

Mrs. Gibson Your identity is Exposed Chapter 637-643

Chapter 637 Plot Against Shayna

She looked at Vivian, who was beside her, and slowly siglied in relier. It seemed that she had to return to the company this time.

Fortunately, her health had been well maintained these days. Her spirit was much better than before. Melissa told the nurse to take care of Vivian and then headed to the company.

The moment she arrived at the company, she gatlicred everyone to liold a meeting

Everyone perked up. In the past few days when Melissa was not around, they did not have any resources. It had been a long time since they had devoted themselves to their work.

As long as Melissa returned, everything was still possible.

Melissa looked at the large group of people in front of her and felt more determined.

Since so many people had to rely on her, she had to deal with it properly.

“I know that everyone is dispirited now, but Vivian is injured, and we can’t fight with all our strength now, so we can only protect the present resources first. As long as we have Shayna’s high-end luxury endorsement, the rest can be dealt with later.”

Then, Melissa stood up and gave the stall sojie psychological guidance, making them more enthusiastic

But the good times did not last long. After the meeting, a piece of news came.

“Melissa, bad news. I just heard that Shayna’s endorsement has been taken away.”

Melissa frowned. Hearing this, she could not bear it anymore.

“This is 100 much.”

She looked at the data on the screen. There was a company that was rising rapidly. It was Quentin’s company

Her eyes were as dark as the night. It was this Dial who had been competing against Star Entertainment for resources.

Originally, Shayna’s endorsement was won by Melissa’s company, but Quentin raised the price again, directly snatching the steady resources,

In the entertainment industry, interest was everything

Money decided where resources went.

Melissa looked at the screen and rubbed her temples. It gave her a headache.

At that moment, Quentin was in his office.

He adjusted the glasses, and the corners of his mouth curved up. He felt quite satisfied when he saw that all the resources were in his hands.

Guillow

Quentin shook the wine glass in his hand and took a sip. Then, he clicked on the computer screen.

He had to admit that Melissa was indeed foresighted. With just a few resources of hers, he had gained a lot of profit for his company.

Now that his entertainment company had just been listed, the only one that could rival his company was Star Entertainment.

Therefore, on this basis, the resources of Star Entertainment would certainly meet the requirements of his company.

As expected, it was just that the price was a little higher, and nothing else was unsatisfactory.

However, all of these amounted to nothing if Melissa was absent.

He had just received a notice that Melissa had returned to the company. In the days to come, she would spare no effort to compete against him.

Quentin shook the red wine in his hand. It seemed like he had to come up with a new countermeasure.

He typed in a web address on his computer, and in a short while, he sent the name list of employees in Star Entertainment to his email.

Quentin touched his Roman nose, and the information on the web page flashed in front of his eyes.

In the end, Quentin's gaze locked onto a girl.

"Shayna."

He eventually slowly spat out the name.

Shayla was a newcomer, but she was very strong. Not long after she signed the contract, a popular song was released.

However, what interested him the most was that Shayna had a pair of round eyes as innocent as a rabbit

Quentin pursed his lips and took a sip of red wine. It seemed like his target was her.

The next day, just as Shayna arrived at the company, she received a strange message.

"Come to the coffee shop at the entrance of the company at five o'clock in the afternoon. It is about Vivian. Be there or be square!"

She looked at the phone number and was a little confused. She made a call, but the user had turned off the phone.

Galias Shaynia still vividly remembered what Vivian was like in the hospital. She was worried about her. After getting off work in the afternoon, Shayna checked her watch, and it was exactly five o'clock, so she walked over without thinking.

She walked into the coffee shop, but there was no one inside.

Shayna looked around and finally found a man in the corner.

"Did you ask me to come here?"

Shayna probed with a low voice.

The man turned around and gave her a charming smile. "I'm expecting you."

Shayna was frightened by his smile and gasped. But for the sake of Vivian, she had to bite the bullet and sit down.

"I am Vivian's brother. I heard that something has happened to her these days. Is it because of your boss?"

The man in front of her wore a pair of glasses, covering his bright eyes so that Shayna could not guess what he was thinking.

"Don't get her wrong. She didn't do anything."

Shayna denied it directly.

“I hope that you can tell me what happened. Otherwise, I will immediately ask Vivian to quit the job.”

The man suddenly changed his attitude, and the corners of his mouth that were originally raised had also returned to normal. He looked fierce.

“T, I do not know either.”

In the face of the man’s doubts, Shayna thought of Melissa’s instructions and closed her eyes, not daring to look straight at the man.

“Answer me in earnest.”

Quentin got up and approached Shayna step by step, his gaze sharp, making Shayna not dare to open her eyes.

He wanted to get some information from Shayna before he could know what Melissa’s next plan was.

Shayna!!

Just as Shayna was unable to hold on, a familiar voice suddenly came from behind her.

She suddenly turned her head and happened to see Calvin rushing over.

Shayna came back to her senses and found that Quentin was only a few inches away from her. She screamed in fear and pushed Quentin away with all her strength.

But Shayna was too excited to keep balance. She leaned backward while pushing away Quentin.

Just as Shayna thought that she was going to fall to the ground, she fell into a warm embrace.

She suddenly opened her eyes and found that Calvin's face was ten times bigger in front of her.

"You!"

Shayna's face instantly turned red. She immediately covered her face with her hand and in the next second, Calvin supported her up.

"Who are you?"

Calvin stood before Shayna and looked coldly at the man wearing a pair of glasses that covered his face.

He had just gotten off work today and saw that Shayna wasn't at her position. Usually, Shayna would never leave the company so fast after work. Today, her abnormality attracted his attention.

Shayna did not have many friends here, and the one she met immediately after work must be someone important to her

Chapter 638 A Scheming Plan

This undoubtedly attracted the attention of Calvin. He came to the surveillance room and investigated the surveillance camera at the door. Then he found that Shayna had entered a coffee shop.

This made Calvin even more suspicious. Shayna never had the habit of drinking coffee.

Therefore, he followed the surveillance camera to find this coffee shop. Unlike usual, the originally popular coffee shop was empty.

Calvin became nervous. He knew that something must have happened.

"I am Vivian's elder brother."

Quentin raised his eyebrows and looked at the two in front of him. His intuition told him that they were not simple.

"What nonsense are you talking about? Vivian doesn't have a brother at all."

As the director of the company, Calvin clearly understood the situation of the company's employees.

"What?"

When Shayna heard this news, she immediately realized that she had been tricked.

"Who are you? Why did you deceive me into coming here?"

Shayna was a little afraid of strangers. She stammered for a long time, and she did not dare to look directly at the man opposite her.

After saying that, Shayna hid behind Calvin.

“Hump...” Quentin knew that the matter had been exposed, so he passed them, ready to leave.

“Stop!”

Unexpectedly, Calvin, who was behind him, would directly call out to Quentin Calvin’s eyes were sharp.
“Who the hell are you? Why did you call Shayna here?”

“You’ll know that.”

Quentin faintly replied and then left.

Calvin looked at Quentin’s back and gritted his teeth in anger. Calvin turned around and saw Shayna hiding behind him. Her eyes were slightly red.

“Are you alright?”

Calvin leaned down and comforted Shayna. “Don’t be afraid. Don’t trust strangers so easily.”

Calvin gently stroked Shayna’s head. Shayna raised looked up and had a strange feeling...

Meanwhile, in Adela’s house...

Ever since her family’s stock fell, Adela had not been able to contact Sarah. So, she had been on the verge of collapse

Seeing that her family was getting worse and worse, and she still had to rely on her mom to sell jewelry to make a living, Adela felt this was humiliating.

Adela was born with a silver spoon. This was the first time she had encountered something like this since she was a child.

Filled with a sense of loss, Adela suddenly received a message.

She read it and widened her eyes,

Someone transferred 16 thousand dollars into her account, which was undoubtedly the last straw to save the Yale family!

Just then, there came a message from a strange phone number.

“Do everything you can to destroy the relationship between Murray and Melissa. After this is done, I will give you 160 thousand dollars.”

Adela held the phone and was stunned. This list be the person who had just given her money.

“Who are you?”

Adela texted back, but after a long time, there was no response.

Adela dialed the number. She did not expect that it was just a one-time card number. After sending a text message, it was void.

Unable to reach the man, Adela did not continue to pay attention to him.

16 thousand dollars was not enough for a company. If Adela's company continued, it had to rely on the 100 thousand dollars that the man offered.

However, thinking of what Murray had done to lie back then, Adela did not dare to act rashly.

Adela closed her eyes, and her dad's resentful voice came from outside. She couldn't stand such a lie any longer.

Adela clenched her cell phone and sat on the dressing table. It had been quite a while since she dressed herself up.

Adela put on makeup according to Melissa's appearance and then changed into the yellow dress that Melissa wore the last time she made an appearance.

Adela and Melissa had similar figures. From the back, it was very difficult to distinguish them.

Adela curled her lips. She hated Murray for making her like this.

Then, Adela's face twisted with hatred. She wanted Murray to pay the price!

Adela came to Murray's company. She learned her lesson and did not take the initiative to enter. Instead, she stood on the steps, waiting for Murray.

Sure enough, the receptionist saw Adela's back and mistook her for Melissa. The receptionist directly called the president's office and told Murray that Melissa had come.

Murray didn't waste any time and went downstairs without putting on his coat.

– He rushed straight out of the company. When he saw Adela's back that resembled Melissa's, his eyes were filled with tenderness. Murray slowly walked forward. He was just about to reach out and touch Adela's waist when suddenly, a smell that didn't belong to Melissa assailed his nostrils.

"Who are you?"

Murray retreated. The person in front of him turned around. It was Adela!

"It's me. Have you forgotten me so quickly?"

Adela blinked her big eyes that were covered with fake eyelashes, making Murray sick.

"How dare you come?"

Murray asked indifferently. He turned his face away and did not even want to look at Adela.

Adela grinned. Without waiting for Murray to respond, she lifted her long dress and ran away without looking back.

Murray's face darkened. Looking at the figure that resembled Melissa's getting further and further away, he was unable to figure out what Adela was up to.

Melissa's phone received an email.

Melissa opened it and saw Adda's face in the video. Adela was standing downstairs in the building of Murray's company. Her smile was like that of a woman in love.

Murray, who was behind Adela, slowly walked towards her, his eyes filled with tenderness. From that angle, the two hugged tightly.

Melissa narrowed her eyes. It was Adela again!

Soon, the video that Adela had just posted became a trending topic.

Melissa's face darkened. She had not finished dealing with Quentin, and now she had to deal with Adela!

The credibility of this video could be imagined. Melissa smiled contemptuously. The angle of this video was too tricky. If she did not look carefully, she would believe that Murray was cheating on her.

Melissa did not have so much free time to play with Adela. She had someone investigate the surveillance at the door. Sure enough, when Murray saw Adela, they ended up arguing.

Adela's video was cut maliciously, otherwise, how could their faces be so clear? Adela meant to tell the netizens who these two people were!

Melissa didn't hold back. She directly posted the surveillance video online with some lines. "Did you dress up like me to seduce my husband?"

As soon as this video was released, public opinion changed.

This undoubtedly gave Adela a heavy blow and proved that Adela was lying.

The netizens were angry at Adela. Last time, she was the one who made a mess, and she made a scene again!

Chapter 639 Disappear

Adela looked at the criticism online and fell into deep thought.

With the 16 thousand dollars given by the mysterious man, the company could hold on for a while, but now it was about to collapse.

What was more, Adela's scandal affected the company's reputation. Many customers canceled the contract with the company owned by the Yale family.

"What did you do?"

Adela's father, Sawyer, questioned her outside, which drove Adela crazy.

Instead of destroying the relationship between Melissa and Murray, this matter put Adela into trouble.

Adela couldn't contact that mysterious man, so it was impossible to get 160 thousand dollars.

Adela had no choice but to lock herself in the room, not eating or drinking.

This matter was all over the news online, and things got serious.

Adela was depressed. Sawyer felt ashamed. His daughter did such a thing and was exposed. No one could stand it.

That night, Adela hastily logged off her Twitter and no longer received any negative comments from others.

Meanwhile, Sawyer reorganized the company and prepared to move it abroad. There might be no place for the Yale family here. •

After buying the tickets for the night, they packed up their luggage hastily and left the city in a hurry.

Adela looked at the scenery outside the plane and was a little reluctant to leave. This was the city she had lived in for more than twenty years.

However, in the face of other people's ridicule, as proud as she was, Adela could no longer endure it. Perhaps leaving was her best choice.

The netizens found that Adela's Twitter liad been leleted, so they had no choice but to let her go. The company owned by the Yale family disappeared from the list. The public thought that the Yale family had gone bankrupt, so they did not continue asking,

Just like that, the Yale family disappeared without a trace, leaving the scope of people's vision.

Melissa was sitting in the office. Knowing the result of Adela, she let out a long sigh of relief.

Adela would no longer harass Melissa's company and Murray. This was a good thing, Melissa picked up the coffee on the table and look a sip. Suddenly, Calvin pushed the door open and entered.

Seeing that Calvin's forehead was covered in a cold sweat, and he looked flustered, Melissa felt depressed

"What happened?"

Recently, Melissa had to deal with many things in the company, which made her a little breathless.

Melissa had just gotten rid of Adela, but a new problem happened, making her dizzy from all the

"Did you check Twitter today?"

"Twitter?"

Melissa frowned. Her family made a trending topic every day.

"Didn't you say that Adela's 'Twitter was canceled this morning? Did she change to a new account?"

"Don't talk about Adela. Quickly go and take a look."

Calvin had a flustered look on his face and directly handed his phone to Melissa.

"The director of Star Entertainment is in a relationship with the new employee, Shayna."

A line appeared in front of Melissa. She widened her eyes and then shifted her gaze from the screen to Calvin

“You?”

Calvin scratched his back, looking helpless. “I did not expect to be discovered...”

Seeing Calvin’s expression, Melissa knew that this was not simple.

“When did this happen? Why didn’t you tell me?” |

Melissa recalled that during this period, Calvin had been taking care of Shayna, and he was even more patient and gentle than others. Melissa knew it was her fault. She had been too busy to notice these recently

Now that things had happened, even if Melissa knew, it was too late.

“Don’t worry about this. Help me think of a way.”

Calvin put his hands together, making Melissa annoyed.

“Don’t even think about getting this year’s year-end bonus.”

Melissa indifferently said and began to think of countermeasures. Calvin had a surprised expression.

Melissa logged on to Twitter and looked at the photos on the trending list.

Shayna's cheeks were flushed red. She was cute. While hiding behind Calvin, she was a good match for Calvin.

"Shayna was deceived by a stranger, so I rushed over to look for her and protected her behind me. That man was so cunning, and he even took photos."

Seeing Melissa's gloomy expression, Calvin lowered his voice. He knew that he had made a big mistake.

"Who's that man?"

Melissa asked. Since he could find Shayna, he was somebody.

"He was wearing a pair of black-rimmed glasses and a hat. I couldn't recognize him."

Calvin was a bit flustered. At that time, he only cared about Shayna and completely ignored the man.

Since things had happened, this was not something that should be noticed. Nowadays, the company hated secret relationships the most, not to mention that Shayna was a newcomer. She had just had her place in the entertainment industry, but the news of her being in a relationship went out. It was hard not to be noticed.

Star Entertainment had been in a lot of trouble in the past few days. All kinds of dirt were exposed, arousing the dissatisfaction of many people.

A lot of netizens scolded Shayna and Calvin online, and the situation could not be reversed.

Comments about Shayna were all about the casting couch. Netizens said that Shayna had no artist ethics. She had just entered the company and she managed to hook up with the director of the company. Otherwise, how could her new song be a hit?

Some people talked about the rumor that Ferne plagiarized Shayna and disgraced Shayna, Shayna did not dare to look at Calvin. She rested her head on the table. Her eyes were red, and there were a few drops of tears in the corner of her eyes.

Shayna's colleagues next to her sympathized for her. However, many people looked at Shayna resentfully

Shayna was just a newcomer, and she had such a good resource not long after she joined the company, which made many people envious.

Now that Shayna's affair was exposed, many people in the company were jealous and many people were unconvinced. They all felt that Shayna used her beautiful face to attract Calvin's attention. Otherwise, she would not have such a good resource today.

11

Shayna was suppressed by everyone. Even Calvin's position in the company was affected. Many people who were jealous of Calvin's position wanted to replace him.

Melissa was looking at the public opinion on Twitter in her office. She was depressed.

Calvin's reputation was not much better. Melissa could not treat the employees of the company equally, which made many people uncomfortable Melissa could only hire some trolls online and try to change public opinion. Unfortunately, no sooner did the trolls post than netizens scolded them.

Melissa was worried. She received all kinds of complaints from employees in the morning.

Chapter 640 Economic Crisis

Most of it was because Calvin abused his private rights and gave Shayna good resources, ignoring other employees.

Melissa knew Calvin well. Shayna was talented. Calvin did not casually give resources to Shayna because they were in love.

Melissa frowned. Then she gave a smile and continued her work.

Just then, a piece of news appeared in Melissa's line of sight.

"The Gibson Corporation's shares are plummeting."

Seeing the news, Melissa got nervous. Unexpectedly, there was a problem with Murray's company! Melissa hurriedly took out her mobile phone to call Murray. She was relaxed after getting a positive answer from Murray,

In Murray's office...

Murray was dealing with this matter with his employees. He had been taking care of Melissa in the hospital for the past few days, allowing some of the employees in the company to seize the opportunity to steal the company's plan and sell it to other companies at a high price. Murray went to take care of Melissa and left the company behind. He meant to lure these people out.

The Gibson Corporation was one of the top companies in the country. The plan Murray made was extremely good. However, what the other party did not know was that there was a big loophole in the plan. These days, because of Adela's matter, Murray was upset and did not deal with this loophole. He did not expect someone to take advantage of the loophole.

The Gibson Corporation had a great influence on the country and had never made any mistakes. Because of this, no one dared to challenge Murray's authority. Now, it seemed that Murray could take this opportunity to clean up the company.

Murray asked the secretary to find the surveillance footage for the recent period and had a few people whom he trusted check the surveillance footage. They were determined to find these employees, who betrayed the company, and the big boss behind these employees.

As for the staff in charge of this plan, Murray transferred them to a few idle positions and asked people to pay attention to their every move. If anything was wrong, it would be reported to Murray immediately.

The situation of Star Entertainment was getting more and more serious, and many of Shayna's anti-fans commented, including her fans from before.

After Shayna's new song became a massive hit, these anti-fans did not have much effect. One tended to hit a man who was down. Once Shayna got into trouble, these anti-fans came out, and the public agreed with their opinion.

In the past few days, some anti-fans had pasted notes on the door of Shayna's house. All kinds of harsh words were everywhere, which seriously disturbed Shayna's life.

Shayna was a weak person. After she was teased by people like her, the defense line in her heart had been broken.

Calvin's condition was not very good, but he was the director of the company after all. So, not many people dared to go to him to show off.

Calvin knew about Shayna's situation. If he protected Shayna at this time, the netizens and employees of the company might be dissatisfied.

They were in a dilemma and did not know how to deal with it.

Melissa called them over and asked, "Now that things have come to this, if you want to break up, I'll have a way to clarify things now. It's up to you."

"Melissa, is there 110 other way? I don't want to break up with Calvin." Shayna lowered her head and blushed. Her voice was low, but it was firin.

Melissa was just about to speak when she heard Calvin's rejection. Melissa smiled slightly and told them not to regret it. Then she asked the two to leave.

Melissa stayed up all night to write a speech and was ready to hold a press conference to clarify the relationship between Shayna and Calvin.

The next day. Melissa entered the company with dark circles.

The reporters soon arrived. Now that the scandals of Star Entertainment were all over the news, the reporlers wanted to dig up some information.

In the lounge, Shayna sat on a chair with uneasiness.

The internet violence she had suffered in the past few days was unprecedented. She was so anxious that she had not slept well for several nights. Her face was a little pale. What Calvin said hurt her.

Melissa's face was a little pale, but if one looked carefully, he would find that she powdered her face.

After finishing preparing, Melissa brought Shayna to the press conference. Melissa had asked Calvin to arrange the reporters at the press conference.

By the time they arrived, Calvin had been seated aside, quietly waiting for Melissa.

Sure enough, when Melissa brought Shayna in, the reporters, who were full of energy, took pictures of Shayna.

Shayna was frightened by the flash, and her pale face was caught.

Shayna was a little worried and looked at Melissa beside her.

Melissa firmly smiled at Shayna, giving Shayna a confident look.

Then, Melissa brought Shayna to the stage.

The reporters turned their microphones towards Melissa. Shayna was timid and did not dare to say anything

“Please calm down.” Melissa raised her hand and delivered the speech she wrote overnight. “Shayna and Calvin have occupied your public channels in the past few days. I am deeply sorry for this.”

Melissa paused for a moment and then continued, “However, those photos were only taken when Shayna was deceived by a stranger. Calvin stepped forward to save her and was caught by someone with ill intentions. There was no improper relationship between them. Please don’t be blinded by the photos.”

Melissa denied the relationship between Shayna and Calvin.

The reporters were the best in the industry, so they immediately found the loophole.

“Ms. Eugen, I wonder how you knew what happened at that time. Were you there at that time?”

A reporter asked.

“Of course not. Otherwise, their pictures would not have been snapped.”

Melissa replied calmly. She knew that these reporters were not easy to be tricked with. She had prepared some excuses.

“It’s not a small matter for artists to fall in love. Are you sure that there is no relationship between Shayna and Calvin?”

Another reporter came out with a microphone and asked, trying to catch a bit of Melissa’s dissatisfied expression.

“I’m sure.”

Melissa replied with certainty.

“I heard that two days ago, you even gave Shayna an endorsement of a high-class brand. As a newcomer, how could Shayna receive such good resources?”

The reporter’s question hit the nail on the lead. Shayna swallowed.

“With Shayna’s ability, she will naturally be able to receive good resources.”

Melissa faintly replied, directly causing the reporters to be stuck in a corner.

“Ms. Eugen, do you mean that the other employees in your company are not outstanding?”

After that, all the employees who attended the press conference looked over.

Melissa looked at the reporters in front of her. These reporters were driven by benefits, completely not considering the consequences of what they did.

“Of course not. The employees in my company are all outstanding.”

Chapter 641 Dead End

“So you mean the employees of other companies are not outstanding, right?”

Melissa kept silent. She didn’t know how to explain.

Looking at the reporters in front of her with expectation, she knew that they were going to waste time with her today.

The reporters immediately captured her impatient look and were secretly happy that there was another headline tonight.

“Ms. Eugen, what do you think of this matter?”

Seeing that Melissa didn't answer, the reporters didn't go on asking and changed their positions.

“This matter was spread by others. I only feel angry at those who spread the rumor.”

Looking at the malicious eyes of the reporters, Melissa had no choice but to answer.

“How do you know that? Do you have many contacts with Mr. Faber?”

As soon as the reporters asked that, Calvin sensed that something was wrong.

Why didn't they ask Shayna but he had to mention his name? It was because Calvin was a man.

“He's my employee. He just works with me.”

“Then why are you so sure? Or you know him so well. Are you two close?”

Hearing this, Melissa opened her mouth.

“No.”

She retorted directly. She didn't expect these reporters to ask such a question for a headline.

Undoubtedly, they were suggesting that Melissa had a secret relationship with Calvin behind Murray's back.

No one could understand such a thing. The reporters asked this because they wanted to make the netizens misunderstand her.

This was a live press conference with tens of millions of audience. As soon as the reporters' question was raised, it made everyone start to think of that possibility.

“Then why do you know Calvin so well? Can you give us a satisfactory reply?”

Seeing that Melissa couldn't answer, the reporters pushed her step by step.

If Melissa answered that they were good friends, it would make people think more.

It was known to all that Melissa was a married woman. A male friend who appeared out of nowhere was great material for the press. Moreover, there was gossip about Melissa and Murray some time ago, so it was difficult to stop people from thinking too much.

After she married a rich woman, many people were waiting to see her fail. As soon as this question came out, many people were looking forward to her reply.

It never occurred to her that the press conference made things more and more difficult for her. Not only did she not clear the relationship between Calvin and Shayna, but she was also involved in it. It was really not worth it.

“We are just friends. Don’t you know your friends well?”

“Of course, I know my close friends well.”

A reporter answered, which undoubtedly made people believe that Melissa and Calvin were close.

“Dear reporters, I don’t think the concern of this press conference is about me. Besides, you’d better go to the Vast Entertainment Group opposite to have a look. I believe that it has been a mess.”

Then she dismissed the press conference,

Shayna was so anxious that her eyes turned red. She blinked her eyes, but she had to open them to face the light of so many cameras, which made her eyes ache.

Behind her back, Melissa patted her shoulder, telling her not to care too much.

As soon as the press conference was over, Melissa rushed to check Twitter’s trending hashtags. As expected, the rumors about the Vast Entertainment Group had become the top of the list, and the exposure of the affairs of Shayna and Calvin was also because of the Vast Entertainment Group.

The footage of the coffee shop had been put on the Internet by Murray. The netizens immediately found that the person in it was Quentin, and Quentin's Twitter was being commented on by many people. The stock of the Vast Entertainment Group had plummeted.

Looking through the comments on the Internet, Murray planned to give Quentin a fatal blow. Murray called the secretary who was watching the footage and found a person according to the secretary's words.

When the stock price of Vast Entertainment Group plummeted, there was a problem with its cooperation with a very important customer. The company's plan directly caused a heavy loss to the customer. According to the contract, Quentin needed to pay ten times compensation.

Murray called in several people in charge of the stolen project plan's case and talked to them one to one. Then his group issued an indictment on Twitter, suing Vast Entertainment Group for embezzlement of the plan. Since Quentin couldn't afford ten times the compensation, the customer also planned to sue Vast Entertainment Group. The board of directors of the Vast Entertainment Group wanted to change the president, so Robert came to stabilize the situation.

Quentin wanted to contact the person who sold the plan but found that the seller had turned himself in and identified Quentin. Quentin was sent to the police station, but the evidence was not enough, so he was released without charge.

After Murray bought the shares of the Vast Entertainment Group at a low price and turned them into cash, the Vast Entertainment Group was on the verge of bankruptcy. Quentin received a sum of money from Robert, and the Vast

Entertainment Group barely maintained its current situation.

Mollie won an international prize and returned from abroad. The Vast Entertainment Group took the opportunity to publicize and stabilize its reputation. At the same time, a mysterious person transferred a sum of money to Quentin's private account. Quentin used the money to quickly save the Vast Entertainment Group and finally stabilize the situation.

"I have come back. Don't you give me a welcome party?" Mollie held the phone and asked with a smile.

"I just read the news, and you called me to blame me. But as soon as you came back, you did give Quentin some benefits. I guess Quentin is happy that you came back in time." Melissa thought of the complacent look on Quentin's face and that amused her.

"Maybe you are wrong. People like Quentin won't do that. My contract with the Vast Entertainment Group hasn't ended. When will you take me away? After all, I'm an international celebrity," Mollie complained.

"All right, all right. I'll hold a welcome banquet for you tonight. Don't blame me anymore. By the way, how are you and Finnegan doing?" Thinking of the scene when Mollie went abroad, Melissa couldn't help asking

"Well, fine. At least I moved on. I gotta go. Make sure to text me the time and address at night." Mollie felt a little disappointed when she heard Finnegan.

When Mollie had a bright future at home, she suddenly went abroad. Others thought that Mollie wanted to have a better future abroad, but only her close friends knew that Mollie had to go abroad because she was deeply hurt by Finnegan. Now it seemed to Melissa that Mollie had moved on.

“Mr. Gibson, we have found out the reason why Ms. Yale suddenly had an accident before,” The Secretary reported to Murray with a file in her hand,

“Say it,” Murray said coldly.

Chapter 642 Friend From the Past

When Adela tried to seduce him again, he sensed that something was wrong. But he had been annoyed by something at that time and could only deal with her in a rush. Now he had a lot of time to deal with it.

“It’s Mr. Murillo’s order.” The Secretary lowered her voice when she said the last few words. She was too scared to say that.

She also knew the relationship between Finnegan and her boss. It really put her in the middle of something difficult.

“Finnegan? Are you sure?” Murray frowned. He had heard that Finnegan had taken that path, but he had never thought that Finnegan would turn against him. Besides, Mollie was Melissa’s good friend.

“Yes, Mr. Gibson. It’s true. As for other things, I don’t know.” The Secretary tried her best to make herself look professional, but she still couldn’t help trembling when she looked into the eyes of her boss.

“Okay, I see. You can leave now.” Frowning, Murray called Marc.

"I knew something bad would happen if you called me. I know. Just take good care of Melissa." Marc's powerful voice came from the other end of the line.

In the dining room.

"Mollie, will you leave this time?" Melissa asked Mollie.

Mollie and Melissa had always been good friends. Now that Mollie had come back, Melissa also hoped that Mollie could stay, so that at least Mollie could help her.

"No, I won't. After I help you, I'm going to leave this career." Mollie kept smiling with tears in her eyes, but she didn't let them fall.

Melissa said, "Don't be afraid. I'm here with you. What happened?" Hearing Melissa's words, Mollie couldn't help but burst into tears.

Melissa took out a tissue and wiped Mollie's tears. She held Mollie's hand and comforted her.

"You know, I went abroad to pursue my career, but in fact, I followed Finnegan out. I thought we would have some feelings for each other after being classmates for 4 years. I have never done anything out of line. This time, he said in public that I seduced him and wanted to kick me out of a big banquet though I did nothing." Speaking of this, Mollie swallowed hard, but there seemed to be something different in her eyes, which Melissa couldn't see.

"Oh, he really underestimated me. I just regretted that I didn't know him well before. I'm sorry, Melissa. I make myself look like a fool." After saying that, Mollie seemed to be relieved and her eyes began to shine.

Melissa smiled. She knew her friend wouldn't disappoint her. Mollie got her toughness from her grandfather.

"Then have a good rest after you go back. I'll forget what you have told me about your retirement."
Melissa helped Mollie out.

"I'm not kidding. I really want to quit. Anyway, I've won all the famous awards. It's better to quit. I'm satisfied with what I've achieved now." Melissa didn't say anything but helped her friend get into the car.

The next day.

"You seem to be recovering well these days.

There will be a variety show the day after tomorrow. I think it suits you well. You can go. I will be with you backstage, just to increase your exposure." Melissa looked at Shayna and handed her a document.

"Okay, Melissa. Don't worry. I won't let my emotions affect my work. Don't worry. After this incident, I'm not that fragile anymore, but I won't trust a guy so easily in the future," Shayna said to Melissa with a smile.

Melissa looked at Shayna's gentle smile and felt that her personality had changed. Melissa didn't know if the change was good or bad.

"Mrs. Gibson, you are not allowed to come in. There is a rule in our company." The receptionist saw Sarah from a distance and hurried to greet her. Sarah was Murray's mother. The receptionist didn't dare to offend her, but she couldn't flatter Sarah for her good manners.

“Get away from me. You are just a receptionist. How dare you stop me here? I think you don’t want to work here anymore.” Sarah was always so rude. Wherever she was, she would make trouble.

“Please respect the rules. Although our company is not very famous, we can’t let you be so unreasonable. As for me, if I don’t work well, my supervisor will fire me. You don’t need to worry about me. Security, ask her to leave.” The hostess hated Sarah’s arrogance. Upon hearing Sarah’s words, she didn’t care if she would be fired and asked security to drive Sarah away.

The security guards didn’t have the guts to drive Sarah away, so they let her in.

“Mrs. Gibson, you can’t come in.” As soon as Shayna walked out of Melissa’s office, she saw Sarah. Thinking of how Sarah treated Melissa, Shayna stopped her without hesitation.

“Get out of my way! How dare an actress stop me?” Sarah pushed Shayna to the ground. Shayna was caught off guard and her head hit the cabinet beside her. She fainted on the spot.

Melissa didn’t go out until she heard the noise outside. She saw Shayna lying on the ground and Sarah. She immediately understood what was going on. Looking at the receptionist and security guards rushing over, she asked them to take Shayna to the hospital first and asked her secretary to check the footage and keep evidence, while she dealt with Sarah.

Then Melissa led Sarah to the waiting hall.

“You finally dare to see me.” Sarah stared at Melissa.

“Sarah, what are you going to do? There is no room for you to stay in our small company. If you don’t want to be charged, you’d better leave as soon as possible.”

Melissa’s words were full of threats, which shocked Sarah. She was even a little afraid of “Don’t beat around the bush. I’m telling you. I’m not leaving today. What can you do?” Although Sarah was a little scared, she didn’t think it was a big deal for her to risk everything for her son’s company. It was better than her son’s company being destroyed by this woman.

“I know it. Don’t hide it from me. Tell me if my son’s public relations team and capital have been lent to you. You are so shameless.” Sarah pointed at Melissa’s nose and scolded her indiscriminately.

Chapter 643 A Farce

Melissa lowered her eyes slightly and was a little surprised at Sarah’s words, but she didn’t show it on her face. She knew that Sarah was used by others, so she wouldn’t let Sarah bully her. However, it was better for her not to do anything now. There were better choices. Murray would come soon. But Sarah saw Melissa’s expression and just thought that she was guilty.

“I just don’t know what it has to do with Mrs. Gibson.” Melissa looked up at Sarah.

“What?”

Sarah couldn’t control her emotions anymore. She pointed at Melissa and scolded, “Do you know how important this team is? Why did you ask Murray to give this team to you? It’s because you are so reckless that the Gibson Corporation is in trouble!”

“Are you sure what you heard is true?” There was a hint of playfulness in Melissa’s eyes, but Sarah, who only cared about herself, obviously didn’t understand Melissa’s hint.

“Your company is nothing compared with the Gibson Corporation. How can you let the Gibson Corporation pay for your mistake? What a clever plan!”

What Sarah blurted out bluntly in front of so many employees undoubtedly caused many people's dissatisfaction.

"Please watch your mouth."

Melissa's face darkened. She didn't want to wait any longer. It didn't matter if she would take the blame. Moreover, Sarah slandered her, and she had evidence. Even if this was exposed, she was confident that she would be fine.

"Hey, how dare you talk back!"

Sarah couldn't maintain her fake nobility. She raised her hand and was about to slap Melissa in the face.

When Melissa was about to reach out to stop Sarah, she found that someone was one step ahead of her.

"Murray..."

Murray grabbed Sarah's arm and pulled a long face.

Melissa widened her eyes, but the smile in her eyes couldn't be hidden. The time was just right.

"Didn't I tell you not to touch Melissa?"

Murray shook off Sarah's arm and protected Melissa behind her.

Hearing Murray's words, no matter how tough Melissa was, she couldn't help but cry and hugged Murray.

"Sorry, I'm late."

Melissa heard Murray's hoarse voice, which made Melissa worried.

"You are my son. Since you have a wife, you forget that I'm your mother."

Sarah's eyes were cold, but she looked much weaker than before Murray came.

"I told you not to hurt her."

Not to be outdone, Murray's words intimidated Sarah.

"I'm fine. How's the company going?"

Melissa smiled at Murray. She touched Murray's face gently, feeling anxious and happy.

"I have told you to believe me."

Murray patted Melissa's hand, which made Melissa feel very relieved.

As long as Murray was by her side, she was not afraid of anything.

"Do you still take me seriously?"

Sarah still wanted to go on, but she was stopped by Murray's glance.

“What happened?”

Just then, Marc came over with a crutch.

On the way here, Murray had already heard that Sarah had come, so he had informed Marc in advance.

After all, as a son, he couldn't punish Sarah casually, but Marc was different.

Sarah's face turned stiff when she saw Marc. Not long ago, Marc had warned her not to leave home if not necessary.

Sarah could come here because she had bribed the gatekeeper.

She didn't expect that Marc would find her so soon.

“What are you doing here?”.

When Marc saw Sarah, he pulled a long face and said, “I told you not to leave home if not necessary. You didn't listen to me. Instead, you even came to Melissa's company to cause trouble?”

Sarah heard Marc's serious words and her arrogance was gone.

“No, no. I just came here to help Melissa.”

Sarah explained hurriedly, but Marc didn't listen to her.

Marc pointed at the broken glass and asked, "Then what is this?"

Sarah opened her mouth but couldn't say anything.

Standing behind Murray, Melissa didn't expect that Marc would also come. Looking at the two men who were protecting her, she felt warm in her heart

She held Murray's hand tightly and Murray gave her a smile.

"How dare you quibble? It seems that you really don't want to stay here any longer."

Without any hesitation, Marc called his men and booked a ticket for Sarah.

"Send this woman abroad today. I don't want to see her again."

"No, no!"

Sarah wanted to stop him, but Marc didn't even look at her. Sarah was dragged out of the company. However, Melissa suddenly said.

"Now that everyone is here, I have to ask one question. Sarah said that I had taken Murray's company's public relations team and capital, but I don't know where Sarah got the news." Melissa walked out from behind Murray.

"Really? Why don't you make it clear to me, Sarah?" Hearing Melissa's words, Marc became angrier.

"I... I just heard the two servants talk and misunderstand." Now that things had come to this, Sarah knew that someone must have misled her. She could only explain and hope that she wouldn't be punished so severely.

"Well, Melissa, for my sake, let's go back and talk about it, okay?" Marc also understood that someone had used Sarah, but it was a family scandal and it was not appropriate to discuss it in the company.

Melissa also understood that. She nodded at Marc and Marc left with Sarah. After hearing what Melissa said, Murray chose to go to the hospital with Melissa.

In the hospital.

Shayna was pushed into the emergency room. The receptionist and security guards waited anxiously outside. The two of them didn't feel relieved until the door of the emergency room opened.

"The patient is out of danger for the time being, but the situation is not optimistic," the doctor said to them.

Shayna was pushed into the ward. After a while, Melissa and Murray arrived.
