like a woman like Avery.” Leland laughed, “She’s already on good terms with Elliot, how could she fall in love with you? You should be early Get rid of that thought.”

“Mr. Sirois, I’ll tell you about this. How dare I tell outsiders? Isn’t that why you asked me why I couldn’t persuade her? With her character, if Elliot didn’t listen to her, she would probably be able to talk to Elliot. Let’s do it. If you can persuade her, let alone this cooperation, I will cooperate with you in whatever you want to cooperate in the future.” Emilio felt that Leland could not handle Avery, so he said so.

Leland took out the cigarette case and shook out a cigarette.

Emilio immediately took a lighter and lit him a cigarette.

Leland smoked a cigarette and began to think about how to convince Avery.

“By the way, Emilio, do you have the confidence to deal with the matter that your brothers and sisters are going to sue you?” Leland asked suddenly.

“I don’t know what they plan to attack my dad’s will. When they make a move, I’ll find a way to deal with it!” Emilio said, “You don’t have to worry about this. I asked my lawyer, even if they can be won the lawsuit, the court will also focus on my father’s will at that time, and give them a small portion at best.”

“That’s true. So Norah looked for me, and I ignored her.” Leland narrowed his fox eyes, “I heard that your father was killed by her, this b*tch, it’s better for me not to deal with her.”

Emilio: “Mr. Sirois, your choice is correct. If you cooperate with Norah, if the cooperation is pleasant, then there is no problem. Once you have a disagreement, you can see how Norah planned to assassinate Elliot and assassinate my father...”

“I know. So I rejected her.” Leland was old and didn’t want to do things he was not sure about.

Emilio was easier to control, and Norah was obviously someone Leland couldn’t control.

Leland: “Why don’t I call Avery now to find out what she’s saying!”

“Yes! It’s daytime in Aryadelle, she should answer your call.” Emilio put down his chopsticks and wiped his hands with a tissue, ready to watch the fun.

“Okay! Then I’ll call her now.” Leland put out the half-sucked cigarette in the ashtray, then picked up the phone and dialed Avery.

Aryadelle.

Avery and Elliot received a call from Leland on their way home.

Avery answered the phone, listened to Leland’s self-introduction, and his face became a little serious.

Avery: “Mr. Sirois, what’s the matter when you called me?”

Leland: “Miss Tate, it’s like this. I’m having dinner with Emilio tonight, and we talked about our new project by the way...”

“Oh, he told you my number?” Avery asked.

“Yes. He asked me to call you and tell you about our project. He hopes you can support our project.” After Leland said this, Emilio coughed violently.

Leland, this old fox, was really lying, and he didn't even blink his eyes when he lied.

Avery: "Oh, are you still reluctant to give up that scam? Otherwise, I know a lot of media friends in Bridgedale, and then I will personally go to Bridgedale and have a public live broadcast with you to talk about your scam. By the way, the well-known entrepreneurs of Bridgedale are also invited to the scene to give everyone a warning that if you only rely on deception to do business, you will definitely not go long."

Avery's words made Leland stunned.

"Mr. Sirois, did you hear what I just said?" Avery asked when she saw that the other party didn't respond.

"Ms. Tate, what if we give you unexpected benefits?" Leland hesitated for a while, and said bravely.

At the wine table, Emilio pricked up his ears, eager to hear Avery's answer.

It's a pity that Emilio and Leland were a little far away, so Emilio couldn't hear anything.

After a while, Leland hung up the phone.

Emilio immediately asked, "Mr. Sirois, have you got her?"
