

Chapter 203

Adina brought the two kids into the ward. The gloomy Harold jumped happily

“Aunt Adina, I love you so much! I was just missing you, and you came with Mel. I’m so happy!”

Adina smiled and said, “Alden suggested that we visit you. He’s worried that you’re too lonely.”

Harold pouted in suspicion “That’s impossible. He likes to bully me the most. Why would he suggest visiting me?”

“It’s true.” Adina stroked his head and lowered her voice “Actually, Alden’s very worried about you, but he’s shy, so he doesn’t show it.”

Harold secretly looked up, just in time to look Alden in the eyes

Alden did not avoid Harold’s stare. “As long as you like my sister, I can try to like you too,” he said indifferently.

“I don’t care if you like me!”

Harold turned around awkwardly. However, his ears had turned red. Clearly, he was in a pretty good mood. Alden sat down by the bed, looked down, and asked, “Where’s your Dad? Why isn’t he in the hospital?”

“He said that he would come and keep me company in the afternoon, but who knows when he’ll finish his work,” Harold said with a pout.

Alden raised his wrist and cast a glance at the time. Then, he remained silent.

“Young Master, lunch is here!”

At this time, Mr. Brown walked in with a lunch box.

When he saw that Adina was there, he grinned and said, “Ms. Daugherty, you finally came. The young master talked about you last night!”

“Papa Brown, hurry up!” Harold said excitedly “This is Mel, the girl I told you about. Isn’t she extremely adorable and pretty?”

Papa Brown looked at Melody’s face

When he saw the little girl, his heart melted. “oh gosh, she’s so cute. I’ve lived for a long time, but this is my first time seeing such an adorable girl. Hmm...”

Mr Brown felt suspicious as he stared at Melody’s features. “Why do I find Melody quite similar to you, Ms Daugherty?” The little girl had a chubby face, so one would not notice the similarities with just a glance. But the longer he looked at her, the more alike she was to Adina. They were like replicas but of adult and child versions

Harold covered his mouth and laughed. "Haha! Papa Brown! Guess why Mel looks like Aunt Adina."

Mr. Brown took a look at Adina before he cast a glance at Melody. He felt troubled as he said, "No way It can't be what I'm thinking, right?"

He had been the Winters family's housekeeper for more than forty years, and it was his first time seeing the master being interested in a woman

He had always thought that something would happen between Ms. Adina Daugherty and the master

Ms. Daugherty was the children's aunt, and their relationship was a little messy Nevertheless, if the master liked her, there would be no problem.

But now! Could someone tell him why Ms Daugherty had a daughter? "Haha!" Harold slapped the bed and laughed. "Papa Brown, Aunt Adina ts Mel and Alden's mor

"What?"

Mr. Brown looked at Alden who was sitting quietly at the side again

He was instantly in shock So, Ms. Daugherty had two kids? And they were twins?

Wait a minute!

He needed to digest this! Mr Brown recalled the public opinion on the Internet some time ago. The news mentioned that Ms Daugherty had given birth to a pair of stillborns four years ago
