Let me go, Mr. Hill Author: Shallow South Chapter 2907

In the evening.

The Bentley slowly drove into Jewell's old house.

Chester, who had not been back for almost two years, had an indescribable sense of strangeness.

"Young Master, you can be considered to be looking forward to your return." The housekeeper enthusiastically stepped forward to open the door in person, wanting to help.

Chester's eyes swept over with a light note, and the smile on the housekeeper's face froze.

"I don't need your help." Chester stretched out his cane, first stretched out a healthy leg, and then took the chip leg out.

Mr. Jewell and Mrs. Jewell had come out. Just seeing Chester like this, Mr. Jewell's eyes flashed with anger and disgust, but he quickly disappeared.

"Chester, your legs are really much better, like a normal person." Mrs. Jewell greeted him with a smile, "Come in, Mom let the nanny cook a lot of your favorite dishes."

Chester walked silently in the hall and entering the gate, two bodyguards nodded respectfully at him, and then smiled at Kaiden.

The bodyguard: "Brother Kaiden, I haven't seen you for a long time. I miss you."

"I know you miss Kaiden, so I prepared a few tables of wine and food for you, and went to the side to get together." Hank waved his hand majestically.

"I only came here after dinner, so I don't need to eat." Kaiden straightened his back, "My responsibility is to protect Young master Jewell with every step of the way."

"What do you mean, he's in his own home. It's impossible to hurt him." Hank got angry when he heard it.

The bodyguard on the side persuaded: "Brother Kaiden, Mr. Jewell always really wants to ease the relationship with Young master Jewell, let's go to the side to get together, don't disturb their family reunion, besides we are outsiders, some words are not convenient for us to listen."

"Kaiden is not an outsider." Chester suddenly said lightly, "I'm a person with inconvenient legs and feet, and I'm used to him serving by my side."

Hank's face sank in dissatisfaction, and Mrs. Jewell quickly stopped him to persuade him, "Okay, okay, isn't it just a bodyguard, let Kaiden come in, it's been hard for Kaiden these two days."

Kaiden immediately followed Chester after hearing this.

The kitchen dishes were not ready yet.

After Chester sat on the sofa, Mrs. Jewell inquired about his life in foreign countries during this period of time.

She should be concerned, Chester chatted with each other.

Later, Chester didn't know how to get involved with Cindy.

Mrs. Jewell said, "Cindy is quite business-minded, your dad and I invested some money in her, but I didn't expect her to successfully acquire KC Technology. I heard that yesterday KC Technology and FYG Videos cooperation agreement has also been reached. By the way, in order to cooperate with KC Technology, the shareholders of FYG Videos also gave 10% of the shares to Cindy. Cindy said that she would give us 5% of the shares. She's so kind and righteous."

Chester was stunned for a moment, then frowned. He remembered that Charity was the major shareholder of FYG Videos, and Cindy stepped in because of what he wanted.

"Mom, you paid all the money for the acquisition of KC Technology. How much is FYG Videos's 5% shares worth?" Chester was really speechless.

"5% of FYG Videos's shares are naturally not worth much, but when the market value of FYG Videos increases, the money will double." Hank snorted coldly, "There is still a lot of big cake for FYG Videos. There is room for expansion."

"Are you planning to intervene?" Chester raised his eyebrows.

"We're going to help Cindy." Hank said lightly, "Don't you always look down on me as a father? Let me tell you, I still have a lot of resources, even if I can't be a shareholder of Jewell corporation, without you, I can still make money elsewhere."

Chester lost his interest in talking instantly. His father and mother were really stupid and rich.

It's time to eat soon.

The nanny brought the dishes, and tonight's meal was quite hearty.

Mrs. Jewell eagerly served her son's dishes, and Chester didn't know what Mr. Jewell and Mrs. Jewell wanted to do. In short, after the meal, they should be able to enter the theme.

Just after eating a few chopsticks, Chester frowned, "Is the dish a little salty?"

"Is it salty?" The nanny rubbed her hands nervously, "I usually do this. "

"I asked her to put more salt." Hank Jewell said quickly, "the taste is important, it's easy to eat, and besides, I don't think it's salty."

Mrs. Jewell also agreed, "I often follow your dad to eat like this, I'm used to it, so I don't think so."

Chester's mouth moved slightly, as a son, he really didn't want to care about these things, but as a doctor's professional ethics, he couldn't help reminding: "Eating too much salt is not good for your health, especially when you are old, You need to eat lightly, otherwise it will easily lead to three highs. In addition, I advise you to go to the hospital for a physical examination. Is your sense of taste a little out of balance?"

"Listen to you." Mrs. Jewell smiled and said to the nanny, "Come on. Put a little less salt next time, and eat lightly."

Chester was very uncomfortable eating that meal, the dishes were too salty, so he drank two glasses of water to quench his thirst.

After the meal, Chester rarely went around with them, "Since I've come here and I've eaten, Dr. Walker's granddaughter can be put back."

"It's been sent back long ago." Hank Jewell said, "You haven't come back for a long time, sleep at home tonight, I have the servants clean your room."

"What am I doing here? let you destroy my other leg." Chester was impatient, "What do you want to do when you called me here?"

Mr. Jewell and Mrs. Jewell looked at each other, and after a while, Mr. Jewell coughed lightly, "I recently took a fancy to a project, but I have short of money in my hand to invest, can you give me some first..."

"Impossible. If you are short of money, ask Cindy to ask for it. Didn't you fund her a lot." Chester said, picked up his cane, stood up and planned to leave.

"I just want you to give me two billion." Hank Jewell stood up angrily, "I am your father, if you hadn't taken over the property in my hands, would you have today?"

Seeing this, Kaiden immediately protected Chester before.

"For the rest of your life, take care of yourself and take good care of the money left in your hand for retirement. My money is not for you to spend casually on outsiders." After Chester said coldly, he turned around and walked away.

As soon as he walked out the door, the gardener who was watering the flowers with a hose at the door suddenly poured all the water on Chester.

"Sorry young master Jewell, I'm sorry, I didn't mean to." The gardener apologized in a panic, "I didn't expect you to come out suddenly."

"Son, why don't you go up to take a shower and change your clothes." Mrs. Jewell hurried up when she saw it.

"...Okay." Chester took a deep look at his mother, and that eye looked at his mother as if her body had not penetrated.

When Chester walked upstairs and Kaiden wanted to follow but the bodyguard downstairs stopped him, "Brother Kaiden, Jewell's family rules that we can't go upstairs."

Jewell's family did have this rule, Kaiden was embarrassed to see with Chester.

"Wait downstairs."

It wasn't that Chester didn't notice something was wrong.

Chester thought before that Mr. Jewell and Mrs. Jewell called him for money, but when the gardener drenched him with water just now, he suddenly felt that he might have guessed wrong.

As for the real reason, it might be known later.
