Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 1146

When the box was opened, Ninian saw a beautiful crown before her.

Its craftsmanship was exquisite and detailed. Besides, it had a fashionable and popular design. If Ninian remembered correctly, this crown should be one of the final models at the Royal Auction in Famarmoa not long ago.

Even the royal princess of Famarmoa had failed to bid on it because an anonymous person had bought it.

"Is this..." Ninian muttered with surprise and astonishment. "Is this the crown named 'Treasure of the Century?'"

Everett nodded. He picked up the crown and carefully put it on Ninian's head.

He looked at her with a serious gaze as if he was staring at his most important treasure.

"This is my first birthday gift to you. This is to celebrate the birth of my princess eighteen years ago and how she became my savior."

Ninian was startled, and her eyes slowly became teary.

Subsequently, Everett opened the second box.

There was a pair of exquisite and stunning crystal shoes.

“You started learning how to walk and independently move at two,” Everett said. “Thank you for walking toward me step by step.”,

Ninian covered her lips, and her eyes were already filled with tears.

Then, Everett opened the third box. It contained a beautiful necklace, of which its pendant was a finely crafted ring lock.

“Please allow me to be selfish. I want to lock you tightly and keep you by my side forever.”

Then, there was the fourth, the fifth...

Everett had selected every gift with great effort. They were not only valuable, but they also represented his strongest feelings and unspeakable thoughts.

He wanted to secure her by his side so that she would never leave him.

By the time he almost presented all the gifts before Ninian, her vision was already blurry, and her face was full of tears.

Time slowly passed, and each second was long, meaningful, and unforgettable.

Finally, Everett opened the last gift.

The box was mostly empty. It only held a piece of card.

“This is my identity card, and it’s also my personal token. If you have this card, my properties and power will be at your disposal at any time.” Everett stared into her eyes. He looked serious but also nervous, which was hard to cover up.

“Ninian, I give myself to the eighteen-year-old you.

“Are you willing to accept me?

“Are you willing to accept me forever and never back out?»

His gaze was so affectionate that Ninian felt her blood boiling.

She walked forward, raised her arm, and avoided touching the identity card in the box.

Everett’s complexion turned slightly pale. In the next second, she held his fingers with her soft and warm hand. As she sobbed, she said, “This is the best and most perfect gift that I’ve ever received. I’m so happy and honored. Everett, how lucky am I to be loved by you.”

Everett looked at her and stretched his arms out right after. He held her tightly in his arms while he gently kissed her head.

She did not know that he was the luckiest man!

All these years, he had moved alone in the darkness, and she was the only one who had supported him to move forward.

She had no idea how many years he had longed for her.

Soon, food was served in the restaurant.

Ninian accepted Everett’s gifts and asked the staff to pack them up and send them to her current apartment.

The private room became empty, and only the two of them were dining quietly.

Ninian secretly raised her head and glanced at Everett before she curiously said, "Everett, I'd like to ask you a question."

It was not until Everett finished forking some fish and putting it on Ninian's plate that he asked, "What is it?"

"Do you remember when we met three years ago? You even saved me at that time."

After Everett looked up at her and pursed his lips, he finally said, "Yes."

He was not willing to recall what happened three years ago.

Whenever he thought of that scene where she was nearly defiled, he would feel his emotions spiral out of control slightly. He wanted to kill.

Besides, he had fallen sick back then. He guessed that he must have scared her too.

Everett changed the subject. "Enjoy the food. It won't taste as good once it turns cold."

"Okay," Ninian answered obediently. She lowered her head gloomily and appeared a little dispirited.

Everett, whom she had been longing for, refused to recall the incident where he had saved her. It confused Ninian, but she felt disappointed more than anything.

Everett seemed to notice her lousy mood. He looked at Ninian and softly asked, "Ninian, can I make a request?"

"Huh?" Ninian raised her head and looked at him with her big eyes. Her gloominess instantly faded, and her eyes were bright. "What is it? Tell me."

"The way you call me sounds too distant." Everett pursed his lips as if he did not feel happy. "Other girls don't call their boyfriends by their names, right?"

Ninian was stunned for a while before she immediately crinkled her eyes in amusement and smiled brightly.

How could Everett be so adorable?

"What should I call you then? Evi? Cutie Pie? Baby?" Ninian gave him a teasing look and grinned as she said, "Everett, I don't know. Can you tell me?"

She looked at him with a smile as she acted in a demure and extremely cute manner.

Everett's heart melted completely. He cleared his throat awkwardly and answered with a misty gaze, "The... The last one."

"The last one?" Ninian raised her eyebrows in surprise before she burst out laughing. "I didn't know that 'the Everett' would be like this. Haha!"

He wanted her to call him "Baby"!

Haha! It was hilarious!

Everett, who was extremely cold, indifferent, and overbearing, had actually blushed and awkwardly asked her to call him "Baby."

Ninian held her belly while she laughed so hard that she almost cried.

Everett immediately got up and gently stroked her back. He had a helpless but puzzled gaze.

Was it that hilarious?

Other couples called each other the same thing.

What was wrong with "Baby"? She was also his one and only baby "Alright, don't choke." Everett stood beside her. His eyes glinted before he suddenly asked, "Baby Ninian, would you like to drink some water?"

Ninian who was still cackling away instantly froze and stopped laughing

When Everett saw this, he smiled faintly. "Hmm, Baby?"

Ninian was speechless.

She started coughing hard, clearly choking from the shock.

Everett panicked this time. He squatted partially so that she could lean on his shoulder while he patted her back to help her breathe smoothly. Ninian finally got better. She leaned in Everett's arms with a flushed face.

"Are you feeling better? Do you still feel bad?" Everett nervously asked.

Ninian raised her head and looked at him. She did not know whether it was because of embarrassment or because of the coughing, but her face turned red as if she was on fire.

She looked at Everett's anxious gaze and abruptly said, "Baby."

Everett was taken aback.

"Evi? Baby Everett?"

"Baby, I like you a lot."

Chapter 1148 "Haha!

"Haha!"

In the apartment, Ninian held her face and sat on the couch as she kept chuckling in a silly way.

Nerola and Lana at the side exchanged looks, and they saw fear in each other's eyes.

"What's wrong with her? Has she gone crazy?"

"I don't know. I was on leave for a few days, and she just returned from abroad. Why is she behaving abnormally now?"

Nerola and Lana looked at each other at a loss.

Nerola stroked her chin, and something flashed in her eyes. "Based on my experience, there's only one sentence that can describe Ninian now. The girl's in love," she said.

Lana found herself speechless.

"Ninian!" Lana shouted, snapping Ninian out of her daze.

She turned back and asked in confusion, "Huh? What happened?"

"Tell me, honestly. What happened to you these past few days?" Lana put her hands on her waist like a little fighter and asked in an imposing manner, "Why is your laughter so impure? Did you have some kind of affair out there?"

Ninian remained silent for a while before she answered, " No."

Everett was not an affair. He was her god! He was her fairy!

Lana finally sighed in relief. She wiped her tears that did not exist before she pretended to cry and said, "Boohoo! Thank goodness! You scared me! If you got involved with a strange man, Amber would kill me!" "Ahem..." Ninian cleared her throat awkwardly before she raised her hand weakly and asked, "If I take the initiative to tell her about my relationship, would that: offset my offense?" "Of course. If you take the initiative to confess... Hang on!" Lana instantly stopped talking and questioned her in disbelief, "What did you say? You're in a relationship? Am I having tinnitus ? Why am I hearing such shocking news?"

Nerola calmly pressed her down and comforted her. "You don't have tinnitus because I heard it too."

Lana was speechless.

She could not remain calm. She wanted to take out her forty-meter-long knife so badly. "Who is it? Who stole our princess? How many days were you in Ufrya? Why are you already in a relationship? Is he a stranger in Ganstern? How dare he seduce my goddess? Where's my gun? I'll fight him alone!" she said angrily.

Nerola looked at Ninian as well. She narrowed her eyes slightly, while light flashed through her eyes. "Ninian, did your dream come true?"

Ninian raised her head shyly and glanced at her before she turned her body and answered, "Uh-huh."

Lana and Nerola were speechless.

Nerola took a deep breath and showed her a big thumbs up. Her expression was full of praise and admiration." Wow! You're really impressive!"

Ninian had actually taken Everett down!

This was amazing!

Lana registered what was going on after some thought. She was in disbelief. "Is it what I think it is?"

Nerola tried to put her at ease. "Be more confident. It is what you're thinking!"

Lana pouted and nearly cried out.

Her comfort was not warm at all!

Ninian was in a relationship, and her boyfriend was actually “the Everett”!

Oh, God! It was Everett ! Once the news spread, it would shake the entertainment industry! Ninian was so tiny. How could she take it?

Lana cast a grieving gaze at Ninian before she angrily said, “You’re trying to torture me!”

After she said that, she quickly picked up her phone, went outside, and gave Amber a call to report the situation.

“If Amber finds out, she won’t be mad. Instead, she’ll be very happy,” Nerola said. Despite that, her eyes were filled with worry.
