Chapter 3021

Lesley let out a cold snort as he narrowed his eyes, measuring the green-robed man up and down. His anger from the very start turned into raw contempt as he said with a cold laugh, "Wandering warriors really are all dumb. Looking at what you're wearing, it's obvious that you're not from any clan. You should just be one of the luckier wandering warriors. Someone like you just likes choosing something against the flow to show that you're special. You're actually just making a fool of yourself!"

The green-robed man's expression darkened as he started to look at Lesley furiously. Lesley had not held back with his words at all, cursing the man out. Even if the man really was a wandering warrior without any affiliation, the man could still not bear to be insulted like that.

He took a deep breath and turned around to face Lesley, "Is there a rule that says that I have to bet on you? Betting how much and on who is a warrior's personal choice. What does it have to do with you? There were a few people before who betted on the beast as well, so why didn't you say anything? Instead, you're acting like you've been deeply insulted just because I'm betting on the beast, jumping out just to fault me!"

The more the man spoke, the angrier he got. Even if he had no clan, there were still various rules and restrictions in the Whirling World which meant that they could not just do whatever they pleased. It was because of that, the green-robed man dared to say his thoughts.

Those words alone did not manage to fully vent his frustrations.

He started to shout, "I know why you didn't say anything to them. It's because they come from a larger clan. You're only daring to talk to me like this because I don't have a clan behind me!"

The people there were no idiots. All of them knew that the green-robed man was speaking the truth. Those disciples from the Deer Pavilion were only good at bullying those who were beneath them. They only target those who were worse off than them and tried their best to curry favor with their superiors. Even if Hestia Continent is a place that embraced survival of the fittest, their actions were really despicable!

Lesley's expression darkened immediately. He never expected that the wandering warrior would dare to say something like that.

Lesley let out a cold laugh as he narrowed his eyes, "Very well! Since you've dared to come to the Deer Pavilion, you'd better remember this. From now on, you're an enemy of the Deer Pavilion! I assure you, there's no way you're leaving the Whirling World alive. You'll end up rotting in the Whirling World as a corpse!"

Lesley did not hold back from his threats. He looked like he did not care about what anyone else would think about that This person had challenged his dignity, so Lesley would not let the man off!

The green-robed man trembled slightly. Even if the man was furious, he still had some rationality.

Lesley's tone had been incredibly cold when he said that. There was not much emotion on his face. It meant that he had been calm and sure that he would pull it off. It seemed like the man's future was not. looking that bright. He might need to live in hiding from then on. The man's lips stiffened as his earlier anger suddenly disappeared completely.

Chapter 3022

The fact that he had survived for so long without a clan was enough to prove that he was both lucky and somewhat skilled. At that moment, he did not dare to speak back at all. He was forced to swallow all his anger as he hurriedly turned around, not even looking back as he left the betting area.

At that moment, everyone around him looked at his retreating back. Everyone could only silently curse in their hearts, feeling disgusted at Lesley's actions. Yet, no one said anything at that moment.

When Rudy saw that, there was a look of doubt on his face. He whispered to Jackie, "Why do I feel like they're getting more and more scared? Do you still remember how the wandering warriors challenged the Unbreaking Pavilion's disciples in Thousand Leaves City? Then, there were so many people in the spectator stands, and most of them were shouting at the disciples from the Compass Pavilion. The Compass Pavilion is even higher up than the Deer Pavilion. The warriors had dared to speak out like that even to a clan that's at a higher level... Yet, all of them are acting like cowards right now, not daring to say a single thing. After being threatened, he was forced to run off with his tail between his legs..."

Rudy could not understand the attitude of the warriors there. He felt like there should not have been such a huge difference.

Could the warriors that had been eliminated be the ones that were the bravest?

Even though the warriors there were more skilled, they seemed more cowardly.

In Jackie's eyes, the situation should have been reversed. After all, the warriors that are gathered at Hundred Beast City should all have already gone through many tests before making it here.

Hundred Beast City was a level six city. Only warriors with intense dignity would want to strengthen themselves, so they should not have reacted like that.

Rudy could not understand at all.

Hearing Rudy's words, Jackie laughed as he narrowed his eyes at Lesley's position. He then said, "The situation is different. There would naturally be two different results. There had been so many spectators in Thousand Leaves City. It was practically full of warriors. During that time, everyone was incredibly excited. They had incredible numbers as well.

"They would naturally voice out their opinions against the Compass Pavilion. The situation this time is different. Everyone's queued up and not far away from Lesley. It would be very easy for Lesley to catch any one of them out and target them. No one is willing to be the one being sacrificed."

When Jackie explained it that way, Rudy suddenly realized that the situation really was like that. They were so close to Lesley at that moment, and all of them were queued up nicely. It was easy to be singled out. That was why those people were not willing to speak up even if they were angry. They were scared that they would catch Lesley's eye. Earlier, Lesley had threatened the man without holding anything back, which sounded off the alarm bells in their minds.

That green-robed man was worried that he would suffer from that day on. It was one thing if he could get to a level five city. If he did not get a token to lead him there, and if he remained stuck at the level six city, he would be in danger.

Jackie frowned, not looking like he was in a good mood. He seemed to have thought of a possibility.

He reached out, grabbed Rudy's arm and said, "In a bit, no matter what happens, do your best to control your anger."

Jackie's words had another meaning to them. Rudy turned around to look at Jackie curiously. However, Jackie merely shook his head, not explaining it.

Chapter 3023

As time passed, it quickly got to Jackie's turn to place a bet. Jackie sighed as he looked at Rudy. The two of them already had their spirit crystals prepared. Since there was a limit to the amount, they could only bet fifty thousand spirit crystals.

After Jackie took out his spirit crystals, he did not hesitate to place the bet on the beast's side.

His actions attracted the attention of everyone around him. After all, what the green-robed man had just been through was still fresh on their minds. Yet, there was actually someone who dared to bet on the beast.

The person was dressed up ordinarily. He looked like a wandering warrior, just like that green-robed man! His actions looked exactly like a challenge to those around him.

Quite a few of them suddenly had a change of expression as they looked at Jackie in amusement. He raised his eyebrow, not caring about how everyone else was looking at him at all. Just like everyone had thought, Lesley started to frown.

He looked at Jackie, full of hatred, his expression just felt like a complete annoyance to Jackie.

Lesley snorted as he mocked, "It looks like you're a special kind of an idiot as well! Do you think that betting fifty thousand spirit crystals on the beast will prove that you're better than everyone else? Can you stop being so disgusting..."

Earlier, Lesley had called the man out for trying to stand out, but in Jackie's eyes, the one trying to do that was clearly Lesley. It was like what the green-robed man said, betting how much and on who was the warrior's own choice. It had nothing to do with anyone else. However, Lesley looked like a mad dog that only knew how to bite.

The moment he saw anyone betting on the beasts, he felt like people were looking down on him!

Jackie raised an eyebrow as he looked at Lesley calmly. Some thoughts were in his head. That guy really insisted on barking crazily like such a mad dog. Jackie really did not want to bother with him.

Jackie let out a laugh as he said calmly, "You really love bothering about random things. I want to bet on the beast because I feel like you can't beat it. So what? I want to bet on the beast! What can you do about it? Don't you think you're an idiot? Why do you care about how I spend my spirit crystals?!"

Lesley was the one who came looking for trouble anyway. Even if they offended the Deer Pavilion, they were nothing to Jackie. He had already offended much stronger clans, so what was the Deer Pavilion?!

After Jackie said that, Rudy was so emotional that he was about to clap for Jackie. The warriors around Jackie clapped for Jackie in their hearts. Even though they were looking at Jackie and Lesley with amusement, they really regarded Lesley's actions with contempt. They were very happy to see Lesley eating his own words.

Lesley's lips twitched as he got even angrier.

Did Jackie not see how that green-robed man ended up?

Did he not hear what Lesley had said?

That brat was actually challenging Lesley like that!

Chapter 3024

Lesley took a deep breath as his voice turned hoarse, "You brat, you should know your place! You're now on the Deer Pavilion's list of enemies as well! Unless you spend your whole life in Hundred Beast City, I'll definitely have my men cut you apart the moment you step out of the city. I'll make you regret everything you did today!"

The green-robed man had completely stopped fighting back the moment he heard those threats, leaving the place miserably. Everyone had thought that Jackie would do the same. After all, as wandering warriors, they did not have a clan behind them to support them.

After provoking the Deer Pavilion, they would definitely try to exact revenge. The future would be much harder!

After hearing what he said, Jackie felt like it was a huge joke. He was no longer afraid of anyone like that. It was just the Deer Pavilion. They were not even an eighth-grade clan.

There were so many restrictions in the Whirling World, how could they trouble Jackie at all?

Jackie let out a snort as he said coldly, "Then just try it out. Don't cry when the time comes."

After saying that, Jackie walked towards Lesley. His footsteps were firm and his body was straight. He looked like a general that had just won a war. Rudy followed closely behind him.

They were not that far from Lesley in the first place. After Jackie walked over, there were only three feet between them. The atmosphere suddenly turned incredibly tense.

Under everyone's curious gazes, Jackie said, "Who do you think you are? Do you think bullying those beneath you will make you seem better than you are? Betting on whoever we want is our freedom. I bet on the beast not because I wanted to show off, but purely because I feel like you'll definitely lose! "

As he said that, Jackie's tone was incredibly calm as if he was talking about what he was eating for that day.

Lesley's eyes widened as his arms started to tremble from his anger. No one had ever talked to him like that before. Jackie's words did not hold anything back at all. They merely told Lesley in an incredibly straightforward way that Jackie definitely thought that Lesley would lose.

After Lesley heard that, the flames of anger in his heart roared even greater. He clenched his teeth as he stared at Jackie, wanting to rip Jackie apart.

"If you think that, then you're just stupid. I'll use my skills to prove that your actions are complete idiocy!" Jackie snorted as a look of disdain flashed in his eyes.

He did not bother taking what he said seriously at all. He merely stared at Lesley coldly. The guy would definitely not be nice to him, so Jackie would not bother showing him any kindness either.

Their conversation caused the originally calm atmosphere to break out into discussions.

Everyone looked at Jackie with inquisitive and exciting looks. They really wanted to ask how a wandering warrior like Jackie actually dared to go against the Deer Pavilion.

Did he really not know what the consequences would be like?

Did he have someone behind him that could help him against the Deer Pavilion?

Someone whispered, "Who is this guy? Does anyone know him? Even if he's a wandering warrior, surely someone knows him!"

"I don't know either. I think this kid must have something wrong with his head. Otherwise, there's no way he would do something so absurd. Just listen to what he said earlier. Every single sentence directly assaulted Lesley's heart. If I was Lesley, I would definitely never let him off. He trampled Lesley's dignity right to the ground!"

"So what? Lesley was looking for it. Just look at how pleased with himself he had been earlier. He finally hit someone he couldn't deal with. He thought that he could do whatever he wanted just because he was from the Deer Pavilion. He never thought there would be someone who refused to back down, humiliating him in front of everyone!"

Chapter 3025

"No matter what, there's no way he can just let go of this. I wonder if this kid will be able to handle it..."

Jackie did not care about how everyone else was talking about him. He had already used to being the center of discussion. No matter what any of them said, it would not affect him at all.

Lesley felt like he was about to explode from his anger at Jackie.

The disciple from the Deer Pavilion behind him could not stand it at all. After all, Jackie's earlier words had not only insulted Lesley but had even looked down on the Deer Pavilion.

One of the inner disciples from the Deer Pavilion said loudly, "Brat! I'll remember you from now on. You dared to insult Lesley like that and insult the Deer Pavilion. I'll definitely make sure you pay for it a hundredfold!"

Jackie looked at that person up and down. He was just an inner disciple from Deer Pavilion, but he was already acting so arrogantly.

Jackie laughed as he looked over in disdain, "Why do you love to brag just like it? Before the results are even out, you're already praising yourself so much. You're even saying you'll make me pay a hundredfold? Who do you think you are? Do you think you have that ability?"

Jackie shot back without any reservation.

That inner disciple's expression stiffened as he started to pant roughly in anger. If not for the fact that he still had some rationality in him, he would have attacked Jackie right away.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, not wanting to bother those people. He looked at Rudy, and Rudy immediately knew what Jackie was planning. The matter had already progressed here, and what needed to be said had already been said. Jackie naturally did not want to waste any more time there.

Jackie raised an eyebrow at Lesley. After that, he turned around and headed back to the spectator stands. At that moment, Lesley was already trembling in anger. He suddenly turned to look at where Jackie had left.

Jackie had gray robes on that day. To not attract any attention, there was nothing special about those robes. There were not even any patterns on them. That was why Lesley was sure that Jackie was a wandering warrior.

Any disciples with the slightest bit of background would not lower themselves so much.

Lesley clenched his teeth and said, "Just you wait, I'll do what I said. I'll make sure you're begging for mercy!"

After he said that, he started to walk towards the thirteenth colosseum.

At that moment, Lesley was in no mood to stay there. He had stayed there to show off, but after what Jackie did, he would just become a joke if he continued staying there.

Jackie and Rudy had already found a spot in the spectator stands that were near the stage. They did not pick a secluded corner like in the past. After the two of them sat down, Rudy could no longer hold back from speaking.

He turned to look at Jackie, "This time, I won't try to say anything. It's just a Deer Pavilion, there's no point trying to please them. Honestly, [he Deer Pavilion's disciples are such a joke. Even though the Deer Pavilion is at the top of seventh-grade clans, they're still just a seventh- grade clan. They can't compare to eighth-grade clans! I don't know how the Deer Pavilion educates their disciples. All of them seem to think the world of themselves. They're so good at acting superior..."

Jackie nodded, "You're right, these people think too much about themselves. They feel like they can act however they want to just because they have a tiny bit of skill! The Whirling World's rules are emotionless!"
