

Mrs. Gibson Your identity is Exposed Chapter 631-36

Chapter 631 Ask Sarah for Help

But Adela didn't give up. She walked up to Murray and held his waist, "Murray, I miss you so much."

Murray closed his eyes, trying to suppress his anger. "Let go of me."

Seeing that Murray didn't resist, Adela smiled subconsciously. Sure enough, men were all like this.

"No, just let me hold you like this, okay?"

Murray took a deep breath and pushed Adela away. "If you keep doing this, don't blame me for being rude to you."

The man's face was covered with gloom, as if he could swallow Adela in the next second.

"You, I..." Adela was frightened by Murray's reaction, but she still plucked up her courage and said, "Melissa doesn't cherish you. Why can't you accept me?"

Adela's words completely angered Murray.

"Fuck off!"

Murray roared in a low voice. Although he was at odds with Melissa, it didn't mean that others could speak ill of Melissa.

!! No. 11

Adela shook her head. Even though she was afraid of the angry Murray, she had to seize this opportunity.

Today, when Adela learned that Murray was alone in the hotel, she especially wore a very short miniskirt, which was totally different from her usual style.

And because she had just rubbed herself against Murray's body, her panty was partly exposed.

Murray felt sick at the sight of it. He turned his face away and called the hotel. The waiters came.

"Who told you to let her come up? Take her out!"

Murray turned his back to Adela and said something that Adela didn't expect.

"We are sorry, sir. It's our fault to bring you so much inconvenience."

After saying that, the waiters turned their heads fiercely to look at Adela.

“No, you can’t do that to me.”

Seeing the waiters put their hands on her waist, Adela tried her best to resist, but she still couldn’t resist so many people.

sana hotel bu several waiters. In this way, Adela was thrown out of the hotel by several waiters.

Murray went to the monitoring room and found the footage in which Adela harassed him just now.

The video was very high-definition, showing Adela’s movements clearly. Without hesitation, Murray sent the video directly to the reporters.

For a moment, the reporters were all stunned. In a short while, the video was edited to be more eye-catching, showing clear pictures of Adela’s twisted body. Then, the reporters posted the video on the Internet.

As expected, not long after the video was released, it became viral.

All of a sudden, all the people were attacking the Yale family online

“Oh, my goodness! Is this Adela? Shame on her!”

“I didn’t expect that she would have the guts to seduce a married man!”

The netizens began to curse Adela and the Yale family. For a time, the Yale family became the target of public criticism.

Looking at the curses online, Adela was even more desperate.

Just then, she received a call from her family.

Adela answered the phone with her trembling hands. She knew she had made a big mistake this time!

“What did you do, bitch?”

As expected, as soon as the phone was picked up, Sawyer shouted at her.

Adela tried her best to hold back her tears. She didn't expect that Murray would be so decisive to post the video online.

“How did I raise you up? How could you do such a shameless thing? You are really a shame for our family!”

Adela remained silent. She knew that Sawyer wouldn't believe her anymore.

“Because of you, the stock of the company plummeted. Now it's almost impossible to save it. Do something to save the company!”

Sawyer said fiercely, while Adela's body trembled

If the stock plummeted and couldn't be saved, it meant that Adela's family was about to go bankrupt!

If her family went bankrupt because of this matter, she would feel so ashamed in front of everyone in the future.

"I can't care about you now, but you have to solve this matter, or you are not allowed to come back!"

Sawyer's angry voice came from the other end of the line. The next second, the phone was hung up.

Looking at the black screen, Adela's heart was filled with despair.

Now, Sawyer didn't want to care about her anymore. Who should she ask for help?

Murray... Adela lowered her eyes and thought for a while. Suddenly, a name appeared in her mind.

Sarah!

She nodded. Sarah was Murray's mother. No matter how arrogant Murray was, she thought he had to listen to his mother.

Thinking of this, Adela calmed down and went to the kitchen to cook for a while. Then she took a lot of food to visit Sarah

Since the last time in the office, Adela had no contact with Sarah.

“Mrs. Gibson.”

As soon as Adela entered the room, a teardrop fell from her face, which made Sarah’s heart ache.

“Good girl, you have suffered a lot.”

Sarah had also seen today’s news on Twitter. Since last time, she had been blaming herself for making Adela lose face in front of Murray. So this time, she was still on Adela’s side.

“Mrs. Gibson, I’m fine.”

Adela sniffed and took out the soup she had made. “You said you liked this last time, so I cooked it for you again.”

Looking at Adela, Sarah felt she was much gentler and better than Melissa. Sarah hesitated again.

“Thank you so much for thinking about me.”

Sarah sighed. Although she was Murray’s mother few people came to visit her.

That was why she had been on Adela’s side.

“Just now, my father called me and said that the stock price of my family’s company had plummeted, and our company was about to collapse...”

Adela said in a choked voice, which made Sarah’s heart ache.

:: “That’s why I have no choice but to ask you for help. I really have no one to turn to except you.”

Seeing Adela crying so sadly, Sarah felt sad.

“It’s all my son’s fault. He did such a terrible thing to make you suffer.”

Wiping the tears off Adela’s face, Sarah said, “Well, don’t cry. Tears won’t make you look good.”

Adela pursed her lips and remained silent obediently.

Then Sarah stood up and walked into the room. After a while, she took out a bank card.

“Murray said that this is for me. There are only millions of dollars in it. I hope I can help you through this time.”

Adela was stunned when she saw Sarah give her money.

Chapter 632 No One Can Save Adela

Millions of dollars was not a small amount, enough to help Adela’s family out of trouble.

“Thank you, Mrs. Gibson. I’ll come to visit you every day and cook soup for you.”

Adela was so happy that she almost knelt down. But Sarah helped her up and said with a smile, “Silly girl, take it and solve your matter, or your father will be anxious to wait.”

Adela nodded and then went to the bank to transfer the money to Sawyer.

Sawyer worked hard in the company for a long time before he managed to save the company’s shares.

Although the price was not as good as before, the company was saved and wouldn’t suffer too much.

Murray learned that the Yale family was saved.

Murray raised his eyebrows. It might not be as simple as others thought.

“Go and find out who helped the Yale family.”

Murray sent an assistant to investigate. Leaning against the sofa, he heaved a sigh of relief.

The assistant soon finished the investigation and came back. “Mr. Gibson, I just found out that someone had given the Yale family 5 million dollars, and Mrs. Gibson’s account was just missing 5 million dollars.”

Murray nodded. Of course, it wasn't Melissa.

It was Sarah. He knew Sarah had contact with Adela in private.

"It seems that I don't need to deal with it."

Murray's eyes looked so deep that no one could figure out what he was thinking.

He took out his phone and called Marc.

"You finally called to comfort me."

Marc's loud voice came from the other end of the line.

"You are so well. You don't need my comfort."

Murray didn't hesitate to tell Marc the purpose of his call today.

"I was harassed by a woman today. You know, I have a wife."

"You can solve this kind of problem by yourself."

Marc was as imposing as Murray, but he was old now.

"My mother helped him."

Upon hearing this, Marc knew what he should do.

The next day, as soon as Sarah woke up, she received a call from Marc.

“What did you do?”

As soon as the phone was picked up, Marc questioned.

Sarah was confused. The next second, Marc deprived her of her freedom.

“As a Gibson, you didn’t set an example but went out to create trouble for others. Don’t leave the house without my permission now. Report to me wherever you go.”

“No, no, why?”

Sarah questioned.

“Why? Think about what you have done these days.”

Marc’s stern voice came from the other end of the line. Even through the phone, Sarah could feel his anger.

“I don’t care about your Smillion dollars. If i find you do tliis again, there will be other punishunents.”

The phone was hung up.

Sarali thumped the pillow on the bed. The Gibson family members were all short-tempered. It must be her son who told Marc this time.

Sarah lowered her head. It seemed that she had been found out to have helped Adela yesterday. Murray even went to ask Marc for help.

Sarah really shouldn't help Adela. She helped Adela, but she was grounded. The Yale family might be in danger.

Even Marc was involved. No one could save the Yale family now.

As expected, without Sarah's help, the Yale family would soon be unable to hold on.

Sawyer sat in the office, looking at the stock price that was still going down, lost in thought.

The 8 million dollars that Adela transferred yesterday was somehow taken by other companies. Now that Adela couldn't contact Sarah, no one could help the Yale family, and Murray was behind this. Now no one could help Adela and her family.

After all, no one dared to be an enemy of the Gibson family.

Sawyer's heart was like being cut by a knife. His hard work was actually ruined by Adela's impulse.

"Mr. Yale, something bad is going to happen. There is a powerful force suppressing our company."

Just then, the secretary came to report.

This added another difficulty to Sawyer, who was already upset.

He looked at the stock price on the screen, which shocked him again.

The stock price was falling sharply, and in just a few seconds, it was about to reach a new low in history.

“Hurry up! Go and raise the price!”

Sawyer roared, and the secretary beside him could do nothing. The company was running out of money now.

While the stock price kept falling, there were also many companies that were suppressing the Yale Group. They urged the Yale Group’s shareholders to sell their shares, and the stock price instantly plummeted again.

The news that the Yale family was in danger again went viral. Everyone began to make fun of Adela.

Melissa also saw this quickly. Although she was a little angry to see Adela in the video, fortunately, there were so many netizens desending Melissa, so Melissa was not so angry.

SO TU

Looking at the miserable look on Adela, Melissa couldn't help but sigh. This was what greedy people would end up like.

Last time in the office, Adela hadn't realized the danger. Now that Adela came to harass Murray and angered Murray, no one could save her.

Melissa looked at the screen with a smile, but she didn't forget her task today.

It had been a long time since Vivian's malter last time. Now when she checked Twitter, almost no one was discussing that. The attention of the netizens was shifted to Adela.

Seeing this, Melissa smiled with satisfaction. This time, Adela helped them a lot to shift people's attention, so that Melissa could have time to deal with the previous things.

"Melissa."

Just then, Vivian pushed the door open and came in.. Although she lived in Melissa's house, she had to come to work on time.

"Have you seen the trending topic?"

Hearing this, Vivian thought she had been on the news again, and her face turned pale with fear.

"Really? Melissa, don't scare me."

"What are you thinking about? Of course not you."

Melissa was amused by Vivian's reaction. She handed the phone to Vivian and said, "Look, the news about Adela is being discussed online. Now you have free time."

Vivian nodded but still recognized the person in the video.

"Isn't this Mr. Gibson? How could it be..."

"Forget it."

Speaking of Murray, Melissa interrupted her. She had to talk to Murray about it when she was available.

Vivian nodded and then shut up.

Chapter 633 I Will Find You

"I'm going to send you abroad during this period of time so that you can improve your skills. When you come back, you will have a lot of good work. In this way, your boyfriend's parents may accept you."

Melissa said calmly.

Hearing this, Vivian was excited. "OK! Thank you, Meli. I will work hard."

The next day, Melissa booked a ticket and sent Vivian abroad.

Melissa returned to the office and let out a sigh of relief. Now that Vivian's matter had been settled, Melissa no longer had to worry about that.

After resolving Vivian's matter, the next step was to deal with Murray's matter.

Melissa frowned. The video on Twitter was still vivid in her mind. If Melissa didn't look for Murray, she was afraid that she would lose Murray.

Melissa was just about to take her phone to call Murray when she heard the news broadcasting on the TV.

"Passenger plane 3-594 crashed in Philadelphia.

The host's clear voice rang out, and Melissa's heart trembled.

Isn't this the plane Vivian is on?

Melissa's eyes widened and she kept comforting herself in her heart.

Melissa called Vivian, but the phone could not be connected.

Melissa was anxious.

Melissa's heart trembled violently. The accident came so quickly!

Melissa called Vivian several more times, but in the end, her phone was out.

Melissa was stunned. She looked at the gradually darkening screen and was lost in thought.

“Bad news! We can’t contact Vivian now.”

The assistant suddenly rushed in. Seeing the dull look in Melissa’s eyes, she knew that Melissa had already known that.

The office fell into a dead silence. In the morning, Vivian had been chasing after Melissa and calling her Meli. Now she had encountered an accident.

The assistant took a deep breath and could only silently lower her head.

GAR

“Find her. Quickly send someone to find her.”

Melissa panicked and ran out of the office.

“The police have already sent people to look for her. We might not be of much use.”

The assistant’s voice became softer and softer. In front of such a situation, she could not say much.

“You’re right.”

Melissa calmed down and called Murray.

The call was immediately picked up. Murray had been waiting for Melissa’s call for the past two days.

“Murray.”

Melissa's voice was very sad, with a bit of sobbing, which made Murray feel distressed.

"What's the matter?"

The man's magnetic and gentle voice came, making Melissa feel at ease.

"Something happened to Vivian. We can't contact her."

Melissa gritted her teeth. If she had known earlier, she wouldn't have been so anxious to send Vivian abroad.

Hearing that it was about Vivian again, Murray was a little unhappy. Seeing that Melissa was so sad, he endured his dissatisfaction.

"Just now, the news said that Vivian's plane crashed. I just called her many times, but I couldn't get through. The police have been looking for her, but there is still no news."

Melissa sniffed, causing Murray to feel even more distressed.

Although Murray didn't have a good impression of Vivian, he had to help her at this time.

Moreover, Melissa was so sad.

Murray frowned. He had never seen Melissa so sad.

"Alright, don't worry. Leave it to me."

Murray's gentle and confident voice made Melissa relaxed.

Melissa knew Murray's power. There were his subordinates everywhere in the country. If he went to find Vivian, there might be some hope.

"OK!" Melissa nodded. "Thank you."

Gel zur

"You are my wife. This is what I should do."

Melissa's face turned slightly red.

She didn't expect Murray to say such words.

After hanging up, Murray sent someone to investigate the matter.

At the same time, Murray used his strength to search for traces of Vivian near the crash.

Melissa sat in the office. For the whole morning, she was lineasy. Melissa was blaming herself for letting Vivian go abroad so early. Otherwise, she would not be in trouble.

"Meli, don't think about it. This is the coffee I just made for you."

The assistant couldn't take it anymore and came in with a cup of coffee. Melissa still looked sad.

No one would have thought that something like this would happen. Not only did Vivian increase the company's profits a while ago, but her relationship with Melissa was also very good.

That was why it was normal for Melissa to be like this.

It was only in the evening that Melissa received a call from Murray.

“How is it?”

Melissa answered quickly, her tone full of urgency.

The other side of the line was silent for a long time, which made Melissa even more anxious.

“Don’t worry. We will find her.”

This sentence was undoubtedly a blow to Melissa. She stared blankly at the ceiling.

Hearing that there was no sound over there, Murray panicked a little.

“Don’t be sad. We will find her. It’s just a matter of time.”

Murray opened his mouth. For a moment, he did not know what to say.

“I’ll go find her.”

Melissa’s face suddenly became serious, and she hung up the phone.

Melissa got up, took the coat from the chair, put it on, and ran out of the company.

Melissa stopped a taxi and directly reported the place where the plane had crashed.

The plane crashed into the sea. Melissa had just gotten out of the car and went straight ahead.

The sea had already been surrounded by the police, and it was also surrounded by people.

“Why are you here?”

Murray saw Melissa running over from afar, and his face darkened.

“I can’t sit still. I can only come and find her myself.”

Melissa panted slightly. She had been overworked over the past few days. After running a few steps, she gasped.

Seeing this, Murray immediately stopped her. “There are so many people searching here. What if I can’t find you with so many people here?”

“Then I can’t just sit by and do nothing.”

Melissa started to argue with Murray.

“This place is so large. It is like searching for a needle in a haystack. You might not be able to find her.”

Seeing Melissa’s bloodless face, Murray felt as if his heart was being gripped.

“How will you know if you don’t try?”

Unexpectedly, Melissa directly crossed Murray and hurried to the direction of the sea.

More than half of the surrounding people were reporters. The crash of the plane had already attracted a lot of people. They had also received news that Murray had also come to the scene and had sent people to look for Vivian, which attracted more reporters.

For the past few days, Murray had always appeared in the eyes of everyone. Even this time, he did not avoid it at all. Looking at the back of Melissa, who gradually left, Murray was lost in thought.

On the other side, the Dewar Family, who had been dissatisfied with Vivian, also came.

Chapter 634 Melissa Faints

If the police had not come to inform her this time, she would not have known that Arno had also boarded the plane with Vivian.

Arno had not returned home these days, and they had been looking for him for a long time, but they did not expect him to be with Vivian!

They came to the seaside, looking around, but they could not find Arno.

Suddenly, Silcas turned around and saw Melissa charging toward her.

She widened her eyes. They had seen photos of Melissa online. It was because Melissa was Vivian's boss that she paid more attention to her.

Seeing that Melissa had also rushed over, Silcas hurriedly chased after her.

“Stop! Stop!”

Sileas chased after Melissa and kept calling out. After a long time, Melissa realized that someone was calling her.

“Who are you?”

Melissa turned around and saw an unfamiliar woman.

Melissa felt that the woman looked familiar.

“I am Arno’s mother!”

Her tone wasn’t polite, making Melissa even more dissatisfied.

Melissa had heard about Sileas before. Now that Melissa saw her today, she had a bad impression of Sileas.

“What can I do for you?”

Out of courtesy, Melissa calmed down. But she kept looking at the other side of the sea, still worried about Vivian in her heart

Sileas was dissatisfied. Melissa ignored her.

“You are Vivian’s boss? You let my son get on this plane?”

Melissa frowned, “When did I ask your son to get on the plane?”

“You dare to quibble!”

Sileas lost her temper all of a sudden. Her usual graceful and generous demeanor disappeared.

“If it wasn’t for you, why would my son’s name be on the list of people who were on the crashed plane?”

Melissa raised her eyebrows, looking very surprised. Was Arno also on that plane?

“Don’t pretend to be confused. My son hasn’t been home for two days. He must be with that woman.

Did you hide them?

Sileas knew that Melissa was Murray’s wife. Wouldn’t it be easy for Murray to hide two people?

“I really don’t know about this, but Arno is in his twenties. Isn’t it normal for him not to go home?”

Melissa closed her eyes. Vivian was her employee, and it was Vivian who asked her to help. To be Vivian’s side, Arno stayed.

Everyone was at fault in this matter, but Sileas threw the blame on Melissa. No one would be able to stand it.

“This is our family’s business, and it has nothing to do with you.”

Sileas had a temper. Her son’s life was uncertain. She was restless.

“If you hadn’t hidden my son, would he have appeared on that list?”

Sileas was accresive, making Melissa very helpless.

“Watch your words. Your son is already an adult. Where he goes is his own decision. What ability do I have to hide a living person from you?”

Melissa retorted. She felt guilty toward Vivian.

Vivian was her employee, so Melissa should be responsible for Vivian. But Arno and Melissa had nothing to do with each other.

“You caused my son’s life and death to be uncertain, and you won’t admit it. How malicious you are!

Sileas was so angry that she gritted her teeth. She immediately began to quarrel with Melissa.

“Madam, please make it clear that I was not the one who asked your son to board the plane. Don’t accuse me wrongly.”

Melissa was not to be outdone. She was already upset about Vivian’s matter. Now that Sileas had rushed out, Melissa was even more irritated.

“I am right. Vivian is an unreliable woman. I don’t know why my son likes her.”

Sileas spoke ill of Vivian in front of Melissa. This undoubtedly infuriated Melissa.

“It’s useless to say this here. Isn’t Vivian also like your son, whose life and death are uncertain? You are here blaming others. Are you afraid that others will find your son?”

Melissa counterattacked, and Sileas was immediately furious.

“I don’t need you to educate me. Don’t tell me nonsense. Vivian is unreliable, and you are even more unreliable. It seems that I really have to ask my son to think about it.”

“You!”

Melissa was very angry at these words. The achievements of the company in the past few days were obvious to all. In the eyes of Sileas, they were reduced to nothing

“Am I wrong? You...”

Sileas wanted to continue, but Melissa suddenly lowered her head. Just as Sileas thought that Melissa was going to apologize to her, Melissa glared directly Sileas was dumbfounded. Seeing that Melissa was about to fall to her side, she was about to go up and support Melissa, but she didn’t expect that another person would take the initiative.

The man held Melissa’s waist and turned around. Melissa fell into his arms.

It was Murray!

Murray noticed that Melissa and Sileas were arguing from afar. Murray rushed over. When he saw Melissa’s body swaying, he had a bad feeling.

Fortunately, he wasn’t late. If Melissa fell to the ground, who knew what would happen?

Murray glared at Sileas fiercely, then carried Melissa, and left.

Silcas was also stunned on the spot. She did not expect that just a few words from her would cause Melissa to faint from anger.

Murray sent Melissa to the hospital. He didn't even take a breath. After putting Melissa on the bed, Melissa was pushed in.

After a long time, the door to the examination room was opened.

Murray's face was gloomy, and he quickly rushed up.

"How is she?"

"Why are you so careless? This lady is exhausted and her body is very weak."

Hearing this, Murray trembled.

"Hypoglycemia?"

Murray froze on the spot. Melissa was pregnant!

"Ms. Eugen has always had hypoglycemia. Has this gentleman not discovered it yet?"

Seeing Murray's expression, the nurse felt a little funny.

But in the next second, the nurse's expression turned serious again.

“But this lady’s body is very weak. If you had been a step later, she might have been in a worse condition.”

Murray’s expression immediately turned serious,

Is Melissa’s body weak? How could this be?

“We notice that the patient’s blood pulse is jumping very fast, and the emotional fluctuations will also cause bad effects to the body.”

The nurse continued to talk about things to take note of, which reminded Murray.

Just now, Melissa and Sileas had quarreled. It was unknown what Sileas had said that made Melissa faint on the ground.

For these two days, Melissa had been running around for Vivian’s matter. Perhaps it was because of this that her body was weak.

Looking at Melissa, who was pale on the bed, Murray took a deep breath and gently kissed her white forehead.

“Don’t worry, I will protect you.”

Chapter 635 Extra Protection

Murray’s eyes became firm, and he would not let Melissa suffer any more harm.

He turned around and winked at his subordinates. “Send a few more people to protect Mrs. Gibson. She must be safe one hundred percent.”

At that moment, Murray received a call from Marc.

He looked at his phone and frowned. Why did Marc call him at this time?

“What’s wrong?”

Murray’s voice sounded a little impatient. As Melissa was sick, he was not in a good mood, if Marc still came to nag him, he might not be able to endure it.

“I heard that Melissa is sick, right? What happened?”

Marc’s thick and powerful voice came over the phone. Murray was stunned. How did he know the men’s so quickly? wondered Murray.

It was no wonder. At that time, there were so many reporters silining by the seaside. Melissa became popular as she married into the Gibson family. Moreover, she argued with the Dewar family in front of so many people. It was hard not to attract attention,

Besides, Marc’s spies were everywhere, so it was not surprising for him to hear of it.

“I have my channels to get the information. Just tell me what happened to Melissa.”

Marc paid no attention to Murray anyjore. He was worried when he saw Melissa sainted in the video.

Melissa was perfect, but she was too persistent. Otherwise, there would not be so much trouble later.

However, it was also because of this that Marc thought Melissa qualified to be the hostess of the Gibson family.

"It's nothing. She suffered from hypoglycemia. She's been too tired recently, and her body can't take it," Murray said indifferently.

She had fainted. So it was quite serious. But since Marc was so old, it was not good for Murray to say anything to make him worried.

"Brat, take good care of her. If something like this happens again, I won't forgive you."

To Murray's surprise, Marc directly criticized him! Hearing that, Marc was even more worried.

This child fell ill because of work. If she encounters something like this in the future, she'll fall i again.

Considering her personality, Murray might not be able to stop her, wondered Marc.

Marc frowned. This couple made him worry about them a lot.

"I'll send a few people to take care of Melissa so that I can rest assured. How about this?"

"You don't need to. I'll take care of her. Nothing will happen."

Murray retorted directly. Although the people under Marc were good at taking care of others, Melissa was his wife after all, and he could take good care of her.

“It’s useless for you to stop me. I’ve already called someone over.”

Murray was silent. Marc was stubborn, and no one could stop him.

“And, to prevent such things from happening again, I still feel that I should ask Melissa to live in the old house. Otherwise, I don’t know what will happen in the future.”

Hearing this, Murray was extremely dissatisfied

“I can take care of my wife myself, so I don’t have to move over. It’s troublesome.”

“If you could take care of Melissa, why did she faint? It’s better for her to live with us. Sarah can take good care of her. You’re busy with your work. So it’s the best choice.”

Murray had no choice but to agree first. Marc was already very old. If he continued to be so stubborn, he was afraid that something bad would happen.

Marc still wanted to utter a few more words, but he did not expect that Murray would use the excuse of taking care of Melissa to directly hang up the phone.

Looking at the gradually darkening screen, Marc didn’t pay much attention to it. They should take good care of her.

Marc waved his hand and summoned the butler, asking him to clean up the room where Melissa and Murray would live so that they could live here at any time.

As soon as Murray hung up the phone, he picked up the towel and was about to wipe Melissa's face. Unexpectedly, Melissa's hand suddenly moved.

Murray's heart treibled, and then lie sal by the bed and held his breath. He thought, is she waking up?

Aller a long time, Melissa was still lynthiere quietly. Her movement jusi no Sceic to be just Murray's Illusion.

He sighed softly and immediately covered Melissa with the quill. She had been too tired these two days, and it was good to sleep a little longer.

However, just as Murray was about to leave, he was caught by a weak hand.

He suddenly turned around, only to see Melissa awake.

"You're awake."

Murray quickly bent down, luis eyes full of concern. "How do you feel? Are you uncomfortable?"

Melissa smiled and shook her head. "No."

Her voice was low, but it was enough for Murray to hear it clearly.

"Are you hungry? Do you want to eat something?"

Murray's voice sounded urgent. When Melissa sainted, he was so agitated. He did not want Melissa to suffer from any illnesses anymore.

"I'm fine. You don't have to worry about me."

Melissa opened her mouth and forced a smile. At the same time, slie felt very warm.

"By the way, where is Vivian? Have you found her?"

When Vivian was mentioned, Murray's expression clianced.

He had long known that Melissa would ask about her. Until now, Vivian was still missing. He was afraid that Melissa would be sad, so he remained silent and did not give any reply.

Secing Murray like this, Melissa know what it meant. She nodded and stopped asking,

She slowly closed her eyes and still felt guilty.

"Don't be sad. We will find her."

Murray gently stroked Melissa's foreliead, indicating that she should relax,

"I wonder how slie is now."

Melissa was very worried. If they still could not find Vivian, she was afraid that what they found would be lier corpse.

“She must be safe now. She has always been smart. She will be fine.”

Murray comforted her softly. Suddenly, a call interrupted them.

Murray took out his phone and saw that it was a call from his assistant,

“Is there any news about Vivian?”

Melissa’s eyes lit up. She grabbed Murray’s hand, willibier eyes burning

Murray pursed his lips and answered the phone.

“Mr. Gibson, we found fragments of the plane on an island in the sea. We followed the fragments and found five people on the plane.”

The assistant reported. Hearing this news, Melissa quickly wanted to sit up but was suppressed by Murray.

“Among the five, we found traces of Ms. Swanson.”

Vivian was found!

The corner of Melissa’s mouth curled up into a smile, Vivian is still alive! she wondered.

knowing that Vivian was safe, she gradually relaxed.

“Okay, I got it. I’ll go there right away.”

Murray nodded and then hung up.

Chapter 636 How Dare You Threaten Me?

“I’ll go over and check. Have a good rest here. I’ll inform you as soon as I get the news.”

Murray wanted to calm down Melissa, but Melissa could not listen to any persuasion at the moment, insisting on searching for her herself.

“If you insist on going there, I will immediately order my subordinates back. I will not care about Vivian’s life.”

In a moment of desperation, Murray could only threaten Melissa.

“You threatened me.”

Melissa glared at Murray. Seeing that Murray used the same trick again, she knew he meant it.

“I’m doing this for your good.” Murray helplessly touched Melissa’s back. “You have just woken up. You will faint after taking a few steps. It is not too late to see her after you have recovered.”

Melissa lowered her eyes. Murray was not completely unreasonable.

She was also a patient. If she went there, not only would her condition worsen, but she would also trouble the doctor. The gains would not make up for the losses,

“Alright.”

She lowered her head and had to compromise.

Murray smiled and gently stroked Melissa's head,

"If anything happens, I will inform you immediately."

Melissa nodded and urged Murray to hurry over. "You should go and check her condition quickly.

Tell me the truth after that."

Murray nodded and told his subordinates to bring Vivian back.

"Don't worry. They will do everything well."

Murray told Vivian to relax. Since Vivian had been found, he would also find the best doctor in the country to treat her.

This time, Vivian fell off the plane. Although she was still alive, she was seriously injured. A large part of her arm was scalded by the burning plane. Her skin became wrinkled from being soaked in the seawater. She looked terrible.

Fortunately, she was still alive. Because she drank log mucli water and was frightened, she could not wake up for a while.

Vivian lay quietly on the bed, not moving at all. She could only rely on the nutrient solution to remain alive.

After a few days, Melissa had almost fully recovered.

She had been eating all kinds of tonics from Marc every day, and Murray had given her a series of massages these days. So she recovered very quickly.

Even the doctor was surprised that she recovered so quickly.

“Look at how well I’ve been doing for the past few days. Let me go and visit Vivian.”

Melissa made a request to Murray and then stood on the ground in front of him, her hands stretched out to form a cross, standing put and circling, showing him that she was fine.

“Look, I’ve recovered so quickly. I’m fine now.”

“Be careful.”

Murray’s face darkened, and he grabbed his coat and draped it over Melissa.

“You are still very weak right now. Don’t catch a cold. Otherwise, all your efforts over the past few days will be wasted.”

Melissa curled her lips and was just about to sit on the bed when Murray suddenly spoke from behind her.

“After you eat the oatmeal, I will take you to visit Vivian.”

Melissa’s eyes lit up in an instant. Without hesitation, she snatched the oatmeal from Murray’s hands and began to devour it.

In less than a minute, she finished the oatmeal.

Seeing that Melissa was smiling at him confidently, Murray had no choice but to fulfill his promise and take Melissa to Vivian's ward.

As soon as Melissa entered Vivian's ward, she was clobbered by the smell of alcohol coming from inside. She looked closely and saw Vivian lying on the bed.

Seeing that there was no intact skin on Vivian's body, Melissa was shocked and covered her mouth in shock. She did not expect Vivian to be so seriously injured.

At that moment, Murray's warm big hand rested on her shoulder.

Melissa turned to look and saw Murray's firm gaze. This made her feel much more at ease.

She slowly walked towards Vivian and reached out to caress her face, "I'm sorry. I shouldn't have asked you to go abroad in such a hurry."

Seeing that Vivian was still sleeping soundly, Melissa did not say anything else. She just sat by Vivian's side and looked at her silently.

Murray had been watching silently from the side. Seeing that Melissa was so sad, he could not directly ask Melissa to return.

"I've almost recovered. You don't have to worry about me." Melissa suddenly turned around and looked at Murray with a serious face. "I am worried about Vivian. Let me take care of her."

Murray couldn't bear it, but seeing Melissa like this, he still couldn't bear to refuse her.

"You also have to take good care of yourself. You are a patient too."

Murray reminded.

Melissa smiled at Murray. She knew that Murray had compromised.

"Alright."

She agreed.

It wasn't until she fell sick that she began to know the consequences of overworking. If she was sick, more people would take advantage of her.

So, she promised Murray to take care of herself not only for him but also for herself.

After Murray left, Melissa took care of Vivian alone.

She took a poisoned towel from the doctor and gently wiped Vivian's body.

Seeing the shocking wounds on Vivian's body, she felt heart-wrenching

So while wiping her body, Melissa tried her best to avoid the wounds.

After that, she lay prone by Vivian's bed and quietly guarded her.

"Melissa, Melissa!"

Just as Melissa was about to fall asleep by the bed, she was shaken awake by one force.

She raised her head abruptly. "Vivian, is Vivian awake?"

Seeing that Vivian was still lying on the bed, Melissa shook her head again.

She turned to look. it was Shayna. He was the one who called Melissa just now.

"What's wrong?"

Melissa rubbed her beautiful eyes and half-propped her head.

"I just finished my work at the company. I heard that Vivian was found and came to take care of her."

Shayna looked at Vivian, who was testing, and his eyes could not help but turn slightly red.

"I didn't expect she would be seriously injured. It's hard on her."

Melissa was helpless and sighed slightly.

"I haven't been around recently. How's the company?" Melissa asked.

She had been focusing on Vivian recently and had neglected the company.

Seeing that Shayna opened her mouth and looked embarrassed, Melissa knew that something was going to happen.

“In the past few days, the company’s resources have always been intercepted by other companies. Even the show of the actors who you recruited a few days ago has been intercepted. I’m almost at my wit’s end.”

The more Shayna spoke, the lower his voice became, and he smirked. If it weren’t for this, he wouldn’t have had the time to come to the hospital to visit Vivian today.

Melissa frowned. She didn’t expect those companies to be so rampant. They even robbed her resources halfway while she was away.
