

When His Eyes Opened

Chapter 2515

Chapter 2515

“I...I just suddenly found that I can’t remember what you look like, so I want to remember what you look like.” Siena lowered her head and found a reason with guilt.

Lucas: “You call so intimately, but you don’t even know what I look like...”

“Young Master, I lied. I know what you look like. I just suddenly found that you are a bit handsome.” Siena raised her head and spoke honestly.

“You just found out that I’m handsome today?” Lucas stopped what he was doing.

“You had a bruised nose and swollen face a few days ago, so I didn’t notice it.” Siena said, and trying to change the subject, “Did you not rub the medicine I bought for you? Or should I take it to the pharmacy and return it?”

“Can you take back other people’s things?” Lucas gained insight, “You’re so kind.”

Siena’s cheeks became hot: “I’ll give you the money back, I don’t want your money.”

“Am I short of that money? What are you pretending to be in your mind?” In order to calm himself down, Lucas ordered, “Go and clean my room. Don’t touch my personal items.”

Siena: “Oh, okay.”

In the evening.

Under Siena’s enthusiastic persuasion, Lucas finally stepped out of the gate of the auxiliary building.

Lucas wore the down jacket Siena bought for him.

After wearing a down jacket, he felt that it was not so cold outside.

“After we leave the community, we can take the bus to the city center.” Siena said, found two coins from her schoolbag, and gave one to Lucas.

“What are you going to eat?” Lucas was a little hungry.

“What do you want to eat?” Siena asked.

Lucas looked at Siena’s face under the street lamp, and remembered that she had to pay off the debt, so she said, “Eat whatever you want! As long as you can fill your stomach.”

Siena: “Young Master, you are so kind. You know that I have to repay the debt, so you don’t let me spend money.”

Lucas frowned slightly: “Can you stop telling other people’s thoughts every time? Don’t you feel embarrassed?”

Siena shook her head: "It's not embarrassing! Because you are really good."

Lucas pursed her thin lips and he's speechless.

Only Siena thought Lucas was a good man.

"I'm not so patient with others." Maybe because it's dark now, so Lucas spoke to her.

"Why?" Siena guessed, "Because I'm more pitiful?"

"You're not only pitiful, but also tenacious." Lucas made an analogy, "It's like my dog. I picked it up and brought it home. It was almost dead."

Siena: "..."

Lucas: "I didn't say you were a dog."

Siena: "I didn't misunderstand."

Lucas put his hands in his pockets and walked a few steps. Finally, he changed the subject: "Is there still a bus at this moment?"

The bus passed extremely fast.

"Do you have any friends?" Lucas walked to the platform and asked casually.

"No." Siena asked back, "Young Master, you don't have any friends, do you? I haven't seen you call or chat with anyone."

Lucas: "Aren't you the same? There's nothing to laugh at me."

“Young Master, I didn’t laugh at you. I just think you are so handsome, there must be many people willing to be friends with you, is it because you don’t want to play with others?” Siena said, “I’m different from you. People don’t want to play with me.”

“I don’t need friends.” Lucas said indifferently, “You don’t need friends either, you just need to study hard. If you can be admitted to University of Thopiavelle, I will give you a gift.”

“Young Master, After I make friends, you will give me gifts. Do you regard me as a friend?” Siena asked cautiously.

Lucas: “...”

Siena blinked and said, “Young Master, you are blushing.”
