

I'm A Quadrillionaire

Chapter 517

Just as Grant and Fred wanted to refute, they were stopped by Lorraine.

She came to seek justice against the Gooding family for her grandfather and little brother.

They could not destroy the Gooding family just because they wanted to because the latter was related to the Somerland Parliament, the highest official organization that ruled all of Somerland

If they were stopped by the Somerland officials, it would be difficult for the Krums to resurface. This would also go against her mission to help the Krums reemerge.

If that happened, she would not know how to explain it to her sect.

Therefore, it would be fine if she could just find the mastermind behind all this.

“Ben, the purpose of my visit today is to seek justice for my grandfather and little brother. If the Gooding family is going to keep up this attitude, then I'll have nothing else to say. When the Krums resurface, I hope that the Gooding family will not regret their decision today.”

Lorraine turned to leave, but Ben stopped her immediately.

“Wait.”

“What else do you want to say, Ben?” Lorraine turned and asked.

“What should we do to make you drop this matter?” Ben asked.

When he asked this question, it meant that the Gooding family had admitted defeat.

As the head of the family, Ben had no choice at this time.

If this was the former Somerland, he would not have to do this.

However, Somerland situation today could be described as precarious.

According to his father, Frank, Mason's time was up.

Without a stabilizing force like Mason, Somerland would be thrust into crisis.

At that time, the deterrent power of Somerland would no longer exist. Meanwhile, the Krum had more than two masters who were halfway to the God Rank, so it would not be hard for them to destroy the Gooding family.

What was more, according to his estimation, the head of the Krums was likely to be a God Rank guardian himself, so it would be even more impossible for the Gooding family to fight back Right now, he should needed to appease these people from the Krums. Then, he would go and find a hidden sect or family with strength comparable to the Krums to cooperate with them so that the crisis could be completely resolved.

“My request is very simple, hand over the person who hurt my grandfather and ask Tanya to kneel and apologize to my brother before getting him out from behind bars,” Lorraine said.

“No way! We won’t agree to these two requests. We can let your brother go but the rest of them are impossible!” Ben said.

What a joke!

The person who injured Jim was Jenson, the first heir of the Gooding family who was also Ben’s son. How could Ben hand Jenson to the other party?

It was even more impossible to make Tanya kneel and apologize.

How would the Gooding family show their face in public if they did that?

“Is that so? Mr. Head of the Gooding family, you should think long and hard about this,” Lorraine said with a sneer.

The room fell silent for a while.

Ben was in a dilemma.

He could not hand over his son. Furthermore, Lorraine even wanted his daughter to kneel and apologize. After they did this, the Gooding family’s reputation in Capital City would be completely ruined.

However, if they did not do this, they would offend the Krums. Once Mason died and Somerland fell into crisis, the Gooding family would be in danger.

However, Ray was a little overjoyed at that moment.

He glanced at his son and nodded slightly toward him.

Jason never said a word from the beginning to the end, but at this time, he stood up and said, “ Jenson, you need to take responsibility for your actions. Old Master Lovewood was attacked and injured by you, I hope you can take responsibility and not make the entire family take the blame for you.”

As soon as Jason said that, Lorraine looked at Jenson with a cold gaze.

Meanwhile, Ben looked at Jason profoundly.

“You...” After Jenson pointed at Jason and uttered one word, he stopped speaking.

He did not expect Jason to cast him aside like that.

Just as Lorraine was about to forcefully take Jenson down, someone walked into the living room from the entrance.

When David was walking into the living room, he sensed that something was not right.

'Why are so many people waiting for me?

Are they trying to give me an early show of strength?"

After he scanned the room with his mind power...

'Damn, the Gooding family is so generous!

'There are four peak Dragon Rankers in the room.

"But do they think they'll scare me with this? They're underestimating me!

'I'm halfway to God Rank!

'If nothing goes wrong, I'll be able to enter the God Rank and become a guardian in two or three days.

'So, why would I be scared by a few peak Dragon Rankers?

"It'll be useless even if there were 10 of them here, let alone 4.'

However, after looking around, David sensed that something was wrong.

It was because he noticed a woman lying on the ground, moaning softly.

She seemed to be severely injured and she appeared like she was going to pass out from the pain.

When David was about to say something, he saw a few pairs of eyes looking at him.

'Hmm? Is that... a fairy?'

When David saw Lorraine, an adjective appeared in his head.

Whenever someone first saw Lorraine, they would be astonished. It did not matter if they were a woman or a man.

However, David quickly came back to his senses.

He was astonished the first time he saw her, and he got the same feeling after looking at her a few more times.

Even so, she was still just a woman. Regardless of how beautiful, outstanding, or ethereal she was, she would still end up being dominated by men.

He just wondered which man would be lucky enough to do this.

"Which one of you is Jenson Gooding?" David asked after he came back to his senses.

No one answered him.

Everyone was looking at this young man who had shown up inexplicably.

"I'm asking once again, which one of you is Jenson Gooding?" David asked again, impatient.

Anyone would feel pissed when so many people stared at them.

“Who are you? Do you know where you are?” Ben asked.

“Isn’t this the Gooding residence? Am I in the wrong place?” David asked curiously.

“If you know you’re in the Gooding residence, then how dare you behave atrociously here? Which family do you belong to? Tell me the names of your parents! I’ll call your parents later to lecture them. What kind of education is this? How can you be so rude?”

“Are you f*cking nuts? You asked me to come here and now that I’m here, you’re acting like this? Do you think I don’t have a temper?” David immediately started cursing at them.

He was already mad.

‘I’m about to break through and you kidnapped my man. Are you purposely making things hard for me?’

‘How could I continue letting you have the time of your life now that you’ve made things hard for me?’

Since no one was speaking, he directly took action.

It was just a few peak Dragon Rankers, so it would be easy for him to defeat all of them.

Chapter 518

As soon as David finished berating them, everyone in the hall looked at him in shock. including Lorraine and her gang.

After all, the Gooding family was one of the top four prominent families in Capital City and they had some inseparable relationship with the Somerland officials. There were not many people who dared to come to the Gooding residence and scold them while pointing at their noses.

“Who are you? What are you doing here? If you don’t tell the truth, I will teach you a lesson on behalf of your parents and teach you know what it means when they say a loose tongue may cause a lot of trouble. You can’t just say anything you want!” Ben looked at David and said with a hint of coldness in his voice.

David’s words just now infuriated him. The dignity of the Gooding family was not something that anyone could trample on.

When the people from the Krums came to force him to hand over his children, it already made him feel sullen enough, but now, another person had come to his door and yelled at him.

Just about any irrelevant person dared to come to their residence and sh*t on them now.

If it was not for the presence of two peak Dragon Rankers at the scene focusing on him, he would have already crippled David.

It did not matter who he was. He would cripple those who dared to point at the Gooding family and curse like that.

Then, he would go to their house to find their parents.

Except for David himself, everyone at the scene felt that David was done for because he had angered a peak Dragon Ranker. At the same time, they could not feel any strength from David. He seemed to be an ordinary person.

What would happen when an ordinary person offended the Gooding family?

Perhaps they would find out soon enough. "Who am I? Your family is so weird! You kidnapped my man and told me to come over, but now you're asking me who I am? I don't want to talk nonsense with you! I'm going to ask one last time, which one of you is Jenson Gooding?" David narrowed his eyes and asked.

He was getting impatient.

Furthermore, he could read what was going on in the room.

The Gooding family's enemy should be here for them, and they were not weak. After they beat someone from the Gooding family up, the Gooding family did not even dare to fight back

Originally, he was going to teach the Gooding family a lesson, but now he had changed his mind and he decided to just take Jenson, the mastermind, away.

He would let them continue their fight and he would come back another day to cause trouble for the Gooding family.

"Jenson, someone's looking for you again," Jason said, looking at Jenson.

"Jenson, what's going on? You called this person? Who is he?" Ben also looked at Jenson and asked.

Jenson remembered who David was. He should be the boss of East League Capitals, but he did not expect David to come so soon.

He thought that David would be afraid to come to the Gooding residence and would only contact him through some other means.

He even planned to extort some money from East League Capitals when the time came. Since they dared to dabble in the industries controlled by the Gooding family, how could he not let East League Capitals off scot-free?

David walked towards Jenson slowly.

The whole room was watching David to see what he was going to do.

"Are you the one who kidnapped Hugo?" David asked, standing in front of Jenson.

For some unknown reason, Jenson felt a chill all over his body when he was facing David, a young man who was not showing any sign of strength.

He felt as if he was being stared at by a beast.

"Yes, that's me," Jenson said after recomposing himself.

It was just a young man in his twenties, and he did not seem to possess any strength.

Jenson felt that David was just scaring him.

David did not waste any time. It was good enough that he was able to find the mastermind.

David quickly reached out his right hand and before Jenson could react and grabbed his collar.

Then, he tapped his pointer finger on Jenson's neck and Jenson immediately felt as if he had been struck by lightning, the energy from his body vanishing in the blink of an eye.

He instantly went limp, and since David was holding his collar, his lower body dropped limply to the floor while David held up his upper body.

There was an important acupoint on a human's neck and David knew this after he learned Somerland Ancient Traditional Medicine. When that acupoint was struck hard, that person would lose their energy and go limp. They would even lose the ability to speak, so they could only watch as their body was taken advantage of.

David grabbed Jenson's collar and started dragging him outside.

Jenson stared at David in horror. He could only be dragged about without offering any resistance. He could not do anything about it and could not even utter a single word.

Chapter 519 Everyone only came back to their senses when David dragged Jenson to the middle of the living room. Now, they were all staring at the harmless – looking young man in front of them.

David's move just now shocked everyone present.

A young man who seemed to have no strength actually made Jenson lose his strength in an instant.

How on earth did he do it?

Even the people from the Krums looked at David in disbelief.

Grant blocked a punch from Jenson just now, so he knew Jenson's strength. He was at the peak of the beginner stage of Dragon Rank, and he should be a mid-Dragon Ranker soon.

David actually made a master at the beginner stage of the Dragon Rank lose his combat effectiveness in an instant and now, he was slumped onto the ground.

This was incomprehensible!

The most shocked one was Lorraine.

She did not pay much attention to David just now. After all, he was just an ordinary person without any strength.

It was not until David instantly took down a master in the Dragon Rank that she used the unique secret technique taught by her master to observe David.

However... The more she observed, the more she found herself in disbelief.

The unique secret technique taught by her master was useless on David.

One had to know that after she had learned this secret technique, it had never once failed.

This was unless the other party's realm was higher than her by a significant margin, at which point she would suffer a backlash.

However, when she tried it on David, not only did she not experience any backlash, but she also could not see David clearly,

This had never happened before.

David seemed to be enveloped in a cloud of mist. He was vague, ambiguous, and very mysterious.

He made Lorraine want to get close to him to solve this mystery.

'What kind of person is this?

'He's so mysterious!

She could even see through her senior Grant after she learned this secret technique.

David was the first young man to make her secret technique lose its effectiveness.

Moreover, this young man was too young.

He looked like he was in his early twenties.

This was the first time Lorraine was so curious about someone.

She was eager to solve the mystery that was David.

She also wanted to see why the secret technique her teacher passed down would suddenly lose its effectiveness.

At this moment, a roar reverberated across the room.

"You scoundrel! What did you do to Jenson?" Ben stood up and yelled.

He had also just come back to his senses.

David was too fast, and he did not have time to react before Jenson was attacked.

"Jenson kidnapped my man and now I am only giving him a taste of his own medicine by doing the same to him. If my man lost a single strand of hair, I'll break all four of his limbs, no, I will break all five of his limbs," David turned around and said to Ben with a smirk

"You... You... You... You're asking for death!"

Ben roared as the strength of a peak Dragon Ranker exploded. He moved quickly and immediately appeared in front of David.

His son Jenson was completely limp now after David did something unknown to him. Right now, Ben still did not know what had happened to Jenson. Hence, the head of the Gooding family, which was also a super peak Dragon Ranker, was enraged.

He wanted David to pay for everything he did. The price he demanded was death.

Only David's death could wash away the insult the Gooding family had suffered from this,

Chapter 520 David stood in the middle of the room while dragging Jenson with his right hand. When he saw Ben's strength as a peak Dragon Ranker bursting out, he did not react at all.

To others, he seemed to be scared stupid.

Ben instantly went to David's side and hit David with his palm. He wanted to slap David into minced meat and then find David's family to destroy them.

He wanted to tell people all over the world that this was the consequence of offending the Gooding family.

There was only one ending for these offenders, and that was death!

David clenched his left fist and was ready to punch Ben.

He would not hold back when it came to those who wanted to kill him.

Ben was just a peak Dragon Ranker so why was he so arrogant in front of David?

David could disable him with just one punch.

However, when David was about to take action, a figure suddenly appeared by David's side. Then, the person's palm collided with Ben's palm.

Thud!

The two of them stumbled more than ten steps backward before stopping.

Meanwhile, David did not respond as he stood between the two.

The person who collided with Ben just now was the seventh elder from the Krums.

He had just been instructed by Lorraine to save David.

The head had instructed them that they should all listen to Lorraine this time they were coming down the mountain.

They would need to listen to Lorraine as long as it did not violate the rules of the sect.

"Do you guys really want to be enemies with the Gooding family?" Ben asked through gritted teeth.

At this moment, the anger in his heart was like a volcano that would erupt at any time.

The life of his son whom he attached the most value to was still uncertain.

The Gooding family had also been greatly humiliated.

How could he, the head of the family, endure this?

David turned to look at the old man who helped him block Ben's blow.

He was also a peak Dragon Ranker,

'But why is he helping me?'

David was confused.

'Do I look like a person who would court death?'

As the saying goes, if you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen.

'If the old man did not take action, I would have already disabled the head of the Gooding family with just a single punch.'

However, since the old man had helped him, David could not say anything.

"Ben, our business isn't over yet and you're still in the mood to get distracted," Lorraine said.

As the saying goes, the enemy of my enemy was my friend.

Since this young man was the enemy of the Gooding family, then he would be Lorraine's friend. Not to mention that she still had a lot of doubts about this young man that needed to be resolved.

Naturally, she would not let Ben kill David like that.

"Lorraine, if something happened to my son, the Lovewoods will pay for it even if you have the Krums backing you!" Ben growled.

'Lorraine Lovewood?'

David was taken aback when he heard that name.

"Isn't this the woman who made a ten-year appointment with Stan and Clinton?'

Then, he turned to look at the fairy-like woman.

It was true that she had the assets to make the two giants of the younger generation jealous.

She was also worthy of being called absolutely peerless.

She was indeed a woman who could stun a generation.

However, Lorraine should be in her thirties by now.

Yet, this woman did not seem to have any traces of aging at all.

No one would question her even if she said she was twenty years old.

David was a little puzzled.

'How did this lass take care of herself?'

'And how did she develop this temperament?'

"Lori, we..." Elliot stepped forward and wanted to say something.

He really did not want the Lovewoods to completely offend the Gooding family.

This was not a family they could contend with.

Although the Krums were powerful. Ultimately, they had been hidden for many years and they did not understand the current state of Somerland yet.

All he wanted was to get Jeremy out.

“Dad, I got this. You don’t have to worry,” Lorraine said. Elliot sighed and stepped back.

“Alright, continue with your fight, I’ll be leaving first. Gooding family, I won’t bother you if you have guests today. I’ll see you in two days to see what skills you have to dare to take action against my man,” David smiled and said.

It seemed that he was not affected by the two peak Dragon Rankers who had just fought beside him just now.

It was as if he had no respect for the Gooding family at all.

However, in the eyes of others, David might just be pretending to be calm. Otherwise, he would not be in such a hurry to leave.

Lorraine also had some doubts.

‘Did I make a mistake?’

“What a joke! You still want to come back to see us? Who do you think you are? I don’t care what method you used to sneak up on Jenson, but do you think you can overturn the heavens? If no one helped you just now, I’d have killed you with just one slap. You’re just animal with an exaggerated opinion of its abilities! If you’re scared, give me back Jenson and get out! If not, not only will you die, but your whole family will pay for your stupidity too!”

David narrowed his eyes.

‘Originally, I wanted to let you rest for a few more days, but since you are in a hurry to die, then don’t blame me for not going easy on you.’

“Come on, let me see how you are going to slap me to death. Let me see the abilities of the Gooding family too!”

After David finished speaking, he turned to Lorraine’s group behind him and said, “Don’t interfere.”

“Alright,” Lorraine replied with only one word.

Now that David had said that, she would naturally not intervene as she also wanted to see David’s abilities.

Everything happened too suddenly earlier, and she could not bear to see David die tragically on the spot, so she asked the seventh elder to block Ben’s attack.

Thinking about it now, as long as this young man did not have a few screws loose, he should be somewhat reliable.

“Come on, head of the Gooding family. No one is going to interfere now. Let me see what the Gooding family is capable of,” David looked at Ben and said.

Now, Ben was in a dilemma.

This young man was obviously not a fool, but he dared to provoke the Gooding family like this.

If that was the case, who was supporting him?

“Who are you?” Ben asked again.

“Are you going to do this or not? Didn’t you want to slap me to death? Hurry up, I’m in a rush! If you don’t do it, I’m taking your son away. Don’t blame me for not reminding you after he loses a few limbs,” David yelled impatiently.

“You...”

At this moment, a voice came from the door.

“Let him leave.”

Then, an old man walked in from outside.

“Dad!” Ben quickly called out.

“Dad!”

“Grandpa!”

Ray and Jason also called out.

The person who came in was the old master of the Gooding family.

One of the eleven MPs of the Somerland Parliament and also a master who was halfway to the God Rank, Frank Gooding.

At the same time, he was also the pillar of the family that was standing at the top of Somerland.

Chapter 521

After receiving the call from Jenson, David asked for help from the staff of the Falcon Intelligence Team because he could not find the exact location of the Gooding residence. While he was at it, he also conveyed to Lucas that he was going to trouble the Gooding family.

If there was conflict in the Gooding residence and he accidentally wiped out the entire Gooding family, he needed someone to clean up the mess.

After Lucas learned about this, he immediately reported it to Mason. Since David’s identity was somewhat special now as the eleventh member of the Somerland Parliament who had not been made public, he could only report this to Mason.

Mason handed this over to Abraham to deal with while also asking Abraham to ensure David's safety no matter what.

Although he did not think that David was in danger, they could not reveal David's identity yet.

Hence, Abraham asked Frank to go back to deal with it himself, making sure to keep David safe and try his best to meet David's demands.

That was why Frank said to let David go the moment he entered the house.

Since David was someone who was personally identified by Deputy Chief of Staff Jones, his family would not be able to afford him, nor would they dare to offend him.

At this moment, David saw an old man walk in.

When he heard how the Gooding family addressed him, he knew that the old master was here.

He was a master who was halfway to the God Rank and David was a little eager to have a duel with him.

To be honest, he really wanted to have a duel with the old master of the Gooding family, who was also halfway to the God Rank, to test his strength.

However, he knew it would probably be impossible.

This was because when he inquired about the location of the Gooding residence from the Falcon Intelligence Team, he also told Lucas that he was going to come to the Gooding resident to cause some trouble.

Therefore, Lucas would definitely report this matter to the higher-ups. Old Master Gooding probably came here because he got the order from the higher-ups.

David could understand this from the very first sentence he said.

Alright.

As long as the higher-ups were involved, then this fight would not happen.

When Lorraine and the gang saw Frank, the old master of the Gooding family, they were a little shocked.

When Frank came in, he had very strong energy surrounding him.

He was halfway to the God Rank

This was not someone they could deal with.

Even if they all attacked him at the same time, they would just be courting death.

However, they were not too worried.

They did not think that Old Master Gooding would dare to do anything.

The reputation of the Krums was no joke.

Furthermore, the three of them were the cores of this generation. If something happened to them, the Gooding family would be obliterated.

Even Somerland would not be able to protect them.

“You’re David , right? Since you have beef with Jenson, our family will not get involved. You can take him away, but I hope you can spare his life for my sake,” Frank said as he looked at David.

He had no choice.

Not long ago, he received a call from Deputy Chief of Staff Jones who asked Frank to quickly go home to take care of the matter relating to a young man named David.

Not only did he have to guarantee David’s safety, but he also needed to fulfill all of his requests.

The Gooding family did not dare to go against Abraham’s orders.

“Dad, what are you saying? Jenson is your grandson and he’s also the first heir to the family. How can you let others take him away just like that?” Ben asked loudly.

Ben thought the situation would turn around after his father arrived, but he did not expect Frank to say something like that. He could not accept this.

“Shut up! From now on, Jenson is not the first heir to the Gooding family – Jason will replace him as the first heir. If you dare to say one more thing, I’ll also remove your title as the head of the family,” Frank said.

Ray and Jason were delighted.

Meanwhile, Ben widened his eyes as his mouth dropped open. He could not utter a single word.

Even though he was the head of the Gooding family, the absolute decision-making authority within the family was still his father, Frank.

No one in the Gooding family dared to go against Frank’s decision.

At the same time, Lorraine and her gang looked at David in shock.

What kind of background did this young man have?

Chapter 522

He even could make Old Master Gooding, a master who was halfway to the God Rank, speak so politely to him.

David definitely had a God Rank guardian behind him since he could make someone who was halfway to the God Rank speak to him so humbly.

Otherwise, even if someone who was halfway to the God Rank was behind him, a junior like him would not have the power to make Frank behave like this.

This was his way out of this mess.

Lorraine thought that the situation was due to David’s support, but she had no idea that David was actually relying on his own strength.

Who knew how Lorraine would feel if she discovered that David was already halfway to the God Rank in his early twenties.

No!

In two or three days, he should be a God Rank guardian in his early twenties!

This kind of record should have neither predecessors nor successors.

If they were talking about the number one among the younger generation, who would dare to compete with David?

I

"It'll depend on the condition of my man. If Jenson dared to hurt him, then I'm sorry, I won't forgive any of the people involved in this matter," David said lightly.

Not only did he seem to not be bothered by Ben, but he was also not bothered by Frank, someone who was halfway to the God Rank.

Frank took a deep look at David.

He could not see through this young man, nor did he understand his identity and background.

However, since he was protected by Abraham, then he was definitely not an ordinary person.

The Gooding family could not afford to offend him!

The Gooding family needed stability more right now during Somerland's turbulent period.

Frank then took another look at Jenson, who was still being dragged around by David.

At this moment, Jenson's face was full of disbelief and his eyes were full of horror.

He did not expect the background of this stranger to be so great that even his grandfather would need to be humble in front of him.

Moreover, his grandfather had even stripped him of his identity as the first heir of the Gooding family. It seemed that in the worst case scenario, his grandfather might even give him up.

All of this was hard for him to accept.

He wanted to talk, he wanted to ask for help, and he wanted to apologize.

However, he did not know what David had done to him. He could hear and see, but he could not speak and did not have any strength.

He could only look at his grandpa with a pleading look, hoping that the other party would save him.

Frank saw the pleading look in his grandson Jenson's eyes but ignored him.

Originally, he had high hopes for his two grandsons.

He would often lament how God was so good to his family. He had two sons while his two grandsons were also very exceptional.

If he entered the God Rank and became a guardian, the Gooding family would be able to reach greater heights and become the top family in Somerland.

However, it was a pity that his eldest grandson, Jenson, offended someone he could not afford to. For the sake of the Gooding family as a whole, he had to give this grandson up.

Frank sighed and said nothing.

Clearly, he agreed with David's statement.

"Dad, you can't let him take Jenson away!" Ben yelled.

He could not stand this anymore.

He was being asked to give up his most beloved son.

Frank turned around to look at Ben, exuding some of his strength as someone who was halfway to the God Rank.

Ben staggered backward after he was pressured by Frank, and he almost fell to the ground.

There was a huge difference between a peak Dragon Ranker and someone who was halfway to the God Rank

"David, you can go now, but I still hope that you'll spare Jenson's life. Just think of this as the Gooding family asking you for a favor. I believe that with your identity, you should know that it's better to have one more friend now that troubled times are coming," Frank said to David, turning his back toward him.

Even though he was giving in when he said this, there was also a hint of a threat laced within his words.

After all, he had been halfway to the God Rank for ten years. He could take that final step at any moment and become a God Rank guardian.

Once he took this step, then the whole wide world would belong to the Gooding family.

Chapter 523

David sneered.

He ignored the hidden threat in Frank's words.

He was just halfway to the God Rank. Even if he was a God Rank guardian, David would not be afraid.

David then dragged Jenson out of the room.

However, when he reached the place where he intersected with Lorraine and her gang, he thought for a while, then stopped and asked, "Are you coming?"

These people helped him just now, and although it had been meaningless in the grand scheme of things, David figured that he should help them too.

Otherwise, if he left, these people would not be able to stand up to Frank even if they attacked him together.

David was a master who was halfway to the God Rank himself, so he knew the gap between them.

Before Lorraine could speak, Fred stepped forward and said, "You should go, the Gooding family won't dare to do anything to us."

David stole the limelight today and he felt a little uncomfortable.

David shrugged. 'If you don't want to leave, fine by me.'

He continued to drag Jenson out of the living room under everyone's watchful gazes.

After David left, Frank turned to look at Lorraine and the others.

"You're the girl from the Lovewoods, right? What are you doing in my home?" Frank asked.

At the same time, he exuded the strength of someone who was halfway to the God Rank to pressure them.

The ninth elder of the Krums quickly stepped forward and stood with the seventh elder, resisting the pressure of someone who was halfway to the God Rank.

"The Gooding family not only injured my grandfather three years ago but also imprisoned my little brother until now. Today, I came here to ask for an explanation from your family," Lorraine said.

With the two elders who were peak Dragon Rankers in front of them, they felt more relaxed. If not, they would not have been able to withstand Frank's pressure.

"Explanation? What explanation? Do you need to teach our family how to do things? Seriously, why do all these irrelevant people think they can come here to make noise? Don't think you can do whatever you want in my territory just because you have two peak Dragon Rankers with you. Do you believe that I'll stop all of you from leaving my house today?" Frank snapped angrily.

Just now, he suffered so much grievance with David, and now, these people were coming over to cause trouble as well. They were seriously reckless.

"Old Master Gooding, I respect you since you're my elder, but don't think your family can do anything you want. We can't defeat you today, but when the Krums resurface, my master, the senior elder, and the head will come and meet you," Lorraine said, neither obsequious nor supercilious.

If Frank was all alone, she might not have dared to say this.

However, since his family was involved, then she did not believe that Frank would dare to do anything to them.

“The Krums?”

Frank was shocked.

As one of the eleven MPs of the Somerland Parliament, he was already a core figure in Somerland, so he knew a lot more than other people.

Now that the hidden sects and families were starting to resurface, there were a few sects and families that they had to pay special attention to according to the intelligence they had gathered.

D

These families were very powerful, with one of them being the Krums.

This was an ancient sect and it had been around for a very long time, so they were very powerful.

This Lovewood girl is part of the Krums?’

“You’re from the Krums?”

“Yes, my teacher, Ted Sommer, is the head of the Krums,” Grant said.

“Norman East, the senior elder of the Krums, is my grandfather,” Fred said.

“My teacher is Taylor Coda, the third elder of the Krums,” Lorraine said.

‘Ted Sommer, the head of the Krums?’

‘Norman East, the senior elder of the Krums?’

Taylor Coda, the third elder of the Krums?’

Frank felt a headache coming.

What kind of people did his disappointing grandson provoke?

Chapter 524 The head of the Krums and the senior elder were God Rank guardians, and the third elder Taylor was also someone who was halfway to the God Rank

Frank did not know so much about other hidden sects, but the head of the Krums was an old friend of Chief of Staff Stefani. According to Chief of Staff Stefani, the Krums even came out to help somerland once before “Ben, what the hell is going on?” Frank asked.

“Dad, I didn’t know about this either! Jenson was the one handling this!” Ben replied.

“Jason, did you know about this?”

“Grandpa, I only know about the general situation,” Jason replied respectfully.

“Tell me.”

Jason told Frank what happened three years ago in detail.

“Lovewood girl, the Gooding family is at fault regarding this matter, but the mastermind has been taken away by David. As for Tanya, you can take her away too. We’ll just pretend those two have never existed in our family. If there is anything else you want, you can tell us, and we, the Gooding family, will try our best to satisfy you,” Frank said.

The Krums were one of the hidden sects that could not be offended.

Elliot breathed a sigh of relief.

The Gooding family finally had someone reasonable leading them.

Of course, he also knew that this was because his daughter’s sect was too strong, and that was why the Gooding family gave in.

Only the one with the greatest strength would win.

If he came by himself, he would probably end up in the same state as his father, Jim.

Grant and Fred looked like they had expected this result.

They were still very confident in the strength of their sect.

“Since Old Master Gooding said this, then I have nothing else to say. We will not take Tanya away. Tell her to come to my house tomorrow and apologize to my brother.”

After Lorraine finished speaking, she said to Elliot, “Dad, let’s go get my brother out of there.”

“Alright,” Elliot replied excitedly.

Lorraine then left the Gooding residence along with her group.

It was not that she did not want to avenge her grandfather and brother and make the Gooding family pay, but now was not the time.

After the Krums resurfaced, she would look for the Gooding family to settle all accounts.

By now, there were only a few core members of the Gooding family left in the room.

The whole room was silent.

They were all waiting for Old Master Gooding to speak

Everyone knew that Old Master Gooding would be enraged now, and no one dared to be the first to speak

“Ben, what an excellent son and daughter you’ve raised,” Frank said.

“Dad, I...”

“Enough, I don’t want to listen to your explanation. From this day on, Ray will be the head of the family. You should reflect on yourself.”

“Dad, I can’t believe this!”.

“No? Do you know who David is? Deputy Chief of Staff Jones personally told me to keep him safe no matter what. Can you provoke the Krums? That’s an ancient sect that has two guardians and several masters who are halfway to the god rank. The head of the Krums, Ted, is even an old friend of Chief of Staff Stefani. What resources do we have to fight with them? You’re trying to push the Gooding family to destruction !” Frank finally could not hold it in anymore and he started roaring.

This time, everyone was stunned.

They could not afford to offend any of them.

Ray and Jason were feeling lucky that this had nothing to do with them and Jenson and Tanya were the ones who caused this.

They even wanted to thank the siblings. If not, they would not have been able to become the head of the family and the first heir to the family respectively.

“Dad, what should we do then? That Lovewood girl will not forgive us so easily. Since the Krums have not yet resurfaced, she doesn’t have the ability to suppress. Once the Krums came out of hiding completely, she will definitely come back and cause trouble for us again. Therefore, we have to find a powerful sect and work with them. There are a lot of sects that contacted me over the past few months, but none of them can compete with the Krums. We need a sect and family that can stand on equal footing with the Krums. It’s fine even if we lose some benefits so long as we can ensure the safety of the Gooding family.”

Chapter 525 Capital City, Somerland. Inside a huge courtyard inside Opulence Manor. David was looking at the system panel excitedly. It showed that his lavish points finally broke through the 10000 mark and was now sitting at the 10012 points. Furthermore, there was also a [+] button beside Body and Mind, which proved that his guess was true, that once he reached 10000 points, he could have a breakthrough. David deliberately found a quiet place to prepare for the long-awaited breakthrough. After he left the Gooding residence three days ago, David exchanged Hugo for Jenson and found that Hugo was fine. After all, he had only been abducted for a few hours at that point.

After that, he locked Jenson up for a few days.

As long as he did not say anything, no one would dare to let Jenson out.

These few days were critical for him, and he was not in the mood to care about this matter. Breaking through to God Rank and becoming a guardian was the most important thing for him at the moment.

David sat by the pond in the large courtyard of Opulence Manor.

According to his experience, after each breakthrough, his body would sweat. After that, he would jump directly into the pond to clean himself.

The water in this pond was not stagnant and there was a spring below it. Thus, water would flow out of the spring 365 days a year, making the pond very clear.

As he looked at the system panel, David clicked on the [+] button behind Body.

In an instant, a window popped up.

[Host, are you sure you want to upgrade Body? This upgrade will consume 10000 points.]

David clicked yes without hesitation.

Then, he closed his eyes and carefully felt the changes in his body. David slowly felt a slight heat in his body, and then, the muscles all over his body started to itch.

Immediately after...

His body was grew hotter and his muscles started getting itchier. His body felt incredibly sore but also invigorated. At this time, his skin began to slowly become redder and hotter. David gritted his teeth and endured this.

The entire process lasted about half an hour. At the end of it, David opened his eyes and let out a heavy breath.

Then, he immediately looked at the system panel. His Body had reached God level 1. God level should correspond to a God Rank guardian.

He wondered what the next level was.

It was not the time to think about this though. He needed to increase the god level to Maximum, while his mind power he still had not broken through yet.

He reached out to look at his arm.

A thin layer of impurities was covering his arm and it smelled a little foul.

David quickly removed his clothes and jumped into the pond.

A white smoke immediately appeared from the pond.

It was evident how hot David's body was right now.

While washing away the impurity covering his skin, David felt the difference in his body. He seemed to have completely entered a new realm and he felt as if he had unlimited strength in his body. After this, he felt as if there was a stream of air flowing within his body.

Aside from that, David had not felt any other changes. 'Is this the God Rank guardian that everyone is looking forward to becoming? "It doesn't feel that different!

David shrugged. After cleaning his body, David slowly got up from the pond. When he reached a place that was a meter high from the pond. He waved his hand at the clothes that he prepared at the side of the pond. A stream of air instantly brought his clothes to his hand.

'Telekinesis?

'Alright, not bad. Not bad.

'A new move!

After he put on his clothes, David started walking around on the air. He noticed something different again.

Right now, the air felt like flat ground to him.

He would not get tired as quickly as he did when he was halfway to the God Rank.

At this moment, felt like he was on the ground when he moved through the air. He did not need to put in much effort to do this and he could even stay in the air for an entire day. This should be the function of the stream of air within his body. As he was in the air, he walked to a gigantic fake mountain in the middle of the pond. David held the smaller tip of the fake mountain and lifted it. David was then able to slowly lift the gigantic fake mountain.

The fishes hiding under the fake mountain began fleeing in disarray at this. After lifting the fake mountain about ten centimeters from the ground, David stopped. He did not use too much strength and found the feat pretty simple. He could even use this fake mountain as a weapon. After he put the fake mountain down, David walked back over the pond before landing. It was pretty nice being in the air, but since he was not used to it, he still felt that staying on the ground was much better.

At the same time, he used the hiding function in the system to hide his true strength.

Even though David was not afraid of anything, he still needed to brew the medicine for Mason tomorrow to continue his recovery.

Mason was too strong, and he was worried that Mason would be able to detect the changes within him.

Even though Mason would not be scared of him, it would be better to keep a low profile.

After all, Mason would be completely cured in two more days.

At that time, he would be free. Meanwhile, Lorraine went back to Capital City. The so-called ten-year appointment would be starting soon. Since David promised Clinton that he would help him, naturally, he would not go back on his word.

The next morning, David went to Mason's residence.

"David, you're here." Mason was practicing some weak and powerless punches. "Morning, Old Master Stefani," David greeted. "Have you eaten breakfast?"

“I did. I’ll go brew your medicine for you. The sooner you take it, the sooner you’ll be healed.”

“Thank you!”

When David saw Mason, he felt a little anxious.

He was worried that the hiding function in the system would not hide his real strength from Mason.

However, he was just overthinking things. The products of the system would definitely be premium.

David decided that he would not doubt the power of the system from now on.

He then went to the room to brew the medicine and started the process.

Mason looked at David’s back as he left.

He felt that David was slightly different today but no matter how he looked at it, he still could not tell what was different about him.

Hence, he thought that he was just seeing things since he was not completely healed. Back then, he would be able to see through anyone with no problems.

There were no exceptions to this.

With that, Mason continued to practice his soft punches.

After a while, the entrance was opened and Julia walked in.

WIN

“Great-grandpa, someone is here to see you,” Julia said. “Who? Didn’t I say I don’t want to see anyone during this period?” Mason asked and stopped practicing

“I think it’s a hidden sect called the Krums. She said she’s representing the head to bring you a letter. I asked her to hand it to me, but she said she has to give it to you personally. She even said that the head of the sect is an old friend of yours,” Julia said. “The Krums?

‘Ted’s sect?’

“Let them in. I am indeed an old friend of their head,” Mason replied.

“Alright, Great-grandpa.” Julia turned around and left after she said that. She probably left to welcome the people from the Krums.

Chapter 526 After David brewed the medicine, he brought it to Mason. “Old Master Stefani, the medicine is ready, you should drink it now. After you drink it again tomorrow, you will be fully recovered.” “David, you’ve worked so hard these days.” Mason stopped practicing and walked toward David.

“I haven’t done any hard work. On the contrary, you have worked hard all your life for Somerland.”

David said as he handed the medicine in his hand over to Mason.

Mason took it and finished it in just two sips.'

David took the empty bowl and turned back to the room to pack up the herbs. It was time for him to leave now. There was still one more day left to fully heal Mason.

After the task was completed, he could continue spending money extravagantly even though he had broken through the God Rank and became a guardian.

However, the system only ranked his Body as God level 1 and there were still so many levels for him to upgrade. Moreover, according to his experience, 1000 lavish points would be needed to upgrade each of those levels.

Furthermore, he had not broken through his mind power, and that would also require a lot of lavish points.

After Mason finished drinking the medicine, he sat on the rattan chair in the courtyard, quietly feeling the changes in his body. At the same time, he felt the comfort of his body gradually getting better. He would feel the magic of this medicine every time he drank it. After a few minutes, the door opened again and Julia came in first, followed by Lorraine, Grant, and Fred.

The two elders of the Krums waited outside.

Julia led the trio into the courtyard and when she saw Mason resting his eyes on the rattan chair, Julia did not bother him. Instead, she turned around and made a shushing gesture to the trio as they waited quietly at one side.

She knew that her great-grandfather had just drank the medicine made by David and he would need a moment to recover.

The trio looked at the old man sitting on the rattan chair with great respect.

This old man had too many legends surrounding him, even if they were hidden in Krum Mountain, they would often hear their head talking about him.

This was a figure that even Ted, the head of the Krums, felt inferior to, and he was also the only person the head of the Krums admired. When they came out of the mountain, the head of the sect, Ted, handed them a letter and asked them to pass the letter to Mason, the chief of Staff of Somerland.

After a few minutes, Mason opened his eyes.

When he took the medicine for the first time, it took him a full hour to absorb the medicinal power since his body had started to decay. Later, as his body got better and the speed at which his body absorbed the medicinal power also improved. Now, it would only take him more than ten minutes to fully absorb everything.

Mason looked at the trio. True to his identity as a descendant of the Krums, Ted was pretty smart. All three of them were pretty excellent.

of course, it also depended on who they were compared with. If they were to compare to the other young generation, they would definitely be included in the small group of people who stood at the very top.

However, if they were compared to David the Monster, then they were not at the same level at all. David was no longer on the same level as the younger generation. What he was doing now was to break through the God Rank as soon as possible and become a guardian so he could compete with the older generation. Mason had completely disregarded David as a young man in his heart. "You're from the Krums?" Mason asked. "Yes, Old Master Stefani."

The three of them answered respectfully at the same time. "I am Grant Stone, the 23rd generation disciple of the Krums. I have met you before, old Master Stefani. Ted Sommers, my teacher, is the head of the Krums," Grant bowed and put his hands together before he introduced himself.
