Let me go, Mr. Hill Author: Shallow South Chapter 2900

Chester sighed innocently, "It feels like you think I'm paying a favor. Forget it, I'll take a taxi by myself, so as not to disturb Kaiden's appointment, he is in his thirties. Now, in order to take care of me, Kaiden doesn't even have a girlfriend, it's too bad."

Chester opened the car door and looked like he was going to go out.

Charity was speechless, "Okay, I'm joking, sit down, it's all on the way anyway."

"I don't want you to think about me badly." Chester said solemnly, "I don't mean that."

Charity: "..."

Charity slandered in her heart, but she didn't dare to talk nonsense, she found out that once a person was shameless, no one wanted to talk about that person.

Chester was like this now.

Even the words were twisted and twisted with several layers of meaning.

"I'm driving." Charity started the car, "By the way, your mother and Cindy saw you in the hospital just now, will they go to check on my mother's hospitalization, and does my mother need to be transferred?"

"Are you afraid they will find your mother and will make trouble?"

"Hmm." Charity made no secret of her doubts.

Mrs. Robbins, who grew up in a small place, didn't necessarily have a strong heart.

"I'll say hello to Dr. Edwards and have a few security guards on the floor, so that no one else disturbs Auntie." Chester said lightly, "Do you think it's easy to transfer to another hospital? Business is the hottest right now. The only thing is the hospital, where you go there first for an examination and then queue up for the operation. You won't be able to get my auntie within a week. Of course, if you want to find a better doctor for surgery, you might have to wait a month or two."

Charity: "..."

Charity's scalp was numb, and then she remembered that when she took Mrs. Robbins for an examination today, she heard complaints from the patient's family members, saying that it took three days to queue for a gastroscope.

Chester reminded her, "Do you know how many people out of town are queuing up to see Dr. Edwards? Dr. Edwards's full for next month's appointment."

Charity was speechless, and after a while, she said, "If you are in the clinic, Is it possible to fill up the queues for the second half of the year?"

Chester: "Our hospital can only queue for nearly two months at most."

Charity glanced at Chester next to her, "I think you are quite busy every day."

"I don't think so. Don't be idle." Chester denied it. Charity went to work during the day, and Mrs. Robbins was at home, so Chester just came to her house to see her daughter.

Chester didn't mind nursing her daughter at home every day.
