Chapter 3056

Slowly, Rudy noticed that he was becoming more and more like Jackie. He slowly understood why Jackie was always so calm, and why none could get to his head.

Fwoop! Fwoop! Fwoop!

Countless rainbow-colored feathers viciously slammed onto the surface of the stage.

Jackie barely managed to avoid them all. He looked up at the Thousand Feathered Beast in the sky, noticing its sharp eyes still looking right at him. Even though it showed no emotions, the intense killing intent coming from it washed over Jackie like a wave.

“Is he only good at evading? It’s been a while, but he’s been dodging! Why isn’t he fighting back?! Has he given up on even fighting back because he knows he’ll lose?”

“Who knows what this kid is thinking. Does he think that the Thousand Feathered Beast will exhaust all its energy if he keeps on hiding like that? If that guy really thinks that way, what a joke this will turn out to be.”

“The Thousand Feathered Beast isn’t an actual beast at all. Its energy is inexhaustible thanks to the whole Hundred Beast City. The only one who’ll run out of energy is Lucius!”

Rudy listened to all of that with a calm outward expression. He might be curious as to why Jackie was not attacking, but he remained calm. After all, he trusted Jackie and knew there was a reason for everything he did. However, those around Rudy did not have his calm attitude at all.

The man with a mustache who was beside Jackie earlier turned to look at Rudy and said curiously, “Why is he not attacking? Won’t it just put him at a disadvantage if he keeps on doing this? Could he just be trying to drag things out because he knows he’ll lose?”

In truth, he had worded it very vaguely. What he meant to ask was if Jackie knew that he would die, and was just trying to stay alive for as long as possible.

No matter how dumb Rudy could be at times, he understood the meaning behind those words. He thus turned to look at the man and answered coldly, “We’ve got no reason to speculate before the results are out. Just keep watching.”

The man’s lips twitched, swallowing back the words he was about to say.

After avoiding another attack, Jackie looked up at the beast again.

'It flew up again,' he muttered to himself.

He had just been avoiding the attacks, but he had also been observing the movements of the beast. He still had a question he needed an answer to. He stopped as he grabbed his sword with both hands, slashing at the beast. Destroying the Void turned into a black slash that flew right at the Thousand Feathered Beast.

At that moment, the crowd burst into murmurs and gasps.

"He attacked! He finally attacked! I really don't want to see the guy dying of exhaustion before he even launches a single attack!"

"Tell me about it. That'd make the battle way too boring. Only the beast was attacking, while the guy was dodging! It wasn't interesting at all!"

The gray slash traveled very quickly. In a flash, it appeared in front of the Thousand Feathered Beast.

Facing Jackie's attack, there was no way the beast would not move. It stretched its wings as it shot into the skies. The slash whizzed past the Thousand Feathered Beast's claws, not hitting it at all.

Everyone heard a boom as the slash hit the barrier.

Chapter 3057

It was a barrier specifically made to cut off the stage and the outside world, protecting the spectator stands from being affected. When the slash hit the barrier, it caused small ripples before being absorbed.

Jackie let out a sigh as he frowned helplessly.

The Thousand Feathered Beast did not just attack incredibly quickly, but the speed at which it moves was not to be underestimated, too.

Earlier, the Thousand Feathered Beast had the chance to move away before he attacked, but it waited until Destroying the Void was coming at it before it fled.

Was it trying to show off its speed?

The beast was made of energy, incapable of thinking for itself!

Those thoughts floated in Jackie's mind before he discarded them. It was not the time to think of any of that when the spectators saw what happened, they could not stop talking.

Even Arne lamented, "How quick! Lucius truly is unlucky, 'cause that bird is nimble. Attacks can't reach it with how fast it moves! Even if Lucius has a way to run, his true energy will get exhausted in time. He's bound to die, delivered like a slab of meat on the chopping block!"

A Deer Pavilion disciple quickly said, "You're right, Arne! This kid is already meat on the chopping board waiting to be cut in half by that bird! He's lucky, though. If he fell in our hands, we wouldn't have let him off so easily!"

Arne pursed his lips as a look of disappointment flashed in his eyes. "You're right. If Lucius ended up in our hands, he'd suffer a worse fate and would wish he was dead. Letting him die like this is too good of a fate for him!"

After saying that, Arne curled up his fists as he looked at Jackie's figure with venomous hatred.

Jackie narrowed his eyes slightly on the stage. He gripped his sword with both hands again as he stared right at the Thousand Feathered Beast. His right hand started to form even more seals.

Ample energy flowed into the gray sword as he activated the laws of space, pulling into a safe distance away from the beast again. This time, he planned on launching a long-range attack.

In truth, Jackie was in no hurry to end the fight. Even though he experienced quite a lot recently, he felt like he lacked experience compared to others. He did not want fights that were in his control to end too early.

He clenched his sword as he faced the Thousand Feathered Beast again. He let out a slash, this time only the size of a fist. Suddenly, it completely expanded in the air, turning into a massive slash that was nine meters wide!

Before, the Thousand Feathered Beast avoided Jackie's attack because the attack was too small in scale. The Thousand Feathered Beast had avoided the attack so quickly, so Jackie decided to launch a huge attack this time. He wanted to see if the beast would be able to avoid it.

When the slash turned large, the Thousand Feathered Beast immediately felt a sense of danger. It flapped its wings against as it flew right up.

Since Jackie had launched a horizontal attack, the attack only expanded horizontally, yet the beast flew upward. Jackie's attack slammed into the barrier again. After causing some ripples, nothing else happened.

The crowd fell silent for a moment after witnessing that before they erupted again.

“There has to be something wrong with this guy! Doesn’t he know what expanding the range of an attack does? Every technique has its limitations. Unless they were large area attacks to begin with, expanding the area of an attack would mean decreasing the strength of a technique!”

“That’s right. If the strength of the attack had been a ten, the attack was probably only left with a five after what he did. He’s a wandering warrior, so how strong can the technique be?”

“If the attack had been at its peak, it might’ve been able to injure the bird. After he expanded the attack, the attack was only left with a strength of five! Even if it damaged the bird, the bird would only lose a few feathers at most!”

Arne started to cackle. This time, he did not deliberately laugh in an exaggerated manner but was really laughing at Jackie’s idiocy.

Everyone could tell that the technique Jackie used was not supposed to be a large area attack. He would just be reducing the damage it would deal by expanding it, which was completely foolish!

Anyone with a sliver of intelligence would never do it!

Arne laughed and said, “I’m beginning to suspect that this guy was just trying to entertain me when he started the black iron bet! Ever since he stepped on stage, everything he did has just made me laugh. First, he just kept on avoiding the attacks. After that, he impatiently countered. His attack wasn’t fast enough, but instead of changing his way of attack, he decided to expand his attack range. Does he think he’s using an ultimate god rank technique that would heavily injure the bird even if he expanded the area?!”

The other disciple laughed.

“He’d be extremely lucky to have access to a lower earth rank technique, let alone an ultimate god rank one! I think he’s probably only good at running away. No wonder he was so arrogant. He probably thought that he’d be able to run away from all of us!”

Arne let out a snort. “Please! Even if he can run, it doesn’t mean we don’t have anyone here who specializes in speed. As long as we want to, we’d catch him! It’s all too late, though, ‘cause this guy will die here. There’s no way he can survive!”

Rudy’s face was red with anger. He wanted to walk up to Arne and slap him right in the face. He did his best to hold back his anger, however. It was not that he did not want to offend Arne, he just did not want to do anything pointless. Nothing would happen no matter how much they argued.

He meditated on this thought to suppress the anger welling up in him, trying not to lose his cool. Arguing with them would do nothing.

Just as Rudy was composing himself, Arne said again, "This is the dumbest person I've ever seen. He thinks so much of himself and is so prideful! Lucius is probably regretting everything at the moment. He never expected the beast he picked to not only be strong but so quick as well. He knows that he'll die if this goes on! That's why he's regretting things. He was too prideful, unable to see through his decisions!"

The other disciple joined in the hate train.

"I don't think he's that prideful, but he's just very stubborn. He insists on showing off to the end. We already know what awaits him; he'll have thousands of feathers pierced through him! He'll die horribly!"

"He will. He's so confident in himself, there's no way he can accept the result," Arne mocked.

Rudy could no longer hold back after hearing all that. He suddenly stood up and looked at Arne. "Before the results are revealed, can you please shut your mouths? Do you think you're all smart? In my eyes, you're the scatterbrained ones!"

"You know nothing about Lucius, so how are you so sure he'll lose? Do you think everyone will end up getting burnt to a crisp like Lesley?!"

After Rudy said that, he looked at Arne coldly, causing Arne to turn purple in the face. "What did you say?!"

Rudy smiled coldly. "I'm speaking human words. Do you not understand them? Can you shut that annoying mouth of yours? You might feel that it's fine after you speak, but please be considerate of how others feel. I feel like puking the moment you open your mouth, do you know that? The things you say are far too stupid!"

The moment Rudy started talking, he could not stop himself. He recalled everything that Arne had said and got even furious. If he could, he wanted to kill Arne with his words.

Arne stood up from his seat angrily as the tension between the two of them rose instantly. The tension was so thick it could be cut with a knife, and a fight was bound to happen if nothing was done.

The disciples of the Deer Pavilion hurriedly pulled back Arne when they saw that the situation was not great. If they started fighting, it would be no joke. It would anger the laws of Hundred Beast City.

Hundred Beast City would not care about one's skill or background. As long as a person broke the rules, they would immediately be punished. If they were struck by lightning, they would end up just like Lesley. No matter how reluctant they were, they had to stand up and grab Arne's arm.

"Arne, calm down. Don't try to argue with someone like that. If you come to blows, then everything is over! Even if you were a chosen disciple of the Scarlet Pavilion, you wouldn't be able to stand up to the laws of the Whirling World. After all, the laws here ignore anything. If he died, nothing of value would be lost, but if you're dragged down with him, it wouldn't have been worth your life!"

Those words successfully calmed Arne.

He sighed as he looked back. "You're right, my life is worth so much more than his!"

After that, Arne shouted at Rudy, "Don't even think about dragging me down with you, you brat. I won't fall for your tricks. If you want to die that badly, run up to the stage and die with Lucius!"

After saying that, Arne let out a cold laugh, looking like he would not fall for any tricks. He sat back down, not bothering to look at Rudy anymore.

Rudy's lips twitched in exasperation, certain that Arne was of unsound mind. It was probably something that Arne would never change in his whole life as well. Since he chose to keep quiet, however, Rudy could not be bothered with anything else and returned to his seat.

Jackie could not hear anything from the spectator stands no matter how loud they were. At that moment, he had thoroughly figured out the Thousand Feathered Beast. He let out a cold smile before he gripped his sword with both hands.

He pointed his feet forward and rushed into the air, slashing right at the Thousand Feathered Beast again. He slashed from the lower left to the upper right angle. The gray slash turned into a massive nine-meter slash once again. This time, he had expanded the technique just like before. He knew that it would reduce the power of the attack.

Chapter 3060

However, Jackie did not care. He even activated the laws of space around his blade, causing the original attack to only need to travel half the distance.

The Thousand Feathered Beast let out a cry and shot up into the air like before. This time, it was unfortunately not as quick to dodge as a fraction of the nine-meter slash pierced through its lower body!

The Thousand Feathered Beast's whole body stiffened as its wings constantly shook. It could not stop crying out in the air.

Someone shouted among the spectators, "It hit! The slash hit the lower body of that bird!"

"Something's wrong! Look! Why aren't there any wounds on the bird's body at all? It clearly hit the beast, so why isn't there any blood at all?"

"That's true! I feel like that bird just shouted out a few times! It's still flying upwards... So it's not affected at all!"

The Thousand Feathered Beast indeed flapped its wings to stay afloat.

Jackie's Destroying the Void did pierce the Thousand Feathered Beast's lower body. Other than letting out a cry of agony after being hit, the beast did not seem to have any other reaction at all. It caused quite a few people to be curious, too.

"It seems like the beast's defense is just too strong. Even if Lucius' attack managed to catch the beast, the beast's defense was top-notch, so it caused no great damage."

"Even if it's that strong, a few feathers should've fallen, but this bird didn't even drop a single feather. Isn't that crazy?"

"You're right... I think it's a little absurd as well. Could this guy's offensive abilities be so weak that he can't even break a few feathers? Or perhaps this beast's defenses affect every single part of its body?"

The discussions on the spectator stands were intense as everyone was baffled at the sight.

Jackie's attack looked like it was quite powerful. Even if the power had been reduced because it was expanded, it still hit the beast in the end. It should have at least left a bit of a mark!

They were speechless at the fact that not a single feather fell from the beast. Other than a few cries of agony, it did not seem affected at all!

Arne laughed crazily again. "Hilarious! What kind of technique is this kid using? Is it even at the earth rank? He runs so fast, but I can't believe his attacks are so weak. He wasn't even able to break a single feather!"

The other disciples of the Deer Pavilion joined in.

“Arne’s right. Could this guy be using an elementary red level technique?! Otherwise, how could it be so weak? It’s so weak that I can’t even bear to look at it!”

“If it is that weak, why was he so pompous before his match? Where did he derive his courage?”

“Didn’t we mention it before? This kid probably came from somewhere insignificant. He probably thinks that his meager skills can bring him to great heights, that no one in the Hestia Continent is a match for him!”

“He’s just an ignorant fool who doesn’t know how vast the outside world is, and that’s why he dared to start the black iron bet. He thought he could win three matches in a row!”

The disciples of the Deer Pavilion were just filled with ill intent at that point. They were incredibly happy, incessantly saying that Jackie was completely useless. Compared to how excited the Deer Pavilion was, the other spectators were much calmer.

“I think I can see the end of it all, so there’s no need to fight anymore. I thought that he might actually be able to at least win one match before dying in the second round. I can’t believe he can’t even make it through the first!”

“I feel some sympathy for that green-robed wandering warrior, though. He earned quite a bit before but threw a hundred thousand spirit crystals in one go. He’s making such a huge loss. Luckily, I listened to your advice and didn’t bet on Lucius. Otherwise, I’d be crying right now!”
