

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3086 - 3090

Chapter 3086

Rudy reached out and grabbed Jackie's hand as a happy glint appeared in his eyes and said, "Most of those from our world probably don't know the truth. Even if they know some of it, their mouths are completely shut. They won't reveal the truth to us at all, but we can ask warriors from the other worlds! To them, the Whirling World might not be a secret at all!"

Jackie nodded, feeling like Rudy's mind was getting sharper. He had not even thought about that, but Rudy had.

He then nodded earnestly, "You're right! All that information is treated like a complete secret in Hestia Continent, but it might be common knowledge in the other worlds. After all, Hestia Continent had been sealed off for some unknown reason for so long!"

Thinking about that, Jackie immediately started to make plans on how he would get the information. Even if the primary goal at that moment was to continue advancing in the Whirling World, they could not just rush forward without any information. The more they knew, the more solutions they would have when they were in danger!

At the southeastern corner of the city, some of the disciples of the Pentagram Clan from the White Marsh Continent were gathered. They had emotional looks on their faces as they intensely discussed something.

"Trevor, just stop! I won't give up on entering a level two city!" Ethan shouted.

Trevor Henry frowned, feeling like Ethan was acting like an obstinate mule. No matter how nicely he put things, the guy refused to listen.

Trevor said in frustration, "Why do you think I'm trying so hard to advise you? Is it just because I like playing around? It's all for your own sake!"

"No matter how high your position is in the Pentagram Clan, you're still just an alchemist! You can't defend yourself at all! Don't you know what sort of place level two cities are? Do you not know how dangerous they are?"

"After entering, our fellow disciples will be struggling to even protect themselves. Would they have the ability to protect you? If there's any danger, you'll definitely be the first to die inside. Are you really happy being cannon fodder?"

A string of questions was shot over, but Ethan remained stubborn, refusing to submit!

He raised his voice and said, "I'm not an idiot. Of course, I know what a level two city is. I know it's dangerous inside as well. I might be an alchemist, but I have my ways to protect myself!"

"Level two cities aren't filled with danger everywhere. There are quite a few safe spots. After I enter, I won't be in danger as long as I stay in the safe areas! All of you can face the dangers. I won't drag you down by going to dangerous places with you!"

Trevor felt like he was about to explode in anger at Ethan.

His lips twitched as he said, "You're being too optimistic! There are definitely safe spots in level two cities, but they're still level two cities in the end. Without the rules around, they're complete hunting grounds!"

"In there, you're just pure cannon fodder. You're a big slab of meat! After all, everyone knows that alchemists tend to be rich. After you enter the level two city, as long as you stay in the safe spots, the dangers in the city would naturally not harm you..."

"What about outside the city? Will the other warriors just ignore a fat piece of meat like you? Won't they attack you? We won't be able to take care of you when we're surrounded by danger at all. You'll just be forced to stay alone in the safe areas. As long as other warriors walk past, you should have no chance at surviving!"

The more Trevor spoke, the angrier he got.

His face was reddened, and the other chosen disciples of the Pentagram Clan spoke to Ethan as well, "Trevor's right. Ethan, why are you so insistent on entering a level two city? Can't you just stay in a level three city? It's too dangerous there. Even warriors at Trevor's level have to be extremely careful in level two cities..."

Chapter 3087

"Not only does he need to be wary of the dangers the level two cities themselves pose, but he also needs to be on guard against the warriors from the other worlds! Weak warriors are non-existent there. After you enter, there's a high chance you'll be in danger!"

"I don't think it's just a high chance, I think it's almost assured! As long as you meet any danger, your chances of survival will be incredibly slim. Are you going to throw your life away in the whirling World? Don't forget, there won't just be warriors from White Marsh Continent in the level two city, there will be warriors from other worlds as well!"

"The warriors of the other worlds won't know anything about the Pentagram Clan. They won't be afraid to attack you nor are they afraid of any revenge from the clan! In their eyes, you're just an incredibly delicious piece of meat. Why would they ignore you?"

Ethan's lips twitched as he panted furiously. He started to walk forward, and the disciples behind him followed along.

The more Ethan thought about it, the angrier he got, "Do you just think that I'm an idiot? Do you think I'll go around provoking warriors from other worlds the moment I enter a level two city? As long as I don't wear my alchemist robes, would they know who I am? They won't try to attack me for no reason. Do you really think I want to die?!"

Trevor got even angrier after hearing that and replied, "I don't understand. Why are you insisting on entering a level two city? What benefits would it give you? Are you just trying to see how dangerous a level two city is?"

Ethan said indignantly, "Of course, I'm not entering a level two city just because I want some experience! Level two cities haven't seen any alchemists for countless years..."

"All those valuable materials are just like wild grass to all of you. Yet, I can tell at a glance which ones are valuable!"

Trevor pursed his lips as he looked at Ethan like a complete idiot. He was entering a level two city to get materials!

He was completely speechless. If he had not managed to retain his rationality, he might have grabbed Ethan's collar and slapped him a few times. He wanted Ethan to realize that valuable materials were nothing. If Ethan died, the materials would just be someone else's prize.

Ethan felt that no matter what he said, the disciples around him would not bring him into a level two city.

The more he thought about it, the angrier he got. He felt like he was being branded as a useless alchemist by them.

Ethan widened his eyes and said, "I know you see me as a burden! I know that I'm not as skilled as all of you! We all have our specialties. Not a single one of you can compete against me when it comes to alchemy!"

"The Whirling World only opens once every five hundred and thirty years! Surely you know what five hundred and thirty years mean without me telling you? So many masters have missed out on this... There is an age limit to enter the Whirling World, and so many people have been denied entry because of that!"

"I was able to enter because I was lucky. I can't just waste an opportunity like this!"

Trevor frowned and said, "Then tell me, around how many warriors enter the Whirling World each time? After two years, how many of them manage to stay alive?"

Ethan's lips froze at that moment!

The Whirling World's death rate was as high as fifty percent. If six hundred thousand warriors entered, three hundred thousand making it out alive was already considered a miracle.

In certain cities, many matches ended in a lot of deaths. Even if the rules in the cities prevented killing, warriors would kill each other outside of the cities.

Death was a mainstay in the Whirling World, but Ethan felt like he was not that unlucky. If half of the warriors died inside, did that not mean the other half made it out alive?

He was sure that he would be part of the half that made it out alive!

Chapter 3088

The only reason they were trying so hard to stop him was that they felt like his skills were not good enough and that he would drag them down.

Ethan felt frustrated just thinking about that. He had become a disciple of the Pentagram Clan thanks to his status as an alchemist, but at that moment, he was the one being tossed aside.

The Whirling World only opened once every five hundred and thirty years. The chance to enter the Whirling World was something incredibly valuable to every warrior. The Whirling World was a miraculous world created by ancient heroes.

There were countless cities in the world, and each city had its own unique trait. Countless treasures were kept within the cities. The closer they got to the center of the Whirling World, the more treasures there were, and the more valuable. Even though a level two city was incredibly dangerous, there were still quite a few safe spots.

As long as he quietly stayed in a safe place and did what he wanted to do, he would not be in danger. It was something everyone knew, but they frantically denied him.

The reason was simple, it was just because they thought he was a burden! Ethan got angrier when he thought about it. When they needed him to refine pills for them, he had never said no. Yet, when he was asking them for help, they found all sorts of reasons to reject him.

Trevor was especially hateful. He was one of the leaders of the Pentagram Clan, and a chosen disciple as well. He had the power to make certain decisions.

Before, Ethan had always treated him politely and helped him quite a lot as well. Yet, that was the attitude Trevor was treating him with. It was as if he was a completely ignorant idiot.

Just as Ethan was feeling all that rage, he suddenly saw a familiar figure in the corner of his eye. His entire body stiffened immediately. He looked over and felt like a fuse had been lit inside him when he saw who that person was clearly. He almost lost his mind as his rage exploded.

He narrowed his eyes as he rushed over, grabbing that person's arm, "Jackie! I can't believe I'll see you here! I thought you would have already been killed by someone!"

Jackie's expression darkened as he pulled his hand away from Ethan's grasp with annoyance.

When he saw Ethan, Jackie felt incredibly annoyed.

During the seventh group competition, he had listened to a lot of nonsense from that guy. Now that he bumped into Ethan again, that fly that could not be chased away would definitely blabber on like before. He was absolutely annoying!

When Ethan saw Jackie, various feelings surfaced. He still remembered how Jackie had mocked him and challenged him. After getting the golden treasure. Jackie had looked at him with disdain as well. Jackie even said a lot of things that caused him to be laughed at.

At that moment, Ethan absolutely hated Jackie!

If he had not been delayed by certain things before, he would definitely have tried his best to look for the warriors he was familiar with in Hestia Continent and have them help him to kill Jackie!

Ethan was already furious at what had happened earlier, so when he saw Jackie, his anger reached its boiling point. Facing his own fellow disciples, there was no way he would go too far no matter how angry he was. Yet, Jackie was always an enemy. All of his anger condensed together immediately and it exploded right at Jackie.

When Jackie saw Ethan's slowly distorting expression, his lips twitched helplessly. He felt like the guy seemed to be ill.

Rudy looked at Ethan curiously. Ethan's face was unknown to Rudy, but with what Ethan said, Ethan must have a tremendous grudge against Jackie, which meant that Ethan was an enemy.

Chapter 3089

Jackie's lips twitched helplessly as he took a step back, stepping away from Ethan.

He felt like Ethan was acting like a mad dog that had lost all rationality. If he did not distance himself, he might end up getting bit.

'So it's you. That guy who loves to brag but doesn't have the skill to back it up,' That was what Jackie thought of Ethan.

He still remembered how Ethan had constantly declared that he was the strongest alchemist present during the tournament. He claimed that no one could beat him, but he got a bronze treasure in the end.

After he got the bronze treasure, he refused to believe the results. He claimed that Jackie had cheated, and said a lot of unbelievable things. What Jackie just said had definitely angered Ethan.

The embarrassing scene immediately appeared in his mind. Everything had been caused by Jackie. If it had not been for Jackie, he would not have embarrassed himself in front of the alchemists from the three worlds.

After returning to White Marsh Continent, he had been constantly mocked for what had happened in the tournament. He had even dragged down the Pentagram Clan with him. All the anger condensed together. If it was not for the rules of the middle city preventing any fights, he would have fought Jackie to the death on the spot.

At that moment, the other disciples from the Pentagram Clan walked over. They looked at Jackie curiously. When they felt Ethan's anger, all of them automatically regarded Jackie as an enemy, looking at Jackie with an unkind expression.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, feeling even more exasperated. He could not believe that such a big coincidence had happened. Of all the people there, he actually met Ethan.

He looked at the people behind Ethan and sighed internally. It seemed like there was no way he could just brush this thing aside. Then, he decided to just not care anymore.

He had already offended so many people anyway, there was no harm in adding one more. Furthermore, they were from White Marsh Continent. The Hestia Continent had already been separated by an unknown barrier. Even if they wanted to cause him trouble in the outside world, they would not be able to.

That was unless they enlisted other warriors from Hestia Continent, but Jackie no longer cared about that. He would just let the storm intensify a bit more!

Ethan clenched his teeth and said, "It's all because of you! Don't think that I can't do anything to you! I've already made plans for my revenge. You won't be able to run away!"

Ethan stared at Jackie viciously, looking like a snake that had just been incited into combat. He looked like he was about to bite at any moment.

Jackie pursed his lips, feeling incredibly amused, "Can you think about your words before you speak? You said I harmed you, but how did I do that? Did I force you to tell everyone that you'll definitely get first place in the group? Did I make you say that you'll definitely get the golden treasure? Did I force you to insult me?"

Ethan's lips froze, his face reddening at Jackie's words.

After saying that, Rudy finally realized who Ethan was. Jackie had told Rudy about what happened at the tournament before. That hateful person turns out to be Ethan. No wonder Jackie said that Ethan only knew how to brag.

Thinking about how Ethan had only gotten second place in the end, Rudy felt like laughing.

Chapter 3090

The sixth-grade alchemist that he had looked down on had beat him to get first place, slapping him on the face viciously. Rudy could not stop himself from letting out a laugh, unable to stop the mocking smile from appearing on his face.

Looking at Rudy, Ethan almost stopped breathing from the anger. He was an incredibly prideful person. He could not stand being mocked by others at all.

His mouth dried in anger. He barely managed to gulp as he said, "I won't let you off so easily! The two of you will die! I'll let you know the consequences of offending me!"

Jackie's lips twitched speechlessly. He had heard those similar words countless times. Many people had told him that they would make him pay the price before, and even worse had been said as well.

Jackie was already completely immune to all of them. Furthermore, Ethan was just an alchemist. No matter how strong he was at alchemy, he was still trash as a warrior.

He estimated that Ethan was probably a little stronger than Rudy. After all, he had a good background, but he was only a fraction stronger than Rudy!

Alchemists put most of their time into alchemy, so how would they have the time to practice combat?

Jackie completely disregarded Ethan's threats!

He sneered and said, "I really want to see how you plan on dealing with me. What ability do you have to deal with me? Don't tell me you'll look for warriors of the Hestia Continent to kill me. You can't do it!"

Ethan almost lost his mind after hearing that, "Why do you think I can't do it?! Let me tell you! I absolutely can! I can easily find someone to kill you. You might be a little stronger than me in alchemy, but an alchemist is still an alchemist. Facing strong warriors, you're just a big ant. You'll die with just a pinch!"

After hearing that, Jackie could not hold himself back from laughing either. After all, Ethan's words were exceptionally funny to Jackie.

He spoke as he laughed, "You speak like you're not an alchemist? I'm a large ant? I will die with just a pinch?"

Jackie was more and more amused as Ethan shouted in reply, "That's right! You're just an ant. Any strong warrior can kill you easily. I can as well! I heard that you have no background at all. You're just a wandering warrior..."

"You probably got some inheritance from someone, which is how you reached your heights in alchemy! You should have put all your focus on alchemy! You did not have time to practice combat at all. I'm different from you. I might be deeply into alchemy, but I never forgot to improve my skills as well! Killing a warrior like you would be incredibly easy for me!"

As he said that, Ethan's face was incredibly confident. It was like he was the absolute strongest, and everyone else was nothing to him.

Jackie raised an eyebrow and asked, "You think you can beat me?"

Ethan nodded vigorously, "Of course, I can beat you. Killing you is something incredibly easy for me, let alone just beating you."

As he said that, Ethan reached out three fingers, "I only need three moves. I'd cripple you in three moves!"

Jackie laughed as he took out the middle city token from Mustard Seed and played with it in his palm.
