

I'm A Quadrillionaire

Chapter 426

He remembered now.

It turned out that some time ago, East League Capitals invested 100 billion to build schools in impoverished areas across the country.

As a person who had dedicated his life to education, he had naturally been very interested in this matter.

However, the heat of that incident had passed and it had been a long time since then, so he could not remember it.

This was the same East League Capitals!

A company that was estimated to be worth over trillions.

Such a big company was actually controlled by the young man in his twenties in front of him.

He was also a former student of Shu City High.

Both Mr. Johnston and Giselle felt like they were in a dream when both the corporate representative and chairman of East League Capitals were named David Lidell.

David could donate 100 billion easily.

Hence, it seemed completely reasonable for him to donate 100 million to his former alma mater.

"How is it? Mr. Johnston, do you believe me now?" David asked with a smile.

"D-David, you're hilarious. I didn't expect you to have such an achievement in three years. I can't find any adjectives to describe you," Mr. Johnston said, a wry smile on his face.

"Mr. Johnston, you speak too highly of me. Since you believe me, let's talk about the related matters. I will be returning to River City in a few days," David said.

"Alright, sure. We shall discuss this carefully."

After the scholarship fund and the donation to the school were finalized, Mr. Johnston also called in the staff who were responsible for the finance of the school as well as all the school leaders.

David directly deposited 200 million into the school's account.

100 million was donated to the school while 100 million was to set up a scholarship fund.

Once the 200 million funds were in the account, the school leaders of Shu City High felt as if they were in a dream.

With this fund, they could definitely increase the popularity and teaching quality of the school to another level.

Moreover, David said that they could take out some of the 100 million donations to increase the teacher's and the staff's benefit.

This was related to their self-interest.

It seemed that they would be able to get a pretty hefty bonus in the new year.

After everything was done, David said to Giselle, "Ms. Hans, we will have a high school reunion in two days. You should have seen news of it too. I hope you can come to join us." —

"Yes, I did. I'll be there when the time comes. I'm very happy to see that you all have a bright future," Giselle said happily.

In the end, David was escorted by a group of school leaders from Shu City High before leaving the campus.

When he was walking to the security office, David reminded Mr. Lowell and advised him to go back before opening the box because David had prepared other things for him.

David did not return to the hotel after leaving Shu City High.

Instead, he took Celia around Shu City.

Although he had not come back for three years, David was still very familiar with this city.

When he was in high school, whether it was noon or after school, on weekends such as Saturdays and Sundays, or on winter and summer vacations, David would be riding a bicycle through the streets and alleys of Shu City to deliver takeaways.

Thus, David's footprints were in every remote corner of this city.

David was deeply moved when he returned to these places once again.

Three years ago, he was someone from the lowest rank in society. The only thing he was proud of and the only good thing about him was that he had pretty good grades.

Right now, he was the founder of a company that was worth trillions.

Also, he had a pretty high status in Somerland. If he told people about his status, even the cabinet minister of South River Province would need to show respect to him.

Before this, he even met that legendary old man from Somerland and they chatted so happily.

These were achievements that countless people could not achieve in their entire lifetime. Meanwhile, he could do this within just a few months.

Everything was brought to him by the super lavish system!

Without it, he might still be studying hard in university and thinking about finding a good job in the future.

Chapter 427

Celia held David's arm. They were attracting the attention of countless people as they walked along the road.

When they walked to a street that was predominantly selling snacks, David pointed to a fast food restaurant opposite them and said to Celia with a grin, "Celia, do you remember the dozen or so takeaways that were knocked over when I rescued you? Those were all from this shop."

"I'm sorry, David, I caused you to lose a lot of money at the time, right?" Celia said apologetically.

"Silly girl, you don't have to keep apologizing to me. We don't need to be so polite to each other. It's actually not that bad. The boss only wanted me to pay back the cost of the food and in the end, I still made a profit since I got an amazing angel in the form of you."

The two continued to walk again. They bought some food as they walked.

Every time he went to a familiar place, David would tell Celia about his glorious deeds there.

Celia loved this feeling.

She wanted to keep walking with David like this.

Back to the hotel.

David got a call from Aunt Diana asking him and Celia to visit her house tomorrow.

Before long, Aunt Sally called him again and asked them to go to her house the day after.

It seemed that the two of them had already arranged this.

Since the two had already called to invite him, David naturally had to go.

It seemed that the plan to take Celia around the city over the next two days had been shattered.

It would have to wait until after the high school reunion.

There were many places in Shu City with nice scenery. There were no factories in this small place, so everything here was at its original state and had not been polluted.

David was lying on the bed as he turned on his mobile phone. His high school classmates had been making a lot of noise in the group chat these days because of the approaching reunion.

Clay: (The reunion is in two days. Is everyone back yet?)

This was sent by Clay Donovan, the class monitor when David was still in high school.

His family was pretty well-off in Shu City.

Classmate: (Clay, I'm already back in Shu City.)

Classmate: (Clay, me too!) Classmate: (Clay, I'll only go back tomorrow.)

Classmate: (Clay, I'll be there the day after tomorrow.)

Clay: (How many of you are confirmed to attend? Give me a show of hands. After I confirm the number of people attending, it'll be easier for me to book the restaurant and the int and the entertainment at night.)

Classmate: (1)

Classmate:[2]

Classmate: (3)

Classmate: (35)

David waited for a while. Once no one else was sending messages, he sent one.

David: [36] After David sent that, Celia sent a message as well.

Celia: [37]

The moment Celia sent that, the group blew up.

Classmate: [Damn, Goddess Celia is also coming? How surprising!]

Classmate: [F*ck me! Goddess Celia is replying, what a miracle!]

Classmate: (Yeah! Goddess Celia, you rarely reply in the group chat. Why did you show up all of a sudden? We're so flattered.)

Classmate: (Hello, Goddess Celia!]

Classmate: [Everyone, come look! The goddess might run away after a while!]

Celia was the prettiest girl in high school, and she was very outstanding. She was miles ahead of the people behind her, so naturally, she was sought after by countless boys.

In addition, she was the leading light of the province for the college entrance examination. Hence, she was someone invincible in terms of both looks and brains.

She would make girls feel ashamed of themselves whilst boys felt that she was unattainable.

After graduating, Celia stayed in the group chat, but she seldom said anything.

Every time she spoke, the group chat would blow up.

For a moment, Clay was also excited. He did not expect Celia to come. God was helping him indeed as he had admired Celia for a long time.

Aside from him, all of the boys in the school admired Celia too.

Chapter 428

This was an excellent opportunity.

What was the class reunion for?

Was it not for eating and chatting?

After the meal was over, he would arrange for everyone to go singing.

As the saying goes, men would not get a chance if women were not drunk.

He would then ask a few more male and female classmates to persuade Celia to drink more. After that, would he not have an opportunity? 1

This was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. He would not have a chance again if he missed it this time. Celia never joined their gatherings when she was in high school, and she was even absent from the gathering they held during graduation.

Thus, no one expected her to come this time.

Clay was excited.

It was not just him, all the boys in the class were all excited too.

They would not have wishful thoughts of getting Celia, but when it came to this kind of goddess, being able to experience her presence would make them happy for several days.

Celia: (Hello everyone, I rarely talk to you all because of the tight academic schedule. I am here now and I am apologizing to everyone. I hope you all don't mind.)

Classmate: [Of course not! Why would we mind that?]

Classmate: (Yeah, we absolutely don't mind!)

Classmate: (Goddess Celia, we don't even have time to feel happy that you still remember us old schoolmates. Why would we mind?)

Clay immediately said courteously.

Clay: (Celia, when are you coming to Shu City? I can pick you up.)

Celia: [No, thank you, I'm already in Shu City.]

Classmate: (What? Goddess Celia has arrived in Shu City? Where?)

Classmate: (Which part of Shu City are you in, Goddess Celia? Can I have the privilege of meeting you?)

Clay: (Celia, where are you in Shu City? Do you want me to arrange a place for you to stay?

Don't get me wrong, the best hotel in Shu City belongs to my uncle and I can get it for you for free.)

Celia: [No, thank you, I came with my friends. See you at the party, I'll rest first. Good night, everyone!]

Celia stopped paying attention to the group chat after sending the last message.

However, there was a commotion in the group.

No one expected Celia to come.

David looked at the chat and smirked.

He was not surprised that Celia could cause such a commotion.

He genuinely felt that he was very lucky.

On the way to deliver meals, he met Celia who fell in the middle of the road and saved her. In the end, he managed to imprint his figure in her heart.

Otherwise, even if he was now worth billions, it will be difficult to get Celia to even look at him.

David also stopped paying attention to his phone.

At this time, someone in the group sent a number.

Sarah: (38]

When everyone looked at it, they saw that it was Sarah! Did Sarah not break up with David for a rich kid and then get depressed after she was dumped by that same guy?

Why was she suddenly joining the reunion?

Even though everyone was curious, they did not say anything.

No one wanted to bring up this kind of thing that would offend someone.

They would naturally find out in the gathering two days later.

Why would they offend Sarah right now?

“Clay: [So I think there are only 38 of us, right? There are 68 people in the class so 38 people is a pretty good turnout. It's already more than half. After all, many people still need to work hard to make a living. This is our first reunion after graduating from high school and in the future, I plan to host a reunion every year, so I hope that everyone can come and participate. At the very least, it will give us something to remember when we are old. As for the cost, I will cover the cost of this party and you guys can just turn up. Thank you for your support for this class reunion, see you all in two days.”

After Clay sent that, the group was lively again.

Classmate: (Thanks for taking the time and effort to organize this party, Clay. And thank you for not charging us.)

Classmate: (Thank you, Clay. God bless you, Clay!) Classmate: (Clay, you're awesome. We love you!]

Chapter 429

The next day, David brought Celia to his Aunt Diana's house.

David drove the car and drove Celia into the neighborhood that had once been very familiar.

After parking the car, he went upstairs with Celia.

Once he was at the door to Aunt Diana's house, he knocked at it.

Soon, the door opened.

It was his cousin, Judy.

“Dave, Celia, you're here! Come in.”

When David and Celia entered the house, they found that there were quite a few people in the house.

There were at least ten of them.

However, although Aunt Diana's house was a little old, the place was quite spacious. Thus, it was not crowded despite having more than ten people in the living room.

David knew these people.

His Uncle Leslie's family was there, but David was not surprised.

It was because Aunt Diana had always been in touch with Uncle Leslie's family.

However, his Uncle Bobby's family was also there, which made David a little confused.

Was there not a huge conflict between Aunt Diana and Uncle Bobby because of him?

Why had they suddenly reconciled?

David was a little puzzled.

When they saw David coming in, both Leslie and Bobby had strange expressions on their faces.

Ever since Diana had gotten money, the brothers had been envious.

Bobby even bought a lot of things and brought his entire family to Diana's house to apologize to her.

After all, they were siblings, and since Bobby had already apologized, Diana figured that it would not be good to hold on to this grudge.

Her two younger brothers were begging her to help them find the right social connections for them because they also wanted to take root in a big city like River City.

When the brothers went to River City and saw Diana's villa, they were even more moved.

It would be so nice if they could stay in a place like this.

However, how would Diana have the social connections to help them?

That was why the brothers looked unnatural when they saw David walking in.

How should they get erasing the estrangement between them?

Of course, their families should apologize to David.

If not, what else could they do?

As David's uncles, they had to turn around and apologize to their nephew.

They felt that they could not swallow their pride to do so.

However, when they thought of Diana's luxury car and villa, they had no choice but to try.

After all, it was just an apology, it was nothing major.

If they could live in a villa and drive luxury cars, they would even be willing to kneel in front David. At the end of the day, only their families would know about this.

Did they not see how grand and well-off Diana and Sally were when they came back?

Anyone would be envious.

As the saying went, 'Humans could not live without honor just like trees could not live without bark.'

Chapter 430

They also wanted to experience the envious look of others.

When the two were about to speak, someone was one step ahead of them

"Dave, you're here. Come sit down." When Aunt Karen saw David coming in, she quickly got up to give David her seat.

Bobby might feel embarrassed to do so, but she did not. As long as she could get David's forgiveness, she could drive a luxury car like Diana, live in a luxurious villa, and have a job that could provide her a lot of money without much work.

She had been dreaming about this kind of life every day recently.

When Leslie saw Aunt Karen being so active and courteous, he hinted at his wife with his eyes.

He was asking her to learn from Karen.

If she wanted to drive a luxury car and live in a luxurious villa, she could not be too passive.

David did not speak or greet these people. Instead, he pulled Celia to the other side.

"Judy, let's squeeze a little," David said to Judy.

Judy quickly stood up and said, "Sit, I'll go help out in the kitchen."

David pulled Celia to sit down.

He did not have much to say to Bobby and his family.

Everything that happened in the past was still vivid in his memory.

If he had not escaped their clutches in time and stayed with Aunt Sally, it was hard to say whether he would even still be alive right now.

He would never forget those dark times.

Karen smiled awkwardly and sat back down again.

"Dave, how are you doing? How's your studies?" Aunt Lisa asked with a smile on her face.

"Dave, you've been working out there for so long, you should come back and visit if you have time.

We've cleaned your parents' house for you so you can come back and stay there at any time," Karen said flatteringly.

David did not intend to pay any attention to them, and the atmosphere was a little awkward.

Although Celia had no idea what was going on, she could feel the change in David's mood. Hence, she gripped David's hand tightly.

No matter what the situation was, she chose to always trust David.

Alex was sitting on one side, but he did not know what to say.

When Diana asked Bobby and Leslie to come, he felt that it was inappropriate and objected, but to no avail.

He watched David grow up and he knew what happened to David at Bobby's house.

He had also been in the organization for most of his life, so he was a pretty good judge of character.

David was the kind of person who would return one's kindness to them tenfold, but he would also return the deeds of anyone who wronged him tenfold too.

If Bobby was not David's uncle, he would be ten times worse off.

Therefore, asking David to forgive them would be wishful thinking.

It would be bad if they did not get the desired outcome but got themselves into a whole other mess instead.

Was the situation in front of him not developing in the direction he predicted?

He just hoped that David would not become estranged with their family, otherwise their gains would not be able to make up for the loss they would suffer.

However, with David's character, he might not care about this trivial matter.

"Dave, at the end of the day, we are still a family. Although we were a bit over the line in the past, I am still your uncle after all. We have the same blood in our veins. What can't be resolved, right?"

Bobby said.

One had to admit that Bobby's statement had a certain level of logic.

If David did not experience hell all those years staying with him, he might be able to forgive Bobby.

If Leslie was the one who said this, David might need to reconsider.

After all, even though Leslie did not help him, at least he did not torture him.

However, since Bobby was the one who said this, David was furious and he could not suppress the anger in his heart anymore.

"Uncle? Have you fulfilled your duty as an uncle? If it wasn't for Aunt Diana and Aunt Sally, I might be dead now. I know what you're thinking. You saw that Aunt Diana and Aunt Sally's lives turned for the better because of me so you want to curry favor with me and get some benefits, right? Let me tell you, Bobby, I just donated 200 million to Shu City High yesterday. I would rather donate the money than give you a single penny: You should give up hope right now."

Chapter 431

As soon as David said that, everyone in the hall immediately took a sharp breath.

It was not David's decisiveness that made everyone react like that, instead, it was because David actually said that he donated 200 million to Shu City High yesterday.

200 million!

Judging from the fact that David bought a billion-dollar mansions for his Aunt Sally and Aunt Diana and also owned an eight-star hotel worth tens of billions of dollars, this was definitely not hot air.

Bobby and Leslie's family members' eyes sparkled.

It would be so amazing if this was for them.

However, David donated it.

Quin was also very excited at this time.

After seeing the luxury car driven by his cousin-in-law and Uncle Alex, he would have dreams about showing up in a luxury car every day.

If that happened, beautiful girls would line up to get in his car.

That feeling was simply amazing.

However, if he wanted to get these, he must first form a good relationship with David.

If he could own a luxury car and mansion like Aunt Diana's family, David could even beat him up if he wanted to. He would not respond to David's curses or even beatings.

"Dave, um..."

David interrupted Quin right after he managed to get a few words out.

"Quin, don't call me that, I am not worthy of you calling me that. I won't split hairs with you about the matters that happened when we were young. We were all small back then, but you dared to hit my Aunt Sally and I will never forgive you for that."

"... I didn't hit her! I just accidentally pushed her!" Quin said softly in defense.

Although David put him on the spot, he would endure this for the sake of the luxury car and mansion. "Enough. It doesn't matter if you pushed or hit her, I don't want to hear your explanation anymore. From now on, I don't want to have anything to do with your family so don't even think about getting any benefits from me." David said firmly.

He would not do that family any favors.

It was useless for anyone to ask for mercy.

Not that he was cruel, but everything that happened in the past was still fresh in his mind.

There were so many nights when he would starve and freeze while Bobby's family was having lavish meals.

There were so many times when it was Quin's fault, but he blamed it on David and then David was beaten until he would be covered in scars that would not heal for half a month.

He was still young at the time and did not understand the inside story. He only realized what was going on when he got older.

They were just doing this for his parents' 2 million compensation.

It would be best if he died.

The 2 million in damages would then belong to Bobby's family.

If Bobby's family really treated him like their own son, they would have 20 billion now, let alone 2 million.

Unfortunately, their vision was too near-sighted.

It was only 2 million, yet and it was able to override their conscience.

Since they had done these things, they would have to suffer the consequences.

If apologies worked, why did the police exist?

If they were not for the face that Uncle Bobby was family, David would want them to get a taste of being tortured.

He was already very kind to them for not torturing the way they tortured him back then.

Now, they had the cheek to ask for benefits?

Keep dreaming!

It was clear that David was not giving Bobby and his family a second chance when he said that.

Quin's face turned red after hearing that.

Karen also had a look of anxiety on her face.

Chapter 432

Although Felicia did not speak, it did not mean she did not want to be like Aunt Diana's family.

Who would not want a luxury car and a mansion?

Who would not want to earn millions a year without having to work?

However, she knew it was unrealistic to ask David to forgive their family.

After all, what her parents did to David was over the line.

Hence, she did not have much hope for this family.

Bobby opened his mouth to say something, but in the end, he did not.

At this time, Diana came out.

"Dave, just let bygones be bygones. Your parents have passed, and they are still your relatives after all. You can't keep living in hatred. You have already made something for yourself so you have to get over this," Diana persuaded.

Bobby and his family cast Diana grateful glances.

"Aunt Diana, you don't need to plead for them anymore. I know their family too well and I won't go into details about how they treated me before. If I was still a poor student, would they come and apologize to me? Definitely not. It's possible they wouldn't even have looked at me when I die. Is this what an uncle should do? Plus, I'm not living in hatred. On the contrary, I'm very grateful that they didn't beat me to death or starve me to death as that's why they can still sit here all safe and sound."

"Sigh... Dave..."

Diana wanted to say something more, but David spoke first.

"Aunt Diana, let's not talk about this anymore, okay? You've been good to me and I appreciate you, but when it comes to these people... Sorry, I can't treat them the same as you."

David stopped talking.

The light in the eyes of Bobby's family dimmed instantly.

Although they felt that they were indeed very cruel to David before, they figured that blood was still thicker than water.

David was well-off now so even if he would not treat them as good as Diana's family, he would at least give them some benefits.

Take Bobby and Diana as examples. The two siblings got into a huge fight about David's matter many years ago, but after Bobby came to apologize, Diana forgave him.

They thought that David might be easy-mannered as well, so they had been waiting for the opportunity to finally arrive to apologize.

At the same time, they were also fantasizing about the days when they could live in a luxury house and drive a luxury car.

However, David slapped them in the face today.

The dream of having a luxury house and a luxury car were shattered.

The family found this a little hard to accept.

Especially Quin.

He had already told everyone that their family was going to live in a mansion in River City soon and they could soon drive a million-dollar luxury car.

How would he be able to face his friends now?

He would be ridiculed to death.

However, there was nothing he could do.

The last time David was at his house, he was traumatized.

bo

Celia had been holding David's hand tightly and she could feel David's mood fluctuating violently.

She had never seen David so angry before.

This must be the family who left David with unforgettable and indelible pain and made David like this.

Celia also showed disgust when she looked at Bobby's family.

Leslie's family saw what happened to Bobby and did not dare to say anything more.

Still, they felt that their situation was different from Bobby's. After all, when David lived with Bobby, he was abused by Bobby's family. They only did not help David, but they did not outright abuse David themselves.

It was just that when David was in a bad mood, they did not dare to go and poke the bear.

They would only speak when they had a chance to do so in the future.

When Diana saw how resolute David was, she sighed and did not talk to him anymore. She then walked into the kitchen after patting David's shoulder.

David also held Celia's hand and followed Diana into the kitchen to help out. He did not want to stay here and look at those people's faces.

David was entirely in his element when it came to cooking.

Even though Celia was from a rich family, she lived alone in Shu City when she was in senior year, so she learned how to cook as well.

Thus, there was no problem when the two of them worked together.

Chapter 433

Bobby and Leslie's families were left in the living room, along with Alex.

The two families were looking at each other with unpleasant expressions on their faces.

David's words were like a basin of cold water as it doused all their passion.

Originally, they were thinking of getting some benefits from Diana so they could drive luxury cars, live in a luxurious mansion, and have good jobs like Diana's family.

Unexpectedly, David did not give them any face at all.

David donated 200 million on a whim, but he was not willing to do them any favors.

The two families had endless regret in their hearts right now.

If they had known that David could be so promising, they would have been nicer to him.

If they gave a small price or cared a little about David, they would be able to reap unlimited benefits today.

Just look at Diana and Sally.

Not only did David give them million-dollar mansions, but he also arranged leisurely jobs with an annual salary of more than one million for them.

They could get so much money without doing anything.

Everyone knew that David was just looking for a way to give them money.

Who would not envy the lives they were leading?

Leslie and his wife were the ones who were feeling the most remorseful.

They had a lot of opportunities to help David back then.

When David was staying at Diana's house, he had a good relationship with Diana, so he would come to visit often.

However, they basically ignored David, and even when David called him, he would not bother to acknowledge him.

This was a missed opportunity for him to experience a reversal of fortune.

Sigh.

Leslie and his wife sighed heavily.

They truly regretted this.

David, Celia, and Judy helped Diana in the kitchen together.

Soon, two tables of sumptuous lunch were ready.

While they were eating, Diana wanted to arrange for David and Bobby's family to sit together, but David refused.

In the end, Bobby and Leslie's family sat at one table, while David, Celia, and Diana sat at the other table.

After lunch, Diana wanted David to stay a little longer.

However, David did not want to be around people like Bobby, so he left with Celia on the pretext that he had work to do.

After David left, Bobby and Leslie's family were completely devoid of hope and all of them looked listless.

"You guys, I told you back then that every dog has its day. What can you do now? If you treated David even a little bit nicer, you wouldn't end up where you are today," Diana said reproachfully.

"Diana, what's the use of talking about this now? We know we were wrong, but what can we do? There's no pill to turn back time," Leslie replied.

"Yeah, what's the use of talking about it now?" Bobby replied with a sigh.

"Just wait for a while longer. Dave is still mad now, but maybe it'll get better after some time. After all, blood is thicker than water."

"Aunt Diana, is David really the boss of Golden Leaf Hotel, that eight-star hotel you're working in?" Quin asked.

Everyone looked at Diana curiously, waiting for her answer.

"Of course. He's the chairman, if not, how would he manage to arrange for all of us to work there? I heard from the people in the finance department that all of our annual salaries exceed the salary of the general manager of Golden Leaf Hotel."

"Then how much do you get each month?" Quin asked again.

"Now, we get 500 thousand a month, so our family of four will get 2 million a month," Diana said.

These people were the closest to her, so she did not need to hide anything.

"2 m-million a month? Which means it'll be 24 million a year? My God!" Quin exclaimed.

The others were also shocked.

Bobby and Karen's hearts were bleeding.

For two million, they formed bad intentions which made David hate them so much.

If they had not done this, with the four people in his family, one person could get 500 thousand dollars a month so the whole family would have 2 million dollars a month and 24 million yuan a year.

Chapter 434

Now not only did they not get the 2 million, but they also made a huge loss here.

24 million a year!

The two of them wanted to slap themselves heavily a few times.

They had let go of the big prize while grabbing at scraps.

Not only did they want to slap themselves, Leslie and his wife also wanted to slap themselves.

"No, you can't calculate it like this. Dave said that we can also go directly to finance to get the money we need. He asked us to learn how to manage this hotel because this hotel will be given to us in the future anyway."

Bobby and Leslie's entire family felt dizzy.

"Can't you watch your mouth? How can you tell them everything?" Alex asked in a heavy tone.

"We're family, so what's there to be scared of?" Diana said indifferently.

"Hmph!" Alex snorted angrily.

Everyone would hide their wealth, but his wife was telling everyone how much she had.

She had never seen how evil people in society could be.

"Aunt Diana, what's David going to do if he gives the hotel to you?" Quin continued to ask.

"I heard from the general manager of the hotel that the Golden Leaf Hotel is only a small part of Dave's huge property and Dave's other assets are said to be worth more than the Golden Leaf Hotel."

"H-How did David do this? He didn't even graduate from college yet, did he?" Quin asked in disbelief.

"We have no idea. When we found out, Dave was already this accomplished."

"Feli, do you think Dave will forgive us?" Bobby asked, not feeling very confident.

“Depends. It should get better as time passes. We can be regarded as the people closest to Dave now,” Felicia said, feeling uncertain.

“Diana, isn’t David handing the hotel to you? You should be able to arrange for us to go work there, right? The general manager won’t dare to object to this unless he doesn’t want to work there anymore. After all, the hotel will belong to you in the future,” Bobby said suddenly.

When Bobby said this, everyone was moved.

‘Right, if David doesn’t want to help, Diana can still help them, right?’

Even though they might not get the same treatment as Diana, they should be able to make a pretty decent living with their connections to her.

Before Diana could say anything, Alex could no longer hold himself back.

How would they face David if he allowed his wife to say yes to them?

One could not assume unwarranted authority based on the kindness of the others.

If they agreed to this, they might also be estranged from David in the future.

“Don’t even think about it. Firstly, we haven’t taken over the hotel, so we don’t have this power. Even if we do, we can’t help you before David nods his head. Rather than wasting your effort on us, why not think about how to gain David’s forgiveness? Other things aside from that are non-negotiable,” Alex was one step ahead and said.

“Bobby, your brother-in-law is right. You have to get David’s forgiveness before you want us to help you. Dave gave us everything we have now so if he doesn’t say anything, we won’t offer you any help,” Diana said.

Alex let out a sigh of relief.

‘Luckily her brain is still working fine.’

“Diana, we...”

“Enough. Let’s not talk about this. Let’s talk about something else.”

Bobby sighed and did not say anything anymore.

The rest of them stopped talking as well.

Talk about something else?

What else was there to talk about?

Aside from this, they had no interest in other things.

Chapter 435

After David and Celia left Diana’s house, the two drove around the suburbs of Shu City.

The scenery in Shu City was amazing and the two of them had a good time. They did not go back until after dark.

After returning to the hotel, David called Aunt Sally and told her that he had something to do the next day, and he would only meet them when he was back in River City.

After what happened in Aunt Diana’s house, David probably could guess what Aunt Sally was trying to do.

He suspected that she was also playing lobbyist for David’s two other uncles.

His other two uncles, like Leslie, had joined the battle for compensation when David’s parents died.

In the end, David chose Bobby, and they had never been nice to David ever since.

David did not want anything to do with this kind of people who valued money more than family.

Sally figured that David must have been triggered at Diana’s house today, so she no longer forced him.

She could only sigh to herself. It seemed that David still could not let go of the grudge in his heart.

David still took Celia to travel around Shu City the next day.

Celia loved to be alone with David.

She did not really want to go to the class reunion, she just wanted to be with David all the time.

In the evening, the high school group chat became lively because the class reunion was taking place the next day.

It did not matter to the classmates who stayed not far away from Shu City.

However, some of them who were far away needed to set a time with each other and rush to Shu City together.

Clay: (Guys, as of now, 40 people are definitely coming to the reunion tomorrow. The reunion will be held at Frangipani Restaurant in Shu City and lunch will start at 12 sharp. I hope everyone will come earlier. After lunch, we can chat about our lives. Then, we'll have dinner in Frangipani too. After that, we'll move to Dynamic Zone Entertainment Center to sing and dance. Thank you for all of your support toward the reunion this time.)

Classmate: (Thank you, Clay!)

Classmate: (Thank you for organizing this reunion, Clay!)

Classmate: (Clay, you're so formidable and domineering!)

Then, everyone started chatting in the group.

Clay waited for a very long time and Celia still did not say anything. So, he decided not to pay attention to the group.

The next day.

The reunion was taking place that day.

Since the reunion would start at noon, David and Celia were not in a rush. They only start making their way slowly to the gathering place at 10 in the morning.

Frangipani Restaurant could be regarded as one of the most high-end restaurants in Shu City.

When David and Celia arrived, there were already many vehicles parked in front of Frangipani Restaurant. David only managed to find a parking space after squeezing his way through the vehicles.

After parking the car, David and Celia walked toward the restaurant.

Upon entering the hall, the arrival of David and Celia attracted the attention of many people.

There were never people with outstanding looks and elegant temperaments like David and Celia in Shu City.

The restaurant was a bit big and it was almost time for lunch. Moreover, there were a lot of people here.

David did not bother to look for the private room one by one, so he called a waiter directly, asked for the specific location of the private room, and then walked over with Celia.

After finding the private room, David could hear that the room was very lively from outside the door. He even heard some familiar voices, so he directly pushed open the door.

After opening the door, David found that the private room was very large and it was not crowded at all despite having four tables inside. It had obviously been specially designed by the hotel for such small gatherings.

It seemed that there were already more than 30 people in the room, so David grabbed Celia's hand and walked in.

Everyone was talking in the room when they heard the door opening so they knew another classmate was here. Therefore, they turned their heads to look.

However, everyone was soon frozen in place.

Even though David changed a lot, these people had been his classmates for three years. So, they could naturally recognize him.

What did they see?

They saw David and Celia walking in hand in hand.
