Chapter 696 Marrying into the Harding family

Laney knew that Garrett had just sacrificed something valuable for your relationship. I couldn't let him down.

At that moment, Laney made the decision to be the best wife after marriage.

"I promise you that I will be a good wife and make you you and your parents feel proud" Laney swore in a hoarse voice.

Garrett was amused by his words laughed between teeth and then kissed her forehead fondly.

"Just be yourself, Laney. Don't change for me, okay? agreement?"

Laney was not an ignorant girl she knew that marrying into a rich family would not be easy.

Also, could tell that Vera had high standards for her daughter-in-law.

Now that he had his parents' approval, Garrett began to prepare for the wedding.

Laney didn't want a big wedding, so they had one simple and did not invite many guests.

Not a single reporter could set foot in the place of the wedding Garrett also warned all mainstream media, forbidding them to gossip about Laney.

However, even Garrett couldn't help the news that he, the only son and heir to the Harding family, was to marry a woman common.

On their wedding day, the news was trending on Twitter.

Everyone was curious to see what it was like this Cinderella in real life.

During the wedding ceremony, the guests they talked about it especially all the women who had tried to persecute Garrett.

Until now, Garrett was one of the most bachelors listed from Seacisco.

There were many girls that they liked Janet had experienced a similar situation before. She had been under the same pressure when she married Brandon.

"Don't listen, don't look and don't even think about it's. Everyone is jealous. After all, in his eyes, you have won!"

Janet whispered to Laney while helping to smooth out the wrinkles in her dress bride.

Laney smiled, feeling a sadness indescribable.

"How is it possible! Do not sit down as the winner? This is just the beginning."

"Janet, I'm more worried about what the life after I get married."

Laney was accustomed to a carefree life and she never let anyone tie her down. What if he got tired of married life?

"I heard that Mrs. Harding is a woman gentle. I doubt that it will make you suffer."

Janet tried to console her.

To tell the truth, I had never met the Garrett's mother.

However, Garrett loved much to Laney.

If he was able to convince his parents to accept Laney as their wife, then I could protect Laney from being harassed by the Harding family.

Janet prayed in her heart, hoping that Laney I could be with Garrett in peace and harmony.

After their wedding, Laney was thrown into the world of the upper class when Garrett gradually took over the Harding family business.

Every time there was a party or a banquet, he had Laney with him.

Like you had him happened to Janet before, some of the wealthy people made fun of Laney in such occasions.

Laney had chosen to marry Garrett, and had anticipated this situation long before saying 'Yes, I agree'.

Therefore, he endured all the insults and slander Not long after they were married, Vera called and told Laney to move into the Harding mansion.

She was not prepared for such an order, she twisted anxiously the telephone line with his fingers and said,

"Mom, I have professionals here to take care of me I don't want to bother you at home."

"Crap! We are family.Of course I must take care of you.In addition, I have organized many etiquette classes and other required courses for you, including dancing, wine tasting and appreciation of the art.Laney, now that you're the future host of the Harding family, you must behave like a cultured lady from now on. Do not dishonor the Harding family."
