

I'm A Quadrillionaire

Chapter 507 "Great-grandpa..."

Julia tried to say something, but Mason stopped her.

"David, I know what you mean, but I'm a man who died once, and it's already a miracle I survived this time. I'm lucky I got to live another day. I don't really care how much longer I get to live. I only hope you can grow up faster and hold Somerland together when I'm gone," said Mason.

"Old Master Stefani, don't worry! I will try my best!"

"Good! I'll get rid of some of the forces snooping around Somerland before I leave to lighten your load as much as possible!"

David was silent for a long time...

He did not know what to say to the old man who put Somerland before his own life.

He could only try his best to improve faster.

He just needed to make himself stronger before Mason completed his plan, so he did not have to risk his life.

"Old Master Stefani! I'll go home and come back tomorrow!" David said.

"Thank you then! Julia, see David off!"

"Yes! Great-grandpa!"

Julia walked David to the gate.

"David! Thank you! My great-grandpa would have died if it hadn't been for you," Julia said sincerely.

"You don't need to thank me! It's my honor to help Old Master Stefani. He has done so much for Somerland! I should thank him. Without him, we won't even be able to live in peace!"

"Anyway, thank you all the same! Please accept my gratitude! I will repay you if I have the chance."

Julia bowed to David as soon as she finished speaking.

David quickly helped Julia up and said with a sad smile, "There's no need for that! Don't make yourself a stranger, okay? Aren't we friends? How can we be friends if you go on like this?"

"Okay! David, I'll take care of great-grandpa first. Take your time and come earlier tomorrow."

"Okay!"

David got in the car and drove away.

After this, Julia turned and went into the residence to take care of Mason.

Once inside, Julia saw Mason walking out.

“Great-grandpa! Why did you come out?” Julia hurried over to help Mason.

“My body’s rusty after lying in bed for several days, so I came out for a walk.”

“Great-grandpa! What would you like for dinner? I’ll have them prepare and send it over!”

“Is David gone?” Mason asked.

“He’s gone! I told him to come earlier tomorrow morning,” replied Julia.

“Julia! You got to secure your grip on David! He’s no ordinary guy! He even knows such a god defying and fate-changing technique. He probably got to where he is today due to some of Somerland’s ancient inheritance. Heroes are made in troubled times, and David might be a hero of our time,” Mason said earnestly.

“Great-grandpa, why are you bringing that up again? David already said he has a girlfriend!” Julia said while blushing.

“So what if he has a girlfriend? of all the influential families in Capital City, every patriarch keeps several mistresses in secret. One wife isn’t enough for influential families to expand.”

“Great-grandpa, I’ll stop talking to you if you say that again!”

“Alright! I’ll stop talking. But remember, you won’t find another man as good as David if you miss this chance. David is the best man I’ve ever seen after living for more than a hundred years.”

It was already past 4 PM when David left Mason’s place. Instead of returning to Celia’s house, he prepared to spend the night at a nearby house.

His property was scattered all across Capital City anyway.

The keys were in his car, and each key had the property address written on it.

After a casual dinner on the street, David went to a well-furnished house.

David lay in bed after he showered.

It had been a long day for him.

Although preparing the herbs seemed simple, David needed to scrutinize the whole process with his strong mind power.’

Chapter 508 Using mind power with such high intensity took a huge toll on him, even if his mind power was strong.

Looking at the system panel in front of him, he saw that his lavish points had exceeded 9,000 points.

It was at 9147 points.

It was a level he had never reached before.

David was excited too.

At this rate, it would only take two or three days for him to exceed 10,000 points.

As soon as his lavish points exceeded 10,000 points, he would make a breakthrough with his body first.

Once he made a breakthrough with his body, he would achieve God Rank and become a guardian.

While East League Capitals had been stunted due to their aimless expansion over the last week or so, it did not matter as long as they improved.

Once he settled the matter with Old Master Stefani, he would slowly resolve them one by one.

While David was thinking about his lavish points exceeding 10,000 in two or three days, the phone rang.

David picked it up and looked at the ID.

It was Hugo-head of East League Capitals' Capital City branch.

"Hello!" David pressed the answer button and said.

"Mr. Lidell! Hello, it's Hugo!" Hugo greeted respectfully on the phone.

"I know! Can I help you?" David asked.

"Mr. Lidell! I have something to report to you!" Hugo said.

"East League Capitals' development is stuck?"

"Yes!"

"Leave it be first! I'm not available these days. I'll deal with it when I'm done in a few days."

"Mr. Lidell, this is serious!" ,

"Oh? What do you mean?"

"We brushed against someone else's part while expanding!"

"Isn't that normal? The market is only so big. We'll clash with other forces if we want to develop. Didn't I tell you at the meeting that you should be confident and go ahead with it?"

"But it's different this time. After much research, we found that they're one of Capital City's top four prominent families. They're tough. With East League Capitals' current strength, we're no match for them. I'd like to ask if we can give up some market share to mitigate tension."

"Have you talked to them?"

"Yes!"

"How much do we have to give up?"

"At least one arm has to be broken off to satisfy them."

"Who's in the right here?"

“We’re just competing regularly, while they’re one of Capital City’s top four prominent families who will try to hold us back with some dirty tricks.”

“Never mind them! Just compete with them as usual for a week, and I’ll deal with them myself afterward.”

“Mr. Lidell! We...”

David interrupted Hugo before he could finish, “Do as I say!”

“Yes! Mr. Lidell!”

David hung up on Hugo and did not take the issue to heart.

He did not know much about offending one of Capital City’s top four prominent families, but should he be scared of them?

Once he made a breakthrough to God Rank in two or three days and became a guardian, no prominent family could intimidate him because he would be the best.

Besides, he had Somerland’s legend-Mason as his backer.

As long as he was in the right, he was not afraid of anyone in Somerland.

Chapter 509

Capital City, the Lovewoods.

Grant, Fred, and the two elders were assigned to the guest room.

Meanwhile, Lorraine went to her grandfather’s room.

A wrinkly, gray-haired old man was lying on the bed.

He was Jim Lovewood, Lorraine’s grandfather and Elliot’s father.

Lorraine sat at the bedside, with Elliot and Eve standing nearby.

“Grandpa! Don’t worry. I’ll find a way to cure you!” Lorraine said with red eyes.

Lorraine was the eldest granddaughter of the Lovewoods. She still remembered that her grandfather Jim doted on her the most when she was young. He never disliked her because she was his granddaughter.

Her grandpa was still in good spirits when she came back ten years ago. Who would have expected him to have been bedridden for three years only a decade later.

“Lori! I’m content to see you one last time before I die, but I have something to ask of you,” said Jim.

“Go on, Grandpa!”

“I’m so old that it doesn’t matter if I live or die. But you have to save your brother. He’s innocent and has his whole life ahead of him,” said Jim.

“Don’t worry, Grandpa! I will save my brother, and I will make them pay.” Lorraine said exasperatedly.

As a disciple of the third elder of the Krums-Somerland’s hidden sect, she would deal double the punishment for whoever dared lay a finger on her family.

“No! Forget about revenge. They’re so strong that I only hope you and your brother can be safe.”

“Grandpa, rest first! I’ll leave first, and I’ll see you tomorrow.”

Lorraine left the room after she finished.

She needed to know what was going on.

“Dad! Rest first!”

“Dad! We’ll head out too!”.

Elliot and his wife followed Lorraine out of the room after finishing.

“Dad! What the hell is going on? Why did Grandpa get hurt? Why is my brother in prison?” Lorraine finally asked after they reached another room.

“Lori! Here’s what happened...”

Elliot explained what happened three years ago to Lorraine.

It turned out Lorraine’s younger brother Jeremy Lovewood had a run-in at a nightclub with Tanya Gooding of the Gooding family-one of Capital City’s top four prominent families three years ago.

The reason was that Tanya refused to accept that Lorraine was making waves in Capital City, which caused two top bachelors in Capital City to fall in love with her at the time.

Tanya had a crush on Stan Warner for a long time, but Stan had a crush on Lorraine.

This made Tanya hold a grudge against Lorraine.

Tanya has been slandering Lorraine ever since she left Capital city and returned to the Krums ten years ago.

Even so, this did not bother the Lovewoods. After all, the two families were too different in strength, and they did not want any trouble.

Three years ago, Tanya ran into Jeremy at a nightclub and insulted Lorraine in front of him and his friends.

Jeremy, who was young and headstrong, could not stand someone else insulting his sister. He had been holding it in for a long time, and so, he exploded.

Chapter 510

It was the cause of the conflict, which eventually turned into a collision between two families.

The Lovewoods were only a first-rate aristocratic family of the lowest level. They were miles apart from top prominent families like the Gooding family.

Jim came over to take Jeremy back in exchange for some items but was severely beaten up by the Gooding family. He had laid in bed for three years now, and Jeremy had been imprisoned up to now.

Since the incident, the Gooding family began to target the Lovewoods from all aspects. If the Warner family and the Zimmerman family did not mediate, the Lovewoods would have already been kicked out of Capital City.

After Lorraine heard the whole story, the fury in her chest had to go, and she took a few deep breaths before calming herself down.

“Lori! Just get your brother out of there. The Gooding family is in their prime in Somerland right now. Let’s not mess with them,” said Lorraine’s worried mother, Eve.

All she wanted was for her children to be safe.

“Mom! Don’t worry! I will save my brother, and I want the Gooding family to bring him to me themselves,” said Lorraine.

“Lori...”

“Mom! Don’t worry! The sect has sent Grant, Fred, and two elders to come back with me on a mission. As the sect is about to go public, we need to find some families to cooperate with. The Lovewoods will be our first partner. Our sect is also the best among all hidden sects. The Gooding family dare not offend us no matter how tough they are,” Lorraine said confidently.

“Really?” Elliot asked excitedly.

“Of course, Dad! Don’t worry. I’ll make sure the Lovewoods stay on top,” Lorraine said sternly.

“Lori! What’s the name of your sect? How strong are Grant, Fred, and your two elders?” Elliot asked.

“Dad, My sect is called The Krums! You must be at least a peak Dragon Ranker to serve as an elder in The Krums! Grant and Fred might not be as powerful as the elders, but they have the highest status among the sect members. Grant is the disciple of the head of the Krums, while Freddy is the grandson of the senior elder. These two are the only God Rank guardians of our sect.”

“God... God Rank guardian?” Elliot felt like his head was spinning.

He had not expected those two well-mannered young men to have such powerful backgrounds.

After all, there were only three God Rank guardians in Somerland.

of course, Somerland got to where they were today because of Mason alone.

Technically speaking, Mason alone could fight more than ten people.

However, word was that Mason was dying.

Somerland had not been too peaceful lately either.

If a force had two God Rank guardians, it could maintain the peace and intimidate the others.

The Lovewoods could make rapid advances in their career if they could get associated with the Krums.

The Gooding family was at the apex of their powers because they had a family member who was a member of the Somerland Parliament. Frank Gooding, who was also the grandfather of Tanya and Jenson Gooding, had joined the organization more than ten years ago.

This led to the rapid development of the Gooding family in recent years.

If the Lovewoods got associated with the Krums, the Gooding family would be afraid to mess with them, and returning Jeremy themselves was not out of the question.

“So you have nothing to worry about. The Krums are strong. The Gooding family are incomparable. Tomorrow I’ll take Grant, Fred, and two elders to meet the Gooding family to see if they can choose to dismiss myself and the Krums.”

VY

Word of Lorraine’s return to Capital City spread quickly.

Everyone in Capital City’s high society knew about it.

They were waiting for Stan and Clinton’s reaction.

Countless people were waiting to see what kind of actions these two would take.

Chapter 511 The Warner family in Capital City.

One of the top four prominent families.

Naturally, Stan received the news about Lorraine coming back.

It had been ten years since he saw this woman that made him fall head over heels for her when he first laid eyes on her. He wondered if she had undergone any changes.

He still remembered when he saw Lorraine for the first time ten years ago. Her presence back then amazed him.

She was twenty years old, and she was like a fairy that was above the common populace.

She was in stark contrast to the women of the aristocratic family around him.

Immediately, he wanted this woman to be his.

In addition, the Lovewoods would not dare to refuse Stan’s request, but Clinton unexpectedly intervened midway.

Hence, they decided on this ten-year agreement.

It would be better to say that Lorraine was a fuse. She was not the direct reason why Stan and Clinton turned against each other.

Only one man was destined to be at the top of an era.

He and Clinton both wanted to fight for this position, and both of them fell in love with Lorraine at first sight, so, naturally, it evolved into the situation i today.

Even without Lorraine, he and Clinton were destined to fight.

Now that Lorraine was back, he was going to start getting ready.

Stan would take some time to meet this woman who was above the common populace. He wondered if she could still make him feel the same sparks as ten years ago.

Clinton, who was far away in Springfield , also received news that Lorraine was returning to Capital City.

The Zimmerman family was once the top elite aristocratic family in Capital City. Although the family moved to Springfield later, their influence in Capital City was still strong.

He also informers in Capital City.

Since the ten-year appointment was approaching, he was also keeping an eye on Capital City.

Now that Lorraine was back, the ten-year appointment might be moved forward.

Once he won the ten-year appointment, Clinton would be number one person among the younger generation in Somerland,

Now that chaos was approaching, the reputation as number one among the younger generation in Somerland was very important, as it would allow him to recruit more talents to serve him.

Furthermore, he could even have the peerless woman, Lorraine.

This was a great opportunity to obtain fame and fortune.

He had to beat Stan and win the title of number one among the younger generation in Somerland, as well as Lorraine.

At the same time, influential families across Somierland also received the news.

Lorraine was an unknown existence ten years ago.

However, fast forward ten years and her name resounded throughout the upper-class circles in Somerland

An ordinary woman could not make two former good friends, namely Stan from the Warner family and Clinton from the Zimmerman family, turn against each other.

They were recognized by Somerland as two of the top young talents among the younger generation.

Moreover, they were backed by the Warner family and the Zimmerman family, two of Somerland's elite aristocratic families.

Everyone who had met Lorraine would describe her with two words.

Absolutely peerless!

Even one of the big shots from Capital City had said so.

This intrigued many people who had never seen Lorraine before.

This time, the ten-year appointment caused a stir in the Somerland upper class.

Almost all gazes were focused on this, as this matter was not just two young people vying for victory.

They represented a collision between two of Somerland's elite aristocratic families.

The winner, of course, would get applause, flowers, and women.

Meanwhile, the loser could only be a steppingstone for others.

The whole of Somerland was in turmoil as Lorraine returned to Capital City.

Meanwhile, David slept soundly as always.

These things had nothing to do with him.

Everyone had a different level. David would feel like he was bullying them even if they asked their parents or even grandparents to face him.

If they were to insist that David was involved in this, it would be because he had promised Clinton to help him during the ten-year appointment and nothing else.

This was just a trivial matter to him, and he did not have a good impression of T Faction anyway.

He had already killed two of the great fighters from T Faction.

Since Stan was also one of those people, David would just kill him if necessary too.

His focus now was to heal Mason and stabilize the crumbling Somerland first.

Chapter 512

After that, he could safely upgrade his strength,

The next day.

David arrived at Mason's residence early in the morning and began to brew the herbs.

After yesterday's success, he was more skilled today.

More than an hour later...

Half a bowl of viscous medicine was brewed.

After Julia finished feeding Mason the medicine, David observed Mason's changes carefully.

Mason would have corresponding changes within his body every day after he took the medicine. This happened seven times over seven consecutive days.

Once he identified which of the effects did not meet expectations, he had to figure out the reason, otherwise, the effect would be greatly reduced after so many times.

He could not be sloppy in his process at all.

Mason closed his eyes and felt the countless cells making his body's various organs moving around excitedly. He knew his body was slowly recovering.

Another hour later..

Mason opened his eyes.

"Great-grandpa?" Julia called out.

"I feel a lot better than yesterday," Mason said with a smile.

"That is amazing! In five days, you will be completely healed!" Julia said happily.

"It's all thanks to David, without him, my old bones would have been buried in the ground now."

"Thank you so much, David!" Julia said, turning her head to look at David.

In addition to sincerity, there was also an inexplicable expression in her big eyes.

"You're welcome. Old Master Stefani should be able to move around today, and after five more treatments, he will basically be cured," David said.

Mason got out of bed and walked around, feeling much better than yesterday. Moreover, his body also felt much lighter.

A day ago, he could only lie in bed such that he could not even get up. The influential figures in the Somerland medical field were all helpless and declared that Mason was about to die.

However, he could walk with ease right now. David's medicine was truly amazing.

"David, I won't express how much I'm grateful to you anymore. You saved my old life, so if you encounter any difficulties in the future, just tell me if you need my help. I dare not say that I can help you with everything in the world, but in Somerland, I have the final say. I dare to say the same thing even if those so-called hidden sects and families resurface!"

When Mason said this, he was like a domineering king standing at the top of the world.

David, who was standing on the side, could not help but sigh ruefully. Mason was indeed the same figure who fought against the nine God Rank guardians alone- he was so domineering when he spoke.

David also wanted to say 'I have the final say on the Earth' in the future.

This would definitely be more domineering than what Mason said just now.

"Thank you, Old Master Stefani. I still need to take care of something, so I'll go first. Have a good rest. I'll come back tomorrow."

David walked out of the residence while being accompanied by Julia. Before he could start the car after getting in, the phone in his pocket rang.

David picked up the phone, saw an unfamiliar number, and pressed the answer button.

“Hello?”

“Are you David Lidell?” A strong voice on the phone asked.

“Yes,” David replied.

“You’re the founder of East League Capitals?”

“Yes.”

“I am Jenson Gooding. I have Hugo right now, and if you want to save him, you better come to my house to clarify some matters. If not... Don’t blame me for being insensible!”

Before David could answer, the other party hung up the phone.

David narrowed his eyes as a murderous aura started exuding from his body.

This should be the influential family in Capital City that Hugo said he offended the night before.

Since Hugo said that East League Capitals were competing with them normally, David still decided to believe him.

‘Damn you, Gooding family. How dare you try to bully me?’

If they obstructed the development of East League Capitals, it would mean they were obstructing him from making more lavish points.

If they obstructed him from making more lavish points, it would mean that they were obstructing him from upgrading his strength.

To David, who was still stuck at the breakthrough stage, this was an absolutely irreconcilable enmity.

Thus, David started the car to drive to the Gooding residence.

At the same time, Lorraine also brought her seniors, Grant and Fred, and the two elders from the Krums to the Gooding residence to avenge her grandfather and brother.

Chapter 513

The Gooding family was also one of the top four prominent families in Capital City. –

They were one of the most elite family even in the entire nation of Somerland.

Of course, this was excluding those hidden families.

Those hidden families hid from the world a hundred years ago in order to avoid calamity, so no one knew what kind of strength they possessed before they came out of hiding.

Ben Gooding, the head of the Gooding family, was a peak Dragon Ranker.

The first heir of the Gooding family, Jenson, was also an exceptional person among the younger generation. He was comparable to even people like Stan and Clinton.

Naturally, the first heir of an elite aristocratic family would be pretty good.

It was just that Stan and Clinton were so widely known and famous because of the ten-year appointment that they were naturally considered to be the most powerful duo among the younger generation.

Men would always do things for territory or for women.

The ten-year appointment between Lorraine, Stan, and Clinton was also a story that captured the imagination and was spread far and wide.

However, this also dissatisfied many people, with Jenson being one of them.

He had said more than once stated that he regretted not being part of Stan and Clinton's fight for Lorraine.

If he was, then he would also be famous and everyone would rank him alongside Stan and Clinton, not viewed as behind them like how he was now.

It could be seen that he personally thought he was no worse than Stan and Clinton.

However, society was like this. It was one thing if you were powerful, but if you were not famous, who would know your name?

Unless you did something earth-shattering to make everyone aware about you, even if you were strong, it would be difficult to have people acknowledge you.

Whenever someone talked about the younger generation in Somerland, the public would immediately think that Stan and Clinton were the benchmarks of the younger generation. This was the celebrity effect.

Jenson wanted to break this structure, which was why he took aim at the ten-year agreement.

It was not just him, all the young talents in Somerland who figured they were not inferior to Stan and Clinton were also targeting the appointment. They were waiting to shock everyone during this event.

Therefore, this ten-year appointment was no longer a matter between Lorraine, Stan, and Clinton.

It seemed to have evolved into a stage for all the talents of the younger generation in Somerland to compete.

The appeal of being number one among the younger generation in Somerland was not small.

Once they had this title, not only would many people bow to them, but their frame of mind would also change, which would have invaluable benefits in their pursuit of a future breakthrough

The Gooding family was big. In addition to the father and son duo, Ben, the head of the family, and Jenson, the first heir, the second in charge of the family Ray Gooding and the second heir Jason Gooding were also well-known in Capital City.

Ray was someone who could compete with Ben for the position of the head of the family back then. Although he eventually failed, this indirectly showed how powerful he was.

However, the reason why the Gooding family could sit firmly on the throne as one of the top four prominent families in Capital City was mainly because of the old master of the Gooding family, Frank Gooding.

Chapter 514

Now, he was one of the eleven members of the Somerland Parliament.

As long as he did not fall, the Gooding family would forever have a steady foothold on at the peak of Somerland society.

Furthermore, if Frank broke through to God Rank and became a guardian, then the Gooding family would be upgraded to a whole other level.

At this moment, all the core members of the Gooding family were in the main house as they had gotten word that Lorraine from the Lovewoods would be visiting today.

They called it a visit, but in truth, it was the Lovewoods coming to demand an explanation.

They could ignore the Lovewoods, but they had to pay attention to Lorraine.

She had been taken away and trained by a hidden sect since childhood, and now she had been brought back by the members of her sect. Thus, they had to attach particular importance to her.

Worse still, no one knew what sect Lorraine was in until now. Unfortunately, the unknown was often the most terrifying.

TT

This time, Lorraine was even bringing the people from her sect along, so they must have come to demand an explanation for the Lovewoods. After all, the Gooding family had been suppressing the Lovewoods a bit too harshly over the past two years.

VC

Not only was Lorraine's grandfather seriously injured, but even his younger brother was imprisoned to this day.

"Do any of you know what kind of sect Lorraine is in?" Ben asked in a deep voice, sitting in the family's main seat.

Sitting below him were the core figures of the Gooding family.

“Dad, no news about that has come out yet. Lorraine once came back alone ten years ago. She didn’t reveal any information about her sect back then. This time, she came back with the people from her sect. I suspect this is to make preparations for the sect to come out of hiding,” Jenson analyzed.

“Not bad. That girl from the Lovewoods is definitely making preparations for her sect to come out of hiding by bringing the people along. Now, the majority of the hidden sects and families are looking for partners to help them resurface safely. However, since she dares to bring the people from her sect over here, we can be sure that she intends to condemn us. Jenson, Tanya and you have been handling the Lovewoods’ matter this whole time. When that Lovewood girl comes, ask her what she wants. It’s best if you can take care of this peacefully,” Ben said.

“I got it, Dad,” Jenson answered.

However, Tanya, who was on one side, had some opinions about this.

“Dad, the Lovewoods are just a small family. How powerful will the sect they cooperate with be? Why are we so afraid of her? I don’t agree with a peaceful settlement. It’s better to lock that b*tch Lorraine up so she can be with her little brother,” Tanya said harshly.

She envied, despised, and was jealous of Lorraine. What qualifications did Lorraine have to cause Stan and Clinton to compete against her such that Tanya was completely cast aside?

Now the entire upper-class circle of Somerland knew who Lorraine was, but how many of them knew who Tanya was?

She did not think she was any worse than Lorraine. What was the use of her being so pretty anyway? Lorraine was nothing more than a decoration.

This time, Lorraine came back just in time. Tanya would find a chance to disfigure her. By then, she wanted to see who would still like her in the future.

A jealous woman was truly a terrifying thing.

“What nonsense! How do you know that Lorraine’s sect is not good? Do you understand them? As the saying goes, you can only win all battles by knowing yourself and your enemy. You don’t even know anything, so how can you claim that her sect is no good? If it’s a sect that our family can’t afford to offend, how will you get out of that situation? Your jealousy’s the thing that caused this whole matter with the Lovewoods to blow up. When the time comes and we have to apologize, you’ll have to do it.”

“No! I would rather die than apologies to that b*tch Lorraine,” Tanya said stubbornly.

“You...”

“Ben, stop forcing Tanya. We’ll decide when Lorraine gets here. We’ll just act according to the situation. Let’s see just how she can be so confident to bring people here to demand an explanation. If this is not handled perfectly, it’ll affect the reputation of our family. As you know, we can’t allow anyone to trample on the honor of the Gooding family,” Ray, the second in charge of the Gooding family, said.

“Hmph.” After a snort, Jenson stopped talking. “Thank you, Uncle Ray!” Tanya said happily.

Chapter 515 While the Gooding family was busy discussing Lorraine's arrival, a servant walked into the living room.

"Mr. Ben, Mr. Ray, the Lovewoods are here." "Bring them here," Jenson said.

"Yes, Sir."

After a while, Lorraine and the gang walked into the Gooding family's living room.

As soon as Lorraine entered, the eyes of every man in the room lit up.

This was expected of a woman who was able to cause an uproar in Capital City ten years ago. Aside from her appearance, her out-of-the-world and ethereal temperament had defeated countless women.

This was in addition to her extremely gorgeous appearance. Sure enough, she was well deserving of her reputation.

She was worthy of being described as absolutely peerless.

Jenson and Jason were instantly smitten when they saw Lorraine for the first time.

They had met Lorraine ten years ago, but Lorraine was definitely more attractive now compared to ten years ago.

At that time, Lorraine also looked ethereal, but she looked more youthful compared to now.

Lorraine was now perfect and impeccable in all aspects.

Tanya was the only person in the room who was looking at Lorraine with eyes burning with jealousy.

All women would feel shameful when they laid eyes on Lorraine.

Tanya could not wait to rush over and destroy Lorraine's stunning face.

The reason she targeted Jeremy in the first place was that she was jealous of Lorraine.

After Lorraine walked in, she was followed by her two elders from the Krums, Grant and Fred, as well as Elliot.

When Ben and Ray saw the people behind Lorraine, their eyes turned cold.

"They're not ordinary people at all!"

That was what the two of them initially felt.

The two were both masters in the Dragon Rank.

However, they were instantly threatened by the two elders.

The only ones who could threaten them were peak Dragon Rankers.

Meanwhile, these two elders could only follow behind Lorraine and the two young men behind her.

This was a little hard for Ben and Ray to accept.

They did not have much knowledge regarding the hidden sects, but they knew some of the most basic rules.

Just like the current society, the people with high positions would not walk at the back

Judging from how two peak Dragon Rankers could only walk behind the three youngsters, they could conclude that Lorraine's sect was definitely not anything simply

Ben and Ray looked at each other, and they could both see the shock in each other's eyes.

This matter today seemed a little troublesome.

"It's an honor for the Gooding family to have you here, Lorraine. Please don't blame us for not welcoming you at the door," Ben said with a smile.

"Ben, you don't have to pretend to be humble. I'm sure you know very well why I am here today," Lorraine said without any expression on her face.

"Lorraine, you b*tch! Do you think you can call my father by his name? Kneel and apologize right now, if not, I'll rip your mouth from your face!" Tanya stood up and yelled at Lorraine, pointing her fingers at her face in the process.

She had long been angry with Lorraine, so now that she had an opportunity in front of her, she naturally would not let it slip by.

Lorraine did not say anything.

However, Grant and Fred started to take action.

'How dare she insult Lori?'

'She needs to be slapped!'

The two of them appeared in front of Tanya at almost the same time. 'Oh no!'

Chapter 516 Ben and Ray also noticed that something was wrong. Just as they wanted to make a move, they felt two different sets of auras putting pressure on them and stopping them in their tracks.

If they took action, the other party would definitely take action too.

Fighting a master of this level was no joke.

They would definitely tear down the entire Gooding family estate.

Jenson was sitting next to Tanya, and after seeing the movements of the two behind Lorraine, he also quickly got up to stop them.

Grant was about to teach a lesson to the woman who dared to insult his sect, but he was stopped by Jenson.

Thump!

Smack!

“Ah!”

Three voices sounded consecutively in the room.

At this time, Grant and Fred had returned to Lorraine’s side.

Meanwhile, the Gooding siblings were a few meters away from where they had been earlier.

Jenson stared at Grant in shock after the latter knocked him a few meters back with a casual slap.

Meanwhile, Tanya was lying on the ground. Half of her face was swollen, and her mouth was bleeding continuously. At the same time, she was also groaning in pain.

She finally paid the price for her jealousy.

When Grant collided with Jenson, Fred had sent Tanya flying with a single slap.

He did not hold back in that slap, and at least half of Tanya’s teeth had been knocked out such that she could now be considered disfigured. However, only knocking out half her teeth was considered an act of mercy.

“Lorraine, what is the meaning of this? Even if my daughter is at fault, you didn’t have to be so ruthless, right? Do you really want to be the enemy of the Gooding family?” Ben asked in a deep voice.

“Ben, we already became enemies when your family heavily injured my grandfather and imprisoned my brother. What you said was all nonsense,” Lorraine said with a sneer.

“Are you sure you can represent your sect? Did you ask the elders of your sect whether they dare to make enemies of the Gooding family? We have someone from the Somerland Parliament within the Gooding family-my father is one of the eleven MPS of the Somerland Parliament and he is a master that is halfway to the God Rank. If your hidden sect truly wants to resurface, would you really dare to become an enemy of Somerland?” Ben asked.

He could mention Somerland to put pressure on Lorraine now.

Judging from their current strength, the sect behind Lorraine was definitely no worse than the Gooding family.

Therefore, he could only hold them down by mentioning Somerland.

“Ben, you don’t have to mention Somerland to scare me. The Gooding family is the Gooding family, and you can’t represent Somerland. Let me tell you now, we don’t care about the Gooding family at all. On the contrary, I would like to ask whether the Gooding family dares to become an enemy of the Krums? Our head is an old acquaintance of Mr. Stefani.”

‘What?’

Ben and Ray shivered.

The Krums were the sect behind Lorraine?

That was one of the most ancient sects in Somerland, so needless to say, they were very powerful

Furthermore, the head of the Krums apparently knew Old Master Stefani.

This was getting troublesome,

They did not expect the Lovewoods to be related to an ancient hidden sect like the Krums.

“Can you represent the Krums?” Ben asked again

He did not believe that a woman like Lorraine could represent an ancient sect like the Krums.

At this moment, Grant took a step forward and said, “I can!”

Fred also took a step forward and said, “I can too!”

“Who are you?”

“I am Lorraine’s senior. The head of the Krums is my teacher,” Grant said,

“I am Lorraine’s senior too, the senior elder of the Krums is my grandfather,” Fred said

“So what? You’re just the younger generation. You can’t represent the sect backing you,” Ben

“You’re Ben, right? To me, the Gooding family only has one person that’s halfway to the God Rank, so you’re nothing to us. You should just do as Lori says. If not, the Krums will destroy your family the moment we resurface,” Fred said proudly.

“What a joke. The Gooding family has had such a firm foothold in Somerland for so many years. Do you think you can take us down just because you want to? Plus, you claim you want to destroy the Gooding family in Somerland? You must be dreaming,” Ray also could not stop himself from snapping.
