

Madam Winters 101

Chapter 101 When Adina arrived at The Rock Bar, she pushed open the door to a private room and went inside. Soon after, she saw that Flint had been tied and thrown on the floor. "Addy, you're finally here..."

Flint wiggled over like a caterpillar. Just then, he was kicked to the side by a man in a black suit. The man in the black suit walked over with a cigarette. "Did you bring the money?" Adina threw the box over. "Five million dollars, not a penny less." The man in the black suit threw the box to his people behind him to let them count the money. The group checked for ten minutes before they were done. Adina grabbed Flint by the collar and walked outside. "Addy, I'm sorry. Please don't be mad. I won't hang out in a place like this again." "Mad at you? Ha! Do I have the time?" Adina pushed him strongly. "I'm warning you. If you get into this kind of trouble again, don't call me!" This man was already twenty-five years old, but he was still getting into blackmailing situations. Who would believe that? If this brat had not gotten horny, why would he have fallen into the trap? When Adina looked at him, she just found him very dirty. She gritted her teeth and said, "You have to pay me back $6,000,000 on top of labor costs." After that, she just walked away.

Flint staggered as he followed her.

He was the Morton family's young master, and it was also his first time being blackmailed. He was so angry that his body was in pain. However, when he saw that Adina was furious, he could not be bothered with getting back at those people who had blackmailed him. He immediately went after her. He was drunk, though. Plus, he had been beaten up earlier. When he moved faster, he could not walk in a stable manner. As a result, he staggered and fell on the floor, which made those around him laugh.

Adina was beside herself. She felt embarrassed when so many people looked at them. She walked over and gave Flint a kick in the butt. "Get up now!" Flint covered his knee and pitifully said, "Addy, I can't move. Come on, help me." Adina glanced at him. There were still scratch marks and hickeys on his neck from women. She was worried that they would make her hands "dirty."

"Okay, if you love being embarrassed, just stay here," she said angrily. Her expression turned cold, and she continued to walk out.

Suddenly, she could feel a strong gaze on her.

She looked over and instantly became speechless.

It was Duke and his gang.

The group had actually witnessed the embarrassing situation. Adina secretly cursed Flint again! She thought that she should go and greet Duke as well as the gang. After all, they had just become business partners today. However, before she could move, Flint got up from the floor and leaned on her. "Addy, I really don't have the energy. Please help me. I will compensate you with $6,000,000, okay?"

His complexion looked terrible because he was really uncomfortable. Adina was annoyed, but she did not want anything to happen to him either. She nodded at Duke from afar before she brought Flint out of the bar. The two of them quickly disappeared through the door. "Tsk!"
