

Chapter 166

“Hello, Madam, are you looking for a piano for your child? Will it be for the boy or the girl?” The shop assistant stepped forward enthusiastically.

Adina let Alden hold Melody’s hand, while she followed the shop assistant to look for a piano.

They were in the best piano shop in Sea City. The price of the cheapest piano was nearly six digits, and the expensive piano was nearly $1,000,000.

Luckily, Adina did not lack money. But even if she lacked it, she would not want her children to suffer.

When she was five, she had learned how to play the piano with Dew, and both of them had learned it for a decade. Although she had been neglecting her piano skills all these years, she still possessed some basic skills.

pretty tone, and its vibrato is especially perfect.” The shop assistant smiled and said, “You really understand pianos. This is our shop’s signature model.”

“I have some knowledge. Anyway, I want this piano. Please deliver it to

Just as Adina was about to tell him her address, a figure slowly walked up from the side.

Dew walked over in her high heels, and her eyes were full of arrogance.

She stared at Adina’s slender fingers coldly, and disdain filled her gaze.

She had learned to play the piano with Adina in the past, but Adina had always scored much better than her in every piano examination. Feeling extremely jealous, she had bribed the piano teacher for a decade. During those years, Adina’s results would always be worse than hers.

Her father had told her that she was gifted at playing the piano, and he had even wanted to send her abroad to study it. She felt guilty and lost the mood to practice her piano skills ever since she became Daugherty Corporation’s heiress, so they were put aside. When she saw Adina trying out the piano, all those bad memories flooded her consciousness again. She had finally decided to practice her piano skills with Ms. Alice, but Adina was also buying a piano at the same time?

Was Adina going to do whatever she wanted to do? Si Adina raised her eyebrows and scoffed. The world was really small she was just buying a piano, but she managed to meet the person whom she hated to see the most.

She held her arms around her chest and lazily said, “Why? Did I get in your way just by buying a piano?”

“I want this piano.” Dew took out her bank card and handed it over “Process the payment.”

The shop assistant quickly said, "This customer asked for it first. Miss, why don't I show you our other pianos..." "No, I want this one!" Dew smiled scornfully. "I'm offering you double the price." The shop assistant said, "This is not about the money. It's about our rule of 'first come, first served...!'"

"Triple the price." Dew waved her card impatiently

Adina suddenly chuckled. "Okay, I'll give it to you for three times the price Hey, go ahead and process her payment."

Since the customer agreed to it, the shop assistant did not have to hesitate anymore. He went to prepare the bill at the counter

Dew sneered, "You're sensible." Adina glanced around the piano shop indifferently. That piano was the best in the shop, and it was not sold anywhere else.

Those who had seen good pianos would not look down on any of the pianos there. Melody had just been exposed to pianos, so Adina simply wanted to buy one for her in the nearby shop

Unexpectedly, someone still tried to stop her.

Despite that, the tripled price was sufficient for Dew to suffer a loss. Adina glanced at her uncaringly before she turned around and left
