

the substitute wife: my poor husband is a billionaire

Chapter 669

Chapter 669 well prepared Not long after Janet returned to Barnes, got a call from Brandon, asking him to return to his villa.

I knew that given that Brandon was now at Barnes, Charis I would definitely follow him here.

so you asked Johanna to monitor the movements of Charis, so that an emergency would not arise.

Charis was always close to Brandon, clinging to him like a parasite.

as it was from wait, arrived at Barnes shortly after he reach.

Janet thought that Charis must be very anxious now.

Given Charis's ruthless personality, she didn't she would sit and watch Janet He got closer and closer to Brandon without doing anything.

Charis had visited his villa twice, but in both times he did not say much, nor did he try to sow discord between Janet and Brandon.

Janet I had a bad feeling that something big was going to happen.

Since Charis no longer resorted to cheap tricks, he was probably creating big trouble behind the scenes.

In fact, he was probably coming up with a plan to kill Janet outright.

Of course, Janet was just guessing, but I wasn't about to let things go.

develop to the point of jeopardizing their life.

This was not the first time that Charis conspired against her, and she had realized that once Charis took action, her nefarious plan would probably involve other innocent people.

Halloween was coming up and Janet asked Brandon if he wanted to go with her to a haunted house at the amusement park for fun.

When Charis found out about his plan, suddenly announced that he also wanted to take his subordinates there, which puzzled Janet.

She was almost sure that Charis would take advantage of this opportunity to attack.

So Janet called to Johanna two days before Halloween.

“My people say that Charis has already been put in contact with the haunted house staff... Charis is smarter than she looks, Janet.

Even if you want to get to the bottom of this, I don't want to.

risk your life." Johanna warned him.

"Don't worry, mom.

That's why I called.

I want that you arrange for our men hide in the haunted house to ensure my safety and the care of the rest of the people."

Of course, Janet already knew how cunning she could be Charis.

If I didn't get into the haunted house, Charis couldn't act.

"Well I prepared helicopters and rescue teams and place our men near the amusement park.

But you still have to watch your back, okay? agreement?" Johanna didn't know what she was going to do

Janet, but she believed in her daughter.

In fact, Janet was doing this not just to protect herself, but to catch Charis in the act.

I was sick of this boring game of cat and mouse He wanted to get rid of this terrible woman once once for all On Halloween, not long after that Janet and Brandon will enter the house haunted, a staff member asked them to they will look for the cards for the decoders by separate. Janet stepped forward while Brandon walked backwards. Not long after they parted ways, the smell of Smoke billowed out of the room in front of Janet. She wanted to return, but unexpectedly, the road behind her was blocked by a flame sudden. Janet didn't panic. She understood that this was Charis's plan. It turned out that the evil woman wanted to burn her live! Janet calmly took out her phone and called the subordinates of the White family, who hid in the haunted house.

“A fire just started.

the arsonist must still be in the area.

Catch him.” Their subordinates immediately took action as soon as they received the order.

Janet then called a helicopter to rescue her.

While talking on the phone, he ran to the only windowed room in the house haunted At that moment, Charis hurriedly get in.

This took Janet by surprise.

I couldn't understand why Charis would run a such a great risk when entering the burning establishment.

Although the fire in the haunted house wasn't too serious yet, now that she was inside, it would be hard to escape.

Also, it was a windy late fall day.

The burning flames could easily turn larger and devour a person in the blink of an eye. close your eyes After Charis ran in, she locked Janet inside the room, thinking that this last one would definitely die.

But for your horror, Janet had escaped through the window, while Charis herself was still trapped in the fire.

Charis was stunned for a long time before finally coming to his senses.

Only then she realized that Janet had set a trap! He looked back at him.

corridor and discovered that the fire was even more fierce than before.

she had lost too much time at that time.

The fire surrounded her piety.

The scorching heat clouded his vision and the thick smoke clogged his throat.

In this moment, the haunted house was like hell living.

Would he get out of here alive?
