

Madam Winters 71

Chapter 71

Sunlight shone in from the balcony as Adina tidied her hair and sat up. She stared into space for three seconds before she got up and went to get ready.

After she sent the kids to preschool, she had to go to Xavier Corporation and attend the press conference for the new product. Then, she had to go to Winters Corporation to discuss the collaboration.

She pulled open her closet and chose a work dress. As soon as she got changed, she heard some noise from downstairs.

“Who allowed you to stay here? I’m giving you three seconds. Get out, now!”

Ethan was standing in the living room and looking very angry.

ride to the press conference in Xavier

He had come over because he wanted to give Corporation.

Unexpectedly, as soon as he entered the house, he saw a man only in his pants lying on the couch and sleeping soundly.

He instantly became furious.

Meanwhile, Flint was just as angry.

He had slept in the study last night, but there had been too many mosquitoes in the room. So, he had no choice but to sleep on the couch in the living room.

He was a man, who had been pampered in a rich family, hence he was not used to sleeping on the couch. He only managed to fall asleep when the sun was almost up. However, not long after he fell asleep, he was awakened by the angry yells of a man.

When Flint opened his eyes, he saw Ethan, who looked like a gentleman in his suit, so he squinted.

He leaned back on the couch before he scoffed. “I’m Addy’s boyfriend. Why can’t I stay here?”

Ethan was filled with so much rage that his complexion turned blue. “Don’t try to ruin Addy’s reputation. If you’re not leaving, I’m going to ask the security guards to throw you out.”

“Hmph! If you throw me out, Addy won’t spare you,” Flint said recklessly. “Who are you? You just rushed in here without knocking or asking for permission. You’re invading a person’s house illegally. According to the law, you should be jailed for at least fifteen days,”

“This is my house. Do I need your permission before I come here?!” Ethan yelled angrily,

“Of course, I’m the master here!” Flint shook his head to declare his ownership. Suddenly, it dawned on him. “Did you say that this is your house?”

Last night, Addy had seemingly mentioned that this was her grandmother’s house. Was this man.

Flint immediately pulled the blanket over to cover his shirtless body.

Oh, my gosh! He had actually been so rude to Adina’s cousin!

Ethan was livid.

Although Addy had two kids, she was still an innocent girl to him.

Would he not get angry when he suddenly saw a topless stranger lying on the couch in Addy’s house?

Ethan glared at Flint.

Flint, who had been arrogant earlier, already noticed that he had made a huge mistake. He got up gloomily and ran toward the study quietly.

Adina was already downstairs.

“Ethan, why did you come over so early?” she asked in surprise.

Flint’s heart skipped a beat.

The man was really her cousin!

“Who’s that man?” Ethan suppressed his anger and asked. “Be honest with me, Addy.”
