My Baby's Daddy Chapter 1503

Leslie turned to look at Bonnie in bewilderment. He couldn't believe his ears when Bonnie denied the fact that they were dating.

The members of the Payne Family were disgruntled. It turned out that Queenie dumped Leslie because she had found a better man, yet she had the cheek to sit on her high horse and speak in a high and mighty manner. She even tricked Leslie into dating Bonnie, her arrogant and rude sister!

She was so vicious and cunning.

However, Ashton, Leslie's father, was a businessman through and through. So, when he heard about Nigel's identity, he instinctively wanted to leave a good impression. If he managed such a feat, he would have won a valuable connection which would be a great advantage if there was an opportunity for collaboration in the future.

"Hello, Mr. Manson. My name is Ashton Payne. I run an equipment and machinery business. Here, a toast to you." Ashton immediately got up and raised his glass.

Nigel glanced around the table. Unfortunately, he didn't have his own glass. Hence, when he saw Queenie's glass, he swiftly took it, stood up, raised it to Ashton, and took two sips.

Queenie's heart skipped a beat at his actions! She had drunk the wine prior to his attendance! Could this be considered an indirect kiss?

Brandon hurriedly urged the waiter to bring a wine glass and filled it with wine before handing it to Nigel.

Maggie was overjoyed at this moment. Both her daughters were dating, and she was even more surprised that Queenie's boyfriend was from an extremely wealthy family.

"Queenie, why didn't you bring Nigel to our house before?" Maggie murmured as her tone held at slight reproach. Although, to be fair, it was more than a little inappropriate to meet Nigel on such an occasion.

"I'm sorry, Mom. I'll bring him back for dinner someday." Queenie grinned.

Bonnie glared at Queenie with envy and hatred, but when she looked at Nigel, she immediately turned gentle, shy, and timid. This was her usual tactic when she was with someone she admired. She would pretend to be a mild-mannered damsel in distress who needed protection.

Leslie noticed that Bonnie's favorite dish, grilled shrimp, was placed far away from her. So, he took the initiative to place two shrimps on Bonnie's plate. "Bonnie, here. Have some shrimps."

Bonnie's pretty face was painted with annoyance as she glared at the shrimp on her plate with disgust. "Don't you know that I'm allergic to shrimp?!" With that, she swept the shrimp aside and refused to pay attention to it.

Leslie was shocked. Only a few days ago, Bonnie specially requested the grilled shrimp and told him it was delicious.

Queenie watched their interaction in gleeful satisfaction. She secretly rejoiced when she saw Leslie being disliked and hated by Bonnie in various ways. There was no doubt in her heart that she genuinely thought that he deserved every bit of it.

“Bonnie, Leslie is being nice to you!” Keira couldn’t help but speak up for Leslie.

“I don’t need anyone to be nice to me!” Bonnie grumbled disrespectfully. The expressions of the members of the Payne Family darkened at her words. Even Brandon reprimanded her less-than- stellar demeanor sternly, “Bonnie! Watch your words!”

Bonnie bit down on her lips and remained silent.

At this moment, Nigel brought a piece of shrimp to Queenie. “Do you like it?”

“Yes! I like it very much.” With that, Queenie didn’t hesitate to bite down on the shrimp and enjoyed the shrimp with relish. “One more, please.”

Nigel took another piece of shrimp, but instead of placing it on her plate, he fed it to her. Queenie was taken aback by his daring at first, but she quickly composed herself as she smiled, opened her mouth, and bit it.

They openly displayed their affection in front of the people present.

Bonnie could feel the resentment burning inside her. Queenie was doing this on purpose.

Maggie and Brandon exchanged glances at the couple’s behavior but said nothing in the end. In their minds, Queenie had always been carefree and forthright, so they did not find her current behavior odd or inappropriate at all.

“Leslie, right? Allow me to give you a toast.” Nigel suddenly raised his glass to Leslie.

Despite the annoyance and resentment bubbling in Leslie’s veins, he had to force a smile and raise his glass reluctantly due to his fear of Nigel’s wealth and affluent background. “Mr. Manson, cheers.”

“Before drinking this glass of wine, I want to thank you for giving Queenie to me,” Nigel narrowed his eyes and said.

Leslie sighed and lamented, “Well, I suppose we’re not meant to be together.”

After Nigel took a sip of the wine, he extended his arm and wrapped it around Queenie’s shoulders. Queenie stiffened in shock and looked up at Nigel beside her.

Nigel looked back at her, and their eyes met. Then, finally, he called out her name softly, “Queenie, I have something to tell you.”

Queenie blinked curiously, looking forward to what he would say to spice things up.

Even Bonnie, who sat across from Nigel and Queenie, felt her heart leap to her throat when she heard Nigel’s remark. Did he plan to confess to Queenie in front of her parents?

“Queenie, you may have been worthless to a man who didn’t appreciate and cherish are priceless to me. So from now on, I’ll care for you and love you for the rest of your life.”

you, but you

Queenie was enjoying a morsel of food when she heard Nigel's statement. She was so dazed that she forgot to chew for a moment as she stared at Nigel, who was smiling so gently. Was he telling the truth or making their bluff seem more believable?

She must admit that Nigel was a natural-born actor if it was a bluff. Julian should even give his best actor award to Nigel.

But it seemed impossible to be true. After all, she was the one who came up with the idea for him to be her pretend boyfriend.

Unexpectedly, Nigel got into character so seriously that she didn't know how to follow up.

However, never let it be said that Queenie didn't know how to ad-lib on the fly as she regained her composure and smiled sweetly. "Really?"

Nigel flicked the tip of her nose lightly. "Of course! Do you think I'm bluffing?"

Queenie chuckled and thought. Of course you are! This is all fake from the start!

Still, everyone present felt that Nigel's confession was genuine. Nigel even mocked Leslie as the man who didn't appreciate Queenie and regarded her as worthless.

Bonnie was so jealous that she was barely holding on to her rationality, and at the same time, she immediately came to a decisive conclusion. She must ruin Queenie's happiness and steal Nigel from her. Even if she couldn't win Nigel's heart in the end, she would definitely ruin Queenie's chances to be with a man like him.

"Oh! By the way, I broke off the engagement today, but it is also Bonnie's engagement day! So I won't steal the limelight. Dad, Mom, Mr. and Mrs. Payne, please host their engagement party!" It seemed as if it finally occurred to Queenie that she was stealing the limelight.

Maggie nodded when she heard her reminder and said, "Right! We almost forgot about this. So, Bonnie and Leslie..."

"Dad, mom, you misunderstood. I have no intention of getting engaged to Leslie," Bonnie put her foot down.

At the same time, she glared daggers at Queenie.

It was only natural for Queenie to pick up on Bonnie's ire. Still, considering the situation, she merely smirked in amusement and turned her attention to Leslie, "You must be responsible for my sister."

Leslie was a bit chagrined. Bonnie had been so affectionate to him before this, but why did she suddenly change her mind and refuse to marry him?

Were all his efforts in the past six months in vain?

“Queenie, stop sticking your nose where it doesn’t belong. Leslie and I are just friends. You’ve clearly misunderstood things,” Bonnie continued on with her bald-faced lie. After she had set her sights on Nigel, there was no way she would ever admit to being involved with Leslie.

Queenie knew Bonnie’s character like the back of her hand. She knew Bonnie wanted to dump Leslie and steal Nigel. Nevertheless, she would not give her such a chance.

“Bonnie, I’m your sister, so of course, I have to mind your business. Both of you have already done the deed, so it’s only right for me to ensure he marries you!” Queenie avowed firmly.

Bonnie’s frayed nerves snapped as her face flushed with anger. She was flustered as Queenie bluntly revealed that she had slept with Leslie in front of Nigel. She glanced at Nigel to observe his expression, but he was drinking water and didn’t look like he was paying attention to the proceedings.

“Don’t be ridiculous. Nothing happened between us. That day, I was drunk, and Leslie took care of me the whole night. Nothing happened,” Bonnie explained angrily, trying to alter the fact.

Leslie was shocked when he heard Bonnie’s denials. Yet, this was indeed an opportunity for him. to see an individual lying through her teeth and trying her best to get away with it.

“Bonnie, how can you...” Leslie was heartbroken.

“Leslie, hurry up and explain to Queenie what happened that day. Nothing happened between us, right?” Bonnie’s gaze was fixed on him. She was forcing him to take her side.

Leslie finally accepted reality for what it was as he gulped down the wine and hissed, “Whatever!”

“Bonnie, what do you mean by that? You don’t like Leslie?! Do you know how much he spent on you in the past six months just to ask you out?! How can you say such a thing now?” Keira roared, feeling upset on behalf of Leslie.

Maggie and Brandon immediately defended Bonnie valiantly, “Bonnie is still young and immature. Please forgive her.”
