

I'm A Quadrillionaire

Chapter 537 After taking care of the thing with Mason, David drove back to Celia's house.

He planned to go back to South River Province today, but his plan did not consider the new developments.

'I can't just leave after doing that to Celia last night!

'I'd better stay with Celia for a few days before going back!'

He returned to Celia's home. He had left home a little late, went to work at Mason's place for a while, such that by now it was already noon.

After entering the house, he found that Celia was not up yet. Therefore, David went into the kitchen to cook.

Cooking was no difficulty for David, who had been independent since young, and soon a table of delicious food was prepared.

David went upstairs to get Celia for lunch. Upon entering Celia's room, he found that the girl was still sound asleep. He sat by Celia's bed and watched Celia as she slept soundly.

David could not help himself again.

He lay down quietly...

"Hmm? David, you're back? I'm so sleepy! Let me sleep some more!" Celia murmured as she squinted at David.

"Go to sleep! Go to sleep!" David comforted her.

After a long time...

David and Celia were eating at the table.

Celia ate with her head down.

Her beautiful face was red.

David looked amused and wanted to tease her.

Therefore, he said, "Celia!"

"Hmm?" Celia looked up at David.

"Did you sleep well last night?" David asked.

"Huh? Yes! No! No! That's not right! I... I don't know!" Celia replied incoherently.

"Haha..." David could not help laughing when he saw Celia's reaction.

“David! You... You... You... You’re mean!” Celia said with her beautiful face red.

“Alright! Alright! I’ll stop teasing you. Hurry and eat! Your bestie Lily is going to call later.”

“Okay!”

After they finished eating, David cleared the table and watched TV with Celia.

David sat on the couch while Celia sat next to him resting her head on his shoulder. David had one arm wrapped around Celia.

Although they had established a relationship some time ago, they were never this intimate.

After last night, they were as close as they could get.

Celia was a little shy.

However, David was her man now.

The two also shared the most intimate relationship.

She enjoyed leaning on David.

Neither of them was in the mood to watch TV.

Time passed slowly...

A ringtone brought them back to their senses.

Celia’s phone rang.

It was from her best friend, Lily.

“Celia! We’ve already notified everyone. But should we go somewhere else? Is your boyfriend okay with it? The Great Wall Club has food and entertainment, but it’s a bit expensive,” Lily asked on the phone.

She casually mentioned the place yesterday, but it seemed a little hasty in hindsight.

The Great Wall Club was one of the top three clubs in Capital City, which gathered the members of Capital City’s high society. A dozen guests would spend at least a million dollars there.

Besides, Celia had a boyfriend now, which was bound to raise a few eyebrows. If someone tried to piss David off, they could probably spend millions of dollars.

It would be a shame if he could not afford it.

They could afford millions of dollars, but it was still a lot of money.

She knew how rich David was. He could even purchase The Great Wall Club, let alone spend one night there. However, this was only if someone wanted to sell it.

“Really? Do you want me to make a reservation? I have friends who know someone there. It should be cheaper that way,” said Lily.

“We don’t need to change locations ! Just make the reservation ! We’re not familiar with the process,” Celia said confidently.

“Okay! I’ll call you later!” Lily hung up after that.

“David! Let’s go! They’re about to set out!” Celia said.

“Okay! But I’m not going to get hit, am I?”

“Why would you get hit?” Celia asked in confusion.

“I bet there are some guys among your friend group. They’ll think I’ve stolen the princess and won’t go easy on me!”

“What’s it got to do with them? I’m only friends with them! You’re my hubby!”

“Then call me Hubby!”

“No!” Celia said a little coyly.

They were lovey-dovey with each other for a while before heading out and driving to Longevity Club.

Celia got a call from Lily on the way. She had made reservations at Longevity Club’s dining immediately after the call-private room No.138.

The Great Wall Club

One of the top three clubs in Capital City.

T of T Faction, Stan was the one who had built it..

The Warner family was also one of Capital City’s top four prominent families.

Having such a powerful backer also made the Great Wall Club one of the top three clubs in Capital City

Each of the top three clubs in Capital City had their own characteristics, and each club targeted different groups.

The Great Wall Club focused on young people. Most of the people who came here were in their 20s and 30s, namely the second and third generations.

Wonder Club focused on middle-aged and old people, who were successful people over 50 years old. Most of its members were the parents of The Great Wall Club’s members.

The Pretty Lady Club focused on Capital City’s rich wives of all ages, but the women who could become its members were all either wealthy or aristocratic.

Of course, the division here was not absolute.

It only represented the majority of its guest.

After all, the purpose of the clubs was also to make money and build connections.

As long as you were capable, any of the clubs would welcome you.

By the time was about to arrive at The Great Wall Club. Private room No. 138 in The Great Wall Club's dining area was already occupied by more than ten people.

There were more women than men!

There were also seemingly two or three couples.

Celia's circle was mostly made up of girls. These men were either friends or boyfriends of her best friends.

She knew very little of them.

She had no interest in these men either.

Chapter 538 Private room No. 138 in The Great Wall Club's dining area.

"Lily! Is it true that Celia has a boyfriend?" One of the girls asked.

Her question instantly attracted the attention of everyone in the private room.

"Of course, it's true! I saw Celia dining with a handsome young man yesterday," Lily said confidently.

"Dining together doesn't necessarily mean he's her boyfriend, does it?" Another man asked.

"Yeah! Friends can dine together too. Lily, aren't you making it a big deal out of it?"

"I went and asked myself! The handsome guy admitted it, and Celia didn't object! Don't you know Celia? If he was a friend, she wouldn't dine alone with him, let alone tacitly admit that they're a couple," said Lily.

They thought it was possible once she put it that way!

Celia might be gentle, but that depended on what aspect they were discussing. She was serious about her relationships and would not joke about it.

"What's the man's name?"

"David Lidell, I think!" Lily replied.

"David Lidell? Do any of you know this man?"

Everyone shook their heads!

"There's no one with the last name Lidell in our circle! But I heard Celia's mom set her up with a guy with the last name Houston before! I think he's called Joshua Houston."

"I know the Houston family! They're a powerful family! I heard they have tens of billions of dollars in assets!"

Were they that powerful?

Everyone was shocked!

“But isn’t the man’s last name Lidell? What’s that got to do with the Houston family?”

“They’re probably not the same guy!

“Celia and the guy will be here soon! Just ask her later! Go easy on her. We don’t know what’s going on with that David either! Celia might even have to end up settling the bill if things go wrong. He seems to me like a boytoy. At the very least, he’s more handsome and charming than everyone here,” said Lily.

“Is he that handsome? A girl’s eyes sparkled as she asked.

“Absolutely! And he’s not only handsome, but he’s also charming! He’s the best-looking man I’ve ever seen. I’d keep him around if it were up to me,” Lily said a little infatuatedly.

“What’s the use of being handsome? He’s probably just a boytoy. How could Celia like such a man?” A man said jealously.

“He’s easy on the eyes! He’s good-looking! You’d feel proud going out with him.”

“Are looks all that matter to you girls?”

“You talk as if you guys aren’t the same.”

The people in the private room eagerly talked about Celia and David.

Private room No. 3 in The Great Wall Club’s dining area.

Twenty or thirty people were also dining here.

These were the top core members of T Faction. Except for Mr. Stan, the other core members were all there.

It was T Faction’s internal reception feast!

The star of the feast was Jeremy, who had just been rescued by Lorraine a few days ago.

Jeremy was also a senior member of T Faction, second only to the eight great fighters within T Faction.

Three years ago, he was imprisoned for offending Tanya. His grandfather, Jim, was now paralyzed in bed and even Stan could not have saved him.

However, he was having the time of his life since he came out the other day. Tanya came over and apologized while kneeling.

The Gooding family was powerful!

Neither of them could afford to offend them. They were on the same level as the Warner family Mr. Stan was from.

Chapter 539 They were one of Capital City’s top four prominent families.

Now that Ms. Lovewood, Jeremy’s sister, was back, even the Gooding family had to keep a low profile.

It was a big eye-opener for everyone!

Everyone knew the Lovewoods were on the rise.

Therefore, no one dared to miss the reception banquet.

“Today is a great day for T Faction. After T Faction recently lost two fighters in a row, we finally got some new blood. Let’s give Jeremy a toast!” One of T Faction’s eight great fighters, Chase, got up and exclaimed.

Once he spoke, everyone got up and raised their glasses.

“Cheers!”

“Thank you for your support! It’s been three years! Thank you for remembering me!” Jeremy said emotionally.

After three years of being locked up, he had become more mature and less showy than before.

“Jeremy, we’re ashamed that we didn’t help much! Please forgive us!” Fellow fighter Jay Dingle said.

“Jay, don’t say that! I understand! Tanya’s target was myself. Besides, with the Gooding family’s influence, even T’s couldn’t do anything. Anyone who dared to speak up for me would have suffered the same fate as me,” said Jeremy.

He knew that T Faction was founded for interest.

Forget about him. Even if Mr. Stan were in trouble one day, these guys would simply go their separate ways.

Loyalty was not something they clung to. After all, everyone had families.

If they were not careful, their whole family would be dragged down.

“It’s great that you understand, Jeremy! T Faction is famous, but besides Stan, we’re no match for these elite aristocratic families!”

Jay said emotionally.

“Let’s stop talking about these! I’d like to thank you all for organizing this banquet for me. If you ever need me, I’ll do my best to help. Here’s to you.”

Jeremy gulped down the glass of wine he had just filled once he finished speaking.

Those present also took another drink.

“Jeremy! We’re not the only ones coming this time. Mr. Stan will be here later! And he has a big announcement,” said Chase.

“Mr. Stan’s coming too?” Jeremy asked with a look of surprise on his face.

Mr. Stan of T Faction was a legend.

Although Jeremy was imprisoned for three years and T Faction failed to rescue him, it did not affect Mr. Stan's status in his heart.

If he had to pick anyone to be his brother-in-law, Mr. Stan would be his first choice.

However, something unexpected seemed to have appeared. His sister's seniors from her sect also seemed to have a crush on her.

Besides that, they were good to him!

He heard from his sister that they were also terrifyingly strong.

However, he still preferred Stan.

After all, he knew Stan the best, and Stan had given him a lot of help.

"Mr. Stan told me earlier that he would make time to visit today, and he also has an important announcement about T Faction to make," said Chase.

"Why don't we wait until Mr. Stan arrives?" Jeremy asked.

"No! Mr. Stan says he has limited time so he won't dine with us. He's just coming over to see you and make the announcement!"

"I'll thank Mr. Stan for his kindness then! Let's dig in!" Jeremy said.

Everyone sat down and began the meal.

They ate and talked...

Someone also started giving toasts.

Chapter 540 "Jeremy! What's the name of your sister's sect? They're so powerful that the Gooding family had to keep a low profile and apologize to you!" Chase puzzledly asked Jeremy, who was beside him.

Chase was not the only one curious.

The other T Faction senior core members were curious as they stopped to look at Jeremy and wait for his reply.

Jeremy enjoyed being the center of attention.

After all, he was a young man in his twenties. Although being locked up for three years had considerably matured him, he was still a young man.

"My sister's sect is called the Krums! It's one of the most powerful and oldest hidden sects. Even two ordinary elders in the sect are peak Dragon Rankers!" Jeremy said smugly.

"Hsss!"

Everyone present gasped sharply.

They were shocked beyond measure!

Two ordinary elders were peak Dragon Rankers?

How powerful was the Krums?

No wonder elite aristocratic families like the Gooding family gave in and asked Tanya to come over and kneel to apologize.

“Jeremy! Many sects are now looking for partners to help them resurface. The Krums must be preparing to resurface as well, right?”

“Of course! The Krums sent people out to make preparations to help them resurface, and the Krums are partnering with the Lovewoods. When the Krums resurface, the Gooding family will be nothing. They’re only pests compared to the Krums,” Jeremy said proudly.

Everyone knew that the Lovewoods’ rise was unstoppable, and due to this, the way they looked at Jeremy changed.

“Jeremy! I heard your sister, Ms. Lovewood, is beautiful and charming! Hailed as the woman who amazed the world and backed by a powerful hidden sect like the Krums, the Lovewoods may soon become one of Capital City’s elite aristocratic families,” someone said with envy.

“Heard? It’s a fact! Think about it! Could any random person spark a battle between Mr. Stan and Clinton? Ms. Lovewood is an absolute goddess!”

Everyone fawned over Jeremy, toasting and buttering him up.

He was the center of everyone’s attention.

The T Faction’s fighters were nice to him regardless of their status.

It was because they knew Jeremy’s status was about to change.

Jeremy enjoyed the feeling. While everyone was having a good talk, the private room door opened, and Mr. Stan walked in.

Everybody got up.

They shouted in unison, “Hello, Mr. Stan!”

“Hello. Have a seat, everybody! I just came to see Jeremy and tell you something,” said Stan as he walked in.

Then he glanced around before looking at Jeremy and saying apologetically, “Welcome back, Jeremy! I’m so sorry about what happened to you and the Gooding family! The Warner family was already at odds with the Gooding family, so I could not help you!”

Back in the old days, Stan would not have said that even if Jeremy was Lorraine’s brother.

However, things had changed.

Even the Gooding family had been humbled for the time being, he had no reason to restrain himself.

This was simply a great opportunity to get on the Lovewoods' good side. After all, Jeremy was the only heir of the Lovewoods.

"You're too kind, Mr. Stan! You've given the Lovewoods so much help. The Lovewoods would not become what we are today without it. I'll get even with the Gooding family afterward!"

"It's great that you understand! I have one more announcement to make today. Jeremy will take over as one of T Faction's eight great fighters, second only to me within T Faction."

Everyone was unfazed when Stan said this. They seemed as if it was natural next step.

Jeremy's release made the Gooding family give in. He would have gotten promoted to fighter sooner or later!

It was just a little earlier than they predicted.

"Thanks, Mr. Stan! I, Jeremy Lovewood, will do my best to contribute to T Faction's development," Jeremy said excitedly as he got up.

He had been notified in advance.

However, he was still a little excited the moment Stan announced it.

Chapter 541

Back then, he even dreamed of his position.

At that moment, he would long for it every day. When Stan became his brother-in-law, he would be able to upgrade into a great fighter.

Now, this dream had finally come true.

"Alright, you can take your time, I still have.."

Stan was about to leave as he still needed to take care of some business.

The ten-year appointment was right around the corner, and he still needed to make preparations for it.

However, before he could finish speaking, Jeremy's phone rang.

Ring Ring!

Jeremy looked at T-man Stan.

Stan nodded at him, asking him to pick up his phone first.

Jeremy then picked up his phone and saw that it was from his sister, Lorraine.

Hence, he quickly pressed the answer button.

"Where are you?" Lorraine's icy voice came from the other side of the phone.

"Lori, I'm eating with some of my friends. They're welcoming me back," Jeremy answered carefully.

He was a little scared of this sister that he rarely saw.

“What did I tell you?”

“Lori, I...”

Before Jeremy could finish speaking, Lorraine interrupted him, “Location?”

“Private Room 3 in the dining area of the Great Wall Club.”

“Wait there. Don’t leave.”

“Oh, okay.”

Jeremy hung up the phone and realized everyone was looking at him.

“Um... My sister said she’s coming over soon and she asked me to wait here,” Jeremy said.

Everyone’s eyes instantly lit up.

They had heard about Lorraine before, but they had never actually met her.

Did they finally have a chance to see the legendary figure today?

As the saying went, one would not have a reputation if they did not deserve it.

Lorraine was rumored to be the most beautiful woman on Earth, so who would not want to see it for themselves?

When Stan heard that Lorraine was coming, he started hesitating.

It had been a decade since he last saw Lorraine.

Lorraine probably had been issued a task by her sect since she was coming back, and that was why she had not contacted him voluntarily until now.

Now that he found out Lorraine was coming, he wanted to see her too. He wanted to see whether Lorraine would still give him the astonishing feeling like she did the first time he had met her, despite not seeing her for one whole decade.

However, he heard that Lorraine was coming with two seniors from her sect.

Now, he also wanted to see how powerful the disciples of the sect could be.

Soon, the hidden sects would resurface one by one. Hence, he would be prepared if he could meet the disciples of some strong sects in advance.

“Jeremy, is your sister coming? I’ll just wait for a while then. It’s good to see an old friend whom I haven’t seen in ten years.”

After Stan said that, he found a seat and sat down.

Chapter 542 David and Celia went to the Great Wall Club, parked their car, and walked in together.

As soon as they entered the door, a tall and beautiful waitress greeted them.

“Sir, miss, hello! Do you have a reservation?”

“Yes, my friends are in Private Room 138 in the dining area,” David replied.

“Okay, then please come with me.”

The waitress said and led the way.

David and Celia followed.

When they had just set off, a few more people came in from outside.

It was Lorraine and the others from the Krums.

As soon as Lorraine entered the door, she saw a familiar back.

‘David?’

Lorraine was taken aback.

Grant and Fred also spotted David – people in their realm naturally had excellent memory and eyesight.

Moreover, David also left them with a very deep impression.

Lorraine and the others entered the lobby of the Great Wall Club and immediately attracted everyone’s attention.

It was because Lorraine’s ethereal temperament and beautiful face were too eye-catching.

Both men and women would be attracted to her when they were seeing her for the first time.

Meanwhile, Grant and Fred were also men with excellent temperaments and appearances.

It was hard for the trio to not attract attention.

“Hi, sirs and madam, do you have a reservation?” A waitress stepped forward and asked.

“Take us to Private Room 3 in the dining area,” Lorraine said.

The waitress was shocked.

Not just anyone could use Private Room 3.

The people who could use the first ten private rooms were all big shots.

“Alright, please come with me,” the waitress said respectfully.

“Wait,” Lorraine said suddenly.

“What else can I do for you?”

“Do you know where the guy and girl just now went?”

“I’m sorry, we have to protect the privacy of all of our guests.”

“Oh? Privacy? Even Stan doesn’t dare to use this word in front of me. Are you sure you want to do this?”

'Stan?

'Who is that?'

The waitress thought about it and suddenly, she felt dizzy.

That was the name of their big boss.

'W-Who are they?

'Why do they dare to address the big boss by just his first name?

'It seems that they are close to the big boss.'

Regardless, no matter who they were, a waitress like her could not afford to offend them.

"P-Please wait a moment, I-I'll find out for you," the waitress replied while stammering.

"Go ahead."

Lorraine wanted to unravel the mystery behind David.

It was because this was the first young man whom she could not see through after learning her master's secret technique.

This feeling of being denied in her field of expertise was very upsetting to her, and she felt very uneasy.

Grant and Fred also wanted to learn more about David. They wanted to know who mysterious this young man who looked ten years younger than them was,

David was taken to Private Room 138 in the dining area.

As soon as he entered the door, he saw more than a dozen boys and girls sitting in a huge private room.

"Celia, you're finally here! We've been waiting for so long. Come and sit down," Lilith quickly stood up and greeted when she saw Celia and David coming through the door.

Celia held David's hand to lead him to sit down.

Everyone was watching Celia do that.

The relationship between the two was basically established.

They were definitely a couple.

They had known Celia for so long, and this was the first time Celia had taken the initiative to hold a man's hand.

Chapter 543 The eyes of the two or three young men present were all hazy.

"Celia, aren't you going to introduce the guy next to you?" Someone said.

Celia stood up and said, "Hello, everyone. This... This is my boyfriend, David."

After she said that, she sat back down.

In reality, many of these boys were not familiar with her and they had only met her a few times before. Meanwhile, the girls consisting of Lilith and a few of the others were the ones who she had a good relationship with.

Therefore, she did not want to say anything more.

“David, hurry up and tell me how you tricked Celia into being your girlfriend. Do you know that many people here were pursuing Celia, but Celia never even looked at them?”

“Yeah, Celia is the princess in our circle, and now she got a boyfriend without even telling us! If Lilith didn’t run into you guys yesterday, I wonder how long she would have kept it from us.”

IVT

David also stood up and introduced himself, “Hello, everyone. My name is David, and I am Celia’s boyfriend. In truth, Celia and I have known each other for a long time. We were high school classmates. She stayed with her dad and went to high school with me at that time. We’ve been in touch the entire time since graduation, but we only recently officially got together.”

11

“Was Celia so cold to everyone in our circle because she was waiting for you?” Someone asked.

Celia blushed when she heard this.

It was true, she had indeed been waiting for David.

“Then, where are you from? I don’t think Celia went to high school in Capital City,” someone else asked.

“I’m from a small county in South River Province. I don’t think anyone has heard of it before, so I guess I won’t say it,” David replied.

“A small county in South River Province?”

Those present looked at David with disdain.

They thought David would not be too worse off even when he was not financially stable. After all, Celia was of exceeding quality.

Not only was she gorgeous, but her family was also considered upper-middle-class in their circle,

However, she found a boyfriend who was only from a small county?

Even though he looked alright, would he be able to support her with just his looks?

“David, does Mrs. Young know that you’re together?” Lilith asked.

Then, she added.

“Mrs. Young is Celia’s mother.”

She was worried that David would not know Mindy.

From what she knew, if Celia got a boyfriend from a small country, Mrs. Young would definitely oppose it.

Their families were not compatible at all.

Even though free love was everything, in their circle, she might not be able to control her own marriage.

If the families from both sides were financially well off, it would be fine if they engage in open romance because it was only to be expected that they would end up together.

However, when it came to couples like David and Celia, 90% of them would end up breaking up. Even if they got through all the hurdles to remain together, it would be hard for them to remain happy in the process.

This was proven time and time again.

Of course, it was not an absolute rule.

However, there were very few who could persevere to the end and still be happy. Those that did were extremely rare.

She did not believe that Celia and David could do this.

He would not be able to get through to Mrs. Young.

"Mrs. Young knows about it. Mr. Young too."

"She does? Did she not say anything?" Lilith asked, feeling confused.

"Mrs. Young said that we should get married as soon as we graduate," David answered.

He even wanted to say that Mindy asked him to stay overnight at their house.

In the end, he even slept with Celia.

However, he would only become the object of hatred if he did.

Besides, Celia was so shy that she definitely would not accept this. Hence, he just could not say

"Huh?"

Lilith was confused.

Everyone present was also confused.

'How is that possible?

'Not only did Mrs. Young not say no, she even urged them to get married as soon as possible?

This is not normal!

This is unbelievable!'

Everyone shifted their gaze to Celia.

Then, they only saw her lower her head in shyness.

Everyone felt as if their worldview had been completely turned upside down.

If it were their parents, it would be good enough if they did not forcibly separate them. Urging them to get married as soon as possible? They had to be dreaming!

Chapter 544 Lorraine was escorted out of the Great Wall Club's lobby by the waitress.

After she left, the hall was in an uproar.

Everyone was discussing the identity of this exquisite woman who had suddenly appeared.

Most of the people who came here were respectable and influential figures in Capital City, and they wanted to see if they could have a chance to get in touch with her.

However, some people had guessed that it was Lorraine since news of the ten-year appointment had been widely discussed among the upper and middle class of Capital City.

After learning the identity of this person, everyone dared not discuss it.

This was someone who the heirs of the elite aristocratic families, the Warner family and the Zimmerman family, were fighting for.

Small characters like them were not worthy of coveting after her.

At the same time, they were also lamenting.

As expected of a woman who could arouse competition from the heirs of the two elite aristocratic families.

As soon as she appeared, she instantly defeated all the women in the lobby in terms of her looks and temperament.

Private Room 3 in the dining area of the Great Wall Club in Capital city.

The door was suddenly opened, and Lorraine walked in first, followed by Grant and Fred.

In an instant, everyone in the private room felt their hearts stop beating for a second as they all stared at Lorraine.

As they set their eyes on Lorraine for the first time, everyone had the same question in mind.

How could such a woman exist in the world?

Even Stan's eyes lit up.

Lorraine turned out to be more amazing than she was ten years ago.

A hint of her youth had vanished, but it was now replaced by a touch of maturity.

Her ethereal temperament was even more intense now.

Right now, Lorraine represented a combination of traits that would make people feel conflicted.

Her exquisite temperament made people feel that they could only look at her from afar and not disrespect her.

However, her mature charm would also make people want to dominate and own her.

This feeling moved Stan, a top existence among the younger generation who had not pursued women for so many years. He wanted to dominate her and overpower her.

Although Lorraine from ten years ago would also easily make people want to dominate her, at that time, she was still youthful. Ultimately, she was far less attractive than she was now.

Lorraine saw Stan the moment she walked through the door.

It was because she had learned the secret technique from her master that she could detect him.

Meanwhile, Stan was undoubtedly the most dazzling presence in the entire private room.

"It's you, Stan," Lorraine said.

"Lori! I haven't seen you in ten years but you look better than you did back then," Stan said with a smile.

"Stan, you're too courteous. I haven't seen you in ten years as well and you are now also more mature and stable than you were back then."

"Lori, I've always kept what you said ten years ago in my heart."

"Don't worry, of course, I won't forget what I said back then. After completing the task assigned to me by the sect, I will fulfill the promise I made back then."

"That'll be great."

At this time, Fred stood up and said, "Are you one of the people who forced Lori to make a ten year appointment ten years ago?"

"Who is this?" Stan asked.

"I am Lori's senior, Fred East. Ten years ago, I didn't come out with Lori and I let you, a toad, form thoughts about Lori. Lori is a woman of her word and she won't forget the promises she made back then, but if I kill or cripple you today, the ten-year appointment will be automatically canceled, right?" Fred looked at Stan and said arrogantly.

As a senior in his generation within the Krums, and also the elder senior Norman's grandson, he had the qualifications to be so arrogant.

However, Stan was not to be messed with either.

"I respect you because you're Lori's senior, so I won't split hairs with you over what you said today," Stan said faintly. He did not look enraged at all.

"What if I insist?"

Chapter 545 Fred started to show his strength and the core members of the T Faction in the room immediately felt the pressure.

It was so strong!

Stan narrowed his eyes and was about to make a move when Lorraine spoke.

“Freddy, please don’t interfere. I made this promise myself and I will resolve it myself.”

“Lori, I...”

“Freddy, please trust me.”

“Freddy, come back. I believe Lori will handle it by herself,” Grant also said.

Fred reluctantly stopped pressuring everyone in the room and stepped back.

“Stan, please don’t take offense. After we complete the task assigned by the sect, I will kickstart the ten-year appointment in advance. If you and Zimmerman can become the number one among the younger generation, what’s the harm of me giving myself wholly to you?”

“Well then, I’ll wait for the good news, but I still need to tell your senior that just because you can make the Gooding family submit, it doesn’t mean you can make the Warner family submit.”

“Oh? What’s the difference between you and the Gooding family?” Fred asked with a loud laugh.

“The Gooding family’s focus is on business while the Warner family’s focus is on the military. This is the biggest difference. Although you are powerful, this is Somerland, and my family’s strength in the Somerland military is beyond your imagination. If you want to come out of hiding it will not do you any good if you have a fallout with the Warner family. Don’t blame me for not reminding you if you can’t complete the task assigned to you by your sect.”

There was nothing wrong with what Stan said.

Although the Warner family and the Gooding family were both among the top four prominent families in Capital City, they were involved in different industries.

The Gooding family was outstanding in the business world while the Warner family had huge power in the military.

The Krums could ignore the Gooding family, but they could not do the same to the Warner family.

“How dare you threaten us.”

“I’m just telling the truth.”

“You...”

“Freddy, please focus on the bigger picture.”

Since Lorraine had said that, she was agreeing with what Stan said.

Over the past few days, they had analyzed the huge forces that existed on the surface of both Capital City and Somerland.

The Warner family's power in the military could not be underestimated.

Meanwhile, the Zimmerman family had the same huge influence in the political world.

Moreover, there were a lot of forces balancing and intertwining with each other.

They could not destroy the Gooding family just because they wanted to as a slight change would affect everything else.

Their head Ted told them two conditions before they descended from the mountain.

The first was after they successfully met Mason and handed the letter to him, they would then do things according to the rules and regulations of Somerland. They were not allowed to go against them.

The second was that if they failed to meet Mason, one of them would need to go back immediately to report this so that the sect could be prepared.

This was because Ted predicted that Mason was about to die, but nothing in this world was certain.

There might be a change in situation, so he needed to send someone to verify the rumors.

The current situation was that Lorraine and the others not only met Mason but according to Lorraine's perception, Mason was in good health, and he did not look like a hero who was on the brink of death.

Hence, they had to play by the rules in Somerland.

In short, if Mason was still around, all the hidden sects and families, including the Krums, dared not make trouble in Somerland.

On the other hand, since the major families thought that Mason was about to die, the Gooding family did not want to offend the Krums, so as not to be targeted by the Krums during the chaos in Somerland.

În their respective understandings, neither of the two sides were willing to start a conflict, hence forming a stalemate at that moment.

If the Gooding family learned that Mason was back in his prime and that he could stick around for nearly another decade, they would not fear the Krums.

Provided, of course, that they could find a way to counter the Krums within the next ten years.

Otherwise, in ten year's time, they would still be in danger when Mason died.

Chapter 546 "Hmph!" Fred stopped talking.

If he really delayed the Krums from resurfacing, even as the grandson of the Krums' senior elder, it would still be hard for him to explain himself.

"Jeremy, did you forget what I said to you? Get up and follow me," Lorraine said to Jeremy, her tone indisputable.

"Lori, I..."

Jeremy wanted to say something.

However, Lorraine glanced over and he closed his mouth immediately.

He still could not fight back against his sister.

Jeremy stood up and walked behind Lorraine.

“Jeremy, what’s the point of you being with these good-for-nothing friends? No one can help you when something goes wrong. When the Krums come out of hiding, you will join the Krums and become our disciple. I will protect you, and by then, no one will dare to bully you,” Fred patted Jeremy on the shoulder.

“Thank you, Freddy!” Jeremy cried happily.

Of course, it was everything he had wished for to be able to join the Krums.

The Gooding family did not even dare to mess with them before they came out of hiding, so would they not be even more powerful after they came out of hiding?

The core members of T Faction in the hall looked at Fred angrily.

How dare Fred called them good-for-nothing?

However, they could only glare at him but not do anything.

He was someone who the T-man could not even hold down, so what could they do?

“Stan, I’m going now. I hope you can give me a surprise during the ten-year appointment,” Lorraine said.

“You won’t be disappointed,” Stan said with a smile.

With that, Lorraine left with her gang. Stan’s originally smiling face darkened instantly.

She was giving him an initial show of strength.

If Fred was so powerful, what about the other senior?

‘However, don’t you underestimate me, if not, you will be destined to be let down.’

“T-man!”

“T-man!”

“T-man!”

Everyone in the room called out.

“It’s fine. Continue with your meal. I’ll head out to deal with my business now. Don’t worry, I will make sure the whole of Somerland knows the name T Faction,” Stan said seriously.

“Goodbye, T-man!”

Everyone said at the same time.

Stan also left the room with a dark face.

Inside Private Room 138 in the dining area of the Great Wall Club.

The whole private room became a little quiet because David said that Celia's mother asked them to get married as soon as possible after graduation.

Lilith reacted first.

She broke the silence and said, "Everyone must be hungry, right? Let's order food!"

Then, she took out the menu and passed it to the person next to her, after the person was done ordering, they would pass it to the next person.

Meanwhile, Lilith got up and pressed the bell on the wall to call for the waitress.

The menu was passed to David and Celia, who ordered a dish at random before passing it on to the person next to them.

After the menu made one round, it returned to Lilith's hands.

Before the waitress arrived, Lilith took a closer look at the menu.

'My gosh!

"This is not eating, this is extortion!"

It was fine if they ordered Lafite, XO, and Remy Martin.

However, they even dared to order Romanée Conti, which cost over one million per bottle.

Moreover, they even ordered five of them!

They also ordered at least five bottles of the other alcohol.

Other than that, the dishes were all the most expensive and popular dishes here.

This meal would cost nearly over ten million dollars.

They had never ordered like this before.

She was the one who hosted this gathering, so what would she say to Celia later?

"Um... Can we even finish so much alcohol? I think we should remove some of them," Lilith said hesitatingly.

"It's fine. Even if we can't finish them now, we can continue drinking when we're singing karaoke."
