

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2351

Chapter 2351

After the photos were taken, everyone went to the hotel where the ceremony was held.

On the way to the hotel, Tammy couldn't hide her excitement, refined the photo she took with Avery, and posted it to the circle of friends—

—Today is my best friend's wedding, I'm happier than my own marriage! Happy! Happy! Happy!

There was a solo photo of Avery and a group photo of Tammy and Avery.

In every photo, Avery smiled brightly and moved, happy and sweet.

Soon, Tammy received numerous likes and comments.

—Avery is getting married today? ! Who is she married to? Who is the groom? How come I haven't heard of it at all!

—The groom is Elliot, right? I remember hearing from you last time that she and Elliot had remarried! Are they really having a wedding today? Are you still taking wedding photos? There is absolutely no news of their wedding on the news!

—Wow! Are they getting married today? Congratulations! Is this a wedding that isn't open to the public? So romantic!

—This news is too hot, right? Can I share this news with my friends? My friend especially likes Elliot!

Someone politely asked Tammy if she could share the news, and more people shared the news the moment they saw her circle of friends.

Soon, the news of Avery and Elliot's wedding today was exposed on the Internet, and Avery's wedding photos were attached.

Of course, the picture was stolen from Tammy's circle of friends.

After the news of Elliot and Avery's wedding today spread on the Internet, it shocked everyone.

Compared with the high-profile and grand wedding of the two of them last time, this time the wedding of the two of them did not reveal any details to the public at all.

After the paparazzi knew that the two of them were getting married today, they hurried to stay near Elliot's house, but they had already left the community.

In the hotel.

Avery changed into the second set of dresses for the ceremony.

After changing the dress and styling, Tammy told her what to do next: "When you enter the banquet hall, you have to sing! I remember that you sing very well, is this okay?"

Avery was stunned for a moment: "What song do I sing?"

Tammy: "What do you want to sing? There is a playlist here, you can choose one."

Avery took the playlist and glanced at it: "Tammy, am I the only one to sing? Elliot doesn't sing?"

"The bridegroom has other tasks, you can sing yours, it will be your personal concert." Tammy cheered her up, "Don't worry about whether you sing well or not, today you are out of tune. Thousands of miles away, the people in the audience will applaud you too!"

Avery: "..."

Tammy: "Just sing this song! "Want to sing me to You", this melody is simple, you can read the lyrics with your phone."

Avery: "What mission does Elliot have? Doesn't he come in with me?"

Tammy shook her head: "If I told you, there would be no suspense. You look forward to it in your heart and see what form he will take in a while."

Avery is very curious and looking forward to it.

When Avery was looking at the lyrics on her mobile phone, Tammy told the staff next to her the song she was going to sing.

The staff immediately relayed the song to the staff in charge of music.

“Avery, is it alright?” Tammy asked after watching her hum along with the melody twice.

Avery nodded: “It should be fine.”

Tammy immediately told the staff, “It’s time to start!”

A soothing melody sounded in the banquet hall, and the door of the banquet hall slowly opened.

The light in the banquet hall dimmed, and the spotlight hit the door.

Soon, Avery appeared in the aperture. She held the microphone and sang beautifully — “Want to sing me to you, while you are still young and like flowers, let the flowers bloom as much as you like! My branches and buds decorate your years...”

The audience, originally quiet, suddenly heard a whistle!

Then came Mike’s voice: “It’s so good!”

Avery couldn’t help laughing.

“Can you stop making trouble!” Chad pushed Mike who stood up back into the chair and sat down.

“It’s the first time I’ve heard Avery sing seriously! I didn’t expect it to be on such an occasion!” Mike complained, “I usually tell her to go out to sing, but she doesn’t usually go.”

“My boss sings very well, too. But my boss usually doesn’t sing for us. I don’t know what’s going on with my boss.” Chad wanted to go backstage to see.

But there were Ben and Jun in the backstage, and Chad didn’t need their help.

Avery finished singing a song, and people came to the stage.

After she finished singing, thunderous applause came.

The lights in the banquet hall turned on, and Avery could see the surrounding guests and the stage layout.

The stage was huge, and it was arranged like a forest.

Avery took the microphone and looked around. Elliot wasn’t there, but why didn’t she even see the wedding emcee?

Standing alone on the stage, she was a little overwhelmed...

Countless pairs of eyes stared at her in the audience, would she say something to ease the embarrassment?

Just when she was about to play on the spot, a gloomy background music sounded.

Under the stage, some timid children were frightened and cried.

Avery: "..."

What kind of trouble was this?

Just when Avery was stunned, suddenly, two people in strange clothes rushed out from the side, and grabbed Avery's arm.

Avery was unprepared, and was so frightened that her body softened, and the microphone in her hand fell to the ground with a 'clack'!

Everything on the stage fell in the eyes of the audience offstage.

Adults knew it's fake, but little kids didn't.

Robert was sitting in the front row and saw that her mother was caught by two monsters wearing hoods, and she suddenly screamed: "Monster! Let go of my mother!"

Robert said excitedly, and stood up from the chair to rush to the stage and save the mother.

Mrs. Cooper immediately carried Robert back.

"Don't be afraid of Robert! The monster is fake! It's played by humans." Mrs. Cooper coaxed Robert, and next to her, Layla was also irritated.

Layla knew that the monsters were played by people, but when she saw that they caught her mother, Layla was very angry!

Layla took the hem of her skirt and strode toward the stage.

"You let go of my mother!" Layla's voice was sharp and angry.

Mike and Hayden stood up from their seats almost at the same time and strode towards Layla.

Mike: "Layla, you come back!"

"I don't! They scratched Mommy! Didn't you hear Mommy screaming?" Layla said angrily, and strode onto the stage.

After Mike strode onto the stage, he hugged Layla horizontally.

"I'll let them take it easy, don't interfere with your dad's appearance." Mike coaxed Layla, walked to the two 'monsters' at the same time, and whispered, "Take it easy, don't hurt the bride."

The monster's staff was very helpless.

They didn't work too hard!

Avery said awkwardly: "Layla, mom is fine. Mom was frightened just now."

Avery had adjusted her emotions and she guessed that it was acting!

Now that two monsters have kidnapped her, it's time for the groom to come on stage and save her! Then they can have the ceremony! After thinking about it like this, she thought it was quite interesting.

It's just that when she heard Robert's whimper under the stage and Layla ran up to help herself in distress, she was not only moved, but also distressed that the child was frightened.

After Layla was carried off the stage by Mike, Elliot in the backstage breathed a sigh of relief.

"Who planned this?! It's really bad! Not only did it frighten my wife, but it also frightened my two children!" Elliot blamed Ben, "If you let me know this is how my wedding is going to be one day earlier, I can change it in advance!"

Ben: "I'll explain it to them later, maybe they want to do it again! How fun! How fun! How fun are the guests under the stands, how happy they are?!"

The guests offstage did laugh happily, but Robert had tears on his face, and Layla's face was full of anger... How could Elliot bear it?

"Elliot, you have to bear with it. When your child sees you appear, promise not to cry!" Ben patted him on the shoulder, making him think about it, "There are so many guests watching, let's not scan it. Everyone's happiness. You can see that Avery's emotions have been adjusted, which means that she thinks the design is ok."

Elliot: "I suspect that you are deliberately harassing us."

Ben: "How is it possible?! What are we doing to harass you? ...But I'm still very happy to see your performance hahahaha!"

Elliot: "..."

Ben laughed too loudly!

.....

In the banquet hall, there was a deep voice: "The beautiful princess, kidnapped by the devil! To rescue the beautiful princess, we need to shout together. I count to three, we shout together, looking forward to the handsome The knights are on the stage!"

"Three, two, one..."

Everyone at the scene screamed and shouted together, the lights in the banquet hall flickered on and off, and after a few flashes, there were suddenly two more on the stage. figure!

One of the characters is—— "Ultraman! That's Ultraman!" There were children at the scene who exclaimed in surprise!

Another character is — "Mom! That big dinosaur is so scary! Hey! I'm so scared!" A little girl jumped into her mother's arms and didn't dare to look at the stage.

On the stage, Avery, who was kidnapped by two monsters, was stunned.

What about the knights?

How was it not the same as imagined!

"Huh? Where's our handsome knight? Where did he go? Is he going to abandon the beautiful princess?" The thick voice continued, "Since the knight was scared away by the monster, then our guests at the scene will take care of the beautiful princess. Let the princess choose the hero who can save her!"

"Ultraman! Ultraman! Mom! Choose Ultraman!" Robert screamed, "Ultraman can kill monsters!"

Other children and Robert had the same status and choices.

Avery stood on the stage, very close to Ultraman and dinosaurs.

She knew that Elliot was on stage now.

However, was Elliot an Ultraman or a dinosaur?
