"How much resources your family or sect can allocate in the future depends on your contribution here, so if you don't want your force to walk away with nothing, you should be more serious.

"Next, Deputy Captain Julia will send you some documents which detail your grouping and which provinces you will be responsible for."

"Jules, give them the documents." David turned to say to Julia behind him.

"Yes, Captain," Julia replied.

Julia stepped down and handed out the documents to everyone.

"The information you have in your hands details the team you are in and the area you are in charge of. If you have any questions, you can ask them now and we will solve them on the spot. If you don't mention them now, it will mean that you have acquiesced. I hope any disharmony won't happen again in the future," David looked at the nearly 100 powerful people below and said.

"Captain, I want to ask if we can change the area we are in charge of," someone stood up and asked.

"You can, but you can't change to the area where your own force will resurface, lest you start to do some secret or dishonest deals with your own forces. Where do you want to change to?" David asked.

"If that's the case, I don't want to change anymore," the man who stood up replied.

His original intention was to change to the province where his family planned to resurface.

This way they could take care of each other.

If he could not do this, why bother changing? It would be the same no matter which area he was responsible for.

"Do you have any other questions?"

“Captain, I would like to ask how our contribution is determined.”

“Each of your teams will have a corresponding Sommerland official. This person is tasked to record your contributions, but you don’t have to try to win him over and have him fake it for you, because that’s impossible. They are all the elites cultivated by Somerland and they are very loyal to Somerland so they will never be tempted by you. Plus, they will even report any attempts to me and which will result in me deducting your contribution. ”

“David, I want to ask, what is your intention in gathering the six of us who are halfway to God Rank and putting them in the same group with you?” An old man who was halfway to God Rank asked.

“Of course, I put you together to deal with emergencies. I will make arrangements when the time comes,” David replied.

“Then why are you in the same group as us?”

“I’m the captain, so can’t I be in the same group with you?”

“Since the six of us are put into a group, we will naturally be tasked with solving important problems.

I am just afraid that you will drag us down and we will need to task someone with protecting you. Who will be responsible if the mission fails? Who’s going to be responsible if something happens to you?”

As soon as he said that, the atmosphere at the scene became a little lively.

Everyone was looking at David mockingly.

They were very unconvinced in a young man in his early twenties like David being their captain.

Although David was recognized as number one among the younger generation in Somerland, they were all his seniors.

A group of middle-aged people was calling a young man about the same age as their son Captain.

They felt uncomfortable with this.

Weren’t there seven people who were halfway to God Rank as announced publicly by Somerland?

Why did they not ask one of them to be the captain?

Why did they send a little punk?

To them, David still needed to grow for ten more years before he had the qualifications to be captain.

Now, someone had finally expressed their doubts.

“Do you feel that I’m not worthy of being in the same group as you?” David smiled and asked.

“Even if you’re the captain, you’re not strong enough. I’m worried that you’ll affect our progress. After all, we’re here to make contributions,” the old man said fearlessly.

“Then what kind of strength do I need to display such that I’m worthy of being grouped with you?” “You’re definitely not strong enough now! ”

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 732

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 732

I’m A Quadrillionaire chapter 732

David looked at the old man who questioned him.

Not to be outdone, the old man looked back at David.

The two stared at each other for a few seconds.

The others looked at them curiously.

At the same time, they were also puzzled by the behavior of the old man.

When they came here, they were warned by their family and sect not to get into a conflict with David.

Even if they were dissatisfied, they had to hold back.

This was because David's status in Somerland was extremely high. They could not offend him, at least until they were certain that Mason was dead.

Although there were rumors that Mason was dead, everyone was just speculating and no one had come forward to confirm this.

Thus, no one wanted to be the first one to step forward.

However, once it was confirmed that Mason was indeed dead, the Somerland Discipline Team would be a joke as it would be impossible to restrain so many forces.

When the whole of Somerland was in turmoil, who would still care who David was?

David was indeed very talented, but he was too young to say whether he could grow in this chaotic era.

David, who was recognized as the number one among the younger generation in Somerland, was also rumored to be the one. Except for the King family and the Krums, who were likely to win over David, other forces secretly wished for David to die since they knew that they could not get David to be on their side.

Even if they were dissatisfied with David, they could not show it now.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

Since this old man dared to offend David, why did he join the discipline team?

Joining the Somerland Discipline Team was originally a gesture of goodwill toward Somerland, but now he was clearly offending them, so it was a very unwise move.

Many people present were puzzled, including several other masters who were halfway to God Rank.

Was something else going on?

"Which force are you from?" David asked.

"What? David, didn't you say we can raise any questions we have? I've raised it. Not only are you not explaining to me, you even want to use public office to avenge private wrongs." The old man said with a mocking smile.

"You're so old, and it is not easy for you to be halfway to God Rank, so I want to give you a chance to correct yourself. Somerland needs its people right now, but if you are still persisting obstinately and continue to side with the evil-doers, then don't blame me for Slam!"

“David, what’s the meaning of that?” The old man said as he slammed his hand on the table and stood up angrily.

“You know what it means. Think about it properly. I’ll give you ten seconds to think about it.”

The atmosphere at the scene became tense as the people silently felt outraged.

The old man looked at David with some hesitation in his heart.

Should he cooperate with Somerland to encircle and annihilate the Dominic family, or continue to cooperate with the Dominic family to kill David right here?

David obviously already knew about the old man working together with the Dominic family, but he was saying this to give him a chance.

However, the Dominic family had said that it was basically confirmed that Mason was dead, and soon, foreign hostile forces would come to attack and occupy Somerland. When the time came, Somerland would be in chaos.

David was standing a dozen meters away from him at that moment. He was just a peak Dragon Ranker so he had no room for resistance in front of him.

If he killed David, he could complete the task the Dominic family gave him and join the Dominic family’s side. In the future, it would also be a guarantee for his family in troubled times.

The old man thus decided in his heart.

Since Mason was dead, then Somerland was going to collapse.

The most important thing right now was to find a new way out for his family.

Gradually, the old man began looking at David with murderous intent in his eyes.

David killed Axel, the eldest son of the Dominic family, so he needed to kill David. This was the order the Dominic family had given him.

“Do it!” The old man suddenly yelled and charged at David.

At the same time, the eight other peak Dragon Rankers who were already prepared on the scene quickly rushed out when they heard the old man’s voice. Then, they followed the old man and charged toward David.

It was clear that they had planned this.

The moment they heard the old man's signal, they would immediately kill David and flee the scene.

Then, they would rely on the Dominic family as they hid.

When Somerland was in chaos, they would come out to get a slice of their cake.

Then, they would be relying on a powerful family like the Dominic family and at the same time, they would have an extra layer of security.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 733

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 733

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 733

Since the old man who was halfway to God Rank had questioned David, the people present felt that an emergency might happen today.

Sure enough, these people intended to kill David.

Many people responded.

For example, a few masters who were halfway to God Rank.

They were sitting next to the old man, and if he made a move, they could easily stop the old man.

However, no one had any intention of making a move.

They were only warned not to offend David, not to save him.

When Somerland pursued the matter, they could say that the incident happened too suddenly and they could not react.

Besides, if David could not even deal with this problem himself, why should he be their captain?

When the old man took action, he had been constantly paying attention to several people who were halfway to God Rank around him.

These people all represented their respective forces, and since troubled times were lying ahead in Somerland, it stood to reason that they would not take action. 1

This was because once they took action, they would be siding with Somerland completely. They would be viewed as an enemy by the Dominic Family, Star Alliance, or other hostile forces abroad.

In today's uncertain situation, no one would make such a serious gamble.

However, he was also being cautious.

If someone did something, he would block it with all his might, creating a chance for the eight peak Dragon Rankers to kill David.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

David was only a peak Dragon Ranker, so it was impossible for him to stop eight peak Dragon Rankers from attacking him at the same time.

Right now, it had gone exactly as he had expected.

None of these people did anything.

The old man was overjoyed.

He had it in the bag now. Under the attack of himself, who was halfway to God Rank, and eight peak Dragon Rankers, David was definitely going to die.

He had prepared an escape route. If he killed David, he would flee quickly and someone would pick them up.

There was a distance of more than ten meters between them, but the old man appeared next to David in an instant. 1

At this moment, David was standing there looking like he was frightened. It seemed he had no intention of resisting or running away.

The eight peak Dragon Rankers followed.

Thud!

The old man's attack landed on David.

But then, the joy on his face gradually turned to panic.

The eight peak Dragon Rankers also arrived shortly after. They surrounded David in the middle and started attacking David.

Everyone present stared straight ahead.

When they saw that David was hit without even resisting, they knew this fight was over.

David would surely die!

He was hit by someone halfway to God Rank and eight peak Dragon Rankers, even someone who was halfway to God Rank could not handle that.

David was still too inexperienced.

Even if he was a peak Dragon Ranker, he could not exhibit it fully.

He was so scared that he could not move when he was faced with this scene.

They were wondering how they should respond to Somerland's investigation later.

They could only say that David was killed before they could react.

Somerland could not do anything even if they did not believe them.

They should just insist that they did not have time to react then they should be fine.

Julia was not panicking after she saw David being attacked from one side.

If this had happened in the past, she would have passed out from shock.

However, this was not the case anymore because Mason told her David's strength surpassed Abraham and Dirk. Now, he had completely grown, so she should closely follow David and not lose out on this opportunity.

If David surpassed Mr. Abe and Mr. Dirk, he should be a mid-God Ranker.

If that was the case, how could this old man who was halfway to God Rank and peak Dragon Rankers be David's opponent?

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 734

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 734

Three seconds later.

'What?

'Something's not right.

'Why are these people not running after killing David?

'Why are they still in a fighting stance?

'Shouldn't they run?'

When everyone was in doubt...

Boom!

A powerful energy suddenly erupted.

Some people of the lower realm were swept away by the strong wind.

"Ah!"

This was accompanied by several screams of pain.

Then, they could only see eight peak Dragon Rankers flying backward while vomiting blood in the air.

Finally, they hit the ground and fainted.

Everyone hurriedly looked at David.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

They saw David holding the old man's neck with one hand while smiling.

However, this kind of smile made everyone's scalp numb. It was like the smile of death.

'Um... What's going on?'

The sneak attack of someone who was halfway to God Rank and eight peak Dragon Rankers was easily countered by David?

Was this really something a peak Dragon Ranker could do?

Forget the peak Dragon Rankers, even the five remaining people who were halfway to God Rank would be killed if they were met with this sneak attack. They would not even have a chance to escape.

If they were prepared, they might still have a chance of escaping.

However, this was a sneak attack, so escaping was impossible.

Everyone looked at the young man who had a smile on his face.

They felt like their worldview had been turned upside down.

He was in his twenties and yet he surpassed everyone here and became a God Rank guardian. How terrifying!

Even the old man whom David was choking only broke through halfway to God Rank when he was in his sixties or seventies.

Meanwhile, David was just in his twenties, and yet he had broken through to become a God Rank guardian?

This was totally unheard of.

How incredible!

This was so incredible!

Was this the true strength of the number one among the younger generation in Somerland?

What was ironic was that they were still looking down on David a while ago.

It seemed that David had lied to everyone.

“I told you I wanted to give you a chance because I know it wasn’t easy for you to be halfway to God Rank at your old age. However, it’s too bad that you didn’t appreciate it,” David said.

He had noticed there was something fishy with these people earlier on.

With his strong mind power, the actions of these people could not be hidden from his senses.

No one could hide their murderous intent under David's strong mind power.

Coincidentally, he could use these people to establish his prestige.

He only wanted to expose some of his strength. Otherwise, no one in the team would want to obey a young man in his twenties.

If that was the case, it would be inconvenient for him to continue his work.

However, David revealed a little too much in this accident.

He only wanted to show his strength as someone halfway to God Rank.

However, facing the attack of someone halfway to God Rank and 8 peak Dragon Rankers, it was not enough to expose only that much.

In the end, he could only show the strength of a God Rank guardian.

He had no choice.

David was holding the old man's neck as the latter was struggling with all his might, but it was all in vain.

He could not speak either, and he could only make some grunting sounds.

When he was about to hit David, David stopped him with one hand.

Plus, David even lifted his head to smile at him. When that happened, he knew he was in trouble.

"Let me guess who the people behind you are. If I'm not wrong, it should be the Dominic family, right?"

After all, I killed their eldest son, so they definitely want me dead. As for Star Alliance and the other forces, they would not pay such a huge price to kill me, am I right? Tell me everything about the Dominic family and I'll give you a chance to live," David said.

A look of joy appeared on the old man's face.

It would be fine as long as he had a chance to live.

As for the Dominic family, sorry, he had to betray them so he could live.

The old man had this thought, and he expected David to release his grip to let him speak.

However, David's big hands were still like iron clamps. It was choking his neck so tightly that he did not even have a chance to speak.

He could only make some noises in his throat.

After a few seconds, David continued, "You're not answering? You are so stubborn. Originally, I wanted to give you a chance to live. Since you don't appreciate it, then you should go to hell first. The Dominic family will accompany you soon enough."

At this time, the old man suddenly struggled violently.

He wanted to remind David. 'You're choking me so that's why I didn't speak.

'I want to live, I want to explain.'

Crack!

David broke the old man's neck without any hesitation.

A master halfway to God Rank had fallen.

The people at the scene were all dumbfounded when they saw this.

Everyone shuddered.

'Was he even giving him a f*cking chance?

'He's choking him until he can't speak and yet he's still asking questions?

'He even said that he didn't appreciate the opportunity?

'How can there be such a shameless person?

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

'It'd be better to just kill him.'

After David dealt with the old man, he threw the old man's body aside.

Then, he saw nearly a hundred pairs of eyes staring at him in shock.

David felt that he had done a good job establishing his prestige.

His strong strength was also revealed.

Plus, his benevolent side was also revealed. He gave the old man a chance and yet he did not appreciate it, so what could he do?

'Wait!

'Why are you all looking at me with disdain in your eyes?

'Shouldn't you show shock and fear?'

David recalled the process of him killing the old man.

'Um, I seemed to have made a mistake.'

When he asked the old man, he was still choking the old man's neck tightly, so he should not be able to speak.

Which meant he was talking to himself during that moment.

He was still curious why that old man had such strong integrity.

Was he not scared of death?

Now he thought about it, the old man should be trying to talk to save his life and it could be felt in his intense struggle. However, he could not say anything.

'Damn it, I was too careless!

'But whatever, he's dead anyway.'

'Since he wanted to kill me, he should be prepared to be killed in response.'

David did not feel the slightest remorse for killing people like that.

However, he could not show that he had made a mistake just now.

If not, he would destroy the honorable image he created.

"Um... See, I gave him a chance but too bad he didn't appreciate it, so you can't blame me, right?" David spread his hands and said helplessly.

When he said this, it was like he was revealing what he intended to hide.

"Pfft! " Julia could not hold herself back and she burst into laughter.

David ignored Julia and continued, "Who else has anything they want to say?"

Everyone shook their heads.

What a joke!

David was a God Rank guardian so who dared to have any opinions?

Did they not see someone from halfway to God Rank dying just now?

Plus, David looked so innocent right now. He was definitely someone who would not hesitate to kill.

He killed someone who was halfway to God Rank just like that.

He did not give the old man a chance to speak and he even pretentiously said he gave him a chance.

He gave the old man hope first and then slowly killed him.

That was the cruelest.

Everyone at the scene looked at David with a hint of fear in their eyes.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 736

After he saw everyone shaking their heads and expressing that they had no opinion, David continued, "Since everyone has no opinion, then you should follow your grouping and go directly to the local provincial cabinet minister after you arrive at your assigned locations. They will arrange your accommodation and fully cooperate with you. "I hope you'll take this seriously. After all, this is related to your life. You will all execute the task together. If you consist of ten peak Dragon Rankers and one late Dragon Ranker alongside weapons, there will still be a chance for you to escape even if you encounter someone halfway to God Rank. If you encounter a situation where you can't defeat the opponent, report it quickly and we will find a way to resolve it.

"Also, if I find out that you have colluded with the Dominic family and Star Alliance to disrupt Somerland, don't blame me for being ruthless for uprooting the families and sects behind you. Don't doubt Somerland's strength. Since Somerland can become one of the world's largest empires, it possesses power that's beyond your imagination. "As for the ones who are halfway to God Rank, I will make the arrangements later!"

After David finished speaking, he glanced at everyone present.

Everyone whom David looked at felt a shiver run down their spines.

The gaze of the God Rank guardian was a little uncomfortable.

"Captain Lidell, please rest assured! Since we are here, we have absolute confidence in Somerland and we will do our best to maintain the stability of the country. After all, I am also a Somerlander. When a country falls in disgrace, everyone will be doomed," a middle-aged man from the King family, who was also halfway to God Rank, stood up and said.

"Yes! Rest assured, Captain Lidell, we will do our best to maintain the stability of Somerland!" Everyone answered loudly. Now, everyone's attitude towards David had completely changed. From the initial disobedience and disdain to the current fear and terror. Even someone who was halfway to God Rank could not have a chance to fight back and was instantly killed, so how would they dare to speak their minds? Among the dozens of forces present, most of them only had people who were halfway to God Rank in their families, and very few of them had God Rank guardians. With the strength that David had shown just now, he could destroy most of the forces here by himself.

It seemed that Somerland was not as simple as it seemed on the surface!

Originally, they thought that there were only three God Rank guardians, and once Mason died, there would only be two. Hence, it would be impossible for them to protect Somerland. Unexpectedly, David appeared at this moment.

Furthermore, according to the information surrounding the grand event of the chosen ones brought back by the major forces, it was very likely that the master who was a late God Ranker was also someone from Somerland.

In this way, even if Mason died, Somerland was still pretty strong and not everyone could violate it in the future.

They might even be met with demise.

Moreover, who knew if there was any hidden powers in Somerland?

It seemed that it was not appropriate to start a conflict with Somerland for the time being, so they had to try their best to cooperate with Somerland. "When a country falls in disgrace, everyone will be doomed indeed. I admire the King family very much. You once helped Somerland during its most difficult time and helped it get through the most challenging years. We will not forget this," David looked at the middle-aged man and said.

Judging from the few people in the King family that he had come into contact with now, they were still relatively good and decent people.

This chapter is provided by . Visit for daily update.

They were also not arrogant like the other families. Although this person had been observing him today, he did not show disdain, but instead, there was appreciation in his eyes. It seemed that Selena was right. The King family indeed wanted to win him over. "Captain Lidell, you're too courteous. As a family in Somerland, we're born and raised in Somerland, so this is what my family should do," the middle-aged man, Benedict King, said modestly. Before he came here, his brother Augustus said that he had to try his best to get close to David. David was not as simple as he seemed and was possibly hiding his strength. Back then, Benedict was objecting to that idea because David was just a young man in his twenties.

He relied on his speed to sneak on a late Dragon Ranker before killing him. Everyone out there was saying that David was a peak Dragon Ranker, but he did not think so.

He thought that David might have the strength of a late Dragon Ranker and he only learned some powerful body movement and martial arts.

Of course, judging from his age, David was indeed a rare talent. Thus, if they could get him on their side, then of course they would not give up on that chance.

Just now when David was being attacked, Benedict planned to do something. However, he accidentally saw David's expression at that moment and noticed that David was happy. Right, it was happiness.

Benedict would not make any mistakes.

Therefore, he did not do anything

He also wanted to see how David would handle the sneak attack of someone halfway to God Rank and 8 peak Dragon Rankers.

If he looked at it from another angle, if Somerland could give David such an important position like the captain of the discipline team, then even if he was not strong enough, he would still be able to handle someone halfway to God Rank. However, the result was beyond Benedict's expectations, and it proved what his brother Augustus said: David was hiding his strength and he was hiding it very deeply.

He was a God Rank guardian, which no one expected.

Anyone would feel huge pressure when they were facing a God Rank guardian unless they themselves were also a God Rank guardian.

Hence, Benedict had to be humble to David, which also made him want to rope in David even more.

This kid was too talented, and he was worth investing in

"I hope everyone here can learn from the King family. This is what a family from Somerland should do instead of constantly thinking about how to get a portion of Somerland. I am telling you now that you can keep what Somerland wants to give you, but if Somerland doesn't want to give you, no one can steal it away.

"Don't tell anyone what happened today. Alright, that's all for today. Everyone, you should go to the locations Deputy Captain Stefani assigned you." Next, everyone dispersed and went to their assigned positions. The five people who were halfway to God Rank would remain in Capital City. They did not have a place they were responsible for. However, they would head out if anything unsolvable happened. Capital City was in the center of Somerland so they were always nearby. In the afternoon, David arrived at Capital City International Airport. He was here to pick up Pearl. Pearl ended up delaying her flight for two days as she wanted to come back after settling her affairs.

As the boss of East League Capitals, David needed to welcome this huge contributor back. Initially, David wanted to make this a grand event. He wanted to ask all the senior executives of East League Capitals in Capital City to come over and hang some banners to welcome Pearl's return.

In the end, Pearl refused no matter how hard he tried to convince her.

She only asked David to come pick her up alone and that the rest of them should not come.

Hence, David could only come alone.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 737

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 737

David got there just in time for Pearl's plane to land. Not long after he arrived, her flight arrived.

He stood waiting on the edge of the passenger exit. Soon he saw a tall and stylishly dressed woman with wide sunglasses covering half of her face walking out while dragging a suitcase.

David went up to her, wanting to take the suitcase from the woman's hand. Unexpectedly, the woman threw the suitcase in her hand away and gave David a big hug. David was a little embarrassed by that. He then quickly pushed Pearl away and said, "There are a lot of people here." "I'm not afraid, so what are you afraid of?" Pearl said with some dissatisfaction. "Come, we'll talk when we get back," David grabbed Pearl with one hand and picked up the suitcase with the other before leaving. "What a coward," Pearl said only three words before following David out of the airport. The two's hug also attracted the attention of many men and women at the airport. After all, both of them had top-notch temperaments and looks. After getting in the car, Pearl took off her sunglasses. "David, how did you recognize me? I was wearing such big sunglasses. When I bought them, everyone said they couldn't recognize me so I thought you wouldn't recognize me either! It's fine, you didn't disappoint me. You didn't let me down after I sold my soul for your sake for so long," Pearl asked, flipping her hair. "What's so hard to spot? You're the most beautiful person to come out of the whole plane," David replied as he fastened his seatbelt. "Oh? I haven't seen you for such a long time and you've become sweeter. Which girl trained you to be like that? Come on, let me have a taste." After Pearl finished speaking, she got up from the passenger seat, kissed David before he could react, and then sat back down. "Miss Pearl, is everyone abroad so open-minded? You've only been there a few days and you've become so bold. If you come back after some time, won't you directly try to sleep with me?" David mocked.

"Dream on! I won't give it to you even if you want to. However, if you try to do it now, I might not fight back. What do you think? Darling, do you want to try?" Pearl licked her lips and said seductively.

This time, David was speechless.

It had been so long since he saw Pearl, so he wanted to flirt with her to be closer to her.

After all, he arranged for Pearl to go abroad and he felt a little remorseful about this.

However, he did not expect Pearl to not act cold toward him at all. At this time, David was a little happy. Pearl was still the same.

The only thing that was worrying him was that Pearl was getting bolder after staying out station for some time. She also knew how to use her assets to seduce people better now.

Her outfit today was way better than how she dressed back then. Back then, Pearl would always wear professional clothes and always appeared so serious, like a strong businesswoman in the business circle. Even though it was attractive and it made people want to dominate her, most people would not have filthy thoughts about her when they saw her. However, her outfit today was different. It was seductive and very charming! She used the advantages of her body very well. He was sure that Pearl attracted a lot of men while she was on her way here. Yet, this change might not be good for David. This would mean that he would always be seduced and teased by Pearl. Initially, after David upgraded his physique to the God level limit, normal people were not even in the same category as him. Celia was a normal person and her body was not that strong, so she was a weak and vulnerable girl. He was constantly controlling himself so that he would not tire Celia out. However, this was very difficult for him.

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 738

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 738

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 738

Once Pandora's Box was opened, it would be difficult to close it. It was so difficult to endure what Amelia did to him in River City the other day. He originally thought that he could get rid of Amelia's temptation if he did not return to River City, but now he was in Pearl's arms again.

What was this called?

For David, this kind of bliss was really a test of his willpower. If he was not careful, he would fall into the abyss. "Miss Pearl, stop tempting me! I'm afraid that I really won't be able to stop myself," David said with a wry smile. "I didn't ask you to stop yourself. You can do whatever you want at any time. I'm ready and won't refuse," Pearl replied in a meaningful way. "Forget it, let's not talk about this. How did you do abroad, Miss Pearl?" David changed the topic and asked. At the same time, he started the car and drove away.

"It's alright. I wasn't used to it at first, but it got better after a while. Plus, I've also learned a lot from going abroad, so it was a worthwhile trip," Pearl replied. "Oh? What is there for us to learn from abroad? Let's hear it!"

"Of course, there is so much! For example, foreign countries advocate bravely pursuing whatever you like, regardless of the outcome. One's lifetime is just a few decades, so don't leave any regrets or you will be unwilling when you die. Thus, I decided to be braver and continue to pursue what I like when I came back this time," Pearl looked out the window and said in a low voice. David smiled wryly when he heard that. How did this go to that again? How could he not understand Pearl's feelings for him?

However, what could he do now? Even if he was a peak God Ranker and was a top-notch master, he had no idea what to do when it came to relationships.

He did not want to hurt anyone.

Celia, Pearl, Sandy, Amelia, and even Selena showed him how they felt about him clearly and he did not want to hurt any of them. Plus, there was only one of him so he could only choose one. Since he chose Celia, he should reject all of them clearly.

However, he could not say it, and he could not bear to see them being sad or even do the extreme.

Right now, he was willing to fight with a peak God Ranker than face these people. "Um... is there... anything else?" David avoided the question. "Also, I heard that the world will face a catastrophe. I don't know what exactly it is. I just heard it from someone with a strong background. David, do you know about the catastrophe?" Pearl turned and asked. "Where did you hear that?" David asked seriously. "When I was attending an elite party abroad. The identity of the person mentioning this was very mysterious and he had a very high status. I could see that everyone was afraid of him, do you know him?"

David thought for a while and replied, "I know a little. It was also mentioned by others."

"What is the catastrophe?"

"I do not know either." "Will it destroy all mankind?" "Miss Pearl, you are thinking too much, how is that possible? I'm guessing the catastrophe is just the prediction of some ancient prophets. It is not accurate at all, so don't worry," David said with a smile.

However, his heart was a little heavy.

All the powerful forces in Somerland recorded that there would be a catastrophe, yet he was a little unconvinced.

Now even those mysterious forces abroad had recorded it. Hence, this matter got a little serious. Was it really a coincidence? Or was it true?

I'm A Quadrillionaire chapter 739

Pearl had heard about the catastrophe abroad, which made David's heart feel a little heavy. However, he did not show it. He just told Pearl not to believe in these so-called predictions, but to believe in science.

However, in his heart, he began to believe that the catastrophe might really come true.

After all, he had the system, so what else was impossible?

If only one or two people were saying it, then it was just a rumor, but when everyone was saying it, then things were not so simple anymore.

He felt that he should also pay attention to this matter and take some time to find out the truth.

Maybe he really was the savior.

“As a highly educated person, I don’t really believe in prophecies, but it is said that this matter is widely circulated in the upper-class circles abroad,” Pearl said.

“It’s just a rumor, Miss Pearl, so you don’t need to be too concerned. It’s just a rumor, and you don’t know anything else about it, so how can it be accurate? How many years have humans survived and how many prophecies have there been? Even so, how many of them have come true? Prophecies are just nonsense created by people who think too much of themselves,” David reassured. “I see, but David, there’s something else I want to tell you.” “You can tell me anything, Miss Pearl.” Pearl was silent for more than ten seconds, and after thinking about it, she said, “Forget it, I’ll tell you next time.” “Miss Pearl, tell me, I’m listening.” “I don’t want to tell you anymore,” Pearl refused. “Hm... Then tell me when you want to tell me again in the future,” David replied. He thought to himself, ‘Women change their minds so fast.’ No wonder there was a saying that said ‘Women change their mood as fast as flipping the pages of a book’ He did not say anything wrong just now, right?

He could tell that Pearl had something on her mind, but if she did not want to tell him, he could not do anything too.

His mind power was strong, but he could only detect small changes in someone, he could not detect what they were thinking.

If he could do that, he would be invincible, but unfortunately, that was impossible.

The two of them stayed silent. Pearl did have something on her mind, but she did not want to say it and cause trouble for David.

It was because from what she knew so far, David’s East League Capitals was still far behind.

Even though David’s background was deep and there were many things she did not understand, he was still like a gnat in front of that surname. When she came back this time, she also wanted to avoid the topic. As long as she did not go abroad, she should be fine, so why bother telling David about this? Even if David found out, there was nothing he could do anyway. What she encountered this time was not comparable to what happened the last time in Springfield.

The difference between the two was huge, so telling David would just be causing trouble for him.

David drove Pearl to an upscale neighborhood in Capital City.

This was also one of his properties. Of course, this was the most luxurious and most expensive among his many properties. "Is this your house?" Pearl asked as soon as she entered.)

"Yeah, I just bought it not long ago," David replied.

"Are you going to use this to hide your lover?" "What are you talking about, Miss Pearl? No one has lived in this house before. I prepared it just for you." "That's more like it. If another woman lived here before, I wouldn't want to stay here. It'd be dirty."

"Miss Pearl, can you stop thinking of me like that? If I wanted to hide a woman, I have to consider you first, right? How can I still be in the mood to go outside to find another lover with such a gorgeous woman beside me?" David said helplessly.

"It's good that you know, then it's a deal. If you have thoughts of hiding a woman, you have to consider me first," Pearl lay down on the sofa and said.

Her posture was really tempting.

At that moment, David almost could not hold himself back.

He quickly looked away and said, "Miss Pearl, you should take a shower first. Relieve your fatigue and we'll go out to eat to welcome you back." "But I'm very tired. What should I do if I don't want to go out?" Pearl was still lying down on the sofa motionlessly. "Then... how about I make you something?" David asked. "Can you cook?" Pearl asked curiously, her eyes lit up. How could a super-rich kid like David know how to cook? It was simply anecdotal!

Pearl seemed to have discovered a new continent.

“Of course, don’t underestimate me. Although the taste is not as good as those of Michelin star chefs, it is still edible,” David said proudly.

He used to live in either his Aunt Sally or Aunt Diana’s house,

In order to gain their favor, he was very proactive in doing housework. Cooking was naturally one of the tasks. At first, it was just to help out. Slowly he learned a lot and started doing it himself. Over the years, he got pretty good at making home-cooked food. “That’s fine, make something so I can have a taste. I want to see what the food of a big shot worth nearly 10 trillion tastes like. This is not something that everyone can eat,” Pearl said happily. “In that case, Miss Pearl, go take a shower first.” “I don’t want to move. Why don’t you wash for me, darling?” Pearl licked her red lips and seduced him.

“I... I’m going to cook,” David left the living room like he was fleeing.

Pearl giggled after she was left alone.

She discovered that it was very fun to tease David.

A big shot with a net worth of 10 trillion dollars was at a loss after she teased him.

David went to the kitchen and opened the fridge.

Inside the fridge were all high-end ingredients.

Even though he had never stayed here before, the food in the fridge would be changed when the cleaners came to clean the place once every three days.

Thus, the food in the fridge would not be over three days old and they were still very fresh. This was the life of the rich.

It was so extravagant. David had dozens of houses in Capital City and the amount he used to change his food in a month would be astronomical to a normal person.

Of course, the food would not go to waste, and they would be sent to orphanages. David started to handle the ingredients in an experienced manner. He cooked the pasta before he cleaned, cut, and cooked the vegetables. While David was busy preparing food in the kitchen, Pearl went to the bathroom after resting for a while.

Soon, David brought the first dish to the dining room and placed it on the table. Then, he heard the sound of running water from the bathroom. David subconsciously looked in the direction of the bathroom. Then, he saw a fair figure reflected on the glass door of the bathroom. Even though he could not see it clearly, he could still imagine it.
