Chapter 2478

“Hehe! Order it! I’ll eat whatever you order. I’m not picky eaters anyway.” Mike said cheekily, “I won’t call your son for you if I’m not full.”

Elliot: “I-I didn’t want to starve you to death.”

Elliot just couldn’t stand Mike using him like a servant.

“Hey, do you know what we brought here this time?”

Mike got dressed, walked out of the room, and chatted with Elliot.

“What did you bring?” Elliot asked.

“Haha, I won’t tell you! You’re so curious!” Mike finished, humming a little song, and briskly walked towards the bathroom.

After Elliot called for breakfast, Hayden walked out of the room.

When Elliot saw his son, he immediately had a pleasant face: “Hayden, I ordered breakfast and it was delivered quickly. How did you sleep last night?”

Hayden didn’t want to answer this question.

Mike came out of the bathroom, saw Hayden, and immediately teased: “Your father ordered your favorite breakfast for you.”

“What is my favorite?” Hayden didn’t even know. Mike shook his head: “I don’t know! That’s what your father said. I’m so disgusted. By the way, he said to take you to Nick’s for dinner at night, so be prepared!” Hayden looked at Elliot glance.

“Hayden, I’m just about to tell you. Let’s have dinner together tonight. It might be a little dangerous, but I will try not to let it happen.” Elliot explained to his son.

“It’s not up to you whether the danger will happen or not.” Hayden said angrily.

“If you’re afraid, I can go alone at night.” Elliot didn’t want to hurt his son.

“Elliot, can you talk? Your son is here to protect you. If he’s afraid, he won’t come!” Mike reminded Elliot loudly, telling him not to make Hayden unhappy.

Elliot actually didn’t want to make Hayden unhappy, but he was subconsciously afraid that his decision would bring him risks.

“Then let’s go together tonight.” Elliot adjusted his emotions and said to his son, “You protect me.” Hayden’s face turned red.

Fortunately, breakfast was delivered quickly. Mike and Hayden had breakfast together, and Elliot sat beside him drinking coffee.

Elliot: "We can go out for a walk later."

Mike: "What is there to do in this sh*tty place? And it's freezing cold."

Hayden: "I want to go out for a walk."

Mike: "There is so much outside Thick snow, what are you going out for?"

Hayden: "Leave me alone."

Mike closed his mouth, took a bite of his sandwich, and said, "I'll go out with you. I promised your mother that I would guard you."

"Mike, didn't you say you didn't sleep, okay? You went to bed after breakfast. I'll go out with Hayden for a walk." Elliot made

Mike's arrangement clear without thinking.

"Okay..." Mike said.

Before Mike could finish his sentence, Hayden changed his mind: "I won't go out."

"Hahaha, the three of us go shopping together!

Otherwise, the three of us are at home, it feels so strange!" Mike didn't feel sleepy anymore.

Mainly because Mike was made uncomfortable by the awkward atmosphere created by the father and son.

"Okay. Let's go shopping and do some shopping." Elliot agreed without hesitation.

As long as Elliot could go out with his son, it didn't matter if there were multiple light bulbs.

Time flies, and it was evening.

Elliot came to Nick's house with his son and the gifts he bought in the afternoon.

The second brother and the fourth brother came over in the afternoon.

After Elliot brought Hayden into Nick's house, everyone came out to greet him.
