I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 726

Amelia's cheeks were flushed and she covered her mouth, a little scared to look at David.

It was only then that David realized that it was not a dream at all.

Amelia was kissing him again.

David did not know how to react for a moment.

At this time, Amelia leaned down and put her head on David's shoulder. Then, she blew a breath in his ear and said softly, "David, do you want to? As long as you say it, I will agree."

David was immediately teased to the extreme by Amelia's blatant seduction. At this moment, he really wanted to sleep with Amelie right here on the spot.

In this situation, any normal man would not be able to hold himself back.

Amelia's face and body were definitely above 95 marks.

However, reason told him not to. Although he was not a saint, he was still a man of principles.

If he slept with Amelia now, he would feel good for now, but what would happen next?

How would he face Amelia?

He could not give her any proper recognition after this.

How would he explain this to Celia?

This girl had loved him and waited for him for so long David unleashed a powerful mind power to control his desires.

He calmed down slowly, took a deep breath, and said, "Amelia, if you do this again, we won't even be friends. Before we establish a relationship, I won't do anything with you. If I do, it will be irresponsible toward both you and also myself. Please get up."

Amelia did not expect David to answer like this.

When she saw that David was a little mad, Amelia could only get up and back away from David's body.

Then, she said apologetically, "I'm sorry David. I love you so I can't control my body. I swear I only did this to you, and I just gave you my first kiss. Even though there are negative rumors about me, I know how to protect myself. Please believe me."

David got up and said, "I'll go back to rest. You should also rest early."

After he said that, he left the pool, leaving Amelia in a daze.

'David is truly different from other men.

'What should I do? I think I've fallen deeper and deeper for him!'

David lay on his bed after he went back to his room. He retracted his mind power and gasped for air.

When he closed his eyes, he could see Amelia's stunning body.

'I can't bear this.

'Damn it!'

David took out his phone to send Celia a message.

David: [Did you miss me?] Soon, Celia texted him back.

Celia: (Yeah, I did.)

David: (How much?)

Celia: (Very much! I've missed you all the time.)

David: (Celia, I miss you too. Wait for me, I'll go back to Capital City the day after tomorrow.)

Celia: (Alright, have a safe journey.)

David: (You have to be prepared.)

Celia: (No, you meanie!) David: (I'll only be mean to you.)

Celia: (But... But I'm...)

David: (What?)

Celia: (I'm on my period.)

"F*ck!" David cried.

Tonight, someone else was going to have a hard time sleeping.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 727

David and Amelia went back to campus the next day. When the Bugatti Veyron drove into South River University, it prompted a series of screams.

Almost everyone turned their heads to look at it.

This sports car was really too luxurious and too dazzling After David parked the car, Amelia opened the door and got out of the passenger seat.

Although nothing happened between her and David this time, being able to get out of his car to be seen by so many classmates was a declaration of ownership to the entire South River University.

She did not come back to campus the entire night last night, so this rumor would definitely have spread by now.

David would surely be inexorably mixed up in this controversy and he could not prove his innocence no matter what.

“Isn’t that Amelia, one of the three campus belles? Whose car is that?”

“This car was on campus last time too. I think it’s David’s.”

“Damn it! David and Amelia got together? Did they sleep together last night?”

“That should be the case! They must have slept together since they came back in together so early.”

Amelia looked at the students scattered around her with a smile on her face.

David also got out of the car at this time.

He knew that bringing Amelia back to school would be controversial.

He wanted to Amelia to get out of the car when they were outside of campus as he said it would affect her reputation.

However, Amelia refused to get out of the car.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

She said she was not afraid, and she even said that other people’s opinions were their own business.

There was nothing David could do. He could not force her out of the car anyway.

Since Amelia was a woman and she was not afraid, what should he be afraid of?

With his current status, as long as he had a clear conscience and was upright, he did not need to care about other people’s opinions at all. “David, I’ll go back first,” Amelia said. “Alright, goodbye,” David replied.

He knew that the fact that he and Amelia went back to campus together would soon spread throughout the campus.

However, he did not care. He was going to Capital City tomorrow anyway. When he was back in class, Patrick and others all gave him a thumbs up. Only the way Ava looked at David was somewhat inexplicable.

Dean was happy too. If David was with Amelia, then no one would be competing for Ava with him. He even conned David and made him lose so much money yesterday. This was the best of both worlds.

The morning class passed quickly.

In the afternoon, the school organized a welcome party to welcome this year's freshmen to South River University.

David was going to speak at the welcome party as a senior.

Inside the old castle of the Chris family in Falconia.

After days of recuperation, Bourne's body had slowly recovered.

He was no longer as shriveled and skinny as when he had just woken up.

However, he still had not recovered to his prime.

After all, he had been sleeping for nearly four hundred years.

All of his bodily functions had degenerated badly.

He could not completely recover in a short period, and it required proper time.

Now, he would soak his body with treasures of heaven and earth almost every day. In addition to that, he would also take various supplements.

His body had once reached a level above peak God Rank, so he had no problem enduring all these.

However, he had just woken up, so his absorption was a little slow.

He needed to wake up his bodily functions slowly so that everything could be absorbed faster.

Finally, he would be restored to his former prime, the realm above peak God Rank.

Bourne was now looking through the information on the five major forces.

His original idea was that after recovering to his peak, he would directly destroy the remaining four major forces with incredible ease.

This was so that the Chris family could stand on top of the world. However, now, the plan had changed.

He would not be able to return to his peak in the short term.

Hence, he could only do this step by step.

He was initially going to take action on Somerland first, but now, it did not seem to be as straightforward as he imagined.

It was mainly because he could not obtain detailed information about Somerland, If he did not understand something, then there would be things he could not predict.

Bourne did not like situations like this.

He wanted to know his enemies well so he could guarantee his victory.

He could not give his opponents a chance to fight back.

Unfortunately, he could not return to his peak for the time being If not, he would be fearless in this world where the highest combat power was just a peak God Ranker. Even if he fought all of the forces himself, he would still be able to win.

Knock knock knock It was the sound of someone knocking on the door.

“Come in,” Bourne said.

The door was pushed open. Then, the current patriarch of the Chris family, Robert who was a late God Ranker, walked in.

In truth, the Chris family also had another super powerful peak God Ranker, and that was Robert’s father, Bieber Chris, the previous patriarch of the Chris family.

However, Bieber had been in seclusion to reduce the energy consumption on his body and to study the method to break through to the next realm.

He only came out on the day Grandmaster Bourne woke up. Then, he went back to seclusion after visiting the grandmaster and being instructed by him.

Bourne’s guidance made Bieber feel like he was one step closer to a breakthrough.

Of course, this was still a step further.

As for how many steps were left before breaking through peak God Rank, no one knows.

Even the Grandmaster of the Chris family, Bourne, had no idea.

Back then, he had gone through a lot of hardships to break through this stage, and now after four hundred years of deep sleep, his memory was a little blurred.

“Grandmaster, our first target is Somerland, right?” Robert asked.

“I just checked Somerland’s information. Besides Mason Stefani, the dying peak God Ranker, there seem to be many hidden families and sects resurfacing in Somerland.” Bourne said.

“Yes, Grandmaster. These hidden families and sects should not be underestimated, especially several of the big forces, such as the King family and the Krums. They all have late God Rankers and we cannot determine if there are any peak God Rankers among them,” Robert replied.

“Then let’s not do anything to Somerland for now. I haven’t recovered to my peak yet, so I want to avoid any uncontrollable factors. The information on the Morrow family and the Oxis family is accurate, right?”

“Absolutely accurate. All three of our families have controlled Falconia together for many years and know each other well.”

“Then make the Morrow family and the Oxis family our subordinates before attacking Somerland, so as to unify the world and let the Chris family shine again.”

“Yes, Grandmaster!” “Organize the staff, and we’ll go to the Morrow family now.” “Yes!”

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 728

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 728

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 728

David did not know that there was an existence beyond the peak God Ranker had awakened in the world, and that even if Bourne had not recovered to his prime, he was still stronger than a peak God Ranker.

Otherwise, he would not be as comfortable as he was now and still be in the mood for class.

In the afternoon, at the university's welcome party, David, on behalf of the seniors representing South River University, delivered a speech to the school's newly arrived freshmen..

He was greeted with thunderous applause as soon as he took the stage.

David's deeds had been spread around South River University; it had made him the number one hunk of South River University.

Not only was he famous among second years, third years, and fourth years, but he was also very popular among freshmen who had just entered the school.

With his increasing strength and status, giving a speech in school was only a small matter for David and it was no big deal to him.

He only needed to say a few words and it could make countless people below scream for him.

This was the so-called celebrity effect!

After delivering the speech, David donated 200 million dollars to the university as promised, and at the same time, asked for leave from the chancellor,

Oliver His purpose of returning to South River Province this time was complete.

He probably would not be going back to South River Province any time soon.

With the establishment of the discipline team, there were still a lot of things to do.

After leaving the campus, it was almost evening. David called Charles and asked him to meet.

Then, he drove to the location where he would meet Charles.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

Last night, David told Charles that he would look for him today to talk to him.

Before leaving, David needed to tell Charles something River City had an important place in David's heart.

He had been living here for several years and his closest relatives also lived here.

He would not allow anything bad to happen here.

Mason wanted to fake his death to lure foreign forces into action, so Somerland was bound to fall into a short period of turmoil soon.

Charles could not help much, but he could help David keep an eye on River City.

He also needed to confess something to Charles.

David rushed to the agreed location and found that it was a high-end coffee shop. "Hello, Sir, how can I help you?" David stepped into the door and a waiter asked respectfully.

"I'm looking for Charles. We made an appointment," David said.

"Please come with me, Sir. Mr. Luther is already waiting for you."

David was taken to the door of a private room by the waiter.

"Sir, Mr. Luther is inside."

"Thank you."

"You're welcome, if you need anything, you can call me at any time."

"Alright."

David pushed the door open and found Charles and Sandy sitting inside chatting.

When they heard the door opening, Charles and Sandy turned to look at David at the same time. "Dave!"

"Dave!"

Charles and Sandy called out at the same time. When Sandy saw David, a look of surprise appeared on her face.

"Charles, Sandy."

David walked over to sit down.

Sandy immediately made a cup of coffee for David.

"Dave, do you want sugar?" Sandy asked. "I'll have a little," David answered.

"Okay."

Sandy started adding sugar into David's coffee.

"Charles, how's River City been recently?" David asked.

"Not bad. After using the Nichols family as an example, almost no one dares to cause trouble here anymore," Charles answered.

"Charles, soon, the entire Somerland might fall into a short period of turbulence. As for why, I can't say, but don't worry, it won't last for too long. If you have anything you can't solve during this period, you can contact me directly and I will handle it."

"Okay, David, I understand," Charles replied. The two talked for a long time. David also revealed something to Charles. Meanwhile, Sandy had been waiting quietly beside him.

After saying goodbye to the siblings, David went back to South River International Residence.

Then, he made a phone call to Pearl.

Pearl also picked up the phone very soon.

"Mr. Lidell, what are your orders?"

Pearl's voice sounded on the phone.

"Miss Pearl, how's it going?" David asked. "Not bad. With unlimited financial support and reckless investment, the construction of the center is going much faster than the original plan. I believe it won't take long to meet the requirements," Pearl replied.

"Miss Pearl, leave it to someone else for now. Come back first," David said.

"What? Do you miss me?" Pearl teased.

"Miss Pearl, we're talking business," David said with a wry smile.

“Tell me then, I’m listening.”

“Miss Pearl, there may be some turbulence in Somerland soon. Not only Somerland, but the whole world will slowly fall into chaos. You are not safe outside, so come back first. Ignore the other matters, for now.”

“Mr. Lidell, what’s going on? I can also feel that the atmosphere here is getting tenser and tenser. Crime is on an upward trend and the number of police officers patrolling the streets is also starting to increase,” Pearl said curiously.

“It’s a bit complicated, come back first. I’ll tell you the details later.”

“Okay! Then I’ll implement this project first. I’ll be back in a few days.”

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

“No need, just leave the work to the people below. You can come back tomorrow. Long delays might cause complications.”

“Okay, then I’ll listen to you. But Mr. Lidell, does what you promised me at the airport before I come here still count? You’re the one who’s asking me to come back.”

David thought back to what he had promised Pearl.

It seemed that when she returned from the task, he would spend a few days alone with her.

When he thought about this, David felt a headache coming. Compared to Amelia, David felt that Pearl was more difficult to deal with.

It was because Pearl really helped him a lot.

Since the establishment of East League Capitals, he had not done anything, while Pearl was the one handling everything.

It could be said that Pearl contributed the most to him increasing his strength so quickly, and also why East League Capitals could be what it was today. At the same time, she was the one always worrying about the company and also the one who was the most exhausted.

Without Celia, he genuinely would not mind being with Pearl. Pearl was a few years older than him, but it did not matter. This was because Pearl was a top-notch beauty in every way. He could only take one step at a time. Until now, he still could not think of a way to perfectly handle this matter with Pearl. “Of course! However, I can’t do it this time because I have a lot of things to do. I can only do it after some time,” David said.

"It's fine as long as it still counts. No matter what, you have to fulfill your promise and accompany me alone for five days."

"Of course!"

"Also, you have to listen to me during these five days. You can't say no to whatever I ask you to do. Don't worry, I won't do anything to hurt you because I won't have the heart to."

"Alright," David answered after thinking about it. He could vaguely guess what Pearl was about to do. When she came back, David would tell her about Celia.

If not, things might develop in a manner that he could not control.

He did not want to hurt Pearl and he did not want to hurt Celia.

"It's a deal!"

"It's a deal!"

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 730

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 730

Alter hanging up the call with Pearl, David lay on the bell, wondering if he should just get a marriage certificate with Celia

In this way, he could also deal with the women around him.

However, if they were like Selena who said she did not care even if she knew he had a girlfriend, things would be a little trickier.

'Hopefully, Pearl is not like that.

Forget it, I should stop thinking of relationships.

It's better to think about how to make Somerland safe and sound in the ensuing turmoil.'

Mason was still around so he did not need to worry about the foreign hostile forces for the time being.

The first thing he had to do was to assign the discipline team to stand by in various locations in Somerland.

Then he would personally lead the team to solve the internal worries of Somerland, namely the Dominic family and Star Alliance.

Alright!

After these two matters were settled, his lavish points should be almost enough for his mind power to break through The next day.

David flew straight back to Capital City.

He did not go straight to Celia not because she was on her period Tomorrow was the day when the members of the discipline team would gather.

He had to meet Julia first and study the lists sent by the major hidden families and sects.

He needed to see what kind of powerful people had been sent so that it would be easier to group them.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

The two made an appointment to meet at Opulence Manor.

This would be the headquarters of the discipline team from now on.

By the time David arrived at Opulence Manor, Julia had already arrived. "David, these are the lists sent by the major forces. I have sorted them out. There are 96 people in total. 6 of them are halfway to God Rank, 38 peak Dragon Rankers, and 52 late Dragon Rankers. I also divided them into 11 teams according to their strength just as you wanted. Please take a look and see what else needs to be adjusted," Julia handed a stack of documents to David and said.

"Are they all so strong? It seems that these hidden families and sects are suffering a huge loss this time," David said after taking the information.

"There's no other way. You tied the number of resources allocated to the major forces in the future with their contribution to the discipline team. So of course they'll take this seriously. They all sent the most powerful members they can without crippling their own development."

“That’s good! How can they benefit if they don’t contribute?”

“My great-grandfather also said that you did a good job in this matter, David, what do you think of these materials I prepared?”

David flipped through the information, looked at it for a while, and said, “Yes, it’s nicely done. The distribution is very reasonable too. I will follow this tomorrow.”

One day later.

Inside Opulence Manor.

At this moment, the people that were sent from all major hidden forces in Somerland were gathered here.

There were 132 people and no less.

Six people were halfway to God Rank. Among them, two of them were elderly and four of them were middle-aged.

When David saw that everyone was here, he stood up and said, “Since you’re all here, you should know what’s the purpose of you being here. From now on, you’ll be members of the Somerland Discipline Team.

“Let me introduce myself, my name is David Lidell and I’m the captain of the Somerland Discipline Team. Behind me is Julia Stefani, she’s the deputy captain of the Somerland Discipline Team.

“I don’t care if you’re a peak Dragoon Ranker or halfway to God Rank, or perhaps you have a very high position in your family or sect. Since you’re here, you should obey orders.”
