“Call the police! There’s been a murder!” Countless people cried out in horror. The place was chaotic... This was the case in many places in Somerland.

Originally, the major hidden families were not prepared to resurface so soon, and they would often just some members to inquire about news and contact their partners.

However, Lorraine turned the ten-year appointment into a stage for the younger generation of Somerland.

Countless hidden heirs who knew this news came out of hiding in advance to participate in this grand event.

Everyone wanted to make a name for themselves at this time.

This also led to many hidden sects and families resurfacing one after another. After all, these people had been hidden from the world for many years and they still adhered to ancient customs. In their understanding, the law of the jungle was the law of survival.

This greatly contradicted the belief that everyone was equal in the eyes of the Somerland law.

Although they already knew a little about the laws of Somerland, after jointly resurfacing, they would have interacted with ordinary people, so it was inevitable that there would be some conflicts.

Once there were conflicts, the two sides would start arguing. In addition to that, from their perspective, it was completely unacceptable for them to be scolded by ordinary folk.

Then, fists would be involved. When fists were involved, how would ordinary folk be a match for these martial artists?

The final result was that the ordinary folk would often suffer minor or even serious injuries inflicted by the people from hidden sects and families.

Thus, the Special Task Force was very busy during this time and as they urgently policed Somerland.

Even Team Dragon got involved.

They had no choice as there were too many masters in these hidden families and sects and the Special Task Force did not have enough manpower. Therefore, they could only ask the people from Team Dragon to help out.

After Team Dragon acted, they were basically able to stabilize the situation.

Although there were many hidden sects and families, most of them still obeyed the laws of Somerland, and only a few of them refused to obey. Those few were the ones that Somerland were currently targeting.

Furthermore, the matter with the Nichols family started to ferment and it gave a severe warning to these people.

The head of the Nichols family who was a peak Dragon Ranker and two elders who were at the late stage of the Dragon Rank had died. Meanwhile, everyone else was imprisoned. This was no joke.

Three days had now passed, and the Nichols family had not released any news yet.

They should be too scared to fight against Somerland. After all, a single MP from the Somerland Parliament could wipe out the entire Nichols family with the strength they currently had.

When David was destroying the Nichols family, what he said was also circulated. "Those who mess with Somerland will be punished!” This sentence boiled the blood of all Somerlanders, but it was taken as a motto by all the passionate youngsters of Somerland. It also greatly curbed many hidden sects and families. After all, the Nichols family was an example to them. Even though a lot of the strong forces were turning their noses up toward this matter, Mason was still alive.

No one wanted to come forward and stand out from the crowd. Hence, aside from some small conflicts, the current Somerland was still pretty stable.

However, there was one current problem in Somerland.

Everyone was waiting for news of Mason’s death so that they could fight for the bountiful resources of Somerland.

Even though David healed Mason, he had never shown his face until now.

He was still mulling over his big move, and was preparing to fight the forces from outside the country. Hence, he would put the internal issues of the country aside for the time being. As long as he was not dead, Somerland would not be in chaos.

However, the forces outside of the country were not the same.

Right now, they were frequently testing the limits of Somerland. Almost all of the MPs of the Somerland Parliament had been sent to the borders. They must give those foreign forces a heavy blow by now.

I’ m A Quadrillionaire chapter 602

I’ m A Quadrillionaire chapter 602

Somewhere hidden in Somerland. There were no high-rise buildings here and all the buildings had retro designs.

The people here dressed in very retro clothes too.

Of course, not everyone was like this, there was still some modernity scattered within the community. Going into hiding did not mean staying completely out of touch with the outside world. They would still have to send people out to experience the outside world pretty often. Otherwise, it would be difficult for them to integrate back into society quickly after being separated from the outside world.

This was the residence of the hidden family whose head of the family and two elders David had killed, the Nichols family's hidden residence.

It could be said that the Nichols family was in a dilemma right now.

The people they sent out were all wiped out, and even Franklin, the head of the Nichols family, one of the top peak Dragon Rankers, was killed.

The Nichols family, which only had two peak Dragon Rankers, had their strength greatly weakened.

Originally, the Nichols family was not that strong if compared to the hidden families.

Now, it was even worse.

According to the information they received, the head of the family, Franklin, was targeted by the MP of the Somerland Parliament because he was causing too much trouble.

In the end, the army that the Nichols family dispatched in advance was completely wiped out.

Now, they could not go out nor stay put. If they went out and were targeted by Somerland again, the entire Nichols family would be completely finished.

However, if they did not go out and only waited until Somerland fell apart, they would not be able to get any benefits when the time came.

Avenging Franklin was not even on the agenda for the Nichols family.

Even though the Nichols family still had Moses, the former head of the family, who was a peak Dragon Ranker and also Franklin's father, he could not ignore the life and death of the entire family just because he wanted to avenge his son.

The Nichols family could not afford to provoke Somerland.

At present, they were considering how to obtain more resources and grow the Nichols family. That was the most important thing for the time being.

They would only talk about revenge when there was a chance in the future. At this time, the Nichols family welcomed a guest.

“Who are you? Why are you here in my house?” Moses sat in the seat of the head of the family and asked a man below who was shrouded in a black robe.

After Franklin's death, Moses took over as head of the family.

“I am the guardian from Star Sect, Kit Powers,” the black-robed man replied in a cold voice.

Moses narrowed his eyes. He looked at the black-robed man in shock. “Star Sect? He's the guardian from Star Sect?”

One had to know that Star Sect was a very powerful hidden sect. They were old rivals with another hidden sect, the Krums. These two sects represent the peak strength of the hidden sects.

Moreover, a guardian was the absolute highest level within these sects

However, Star Sect had a bad reputation.

They would do whatever they wanted, and they completely disregard the lives of others. The most important thing was that they were happy. Before going into hiding, they were listed as an extremely dangerous sect by Somerland. However, why was Star Sect here in the Nichols residence? The strength of the two was miles apart! If the other party wanted to take action against the Nichols family, Kit alone might be able to destroy the Nichols family. "Oh, so you are Kit from Star Sect. I apologize for my negligence. Please forgive me," Moses quickly stood up, walked to Kit, and said to Kit with his hands together.

I' m A Quadrillionaire chapter 603

I' m A Quadrillionaire chapter 603

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 603

In front of the guardian from Star Sect he, the head of the Nichols family dared not put on airs.

The gap in strength between the two sides was too great.

They were now following the law of the jungle, not equality for all as in Somerland.

If he acted a little recklessly, Kit would kill him right here, and no one would dare to appeal to him.

"Head of the Nichols family, you don't need to be so humble. I'm here to ask if your family wants to join us," Kit said.

"What?" Moses asked.

"Join the Star Alliance!" "The Star Alliance?"

"Yes, the Star Alliance is an alliance organized under the leadership of Star Sect. All the families and sects in the alliance are being targeted by Somerland and they were all marked as extremely dangerous sects and families. Somerland will not allow us to resurface, and we also need resources to deal with the coming catastrophe, so we can only unite, gather our strength, and snatch these resources,” Kit explained. As Moses listened to Kit’s explanation, he began weighing the pros and cons in his mind.

Once they joined the Star Alliance, they would be completely going against Somerland. However, if they did not, the Nichols family would not dare to come out of hiding anymore. “Mr. Powers, the Nichols family is not being restricted from resurfacing by Somerland,” Moses said after thinking. “You don’t have to pretend in front of me, Mr. Nichols. Your son Franklin has been killed by an MP of the Somerland Parliament. Don’t you want to take revenge? Joining the Star Alliance will be the best choice for you. In the future, you may have the opportunity to take revenge yourself. Other than that, you can even get even more resources. Troubled times are coming, does your family want to just sit still?”

Indeed, these people had already understood things very clearly before they came to recruit the Nichols family.

It was because they knew that the Nichols family would not refuse.

Now, the Nichols family had no choice but to get themselves involved in this mess.

If Moses guessed correctly, if the Nichols family refused this offer, the Nichols family would be wiped out immediately to ensure that the news of the Star Alliance would not be leaked.

The Nichols family was still too weak!

In the face of these powerful forces, they could only be at the mercy of others.

“Mr. Powers, how will the resources we obtain in the future be distributed after we join the Star Alliance?” Moses asked. Even if he did not have a choice, he still needed to ask.

Otherwise, the Nichols family would only be used as cannon fodder, and they would have no idea even if they were betrayed.

“Don’t worry, Mr. Nichols. Nearly ten hidden sects and families have joined the Star Alliance, and everyone will be operating under a fair system. No matter how strong Star Sect is, I can’t hide the truth from the masses. In the end, whoever made the greatest contribution will get the biggest share.”

“If that’s the case, then I will join the Star Alliance on behalf of the Nichols family! But I have a request, after the demise of Somerland in the future, I want to find the murderer who killed Franklin and take revenge myself!” “Of course, then I shall welcome the Nichols family to the Star Alliance. Please come to Star Sect to participate in the alliance conference in half a month. At that time, a series of alliance rules and future plans will be formulated.” “Great!”

“Then I won’t disturb you anymore, Mr. Nichols.” “Mr. Powers, please have a quick meal here before leaving.” “No, I have other things to deal with. Goodbye, Mr. Nichols.”

Kit turned to leave after saying that. After a few steps, he walked out of the hall and disappeared from in front of Moses.

Moses sighed in relief as he looked in the direction Kit was leaving. Only then did he realize that the clothes on his back were soaked through. He was under too much pressure as he faced the guardian from Star Sect. Kit was definitely someone who was halfway to the God Rank.

Moses was just a peak Dragon Ranker, and in front of someone who was halfway to the God Rank, he did not even have a chance to escape.

He should go to the elders to discuss this.

There was no turning back for the Nichols family.

They could only follow Star Sect.

This was all caused by that prodigal son, Franklin. If he could develop steadily in Somerland and not stand out, would the Nichols family have fallen to this point?

Despite him wanting to avenge Franklin, Moses already scolded him eighteen times in his heart.

In addition to the Star Alliance led by Star Sect, these hidden sects and families had also established many smaller alliances. They were not only uniting families throughout the world and forming partnerships, but the hidden sects with the same origins would also group together to support each other.

The strength of a family or sect was always limited.

When a few of them were united, their strength would be much greater.

In the future, they would also have a greater advantage when it came to snatching resources,

About two days before the ten-year appointment , Dark Cape welcomed huge traffic and the area started to get lively.

Countless children of powerful families and descendants from hidden sects appeared here.

The venue for the ten-year appointment was set by Lorraine to be on an uninhabited island west of Dark Cape.

The magnetic field on the island was very strong.
Wireless communication equipment would be useless here.

It also could not be locked onto by satellites and missiles.
Hence, it was relatively safe here.

That was why Lorraine chose this place. Otherwise, if so many people with powerful backgrounds gathered together, none of them would be able to escape if they were hit by a large nuclear bomb from someone with ill intentions.

By then, the whole world would be in chaos.

If one wanted to reach this uninhabited island, one needed to take a boat from Dark Cape.

To ensure they arrived as soon as possible, they had to stay overnight at Dark Cape.

When there were too many people, chaos would easily break out. Moreover, these guys were either the heirs of powerful families from Somerland or the descendants of hidden sects, so they were all powerful and self-regarding people. Most importantly, Dark Cape was not under the jurisdiction of Somerland. This meant that there was no need to obey the laws of Somerland here, hence the descendants of the hidden sects felt that this place was truly free. Whenever someone crossed them or if there was a conflict, they would break out into a fight.

This was their way of solving problems.

If they won, they would naturally be able to show their powerful strength and be able to boast.

They could also make a name for their family or sect from that. If they lost, they would just consider themselves unlucky.

No one would care anyway.

This was the law of survival they preferred. The weak were prey to the strong and whoever had the strongest fist would have the last say.

Inside Black Sand Hotel in Dark Cape.

The hotel was formerly owned by Bloodthirsty Mercenaries.

It was also the only large hotel in Dark Cape.

It could accommodate 3000 people at a time.

Moreover, when Bloodthirsty Mercenaries took control of Dark Cape, they also closed all the other small hotels and inns, not allowing others to run their business.

The purpose of doing this was to achieve a monopoly.

They wanted to be the only choice for the businessmen of the two countries who travelled back and forth in Dark Cape.

This hotel was a huge enough cash cow. It provided a steady stream of wealth to the former Bloodthirsty Mercenaries.

Combining that with the high taxes they charged in Dark Cape, it was safe to say that Bloodthirsty Mercenaries were incredibly rich.

After Red Flame Mercenaries destroyed Bloodthirsty Mercenaries and occupied the place, they naturally gained control of the Black Sand Hotel.

However, Red Flame Mercenaries lifted the ban on the establishment of small hotels in Dark Cape, which caused countless small hotels to appear in Dark Cape.

They even canceled the high taxes, which made countless businesses applaud them. Since these small hotels were cheap, they also took away a lot of the Black Sand Hotel's guests.

However, this was a good thing for David.

It was because he did not need to make money now, on the contrary, he needed to spend money.

Otherwise, where would he get his lavish points from? Without lavish points, how could he improve his strength? How would he become a superman and be invincible in the world?

The price of the Black Sand Hotel was very high, so naturally, it was very high-end. None of the people who participated in the ten-year appointment were ordinary folk. They were the best among the younger generation, and these people did not lack money.

I' m A Quadrillionaire chapter 605

I' m A Quadrillionaire chapter 605

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 605

Therefore,, naturally, they would choose to stay in the most high-end hotels. Today, the Black Sand Hotel was fully booked for the first time since it was built.

There were still many people who had no place to stay and could only choose to stay in small hotels.

Basically, everyone who was invited by Lorraine to the ten-year appointment came with a large group of people.

Some came with a few people, some a little over a dozen, and some even a few dozen.

This resulted in an influx of thousands of visitors to Dark Cape on this day. In the castle in Dark Cape where Red Flame Mercenaries lived, David was excitedly looking at his lavish points.

This was a complete surprise. One had to know that his current physique had reached God level 9. Originally, according to the normal rate of growth of his lavish points, he should only almost be at this level when it was time for the ten-year appointment. However, he did not expect his lavish points to skyrocket in the past two days. Not only did his physique break through to God level 9, but now he had a thousand lavish points.

The special funds allocated to the communications sector might have been spent.

Not long ago, he received a call from the person in charge, saying that the project of building a communication satellite was ready and could start at any time.

However, David did not care what the reason for the rapid growth lavish points was.

Even if someone cheated him out of hundreds of billions, as long as his lavish points increased, David felt that he should be grateful to the other party.

Right now, money was not important to him at all. Rather, it was time. Now that all the evil characters had shown up now, how would he defeat them if he did not have overwhelming ability? David did not like to be on par with the enemy, He did not like to fight to the death with his enemy and then finally win through sheer luck.

What he wanted was to absolutely crush the enemy.

If he could not do that, he would rather hide, He would not do dangerous things. If he wanted to do it, then he wanted to completely crush his enemies. Right now, he already had 1000 lavish points.

If he spent the lavish points on his physique, then he would be able to break through to God level 10. God level 10 was equivalent to the strength of a peak God Ranker. This was also the peak strength on this earth and also Mason's level. He would be on the same level as Mason soon. The day was finally coming after waiting for so long. At this moment, David was extremely excited. Once he became a peak God Ranker, even if he did not have enough combat experience, weapons, a finishing blow, or even if he could not defeat an experienced and old peak God Ranker like Mason, he would still be able to annihilate anyone who was below the level of a peak God Ranker.

True strength could win against all tricks. Once he had the strength, all the other fancy moves could be defeated through force. Furthermore, how many peak God Rankers existed in the world? He could basically do whatever he wanted in this realm.

When his mind power improved, his strength would continue to improve too. Once his mind power and physique both reached level 10, he would go to another level. Then, his strength would far exceed peak God Rankers such as Mason. At that time, David wanted to say something pretentious, like, "None of you can fight. It's so lonely being the best!" He did not hesitate to spend a thousand lavish points to improve his physique. After a while... He only had a few pitiful lavish points left. His body still burned for a while. David took a comfortable shower before looking at the system panel. His physique had indeed reached God level 10. In addition, there was a bracket behind it that said, 'God level limit'.

David clenched his fist. His strength had increased again. At this moment, David felt that he had endless power.

This feeling was really cool!

Dark Cape.

Black Sand Hotel

On the top floor stood a young and beautiful girl.

However, the girl looked disheveled at this time.

The girl took out her phone, dug out a number, and dialed it.

The call was connected very soon.

A gentle male voice came from the other side of the phone.

“Jeanie, did you miss me? I made you your favorite food. I'll go to pick you up later.”

The girl listened to the voice that she was very familiar with, and her tears could not stop flowing “What's wrong? Jeanie? Talk to me.” “I'm sorry, Adam!” The girl cried. “What's the matter? Jeanie, don't cry, I'll pick you up right away. Wait for me.” “I'm sorry, Adam! I'll see you in the next life!” After the girl finished speaking, she hung up the phone without waiting for the other party to answer.

In another part of Dark Cape, a young man rushed out and ran desperately to the Black Sand Hotel.

After the girl named Jeanie hung up the call with Adam, she called her mother.

“Hello? Jeanie, what's the matter?”

“Mom, I've let you down. You and Dad must take care of your health. I will repay your kindness in the next life!” “Jeanie, what’s wrong with you? Don’t do anything stupid! You can tell Mommy anything, it can definitely be fixed...” Jeanie hung up before her mother could speak. Then, she stood on the rooftop and looked at the brightly lit street below before jumping down. After a while...

Crash!

A loud crash startled many people.

A figure fell in front of the Black Sand Hotel from above. The security hurried out to check “Someone jumped off the building! Help! Call an ambulance!”

AR

There was chaos in the hotel lobby. The hotel manager hurriedly called to report what happened.

Someone jumped off the building. This was huge.

Ever since Dark Cape got a new owner, it was basically paradise. Everyone was living and working in peace.

It was not as chaotic as it was before.

Back then, it was common for people to die.

Right now, it had been a while since someone died of unnatural causes.

In the end, a phone call was made to Killer, the first deputy captain of Red Flame Mercenaries.

All of Dark Cape was kept in order by Red Flame Mercenaries.

When such a huge thing happened, it was only natural to notify the top management of Red Flame.

Killer immediately brought his people to the Black Sand Hotel.

This time, he brought two peak Dragon Rankers because he instinctively felt that this time, things were not so simple.

In the past two days, a large number of strong people had poured into Dark Cape, and they had caused chaos. They had also received several reports of incidences, but this was the first death. One had to know that after Red Flame took over Dark Cape, they made great efforts to rectify Dark Cape.

It had been a long time since there had been any unnatural deaths. Now, someone had jumped off the Black Sand Hotel and she was even a pretty young attendant.

“Those bastards!

“They think just because they have a few ounces of strength that they can ignore Red Flame Mercenaries. “They must be taught a lesson. ‘Otherwise, Dark Cape will become more and more chaotic.’ Fortunately, their captain had broken through God Rank and became a guardian. Otherwise, Red Flame would be in a difficult position when facing so many powerful people.

‘I’ll see if I can handle it myself first.

‘If I can’t, I’ll report this to the captain.’

Room 16 in the Black Sand Hotel.

Miles Pearson just finished showering and was resting on his bed.

‘How nice!

‘The quality of the attendant of this hotel is pretty good.

After the ten-year appointment, I won’t go back to Somerland for the time being. I can stay here for some time and I’ll only go back when I’ve had my fun.

Damn it, Somerland has too many rules!

‘Everything is forbidden.

‘No one cares about what I do here.

‘So what if they want to manage me?

‘Can they even do that?’

Before Miles came here, he had developed a thorough understanding of Dark Cape.

It was occupied by a small mercenary group.

The captain of the group seemed to be a master that was halfway to God Rank.

However, so what?

Although Miles could not defeat him, someone else could.

When he came out this time, his Grandpa Abel also came out to protect him.

His Grandpa Abel was also halfway to the God Rank and he had been on that level for many years. He was a veteran who was halfway to the God Rank and might even break through to God Rank at any time and become a guardian.

That was why Miles had the confidence to do whatever he wanted in Dark Cape.

Coupled with the other masters in his family, how could a small mercenary group be able to compete with them?

What was the use of even being a mercenary group even if they had a lot of members?

When someone was in his grandfather's realm, even a large number of people was not enough to bridge the gap in strength. This was the paradise he wanted. It had only been a day and he did not want to leave. As he was dreaming of a happy life in the future... Knock knock knock!

There was a knock on his room door. "Come in!"

The door opened.

A middle-aged man walked in.

"Mr, Miles."

"What is it?" Miles asked, sitting up from the bed. "After the attendant walked out of your room, she went straight to the top floor, and jumped to her death."

"She's dead?"

“Yes.”

“What a pity. She’s such a gorgeous girl. Get me another one next time.” “Mr. Miles, should we be prepared? After all, this is other people’s territory. If they come for us, it’ll be better that we’re prepared,” the middle-aged man said.

“What preparations? What’s there to prepare? My Grandpa Abel is here. What can a small mercenary group do to me? I am about to sleep with all the beautiful girls here! They want to come to me? Be my guest.” “Alright, Mr. Miles.”

“You should leave now. Get another girl for me tomorrow.”

“Okay.” The middle-aged man left the room respectfully.

Killer brought two peak Dragon Rankers to the Black Sand Hotel. The manager of the hotel quickly approached them. “What happened?” Killer asked. “Deputy Captain Roland, the girl who jumped from the building was called Jean Shearer and she’s an attendant from the hotel. Two hours ago, she sent something to the guest in Room 16. After she came out, she went directly to the top floor and jumped down.” “Is her family here?”

“Yes.”

“Comfort them and ask what they need. They can tell us anything they need, and we’ll try our best to fulfill them.”

“Alright, Deputy Captain Roland,” the manager replied respectfully. “Come, take me to Room 16.” “Please come with me, Deputy Captain Roland.” After the manager said that, he led the way. Meanwhile Killer and the two peak Dragon Rankers followed behind him.

I’ m A Quadrillionaire chapter 607

I’ m A Quadrillionaire chapter 607

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 607

The manager of the Black Sand Hotel brought Killer and his gang to the door of Room 16. "Knock," Killer said. Knock knock knock
The manager knocked on the door.

"Who is it?" A young man's voice came from inside.

"I'm the manager of Black Sand Hotel."

"Get lost!" The man in the room cursed.

The manager turned his head to look at Killer helplessly.

As the manager of the Black Sand Hotel, he was aware of the situation. He could not afford to offend any of the people who were staying at the hotel over the past two days.

"Have someone bring the key and open the door," Killer said.

"Yes, Deputy Captain Roland!"

The manager summoned someone on the walkie-talkie after speaking. It did not take long for an attendant to come over with the key. The manager took the keys, opened the door, and stepped aside.

His strength was low and he was only at first class, so he dared not be the first to enter.

If he was attacked, he would have died in vain.

Killer stepped into the room first, followed by two peak Dragon Rankers.

Ever since they learned about the strength of their captain, the two of them were now committed to Red Flame.

As long as they closely followed the captain, with their strength, they would definitely be able to get to a high level in the future. When that happened, their lives would be much more comfortable. When Killer entered the room, he saw a young man in his twenties lying on the bed. “Who let you in? Are you looking to f*cking die? Get out of here!” Miles sat up and scolded loudly.

“I’m Killer, the deputy captain of Red Flame Mercenaries. An attendant who went out of your room more than an hour ago jumped from the top of the building and died. According to her autopsy, she was sexually assaulted before her death. I hope you can cooperate with our investigation,” Killer said calmly. It was not that he had great patience, instead, it was because he did not want to cause trouble without knowing the strength and background of the opponent. At first glance, this young man was not easy to deal with. At a young age, he had the strength at the beginner stage of Dragon Rank, so his background was definitely not weak. In the end, it would be up to the captain to decide.

(What does it have to do with me if the attendant died? You people from Red Flame just want to cause trouble for yourselves, don’t you? Don’t think that just because you have someone who’s halfway to the God Rank that you can be so arrogant in front of me. You can’t afford to offend my family. If you’re smart, you will send me a beautiful girl every day, and I will leave when I have enough fun!”

“I’m asking you to cooperate with the investigation now, we didn’t come here to apologize to you! Please be clear about this. This territory belongs to Red Flame Mercenaries, so since you are here, you must obey our rules.”

“You’re asking me to cooperate with the investigation? You’re asking me to abide by the rules? Who the f*ck do you think you are? What if I don’t cooperate and I don’t abide? What can you do to me? Listen closely, so what if I raped that girl? Come on, arrest me! Do you have the balls to do that?” Miles said arrogantly. He was the dignified son of the Pearson family!

Furthermore, the Pearson family was also one of the top ranked forces among the hidden families.

Red Flame Mercenaries was just a second – tier force with someone who was halfway to God Rank. How dare they make him abide by the rules?

What were the rules?

The law of the jungle were the rules!

The rules were set by the strong.

Was a garbage second-tier force qualified to set the rules? How hilarious!

“If you refuse to cooperate, we’ll have to use force,” Killer said with a blank face.

If the captain did not show his current strength, he would not have dared to do this.

This young man was secure in the knowledge that he had support. Hence, his support had to be very powerful. There was at least one person that was halfway to the God Rank behind him, or he might even have a God Rank guardian behind him.

That was why he dared to ignore Red Flame Mercenaries.

However, there was also a God Rank guardian in charge of today’s Red Flame Mercenaries.

The strength shown by the captain also greatly increased their confidence.

I’ m A Quadrillionaire chapter 608

I’ m A Quadrillionaire chapter 608

I’ m A Quadrillionaire chapter 608

According to Killer's understanding of the captain, he was definitely not a timid person, and he would definitely not swallow his anger if he encountered such a thing.

If he did not do anything now, the captain would look down on him.

In order to leave a good impression of himself on the captain, he had to understand the circumstances clearly even if he could not handle this matter. Then, he would report it to the captain and wait for his decision.

The two peak Dragon Rankers behind Killer could also sense that Miles had a strong background

This young man in his twenties had already reached the beginner stage of the Dragon Rank. It was not something that ordinary forces could cultivate.

However, they also had a God Rank guardian as their backer.

That was why they were not afraid of the other party.

Now was the time to show loyalty, otherwise, how would they quickly integrate into Red Flame Mercenaries? "Use force? You just want to arrest me, right? Come on! Let me see if you have the guts," Miles said indifferently. He did not believe that these people would really dare to arrest him. Furthermore, his Grandpa Abel was just next door! If these people dared to touch him, his Grandpa Abel would definitely make them suffer the consequences. "Elders, please bring him back to let the captain deal with him," Killer said to the two peak Dragon Rankers behind him. The two peak Dragon Rankers took a step forward at the same time, revealing their strength slightly. Instantly, the room was filled with a depressing atmosphere. “Do you want to walk yourself or do you want us to take action?” “Peak Dragon Rankers? I’m so scared! Hahaha!” Miles was not frightened by the strength of those two. On the contrary, he started guffawing. The two frowned and took another step forward. They decided to just immediately take action. However, when they lifted their right leg, an even stronger strength overwhelmed the two.

This made them retract their right legs that they had just lifted. ‘What is this?’

The two were shocked. At this moment, an old man walked in through the door.

“Who gave you the guts to touch a member of the Pearson family?” The old man asked as he walked in. “Grandpa Abel!” Miles cried out happily. “Don’t be scared, Miles. I am here. No one will dare to bully you now.”

This person was Miles’ grandfather, Abel Pearson.

He was also one of the two masters who was halfway to the God Rank in the Pearson family.

Killer and the two elders from Red Flame Mercenaries were unable to move after being suppressed by the old man. At this moment, their hearts were filled with fear.

Unexpectedly, this young man had the protection of someone who was halfway to the God Rank.

They had to go back and inform the captain as soon as possible.

This was already beyond their strength.

However, right now, they had to ensure their safety and not provoke the other party. Even though there were two peak Dragon Rankers and one mid-Dragon Ranker on their side, in the face of a master who was halfway to the God Rank, they had no power to fight back.

Even though a master who was halfway to the God Rank was not a true God Rank guardian since he had not yet taken that step, this was something that a peak Dragon Ranker could compete with.

“Please calm down, Sir. We’re just doing our jobs and following orders,” Killer said, fighting back the pressure. “Whose orders? Captain Silver Face from Red Flame Mercenaries?” Abel asked.

“Yes!” Killer answered.

“Go back and tell your captain to come to me personally. You’re still not qualified enough to interrogate a member of the Pearson family,” Abel said.

“Okay.”

“Get lost now.” After Abel said that, the pressure on the three slowly vanished. Killer and his gang wiped the sweat from their foreheads and left the room slowly.

“Grandpa Abel, are you just going to let them leave like that?”
Miles asked after the trio left.

“Miles, this is the territory of Red Flame Mercenaries at the end of the day, and Silver Face is also a master who was halfway to the God Rank. If we have a fallout with him, we may not be able to retreat without suffering any damage. It's better to keep a low profile,” Abel explained.

“Would they dare to do that? I'll go back and tell Grandpa Reid to destroy Red Flame Mercenaries!”

“Miles, some things are not as simple as you think. If Red Flame Mercenaries can occupy Dark Cape, they naturally have their own means. You can't destroy them just because you want to. Moreover, all the hidden sects and families are resurfacing one after another. We, the Pearson family, better not be the first to stand out. The Nichols family incident from not long ago is still fresh in everyone's minds.”

““The Nichols family doesn't even have someone who's halfway to the God Rank. How can they be compared to us? Somerland dares to take action against the Nichols family, but they definitely dare not do the same to us.”

“Somerland is now in the midst of the storm. No one knows what condition Mason is in. If Mason still has the strength to fight despite being in the final stages, who would dare to cross him? What if we're treated as the target that Mason uses as a final show of strength before he dies? None of the hidden families and sects can stop him, so naturally, we can't either."

"Is Mason as powerful as the rumors? How could one person deter so many hidden sects and families as well as so many hostile forces abroad?" Miles asked in disbelief.

"Mason is a legendary figure, so no one will question his strength. His fame was built step by step. Take a recent battle as an example, Mason alone fought against nine God Rank guardians headed by Falconia. He even killed one person and seriously injured four others. This kind of record is simply terrifying!" "He fought against nine God Rank guardians alone? He even killed one and seriously injured four others? This kind of strength is simply too terrifying!" "I-Is that true?" Miles widened his eyes and asked in shock. "Of course, it's true! Otherwise, do you think Somerland could become one of the two greatest empires in the world just by its small strength? Thus, we must abide by the rules in Somerland and we can't be the one who takes the first step to break them. When Mason dies, Somerland will collapse, then it will be time for us to show our strength." "I understand, Grandpa Abel. I'll be more careful." "It's good that you know, but you don't have to be too restricted in Dark Cape. You'll be fine as long as you act appropriately. You can play with some ordinary girls. As long as I'm here, Red Flame Mercenaries won't dare to do anything to you, but once you enter the territory of Somerland, you must be humble." David was in his room, and he was carefully experiencing the changes in his physique after breaking through God level 10.

This feeling of endless power was so refreshing that he was restless and eager to try it. He wanted to see what the effect would be. However, he dared not do it here. He predicted that the castle would not be able to handle his punch and would simply crumble from the force. He should try it in a deserted place. It would be good to have a clear understanding of his strength.

So far, he had not made a proper strike yet.

Just when David was thinking of trying it somewhere deserted...
Knock knock knock!

He heard someone knocking at the door.

“Come in,” David replied after coming back to his senses.

The door was pushed open gently. The first deputy captain of Red Flame Mercenaries, Killer, walked in. “Captain,” Killer greeted respectfully. “What is it?” David asked. “Captain, there are a lot of powerful people pouring into Dark Cape these last two days. There are a lot of them and it’s a little scary.”

“Oh? How many?”

“According to incomplete statistics, there are thousands of people! The Black Sand Hotel is fully booked and there are many powerful people occupying it.” “Thousands? So many? Are they all youngsters?” David asked in surprise.

‘How many people did Lorraine invite ?

‘Does Somerland have so many masters among the young generation ?’

Even if they included the hidden sects and families, it would still be impossible to achieve so much, right ?

If each of these people was backed by a powerful family, wouldn’t Somerland have been invincible since long ago if all of them had united ?

Why would they be afraid of Falconia then ?

They would have dominated the world long ago.

Even if half of them were united, they would already be invincible, let alone all of them.

“No, according to my observations, there are at least dozens or possibly hundreds of independent forces, each of which has a young man with a high status. Everyone else is being led by him.”

‘I see!

David was stunned.

At least 95% of the thousands of people were followers or they were sent by major forces to protect these young people who were participating in the ten-year agreement. After all, those who could be invited by Lorraine had to be geniuses. No matter which force they were from, they were still treasures. There could be no accidents, so it was understandable for them to send a few masters to protect them. “I know the reason for this, you can just ignore them, and they’ll be gone in two days,” David said.

“But Captain, after these people arrived at Dark Cape, they turned the place upside down. We can’t allow them to act arbitrarily regardless of the rules. After all, this is the territory of Red Flame Mercenaries. Once word gets out, the reputation of Red Flame Mercenaries will be over.” “Oh? Tell me, how are these people acting arbitrarily?” “An attendant from the Black Sand Hotel was raped by a young man when she was sending something to his room because she was beautiful. Later, she made two phone calls, one to her boyfriend and one to her mother before jumping off the roof of the hotel and committing suicide! Plus, there are already several attendants who have been molested at the Black Sand Hotel!”

“Is that true?” David asked calmly.

Although he was calm on the surface, David’s heart was unsteady. He was even a little angry.

The people from these hidden families were indeed not good. They would not restrain themselves no matter where they went! “Do they really think they can do whatever they want because they’re outside of Somerland and in Dark Cape? ‘What wild fantasies!

“Captain, it’s absolutely true! How would I dare to joke about this kind of thing? Not only in the Black Sand Hotel, but in other places as well. There are also many cases of molestation, refusing to pay, and demanding free meals in restaurants. There were also a few fights. After we received the report and went to check, a lot of the people who were sent to investigate the situation were also injured.” “Did you not go check out the situation yourself?”

“Captain, I did. I even brought two of the new elders with me. After I got the news that the attendant killed herself, we rushed over at once. However, there was an old man who’s halfway to the God Rank next to the young man. We couldn’t even fight back the strength he exuded. That was why we didn’t do anything and decided to come back to report this to you,” Killer smiled wryly.

“He has the protection of someone who’s halfway to the God Rank? No wonder he dares to act so recklessly. It seems that he was sure he had grasped the weakness of Red Flame Mercenaries,” David chuckled coldly and said.

“The other party looked into us beforehand and he asked us to mind our own business. He even asked us to prepare a beautiful girl for him every day and that he’d leave once he’s had enough. Moreover, that old man who’s halfway to the God Rank even asked you to go see him.”

“Let’s go then. Bring me to see them. We’ll just make them serve as examples, if not, everyone will think that Red Flame is weak.”
