Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 1140

Chapter 1140 Everett felt tense, and his expression darkened when he said it.

'I didn't dare to approach her because of my illness. That's why I suppressed my passionate love for her.

'Well, in the end, she's the one who took the first step.'

The woman that I love so much confessed to me hesitantly, afraid that her feelings would burden me.'

Whenever he recalled it, he felt his heart ache.

'How can I be such a coward and let her be the first to confess her feelings to me? 'The more she tried to approach me, the more I tried to escape from her. She must've felt extremely hurt and disappointed.

'How can I let the love of my life go through so much pain?!

'I'm such a horrible person!

'She bravely took the first step and confessed her love for me. Her love for me shines so brightly. How can I not embrace it?

'So, what if I'm ill? I can control myself. I will control myself. I won't let it hurt her.

'She's God-sent. I'll cherish her and our relationship together. 'I'll show her all my love for her and make her happy.

Confessing my love for her is just the beginning.'

Ninian, who was on the other side of the line, was still stunned. She could not help but tear up.

'Everett said he... loves me...

'I've saved this number for a long time. Does that mean he loved me back then as well?!

'Does that mean our feelings are mutual?'

Tears streamed down and moist the back of her hands as she said in a choked voice, "Everett, I love you too."

'I really do.

'Even though it took me so long to realize that I love him, he didn't make me wait long for his love, either. He put in more time and effort for our love.

TA

"Ninian, I love you too," Everett said. 'She's mine. She's the woman that I've longed for, the love that I thought would merely be a wild-goose chase.

"So... does that mean that we're together now?" Ninian asked tentatively.

"No."

"Huh?!" She could not help but feel disappointed.

Before she could dwell on that sadness, Everett said, "I've just confessed my feelings for you. I've not made any effort to make you mine yet. I can't get together with you just like that, can I?" There was a hint of cheekiness in his tone of voice.

Ninian was confused, but she gradually came clear of what was happening. She could not help but smile and said cheekily, "And... how are you going to do that?" "Time is fleeting and life is short. I want to use the rest of my life to love you, protect you, pamper you, and make you happy. You will never have to worry about a single thing anymore," Everett said solemnly, from the bottom of his heart.

'So, Ninian ...' He said, "Would you like to be with me?"

Tears instantly welled up in the corner of her eyes when she heard this.

She was happy and sad at the same time.

She covered her eyes and could not stop smiling.

"Yes," she said unwaveringly. 'Oh, Everett. My charming Everett. The boy that I've longed for, for three long years.'

How could she turn him down? She just wanted to go to him with all her longing and courage.

Once they agreed to start dating, Ninian felt that she was constantly surrounded by happiness, and she was extremely happy, as if she was constantly drinking honey.

After Everett told her about him intending to go back in advance, she snapped out of her daze and said, "Oh yeah! You must not let my brothers know about you, or they will separate us like Romeo and Juliet!" She knew about her brothers' "old-fashioned feudalism" and "dictatorship" very well.

"Don't be afraid," Everett indifferently said, and his tone was very cold and deep. "No one can separate us." No one could take her away from him, including her family.

"Yeah. Regardless, let's just keep a low profile. We should avoid trouble as long as we can," as Ninian spoke, she frowned again. "My brothers were deceived today, but what should we do next? They will watch me very closely. I don't think I can sneak back..."

"Should I bring you with me?" Everett said, "As long as I'm here, no one can force you to do anything you don't want."

"You'd better not!" Ninian immediately interrupted him. "You'd better not show up first, or there'll be a lot of trouble! My brothers are very sensitive and suspicious about these things. They're not going to show you any mercy."

Everett pursed his lips and said, "I don't care."

He initially did not want to stand up against the Winters family, but if she was involved, he couldn't care less.

"I care! I'm afraid that you'll be bullied! My brothers are very cunning!" Ninian stuck out her tongue, and she said, "Forget it, I'll go and confess to my sister and fight for her support and help."

Everett did not comment on anything. He just said, "You do what you have to do. I'm always here."

Ninian was touched. She chuckled in a silly way. "It's great to be in a relationship. I should've confessed to you earlier!"

She just got herself a boyfriend like this. She was so happy!

Everett chuckled without speaking.

They hung out with each other for a little while longer before they reluctantly hung up. When Ninian took a look at the time, it was already 10:00 pm, and she sent a message to Melody's Whatsapp.

(Mel, are you sleeping?) [No, what's wrong? Grapie, what is it?] Melody replied very quickly. (Yes! Please send a car to pick me up. I want to meet you!) Ninian speedily replied. Based on her experience in the afternoon, the bodyguards would not be so willing to let her out. But, if Melody came to pick her up, she did not need to worry about that. Ninian made a good plan. Soon, Melody's car arrived, and she arrived at Melody's place smoothly.

It was a detached villa. The first and second floors were renovated into music practice rooms. There were many rooms on the third and fourth floors that could provide the band members to stay overnight.

Melody welcomed Ninian.

The bedroom was very spacious, and the decorations made it exquisite and elegant. It was very artistic, and Ninian could tell at a glance that it was Melody's favorite style.

Ninian voiced her praises all the way. When she sat on the couch, she showed a big thumbs-up to Melody. "Mel, you're awesome! This room is so nice!"

"Do you like the decorative style?" Melody gently smiled and said, "I also quite like it. It's really not bad."

"Did you design this?" Ninian asked.

"It's not me. It's designed by Brooklyn." Melody smiled and said. Her gaze was filled with some tenderness. "It's my junior, Brooklyn Ortiz. You met him during the day." "Aww..." Ninian prolonged her intonation with a hidden meaning

Melody frowned, and she cast a strange gaze at Ninian. “, Why are you smiling like that? Is that very funny?”

“No!” Ninian held back her laughter so hard that her belly hurt. She immediately opened up another topic. “Mel, I came to you because of a very serious thing!” “Does it have something to do with you running away in the afternoon?” Melody glanced at her. She was indifferent and had an imposing manner.

But Ninian was not afraid. She blushed, and she said with a shy smile. “Mel, I want to tell you that I’m in a relationship now.” When Melody heard it, she was shocked. “What?”

When Melody heard what Ninian said, she could no longer remain calm. She looked shocked as she stared at Ninian. “Grapie, do you know what you’re talking about?”

Ninian seriously repeated herself again. “Mel, I’m in a relationship. This is true.” “You... how could this be?” It was only after Melody held herself back for a long time that she asked, “How old are you?”

“I’m already an adult,” Ninian said, “Besides, my mind is very clear and of my own will. I’m not ignorant at all. I’ve met someone whom I really like, and he also likes me . back, so we’re together.”

“But...” Melody did not know what she should say. She was no longer indifferent and calm as usual. She just looked lost and in disbelief.

“How could it be you?” She muttered.

If it was any of the elder brothers, she would not feel surprised, but this was her youngest sister.

In her eyes, Ninian was still the princess who needed to be protected and pampered by the family. Why would she suddenly grow up?

“Mel.” Ninian held her arm, acted cute, and said, “You can slowly accept this, but you have to help me with something else.” “What is it?” Melody subconsciously asked. “Help me to cover this up from our brothers!” Ninian grinned and held Melody’s arm. Her bright eyes blinked as cunning as a fox. “They are investigating this. If they know about my relationship, they will not accept it. Then I’ll be miserable. I will be forced to be separated from the one I love. How pitiful!”

Melody imagined the situation when her elder brothers knew about her sister’s relationship.

She could not help but have goosebumps when she just imagined the situation.

It was so scary that she dared not imagine.

“Who’s this guy?” Melody asked, “Is he sincere to you?”

“He’s Everett Craig. Mel, you’ve met him before.” Ninian’s gaze softened, and she softly said, “It’s him who saved me in that accident three years ago...”

Melody frowned, and her gaze froze. She started recalling her memories.

Was it the young man?

She did indeed meet him.

He had protected Ninian fiercely like a lone wolf, but he also nearly tore the criminal apart like a scary beast.

That young man was quite good, and it was said that he was the young master in the Craig family. But she had heard from George that there was a problem with his health.

Melody briefly told Ninian about the young man's condition when he fell sick, and the doctor's judgment asked by George.

When Ninian heard it, she was slightly startled. "Do you mean there are problems with his emotions and mental state?"

"Yes. Georgie studied that disease. It's a rare mental disease. It's like having dual personalities. A ruthless, paranoid, and cruel subpersonality lies dormant. He is usually not different from normal people, but he can't take sudden hard changes to his peace of mind. When he receives a strong stimulus, the sickness will arise. He will be controlled by the subpersonality, and he will become cruel, bloodthirsty, and lose his rationality."
